ALEXANDRIA, July 7.—With reference to the meeting of the consuls to-day Admiral Seymour said the protestations of Arabi Pasha could no longer be relied upon, but if the consuls could induce the military party to completely stop the works his object would be attained.

FLEET MOVEMENTS.

LONDON, July 7.—The storeship Humber, with shot, shell, and entrenching tools, has sailed from Malta for Alexandria. The Channel fleet, with the 38th and 96th Regiments and a company of engineers, leave for Cyprus on Saturday.

READY FOR ACTION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 7.—Work on the fortifications has been completely stopped. During a reconnaisance 96 guns were observed bearing on the harbor. The officials remaining at the British consulate and the British subjects in the employment of the British Government embark today. All the merchant vessels have gone to the outer harbor, leaving the inner harbor to the squadron.

A DENIAL.

LONDON, July 7.—Sir William Harcourt denies that blood-hounds will be used in Ireland for tracking murderers.

SKOBELEFF'S DEATH.

MOSCOW, July 8.—Skobeleff's death made a profound impression here. A crowd of silent awe struck people massed outside the hotel.

THE CLOUD IN EGYPT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 8.—Yesterday the French, Greek, Italian and Russian Consuls advised all the subjects of these Governments to repair aboard the ships. The Greek war ships cleared the harbour yesterday. Other neutral vessels are getting up steam. Four more British ironclads are anchored off the port. The attitude of the navies is very menancing. Arabi Bey on Thursday expressed the hope that America would force England to act fairly by the national party. There is reason to believe that should the squadron bombard the forts a prolonged resistance would be made. If they should prove unavailing, the troops would retire, leaving the European quarter of the town sacked by the population. All Americans except General Stone and family are now in safety, Judge Farman and Consul Long, however, are still ashore. The Khedive yesterday refused to receive any one. It is thought that he has gone afloat with his secretary, as he was advised to do long ago. Much discussion goes on as to what General Stone will do in the advent of hostilities being begun. On Thursday he expressed himself hostile to England, and filled with admiration for Arabi. He has been ridiculed. The American missionaries are going afloat and assert that no danger exists. Stone says he will do his duty whatever may betide, like a true American. The panic here among Europeans is so great that today it is likely the hotels will be shut. Yesterday a Spanish inroclad drifted to sea, unable to take in sail. The Consul is still here in a great fright. It is feared that the telegraph office will be seized for arms. If so, the bombardment is certain. Seymour is ready to open fire within four hours.

THE POWERS AND THE PORTE.

PARIS, July 8.—It is stated that a formal invitation from the Powers to the Porte, asking it to interfere, will be delivered on Monday. A reply is asked for by Wednesday. If the Porte refuses or seems afraid to accept, twenty-five thousand men, with fifty in reserve, will be concentrated by the Powers. The army will land at Aboukir and be divided into two parts, one will march on to Alexandria and will be supported by the fleet, which will open fire as soon as the army is landed. The other portion will cross the dry lake of Aboukir to Kofre Devar and seize the railroad at Domahour, Arabi Pasha's only means to retreat, and will thus force him either to fight or yield.

A REGATTA.

LONDON, July 8.—At the Marlow Regatta today, on the River Thames, the Hillsdale crew beat the Marlow crew by one boat's length,

MILITARY MOVEMENTS.

LONDON, July 8.—Major-General Allison, Chief of the Intelligence Department of the War Office, will proceed to Malta at once. Two regiments of foot have left Aldershot for Gibraltar.

FOR EGYPT.

MALTA, July 8.—The British iron-clad Achilles, and the torpedo depot ship Hecla, have sailed for Alexandria.

THE NAVAL RESERVE.

LONDON, July 8.—The Admiralty has telegraphed to the Admiral Superintendent of the naval reserves, instructing him to keep a reserve squadron at Gibraltar.

MILITARY INSPECTION.

LONDON, July 8.—A portion of the guards, and household cavalry, have undergone medical inspection with a view to foreign service.

CAUSE OF DEATH.

LONDON, July 8.—In connection with the death of Skobeloff reports of foul play were current, but a cursory examination showed that death resulted from a rupture of the vessels of the heart.

AMERICAN.

AN ACCIDENT.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Captain Lebonnelle, of the seventh regiment, while exercising a new horse in the Central park on Thursday, was thrown from the saddle and picked up unconscious. His condition is critical.

DIED.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Orson S. Gregory, a prominent physician, died on Thursday, of heart disease.

GAMBLERS RAIDED.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The pool sellers at Hunter's Point, were raided yesterday. The gamblers were bailed.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

CHEYENNE, W.T., July 8.—The latest reports regarding the movements of the Crow Indians state that the killing continues, and hunting parties are destroying wheat fields in Southern Wyoming. The report that settlers had killed three Crows lacks confirmation. It is feared that another Indian war may be begun.

THE STEAMBOAT COLLISION.

MINGO JUNCTION, Ohio, July 8.—Divers have carefully explored the stern of the boiler deck of the wrecked Sciota, and have found no bodies. The hopes of finding many in the wreck are growing weaker. The river will be dredged as far as Bellair to-day. The scenes at the wreck are most distressing. There is but little hope that the number of lives lost will fall short of 100.

OFFICIAL CHANGES.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The Times Washington despatch says that in the House yesterday, Butterworth said that during four months Garfield made 301 re-appointments, and 89 removals. Of the changes in office during his administration, more than 22 per cent. were removals during ten months. Arthur has made 874 re-appointments and only 49 removals, the number of removals being only 5 per cent. of the entire changes.

HORSE RACES.

ROCHESTER, July 8.—Steward's Grand Circuit Trotting Association met here yesterday. The chief object of the meeting was to dispose of the special purse $4,000, decided upon for Buffalo, Cleveland and Rochester. Conditions were named, on which St. Julien and Trinket will enter and start. The race will be open to all other horses, with $1,200 to the winner, $800 to the second, $500 extra to the horse trotting a mile in 2.14 or better, and $500 additional to the horse trotting, a mile in 2.10½ or better. No entrance money will be required. The board unanimously passed the following:—"Resolved, that the rules and regulations of the National Association in relation to entries and in all other respects be strictly inforced and adhered to."

BRADSTREETS WEEKLY REPORT.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's Journal indicate that while the general trade situation may be characterized in accordance with that usual, at this time of the year, as dull still at many important points, the amount of goods moving is noticeably large. At Pittsburgh, weakness has been shown by the iron manufacturers, and at Milwaukee, by the strikers, still the labor situation cannot be considered radically different from last week. At New York the freight handlers hold out but are being supplimented by others. There were 99 failures reported to Bradstreet's Journal from the United States during the past week. In Canada there were seven, a decrease of six from the week preceeding.

CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The steamship Anjer Head was attached yesterday under a process issued out of the United States Court, on a complaint charging the captain with bringing an excess of Chinese passengers to this port. The amount of the penalty claimed is $4,000. Several other suits are pending against steamers It is reported that Hong charters are becoming insolvent, and the owners lose $24,000 on the last trip.

A WEALTHY TRAMP.

PITTSBURGH, July 8.—The other day Henry Rheinberg, a tramp, applied to the Westmoreland County alms house for a night's lodging. The steward told the man he must submit to a scrubbing in the bath room. Rheinberg hesitated, but at last he consented. He handed the steward a bag of gold and then removed his outer garment, and disclosed two large leather belts containing gold, silver and American and German securities, amounting to nearly $21,000. The tramp was furnished with supper and retired and in the morning he was found to be ill of typhoid fever. He died on Wednesday. The authorities have addressed Rheinberg's relatives in Germany. It is said he was a miserly beggar of the worst type.

REBELLION IN A PRISON.

CONCORD, Mass., July 8.—The Rebellious convicts who have been chained, manifest no disposition to yield, and continues to threaten to kill the warden. The latter thinks that the rebellion may last for a long time. The force at the prison is inadequate to deal with the convicts, if, when they are set at work in the shops they should make a concerted rush for the keepers.

Here are some more of the many hundreds of the leading people in the Dominion of Canada who have been cured of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung disease by Dr. Souvielle's Spirometer and instrument, which conveys medicinal properties direct to the seat of disease Read and judge for yourself.

Several of my family and friends have been cured of bronchitis, asthma and catarrh by using the Spirometer. John P. Whelan, Manager of Post and True Witness, Montreal. Mr. C. Hill, Montreal, catarrah and bronchitis. Mr. DeBoucherville, of the Indian Deparment, Ottawa, catarrh of many years, now cured; Mr. Geo. Ager, Ottawa, cattarrh and lung disease; cured. Mrs. Smith, London, wife of Medical Detective, cured of catarrh. George Maguire, Toronto, 482 Adelaide street West; daughter cured of asthma. George Willis, Exeter, Ont., Catarrh and Bronchitis. J. D. Armstrong, 186 Yonge street, Toronto, catarrh and catarrahl deafness. Thomas Telfer, 12 Merinda street, Toronto, asthma; cured. Mr. Benj. A. Drake, St. Urbain street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured.

Also, the no less surprising cure of Mrs. Benoit, 114 Cathedral street, daughter of Mrs. David Perrault, who suffered from asthma, and bronchitis for over eight years, and who is now perfectly cured.

Mrs. Adamson, of Belleville, cured of bronchitis, and her sister cured of bronchitis and lung disease.

The above is sufficient to convince the public of the merits of the Spirometer. The instrument will be expressed to any address.

Call or write, enclosing stamps for reply, to the International Throat and Lung Institute 75 Yonge street, Toronto, Dr. M. Souvielle and a competent body of English and French physiciann always in attendance. Every information given. Physicians and sufferers can try the Spirometer free.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE of the Kidneys, Diabetes and other diseases of the Kidneys and Liver, which you are being frightened about, Hop Bitters is the only thing that will surely and permanently prevent and cure. All other pretended cures only relieve for a time and then make many times worse.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

SOMEBODY'S CHILD.—Somebody's child is dying—dying with the flush of hope on his young face, and somebody's mother thinking of the time when that dear face will be hidden where no ray of hope can brighten it—because there was no cure for consumption. Reader, if the child be your neighbor's, take this comforting word to the mother's heart before it is too late. Tell her that consumption is curable; that men are living to-day whom the physicians pronounced incurable, because one lung had been almost destroyed by the disease. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured hundreds; surpasses cod liver oil, hypophosphites, and other medicines in curing this disease. Sold by druggists.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

CHIEF JUSTICE SPRAGGE has been appointed Administrator of the Government in Ontario, in the place of Chief Justice Hagarty, who has resigned and is about to leave for Europe.

* * *

THE HON. A. W. A. MCLELAN, President of the Council, has been transferred to the Department of Marine and Fisheries, in the place of the Hon. J. C. Pope. Mr. McLelan has been acting Minister of Marine during the period of Mr. Pope's illness.

* * *

THE Mail says:—"The Province, it appears, has to pay the Grit campaign expenses. Mr. Irving is being recouped as a Crown prosecutor and Mr. Edgar has handed in a nice little Mercer Estate bill. Even the Grit campaign song singer, Mr. Schuch, is being paid for his services out of the public funds, a position in the Ontario Civil Service having been found for him, and yet the Grits talk about Ontario being robbed."

* * *

KINGSTON COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE has, we learn, been reduced to the status of a High School. Our ancient city certainly does not seem to be imbued with the progressive spirit of the times.

* * *

WE learn on good authority (no less than the Globe) that if the Reformers had gained a certain number of seats in Ontario that were carried by the Conservatives, Ontario would have given a majority against the Government. This is very true, and we hope it affords some comfort to the Globe, but the important and undeniable fact remains that Ontario has given a very satisfactory majority to Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues.

* * *

OF course the Examiner still says the Trent Valley Canal is a mere electioneering dodge. Apparently it judges a Conservative Government by the actions of its own friends, who did such things, but the Trent Navigation will be opened all the same.

* * *

MR. GUILLET is declared by the County Judge to be elected for West Northumberland. His majority was reduced to 5 by the rejection of the votes in the 4th polling division of Cobourg where Mr. Guillet had a majority of 37.

THE PRICE OF WOOL.

THE Port Hope Guide, a Reform journal, says:—

"The price now paid for our Canadian grown wool is lower than for many years past, and farmers naturally inquire the reason. The fact is simply this, that the long fleece Canadian wool is no longer in demand for the manufacture of woollen goods suitable for ladies' wear—as fashion now calls for material of a soft clinging nature—and the only use now made of our wools is for the manufacture of blankets and carpets, for which purposes the supply both in England, the United States and Canada, is greater than the demand; hence the low price. The English manufacturer to meet present demands for these soft woollen fabrics are adopting new machinery; and if our farmers are to continue to grow wool at a profit, they must abandon their long wool growing sheep and go in for the fine wool merino."

This of course is the true explanation of the low price paid at present for Canadian wools. As the elections are now over, it is no longer necessary for opposition journalists to endeavour to deceive our farmers by false assertions that the N.P. is answerable for the unsatisfactory price of their wool. Our farmers would do well to adapt themselves to the times, and to endeavour to grow more of that class of wool which is in demand.

THE BOUNDARY QUESTION.

"I am not going to detain you by a long discussion of the Boundary Award, because the people of Ontario have declared on that subject. Never were a party in a more ludicrous position than the Grit party now, aided by Mr. Blake and Mr. Mowat. They risked every thing upon that cry. They were obliged to admit that our National Policy was the correct one, but they tried to get up a side issue that Ontario was robbed. Now there was a disputed boundary. There was a dispute as to where the western boundary of Ontario was. Ten years ago, I at the head of the Government, proposed to the province of Ontario to leave it to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, the highest court of appeal in the Empire, over which the Queen is supposed to preside in person. "Leave it to that court," we said, "it is a question of law, and we will willingly submit. We shall be obliged to submit to the decision of the court, if it took away the whole of the North-West to the Rocky Mountains." I offered that ten years ago. If Ontario had a right to that land, and the court decided so, she would have got it ten years ago, but they do not wish to leave it to the courts, but to keep it as a subject of agitation and work it as they did in the last election, but the country would not be dragged away from the main point at issue."

HALIBURTON.

THE MIDLAND.—The Bobcaygeon Independent says:—Mr. A. White, and some of the directors and officials of the Midland Railway paid a visit to Haliburton on Wednesday of last week. Mr. White is the most popular and esteemed railway official who has ever visited this place.

THE REEVESHIP.—A meeting of the ratepayers was held in the Town Hall, on Tuesday, to elect a reeve in the vacancy caused by Mr. Peck's resignation. Only a few persons were present. Mr. Councillor Illman was elected reeve by acclamation, and Mr. Quarry was elected councillor in Mr. Illman's place.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A sad occurrence took place here last week, Mr. Pengelly, an elderly gentleman, who had recently removed from the front on to a farm in Guilford, dropped dead without a moment's warning. The cause is supposed to have been heart disease.

AN UGLY CASE.

Willis M. Houston, a Mulatto, Attacks his Wife with a Razor—She may Recover.

At about half-past seven yesterday morning, a man, breathless and scared, ran up to Constable Wismer, who was on duty on King street near the Royal Opera house, and hurriedly informed him that a man at 107 York street was killing his wife. Wismer hastened to the place indicated, which is a restaurant kept by Mrs. Houston, where it appears his informant had been getting a meal. Houston had cleared out through the back door, and his wife was standing in the centre of the room, holding a cloth over her neck. While some one went for a doctor, Wismer started off in pursuit of Houston. He met a man named George Carter, who rooms at 25 Melinda street, and who told him that Houston was lying on his (Carter's) bed. Going down to this house Wismer saw the man lying on the sofa and at once arrested him. He made no resistance; admitted that he had attacked his wife, but said the constable did not know what trouble he had, and asked several times whether Mrs. Houston would "get over it." He was taken to police head-quarters, and subsequently brought up at the Police Court, where he declined to plead, and was remanded until next Monday. He is rather a good looking mulatto of about medium height.

The circumstance of the murderous attack, as nearly as they can be learned, are these, Houston came into the dining-room of the restaurant and asked his wife for money. She asked him to wait until she had served some boarders who were at breakfast. When they had all left except one man, Houston rushed at his wife, who was sitting at a table, pulled out a razor, and several times. Miss McNeil, a sister of Mrs. Houston, called out to the boarder and asked him if he was going to see the woman killed. Thus urged, the man sprung up, whereupon Houston fled through the back door and was afterwards arrested, as already stated. The razor covered with blood and without a handle was found in the shed, where he had dropped it.

Dr. Warner who attended to the woman's injuries, found several wounds, the most serious being a gash half an inch deep extending from the back downward and forward about four or five inches. Another cut only skin deep extends across this. The doctor says she will probably recover. Mrs. Houston is a white woman and has conducted the business of the restaurant herself and in her own name, and is said to be honest, industrious and hard-working.

The prisoner, who is a man between thirty and thirty-five years of age, has frequently been before the Police Magistrate for drunkenness. Some time last month he was sent down to gaol for thirty days, his wife having appeared against him and said she could put up with him no longer. However, on Dominion Day she relented—like a woman—paid his fine, and had him released. There is some difference of opinion as to whether he was drunk yesterday morning, but the woman's sister and Constable Wismer state that he was not.—Mail.

FOLDED HIS TENT.

How a Boarder left with Other People's Property—Four Hamilton Dead Beats.

The life of a boarding house keeper is not always a happy one, as is proven by the long list of those who have given the business up in disgust, and the very short list of those who have amassed colossal fortunes at it, and are now what may be called "boarding-house princes." It looks so inviting, and has such an appearance of being a "sure thing," that many rush into business, forgetting that the weekly receipts are very often considerably reduced by a class of human beings known as "boarding-house beats."

The truth of this has been learned to her cost by a lady on Bathurst street, who, about a month ago, spent considerable hard-earned money in fitting up her home with the regulation "home comforts." She had no difficulty in securing boarders. One very nice young man applied for accommodation, and, of course, was accepted. Next day he brought a friend who was so captivated with the appearance of the place that he at once came to room with his companion. A few days afterwards boarder number three put in an appearance. He was paying his addresses to the cook, and to save himself a walk every evening availed himself of the opportunity of making his home in the same house. Boarder number four was a thin-looking individual, who had very little to say to anyone. It was sigular, however, all hailed from the city of Hamilton. Besides those mentioned, there were two others boarding in the house who, when Saturday night came around, paid their board. But the others had some excuse, and ran up a bill, amounting in all to about $70. But excuses would not always do, so three of the Hamilton men "folded their tents like the Arab, and so silently stole away," before any one was up a couple of days ago. The fourth, not feeling well, remained for a day or two. On Wednesday morning he returned to the house, locked himself into the room of a young man named Pegley, and after breaking open his trunk took therefrom $21 in Canadian currency, besides a silver watch, and two pounds fourteen shillings in English money. He next broke open a satchel belonging to Mr. Brackley, from which he took $8.50 in money and a valuable English lever watch. This was not all. A breastpin and a pair of gold sleeve buttons, belonging to one of the members of the family, and valued at about $17, were also abstracted from the drawer. They then left with the stolen property, and it was not until about eight o'clock that evening that the robbery was discovered. The police were at once informed of the theft, and the matter is now in the hands of the detectives, who have a full description of the thief. Both Mr. Pegler and Mr. Brackley have only been in Canada a few weeks, and their experience of the country thus far has been anything but pleasant.—Mail.

Muskoka Cereals.

It will be remembered by some of our readers that in the year 1878 the Dominion Government sent out circulars to the different agricultural societies asking them to send samples of the best exhibits of the produces of the soil in their fall shows; the best samples of those received, it was stated, would be sent to form a Canadian exhibit at the Paris Exposition. In response to this circular the McKellar Agricultural Society sent samples of wheat, barley, and beans grown on the farm of Mr. W. A. Hurd, of that township. Nothing was heard as to what became of the samples sent until last week, when Mr. Hurd received a diploma from the Canadian Commissioners which certifies that he was a joint exhibitor in the class which was awarded a gold medal and diploma at the Paris Exposition in 1878. It certainly speaks well for our new—and much abused—district that we can produce grain fit to compete for, and win, a prize in competition against the world. Tally one for the Free Grant Districts. —Parry Sound North Star.

CETEWAYO.

The Captive King to Resume the Throne of Zululand.

Lady Florence Dixie, correspondent of the London Morning Post, lately called on Cetewayo. She gave him an account of her visit to Zululand, and in reply to her statement that some of the cheif men had expressed an earnest wish to have their King back, he exclaimed, "I am sure that it is the wish of the Zulu nation that I should return; it is only those who are frightened and held in check by John Dunn that oppose my restoration." Later on he broke in with "All I love is in Zululand; my heart is there, where lies my father's grave! I am heart sick and weary with waiting. When will England be just, and let me return? Do you think that because I am a black man I cannot feel, or suffer the less by this long, long and weary capitivity? England has given the Transvaal back to the Boers. Basutoland to the Basutos, Sekukuni is restored to his people, and all are free but I. How is it so? What have I done that I should be so treated? When I fought against you it was to defend my country. I was taken prisoner and I felt that one stronger than I had beaten me, and that power I acknowledged. But now you keep me here, where I am weary and sick at heart. I have appealed to England whom they tell me is great and just—to her Queen, whom they say is merciful—but my prayer is unheeded and I am here." His whole bearing is described by Lady Florence Dixie as dignified and majestic, neither flurried nor excited. "There was a pleasing sadness in his voice which was very touching." After a few encouraging words from his fair interviewer who assured him that public opinion was rising in his favour, he went on to complain of the delay to his request to be allowed to visit England immediately. "You tell me to be patient," he said, "but have I not been so until I can be so no longer? If I am to live they must let me go. A little longer of this and I shall die." In answer to the question whether on being restorsd he would consent to allow John Dunn to remain in Zululand, he exclaimed, "Why should I do so? When I reigned in that country I treated John Dunn as my friend; his return was to act as a spy between me and the English Government." On leaving, Lady Florence Dixie asked whether he had any message to send to the English people. "Tell them," he replied, "that I am a King and a captive; that I am alone and helpless; that I am very sad and heartbroken; that they should not believe the ill they hear of me. Ask them to be my friend, and to help me. I have no more to say." Lady Florence Dixie comments severely on the non-fulfillment of the promise to Cetewayo that he should visit England. "Such treatment," she writes, "is causing the king the acutest suffering, and the delay is killing him by inches. Because he sought to acquaint England with the misery of his position, and through the medium of my assistance obtained the publication in the Morning Post of his letters to the Queen, Prince of Wales and myself, his last friend, Mr. Samuelson, has been dismissed from the Government service, and a stranger whom Cetewayo does not know has been substituted in his place. The King is now more closely guarded than ever, and no communication in writing may pass between him and his friends until it has obtained the sanction of Government.

Meanwhile Zululand is on the verge of insurrection * * * famine is threatening the country, and I fear that a time is fast approaching when misery and discontent will drive the natives to despair, and in despair to rebellion. They ardently desire the restoration of their king, the present system is both baneful and tyrannical, and if the grievances are not redressed a recurrence of the Zulu war disasters must assuredly take place."

THE RIOT AT ALEXANDRIA.

A lady, whose son is in the service of the Eastern Telegraph Company, at Alexandria, forwards the following extract from a letter of his, relating his escape from the fury of the mob during the recent riots. We regret to state that two other young Englishmen, Messrs. Dobson and Richardson, were beaten to death by the Arabs.

EASTERN TELEGRAPH COMPANY,

I had better give you my personal experience of what occured. At 3 p. m. five of our fellows went out boating in the harbor. Having been on night duty, I was asleep until a quarter to four, when I went out with two others to see some friends. As we arrived we heard a shot fired, followed soon after by two more. We took no notice but went upstairs, where we found them all loading rifles and guns, in case of a rising, which, they said, had been threatened for some time. There were two ladies (to whom the house belonged) and the captain of one of the ships in the harbor. So it was proposed to send the women on board in case of an accident. They were sent off with the captain and another man. Whether they got safely on board or not I don't know, but God help the poor girls if they got into the hands of those brutes of Arabs. We then went back to quarters and got our revolvers. There were four of us, and we determined to go the harbor and warn the other men not to come up, or else to come immediately before the row commenced. We drove all right until we got to the turning down to the landing stage, when all of a sudden a crowd of Arabs rushed around the corner, shouting "Down with the Unbelievers!" "Death to the English!" Before we knew where we were we got beaten about the head with sticks. We all got out of the carriage, revolvers in hand. As I was alighting an Arab caught me a fearful blow on the top of the head with a stick. I marked him, aimed carefully, when I found that my revolver had got jammed somehow, and would not fire. I cocked it and levelled again, but the thing would not go off. Almost at this moment I received a tremendous blow on the top of my skull, and another on the wrist, which knocked my pistol out of my hand. I stooped to pick it up, when I received a stroke on the back of the head, which I shall not soon forget. It struck me that I should be no good to the other follows if I stayed, so turned and fled for a good half mile. I ran the gauntlet up the street streaming with blood, either dodging or else going straight at the Arabs and striking with my fists somehow or other. I was covered with blood, and was just sinking when I espied a chemist's shop open, rushed in and sank on a chair. As it happened, I arrived at the right moment and in the right place, for there were sixteen young medical students, well armed to the teeth, one of who dressed my wounds and gave me some lemonade, and made me lie down on a divan, with orders not to say a word, assuring me that I was quite safe. I sent a note to our quarters, and at nine in the evening they sent four men, well armed, to fetch me. One of my own comrades turned up; the remaining two have not been heard of. A party has been sent to the hospitals and consulates to search for them, and dead or alive to find them. There is still hope they may have taken refuge somewhere and may turn up. I lost my revolver, watch-chain, one shoe, my hat, and stick.

DEATH OF D. I. K. RINE.

He Ends His Days in the Wayne County Asylum for the Insane.

The following despatch was received from Detroit:—"D. I. K. Rine, a temperance lecturer, who will be remembered by the people of western Ontario, died at the Wayne county asylum for the insane, on Monday. He reached this city in January. Not long thereafter he was found raving on the streets by a policeman, and sent to the asylum at Wayne, where he has since suffered from acute mania."

D. I. K. Rine was at one time a heavy drinker, but was converted by the celebrated lecturer Murphy, and soon entered the lecture-field himself. In the matter of his speeches there was nothing remarkable, but he possessed the faculty of winning over the hearts of his hearers, and achieved decided success. Many converted drunkards in Toronto can testify to his power. His career, however, received a check from an occurrence in a Canadian town, which was made the subject of a charge against him. Though acquitted on this charge, the maxim that "some of the dirt will stick" received a striking illustration in this case, and there was not wanting those who were ready to remind him in public of the matter. The death of his wife some time afterwards appeared to affect his mind; he began to drink, became insane, and at length ended his days in the manner so briefly told in the despatch.—Mail.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. DISTRICT INTELLIGENCE

BOBCAYGEON.

DROWNED.—The Independent says two more lives lost by the upsetting of one of the canoe coffins. Two young fellows from Lindsay, by name Booth and Macdonald, were camping out on Sturgeon Lake. On Saturday last they were out canoeing, and in some manner not known got upset. A Mr. Willcox, a farmer on the south shore, at about four o'clock in the afternoon, noticed something on the lake which appeared to be a saw log with two objects on it, one at each end. Some time after he looked out again, but could not see anything, so he concluded that whatever it was, it had drifted to the shore. On Monday the canoe was found on the shore, and a short time after the body of Booth was found lying on the bank close to the canoe. It was evident that he had drifted to shore, and had attempted to climb the bank which at this point is steep and slippy, but being thoroughly exhausted he had to lay down, and whilst asleep had not sufficient vitality left to restrain his spirit from flying away. His companion is still in the lake. Dr. Bonnell, as Coroner, was notified, but he did not consider it necessary to hold an inquest.

OPENING.—The Rockland House was formally opened on Wednesday. Excursion parties were brought from Peterborough and Lindsay. A capital dinner was served which every one appeared to thoroughly enjoy. The greatest admiration was expressed for the new House, and every encouragement given for its ultimate success.

CHEESE FACTORY.—The Bobcaygeon Cheese Factory is fully established, and is giving satisfaction. There are about forty-five patrons, and the daily product of milk is about 5,000 lbs. Mr. Wilson, the manager of the Factory, converts this milk into cheese by the Chedder process, and a visit to the factory is interesting. On the arrival of the milk in the morning, it is weighed, and handed over to Mr. Wilson, who puts it through a process of heating, and setting, and putting, and cooking, and curing, and pressing, and all sorts of things, and by noon the following day turns it out in the form of eight large cheeses. Eighty per cent of the whey is returned to the patrons, which mixed with a little bran, or grain, is excellent pig feed. There are now over a hundred cheese on hand. A sale was recently made of 120, and obtained 10c. for May, and 10 and five sixteenth for the first half of June, being a quarter of a cent higher than the general run, and the Inspector sent by the purchaser publicly pronouced the cheese to be the best of sixteen factories examined by him. This speaks well for Mr. Wilson, a success no doubt largely due to the methodical system, and thorough cleanliness with which he conducts the process.

LINDSAY.

THE GAS WORKS.—The Post says:—Matters connected with a public undertaking like the gas works are always of public interest. The laying of the main supply pipes is going on briskly and is completed along William street up to Kent street. A six-inch main is put down so far. Along Kent street east and west a four inch pipe will be laid down on both sides of the street, service pipes will be taken off these mains at convenient places to supply customers. On the premises of the company work has commenced preparing the ground for the erection of the buildings. Mr. A. Rutherford, of Peterborough, has the contract for their erection. Of course Lindsay workmen and mechanics will do the work if they can be engaged. A substantial stone wall will be put up along the east side of the lot facing the river. The terms of the contract specify that the buildings should be completed by the first of October next, so about that time we may look for increased and better light than that now enjoyed.

GOING AHEAD.—Mr. John Makins is making extensive improvements in his foundry and machine shops. In addition to a large quantity of saw mill work he has several large castings and weighty things to get ready for the paper mill. A new cupola was put on Thursday and a large crane to handle heavy pieces of iron work is in course of erection in the moulding shop.

SEVERE OPERATION.—The Warder says Mr. Jas. Brown, of Ops, whose team ran away and threw him violently against the wagon two weeks ago, thereby causing injuries to the abdomen that allowed the bowels to protrude, has since the accident been under the care of Dr. DeGrassi. The Dr. carefully washed the bowels and replaced them, and Mr. Brown is now doing remarkably well, and is in a fair way to recover.

FOR THE NORTH-WEST.—Mr. E. D. Orde, leaves this week for Brandon, Manitoba, for a short time, in order to look after his landed interests there and elsewhere. Several other Lindsay gentlemen intend taking a trip into that country within the next few weeks.

PORT HOPE.

HORSE KILLED.—The Guide says that yesterday as the noon train was coming in, a lot of horses were seen on the Cavan street crossing, one of which, belonging to Richard Stanberry, 1st con, Hope, was killed. The animal was completely cut to pieces. The horse was worth $150.

ADJOURNED INQUEST.—Last (Tuesday) evening the adjourned inquest on the body of Mr. Alex. Thompson, was resumed at the Town Hall. After a tedious session which lasted until one o'clock this morning, the jury brought in the following verdict: "That Alexander Thompson came to his death from injuries received by being accidentally thrown out of a waggon about five miles from Port Hope, on the Rice Lake road, on the 29th of June, and that no blame could be attached to any person in his company.

A FAREWELL GREETING.—There was a very large number of persons at both the Midland and Grand Trunk stations, on Wednesday morning, to say good bye to the Rev. W. H. Laird and family, who left for their new home, in Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Laird have both made a large number of personal friends during their three years residence in Port Hope. They left with the good wishes of many persons even outside of the Methodist church. Mr. Laird will no doubt be successful at Elm street, Toronto.

HASTINGS.

ACCIDENT.—At a rising of Welshe's tannery here on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Powers, of Belleville, had his leg broken; Mr. Bonner, boss carpenter, also of Belleville, was very badly injured and is not expected to recover, and John Carey, of this place, was considerably injured, but not dangerously.

A LONDON DRUGGIST says:—"during the many years I have been in the drug business, I have never had a medicine that gave such general satisfaction, or for which there was such a large sale, as there is for Mack's Magnetic Medicine, advertised in another column of your paper."

IN the cure of severe coughs, weak lungs, spitting of blood and the early stages of Consumption, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has astonished the medical faculty. While it cures the severest cough, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By druggists.

A SCANDAL has been developed in connection with the Bloomingdale insane asylum near New York by one of the inmates, who had been incarcerated for two years, being declared by a jury to be sane. The liberated man expressed the opinion that many others of the "patients" in the institution are in possession of their faculties.

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

A MEMBER of Parliament, in discussing the question of trial by jury in Ireland the other evening, became excited, and exclaimed, "With trial by jury have I lived, and, by the blessing of God, with trial by jury shall I die!" The roar of laughter which followed called the honourable gentleman's attention to the error he had made.

JOHN T. BERRY, Esq., Rockland, Maine, President of the Lime Rock National Bank, and also of the Knob and Lincoln R. R. says he had the rheumatism in his left foot and leg. He used three bottles of St. Jacobs Oil and it relieved him wonderfully. He calls it "a splendid article."

EVERYTHING is done in a hurry in these days. At a large horse-car stable in this city they are in such a hurry that they curry their horses by steam machinery. A large brush attached to moveable arms, so that it can be carried in any direction, and revolved rapidly by an engine, is applied to the horse. Whew! A cloud of dust arises and the next moment the horse stands before you with his toilet complete—a transformed animal.—Christian Union.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20th, 1880. Smith Medicine Co., Gents; I am requested by Miss Sarah Fordham to inform you that your treatment of the Tape Worm has proved a great success. In five hours after she had taken the medicine the worm passed alive with head complete, measuring 22½ feet. The medicine caused no pain or uneasiness. You may rest assured that I will never cease to recommend your treatment whenever an opportunity offers. Yours, J. B. L. Flynn, 20 Chaboillez Square, Montreal.

DRINKING IN THE HAYFIELD.

Men in health perspire freely when vigorously at work on warm days. Very heavy sweating may sometimes arise from weakness; a dry skin may indicate disorder. Evaporation from the surface carries off heat and keeps the body cool. A larger supply of drinking water is required for the warm haying and harvest days, but much less then is commonly supposed. Half a pint of water sipped slowly, will assuage thirst much more effectively than a quart gulped down. As fully explained in the chapter on "Catching Cold" (in December number,) a different temperature in two adjacent portions of the body produces congestion. A pint of cold fluid of any kind, thrown into the stomach, may result in more or less congestion; serious illness and not unfrequently deaths, arise from this cause. If ice-water is taken at any time, it should always be swallowed so slowly that the stomach can warm each gill before another is received.

As to the kind of drink, the positive teachings of medical science and experience indicate that pure water is by far the best fluid for assuaging thirst and supplying the wants of the system. Beers, ales, or any sweetened drinks or any fluid that contains material that must be digested are a tax upon the stomach and tend to disorder the system. If taken at all, it should be only with other food. Pure water is absorbed at once into the blood and is carried directly to those parts of the body where it is needed. If the water is bad it may usually be corrected by the addition of a little ginger, or ginger extract; too much of this produces constipation; but on this account, it may be used more freely in looseness of the bowels. All alcoholic drinks are unhealthful for one in active exercise. They stimulate increased effort—effort beyond one's natural strength—and unnatural exhaustion inevitably follows. Just as far as any one raises himself above a normal condition by alcoholic stimulants, just so far below this condition will he surely sink a few hours after, and the elevating and depressing operations wears out and disorganizes the machinery of the body.—American Agriculturist.

A REWARD—Of one dozen TEABERRY to any one sending the best four line rhyme on TEABERRY, the remarkable little gem for the Teeth and Breath. Ask your druggist for address.

WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

WELLAND CANAL.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for the Welland Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western Mails on Tuesday, the Eleventh Day of July next, for certain alterations to be made to, and lengthening of Lock No. 2 on the line of the old Welland Canal.

A map of the locality, together with plan and specifications of the works to be done, can be seen at this office, and at the Resident Engineer's office, Thorold, on and after Tuesday, the Twenty-seventh Day of June next, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that an accepted Bank Cheque for the sum of $1,500 must accompany each tender, which sum shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines to enter into contract for the execution of the work at the rates and prices submitted, and subject to the conditions and terms stated in the specifications.

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and develops the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

It has been in use for 20 years, and has proved to be the best preparation in the market for SICK HEADACHE, PAIN IN THE SIDE OR BACK, LIVER COMPLAINT, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, DYSPEPSIA, PILES, and all Diseases that arise from a Disordered Liver or an impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once, recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for Regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Those who cannot obtain a bottle of this medicine from their druggist may send us one dollar, and we will send it to them.

SATURDAY, JULY 8, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Still Another.

There was still another blank at the police court this morning, no cases coming before the Magistrate for disposal.

Counterfeits.

Counterfeit twenty-five cent pieces are in circulation in Toronto. It would be well to keep a look out for them, as they may circulate in this direction.

A Delusion.

Quite a little crowd gathered on a side street at the sight of a large dog lying perfectly motionless, and speculations were indulged in for some time as to whether he had been poisoned or shot, but the crowd was not a little disconcerted when the dog, thinking he had carried the deception far enough, rose, and majestically walked away.

The Weather.

The weather is now very warm, with appearances of rain. The prediction of showers from the Toronto meteorological office, will not be unwelcome. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes—Moderate to fair and warm ; a few local showers or thunder storms.

Open Air Concert.

The Fire Brigade Band gave an open air concert on the market square last evening. They played severel selections in a manner in which few bands can render them, and they had an appreciative audience. A gas lamp will be placed in the centre of the stand, and the band will delight our citizens with these open air concerts during the summer, every Friday night.

The Market.

There was a large attendance on the market this forenoon, of both buyers and sellers. There was a considerable quantity of butter and eggs offered for sale, the price being 20 cts. for butter, and 16 cts. for eggs. Chickens were selling at from 35 cts. to 40 cts.; gooseberries 10 cts. and currants 5 cts. a quart ; green peas 40 cts. a peck. Potatoes were scarce at about $1.05 per bag, and even $2.00 was asked. Radishes and lettuce were plentiful, and selling in small bundles at 5 cts, each. A small amount of carrot's were offered at 5 cts. for a very small bunch.

Grand Promenade Concert.

Our band will hold a promenade concert in the Drill Shed on Friday evening next, July 14th, when one of the best and choicest programmes of music ever presented to a Peterborough audience will be rendered. As the proceeds of this concert are to be devoted to buying new instruments, badly needed, for the band, we hope the citizens will turn out en masse and show their appreciation of a band that has always upheld the credit of the town, and also of themselves in a way that no other band in the Province can boast of. Ample seating accommodation will be provided for all. By all means, let them have a bumper house.

Railway Notes.

The Belleville Ontario says that there are about 300 men and 50 teams at work on the extension of the Central Ontario Railway, and the number is being constantly added to. The work is being rapidly pushed. The bulk of the ties are being procured in the northern part of Hastings, but a considerable number have been delivered at Trenton and along the line in Prince Edward County. Mr. Geo. Dench, the conductor, is absent on his wedding trip, and Mr. Niles Herrington is acting in his place during his absence.

Travel and freight traffic were never brisker on the Midland Railway than they are at present.

The News-Argus says that an agent of the projected Ontario & Quebec railway passed through Rawdon last week, buying up the right of way, but had more or less trouble with the farmers along the line.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette says that the new station being built in that village by the Midland Railway Company is rapidly approaching completion, and the carpenters will make way for the painters in about a fortnight. The head carpenter is Mr. J. L. Hughes, of Peterborough, from which town all the materials were brought.

Professional.

Dr. Clarke may now be found at his office on George street, above Mr. Lech's Fur Store at all hours, by night as well as by day.

Cricket.

As we go to press a cricket match is in progress on the Ashburnham cricket ground, between the Peterborough and Lakefield clubs. The result will be given on Monday.

Bush Fire.

A bush fire was raging yesterday afternoon, about three miles west of the town, and it was rumored to-day that a barn and contents had been burned.

A Wheel Off.

One of the wheels of a bread cart ran off the cart on George street at noon to-day, and startled the driver not a little. The horse was a quiet one, however, and easily held, so that no further damage was done.

Anniversary Services.

To-morrow being the sixth anniversary of Ashburnham Parish, special services will be held in St. Luke's church at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. The Rev. G. J. Taylor of Toronto will preach at both sevices. Seats free.

Schools Closed.

The public schools throughout the country, were closed yesterday, and the Seperate Schools began their vacation at the same time. The Intermediate examinations, which have been in progress at the High School during the past week, were concluded to-day.

A Credit to the Profession.

The Bobcaygeon Independent contains the following paragraph :—

JOURNALISTIC.—Our esteemed contemporary the Peterborough DAILY REVIEW, has entered upon its eight volume. It is an admirably conducted paper, and a credit to the profession. In fact it is probably the best town daily in the Province. It is not probable that our confreres will be sufficintly rewarded in this world, but among the glorious little coterie of Bohemians up aloft, the REVIEW staff will occup orchestral stalls.

Who Paid the Band ?

The Lindsay Warder says :—

"Our contemporary the Post was kind enough last week to inform us that the $100 paid the Peterborough band to come here and enthuse for Mr. Blake was not paid by the Ontario Government, but obtained by the subscription by Mr. E. McTavish in about twenty minutes. We are glad to hear that Mr. McTavish can get up a subscription so quickly, but now that our contemporary is in the explaining mood would it inform us whether the return tickets purchased for the gentlemen who came from Toronto and from Gravenhurst and other places to vote for Mr. Needler were paid by the Ontario Government or where they also obtained by subscription by Mr. McTavish, and if so how many minutes was he in doing that ?

The Twelfth.

The Orangemen are pushing forward the preperations for the celebration of the 12th of July on Wednesday next. One large arch is completed and men are at work on the construction of the others, and each evening many adherents of the order voluntary give their services in assisting in these decorative preparations. The drill shed and grounds have been secured for the day. The Madoc Review says that a large number of people will come from that vicinity to take part in the celebration, and with the lodges expected from along the line of the Grand Junction and Midland, and the neighbouring lodges, there will be a tremendous crowd in town.

Interfering with Navigation.

The water in the river has suddenly fallen so much that the big drive of Messrs. Rathbun & Co., and Ullyott and Saddlier & Co. is at a standstill between the Little Lake and Rice Lake. The water is also too low for the steamboats to run on the river. We learn from Lakefield that the steamers there are also unable to run from the same cause. The reason of this interference with the navigation of the Otonabee is the action of the Provincial authorities, who, for some reason, are holding back the water at Young's Point dam. This serious interference with navigable water should not be permitted.

Vote of Condolence.

At the regular meeting of Court Peterborough No. 29, C. O. F. held on Friday evening, July 7th, the secretary was instructed to forward the following vote of sympathy and condolence to the widow and family of their late Brother David Carlisle :—

Moved by Brother F. J. JAMESON and seconded by Brother ROBERT ROBERTSON,—"That whereas it has pleased the Almighty in the exercise of His unerring wisdom to remove from our midst our late respected brother, David Carlisle, we the members of Court Peterborough No. 29 of the Canadian Order of Foresters desire to offer to his wife and family our deepest condolence with them in their sadly sudden bereavement, and to assure them of our sincerest sympath in their affliction. Our deceased brother was a most worthy and well beloved member of our order, faithfully living up to the obligations he assumed on becoming a member. How greatly we shall miss him in the councils of our regular gatherings, words cannot express, for we have ever found nim taking a prominent position as a Forester, with a zeal and an influence always in favour of the moral, the good and the true. A position in fact which he occupied in every relation of life in which we have been favoured with assocation with him. Knowing, as we do, his worth, honor, uprightness and kindness of character, we more deeply deplore his loss and can the more readily sympathize with them in their great affliction, and we trust that their future lives may be cheered with the hope of a happy reunion with our departed brother in that Heaven to which we believe his upright life and trust in his Redeemer has given him a blissful entrance."—Carried unanimously.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY.—When Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., announced that his "Favorite Prescription" would positively cure the many diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women, some doubted, and continued to employ the harsh and caustic local treatment. But the mighty truth gradually became acknowledged. Thousands of ladies employed the "Favorite Prescription" and were speedily cured. By druggists.

FIVE ALLEGED KISSES.

REV. MR. WILLOUGHBY, LATE OF PETERBOROUGH, ON HIS TRIAL.

Charged with Kissing and Falsehood—He Denies the Accusation and Makes His Statement—The Case still proceeding.

BRAMPTON, July 7.—The person who most needs a cloak for his impiety is most anxious to believe the accusations against those who act as teachers of men. For this reason the charges now pending against a clergyman in this town, will be seized, upon by the ungodly, even before they are proven as an excuse for evil-doing. Rev. N. R. Willoughby, pastor of the Canada Methodist Church here, is charged with conduct unbecoming a man, and particularly offensive in one who should afford an example to the world. The rev. gentleman is charged with having kissed one of the ladies of the congregation against her will, and with being guilty of falsehood in denying that he had done so.

There is little doubt that the great heart of the world beats in strong sympathy with those who kiss ; but notwithftanding this, notwithstanding that Shelley and other poets have so beautifully called attention to the universality of the kiss in nature, there are circumstances under which osculation is held to be in expedient and even wrong. Instances of this could be multiplied, but they will readily occur to all. Among them, first in offensiveness, may be ranked the kiss of which the Rev. Mr. Willoughby is the alleged prepetrator.

The charge is now forming the subject of a formal trial according to the rules of the church by a Committee of the Conference, of which the Rev. Dr. Sutherland, of this city, President of the Conference, is Chairman. The Court sits with closed doors, even witnesses being excluded when not giving evidence. Besides the members of the Committee, the only persons in constant attendance are the accused and Mr. George Graham, County Treasurer, who brings forward the change. This gentleman's daughter it is who claims to have been insulted by Mr. Willoughby. She has within the last few days become the bride of the Rev. J. E. Starr, a rising young preacher of Winnipeg. The prosecution has presented its case, except the evidence to be given in rebuttal. The case of the defence has a formidable look, for it is said about fifty witnesses will be called. When the Court rose this evening Mr. Willoughby was making his statement.

When asked to furnish the Globe with his version of the affair, he represented that he could say nothing at present, for fear of bringing himself under the discipline of the church. He gave a flat denial of the charges, however, and said that when the trial was over he believed he would stand as high in the estimation of the public as before. Mr. Graham was called upon, and he also declined to speak, and with the exception of a few short statements the members of his family did the same. Mr. Graham stated that he had the evidence, but at present, lest it might damage the case, he declined to say anything. Sources of direct information being closed, it will be readily understood that to state the real facts of the case involves a tedious progress through a maze of contradictory charges, hints and rumors heard on all sides. For of course the affair has created A great deal of gossip in the town. A statement of the facts involves also getting to the bottom of that well nigh bottomless affair—a church quarrel. In a case involving the standing minister of the Gospel, and per contra, that of a lady, too great care cannot be exercised in a public presentation of the case, and it is with a full sense of the responsibility involved in the task that a statement is made.

Rev. R. N. Willoughby was for several years pastor of the Bloor-street, Methodist Church, Yorkville. In 1880 he was president of the Toronto Conference. In that year he was assigned to Brampton station, much to the satisfaction of a majority of the congregation. Among his strongest friends was Mr. Graham. When he arrived in Brampton to take charge, the parsonage was being repaired, and the new minister was therefore invited to remain at Mr. Graham's home until his own house was ready for his reception.. Mr. and Mrs. Graham went off on a trip about that time, leaving their guest in the care of the other members of the family, among whom was Miss Georgie Graham their daughter, the young lady before alluded to.

Though access to the only infallible source of information was denied, the substance of the case against Mr. Willoughby was obtained from outside sources. The young lady, it is understood, claims that one Sunday evening about 10 days after Mr. Willoughby first came to her father's house, while she was going through the hall, he came out of the parlour, and catching hold of her suddenly, kissed her. She rebuked him, and said that she would tell Mr. Starr, then her affianced, who was at the time preaching in Peterborough. He said she would not do that, for being president of the Conference he could do Starr a good deal of injury. Within a day or two Mr. Starr came to Brampton, stopping at Mr. Graham's place. One evening as the three were about bidding one another goodnight, Mr. Willoughby advanced to Miss Graham, who was seated on the sofa, and takine her face between his hands kissed her. It is stated that Starr, who at the moment returned from the verandah where he had been closing the French windows, saw this salute, and that in the morning he warmly cautioned Mr. Willoughby against a repetition of such liberties. On three other occasions, it is said the new minister tried to kiss her, and that the last time he was by her shown the door. She said nothing about the matter until about three months ago, when she confided it to a friend, who, however, insisted upon letting Mr. Graham know, and thus the charge came to be made.

As in every case of this kind the minister has many friends. There is little doubt but that the sympathy of a majority of the people is with their pastor, many of whom believe that in this case he has not been fairly treated. Mr. Willoughby's friends make no secret of their belief that the whole affair has been arranged to give effect to the spite of a clique in the church against the pastor. At the time it was decided to ask for Mr. Willoughby's appointment to Brampton there was a strong effort made to secure another gentleman, and this proving unsuccessful, the defeated party, it is said, has never been willing to work harmoniously with the rest of the congregation under his ministry. As there were no witnesses present on any but one of the occasions referred to in the evidence for the prosecution, Mr. Willoughby is practically called upon to prove a negative—an impossibility, according to the jurists.

His friends seem to rest their faith on several incidents which seem to them to prove that the prosecutors themselves do not believe their own case. It is stated that Mr. Willoughby received a letter from Mr. Graham, while yet the affair was in its infancy, that if he would leave at the end of the current year the charges would not be pressed. Again, when the Conference met the charges were not handed in, it is claimed, until a suggestion was made to the accused that he should not ask to be returned to Brampton, in which case no further action would be taken. He stoutly declared his intention, however of facing his opponents, and of fighting the case through to the end. It is said also that evidence will be produced to show that Mr. Starr was on the most familiar terms with the pastor even after the alleged offence was committed ; but on the other hand it is claimed that an ample apology was offered and accepted before their friendship was resumed.

The case was adjourned to-day until Tuesday, in order to give the ministers who form the Committee an opportunity to fill their pulpits to-morrow. It is expected that the whole case will be concluded in about a week.—Globe.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

A CREDIT VOTE.

PARIS, July 8.—The Government will ask the Chamber of Deputies to-day for a credit vote of £312,000, for precautionary preparations made by the Minister of Marine. The expedition to Egypt will comprise twenty vessels, with 147 guns and 8,280 men.

THE POLAR REGIONS.

VIENNA, July 8.—The Austrian meteorological expedition has made an unsuccessful attempt to reach Jan Maen, and has put back to Tromso. Another effort will be made; if it again fails the party will go to Ireland.

SUPPRESSED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 8. — The Phaae du Bosphore has been suppressed for attacking Prince Bismark.

THE SPANISH CORTES.

MADRID, July 8.—The Cabinet has resolved not to declare the session of the Cortes ended, but merely suspended, in order to allow of it reassembling should contingencies arise in connection with the Eastern question.

AN IRONCLAD LOST.

AMSTERDAM, July 8.—It is feared the Dutch ironclad Adder has been lost, the body of her pilot having been washed ashore at Ymuiden. The Adder was a second-class vessel of 1,650 tons, and two twelve-ton guns.

ARABI SUMMONED.

ADEXANDRIA, July 9.—Arabi Pasha was yesterday formally summoned to Constantinople by the Sultan, but refused to obey. Two aides of the Sultan who recently arrived, left for Constantinople, last evening, accompanied by Ahmed Assad and Lebib Pasha, two members of Dervish Pasha's mission. The secret negotiations which were proceeding are therefore regarded as broken off. The British man-of-war Dragon has arrived at Suez.

A BREACH OF FAITH.

ALEXANDRIA, July 8.—From a steamer lying in the inner harbor, soldiers are distinctly seen digging trenches and carrying shot from one fort to another. The English Controller-General and the staff of the English consulate will go aboard ship to-night.

AFGHANISTAN.

SIMLA, July 8.—Information has been received that negotiations were reopened between Great Britain and Russia in December relative to the demarcation of the northern frontier of Afghanistan.

THE MUSCAT TROUBLES.

SIMLA, July 8.—Order has been restored in Muscat. The Imaum's brother has been pensioned.

THE GOVERNMENT DEFEAT.

LONDON, July 8.—After a consultation with his colleagues Mr. Gladstone has decided to accept the decision of the House of Commons on Mr. Trevelyan's amendment to the Repression Bill.

CONSULATES CLOSED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 8.—The French diplomatic agent at Alexandria telegraphed the French consul at Cairo yesterday that an attack by the fleet was momentarily expected, and instructing him to send all French subjects away, and to place himself and the archives of his office in security. The consul placarded the telegram in Cairo, causing a renewed panic, and came himself to Alexandria. The Austrian consulate in Cairo has also been closed.

SENTENCED.

PRAGUE, July 8.—Thirteen socialists have been sentenced to prison for terms varying from two years to a week.

RESOLVED TO RESIST.

ALEXANDRIA, July 9.—Some naval officials made a recognoissance and saw the Egyptains mounting guns on the western side of the entrance to the harbour. Admiral Seymour is consequently preparing a proclamation to be placarded all over the city charging the authorities with breach of faith, demanding the surrender of the fortifications within twelve hours, and warning the authorities that if they fail to comply with this demand, fire will be opened upon the forts after the expiration of a further period of twenty-four hours. The British gunboat Condon has been stationed outside the harbour to guard the entrance. Admiral Seymour has gone aboard the Invincible, which will move into the outer harbour alongside the Monarch. The bittern now lies opposite the Ras-el-Tin palace. The Ministry continue to declare their resolve to resist. They have taken precautions to insure the safety of the Khedive in the event of troops landing.

AFRICAN EXPLORATION.

LONDON, July 8.—Mr. Stanley continues to explore the Congo. It is said that his report to the King of the Belgians will be so favourable that the Congo will be chief conductor of trade into the centre of Africa. As a French station is established at the mouth of the Congo, and the French auzeranity is acknowledged by the powerful chiefs of the neighbourhood, a slight international difficulty may eventually arise.

A FANATICAL PRESS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 8.—The Sultan has telegraphed to Arabi, to the Khedive, and to Dervish Pasha, forbidding them to do anything tending to precipitate hostilities. The change of Ministry means that the Sultan has changed his mind about the conference. Server Pasha will be the Turkish plenipotentiary. The Turkish press is unanimous in praising Arabi, and discusses the Egyptian crisis from a purely religious and fanatical standpoint.

COMPLAINTS BY THE SULTAN.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 8.—The Sultan has rejected the proposal of his Council of Ministers to appoint a delegate to the conference. The Sultan, in conversation, complained of the want of friendship shown him by England in unjust suspicions and erroneous interpretations placed on all his actions. He also complained of the injustice of the foreign representatives at Alexandria, who, to justify their causing the departure of their countrymen, made unfounded statements respecting security in Egypt. The Sultan again invited the United States Minister to the palace, and conferred with him a long time. The Sultan has approved the contract for two hundred Berdan torpedoes.

UNPUBLISHED WRITINGS.

LONDON, July 8.—The Athenæum promises to publish some hitherto unpublished Byron papers including a collection of peoms by Lady Byron, written during her residence with her husband, some having his emendations; and also correspondence between her and Lord Byron's sister during her engagement and early married life, and to the date of the poet's death. Also documents referring to the destruction of her memoirs, and other interesting papers. This large body of correspondence, says the Athenæum, will demonstrate the baselessness of various statements made by Lady Byron in later years to her sister-in-law's discredit, and more especially of the hideous imagination to which Mrs. Beecher Stowe gave such wide and lamentable publicity thirteen years ago.

MURDER IN CLARE.

DUBLIN, July 8.—A farmer's herd named Doloughty was shot and mortally wounded at Ennis, County Clare, to-day.

RAILWAY COLLISION.

CORK, July 10.—A railway collision occurred at Cork on Sunday, by which 30 persons were injured; twelve will die.

RIOTING IN WALES.

TREDEGAR, July 8.—Rioting occurred at Tredegar, Wales, to-day between the Welsh and Irish. Many houses of Irismen were sacked, and several persons severely injured.

THE HAMILTON EFFECTS.

LONDON, July 8.—Tremendous prices are still ruling for the artistic objects of Hamilton Palace. The sale of the library has been continued daily, the prices obtained being relatively as high as for the other contents of the Palace.

AMERICAN SYMPATHY.

ALEXANDRIA, July 8.—The rumours of American symyathy with Egypt seem to be corroborated by rumours that Arabi is being assisted and advised in fomenting the anti-English feeling by American Fenians present in large numbers in Egypt.

AMERICAN.

MINISTER LOWELL.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The Tribune's London special says:—Mr. Lowell, complying with diplomatic usage, tendered his resignation on President Arthur's accession, but never since.

THE CZAR'S CORONATION.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 8.—Court circles maintain that the coronation will take place on the 1st of September.

OHIO RIVER DISASTER.

MINGO JUNCTION, Ohio, July 9.—The bodies of John Prosser, Frank Smith, and Stewart Piper, of Wellsville, victims of the Scotio disaster, were recovered to-day; they were greatly swollen. Fifty-one bodies have now been recovered. The steamer Annie L. passed up to-day with 200 excursionists and the Cy Lucas with about 200; their permits read 150. Warrants were last night issued for the pilots of the Scotia, and John Lomas. Keeler, of the Scotia, was arrested at the wreck; Long, of the Lomas, has not yet been found. Keeler furnished bail. The investigation begins on Thursday.

THE CROPS THREATENED.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The World's London special says the past has been another week of disastrous weather for the crops—a week of storms and rain in torrents. In low-lying districts the land is under water, and wheat much beaten down. If this goes on much longer the harvest will be quite ruined.

SUNK IN A COLLISION.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The Assyrian Monarch, which arrived yesterday, reported that on Saturday while of the banks a large ship ran into and sank a small schooner. Three half-naked men ran across the deck of the schooner and then sank beneath the waves.

DROWNED.

BUFFALO, July 9.—Fred. Root of Burliugton, Vt.; Herbert McKinney, of Ellenburg; Jane Lucan Ault of Seville, Ont.; Agnes Fetterley, of Morrisburg, Ont., went out rowing on the St. Lawrence River, near Watertown. N. Y. No trace of the party can be found. It is feared that they all have gone down the rapids and been drowned.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE of the Kidneys, Diabetes and other diseases of the Kidneys and Liver, which you are being frightened about, Hop Bitters is the only thing that will surely and permanently prevent and cure. All other pretended cures only relieve for a time and then make many times worse.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

A TURK'S VIEW.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 10.—Said Pasha in an interview with Lord Dufferin, energetically depreciated the bombardment of Alexandria, for which there was no reason.

SKOBELEFF'S FUNERAL.

Moscow, July 10.—A requiem mass was celebrated on Saturday in the room where the body of Skobeleff was lying. All the Moscow authorities were present. Last night the body was borne in solemn state to the Cathedral, whence it will be transferred to Skobeloff's estate at Riazza and buried. The newspapers appeared with black borders. An immense number of people are flocking here from St. Petersburg.

READY FOR PILLAGE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—Admiral Seymour's twenty-four hours' notice to the military goveroner begins at 9 o'clock this morning. Thousands of Bedouins are ready for pillage the minute hostilities begin. The Bedouins outside Alexandria wantonly signal for the bombardment to begin. The Egyptians are now openly working at the forts and on the earthworks. Evidently the intention of Arabi is to force hostilities despite the warning of the British admiral.

AFFAIR'S IN EGYPT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—The national party allege that Dervish Pasha received instructions from the Porte, to endeavor to arrange on almost any terms for a brief Turkish occupation. It is stated that he assured Arabi that the Turks will not come as enemies, or interfere in anyway with the existing state of things, but solely because the European powers insist upon the step being taken; and when this satisfaction will be afforded, the Turkish division will, after a short stay, evacuate Egypt. There is almost a panic among the natives in Alexandria. The better classes are sending away their women and valuables, but among the lower orders, hopes of the approaching pillage are freely expressed. It is reported that the Porte has now arranged to send a corps de armee, placed nominally at the disposal of the Khedive, but the general opinion is, that it is really coming to aid the common cause with the Egyptians against the English. A deputation from the Arabs on the Zanzibar coast promise to support the Egyptians in the struggle in defence of the Mohommedan faith. Numerous bodies of armed Bedouins were seen in the outskirts of the town last evening. The bombardment, according to Seymour's notice, will begin on Tuesday morning. The fleet during the past two nights turned an electric light on the forts. This caused a general stampede of the soldiers to the guns.

THE KHEDIVE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—The Khedive has declined the offer of the English to provide for his safety aboard a man-of-war.

LEAVING ALEXANDRIA.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—The Eastern Telegraph Company announces that commercial messages will be stopped during the arrangements for transferring its own office to ship board. The ships having on board the officers of the Ottoman Bank, Credit Hyonmize, &c., have already left.

THE INDIAN CONTINGENT.

CALCUTTA, July 10.—The government of India has received final and definite orders to despatch their contingent to Egypt, under Sir Herbert Machison, who commanded a brigade in the Afghanistan war. A large seized train is preparing at the Agra and Bombay arsenals.

DISAPPROVAL.

LONDON, July 10.—It is stated that there has been important correspondence with the Dominion Government, relative to their action in regard to the resolution of the Dominion Parliament, approving of Home Rule for Ireland. It is said that the Imperial Government expressed emphatic disapproval of the conduct of the Dominion authorities.

TELEGRAPHIC CONNECTION.

LONDON, July 10.—The telegraph is now working from a ship moored some miles from Alexandria, and communication with the port is maintained by a despatch boat. Private telegrams confirm the news that notice of bombardment was given at four this morning.

THE BOMBARDMENT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—Notice of the bombardment of Alexandria, was given this morning by a letter addressed to the Governor by Admiral Seymour. Cartwright, acting British consul here, has written Ragheb Pasha, President of the Egyptian Ministry, announcing the suspension of relations with the Egypt Government and Dervish Pasha, the Turkish Commissioner, declaring that he will be held responsible for the safety of the Khedive. The 24 hours' notice expires at 4 o'clock to-morrow morning, when the bombardment will commence. Seymour yesterday summoned his captains aboard the flag ship, and settled the details of the bombardment. The Frence fleet will participate in the bombardment. It is said that it will go to Port Said inaccordance with an understanding with Seymour.

TO RETIRE

LONDON, July 10.—It is understood that Gladstone's declaration on Friday that if Trevelyan's amendment to the Repression bill should be rejected he would have to consider his personal position, foreshadowed his personal disposition to retire from the leadership of the House of Commons.

AMERICAN.

THE TARIFF.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The Tribune's Washington despatch says that the tariff system has been exhaustively discussed in both Houses this session. It is hardly probable that there will be another protracted general debate on the tariff.

LAWLESS INDIANS.

FORT BOWIE, Arizona, July 10.—The Indians on Friday killed Chief Soult and two men at the reservation. Forty Indians attacked McMillard villa, and ran nearly all the cattle off. Frank Ross was severely wounded.

PERSONAL.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Walter Malley and Blanche Douglas attended the theatre together here on Saturday night.

A GO-BETWEEN.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 8.—Considerable surprise is expressed that Mr. Wallace, the American Minister, has again been summoned to the palace. Either Mr. Wallace or his dragoman attend there almost daily. Mr. Wallace also has frequent interviews with Earl Dufferin.

HOSTILITIES TO BEGIN.

WASHINGTON, July 10.— Admiral Coulson telegraphs from Alexandria that hostilities between England and Egypt will begin to-day.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, JULY 10, 1882.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

THE Lindsay Post is again at its dirty work of abusing and insulting the Ministers, whom the great majority, not only of the Dominion but of this Province, have declared to possess their confidence. It disgraces itself by the foul charge that the chosen representatives of the people of Canada were guilty of a "dodge" in advertising for the construction of an important public work which they were pledged to execute, and has the audacity to ask the REVIEW to retract its condemnation of a similar offence of which the Post was previously guilty. If the Ministry were to abandon work after their pledges, the REVIEW would not be slow to condemn, and already it has complained of even a short delay of the engineer in preparing the plans and specifications, and has urged greater dispatch, no doubt to the surprise of the Post, which is prepared to defend anything done or left undone by its leaders, and cannot understand such independence. The friends of this project may feel confident that they will see it accomplished, notwithstanding the unscrupulous assaults upon the Canal and the Ministry that has taken it in hand. Does the Post think that it can restore its party to the good graces of the people by using language that might be applied to a pick-pocket or a thimble rigger, to their chosen and trusted leaders, thereby insulting indeed the people themselves? Or does it think that it can elevate the press of Canada or the country itself in the eyes of foreigners by such disgraceful treatment of our leading statesmen?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Toronto Telegram has the following hint for Mr. Mowat:—

"If eighty-eight representatives (now increased to ninety-two) were sufficient to look after the interests of Ontario at Ottawa, where all the other provinces are represented, it ought not to be necessary to have eighty-eight representatives looking after the interests of Ontario in Toronto, where the other provinces have no voice. The expense of maintaining so many representatives is out of all proportion to the tax-paying capacity of the people. The number should be cut down instead of being added to."

* * *

IN Lunenburg, N. S., the County Judge has declared Mr. Keefler, (Reformer,) to be elected, having rejected no less than 150 ballots cast for Mr. Kaulbach, (Conservative,) on account of informalities of returning officers. Yet we do not hear any howl as to corruption from the Globe and its sattelites. The simple fact is that though temporarily inconvenienced, both Mr. Kaulbach and Mr. Mills can obtain their seats from the Election Court if they have secured the majority of the votes.

* * *

IT is very wicked to bet on elections. So says the Globe. Some Tories bet on the recent elections, so they are fearfully wicked. But as it is not likely that the Tories bet with each other, what about the Grits who must have joined in each bet with a wicked Tory? Are they immaculate?

IMMIGRANTS FROM THE STATES.

Mr. Geo. Hilliard, M.P., has received the following letter which is worthy of consideration:—

ROCHESTER, N.Y., July 3, 1882.

GEO. HILLIARD, ESQ., M.P.

DEAR SIR,—I am of opinion that a land and emigration agency here would be of very great advantage to the Canadian government. I find that one could, very often, send immigrants over to Canada, within the first few months after their arrival here. It is fully a year before they begin to like this country. During the first few months they are very unsettled in their opinions.

It is the opinion here that Canada is making great progress under the present government. Many persons here and east of this would just as soon move to Canada as to the Western States. A rich shrewd business man of this city said to me a few days ago if he were only ten years younger he would go and settle in Canada.

It would add to the popularity of the present government very much if any considerable number of settlers could be attracted from this country. Even in England it would have an immense effect.

An agent would simply require to be able to give people all necessary information about the country's resources, institutions and means of communication, for which purpose the government could supply him with the necessary maps and circulars.

Yours truly,
W. DEWART.

REFORM TACTICS.

The Rochester Morning Herald, an independent paper, of large circulation in the Northern States, draws the following conclusions from the present aspect of Canadian politics. In its issue of the 7th June, it says:—"That the government will be successful in obtaining a majority in the next House of Commons, there seems to be no doubt; but the Opposition is making a strong bid for success in conceding more than 'incidental' protection. The Hon. Edward Blake admits that a change from free trade is necessary for Canada, and says that the Reformers are prepared to carry out the policy of their opponents in many instances. But from a careful reading of Canadian papers we are inclined to think that this concession will not be acceptable to the great majority of the electors." Thus in order to obtain office Reformers profess a willingness to abandon free trade and become converts to the principles of protection. No reliance, however, can be placed on such professions. They are just as likely to be false as sincere. Whether Reformers gain Conservative votes by the concession or not, they will certainly weaken their own ranks. Some will decline to act and vote under false pretences, even though it would result in a victory. There are Reformers who will not accept protection from Mr. Blake, any more than they would from Sir John Macdonald. In 1867 the Reform convention tried a similar move; suddenly abandoning the old policy and adopting many Conservative views. The delegates went to the convention with one set of instructions and returned with another. But the dodge failed. The Conservatives won by a large majority. And like the Herald, I think that this sudden conversion will help the Reformers very little. An apostate can never be truer or preferable to the original authors of a policy. Reformers after failing to get into office under their own colours, are now willing to enter under any colours at all, rather than remain out in the cold shade of Opposition any longer. It is hard to say what they would not accept in order to secure this object. If this move fails seeing that free trade has already failed there will be nothing left for them but independence or annexation. Most all the Reform prophecies about protection in 1878 have failed. First, Reformers insisted that protection would lead to a separation from England. Secondly, that the Imperial Government would veto all measures proposing to tax British manufactures. Indeed the Reform party would have approved and encouraged the Imperial Government in this tyrannical proceeding. Thirdly, Reformers confidently predicted that the United States would retaliate. Fourthly, they said that a protective tariff, by stopping the imports would destroy the revenue. Fifthly, they said that on ceasing to buy the usual quantity of foreign goods, foreigners would immediately cease to buy Canadian lumber, wheat, cattle, &c. And sixthly, they said that protection would increase the cost of living so as to repell immigration. Now, time has told. None of these disasters have befallen the country. The prophecies were all either scare crows or miscalculations. There has been no separation from England. The Imperial Government has taken no action against the National Policy. English manufacturers have submitted quietly to the new tariff. The United States have not retaliated in a single instance. So on through the whole list. Not a single prediction but has failed. Americans would gladly see all the Canadian custom houses abolished. But what would they give in return? Nothing. They would not abate one iota of their tariff, or close a single custom house on their side. The National Policy has been a success in every sense. It has both increased the revenue and the produce of the land and labour of the country. It is bringing more and a better class of immigrants than ever before. In short, Canada has made more progress and attracted more attention, since 1878, than during any other similar period of her history.—By W. Dewart, Rochester, N.Y.

BARRIE EXAMINATION FRAUDS.

Who are Mixed Up in it—Some of the Offenders to be Brought to Justice.

In the case of the Collingwood Collegiate Institute, where it is charged that some of the candidates in the intermediate examinations got possession of the examination papers, a full enquiry has been made, revealing the fact that a number of boys attending the Collegiate Institute had been approached and been promised the papers on the payment of a sum of money. Letters from Collingwood boys to young McKee were also unearthed, and in these minute directions were given for opening the envelopes containing the papers, and a form of oath was enclosed to be taken by any Barrie boys who might be admitted to share in the spoil. These letters declared that every boy in Collingwood was sworn to secrecy.

The Minister is determined to punish the guilty parties, and in the meantime the examinations are going on, each candidate having been required to declare his innocence in regard to the matter. Mainprice has fled to the States and also a boy named George Corbett, who was discreditably mixed up in the matter. On Tuesday afternoon the County Crown Attorney received instructions from the Minister of Education to proceed against certain parties in Collingwood at once. That evening Detective Rogers proceeded to Collingwood and arrested seven scholars of the Collegiate Institute. They were brought to Barrie where they will be tried. It is not deemed advisable to publish the names of the prisoners until it is ascertained that they actually were concerned in the affair, as a grave injustice might be done.—Barrie Advance.

REVOLUTIONARY PEERS.

The Upper Chamber of the Legislature has of late displayed a curious disposition for violating the sanctity of entails and setting at naught the inconvenient wisdom of its ancestors. The peers were aghast at rabbits being pronounced vermin, and at the right being granted to farmers to shoot them with as much impunity as if they were Irish process-servers. But to tie up an estate in order that it may go to a son who has been rioting in post-obits, or to a far-away cousin whose name is an abomination, is quite another matter. Lord Cairns' bill paves the way for all this, and when the owners of the Woodstock Library and the Hamilton Palace art treasures are permitted to put them up to auction the peers must be verging on the revolutionary. "Vathek, England's wealthiest son," sold Fonthill for much the same reason that his great-grandson sells for a second time so many of its choicest contents. Horace Walpole's Strawberry Hill toy shop, the curiosities in which he strived vainly to keep out of Beckford's rival collection, went because his heirs liked guineas better than gimcracks. Stowe—and many a vast bookstore since—shared the same fate. But this is really the first time that a great historic house has been dismantled, simply and solely to raise money, and this, too, with the acquiescence of the three estates of the realm. And there are evidences around us that it will not be the last. We are coming on iron times. Scrimp rents, or none at all, will not admit of the luxury of huge mansions full of treasures costly to keep, and yielding to those who rarely inhabit them barely the interest of a pleased glance, but which hundreds of wealthy parvenus are eager to buy for a lordly price. Every acre of land which is in the market is eagerly snapped up—bargain or no bargain—so long as it confers some social prestige on the new men; and to-morrow, were all the old domains to be freed from the dead hands grasp, they would find purchasers, despite the fact of their being the poorest of investments, and not the most perfect of securities.—London World.

A True Prophet.

The Rochester Union and Advertiser, a paper that leans towards free trade, has in its issue of the 12th June, the following remarks about Canada and the present general election:—"It has so happened that prosperity has come to Canada during the administration of Sir John A. Macdonald's government * * * Hence it is that we predict success for the Conservatives at the polls next week. They are enjoying remarkable prosperity in Canada, under Sir John A. Macdonald and his policy."

"During the early part of last October, I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my right knee says Mr. J C. Conner, of the Royal Opera House, Toronto, Canada. "I used many so-called rheumatic remedies without receiving any apparent benefit. Observing that St. Jacobs Oil was being constantly recommended by many of the leading members of our profession, I decided to give it a trial. From the first application I commenced to improve, and before I had used two-thirds of a bottle I was entirely cured."

A Strange Partnership.

A California paper tells some curious stories of a cow and dog owned by a lady of Sierra in that state. It says the two animals stick closer than brothers. When the cow, which we will call Damon, is out on the hills or in the stable, Pythias, the dog, can be found lounging about, always within sight. They go out on the hills together at sunrise and return together at sunset. A few days since Damon concluded to rusticate for a few days, and left for parts unknown in company with her comrade. After a long search they were found in the neighborhood of Camptonville, about sixteen miles from Forest City. During their ramblings of nearly a week the dog had not tasted of food. A couple of weeks since, while the couple were sauntering up Main street, on their return from a day's jaunt, several vicious dogs ran out and attacked Pythias. But with the aid of his friend he was equal to the emergency. Damon took in the situation at a glance, and "braced up" for a long and bloody battle. She was compelled to use her heels, having no horns. She used them to advantage, too. The canines were soon dispersed.

ALLEGED WHOLESALE SWINDLING.

The career of Mark Samuels, whose arrest in New York at the instance of his Canadian creditors was chronicled in the Star a few days since, is somewhat remarkable. Samuels, it appears, arrived in New York some time ago from Europe, but not being successful in business there he came on to Montreal and started a dry goods store at 124 St. Lawrence, Main street, and although he was comparatively unknown, he managed to get credit to a large amount here, eventually clearing out and leaving liabilities behind him to the extent of $10,000. From affidavits which have been sworn to it appears that his modus operandi here was to sell his good at ruinously low prices, in fact, as one of his clerks states "he or his wife never refused any price that was offered." This was carried on for some time when a bolder game was begun; large purchases were made from wholesale houses and the goods were immediately shipped to New York. Large payments now becoming due, Samuels made arrangements to leave, everything in the store was removed during the night, all the furniture in his dwelling sold, and when the bailiffs visited the place in the morning after his departure, what remained was not sufficient to pay the rent. In New York his career has been somewhat similar; his first venture was to start a store of the same nature as he had here, in Grand street, near the Bowery. Shortly after he commenced operations, a suspicious fire occured, for which he made a large insurance claim against the Equitable Insurance Company of Brooklyn, which was paid. He next started a mattress factory at 26 Suffock street, which was also burned out in the same mysterious manner, and another large insurance paid. Samuels' arrest was made at the instance of Messrs. Williamson, Howitt-son & Co., importers of St. John street, through their counsel in New York, Mr. F. J. Keller. The order for the arrest was granted by Judge Laurence, of the Supreme Court, and Samuels is now a prisoner in Ludlow street jail, being unable to furnish the amount of bail demanded by Messrs. Williamson & Co., which is $3,000. Depositions were made before the American Consul-General here yesterday by Mr. Williamson, two of the clerks lately employed by Samuels testifying to the charges above enumerated. Messrs. Greenshield, Busteed, and Guerin, are acting for the creditors in Montreal.—Montreal Star.

EDWARD CARTER, Q. C., has been retained by the Finance Committee to defend Mayor Beaudry, of Montreal, in the case of David Grant and other Orangemen against the Mayor for false arrest. The case is to come before the Supreme Court for final decision shortly.

WHENCE comes the name of Sozodont? It is derived from two Greek words signifying "to preserve the teeth" and it deserves its title, for there is no preparation which will do this more rapidly, surely and pleasantly. The Consumption of Sozodont is immense.

HARVELL'S CONDITION POWDERS.—Live stock of every description, whether hogs, poultry, sheep, horses or oxen, are improved in weight, quality and health by these celebrated powders. No stable or barn yard can pay fully where they are not used. Just give them a trial. Sold everywhere.

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

"Dr." Slade, a spiritualist, who has been giving scenes at Belleville during the past week, was thoroughly exposed there lately; so thoroughly that he confessed his imposture and illustrated his methods. A warrant was about to be issued for his arrest, but he was allowed to go, being given fifteen minutes to leave the city. He left for the east by the noon train.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20th, 1880. Smith Medicine Co., Gents; I am requested by Miss Sarah Fordham to inform you that your treatment of the Tape Worn has proved a great success. In five hours after she had taken the medicine the worm passed alive with head complete, measuring 22½ feet. The medicine caused no pain or uneasiness. You may rest assured that I will never cease to recommend your treatment whenever an opportunity offers. Yours, J. B. L. Flynn, 20 Chaboillez Square, Montreal.

IRELAND.

ABOUT fifty boats are engaged in the herring fishing on the Ardscoast, at Portavogue, county Down, where nearly five hundred men are engaged.

THE potato crop in the district of Skibbereen looks the reverse of promising. The blight continues to work fearful destruction, causing the greatest anxiety among farmers.

THE motion in favour of liberty to employ instrumental music in public worship has been lost in the Irish Presbyterian Assembly by 360 votes to 345.

THE Lord-Lieutenant has determined to conduct his official business at the Viceregal Lodge Phœnix Park, instead of at Dublin castle, in order to save the trouble of an escort for himself and the going and coming of messengers.

THE constant drain of emigration begins to tell on the numbers on the communion-roll of the churches. The Presbyterian Church of Ireland has lost between seven and eight thousand members since the year 1874. There has been an increase in the same time in the funds of the Church, and the average salary of the ministers is now between $900 and $1,000.

Mothers! Mothers!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

A REWARD—Of one dozen TEABERRY to any one sending the best four line rhyme on TEABERRY, the remarkable little gem for the Teeth and Breath. Ask your druggist for address.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

THE Rev. Charles E. Piper, formerly of Pittfield, N. H., but now of Wakefield, R. I., writes:—"I have used Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in my family for over two years, and as a result have not called a physician in the whole time. My wife had been an invalid for two years, but these bitters have cured her."

C. BRITTON, Lindsay, Ont., writes:—"I have much pleasure in recommending Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in all cases of Jaundice, Biliousness, Sich Headache and Liver Complaint, for they have given universal satisfaction, and I have sold more of them the past season than any other one patent medicine."

THE WELL KNOWN drug firm of N. C. Polson & Co., of Kingston, writes that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has long been considered the best remedy for summer complaints in the market, and adds that their customers speak in the highest terms of its merits. Wild Strawberry is the best known remedy for Cholera Morbus, Dysentry and all bowel complaints.

LIVER COMPLAINT, is rather an indefinite term, as commonly understood it consists of a torpid sluggish state of the liver, a deficiency or superabundance of bile, or any alter ation from its proper character. All disturbed action of the liver and biliary organs giving rise to a pain in the side, or under the shoulder blade, headache, weariness, dizziness, sick stomach, loss of appetite, bad bowels, etc., are promptly cured by Burdock Blood Bitters.

THE most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany or at least originate there. The most recent preparation palced upon the market in this country, is the Great German Invigorator, which has never been known to fail in curing a single case of impotency, spermatorrhœa, weakness and all diseases resulting from self-abuse, as nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, languor, lassitude, depression of spirits and functional derangement of the nervous system. KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.
Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.
Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Price 8 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)
THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

It has been in use for 20 years, and has proved to be the best preparation in the market for SICK HEADACHE, PAIN IN THE SIDE OR BACK, LIVER COMPLAINT, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, DYSPEPSIA, PILES, and all Diseases that arise from a Disordered Liver or an impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once, recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for Regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Those who cannot obtain a bottle of this medicine from their druggist may send us one dollar, and we will send it to them.

MONDAY, JULY 10, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

The Twelfth.

Visitors to town for the Twelfth of July, will find the best of refreshments, meals, etc., at the St. James' Hotel, next door to the Post-Office, formerly occupied by F. J. Daly.

A Curiosity.

Quite a curiosity, in the form of a small and beautiful fawn, passed through on the Midland on Saturday evening, addressed to Mr. Mark Powell, of Port Hope.

A Dry Drill.

The Fire Brigade will turn out to-morrow evening for practice. The exercise will consist of a dry drill. No alarm will be rung, but the firemen should turn out in full force for this practice.

Anniversary Services.

Special services were held yesterday in St. Luke's Church, both morning and evening, it being the sixth anniversary of the Ashburnham Parish. The Rev. G. J. Taylor, of Toronto. preached excellent sermons to large congregations on both occasions.

Auction Sale.

The auction sale of valuable lots in Galway and Snowden, is to be held at the Court House, Peterborough, by Mr. Charles Stapleton, at 2 o'clock on Tuesday, July 18th, as stated in the bills that are posted up, and not on July 11th, as was for a time advertised.

Dusty.

Something should be done to lay the dust on Charlotte street. There is a great deal of travel on this street, both in vehicles and on foot, especially as far as the station, and the clouds of dust that sweep through the street are at times almost intolerable. It is certainly time that some steps should be taken to remedy this nuisance.

The Weather.

The weather continues warm and close, with every appearance of rain in this locality. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes—Light to moderate variable winds; fair warm weather.

Sunday School Pic-nic.

The annual picnic of the George Street Methodist Sunday school will be held next Friday, the 14th, in a grove on the bank of the River Trent near Hastings. The excursionists will go down on the Grand Junction Railway, the train leaving here at 6.45 a.m. The Committee have made complete arrangements for having a most enjoyable time.

Interfering With Navigation.

Under the above heading in Saturday's issue we stated that the water in the river Otonabee had suddenly fallen so low that the drives and steamers were unable to proceed. Just as suddenly has it risen again, and resumed its former depth. We are unable to account for this, and it is to be hoped that a recurrence of this interference will not take place for a long time.

Annual Sermon.

The members of the McWilliams Lodge of True Blues, to the number of about thirty, marched up to the George Street Methodist Church last evening, where the annual sermon was preached by the Rev. John Shaw. The Blues looked neat in their regalia, which consists of a blue sash and cuffs, richly ornamented. There was a large congregation at the church, and Mr. Shaw delivered an able and practical sermon, founded on Mark x., 17-22.

The Ontario & Quebec.

The contract for the section in the immediate vicinity of Peterborough, on the Ontario & Quebec Railway, has been awarded to Messrs. McDermid & Hendrie, of Hamilton, Ont., and Detroit, Mich. The above firm have just completed contracts on the Detroit, Machmac & Marquette Railway—in Michigan—Northern Pacific, in Minnesota and Wisconsin, and track-laying of the Southwestern Railway, in Manitoba. Their contract requires that work on this section shall be finished by June 1883. It will be seen that they are advertising in our columns for 400 men and 100 teams.

POLICE COURT.

EXPOSURE.

MONDAY, July 10.—George Duncan, 12 years of age, was charged by P. C. McGhee with exposing his person in a public place on Sunday, the 9th. The charge was that he had gone in swimming on Sunday afternoon without taking the necessary precaution of getting far enough away not to offend the public eye. He acknowledged the offence, pleading that he could not go in for a bathe at any other time.

The Magistrate said that the boys would either have to procure bathing suits or not go in bathing at all, as he would punish severely all boys brought before him on this charge. He said he would make the fine light this time, as it was the first case, and fined Duncan $1 or in default ten days in gaol.

An Association Cricket Match.

The Port Hope Cricket Club has written to Peterborough with reference to having an association match. Nothing has yet been decided.

Fruit Growers.

The summer meeting of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association will be held in the Town Hall, Trenton, on Thursday next, 13th July.

Body Recovered.

The body of Edward Fitzgibbon, who was drowned near Buckhorn on Wednesday last, has been recovered. The remains were interred in the Roman Catholic cemetery to-day.

Look Out Boys!

P. C. McGhee and the Police Magistrate are determined to put a decided stop to boys going in swimming in public places. One boy appeared before the Magistrate on this charge this morning, but the Magistrate said that hereafter such cases would be dealt with in a more severe manner. Bathing is necessary, and if the boys cannot go far enough away from the town, they must procure bathing suits, or else bear the consequences. They would do well to take the warning given.

Railway Notes.

Another consignment of pipes for the water-works arrived per the Midland Railway on Saturday.

The through train from Midland City ran off the track on Saturday night, and in consequence the 10 o'clock train from Port Hope was delayed about half an hour.

Mr. J. Rudd Perry, who has been engaged in locating the Quebec and Ontario Railway, was removed to-day to Tweed to superintend the construction of the road from Stirling on the west to the Perry road, Addington, on the east. His headquarters will be at Tweed.

A Fine Programme.

The following programme will be rendered at the Promenade Concert on Friday evening next, in the Drill Shed by our Band :—

Quick Step....."8th Regiment"....Chambers
Kyrie and Gloria, From Mozart's "12th Mass."..Mozart
Valse....."The Rustic Queen"....R. Smith
Grand Selection from "Creation"—"And God said Let there be Light." Chorus :
"The Heavens are Telling"....Hayden
Grand Fantasia....."Emira"....Excutie
Overture....."Zulieka"....Lillard
Galop....."Polo"....T. Dawson
"God Save the Queen."

It will be observed by musical critics that the above comprises some of the finest selections of the day.

Cricket Match.

The cricket match on Saturday afternoon between the Peterborough and Lakefield clubs, resulted in a victory for the home club by five wickets. Some high scores were made at the bat. In the home team, Hallett made the extraordinary score of 50, and Rogers followed next with 23. T. Watson, Jas. Watson and Jos. Watson, of the Lakefield team, did some good batting, the first scoring 29 in the second innings, the second 19 in the first and 14 in the second innings, and the last scoring 16 in the first innings. In the first innings the Peterborough club made the high score of 115 runs, and when they had scored 14 in the second innings they had won the match by one run and five wickets. The score is as follows :—

THE CONTENTED MAN,

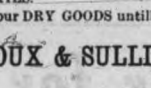
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.



Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

HOSTILITIES BEGUN IN EGYPT—THE BOMBARDMENT OF ALEXANDRIA.

The Porte's Proposal to Arabi Rejected—Admiral Seymour's Demand Not Complied With—The British Ships Fire on the Forts—The Forts Being Silenced—Magazine Blown up—English Engineers Seized—Statement in the Commons.

CALM BEFORE THE STORM.

LONDON, July 10.—The Telegraph's special says:—"The crisis has come. This morning Admiral Seymour learned that fresh fortifications had been put up, despite the last ultimatum, new guns having been mounted yesterday. At the moment of telegraphing, Sir Beauchamp Seymour sent to make enquiries, and make certain that there were really new guns; if so he will give twenty-four hours notice, and then bombard the forts. The Consul-General is now on board the Halicon, in consultation with the Admiral, who is awaiting the result of the inspection of the forts before doing anything in the town. The soldiers as well as the Arabs were all extremely insulting in their demeanour this morning. Evidently they think that England is unable to do anything to defend her honour or her subjects. The Khedive refuses to go on board a ship, and says that he cannot leave his people. Admiral Seymour has at last made up his mind to send notice of the bombardment to-morrow morning. This notice will date from daybreak. The Consul-General of England and all his suite went on board the Tanjore to-night. The notice must be of twenty-four hours long, according to the promises made by Admiral Seymour, therefore the bombardment should begin at daybreak on Tuesday. Meantime the Arabs are working hard at the forts. The American Admiral warned them to-day that if they fire at him he will return the fire."

A SEIZURE BY ARABI.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—While the Director of Customs was coming aboard the Tanjore he was stopped by a guard of soldiers, who took him and the cash chest which was being carried with him before Arabi. The latter demanded that the money should be handed to him. The Director of Customs refused to do this, whereupon Arabi took possession. The Europeans had great difficuty in getting away. Two English engineers on the tug Champion were seized by an Arab crew and were carried off, when the gunboat Bittern started in pursuit and rescued them. The last two English on board were the Cornish manager of the water works and the secretary of the port. The Khedive has sent his family away to the country palace, but he remains at Alexandria himself.

THE PANIC ON SHORE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—3 p.m.—News from the shore is to the effect that the commotion among the populace is rapidly increasing. No plundering has yet begun. The troops continue to patrol the streets, although it is calculated that not less than 5,000 Greeks, Leviatines, and Italians remain.

"CLEAR FOR ACTION!"

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—5 p.m.—No message of surrender has come off shore, and the signal has been hoisted for the fleet to clear for action. Inside the harbour, beginning from Fort Pharos, lie the Temeraire, Alexandria, Superb, Sultan, and Inflexible. Here on board the Inflexible all is ready for action. Numerous wind sails for ventilation between the decks during the action form a strange look as they tower far above the sombre turrets. We shall see the hottest of the fight.

A SHORE CONTINGENT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—A large contingent will disembark from the ship if required to complete the dismantlement of the forts. Major Tulloch, the military attache, will accompany the shore brigade. He has in frequent reconnaissances obtained complete information as to the forts. Gatling and Nordenfeldt guns will cover their movements.

THE FLEET MOVING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—At eleven o'clock the Invincible, Monarch, and Penelope moved out and anchored outside the harbour. The scene now was impressive in a high degree. Slowly all the foreign steamers moved from their births and steamed out of the harbour. The merchant steamers presented no regular order, but the war ships of the various nations steamed out in squadrons, saluting as they passed the admiral's flag while the band played the nation airs. Scarce a breath of wind was blowing, the various ensigns dropped against the masts, the bright eastern sky overhead, the deep blue sea, the white clothed crews clustering on the rigging, and the knowledge of the change which would soon take place, rendered the stately procession of warships extremely impressive. The merchant steamers were all crowded with refugees—those who had held on to the last in hopes that matters would not come to an extremity. By half-past twelve the American squadron of three ships, two Russian vessels, one Austrian and one German alone remain.

READY FOR SERVICE.

LONDON, July 10.—500 men of the Household cavalry will be made ready for active service.

PREPARING FOR SEA.

Three Spanish ironclads are preparing for sea, and will probably sail for the East shortly.

THE ENGLISH SHIPS FIRE.

OFF ALEXANDRIA, July 10, 7 a.m.—The bombardment has begun, the British ships alone taking part in it. Of the others, the American, Austrian, Russian and Italian men-of-war are anchored two miles outside the breakwater.

STATEMENT IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, July 10.—"What will Gladstone do?" was the question asked by everybody in the crowded lobbies before the meeting of the House to-day. The general belief was that he would swallow his threat to resign, and try to prove that his action was quite in keeping with the scarcely veiled threats with which he had attempted to frighten his Whig followers on Friday. Much to the astonishment of the House, he contented himself with the slightest possible reference to the incident on Friday, and proceeded to announce what would be the order of public business during the remainder of the session. Interest in what Mr. Gladstone might say or do has been greatly diminished by the announcement previously made by Sir Charles Dilke that war was practically declared against Egypt, and at sunrise to-morrow the fleet would begin bombarding the forts, unless in the meantime the governor had consented temporarily to surrender them to the British commander. It is strong testimony to the seriousness of the position of the Government that Sir Charles Dilke's statement was received almost in silence except on the Tory benches, although were the question of the occupation of Egypt submitted to a vote the House would certainly approve of it by an overwhelming majority.

By Telegraph to the Review.

THE ATTACK BEGUN.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—The attack on the forts has now been kept up for two hours. Smoke hangs over the town along the line of the shore and the batteries, and among the ships and it is difficult to see what damage has been done. It is certain however that the Egyptians suffered very heavily. Fort Marsa has been blown up by the fire from other batteries. The forts are slackening the fire. The top of the tower at Fort Pharos has been carried away, and many guns have been dismounted on that and the other forts. A flag at the Genevared Cross is flying over the hospital in the city. Dutch and Greek flags are hoisted over their consulates. At the beginning of the bombardment an immense crowd was visible. Crowds were seen wending their way toward the Palace. The streets are now deserted, the people having fled or taken refuge in the cellars. There are no signs of surrender yet.

THE RETURN FIRE WEAK.

LONDON, July 11.—Admiral Seymour telegraphes that the ships opened fire at 7 o'clock this morning. The return fire from the forts was weak and ineffective. An explosion in Fort Marsael Kanot had occured by 8 o'clock. The ships engaged are the Inflexible, Temerage, Hanlope, Superb, Sultan, Invincible, Alexandria and Monarch.

THE SUEZ CANAL.

PORT SAID, July 11.—The British consul, by order of Admiral Seymour, stopped the ships from entering the Suez Canal.

FORTS BEING SILENCED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11, 11.15 a.m.—The bombardment still continues. The forts are gradually being silenced. The Ras El Tin forts are suffering severely from the steady, disastrous fire from the ships Alexandria, Superb and Temeraire.

MAGAZINE BLOWN UP.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.— The magazine at Fort Ada has been blown up.

FRIENDLY SALUTES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—As the American squadron steamed past the British yesterday salutes were exchanged. The British bands played "Hail Columbia" and the American bands "God Save the Queen."

THE FRENCH LEAVING.

PORT SAID, July 11.—The French Consul has ordered the embarkation of the French subjects.

THE SHIPS' POSITIONS.

ADEXANDRIA, July 11.—The armor ships are following the positions at Alexandria. The Sultan and Superb are under way on a line north by east and from 15,000 to 19,000 yards north-west of Eunostus Point light house. The inflexible is in Corvette pass narrows, the channel leading into the harbor, and 3,700 yards north by west from Masse Fort. The Temeraire is in the central channel, 3,500 yards north to north-west of Masse Fort, and the Penelope, Invincible and Monarch are 1,000 to 1,300 yards to the north-west of Masse Fort. Other ships are under way, working their guns to the best advantage. The torpedo depot ship Hecla has arrived. The Fort Ada Magazine, which has been blown up, is located close to vice-regal palace outside of the harbor.

THE PORTE WARNED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 11.—Lord Dufferin informed the Porte on Monday of Seymour's intention to bombard the Alexandria forts if Arab Pasha remained obdurate. The Porte on the same evening telegraphed to M. Surus Pasha, Ambassador at London, that such an act would interfere with the sovereign rights of the Sultan, and it expected the British Government to order Seymour to abstain.

FORTS BLOWN UP.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—The fire of the fleet commands the railway to Cairo. Up to noon four forts in all were blown up. No causalties to the fleet are discernable.

EGYPTIAN OFFICIALS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—At one o'clock a steam-launch towing a large boat full of Egyptians officials was seen approaching the flagship. It contained Ragheb Pasha and the other members of the past and present Ministry. They were received by the Admiral and the Hon. Mr. Lambah, flag-lieutenant, and a guard of marines, the band playing and a general salute being fired. As they came as a deputation from the rulers of Egypt it at once appeared that they had not received the admiral's letter, and had come off to inquire the reason for the hostile preparations. The interview was conducted with great courtesy on both sides, but the Egyptian officials looked blank indeed upon the admiral informing them that he had sent in a demand that the forts commanding the harbour be immediately dismantled. The members of the deputation talked somewhat excitedly among themselves in Turkish, discussing apparently what Arabi would say to the demand. They inquired who would be deputed to dismantle the forts. While this conversation was going on, the admiral's letter which had followed them from the Khedive's yacht Mahroussa, was brought on board and handed to them. They then returned on shore to consider the matter in a council of Ministers, and will reply before five o'clock this morning. Appearances on shore show a determination to fight, as bodies of troops can be seen.

IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, July 11.—In the House of Commons the Secretary of War said he did not expect that the military preparations would cause the ordinary expenditure to be exceeded, though of course if active operations are proceeded with a vote credit will be necessary.

THE FORTS SLACKENING FIRE.

LONDON, July 11.—In the House of Commons telegrams from Seymour's secretary at Alexandria were read, stating that at 8 o'clock this morning the forts had slackened firing to about ten rounds per hour.

ORDERED TO EGYPT.

LONDON, July 11.—The second battalion of the Royal Irish Regiment has been ordered to Egypt within 24 hours.

THE EGYPTIAN LOSS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—The Egyptian loss is unkown, but is likely to be severe, part of the Ras El Tin palace is in ruins. The light house is slightly damaged. The unarmoured ships silenced the marabout works. At 11.40 a.m. all the forts were silenced except one or two inside the harbor.

GOOD CANNONADING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—The cannonading from the fleet after it got fairly under way was simply the most perfect specimen of naval warfare witnessed in modern times. The guns had been all shotted and trained for nearly twenty-nine hours, but when the order to open fire was given, the crisis made the gunners noticeably nervous, but this was only for a moment. Within twenty minutes from the first shot the men aboard the ships steadied to their work in such a grand style that every shot did just what it was fired to do.

OUR VESSELS STRUCK.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—The Invincible had four men wounded and the Inflexible was hit five times. It is stated that as far as the fleet commands the railway to Cairo, the Admiral can prevent the withdrawal and can compel the larger portion of the Egyptian army to surrender at discretion.

GUNS DISMANTLED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—Shortly after noon all the exposed guns on the forts were dismounted, and only those in sheltered positions were able to return the British fire. Fort Marsa el Kanat, which was blown up, was only completed a week ago Sunday.

THE FIRE SLACKENING.

ALEXANDRIA, 9.10 a.m., July 11.—Fort Marsal el Kanat has been blown up. The fire from the other batteries and forts is slackening.

ACTION SUSPENDED.

ALEXANDRIA, 6.50 p.m., July 11.—The action is finished for the day. The casualties on the English side are forty wounded and none killed.

NOT AN ALLY.

LONDON, July 11.—In the House of Lords Earl Granville said the bombardment of Alexandria does not constitute a declaration of war against the allied power's as the Government is not in alliance with the military despotism now de facto ruler of Egypt.

THE ATTACK TO BE RECOMMENCED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—Seymour recommences the attack on fort Gubarrie and the harbor forts in the morning. The small effect of the 81 ton and other heavy guns on the earth-works has caused some disappointment in the fleet.

TORONTO.

Special to the Review, July, 11.

The news from Alexandria is eagerly devoured to-day by interested crowds of people, at the doors of the various newspaper offices, etc.

MANITOBA ELECTIONS.

THOUGH the official returns of the Manitoba elections have not yet come to hand, it seems nearly certain that Dr. Schultz was mistaken when he telegraphed to Mrs. Schultz that he had been elected, Mr. Ross, the independent candidate, having won the day. This, however, still leaves the Government in a majority in the Prairie Province, as in all the other provinces, with the small exception of Prince Edward Island. The Manitoba representation will be two Government supporters, two independents with leanings towards the Government and only one Opposition member. We have only British Columbia to hear from now.

FOREST FIRES.

OWING to the frequent showers and the cool weather with which we have been favoured thus far this season, our forests have suffered little or no damage by fire as yet, although we fear that unless more than the usual precautions are observed during the next two or three months, we shall yet have to record a considerable depletion of our timber reserves, by the fire fiend. With a little extra care, and at a moderate expense, however, we cannot help thinking that if "trees had votes" much might, and would be done to render the year 1882 a red letter one in this respect. The expense of putting forth some extra exertion to protect our forests during the few weeks of the dangerous season which now remain, certainly could not be great, and ought to be easily undertaken by those already in the employ of the Woodland Forest Departments of our Local Governments. That the people of Canada are destined to pay, at no distant day, for their carelessness in this respect, cannot be disputed by any one who has their eyes open to what is transpiring around them. The rapidity with which our home demand is developing, and the constantly increasing difficulty with which it can be supplied at what one is inclined to look upon as a reasonable figure, should make every one realize that it is of importance to them that our timber resources should be husbanded with the greatest care, and that a judicious expenditure of the public funds for such a purpose would be money well spent in more ways than one. Were it not that we are aware that the continual dropping of water will wear a hole in the hardest stone, we should feel disposed, in shear despair of anything to this end being done, to remain silent on the subject, but hoping that our little droppings, combined with that which falls from other sources, may yet have some effect and lead to some practical action on the part of those to whom these important interests are entrusted, we once more utter a word in behalf of the protection of our forest wealth, and of the important interests dependent thereon, from the annual depredations which it suffers by fire.

THE STATE OF BUSINESS.

The other day a Gazette reporter had occasion to make calls on a number of leading manufacturers and business men. The tour included representatives of nearly every branch of industry, and though the object of the visits was not to gain information as to the state of business, it was impossible to avoid being struck with the activity prevailing everywhere, and the volume of business which it was evident was being done. In every case employers stated, in response to incidental remarks, that they were full of work, and in the majority the difficulty was said not to get orders or sell goods, but to keep up with the demand. In the case of a leading boot and shoe manufacturing firm, on the reporter remarking on the busy aspect of the place, the senior member replied, "Yes we are busy. I wish almost that we were not so pushed, but the fact is we have far more orders than we can fill for some time to come." "Have you any difficulty in obtaining hands?" asked the reporter. "No, not that; we have all our building and machinery will admit of, but if we are to keep pace with our trade, we must enlarge the place and make room for more." The replies received from a wholesale clothier was much to the same effect. In the office of a large ornamental iron working establishment, the proprietor responded to similar remarks by the statement that "business was very good, very good indeed, and his orders on hand would keep him well employed for some time to come." So with the agents of several woollen manufacturers. In one instance, one of these gentlemen took the reporter through a lot of newly-arrived goods, pointing out the superiority of style and make over those of former years, and informed him that they were already sold with as many more yet to come, and this apart from their regular orders. In every establishment visited, without exception, the same signs of prosperity were visible, and the evidence that business is booming is indisputable.—Montreal Gazette.

EXTENDING OUR COMMERCE.

Something is to be done towards opening up direct trade between the Maritime Provinces and the Windward Islands. The Western Chronicle (Kentville, N. S.), says that the Acadia Steamship Company has entered into an agreement with a large, prominent house at Demerara to place on the line as above, to commence about 1st October, a steamship of 600 tons, to carry about 5,000 barrels and 30 passengers. Annapolis, N. S., will be headquarters at the Canadian end of the voyage, but it is proposed to call at St. John on the return home, so that the grocery and refining trade can import from West Indies direct, as W. I. goods can be delivered to Moncton or Montreal via St. John, N. B., cheaper than via Halifax.

Frauds by a Lumber Firm.

DETROIT, July 7.—The well-known lumber firm of King, Quick & King, doing a heavy business at the village of Lowell, were arrested by the sheriff charged with the larceny of logs from Flat River. The complainants are the Michigan Barrel Company, of Grand Rapids, White & Freant, of Grand Haven, and others. It is alleged that during the past three years no less than $20,000 worth of logs have been stolen from Flat river. Detectives have for some time past been engaged on the case.

GENERAL SKOBELOFF.

General Michael Skobeloff was born in the district of Raizien, near Moscow, in 1843. He began his military career in Turkeystan as commandant of a company of Cossacks. In 1871 he went to the Caucasus as one of the aides-de-camp of the Grand Duke Michael, whence he was transferred to the 3rd Battalion of the 74th Regiment of the line. In the Caucasus he rose to notice by his successes, obtained only by disobeying the orders given him as commander of the advance guard of the Khiva column. After a brief sojourn with the Carlists, in order to study the art of war, he returned to Turkestan in 1875, where he commanded the cavalry at the battle of Khokand, and by a turning movement captured 58 cannon. Being appointed Chief of the Staff of Gen. Trosky, he led the assault on Andijan, and after some days' fighting was obliged to retreat. During this retrograde movement, the ammunition having become exhausted, Skobeloff made a cavalry charge by night on the enemy's camp of 6,000 or 7,000 men and routed them panic-stricken. Being left in sole command, he took the revolted city of Namangan and finally saw Khokand annexed to the Russian Empire. During the Russo-Turkish war he was at first on the staff of the Grand Duke Michael, then chief of the staff to his own father, a cavalry general. As a volunteer he swam the Danube on horseback and led a bayonet charge against the Turkish position, before Krudener's unsuccessful attack on Plevna on July 31, 1877, he was put in command of a flying detachment, with which he entered Plevna and remained there for a few minutes. He then covered the Russian retreat and brought off all the wounded. In the second attack on the same city he was Imeritursky's Chief of the Staff, and led four regiments to the attack, capturing two redoubts on the Loftcha road. These he held for 24 hours, but had to retire with a loss of 8,600 out of 12,000 men and three guns. As Lieutenant-General and Chief of the 16th Division, he commanded the Russian line on the Green Hill, and subsequently at the passage of the Balkans turned the Turkish left flank, carried the position at the village of Shenovah, and on January 10th captured the enemy who had previously beaten off the attack of Prince Mirsky and General Radetzky in the Shipka Pass. He then commanded the Russian advance on Adrianople, which he entered on January 18, again leading to Constantinople and occupying Tchataldja on February 6. These forces after holding a temporary command in the Balkans, he led back to Adrianople. As a soldier Skobeloff was brave to a fault, as a strategist he was a success. As an orator he was adventurous, especially after dinner, as his latest speech, which the Czar had to disown, breathing fire and slaughter and the emboilment of Europe generally, proved.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our own Correspondent.

THE LOW WATER IN THE RIVER.—On Wednesday and Thursday of last week the Local Government employees, under the direction of Mr. Walters, from Lindsay, placed brackets on the dam here, and put the stop logs in also, solely for the purpose of doing a little repairing to the dam at Lakefield; and on Saturday morning last the people of the village had to go to the locks for water, and the stench from the dry bed of the river along the shore was abominable, everyone was complaining bitterly at such a state of things and wondering why it had been allowed, especially at this time of the year. If Mr. Walters had only thought a little over the matter he could have erected a copper dam at Lakefield to allow his men to do the necessary repairs, and not stink us out here to oblige the Local Government. They are lavish enough with their expenditure in other things belonging to their respective departments, therefore they should just have spent a little more to make things right at Lakefield, and not have put us to the annoyance they did. I also learn that the mill owners below Lakefield had to shut down their mills on Saturday for want of water, as they were not even notified what was going to be done. Also the drives in the Otonabee was stuck and their logs left high and dry on rocks and on the shores. It is more than likely that the affair will wind up with heavy damages to pay. Mr. T. D. Belcher with his usual business promptitude sent Mr. Chas. Wynn up here on Saturday evening and had some of the brackets taken down, as the complaints he received were numerous. Mr. Wynn found on his arrival here that the stop logs had been taken out by G. Stone for the purpose of having his saw log drive belonging to Messrs. Ross & Co., run through. The Local Government people put them down again, so he told them that if he was not allowed to raise the stop logs he would certainly run the drive over the dam and send the brackets down the river. So wise discretion proved the best of valour, the stop logs were taken out and his drive went on. In conclusion, the sooner all the control of these navigable waters is in the hands of the Dominion Government the better, for all concerned. There should be a slide Master appointed at Burleigh, Young's Point and Lakefield. Mr Belcher would then be able to manage the whole of the Trent waters and have his Deputies acting according to his instructions. Then, and not till then will things be any better than they are now. Our two members of Parliament, for the two Ridings, should have this rectified, at Ottawa, as early as possible. Take the works out of the Local Government's hands, and pay them for their outlay. This could be done, I have no doubt. I learn while writing this, that there is still 24 inches of brackets on the dam. Therefore we hope, Mr. Belcher will continue to give this his attention, as it will still interfere with the navigation to Lakefield.

THE COUNTY BRIDGE.

At the last meeting of the County Council, the committee on Roads and Bridges, made no motion of the Young's Point bridge, although the Warden mentioned it in his opening address. It wants repairing badly, and also to be made wider, there being no room for two teams, should they happen to meet half way on the bridge. Certainly it was refloored with planks last year, and not a bit too soon; the County Engineer surely never passed it as being sound. Sarah Gamp and a few old women of the County Council, were in the section examining bridges, and in their report came to the parsimonious conclusion to refloor the Burleigh Bridge, with the old planks belonging to the old Lakefield bridge. That is economy with a vengance. Surely the County Engineer did not sanction this piece of folly. This bridge ought to be condemned at once as unfit to travel across. And the bridge No. 2 further on is in a disgraceful state, a horse and buggy could drop through some parts of it, especially at the south end. The sooner the repairs are commenced the better it will be for the Treasury of the County Council.

THE CROPS.

The Fall and Spring crops, hay crop, etc., are really looking excellent, and the farmers will find, after harvest is over, that they have not had such well filled barns and granaries for several years back.

THE SHINGLE MILL.

The water power to run the shingle mill is now completed, and it works admirably. Mr. W. J. Kearns is running her, and is well pleased. It was very dangerous running it with the engine; but running it by water power removes all fear of fire. Mr. George Chalmers was all the time being kept in hot water, in case of a fire breaking out, and destroying all his property up in a short space of time.

A TERRIBLE CHARGE.

A Son of a Kingstonian Said to be Implicated—No Doubt of His Innocence.

A paper has been received that contains an account of a horrible affair in which the son of Mr. W. Wingfield, of Kingston, is said to be implicated. Mr. Wingfield was at one time clerk at the Windsor Hotel, and afterwards head waiter at the British American. A couple of weeks ago he left for Watertown. He is highly respected in Kingston and at Ottawa, where he formerly resided, and his son who is mentioned below always bore a good reputation, and it does not seem possible that he could be guilty of such a heinous crime as that with which he is charged. The article having been shown to several in this city, we publish it, but soon hope to be able to contradict it as far as Mr. Wingfield is concerned.

THE PARTICULARS.

A fiendish outrage was commited Monday on a child at Union Springs, by Thomas E. Ford and John Wingfield. Frank A. Robbins offers $1,000 reward and the Rev. T. A. Hendrick, on behalf of the poeple of Union Springs, another $1,000, for information leading to their arrest. They left Ovid on Thursday in a top buggy, red gear, drawn by a black horse. Wingfield is fine looking; height five feet eleven inches; dark curly hair; weight 180. Ford's height is five feet nine or ten inches; weight 160 lbs; brown hair. Both were neatly dressed in light suits, but have changes of clothing. Information should be telegraphed to J. N. Seely, Deputy Sheriff at Ovid.

John Wingfield is from Canada and well known as a gymnast and dog trainer. His reputation among showmen and non-professional people has always been most enviable; in fact, few could trace a single fault in his character. Frank A. Robbins, mentioned above, is the owner of a circus. John is a brother of Dave Wingfield, who is with another circus and who was recently presented with a troupe of dogs by John. There are two younger brothers in the family, both of whom are professional running horse and steeplechase riders. John Wingfield has been a messerger in the Parliament at Ottawa during its sessions since boyhood. We hope that there is some mistake in the awful charge.

FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS.

The Auburn Advertiser says: "An employee of the circus in some manner became acquainted with a daughter of Thomas Halfpenny, of Union Springs. He persuaded her to go out driving with him, and after driving her out into the country she was outraged, and left to get home as best she could. The girl, who is only fifteen years old, was not found until the following morning, two miles away. When she was observed she hastily ran away, but after a long chase was captured. She was in a very excitable state of mind, seeming entirely out of her head. There is great excitement over the affair and the villian is at large.

A later despatch says Ford is considered the principal one in the affair, that both men were at North Hector with their moustaches off, and that the girl is in such a condition that lynching is threatened them if caught.—Kingston News.

SOMEBODY'S CHILD.—Somebody's child is dying—dying with the flush of hope on his young face, and somebody's mother thinking of the time when that dear face will be hidden where no ray of hope can brighten it—because there was no cure for consumption. Reader, if the child be your neighbor's, take this comforting word to the mother's heart before it is too late. Tell her that consumption is curable; that men are living to-day whom the physicians pronounced incurable, because one lung had been almost destroyed by the disease. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured hundreds; surpasses cod liver oil, hypophosphites, and other medicines in curing this disease. Sold by druggists.

C. BRITTON, Lindsay, Ont., writes:—"I have much pleasure in recommending Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in all cases of Jaundice, Biliousness, Sich Headache and Liver Complaint, for they have given universal satisfaction, and I have sold more of them the past season than any other one patent medicine."

MURDER OR SUICIDE.

A Young Man Shot in a Hamilton Bagnio—The Inmates all Arrested.

HAMILTON, July 7.—The greatest excitement prevailed this afternoon about four o'clock in the north-western portion of the city when the report spread that a young man had been murdered at a house of ill-fame kept by Jennie Sheppard, corner of Barton and Caroline streets. A reporter visited the scene shortly after the occurence, and although at the present writing it is difficult to say whether the victim took his own life or was shot by another, appearances support the latter idea.

The woman Sheppard says that shortly after twelve o'clock, and just as the inmates of the establishment were getting up form the breakfast table, the young man entered the premises by the back gate; that she Sheppard said to him, "Do you know that you are drunk?" He replied that he was well aware of that fact, and then Sheppard told him that the best thing he could do was to go up stairs and lie down. She states that he followed her advice, and nothing more was thought of his being in the house until a few minutes before 4 o'clock she was alarmed by hearing two shots fired. She rushed up stairs, and on entering one of the bedrooms at the top of the stairway found the man half reclining at the foot of the bed, and blood pouring profusely from bullet wounds in his head. She at once despatched the cook for a police officer, and Detective Doyle responded promptly to the call. Sheppard says that there was no person up stairs at the time of the occurrence, but it was stated by one or two in the crowd surrounding the house that the victim had retired to the room with one of the inmates of the house. These facts will possibly be developed at the coroner's inquest on Monday.

The young man was a nailer by trade. His name is John Lewis, aged between 26 and 30 years. He belongs to the other side, and until recently was engaged at the Nail Works here. It is said that he was an occasional visitor at Sheppard's house.

The scene in the bedroom was a sickening one.

Lewis is said to have been an inoffensive fellow, whose greatest fault was over-indulgence in alcoholic stimulants. He boarded at Mr. Collins' on Queen-street North, and formerly belonged to St. Louis, Mo. The scene amongst the inmates of the house can better be imagined than described. Sheppard wept bitterly, and as the several inmates of the establishment leaned out of the windows to catch a last glimpse of poor Lewis' corpse, blank horror was depicted on their countenances. Two of the women, Clench and Annie Smith, were up town, but at present it is not known whether they left the house before or after the tragedy.

LATER DEVELOPMENTS.

HAMILTON, July 9.—The latest developments in the Lewis tragedy prove almost beyond a doubt that he committed suicide. The revolver was seen in Lewis' possession on Friday night, and on Saturday three or four different persons heard him state that this would be his last day on earth. A man named O'Reilly, boarding at the same house as Lewis, another named Sweeney, and also a Mr. Hamilton, who works at Macnamara's saloon on Stuart street, heard Lewis remark that "this would be his last day on earth." The theory that he was shot twice in the head was disproved. Last night a jury was empanelled, and the body viewed. No doubt further development will be brought to light at the inquest, which, after an examination of the body and a visit of the jury to the house where the tragedy occurred, was adjourned till Monday night.—Globe.

SHOWN UP.

Dr. Henry Slade, the Famous Spiritualist, Exposed at Belleville.

Dr. Slade, who has been called the most successful "writing medium" in America, paid Belleville a visit last week, and was on Friday completely exposed and acknowledged that all his "manifestations" are the result of mere trickery on his part and that spiritualism has nothing whatever to do with any of the phenomena which are produced by him. This he acknowledged in the presence of about a dozen gentlemen in his room at the Dafoe House. Slade was announced to lecture in the City Hall on Thursday night, but only about twenty attended, and of course the lecture was a fraud. Among those who took an interest in the exposition of a gigantic humbug was Chief McKinnon, whose nerve and common sense have been schooled to withstand exciting and deceptive manifestations. Last Wednesday he (the Chief) in company with Messrs. J. L. Lewis, of the Intelligencer, and Mr. W. N. Ponton, visited the "Dr." at his room and made a number of tests which convinced them more fully that the whole affair was a delusion and a fraud. The Chief adopted a theory by which he proposed to expose the medium, and at 10 o'clock on Friday morning the Chief and Messrs. E. McMahon and G. D. Dickson repaired to room No. 7. The scheme originated by the Chief was seconded by Messrs. James Starling, A. McGinnis, Dr. Abbott and J. L. Lewis. The preliminary arrangement was that McGinnis was to sleep with Slade part of the night, and that Lewis was to succeed him as joint occupant of the spiritualistic bed. These gentlemen were cool and wide awake all the while, and their experience did not elevate "Dr. Slade" very highly in their estimation. At 10 o'clock when the parties above mentioned visited room No. 7, they had their work laid out, and each knew the part he was to play. But when the spirit began to manifest itself in the slate writing mystery, Slade held the slate to McMahon's ear so that he could hear the working of the pencil. As arranged, no sooner was the slate in reach than McMahon seized it and turning it over exposed one side already covered with writing.

When McMahon exposed the fraud, the Chief laid his hand on Slade and denounced him as an imposter and a fraud. The medium trembled like a leaf, and falling on his knees begged the Chief not to expose his tricks. He offered to expose the whole system by which he operated, and did so, much to the interest and amusement of all present.

Chief McKinnon thought it was his duty to have the fraud arrested. With this object in view he started after a warrant, but when the paper was being made out several gentlemen, who had witnessed the exposure and confession, asked the Chief to show mercy towards the worthless creature and let him go. He finally consented, but now regrets not having locked Slade up and given him the benefit of a public exhibition before the Police Court.

THE GRASS.

How beautiful the grass!
Lavished around us like the common air,
We heed not that it blesses every where:
Beside the road where buttercups are gay,
And in soft meadows where the children play.

The sheep upon the stony uplands feed,
The grass spreads o'er in answer to their need;
In em'rald pastures grazing contentedly
The drowsy kine and in the verdure lie.

How beautiful the grass!
Tired eyes, and brain, and heart, beholding rest;
The glad green earth is singing East and West;
The grass makes beautiful the rude and bare,
Laughs out in violets, smiles every where.

Were every meadow but a bed of flowers,
Were blossoms born alone of vernal showers;
Sated with sweetness, weary of their sheen,
How should we long for natures robe of green.

The long and weary rains but gave it life—
God's way with nature never is at strife;
And purer is the air when rough winds blow;
Ah, blind and deaf through fields of life we go.

THE steam yacht Daphne, 56 tons, passed up the river Seine and arrived off Paris on the 11th of June. This is the largest steam yacht that can navigate the Seine. It draws 5 feet of water the depth in the canals and locks being only one and a half metre. Masts were lowered, and it took three days to ascend the river, passing under 49 bridges and through eight locks.

Why it Pays.

A reporter dropped into one of our largest retail establishments on Wednesday, and held a conversation with one of its proprietors.

"You have a great rush?" remarked the reporter.

"Yes," replied the proprietor, "partly because it is holiday season, but mainly on account of advertising."

"How can you tell whether advertising pays, and what papers are good mediums?"

"I can tell that advertising pays by stopping my advertisements. I've tried it. Trade drops, not at once, but the tide of purchasers flows some other way. The cash receipts tell the story."

"Is there any difference in the sharpness of the buyers,—I mean, do they haggle much over prices?"

"Oh, no. We sell at one price and all the best stores in Boston do the same. They will sometimes say they can buy such and such an article cheaper elsewhere. When they mention the place we send and see if it's true, and if so we mark our stock down."

"Suppose you should give up advertising?"

"Well I should save a big pile of money the first year, but I should lose a bigger pile the next two years. You must keep the boiler heated if you want steam. If you bank your fires too long it takes time to start up. Advertising is the steam which keeps the business moving. I've studied the matter.—Boston Journal.

Cure for Sunstroke.

So soon as you reach your patient take hold of him, or her, and carry or drag him, or her into the shade. Place the body in a sitting posture, the back against a wall with the feet and lege resting upon the sidewalk and extending in front of the body. Get ice water and a bottle of some strong essence of ginger. Pour the ice water over the head copiously; never mind the clothes. Then pour two or three tablespoonfuls of ginger in about half a tumbler of water, and make the patient swallow it quickly. Keep the head cool by using a little of the ice water, and in case there is not much of a glow upon the body give more ginger. If this recipe is promptly used and fully carried out in every case the Board of Health will never have a death to report from this cause. It is no experiment or quack remedy. It costs but a few cents and a half hour or an hour's time. Ginger is by far the best to use, but where it cannot be had quickly two or three good drinks of brandy will answer.—New Orleans Picayune.

Can Trees Stop Tornadoes?

The time will come, because human necessity will compel it, when the unnaturally deforested plains of the West will be grand in their growth of noble trees. When they are, tornadoes will be broke in their force by some belt of timber, chevaux de friese, which meets and breaks the force of the storm. It is folly to say that the plains will not grow trees. In riding across them any common observer can see where magnificent oaks have survived as a testimonial to the worth of the soil. They stand stately in their silence on solitary knolls, above and beyond the prairie fire. Given the trees, the forest in fact, we have the essentials, the break against the winds, the timber for building, and the firewood, the three crops of which the plains are most in want, but all can be summed up in the words "timber shelter." Trees can stop tornadoes.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY.—When Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., announced that his "Favorite Prescription" would positively cure the many diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women, some doubted, and continued to employ the harsh and caustic local treatment. But the mighty truth gradually became acknowledged. Thousands of ladies employed the "Favorite Prescription" and were speedily cured. By druggists.

WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,
Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Price 9 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.
DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)

Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and miluest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

It has been in use for 20 years, and has proved to be the best preparation in the market for SICK HEADACHE, PAIN IN THE SIDE OR BACK, LIVER COMPLAINT, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, DYSPEPSIA, PILES, and all Diseases that arise from a Disordered Liver or an impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once, recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for Regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Those who cannot obtain a bottle of this medicine from their druggist may send us one dollar, and we will send it to them.

TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Cattle Killed.

On Saturday afternoon last, six cows belonging to Mr. Wm. Fowler were killed on the Midland Railway in the township of Monaghan.

The Twelfth.

Visitors to town for the Twelfth of July, will find the best of refreshments, meals, etc., at the St. James' Hotel, next door to the Post-Office, formerly occupied by F. J. Daly.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to south-westerly to westerly winds; fair and warm weather, with a few local showers.

Railway Notes.

The work on the "Missing Link" is progressing favourably, and is drawing near to the town. The construction of the bridges will be commenced on Wednesday.

The management of the "Missing Link" is contemplating the purchase of another steam excavator for the work on that line.

Industrial Exhibition.

We have received a specimen copy of the prize list, rules and regulations of the fourth annual exhibition of agriculture, arts, and manufactures to be held in the Exhibition Park, Toronto, from Tuesday September 5th to Saturday September 16th, by the Industrial Exhibition Association. The competition is open and the prizes amount to $26,000. The illuminated cover of the prize list, the production of the Toronto Lithographing Co., is in itself a work of art.

Oderiferous.

A disagreeable smell for some days had plagued the people living on Sherbrooke street, near the creek, and yesterday the Health Inspector discovered the cause and had removed from the creek the carcase of a dog. A visit of this officer to the corner of Park and Weller streets and also to the corner of Paterson Street, would not be out of place, as there is an unhealthy odor from some cause in that vicinity. Now that the very warm weather has set in, too much care cannot be exercised. Some of the sewers are in need of immediate attention being paid to them.

Another Industry.

The excavation for the erection of a building in which to carry on pork-packing has been commenced on George street, near Wolf street, under the superintendance of Mr. John Craig, of Ashburnham. The building will be 100 feet by 48 feet and two stories high. The first story is to be of stone and the top one of brick. Mr. George Matthews, of Lindsay, is putting up the building, and undertaking this enterprise. The construction will be carried on with vigor, and another industry will be added to the long list of those already established in Peterborough.

Fire.

The fire alarm was rung at about half past eleven to-day, and the firemen turned out promptly with the engine, but the fire, which was in a house on McDonnell street, was soon extinguished, and their services were not required. The house was occupied by Mr. Joseph Robertson. The fire was discovered in a bed room, and is supposed to have been caused by children playing with matches. The damage to the house was not great. Mr. Robertson had some clothes of his own and other members of the family burned, besides a bed and bedding.

Strawberry Festival.

A strawberry festival was held on Monday evening, under the auspices of the Peterborough Lodge, I. O. G. T., in their hall. There was a fair attendance, and as there was a good programme prepared for the entertainment of those present, a pleasant time was enjoyed. The entertainment consisted of two songs by Mr. A. D. Browne, two readings by Miss Holmes, a musical solo by Mr. Clarke, two songs by the Messrs. Sheppard, recitations by Miss Hamilton and Miss Russell and readings by Miss Grundy, Miss Martin, and Mr. Strain. The strawberries were served in good style, and the programme was well rendered.

THE TWELFTH OF JULY.

Preparations for the Celebration—The Procession and Speaking.

THE DECORATIONS.

The extensive decorations being prepared by the Orangemen, in view of the celebration of the 12th of July here to-morrow, were at noon to-day almost completed. The large arches placed on the four principal corners are indeed handsome, their construction being admirably planned. In the centre of the squares formed by the streets high poles are placed, covered with green boughs, and they will be surmounted by the British flag. On the four corners of the squares smaller trees are placed, and from the top of the centre pole to these trees ropes, completely covered with boughs, are suspended, forming large and handsome arches, and no matter how the procession may turn any of these corners it will pass under one or more of these decorated rope arches, which make up the whole arch. Besides these principal decorations suspension arches will be formed across the streets, and evergreens will be placed in front of many of the hotels and other business places, besides the display of flags and bunting usual on such occasions.

THE PROCESSION.

About tewlve o'clock the procession will be formed at the station, and will proceed up Charlotte street to Aylmer street, up Aylmer to Hunter street, Hunter to George, George to Charlotte, Charlotte to Water, Water to Hunter, Hunter to George, and up George to Murray street and the Agricultural Grounds. Here those who take part in the procession will disband for dinner. It is expected that ten visiting districts lodges will be present in the procession, besides lodges from other parts where the whole district will not be represented. The District Lodges expected are those of Port Hope, Cavan, Hope, Percy, Cobourg, Madoc, Otonabee, Lakefield, Manvers and Norwood. Some of these districts include as many as thirteen or fourteen lodges. Besides these the brethren are expected from Belleville, Stirling and other places, who, together with the home lodges, will undoubtedly form a procession of an immense length and very imposing appearance. A number of brass bands will accompany the visitors, and the music may be expected to be something more than ordinary.

THE SPEAKING.

In the afternoon speeches will be delivered at the Drill Shed. Among the speakers who are expected to address those assembled are the Rev. Messrs. Bell, Shaw and Jolliffe, besides several prominent members of the Order, including Mr. Wm. Johnson, D. G. M., of Belleville.

POLICE COURT.

MORE SWIMMING CASES.

TUESDAY, July 11.—Two boys, Frank Trotter and John Mitchell, were charged with exposing their persons while swimming at Goose Island on Sunday, the 2nd July. They were found guilty and fined one dollar each, or, in default, ten days in gaol at hard labor. The Magistrate repeated the warning that in the future such cases would be more severely dealt with.

A Good Investment.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that about a month ago William Sheppard, formerly a foreman for a lumber firm on the Upper Ottawa, purchased a new farm in the Madoc region for $400. Subsequently gold was discovered thereon, and last week Sheppard sold a half interest in the property for $25,000.

Predictions.

Mr. Venner prophecies very favourable weather for to-morrow, and Moses oats predicts a snowstorm! From present appearances Mr. Vennor's prediction is likely to be fulfilled, and few will be made uneasy by the other prophet's prognostications.

REVIEWS.

CANADIAN METHODIST MAGAZINE.—The Sixteenth Volume of the Canadian Methodist Magazine—now the only Literary Monthly in the Dominion, opens with a vigorous number. It is marked by the range and strength of its original articles. One of the most striking of these is Dr. Dewart's paper on proposed changes at the General Conference, arguing strongly against the appointment of a Bishop or of Bishops. Mrs. Dr. Castle of Toronto, an accomplished literary lady, contributes an admirable article—accompanied by a portrait—on Emerson and Dr. Canniff, one on Darwin and Darwinism, showing that Science is not antagonistic to Faith. The illustrated articles are: Foot-Prints of Bunyan, with numerous fine engravings, and citations from Dr. Punshon's celebrated lecture, by which he first won fame, on the Immortal Dreamer; and an account of a recent visit to three famous places on our borders: Au Sable Chasm, Ticonderoga, and Howe's Cave. "Life in a Parsonage" describes a visit to an Indian Mission, and a tragic story of Temptation and Fall through Drink. Other articles by Dr. Nelles on Higher Education, Canniff Haight on Rambles in England, and James Lange on Patented Inventions, make the July number a strong one.

BUCKHORN.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE GOVERNMENT WORK.—Mr. J. E. Belcher, engineer of the Dominion Government works, deserves great credit for the extensive repairs he has had done, in connection with the dam here, and the new piers that have been built. Mr. Charles Wynn, whom Mr. Belcher sent up to oversee the works, is a man well up to his business, and all the men who worked under him are highly pleased with the way they were treated. If any more work is required to be done, Mr. Belcher cannot do better than send back Mr. Wynn, and the work will be done faithfully.

THE BRIDGE.—The bridge put up a little more than a year ago, by Mr. Chas. Wynn, for the County Council, is certainly a very fair bridge, and will last for a good many years to come, but it ought to be painted, not black, but a light color. This painting bridges with tar is not the thing, rather coat them with lime. Another thing the bridge wants, and that should be done right off; the bents in the sluice were only done temporarily, and as the piers have all been built, this ought to be removed at once, as all the planks are giving way. The water was too high to admit of this being done right from the foundation. The proper authorities should see to this without delay.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

AMERICAN.

SUNSTROKE.

NEW YORK, July 11.—It was 96° in the shade here yesterday. Many cases of sunstroke occurred.

DISEASED CATTLE.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The committee of the College of Vetrinary Surgeons report that about 15 per cent. of the beef and milk offered for sale in the New York market, is derived from animals infected with tubercles. The report regards this as one of the main causes of the prevalence of preliminary phthisic.

RURAL AND SANITARY.

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J., July 11.—The National Association for sanitary and rural improvement finished their labors here yesterday. Many papers were read. Erastus Brooks, of New York, was elected President.

BOAT CAPSIZED.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 11.—A sail boat containing Commodore Stakes, of the yacht Clytie, two of his children and two sailors, capsized yesterday. A sailor named Frank was drowned. The rest were rescued in an exhausted condition.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

HAZLETON, Pa., July 11.—A freight train of 100 cars broke in two at Mifflin Cross roads on the Hazleton and Wilkesbarre branch of the Philadelphia and Erie Road on Sunday morning. The rear section rushed down the heavy grade and struck the front section, wrecking thirty cars. Two tramps who were stealing a ride were killed and another badly hurt.

THE OIL WELLS.

BRADFORD, Pa., July 11.—The oil well on lot 648 in Cherry Grove field; a most important venture, has turned out dry, having been drilled below the sand level. The well on lot 671 is also put down as a "duster." These two failures cover a vast stretch of territory, and real estate has taken a decided tumble. The mysterious well, which, for some time has been producing 2,000 barrels daily, has fallen off to 500 barrels. The indications are, that the oil pool will soon be exhausted. The effect upon the market yesterday was to brace it up at the opening to 56⅞, and it closed at 58⅛. The sales amounted to 3,197,000 barrels the largest in the history of the exchange. Towards the close 100,000 barrels and blocks were dumped and eagerly grabbed up. The market exhibits a tendency upwards.

Sad Case of Starvation.

RIPPLE ROCK, Ark., July 8.—A woman and two children were starved to death in a lonely section of Vanburen county, in the mountains. It is believed the woman fell sick, and the children, being too young to secure aid, perished. The third child knawed a piece of flesh from the arm of one of his dead sisters. It died soon after.

We pride ourselves in having the Largest, Richest and most Varied Stock of Gents' Furnishings in town. "Habiliment Hall."

THERE would be little if any sickness during the hot months of July and August, if every one would take Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, as they prevent and cure all derangements of the Stomach and Bowels. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

HARVELL'S CONDITION POWDERS.—Live stock of every description, whether hogs, poultry, sheep, horses or oxen, are improved in weight, quality and health by these celebrated powders. No stable or barn yard can pay fully where they are not used. Just give them a trial. Sold everywhere.

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20th, 1880. Smith Medicine Co., Gents; I am requested by Miss Sarah Fordham to inform you that your treatment of the Tape Worn has proved a great success. In five hours after she had taken the medicine the worm passed alive with head complete, measuring 22½ feet. The medicine caused no pain or uneasiness. You may rest assured that I will never cease to recommend your treatment whenever an opportunity offers. Yours, J. B. L. Flynn, 20 Chaboillez Square, Montreal.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

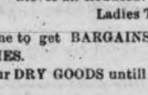
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.



Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

HOSTILITIES BEGUN IN EGYPT—THE BOMBARDMENT OF ALEXANDRIA.

Details of the Bombardment—A List of the Killed and Wounded—A Flag of Truce Hoisted—Effect upon the Sailors of the Orders to Load—Friendly Feelings.

A NAVAL ACCOUNT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11, 6 p.m.—A British naval officer states that the bombardment commenced at 7.45 this morning. The ironclads Superb, Sultan, and Alexandria were engaged, and totally destroyed Fort Pharos and the lighthouse batteries at the entrance of the new port, and intended to dominate the approach to the new harbour, The flagship Invincible, the Monarch, and the Penelope took up commanding positions inside the reefs, and assisted from the outside. The Temeraire attacked with destructive effect the strong position of Fort Mex with the lighthouse and shore batteries. The Inflexible was stationed so as to command the lighthouse batteries, Fort Pharos, and Fort Mex at the same time, and was thus in a position to cooperate both with the division outside and that inside the reefs. The gun vessels Bittern, Condor, Beacon, Decoy, and Cygnet attacked the Maribout batteries at the entrance of the harbour, and taking a close and destructive range soon silenced them, after which they ran in and shelled Fort Mex on the southern side of the entrance to the anchorage or outer harbour. The Invincible, under cover of her own guns and those of the Bittern, then landed a party of bluejackets and marines, who entered Fort Mex and blew up the heavy guns. The bombardment practically ceased at noon, though some heavy guns were still sheltering Fort Napoleon, a large work situated at the southern angle of the inner harbour, and dominating the town. The fort does not reply. On the whole the Egyptians fought their batteries with more determination than was expected. Several earthworks behind which guns were mounted were found to be mere heaps of sand.

A SPLENDID DEFENCE.

LONDON, July 11.—A despatch to the Telegraph from a correspondent on the United States steamer Quinnebaugh says that the Egyptians fought splendidly, and the ships behaved magnificently.

THE MARKSMANSHIP.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—The Egyptians could have done much execution had their aiming been less wild. It is difficult to describe the excitement of the sailors; each shot was watched with great anxiety, and every good one cheered. Some from the 81-tonners flew high, and may have damaged the town.

POPULAR FEELING.

LONDON, July 11.—A despatch to the Paris Figaro announces that Toulba Pasha yesterday informed the Khedive that he was he was a prisoner. A cordon of Egyptian troops has surrounded Dervish Pasha's residence, and is making efforts to approach the shore in order to carry of Dervish, but without success. The Khedive's sons are on board the Mahroussa. Popular feeling in Alexandria grows more hostile to Arabi.

By Telegraph to the Review.

AN INTERVIEW.

LONDON, July 12.—The Times says that the Turkish Ambassidor in an interview yesterday with Lord Granville, demanded the bombardment of Alexandria to be countermanded. Lord Granville replied that the circumstances compelled the British Government to take dicisive action and its decision could not be revoked. We do not hesitate to say that the effect of England's determination has been to produce a most favourable impression both on public opinion and upon the judgment of European statesmen. The representatives of three powers have already expressed satisfaction at the Government's action. There is, therefore, no grounds whatever for asserting that the action of England is judged by Europe as high handed or unnecessary. If the Porte refuses her intervention in Egypt we shall gladly welcome the assistance of France. Signs are not wanting that De Freycinet has shown a timidity little to the taste of his countrymen.

ARBITREMENT OF WAR.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—One of the officials from Desbisch Pasha, who brought a letter from the ministry to Admiral Seymour, offering to dismount the guns, stated that he and many others were not sorry that hostilities were about to begin as it was the only way in which an end could be made. and the fate of the two parties, namely the one in favor of Khedive, and the other of Arabi Bey, could be settled.

FIRING ON THE FUGITIVES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—After all the enemies guns had been silenced, the men-of-war continued shelling the fortifications, and used shrapnell, probably at the retreating soldiers.

JOINING THE BANKS.

WOOLWICH, July 12.—In consequence of the war news young men are coming forward to join the ranks in large numbers.

A GLEAM OF SATISFACTION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—When the order was passed around to load with shell a gleam of satisfaction shone on the faces of the sailors.

WOUNDED OFFICERS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—Seymour telegraphs that a party from the Invincible which landed to destroy a fort burst three and spiked six guns. The casualities included Lieut. Jackson, severely wounded, Lieut Davis and midshipman Lumidell, both slightly wounded.

FRENCH CO-OPERATION.

PARIS, July 12.—Goblet in replying to Gambetta, in regard to the Egyptian affairs yesterday said France had not co-operated in the bombardment because England's conduct did not seem justified, and France did not desire to emerge from the European concert. The correspondent adds, "It is at least three weeks since England proposed to France to join in the occupation of the Suez Canal, but as France raised objections, England gave up the idea of French co-operation in that direction, and turned her attention to Alexandria. Since then she has constantly urged France to keep her company, and until the last moment had not given up hope.

DIRECTING THE FIRE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—It was some time before the smoke lifted enough to afford a glimpse of the shore. As nothing could be seen from the deck a midshipman was posted in the main top to signal the direction of the shells and the accuracy of the firing then improved. Most of the wounds of the men on board the Invincible were caused by splinters.

A FLAG OF TRUCE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12, 10.30.—A flag of truce is shown from the town, and a vessel steaming towards the fleet is also showing a flag of truce.

A PASHA CHRISTENED.

STRUCK BY THE SHOT.

The Superb has two holes in her side.

PLUCKY GUNBOATS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—The gunboats yesterday played an active part in the operations, creeping close up to the forts and silencing several guns. The Inflexible made splendid practice, firing at a range varying from three to five thousand yards. The Temeraire was ashore for some time, but floated off at eight a. m. The gunboat Condor ran within 1,200 yards of the Marabout fort, a single shot from which would have sunk her. Before the signal was given to cease firing, she silenced three great guns on a fort. Admiral Seymour signalled "Well done Condor."

DAMAGING THE BATTERIES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—11.40 a. m.—The Inflexible and Temeraire opened fire this morning on the Moncrieffe fort, which, during the night was repaired. The first three shots greatly damaged the batteries. The signal has just been given to cease firing. The Achilles has just been sighted steaming towards the fleet.

REINFORCEMENTS PREPARED.

LONDON, July 12.—It is said that it is contemplated to call out seven thousand of the army reserve to take the place of untrained men. Several regiments are prepared to proceed to Egypt.

DEADLY EFFECT.

LONDON, July 12.—An Alexandria correspondent mentions the deadly effect of the broadsides from the ships, which attacked the Pharos and Ras El Tin forts.

AN INSECURE POSITION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—Admiral Seymour considering the position of the telegraph vessel Chiltern, to be insecure, has ordered a man-of-war to cruise around to protect her.

NO RETURN FIRE.

LONDON, July 12.—Seymour telegraphed at 2 p.m. that there was no response to to-day's firing.

PREPARING TO TREAT.

A flag of truce was hoisted at noon at the arsenal, where the Minister of War and the official Divan were and a gun boat with a flag of truce proceeded at once to open a communication.

A SIGN OF SUBMISSION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12, 5.15 p.m.—The flag of truce is still flying. Several large fires have broken out in various parts of the town.

Boys' White Shirts, Men's White and Coloured Shirts, with or without Collar, in all sizes at "Habiliment Hall."

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

TURKISH PREMIER.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 12.—Said Pasha, formerly prime minister, has been re-appointed to that office, as successor to Abdurraham.

REPRESSION BILL PASSED.

LONDON, July 12.—The Repression Bill passed through committee and received its third reading without a division.

SUSPECTED POISONING.

MOSCOW, July 12.—The belief that Skobeloff was poisoned by Germans, has taken a firm hold on the popular mind, though nothing justifies the report. Nothing suspicious was discovered upon the woman in whose company the General happened to be at the hotel, at the time of his death.

ENGLAND'S COURSE JUSTIFIED.

VIENNA, July 12.—It is admitted in Government circles that England is perfectly justified in her vigorous action against Arabi Pasha's attitude of provocation, and as long as England pursues this line of conduct she will meet with no opposition from the powers.

OPINION IN FRANCE.

PARIS, July 12.—The news that Admiral Seymour bombarded Alexandria this morning created a great sensation. The belief gains ground that England all along had a secret understanding with Turkey. It is said M. de Freycinet knows of a secret treaty between the two powers.

AMERICAN.

HANGED.

CLINTON, N. C., July 12.—Philip Faison, colored, was hanged to-day in the presence of a thousand persons for the murder of Henry Sillers, colored. He died without flinching.

A FATAL DUEL.

MATAMORAS, Mexico, July 12.—Captain Alvero and Major Gordon, fought a duel at San Luis, Potasi, yesterday. The former was killed and the latter died soon after.

SERGT. MASON'S CASE.

WASHINGTON July 12.—The President is not determined on any action in regard to the case of Segt. Mason, but the impression among those best calculated to know is that he is not disposed to interfere with the sentence of the Court Martial. It is understood that the Judge Advocate General adheres to the view that a court martial has not jurisdiction over the offence charged, and that the offence charged was not proved.

DANGEROUS TOYS.

MONT EASTON, Mass., July 12.—August Landon, aged 10, died last night of lock jaw. Thos. McGratt, aged 52, is dangerously ill. John Middlet, aged 14, is out of danger. They were all wounded in the hand with toy pistols.

PISCICULTURE.

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J., July 12.—The brothers of Seth Green yesterday deposited fifty thousand fry of the Chynore Mountain trout in the lake at its tributaries. The fry were hatched at the State hatchery at Caledonia.

MARKETS NOT AFFECTED.

NEW YORK, July 12.—It is not anticipated that the trouble at Alexandria will have much effect on the markets here.

A STRANGE SUICIDE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—Last night Wm. Komm went to a disorderly house, and immediately on entering a room with one of the inmates shot himself dead.

SERIOUS FIRE.

GRAND VALLEY, Pa., July 12.—The extract works were burned here yesterday. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

BEATING HIS WIFE.

NEWARK, July 12.—Treptow, pastor of St. Matthews Episcopal Church was sent to jail yesterday on the charge of beating his wife. She averred he knocked her senseless.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

NEWARK, July 12.—Chas. Cramer and Chas. Keegan were drowned while bathing in the Passaic River last night.

A CONSTABLE'S SUICIDE.

NEWARK, July 12.—Officer Henry Hartman shot himself on board a steamer last night, and then jumped overboard. The cause is unknown.

THE FREIGHT TROUBLES.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The Tribune says that despite the stories of the leaders of the freight handlers' strike, that there are many miles of of cars, filled with perishable goods along the the lines of railways. The business of handling freight at the piers is carried on much the same, as before the beginning of the trouble, with the exception that the amount offered is much less than it was then.

REV. J. G. STEARNS writes: "I consider Perry Davis' Pain-Killer the best remedy I ever knew for Dyspepsia."

A LONDON DRUGGIST says:—"during the many years I have been in the drug business, I have never had a medicine that gave such general satisfaction, or for which there was such a large sale, as there is for Mack's Magnetic Medicine, advertised in another column of your paper."

BRIGHT'S DISEASE of the Kidneys, Diabetes and other diseases of the Kidneys and Liver, which you are being frightened about, Hop Bitters is the only thing that will surely and permanently prevent and cure. All other pretended cures only relieve for a time and then make many times worse.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

A REWARD—Of one dozen TEABERRY to any one sending the best four line rhyme on TEABERRY, the remarkable little gem for the Teeth and Breath. Ask your druggist for address.

THE COSTIGAN RESOLUTIONS

If a cable telegram from London is to be believed, the Imperial Government has censured the Canadian authorities for their action in regard to the Costigan resolutions. It appears, by the bye, that the British Cabinet does not read the Toronto Globe or it would have been Mr. Blake upon whom their censure would have fallen.

We believe that it is the right of any British subject, or body of subjects—of any individual, society or corporation, to present a respectful petition or remonstrance to the Imperial Government, to the British Parliament, or either House of it, or to the Sovereign. We certainly do not think that either the Parliament or the Dominion of Canada is debarred from exercising a privilege that is open to the most insignificant association in the British Empire, and we assuredly shall not desist from using it because Mr. Gladstone and his colleagues object to our advice or our criticisms.

We might feel some regret at having incurred the disapprobation of Mr. Gladstone, if we thought that he spoke in the name of the people of the three kingdoms, and that he was their mouth-piece to express their disapproval. We would still, however, do what we considered our duty even though feeling sorrow that we had in so doing to disagree with the mother country. But as it is, we have the consolation of knowing that Mr. Gladstone, who presumes to censure Canada, cannot even command a parliamentary majority for shaping one of his most important measures, and that a general election would probably show that he has not the people at his back.

A British premier, who has shown his incapacity to govern one of the three kingdoms, who is incompetent to pass measures regarding it until he has turned its representatives out of the House and who is unable to protect the lives and property of British subjects abroad, but still drifts in the end into war, need not be so very impatient of well meant advice from any quarter.

Nothing could be more natural than that Canadians, having experienced the benefit of their own system of self-government, should think that some modification of it might be suitable for the kingdom, and that in the present crisis the experiment might be worth trying. It is no less natural that the people of Canada, more than a quarter of whom must have Irish blood in their veins, should feel some sympathy for the sufferings of those of their own race, should express such sympathy and should suggest a remedy for the troubles in Ireland.

Such an expression of opinion as was contained in the Costigan resolutions, endorsed as they were by both Houses of the Canadian Parliament in the name of the people of Canada, was in no sense an impertinence, and that he should have stigmatised them as such is only another proof of the unfitness of Mr. Gladstone for his position.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Winnipeg Times very sensibly says:—"Mr. Mowat is weak where he thinks himself strong. In taking away the power of the municipalities, in centralizing the whole machinery of the Province at Toronto, he has done himself infinite damage. His army of bailiffs, license inspectors and license commissioners is a vast one, but the principal of home rule, upon which the Canadian municipal system is based, has been violated, and the people are disposed to avenge it."

* * *

THE Hamilton Spectator still adheres to its assertion that Mr. Mowat will dissolve the Legislative Assembly and bring on a general election for Ontario this year. Other authorities maintain that Mr. Mowat will hold another session and will then bring on the election while the Canadian Parliament is still sitting next spring, so as to prevent the Conservative members from rendering any assistance to their friends.

* * *

THE last election for Ontario is now decided, Algoma having been carried by a majority of 600. Mr. McDougal's absence will be a loss to the House, but he will probably find a seat before long.

* * *

WE do not always agree with the opinions of Mr. Goldwin Smith, but he is undoubtedly an able and an honest man, and the Globe only disgraces itself by its vindictive attacks upon him at all times and on all subjects. It is now holding him responsible for the disapproval by the British Cabinet of the Costigan resolutions.

Wool Growing in Canada.

The Canadian Manufacturer has the following sensible advice, which our farmers should consider well:—"There may be those who say, what interest has a Canadian farmer—in the county of York or Wentworth, for instance—in changes in ladies' fashions in London or Paris? The question seems a very natural one, but a little examination will show that whoever seriously asks it knows very little of the facts of the matter. Until a few years ago, fashion ran upon long-woolled fabrics made of fine, soft wool, of which, particular kind we produce comparatively little. It is clear that we must produce the kind of wool the market calls for; if we do not, we shall have to sell what we do produce at a low figure. In other words, Canadian farmers will have to change their breeds of sheep, and the sooner the better. The price of mutton is now so high, and the demand for it so large and steady, that farmers will never think of breeding sheep with regard to wool only, the carcase being so valuable. But the practical question will be—how to combine a good carcase of mutton with the production of the particular kind of wool that suits the market. On this point we have no advance to offer; we say merely that it should engage the earnest attention of those who are competent to advise on the subject. And we may be permitted to suggest that our agricultural authorities, for the counties and for the provinces, might do the country valuable service by taking measures for having the matter thoroughly discussed at the approaching fall exhibitions."

A MOUNTAIN CATASTROPHE.

An Omnibus Dashed Over a Precipice two hundred feet high.

The following account of a terrible accident which took place in California recently, appears in the Sacramento Union of June 26:—

On Saturday morning, on the road from Santa Cruez to Felton, and about three miles from the latter place, a heavily-laden coach and four horses were thrown from the mountain road, with fatal consequences to several of the people on the vehicle. The party were returning from Santa Cruez to Camp Felton, and were residents of San Francisco, the moon was shining brigtly, and the party was a gay and joyous one but its pleasure was marred by a nervous feeling, occassioned by the carlessness of the driver. Some of the party tried to get him to relinguish the lines to a former driver, who had driven the party to Santa Cruez on a hay waggon, which had become disabled, and for which the coach was substituted. Between tunnels Nos. 5 and 6 on the narrow gauge railway, and at about 12.30 o'clock, a point 200 feet from the track was reached, when the stage suddenly went over the grade and rolled over and over, until it struck the track below, a complete wreck. Three of the company were killed in the descent, and one died in an hour after. Two others were seriously wounded, and the rest escaped with bruises and scratches. One young lady who was killed was badly bruised, cut about the face, and had severe injuries on other parts of the body. Her body, after striking the cliff above the railway track, must have struck with terrible force, or been carried thither by the coach, as it was found on the other side of the track. At that point the bluff is about 50 feet in height and 200 feet on an incline from the accident. A boy of 17 years had a terrible fate as his skull was crushed in, and one of his legs broken in three places, and his spinal cord broken.

The driver when he got free from the wreck, exclaimed:—"O God forgive me! I am the only one to blame, as I did not know the road, and had no business to drive over it." He said that the bank caved away, but witnesses deny this and say that he drove near the outer edge when he had five feet inside room, and continued to do so though remonstrated with about it. Where the coach went over, the road was 12 ft. wide. Marks show that for seventy-five feet before that the coach had been driven on the outer edge of the road. An examination of the road showed that two heavy pine boards, two feet apart projected over and beyond the road on the outside for a distance of three feet. The front wheels of the omnibus running upon this, passed in safety, but the hind wheels broke the boards off short, while the leaders were on the road, the wheel horses were plunging and tearing at the edge of the precipice, and with the coach rolled over and over to the bottom. Two of the horses were killed by the descent and one died afterwards.

The search in the wreck, the bushes and the rocks for the dead and wounded is described as most agonizing. Mr. Cowdery arrived from Felton before the body of his daughter was found, and was the first to discover it. She had been dashed over a second precipice to a a creek 300 feet further down.

MILLE. ADELE'S PERIL.

The following account of the experience of Melle. Adele, the Syracuse aeronaut, who made a balloon ascension from Oswego on the 4th and dropped into the lake, is given by the Oswego Times:—"After the balloon rose it tended north-west and began to approach the lake. I threw out a winter cloak, thinking it might rise to a direction which would take the balloon away from the lake, but it still continued to work northward, and when over the west breakwater I cut off the anchor rope, and it presented a curious sight as it fell. The water below looked nearly black, and I knew I had attained a great elevation and was still rising. Shortly after the balloon was envelloped in a heavy snowstorm, and for a few moments I could see nothing but the white snowflakes beneath me. The snow melted on the balloon and filled the cordage with water, and the weight caused it to settle somewhat, so that in a few moments I came in sight of the lake. I hung out the red signal flag, and fastened on my cork jacket and saw the sail boats, but could not tell which was the life boat. I saw a steam tug and thought it was coming to my aid. I kept swaying the balloon toward the shore, thinking I could keep it near enough to the beach to strike on land which I saw (probably Nine Mile Point) for I dreaded to plunge into the lake. I watched the tug and saw I was receding and gradually working off the shore. At this time the tug was a mere speck in the distance. I opened the valve and braced myself in the basket and prepared for the plunge. When the balloon struck the water the basket turned over over on its side, throwing me over on my face, and immersing me up to my shoulders. The globe was also partially on its side. I knew that my only safety was in keeping inside the basket. My weight kept it nearly under water, and all the while I was in the water up to my armpits. The wind acted on the balloon as it would on a sail, and it seemed to me that it went ploughing through the water at a fearful rate. I was on my knees in the basket, and reached it and clung to the concentrating hoop. I didn't hear the whistle of the tug. I realized my condition, and began to calculate the chances for rescue. I looked back and could see neither tug, boat or sail. Off in one direction I saw land, but it seemed to be far distant, and I was going from it. I resolved to make the best of my situation and keep cool. My better judgement said, "Don't be frightened." In cases of extreme danger I have the most self-possession, and at such times feel cheerful. As I was dragged along I sang, "All my hopes in Thee are stayed," and kept looking over my shoulder for the tug. I must have dragged twenty minutes when I espied the steam of the tug, in the distance. I gave utterance to an exclamation of joy. Then came the chorus of the verse; "He saves me, saves me now." How I watched that tug can better be imagined than described. I saw that they were gradually gaining on me, but slowly. I must have dragged an hour before they overtook me. It occured to me that if I could get the globe near to the water it would not drag so fast, and I reached out and seized a group of the attachments and pressed them down into the water, and that drew the balloon nearer to the surface. I heard the tug whistle, and nearer and nearer they came, and I could distinguish forms and hear the yelling. It was the sweetest music I ever heard."

TRADE NOTES.

MR. JOHN LEWIS is about to establish a tool manufactory at Belleville, to which the City Council have granted exemption from taxes.

THE Canadian Manufacturer says:—The last of the first order of ten locomotives for the Canada Pacific railway has been turned out of the Kingston Locomotive Works. These ten witnesses of Kingston's mechanical skill will carry her good name very soon to the base of the Rocky Mountains.

THE St. CROIX Courier says:—Water was turned on and the machinery of the cotton mill started on Friday evening, within a year of the laying of the corner stone. The first cotton was run through the machinery on Monday. Everything works smoothly and satisfactorily.

THE rubber factory at Granby, Que., is approaching completion, and it is expected manufacturing will be begun in August. There is New York capital at the back of the concern, and intended to make gossamer rubber clothing only for the present.

THE SHERBROOKE Examiner says:—Mr E. L. Hunting has opened a knitting factory at Huntingville, Que. We have seen samples of hosiery made by Mr. Hunting, and have no hesitation in recommending them as the best machine-made goods we have ever seen, and believe they are equally as good as hand-made.

THE enterprising firm of R. Smith & Co., Electro and Stereotypers, Toronto, have got in a complete fitting-out of the latest and most improved machines such as the Weston Dynamo electro machine, Hoe's patent moulding press, and Hoe's routing machine. This additional machinery necessitated an engine of greater power, which is being supplied by one of John Doty's improved uprights.

THE Hamilton Spectator says: There arrived in this city yesterday, the largest steam hammer in Canada; and its arrival was one of the direct results of the sustaining of the National Policy at the recent election. The Hamilton Forging Works waited to see the result of the election, and finding it to have gone the right way, the big steam hammer was immediately ordered by telegraph. When the hammer gets into position it will weigh, in ironwork alone, no less than twenty-five tons.

Adele, the Syracuse aeronaut, who made a balloon ascension from Oswego on the 4th and dropped into the lake, is given by the Oswego Times:—"After the balloon rose it tended north-west and began to approach the lake. I threw out a winter cloak, thinking it might rise to a direction which would take the balloon away from the lake, but it still continued to work northward, and when over the west breakwater I cut off the anchor rope, and it presented a curious sight as it fell. The water below looked nearly black, and I knew I had attained a great elevation and was still rising. Shortly after the balloon was envelloped in a heavy snowstorm, and for a few moments I could see nothing but the white snowflakes beneath me. The snow melted on the balloon and filled the cordage with water, and the weight caused it to settle somewhat, so that in a few moments I came in sight of the lake. I hung out the red signal flag, and fastened on my cork jacket and saw the sail boats, but could not tell which was the life boat. I saw a steam tug and thought it was coming to my aid. I kept swaying the balloon toward the shore, thinking I could keep it near enough to the beach to strike on land which I saw (probably Nine Mile Point) for I dreaded to plunge into the lake. I watched the tug and saw I was receding and gradually working off the shore. At this time the tug was a mere speck in the distance. I opened the valve and braced myself in the basket and prepared for the plunge. When the balloon struck the water the basket turned over over on its side, throwing me over on my face, and immersing me up to my shoulders. The globe was also partially on its side. I knew that my only safety was in keeping inside the basket. My weight kept it nearly under water, and all the while I was in the water up to my armpits. The wind acted on the balloon as it would on a sail, and it seemed to me that it went ploughing through the water at a fearful rate. I was on my knees in the basket, and reached it and clung to the concentrating hoop. I didn't hear the whistle of the tug. I realized my condition, and began to calculate the chances for rescue. I looked back and could see neither tug, boat or sail. Off in one direction I saw land, but it seemed to be far distant, and I was going from it. I resolved to make the best of my situation and keep cool. My better judgement said, "Don't be frightened." In cases of extreme danger I have the most self-possession, and at such times feel cheerful. As I was dragged along I sang, "All my hopes in Thee are stayed," and kept looking over my shoulder for the tug. I must have dragged twenty minutes when I espied the steam of the tug, in the distance. I gave utterance to an exclamation of joy. Then came the chorus of the verse; "He saves me, saves me now." How I watched that tug can better be imagined than described. I saw that they were gradually gaining on me, but slowly. I must have dragged an hour before they overtook me. It occured to me that if I could get the globe near to the water it would not drag so fast, and I reached out and seized a group of the attachments and pressed them down into the water, and that drew the balloon nearer to the surface. I heard the tug whistle, and nearer and nearer they came, and I could distinguish forms and hear the yelling. It was the sweetest music I ever heard."

We are constantly improving our stock with the Newest Designs and Patterns, so that Man or Boy shall not ask for anything in the Gents' Furnishing Line but what we can offer him. "Habiliment Hall."

TRADE NOTES.

Mr. John Lewis is about to establish a tool manufactory at Belleville, to which the City Council have granted exemption from taxes.

The Canadian Manufacturer says:—The last of the first order of ten locomotives for the Canada Pacific railway has been turned out of the Kingston Locomotive Works. These ten witnesses of Kingston's mechanical skill will carry her good name very soon to the base of the Rocky Mountains.

The St. Croix Courier says:—Water was turned on and the machinery of the cotton mill started on Friday evening, within a year of the laying of the corner stone. The first cotton was run through the machinery on Monday. Everything works smoothly and satisfactorily.

The rubber factory at Granby, Que., is approaching completion, and it is expected manufacturing will be begun in August. There is New York capital at the back of the concern, and intended to make gossamer rubber clothing only for the present.

The Sherbrooke Examiner says:—Mr E. L. Hunting has opened a knitting factory at Huntingville, Que. We have seen samples of hosiery made by Mr. Hunting, and have no hesitation in recommending them as the best machine-made goods we have ever seen, and believe they are equally as good as hand-made.

The enterprising firm of R. Smith & Co., Electro and Stereotypers, Toronto, have got in a complete fitting-out of the latest and most improved machines such as the Weston Dynamo electro machine, Hoe's patent moulding press, and Hoe's routing machine. This additional machinery necessitated an engine of greater power, which is being supplied by one of John Doty's improved uprights.

The Hamilton Spectator says: There arrived in this city yesterday, the largest steam hammer in Canada; and its arrival was one of the direct results of the sustaining of the National Policy at the recent election. The Hamilton Forging Works waited to see the result of the election, and finding it to have gone the right way, the big steam hammer was immediately ordered by telegraph. When the hammer gets into position it will weigh, in ironwork alone, no less than twenty-five tons.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

Liver Complaint, is rather an indefinite term, as commonly understood it consists of a torpid sluggish state of the liver, a deficiency or superabundance of bile, or any alteration from its proper character. All disturbed action of the liver and biliary organs giving rise to a pain in the side, or under the shoulder blade, headache, weariness, dizziness, sick stomach, loss of appetite, bad bowels, etc., are promptly cured by Burdock Blood Bitters.

The Well Known drug firm of N. C. Polson & Co., of Kingston, writes that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has long been considered the best remedy for summer complaints in the market, and adds that their customers speak in the highest terms of its merits. Wild Strawberry is the best known remedy for Cholera Morbus, Dysentry and all bowel complaints.

Among the most prevelant fatal and sudden attacks of diseases, are those incident to the Summer and Fall, such as cholera morbus, bilious colic, diarrhœa, dysentry, etc., that often prove fatal in a few hours. That ever reliable remedy Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, should be at hand for use in emergency.

Hall's Catarah Cure is taken internally. It acts directly upon the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

READY MADE HOUSES.

The Winnipeg Times says:—"The great demand for building and sleeping accommodation experienced by everybody coming to this country—caused by the immense influx of people—has set inventive minds to work, and many plans in the way of tents, portable houses and impromptu erections, etc., etc., have been brought into service, but the most practical arrangement yet offered is a portable house of large dimensions, which has just arrived and has been placed in our midst, within, it might be said, a few hours. L. Forrest, of Belleville, Ontario, is the inventor of a plan, which has been pronounced, by some of the best architects and builders to be the most practical and at the same time best adapted for our North-west climate yet offered. It being not only warmer and stronger than the ordinary plan of buildings, but cheaper, and, what is still better, is in the true sense about the only portable house of any great dimensions, that has been offered, can be erected and taken down at will, it is just the thing for those wishing to follow up the advance of the boom westward, or a farmer wishing a house put on his farm, can take it with him, and without the aid of a gang of carpenters, can put up his own house in a few hours, all complete, and if desirious can change his locality in the same length of time. A model house of over 100 feet long and two stories high, fitted out with rooms and furnished with beds, bedding, carpets and everything, has just been put up on the corner of Logan and Mary streets, near Main, complete, sufficient for the accommodation of 250 guests, and all done in an almost incredibly short space of time. The foundation was not all on the ground until Tuesday forenoon, when the work of erection was started, and the last piece of roofing was placed on Thursday forenoon about the same hour, showing what can be done on this plan. A detailed descriptoin of this modern edifice would, perhaps, take more space than we can afford, but suffice it to say that it is all put up in three feet sections on the principle of dovetailing and grooves, which is the most substantial way of putting wooden structures together. A company has been formed at Belleville for the purpose of manufacturing these houses. Mr. Forrest, although a Canadian by birth, is somewhat an American in his movements, and is prepared to push his enterprise to its utmost.

EXTRAORDINARY NIHILIST STORY.

Another remarkable story has to be added to the long list of curious and exciting narratives connected with the Nihilist cause. The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Voltaire guarantees the authenticity of the following facts, which are said to have materialy increased the anxiety felt in the Russian capital for the Czar's safety. Shortly after the opening of the Moscow Exhibition, which was recently inaugurated by the Grand Duke Vladimir, a young man demanded an audience of the Chief of Police at St. Petersburg. He refused to state his errand to any of the subordinate officials, so after being carefully searched, he was admitted to the presence of the General. Here he stated at once that he was sent by the Revolutionary Party, and explained his mission in the following terms:—"The Emperor is prevented from going to Moscow by his fear of our schemes. His dread will cease to be justified whenever he grants a Constitution. Then he need fear no conspiracy, and can go with safety wherever he pleases. It has fallen to my lot to inform you that if the Emperor persists in his reactionary policy nothing can save him. Neither my friends nor myself wish to murder him treacherously. Alexander III is warned as was Alexander II. We do not assassinate, but we render justice." At this point of the interview the police officer seemed anxious to call in assistance, but the young nihilist stopped him, and added: "I do not wish to be subjected to the indignity of torture. In coming here I have sacrificed my life. I could have killed you, but we do not commit murders uselessly." With these words the youth stepped back a few paces, and knocked two large buttons with which his cuffs were fastened, against his forehead. The buttons, being full of an explosive substance, burst, and inflicted such wounds on the young man that he expired in a few moments, leaving no trace as to his identity. This sensational incident has reminded the public that the murder of Alexander II was preceded by similar warnings.—London Daily Telegrph.

TRY AGAIN.

A gentleman was once standing by a little brook watching its bounding, gurgling waters. In the midst of his musings he noticed scores of little minows making their way up the stream, and in the direction of a shoal which was a foot or more high, and which the clear sparkling waters were leaping. They halted a moment or two as if to survey the surroundings.

"What now?" inquired the gentleman; "can these little fellows continue their journey any further?"

He soon saw that they wanted to go further up the stream, and were only resting and looking out the best course to pursue in order to continue their journey to the unexplored little lakelet that lay just above the shoal. All at once they arranged themselves like a little column of soldiers, and darted up the foaming little shoal, but the rapid current dashed them back in confusion.

In a moment they are again in the sprayey waters with like results. For an hour or more they repeated their efforts, each time gaining some little advantage. At last, after scores and scores of trials, they bounded over the shoal into the beautiful lakelet, seemingly the happiest little folks in the world.

"Well," said the gentleman, "here is my lesson. I'll never again give up trying when I undertake anything. I did not see how these little people of the brook could possibly scale the shoal—it seemed impassible, but they were determined to cross it. This was their purpose, and they never ceased trying until they were sporting in the waters above it. I shall never give up again."

Canadian Art.

It gives us pleasure to find a Canadian firm of engravers and lithographers in the field with designs for Christmas and New Year cards, 1882-3, which are novel and meritorious beyond the common. Messrs. Rolph, Smith & Co. have prepared specimens of forty eight designs which must commend themselves to all lovers of Canada. There are 12 cards representing Canadian birds; 12 Canadian wild flowers; and 12 Canadian house plants, some of the latter two dozens conventionalized by a truly artistic hand. Then there are 3 which show Canadian berries—very attractive cards they are—and 9 which illustrate our scenery, not, we are glad to say, the usual winter scenes alone, or even mostly. Some of these bird and flower cards are worthy of Prang, and we shall be astonished if they do not sell freely, on their merits, in the United States.—Monetary Times.

THE most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany or at least originate there. The most recent preparation palced upon the market in this country, is the Great German Invigorator, which has never been known to fail in curing a single case of impotency, spermatorrhœa, weakness and all diseases resulting from self-abuse, as nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, languor, lassitude, depression of spirits and functional derangement of the nervous system. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

THE Bishop of Peterborough, England, cannot help saying good things both in and out of the pulpit—especially out of it. The other night a rich, benevolent, but somewhat brainles millionaire, was boasting after dinner that he gave away £2,000 to the poor regularly every year. He said: "I think it's right, you know; a sort of duty in my position. I can't say what becomes of it, but it's given away in charity, that's all I know, and that's all I care about. Two thousand pounds every year!" "What," said the bishop; "do you really mean to say you pay away £2,000 to the poor every year as a religious duty?" "I assure you, my lord, that is so," replied the wealthy man with careless complacency. "Well," said the witty bishop, "that's the largest insurance against fire I ever heard of!"

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,
The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.
From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,
Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.
ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.
Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.
PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.
STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.
Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.
KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.
Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar to itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.
DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)
THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 12, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Railway Notes.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes, Lawrence and Gulf—Fresh to south-westerly to westerly winds. Fine, warm weather.

Rapid Progress.

The construction of the trench for the waterworks and the laying of the mains for the same are being rapidly pushed forward on George street. The trench is dug down the street nearly to the Methodist Church, and the pipes are put in as far down as Mr. Menzies' dwelling.

For Practice.

The Electric Hose Company, of the Fire Brigade, turned out in uniform on Tuesday evening for hose practice. The drill took place on the Market Square, and the Company had a lively practice, which will enable them to be more prompt in action when their services are required to extinguish a fire.

News from a Distance.

The very eccentric Peterborough correspondent of the Montreal Star writes to that journal as follows :—

"Peterborough is bound to become an ecclesiastical centre, as the Episcopalians of this district are working hard to have the "See" of Otonabee created, with the palace and new bishop, located here."

The leading members of the church in question know nothing of this "hard work" going on at present, though the idea is an old one, has been recognized by the Synod, and will probably be carried out some day. Peterborough is now elevated into a Roman Catholic See, but the Anglican see of "Otonabee" is hardly likely to be formed just yet.

Wilson's Woollen Factory.

Our readers are all more or less interested in the development of our manufacturing industries, as they contribute in no small degree, to the success and growth of a town, and they will no doubt be pleased to hear of the prosperity attending the factories established in Peterboro'. For this reason we noticed, a short time since, the marks of improvement at Dickson's race, and, keeping the same object in view, a visit has been paid to Mr. Wilson's Woollen Factory. This factory is on the Peterborough creek, near Whyte's Foundry, close to the end of McDonnell street, in the building formerly used for the same purpose by Mr. A. Sawers. Mr. E. B. Wilson took possesion of the premises in May last, and since that time has been carrying on the business of manufacturing blankets and flannels and wool carding very successfully. In the first room to the left on entering the building, the custom weaving is done. Two looms are kept running on this work, weaving heavy flannels, of all colors and patterns, and full cloths. The custom work is brisk this year, a large quantity of wool being brought in to be manufactured into these cloths. In the same apartment is a large blanket loom, capable of turning out five pairs of blankets per day. Mr. Wilson has at present an order for 200 blankets from Messrs. Ullyot & Saddler and Mr. Hazlett to be used in their lumbering business. The room to the right on the first floor is used for the fulling room. In it there are five large machines for different parts of the work. In the second story to the left is situated the manufacturing room. There is in it three looms—a manufacturing set—which turn out about sixty yards of cloth per day, and a large spinning jack forty feet long, capable of spinning 200 lbs. of wool a day. The custom roll carding is also done in the second story, the machinery for which is in a room to the right. The third story of the building is used for a storeroom. Close to the main builing are the engine and dye houses. Owing to the low water in the creek, the machinery in the factory is now all driven by steam. Mr. Wilson employs eight persons continually, and business is brisker than it has been for years.

THE TWELFTH OF JULY.

Early this morning visitors began to arrive, and the streets were astir with people at an early hour. The weather was not very warm, and had every appearance of being pleasant throughout the day.

The arches and decorations were handsome, and well arranged. On the corner of George and Simcoe streets, a large four-fold arch was erected. On the top of the centre pole a large flag floated, and the evergreens with which the trees and ropes were covered were dotted with small Union Jacks, and flags of red, white and blue. On the arch there was a large motto, inscribed "Civil and Religious Liberty," and three smaller ones bearing the words "Union," "Love" and "Truth." The arch on the corner of Hunter and George streets, was similarly covered with boughs and small flags, and surmounted by a large flag, and for the west side of the arch, which would be first seen by those in the procession, there was a motto in large letters, bidding the visiting brethren "Welcome." Two other large mottoes read "The Altar and the Throne," and "1690, No Surrender," and there were smaller ones with the words "Derry," "Boyne" and "Aughrim."

On the corner of George and Brock Streets, near the Post Office, there was another grand arch, similiar in construction to the others, with flags and mottoes. The large mottoes on this arch bore the words "British Connection" and "The Queen and Constitution," and the smaller ones had these reminders, "Derry," "Boyne," and "Love." On the corner of Hunter and Water streets stood the fourth grand arch, also dotted with numerous small flags, and a large flag floating on the topmost point. The larger mottoes on this arch were "God save the Queen" and "Our Country and our Queen," and the smaller ones were "Union," "Aughrim" and Truth." In front of Mr. Croft's hotel a small arch was erected, and on it a lion was painted with the motto "The Keystone of the British Empire." From the windows of the True Blues' hall Union Jacks were floating, over the door of the hall an arch was constructed, and the mottoes "Welcome," "God save the Queen" and "No Surrender" placed on it Besides these decorations numerous flags were floating over the town, there was a large display of bunting, and green trees and boughs were placed all along the streets.

Shortly after ten o'clock the visiting Orange Lodges began to arrive, and about ten o'clock the Peterborough brethren marched from their halls to the Agricultural Grounds, where they were soon joined by No. 445 of Otonobee. At half-past ten the Lakefield District arrived and were met by the lodges assembled at the Murray street crossing. From there the procession proceeded, by way of George street, to the Midland station, and met the lodges from Madoc, Elzevir, Percy, Campbellford and Otonabee, which came on the Grand Junction Railway. About one o'clock the Midland train arrived, bringing the lodges from Port Hope, Hope, Cavan, Manvers, and other places along the line. Each of the trains from Port Hope, Lake field and Belleville had very long trains of cars, and were filled to overflowing by the Orangemen and their friends.

Soon after the arrival of the Port Hope train, the procession was formed in the following order, the number of the lodges and their principal officers being given :—

Personal.

Amongst the visitors in town to-day, are the Mayor and Town Clerk of Port Hope.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. Geo. J. Gumpricht, tuner for Messrs. Mason & Risch, Toronto, is in town for a few days. Orders left for him at Mr. T. Menzies' Bookstore will be promptly attended to.

Good Measurement.

A ship carpenter not far from Peterborough was measuring the length of a platform which he had to repair, and though it was 31 feet 7 inches long, he ordered two lengths of 13 feet plank for it, making a mistake of no less than five feet and a half in his measurement. If he made such calculations on a big contract, he would be apt to come out at "the small end of the horn."

Will be paid for the detection and conviction of any person selling or dealing in any bogus, counterfeit or imitation Hop Bitters, especially Bitters or preparations with the word Hop or Hops in their name or connected therewith, that is entended to mislead and cheat the public, or for any preparation put in any form, pretending to be the same as Hop Bitters. The genuine have a cluster of Green Hops (notice this) printed on the white label, and are the purest and best medicine on earth, for Kidney, Liver and Nervous Diseases. Beware of all others, and of all pretended formulas or recipes of Hop Bitterf published in papers or for sales as they are frauds and swindles. Whoever deals in any but the genuine will be prosecuted. Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y.

THERE would be little if any sickness during the hot months of July and August, if every one would take Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, as they prevent and cure all derangements of the Stomach and Bowels. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

HARVELL'S CONDITION POWDERS.—Live stock of every description, whether hogs, poultry, sheep, horses or oxen, are improved in weight, quality and health by these celebrated powders. No stable or barn yard can pay fully where they are not used. Just give them a trial. Sold everywhere.

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20th, 1880. Smith Medicine Co., Gents; I am requested by Miss Sarah Fordham to inform you that your treatment of the Tape Worm has proved a great success. In five hours after she had taken the medicine the worm passed alive with head complete, measuring 22½ feet. The medicine caused no pain or uneasiness. You may rest assured that I will never cease to recommend your treatment whenever an opportunity offers. Yours, J. B. L. Flynn, 20 Chaboillez Square, Montreal.

PERSECUTED JEWS.

Bands of Ruffians Attack Jewish Railway Men at Whitemouth.

On Sunday morning a number of Jews were taken out from the city to work for P. Enright, at Whitmouth. That night some troubles occurred that presented a serious aspect, and called for the attention of the police. When the Jews got to the place of work, Enright's foreman was in such a condition that his sportiveness found vent in giving each man of the band a thump of a heavy bludgeon. In the evening about ten o'clock, while the Jews were occupying a shanty, a band of about seventy men, who worked in the woods at the same employment in which the Jews were to be engaged, that of getting out rails, set upon them. The Jews were driven out and exposed to very rough usage. Stones and missiles of all kinds were freely plied against them, and one of the assailed band was severely hurt—indeed nearly killed. The brutal cowardice of the rowdies was not satisfied with this, and they pursued the helpless and defenceless Jews until they took refuge in the cars. Thence they were soon driven out, and their provisions, bread, butter, &c., taken from them. While they were within the cars the latter were subjected to a perfect bombardment. The foreman was powerless to interfere to help them. At last they left the cars and fled to a shanty-hotel. A Swedish machinist who was there, seeing the distress and danger of the Jews, did his best to secure protection for them, and got the hotel-keeper to lock the doors and shut the place up. The latter was alarmed, but was finally induced to take the step, and the poor hounded remained all morning. Had the Swede mentioned above not intervened they would doubtless have suffered serious annoyance. The Jews had no one to appeal to, and were discouraged at the prospect before them A number of them, at least, returned last night to the city. Lawlessness of this character ought to be suppressed with an iron hand, and it seems, to say the least, shameful that those poor creatures, persecuted out of their own country, should meet treatment so much like that from which they had fled. The authorities ought to take some steps towards settling these people in a position where they will not be exposed to such brutal insults.—Winnipeg Free Press.

THE EXAMINATION FRAUDS.

Seven Students Committed for Trial—Others Escape.

BARRIE, July 10.—The adjourned examination of the Collingwood students arrested for complicity in the theft of examination papers was concluded before the magistrates here to-day. Seven of them—J. A. Currie, D. Allen, C. Kerreocher, R. C. Cheswright, W. Cross, J. C. Heintroon, and J. Leader, were committed for trial, and admitted to bail. It is very unlikely that they will be convicted. The three ringleaders the McKee boys and Nesbitt, who turned Queen's evidence, will not be prosecuted. The other two Corbett and Mainprise, are in Dakota, safe from harm. The affair excites but little interest here, as the prevailing feeling is that the really guilty parties are being allowed to escape. The department is severely blamed for sending the papers up ten days before they were needed. Students take the whole thing as a huge joke.

PORT HOPE.

RUNAWAY.—The Guide says that a horse belonging to Mr. R. B. Williamson, attached to his peddling wagon, got frightened at a train this morning at the Grand Trunk station, and came down John Street at full speed, but was stopped near the livery stable. There was very little damage done.

A DUMMY MAN.—We would respectfully suggest that our local lacrosse club should provide a dummy man, to be prostrated in the field before they attempt to play another game. The dummy would be a handy thing to have on hand in case any of the players lost their tempers; they could cuff and kick by proxy everyone who stepped, figuratively speaking, on their corns, and when they felt their angry passion was gaining the supremacy, they could give the dummy particular fits, and nobody would be hurt. We noticed one of the Millbrook gentlemen, in the late match at Penryn Park, who was a little to previous in attempting to dance a hornpipe upon his prostrate opponent. Get a dummy, boys; get a dummy.

We pride ourselves in having the Largest, Richest and most Varied Stock of Gents' Furnishings in town. "Habiliment Hall."

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

HOSTILITIES BEGUN IN EGYPT—THE BOMBARDMENT OF ALEXANDRIA.

The Burial of the Dead—The Condition of the Wounded—Another White Flag—A Ruse for the Garrison to Escape—The Town Evacuated and on Fire—The Murder of Christians—Troops Landing.

THE WOUNDED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—Of those wounded yesterday, one or two will probably die. The rest are progressing as favourably as the climatic condition and other circumstances will admit of. To each was conveyed the gratifying intelligence that the Queen, with her usual tact and good feeling, had telegraphed to Admiral Seymour, asking first to be informed as to how the wounded were getting on, and then how affairs were going.

ANOTHER WHITE FLAG.

ALEXANDRIA July 12.—The Bittern was sent to enquire the intention of the Government. She saw about 160 men armed with rifles running towards the Lighthouse fort, all carrying bags. She also saw an Egyptian general, apparently Arabi Pasha, surrounded by his staff.

PLAIN SPEAKING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—As the Ministers had no proposals to make, Lieutenant Lambton informed them that he had not come to offer conditions but to receive proposals. He informed them the English did not consider themselves at war with Egypt, but that the Mex fort must be occupied by the British troops and fort Marabout must be destroyed. They replied that fort Marabout had already been evacuated, but they could give no definite answer as to the Mez fort. Finding no agreement was likely, and being unwilling to waste time, Lieut. Lambton then left.

THE DEAD.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—This morning was performed the melancholy duty of burying the bodies of those who fell in the fray of yesterday. Each coffin, covered with the Union Jack, was taken on board the flagship, the boats which conveyed them displaying the ship's ensign draped with crape. The crews of each vessel were mustered on deck, bareheaded and dressed in their white duck suits, the marines presented arms, the bands played the Dead March in Saul, the flags flew at half-mast, and the officers saluted. The scene wss highly impressive. Arrived at the flag-ship a guard of honour composed of marines lined the sides, and stood with arms reversed on each side of the coffins as they were laid in a row on the deck, where were assembled the Admiral with all the officers of the ship, and two chaplains in their surplices. The band played a solemn dirge; the solemn Burial Service of the Church of England was read, and at the words, "We, therefore commit his body to the deep to be turned into corruption, looking for the resurrection of the body (when the Sea shall give up her dead)," were read over each body, the port-hole was opened, and the hammock—to which a heavy cannon ball was attached—was slid into the deep. A three-fold volley was fired, and the sad ceremony came to an end.

THE FORTUNE OF WAR.

LONDON, July 12.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Alexandria went close along the land in an open boat, An Arab informed him that many hundred persons had been killed between Adjemi and Alexandria. An explosion occurred in a fort, killing everybody inside. The Arab said the noise of the falling shells was like thunder. He declared that people were killed even in the distant streets. They stated that the obstinacy of the defence was owing to the fact that the batteries were manned by negro Mohammedans. The estimate the loss of life among the soldiers and townsfolk at 2,000.

NEGOTIATIONS FAILED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.—At three o'clock the Bittern steamed out and signalled "Negotiations have failed. I have accordingly informed the authorities on shore that you will engage the batteries at 3.30." From this it seemed as if the officers and staff observed in the Hospital Battery, finding themselves in a dangerous position and unable to escape, simply hoisted the flag of truce in order to get out of the fire. There was great indignation expressed that five hours should have been wasted in abortive negotiations, while meantime the swell had increased so much that the fire from the vessels would be ineffective.

THE SUEZ CANAL.

SUEZ, July 12.—No merchant vessel has entered the Canal for the last forty hours. All ships, including the Indian mail steamers, remain in the roadstead. The whole European population is afloat. The British Consul, in pursuance of Admiral Seymour's instruction, hauled down his flay and went abroad a gunboat.

By Telegraph to the Review.

A FLAG OF TRUCE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13, 7.40 a.m.—At daylight this morning, a flag of truce was flying at the Ras El Tin Palace. The Helicon, with a flag of truce flying, and the Invincible, Monarch and Penelope are now steaming into the inner harbour. The remainder of the squadron outside are steaming about. The fire in the town has greatly extended during the night. Tho Turkish vessels are steaming off Ramlh. There is a heavy sea on.

THE FIRING CEASED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13, 7.20 a.m.—No likelihood of the renewal of the bombardment to-day. The weather is rough.

ALEXANDRIA IN FLAMES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13, 8.40 a.m.—Alexandria has been evacuated, and is in flames. The telegraph ship Chiltern has been ordered to take up a position near the neutral fleets.

THE GARRISON WITHDRAWN.

ALEXANRIA, July 13, 9.25 a.m.—The entire garrison of Alexandria, withdrew under the flags of truce, leaving the Bedouins to fire and pillage the town. The Decoy has gone to Port Said to ascertain the state of affairs.

CHRISTIANS MASSACRED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13, 9.40 a. m.—The Egyptian army is greatly demoralized and in full retreat towards the interior. The European quarter of the town, including the exchange and telegraph office, is utterly destroyed. The city was fired by released convicts, who committed dreadful atrocities. The Egyptians used the flag of truce to enable the troops to withdraw from the town. The telegraph ship Chiltern is crowded with survivors, who fought their way to the beach, from whence boats of the fleet removed them. They report having past a dreadful night, defending themselves desperately. A hundred Europeans and other Christians in the Ottoman Bank and adjoining buildings were massacred.

THE KHEDIVE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13, 9.40. a. m.—A part of the fleet is now leaving for Port Said. The whereabouts of the Khedive is unknown.

NO DECISION AT THE CONFERENCE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 13.—The council of ministers rose last evening after sitting nearly 24 hours. No dicision was arrived at. The council will meet again to-day.

THE POLICY OF FRANCE.

PARIS, July 13.—It is announced that Gambetta will hold a debate on the naval credit vote. He will deliver a great speech upon the general policy, leaving the past out of the question, and addressing himself to the Chamber, to France, and to Europe, to show the policy which events have marked out for France.

THE KHEDIVE'S AUTHORITY TO BE MAINTAINED.

LONDON, July 13.—The News says that the proposal that Turkey be invited by the powers to re-establish the Khedive in authority, has practically been agreed upon, and a note to that effect will be sent to the Porte in the course of the week. It is regarded as probable that Turkey, while not positively declining the call of Europe, will try to gain time by reopening the negotiations. In such case, England will invite the Conference to regard this procedure as equivalent to a refusal.

"IF WE HAD BEEN THERE!"

ALEXANDRIA, July 13.—Everybody on the American ships were much disappointed at the English ships yesterday. They say that Americans would have done the work in half the time. It is thought that if the Egyptians oppose the British troops with the same gallantry with which they fought the four last guns on Tuesday, the British soldiers will have work enough cut out for them before they reach Cairo.

THE FLAG OF TRUCE A RUSE.

LONDON, July 13.—A correspondent on the Invincible telegraphed at eight this morning: "The whole civil population and troops have withdrawn. The whole grand square is burned. The Bittern, which went to discover the meaning of the last flag of truce last evening, could discover nobody on the Egyptian vessel Mahraussa or in the arsenal." The correspondent accompanied the officers to the shore in the steamer's pinnace. The purveyor of the fleet, who was one of the party and well acquainted with the town landed and proceeded a considerable distance. All was perfectly quiet but for the roar of flames.

FURTHER ACTION ON LAND.

ALEXANDRIA July 13.—It is believed that Arabi Pasha concentrated his forces in the city to oppose the ships. Any further action must be on the shore. Fully half the town is burning. The troops will be landed in force to investigate the condition of things, and if possible to render aid. There will probably be three or four hours suspension of telegraphing in consequence of the Chiltern's change of position. The Europeans who fought their way to the beach, number one hundred. They report that all the other Europeans and Christians, numbering some hundreds were massacred.

THE EGYPTIAN ARMY.

LONDON, July 13.—It is understood that the conference has decided that the Egyptian army shall be disbanded, and replaced by gend'arms.

A DAMAGED IRONCLAD.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13.—The Alexandria, having had two of her 18-ton guns disabled, and being badly hurt, will probably have to go to Malta to get new guns.

THE KHEDIVE'S WHEREABOUTS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13.—Nothing is known of the Khedive. but it is believed that he is still at Ramleh palace, where his yacht is apparently waiting until the weather will allow of his embarcation.

EFFECTIVE FIRING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13.—It is stated that the bulk of the Egyptian army is at Rosetta, 40 miles north east of Alexandria, and at Damanhour, 38 miles south east of Alexandria. The soldiers joined in looting the city before leaving it. The firing of the Invincible was very effective against Ras El Tin fort. Two twelve ton guns were found reared on end in consequence of being struck by shells.

ARABI RETREATING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13.— The children have been moved into the the Daraboro. The fire in the city is steadily increasing. It is reported that Arabi Pasha is retreating on Cairo.

THE FIRES IN ALEXANDRIA.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13.—A correspondent entered the harbor early this morning. Many houses in Arabi's quarters were badly injured and partly burned by the bombardment, and the incendiary fires in the centre of the European quarters at 11.15 a. m. covered miles square. A large portion of the population has fled toward the canal.

THE TERMS OF SURRENDER.

LONDON, July 13.—Seymour telegraphed at 10.40 this morning, that the terms were to surrender the forts as at first demanded. The use made of the flag of truse by the Egyptians is considered disgraceful.

HORRIBLE CRUELTIES TO EUROPEANS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13.—The Europeans who fought their way to the beach, say that last night they saw hundreds of Christians and Europeans massacred, dragged through the streets, mutilated, stamped upon and thrown into the burning buildings with their hands and feet tied.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

AMERICAN.

DEADLY TOY PISTOL.

BOSTON, July 13.—John Manning and Joseph Delaney, two boys, died on Tuesday from toy pistol wounds sustained on the 4th of July. Three died at Lowell and one at Gloucester from the same cause yesterday.

MILL BURNED.

OGEMA, Wis., July 13.—The mill and lumbering business of B. M. Holmes & Co., were burned yesterday. Loss $150,000.

NO POISON THERE.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Mrs. Scoville denies that she put arsenic in the bouquet sent to Guiteau. She says she did not want Guiteau to escape the gallows by suicide, and he would not have taken poison if he could.

A MEXICAN OUTRAGE.

EAGLE PASS, Texas, July 12.—Six Americans, who crossed the line to get a permit to hunt for stolen cattle, were arrested by the Mexicans, and according to their story, were thrown into filthy cells without charges being preferred. They were twice whipped for the amusement of the jailor, their goods were confiscated, and they were finally left destitute. They made an affidavit yesterday before the United States Commissioner, and they intend to present the case to the Government.

A BANK ROBBED.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Burglars broke open the safe in the Italian National Bank, on Centre street last night, and stole $6,000. It is supposed that they entered the Bank by means of false keys The Bank is the property of Carlo Barsotte. The burglars left $9,000 of money and securities behind.

HEAVY DAMAGES

BROOKLYN, July 13.—Major Harrold, who was injured in a collision, has recovered $30,000 damages from the New York Elevated Railway. The case has been through the court of appeals.

DR. TANNER OUTDONE.

WABASH, IND., July 13.—A woman here has fasted 61 days and still refuses food. The cause is unknown. There is little hopes of saving her life.

A LUNATIC FASTING.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Henry Clark, a patient in the Camden County Insane Asylum has fasted forty-one days, for the purpose of curing his insanity. He formed the determination to fast during a lucid interval. He will probably be discharged as cured next month.

FORTUNATE.

NEW ORLEANS, July 13.—Jose Domingo, a cigar importer who died on Sunday, left a large fortune to his friend, Wm. H. Hunt, ex-Secretary of the Navy, and now minister to Russia. This makes Hunt, who heretofore has been in somewhat embarrassed circumstances, one of the wealthiest men in the diplomatic service.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1882.

MR. MOWAT'S GERRYMANDERING.

MANY of the Reform journals are discussing the question whether Mr. Mowat shall gerrymander the Ontario constituencies before the next general election for the Provincial Legislature. Some of them are strongly advising this step, although they bitterly censured Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues for doing, as was falsely asserted, the same thing. Others again pretend to think that Mr. Mowat is too conscientious to adopt such a course. Both of these classes of journalists are equally dishonest; they both falsely assert that Sir John Macdonald set the example of gerrymandering Ontario for a party, and they both falsely deny that Mr. Mowat did so.

The plain facts are these. Sir John Macdonald had, according to law, to arrange seats for four additional Ontario members to which the census showed us to be entitled. While doing so, he took the opportunity of redressing in a very great measure the inequality of the representation according to population. As one proof of his good faith, he began by disfranchising two Conservative boroughs because of their small population. That the whole scheme was carried out in the same spirit, is shown by the facts that the average majorities by which Conservatives have been returned, are greater than the average majorities of the Reform members, and also that the Conservatives represent a larger average population than the Reformers. These facts show that the process instead of being pushed too far was hardly carried far enough to do justice, and that the Reformers have still an unfair advantage.

Mr. Mowat, on the other hand, without any legal compulsion, but of his own mere choice, and with the design of securing a party benefit, added six members to the local legislature, and disturbed a great number of the constituencies. There was no necessity for him to add one member, but he added six—there was no necessity for him to interfere with one constituency, but he did interfere with no less than 34, creating, changing or abolishing them. And how did he proceed? He abolished one small constituency because it was held by a Conservative, he retained another because it was held by a Reformer. He did not give a new member to Toronto with its two representatives, or to Hamilton with its one representative, but he retained nine constituencies, so small that their population did not equal that of these two cities with their three members. He formed one electoral district of townships taken from five different constituencies and three different counties. He cut townships, those most important municipal units, in half, and placed them in different constituencies. In the whole of the many changes he aggravated instead of diminishing the inequality of the population represented, and he made them all so as to secure the greatest possible party gain.

It would not surprise us to see Mr. Mowat again voluntarily increasing the number of members in the Loyal Legislature against all sound policy, or again gerrymandering the constituencies to gain more support. If he does not do so, it must however not be forgotten that he has already fixed the constituencies to suit himself, and has done it in such a wholesale manner that he may not see his way clearly to pack the cards more to his advantage.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Port Hope Guide gets off the following joke:—

"A intelligent elector of Hope and a prominent supporter of the Col., the other day in defining the political position, said: 'My brother is a Performer, but h'im a Conservatory." Clear as mud."

It is a pretty good joke too. Could anything more ludicrous be imagined than calling a supporter of Mr. Blake, one of the "Reformers with nothing to reform," the self-described. "Flies on the wheel," a "Performer." What an imaginative genius the writer must have.

* * *

THE Winnipeg Times of July 7th, says:—

"The Grit enthuse which was to have taken place this evening has been postponed for a week. The reason for this is said to be the scarcity of Grits in the city, and time was required to trot into town their country cousins."

THE POPULAR VOTE.

A careful and accurate summing up of the returns of the generl election show that, although the Conservative majority in the House of Commons will be slightly reduced, they have a stronger majority than they had four years ago of the popular vote. A comparison of the losses and gains, from which only the returns of 2 or 3 Quebec constituencies are lacking, are as follows:

Conservatives gains	22,814
Opposition gains	16,609
Net Conservative gain	6,205

Considering all the circumstances, this result is little short of wonderful, and furnishes the strongest possible testimony that the National Policy has been a great success and that the people are thoroughly satisfied with the manner in which their affairs have beer administered.

In 1878 the time was ripe for a change of Government. The country had failed to prosper under the Mackenzie administration, and their refusal to alter their commercial policy led to the partial obliteration of party lines, the result being that the Conservative party, who presented the policy of protection as the chief issue, were placed in power by a majority which can only be looked upon as abnormal. That that policy should have failed to meet the expectations of the over-sanguine of the Reformers who supported it in 1878 was to be expected, but, in spite of this fact—in spite of the misrepresentations, the false cries, and finally the trimming of the opponents of the National Policy, the net result of the election of June 20th was an increase of 6,205 in the majority recorded in favour of the Conservative party.

Highly satisfactory as is this result, the majority would have been greater had the Opposition contested every seat, as did the Ministerialists. No less than 23 supporters of the Government were returned by acclamation, and in 7 other constitnencies two or more Conservatives were left to test their personal popularity. Had there been contests in those thirty divisions, which the Opposition abandoned as hopeless, there would have been a considerable increase in the Government majority. However the majority is sufficiently large for all practical purposes, and we congratulate the Government on their substantial addition to their majority of the popular vote, against which the charge of gerrymandering has not even a show of reason, because the votes of the electors are counted in the grand total, no matter in what constituency they have been cast.—Belleville Intelligencer.

HANLAN'S HANKERINGS.

He Wants to Give Every Oarsman in the World a Chance—The Challenge.

"I am feeling pretty well," was the reply of Hanlan to a Mail reporter's inquiry yesterday. "My weight is just about my usual summer avoirdupois—165 lbs., and I am, in other respects in tolerable good condition. That fever has weakened me considerably," he added, "but yet it would not take me long to get into trim for another race, if another race were on the—the 'tappy.' I believe you call it." And the champion smiled as he displayed his intimate acquaintance with the French language.

"But is there not a race proposed?" asked the reporter. "You are not going to quit the water, surely! You mean to give the boys a chance to down you, of course." "Certainly," was the champion's reply; "that is just what I mean to do. And for the purpose of letting the public know it, please publish in the Mail what I shall tell you, and that is this:—I hereby offer to row any five oarsmen in the world, for $1,000 or upwards, a two mile straight-away race on any course on this continent, taking my competitors in any order, with two days intervening between the contests. The conditions are that the races are to be rowed on North American waters, and all on the same course; and that they shall be arranged for not later than the latter part of the month of September of this year. You understand that the reason I issue this challenge thus early is that I may have time to train. If I can get these races on I shall have to go into training in the fall, and have all the winter besides to exercise myself in walking and generally getting into good form. If I find I cannot get an acceptance of this challenge, I shall start for Australia perhaps about the beginning of November. I have a big circle of friends in the Antipodes, and they have been at me for a long time to come and show myself to the people down there. If I go I am promised five regattas in which it will be made well worth my while to take part. Don't you for a moment fancy I am funking—I wish to give any oarsman who wants it an opportunity to row me, and I think this offer I now make is a guarantee of it."

"What of Ross?" asked the reporter.

"Well, Wallace can come in on this thing, just the same as any other sculler. He pulls a good oar, and will have all the liberty he likes to wrest the championship from me. I have every desire to meet Ross again. Only for my sickness we would have rowed against each other at Winnipeg."

Hanlan looks as he says he feels, in good health. He is every day at his hotel the centre of attraction for visitors, and the modest recipent of any number of compliments, well-wishes and—"invitations."

WARREN SMITH VS. ELLIOTT.

HALIFAX, June 11.—A movement is on foot to raise the necessary money to make a match between Warren Smith and Elliott, the English ex-champion, who recently expressed a wish to meet the Haligonian. Warren has got a shell of his own at Terrant's bay, and has had opportunities of practising there at different times all winter if he wished so to do. He has not likely forgotten the use of his paddles.

SPLASHES.

The Halifax Rowing Association has determined to send Hamm and Conley to Lake Maranacook regatta when it occurs. Halifax scullers will row in the single and double-sculls. Conley and Hamm and their trainer, Mr. Spetman, have returned home, and resumed work on Bedford Basin.—Mail

A BRUTAL OUTRAGE.

BRAMPTON, July 11.—The report of an outrage of a peculiarly brutal and cowardly character has just come from Cookville. The victim is Mrs. Izant, who lives at Cookvilles with her two children, and whose husband, an Italian, works and lives at the water works, about four miles from Brampton. On the night of the 4th instant, four men came to Mrs Izant's house and asked admission, saying a friend wanted to see her. She refused to let them in, whereupon they lifted a window and entered. They then seized the woman, and three of them outraged her. The brutes then left the house, leaving her lying senseless on the floor. In the morning she got up and called upon a Frenchman living near, and asked if he could identify any of the men. He said he knew one of them, George Boak. She then went to Magistrate King, at Cookville, and reported the matter, and King came to Brampton, and Constable Hurst was sent after the criminals. He went to Cookville and arrested two men, both farm hands, viz., George Boak, who works for a farmer named Pinkney, and one Stanfield, who works for his father. The woman identified Stanfield by his unusual height, while Boak was identified by voice, and the following very pecular circumstances:—On the night previous, he called at the house and warned Mrs. Izant of what was going to happen, giving her a revolver to protect herself. A revolver precisely similar was afterwards found in Boak's trunk.

Forest Fire.

The Astorian, (Astorin, Oregon Territory), describes a recent fire in the vicinity of its town as follows: "During the last week a fire was out across Young's Bay, that, starting at first as a little smouldering mass, was fanned into a fierce flame by the dry winds from the east. Friday last, the scene, as described by an eye witness, was grand. Great trees were clouds of smoke by day and pillars of fire by night. Crimson sheets of flame streamed out from giant pines and great heaps of burning moss blown through the air lodged in the tops of adjacent trees, instantly converting them into a mass of flames that encircled the trunk and rose high in the air above. The roar of flames was distinctly heard in town. Fortunately no damage was done, though woodmen in the immediate neighborhood had great difficulty in saving that which was cut and piled."

HASTINGS.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—The Star says that on Thursday evening a serious accident occurred at the raising of Walsh & Quigley's tannery. As is usually the case with large raisings, a "bee" was made, and as the building was very wide and the timbers very heavy, a tackle was rigged to the fall of which was attached a team of horses. The work progressed satisfactorily until all but the last two bents which formed part of the second and third story, were in position, but through some defect of the beam which formed the second last bent, or from some other cause not fully explained, the tenon of the beam broke when partly raised, and it came crashing down, catching three of the men. The injured ones were Mr. Bonner, the foreman— pelvis fractured and injured internally; Mr. Weise, of Belleville—left thigh, hip and collar bone broken; and Mr. John Carey severely bruised. It was feared at the time that the injuries of Mr. Bonner and Mr. Weise would prove fatal, but through the skill and attention of Drs. Clark and O'Gorman, they are progressing as well as can be expected. As there were about fifty men assisting at the raising, it seems almost miraculous that more were not injured.

ELEVATORS.—Mr. M. Fowlds raised the first story of his elevator last Monday evening. Mr. McQuade is the builder. The machinery in Collins' elevator is now complete, and runs like a top.

LINDSAY.

FINE TIMBER.—Messrs R. & G. Strickland of Lakefield, have just finished shipping from Lindsay, a large drive of square and board pine timber of 2,472 pieces or 140,000 cubic feet, which they have sold to a firm in Quebec at $3,50, per foot delivered. This is undoubtedly the finest lot of timber that has been shipped over the Midland Railway this season.

BIG LOADING.—On Monday the 10th July, Mr. John Buller, of the Midland Railway, loaded at Lindsay, 21 cars with timber, 10,136 cubic feet, in four hours. Average number of feet per car 482⅔. Average time per car 11.3-7 minutes.

Educated Conservatives.

Mr. Christopher N. Johnson, of Edinburgh, in a letter which he wrote to the Standard a few weeks ago in reply to some comments on a statement of Lord Carnarvon that the educated classes in Great Britain were withdrawing their support from the Liberal party, and especially to the assertion of an "influential Liberal weekly" that, if Scotland were included, a clear majority of graduates were Liberal, says that "it is difficult to understand how the including of Scotland can help towards such a result, for at the last general election the Conservative party polled 4,968 votes, the Liberal party 4,661, in the Scottish University constituencies, showing a Conservative majority of 307 amongst the Scotch graduates. The London University seat was carried by the Liberals by a majority of 479, but no Liberal ventured to contest the University constituencies of Oxford, Cambridge or Dublin, and six Conservatives at present hold these seats. The absence of contest, of course, prevents any comparison of numerical strength, but some conjecture of what would have been the result of the contests in these constituencies may be formed from the fact that no Liberal has ever sat in the House of Commons for Cambridge University, that in the University of Oxford between the years 1859 and 1878 a Liberal majority of 191 was converted into a minority of 1,698, and that on the last occasion when a Liberal aspired to represent Dublin University, he was beaten by a majority of more than five to one."

At Wimbledon.

LONDON, July 11.—A heavy rain fell all the morning at Wimbledon, making shooting very disagreeable. The afternoon turned out fine, with little wind, and the shooting for the Alexandria National Association prizes at 500 and 600 yards, seven shots at each range, was resumed. Several members of the Canadian team secured prizes. Staff-Sergeant Wilson, of the 33rd Battalion, and Coporal C. N. Mitchell, of the 10th Royal Grenadiers, each took £3 prizes, with a score of 54 points out of a possible 70. Staff-Sergeant Walker, of the Queen's Own Rifles, also took £2, with a score of two points less. The first range 200 yards, seven shots, of the 1st stage of the Queen's Prize was commenced. Corporal C. N. Mitchell, 10th Royal Grenadiers; Private D. Smith 5th Royal Scots; and Lieutenant Macdonald, Wellington Field Battery, each scored 26 point out of a possible 35. Sergeant Wilson 33rd Battalion, and Private T. W. Marks, 6th Fusiliers, each made 38; and and Lieutenant Huntington, Prescott Artillery; Sergeant E. A. Smith, 71st Battalion; Sergeant Walker, Queen's Own Rifles; and Lieutenant Crow, Wellington Field Batterry, 27 points each. The Jersey team has arrived at the camp and shot well to-day. The Guernsey will arrive on Monday.

A Bloated Monopolist.

In view of the fact that Sir Albert Smith said in every speech that he made in this country, that he had refused stock in the Moncton industries because they paid too heavy dividend, and that he said that he could not conscientiously, in the position he occupied, invest his money in any business paying more than 7 per cent., the following is interesting:

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern Marine Insurance Company yesterday a statement was submitted, showing the net profits for the period of about ten months that the Company has been in business to be 37½ per cent. on the paid up capital. The directors were selected as follows: Lambton L. L. Bevan, Thomas Gilbert, Henry Jack, SIR ALBERT J. SMITH, J. DeWolf Spurr, John Tucker, Wesley Vanvert and Chas. W. Weldon.

And yet the poor sailors, like the poor refiners, are working for $1.00 per day. Sir Albert pockets his 37½ per cent. in 10 months, or 45 per cent. per annum.—Chignecto N. B. Post.

A Woman's Attempted Suicide.

A woman named Martha Brennan tried to drown herself at Hamilton on Monday evening, but she was taken from the water by three men Malloy, Dray, and Sweeney by name. An interview with Mrs. Brennan at the hospital subsequently elicited the fact that she formerly lived in New York state and has friends living there. She is 27 years old, and was first married at the age of 16 to a man named Simpson, who soon afterwards died, leaving the young widow to battle with life alone. She came to Canada a few years ago and has been living part of the time in this city and part in Toronto. In the spring of this year she married a man named Brennan in Toronto, where matters went happily for a time, but after awhile little difficulties arose, which gradually became worse until Brennan left her. She felt very badly about it and was often melancholy, finally resorted to drink. For the last three weeks she has been drinking more than usual and became very despondent, finally resolving to end her life in the way described.

"we can't vote them down, we can shoot them down," and that appears to be the programme of the present canvass.

ONE of the most complete woollen mills in Canada will be that of the Trent Valley Woollen Manufacturing Co., at Campbellford, Ont. Nine sets of the latest improved machinery are being fitted into it for the production mainly of plain and fancy flannels, and the output will necessarily be large. The building and all its appointments will be of the most modern and convenient style.—Monetary Times.

Care of Live Stock for July.

A sheet of cotton cloth is a great protection to horses, screening them from flies, dust, and heat, while working in the harvest field. Especial care must be taken in keeping the horses clean. An occassional washing with a soft sponge and carbolic soap cleans and cools the skin, aids perspiration, drives away the flies and is in every way heathful and refreshing. Horses may be given a bath in a stream at evening, provided they are not warm from work, and are not kept in the water more than a few minutes. If the horses are at pasture at night, they need a good, generous feed before being turned out. When kept in the stalls, a mess of green fodder may be given daily.

During the hot weather, cows suffer if kept in a shadeless pasture. A cool, dark and clean stable is much preferred by them. They need an abundance of pure water, plenty of nutritious food, and should be kept as comfortable as possible.

Sheep that are intended for the butcher need to be pushed forward with liberal feeding. A quart of mixed ground feed to each animal daily, with the pasturage, will bring them quickly into good shape for the market. Store sheep need plenty of pasturage and good shade. If dysentery appears in the flock, remove the sick animals to a cool shed, and give one ounce of castor oil, with bran or oatmeal mush. Should maggots be found upon the sheep, tar may be applied to the affected parts. Look well to the flock that sheep do not suffer in any way during the hot summer months.

Growing young pigs for the early market are often very profitable. They may be ready in 100 days from birth, if well fed. At first the sow needs to have rich food in abundance, that she may have a full flow of milk. After a few weeks, let the young pigs have meal and wheat middlings.

Now is the time to weed out the poor hens in the poultry yard. Poor layers or bad mothers can be quickly fattened in a coop, ready for market, and command a good price.

Cattle Raising.

The high price of beef for months past has been widely attributed to the National Policy, and to "cornering" operations by the stock dealers and slaughterers, but the real cause is a reduced supply. For the past few years cattle have been shipped from this Continent to Europe at the rate of 4,000 to 5,000 head per week. This is an enormous drain, and has taxed beef production heaviiy to make up the loss. And then, too, the severe winter of '80-81, and the drouth of '81, were both very hard on cattle and caused heavy losses. Cattle raising is one of the most renumerative branches of agriculture, and as extreme high prices rarely fail to stimulate production, it will not be long before the supply of beef will be equal to the demand. —Monetary Times.

Sawdust Utilized.

The Chicago Northwestern Lumberman says: "Sawdust from Leathem & Smith's mill Sturgeon bay, Wis., supplies fuel to the steam barge Smith for her trips between that port and Chicago. The dust is taken from the circular to the bin, which is located at the edge of the wharf, and run into the hold of the craft by means of a spout, thus saving handling, etc. If this new venture proves successful, as there is no doubt, a great saving in time and expense is expected.

Mothers! Mothers!!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

MONTREAL, Dec. 20th, 1880. Smith Medicine Co., Gents; I am requested by Miss Sarah Fordham to inform you that your treatment of the Tape Worn has proved a great success. In five hours after she had taken the medicine the worm passed alive with head complete, measuring 22½ feet. The medicine caused no pain or uneasiness. You may rest assured that I will never cease to recommend your treatment whenever an opportunity offers. Yours, J. B. L. Flynn, 20 Chaboillez Square, Montreal.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)

THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, billiousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

It has been in use for 20 years, and has proved to be the best preparation in the market for SICK HEADACHE, PAIN IN THE SIDE OR BACK, LIVER COMPLAINT, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, DYSPEPSIA, PILES, and all Diseases that arise from a Disordered Liver or an impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once, recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for Regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Those who cannot obtain a bottle of this medicine from their druggist may send us one dollar, and we will send it to them.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Personal.

Mr. R. E. Gosnell, of the Port Hope Times, was in town to-day and called on us.

Mr. John Carnegie has left for a trip to Scotland.

Accidents.

Three or four slight accidents occurred on the streets, on Wednesday. A small child was run over on George Street, by a horse attached to a buggy, and a man and woman were also run over and slightly injured

In a Fit.

A man was attacked by a fit on Water street on Wednesday night about ten o'clock, and was carried to Kenealy's hotel, where he was attended by Dr. Sproule. It is said that he is subject to such attacks.

Thunder Shower.

The pent up floods in the clouds, which had been hanging over the town, found vent and poured down heavily last night about eleven o'clock, accompanied by thunder and lightning. It was well that it waited until the celebration was over, and that a greater part of the people at least were safely at home.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes, fresh south-westerly to north-west winds, fair weather, local rains, slightly lower temperature.

Sunday School Pic-nic

The annual picnic of the George Street Methodist Sunday school will be held on Friday, the 14th, in a grove on the bank of the River Trent near Hastings. The excursionists will go down on the Grand Junction Railway, the train leaving here at 6.45 a.m. The Committee have made complete arrangements for having a most enjoyable time.

Railway Notes.

A report from Kingston dated July 11th, says that work on the Toronto and Ottawa Railway has begun on the farm of Mr. John Woods, three-quarters of a mile north of the village of Arden. Operations are being conducted both east and west. The whole line has been located, and the rock cutting and grading is now being done. Between 60 and 70 navvies are engaged at this work, principally French Canadians.

The Norwood Register says :—We are informed that Mr. Bray, C. E., started on Monday last to hand over to the contractors the sections of the O & Q. between Marmora and this village. Work, it is said, will be commenced at once.

Run Over by a Train.

A sad accident occurred near Millbrook at an early hour this morning, on the main line of the Midland Railway, by which a young man, named George Haggart, aged 18 years, had both his legs cut off close to his body. It appears that the young man, who lived about three miles north-west of Millbrook, in company with a companion named Richard Fallis, started for home, but being too intoxicated to proceed they returned, and not being able to go further, they lay down on the track. Haggart's legs were lying across the rails and Fallis was dangerously close to them, and an early special train going north about four o'clock, ran over Haggart, severing his legs from his body. Fallis had a narrow escape, his coat being caught and torn, and his arm receiving a pinch, but he escaped without serious injury. Haggart was taken to the Millbrook Station, and medical aid was summoned. At eight o'clock it was not thought that he would live, and a telegram received at noon states that he is dying.

THE TWELFTH OF JULY.

The procession, which, in addition to the two Chief Marshals, Messrs. J. B. McWilliams and G. W. Hall, who headed the cortege, was marshalled by Messrs. Maxwell Hall, Chas. Robertson, Thomas Johnston and Isaac Mills, was of an immense length, and took about half an hour to pass a given point. There were, as may be seen by the order of procession, eleven districts represented, and there were about fifty lodges in the ranks.

An immense crowd of spectators witnessed the procession. Thousands of people surrounded the Midland station, from which it started, and the streets, all the way from the station to the Agricultural Grounds were one mass of humanity. The number of visitors in the town was variously estimated at from twelve to fifteen thousand, and it is calculated that there were in Peterborough on Wednesday the largest number of persons who have ever been in the town on any one day before. The Midland train from Port Hope was made up of nine coaches and nine improvised excursion cars, and the Belleville train of five coaches and sixteen excursion cars, and both of these trains were filled to their utmost capacity, the cars, in fact, being crammed with passengers. The Lakefield train consisted of fifteen cars, and was also well filled. Besides these trains, a great number came from Millbrook, and the Golden-Eye brought a large contingent up the river.

But although there was an immense number of people present, they had been expected, and the hotels, saloons and restaurants of the town were equal to the occasion, and did a thriving business, fully satisfying the demands made upon them. It was noticeable that the Roman Catholic hotel keepers came in for their full share of patronage, as they deserved to do, for they had contributed liberally to the subscription fund, both facts proving in a pleasing manner the absence of bigotry. There were a great number of refreshment booths put up for the day, there being no less than twelve or thirteen of these stands in the vicinity of the Drill Shed, and each one appeared to be plying a thriving trade.

In the afternoon the True Blue Lodges, Orange Young Britons and 'Prentice Boys, with the Fife and Drum Band of the Peterborough True Blues, formed a procession, and, marshalled by Mr. G. W. Hall, paraded through some of the principal streets. Many of the Lodges marched in order to the grounds, and by 3 o'clock a large assemblage had gathered on the grounds. Mr. J. B. McWilliams presided, and eloquent addresses were delivered by the following gentlemen :—The Rev. Brother Spearce, the Rev. Brother Foster, the Rev. Brother Evans, the Rev. W. C. Windel, of Cartwright, the Rev. John Shaw and the Rev. Alexander Bell. The Bowmanville, Cobourg, Peterborough bands rendered several selections at intervals during the afternoon, their music being greatly admired.

As the afternoon wore on, the visiting lodges began to leave the grounds and wend their way toward the Midland station. Shortly after five o'clock the Belleville and Lakefield trains departed, and soon after the Port Hope train also left the station, each train receiving parting cheers from the assembled thousands. By six o'clock the immense throng had vanished from the streets, and the town began to resume its wonted appearance.

In the evening a grand ball was held in the True Blue's Hall, which was attended by about sixty couples, a number of visiting brethren having remained over to be present at it, and with this event the proceedings of the day terminated.

NOTES.

The weather was cool and comfortable throughout the day, and although the clouds at times threatened rain, they only had the effect of keeping the temperature down and preventing dust from flying as much as it would have had the sun been shining.

Among the spectators on the streets a great many wore regalias, ribbons and flowers, and other insignia, in honor of the day.

Although there was such an immense crowd of people in town, drawn from all quarters, there was very little drinking, and almost no disturbance, the whole celebration passing off most harmoniously. It speaks volumes for this town, for the other places from which the people came, and for the Province itself, that although thousands of persons were present in one place, on an occasion likely to produce hilarity and excitement, yet not one arrest was made.

May all the celebrations pass of as successfully, as harmoniously and as peacefully as that of the 192nd anniversary of the battle of the Boyne in Peterborough.

POLICE COURT.

THE TELEPHONE POLES.

WEDNESDAY, July 12.—Thos. H. Wadland, agent of the Bell Telephone Company, was charged by P. C. McGhee with obstructing Water street by erecting poles for the telephone line, contrary to By-law No. 395.

Mr. Wadland's defence was authority derived from the act of incorporation.

The Police Magistrate took the view that was an enactment of a statute must take precedure over a By-law of the town, and dismissed the case.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE of the Kidneys, Diabetes and other diseases of the Kidneys and Liver, which you are being frightened about, Hop Bitters is the only thing that will surely and permanently prevent and cure. All other pretended cures only relieve for a time and then make many times worse.

A LONDON DRUGGIST says:—"during the many years I have been in the drug business, I have never had a medicine that gave such general satisfaction, or for which there was such a large sale, as there is for Mack's Magnetic Medicine, advertised in another column of your paper."

A DISASTROUS HURRICANE.

The Friendly Islands Devastated—Great Loss of Property and Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—A terrible hurricane visited the Friendly Islands on April 25th. At Van the barque Don Guillemo, Captain Johnston, went down at her anchors, the captain, officers and six seamen being lost. Five boys were saved. The hurricane was accompanied by a tidal wave fifteen feet high, which swept over the island and did terrible damage. McArthur's storehouse, containing over 3,000 tons of copra, was destroyed. All the natives' houses and many of the Europeans were carried away. Cocoanut trees were snapped off like pipe stems, and and the islands present a scene of wide spread desolation. At Tonqueta all the churches were destroyed. Two thousand houses were leavelled, stores and copra houses, with contents and everything near, swept away. A schooner was carried inland, and the German barque Cassilis foundered.

GLOBE, Arizona, July 13.—On Monday eleven men under Captain Lacy were surrounded by 75 Indians at the Middleton ranche, at Pleasant Valley. All their animals were driven off. No one was hurt. The party was coming here. 150 hostile Indians are now on the war path, and have women and children with them. The hostile Indians belong to the White Mountains.

C. BRITTON, Lindsay, Ont., writes :—"I have much pleasure in recommending Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in all cases of Jaundice, Biliousness, Sich Headache and Liver Complaint, for they have given universal satisfaction, and I have sold more of them the past season than any other one patent medicine."

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

HOSTILITIES BEGUN IN EGYPT—THE BOMBARDMENT OF ALEXANDRIA.

Statements in the British Parliament—The Struggle to be Prolonged—Sailors and Marines Landed—Germany Approves of England's Action—The Massacre of the Europeans—The Fire in Alexandria.

EUROPEANS MISSING.

LONDON, July 13.—The News says:—"No trace of the Christians or Europeans, could be found in Alexandria to-day. This has caused great excitement here. It is believed that there must have been hundreds, if not thousands, of them in the city when the bombardment began. The evacuation of Alexandria by Arabi under the flag of truce is commentod on here as a piece strategy for the success of which Admiral Seymour is accountable. Admiral Seymour is by many denounced in unmeasured terms.

EASTERN FATALISM.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 13.— It is reported that the Sultan said to Lord Dufferin while discussing Arabi's strategy:—"I told you so, you cannot follow him many days. You cannot measure what he may do in that time; you were not prepared for Arabi; Arabi is inscrutable; who knows now where the fire will burn?"

GERMANY'S APPROVAL.

PARIS, July 13.—It is reported here that Germany has expressed her complete approval of the understanding between England and Turkey. It is highly probable that Turkey, after the discomfiture of Arabi will be allowed to send a few battalions to Egypt to assist England in the reorganization of the country. France now seems likely to have nothing to do with the settlement of the Egyptian question. Deep disappointment and annoyance is felt.

THE EGYPTIAN LOSS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—It is now stated that fifteen hundred Arabs were killed and two thousand killed during the bombardment.

SEEKING PROTECTION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.— Colonel Long, the African explorer, now acting as American consul, and a party of men entered the city yesterday, followed by a battery of Gatlings, which engaged the rear guard of Arabi's army. The prefect of police was very much frightened, and sought Long's protection. Long saved him from the fury of the English soldiers, who were maddened at the recollection of the massacre in June.

A BATTALION BLOWN UP.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—The Khedive's Ras El Tin palace was looted shortly before the marines arrived. A whole battalion of Arabs were blown up in one of the forts during the bombardment. The fire is still raging. At least 2 miles of houses are burning. More than a third of the city appears to be in flames.

FIGHTING ON LAND.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—The firing heard at Alexandria yesterday, was by marines and sailors, and the plunderers, with Gatling guns. The detachment first landed had to wait for reinforcements before they were able to push forward to the centre of the town. There was some short and sharp firing, no water could be procured, owing to the stoppage of the works. There are some French ladies among the fugitives rescued yesterday, and also the Egyptian perfect of police, who succeeded the instigator of the massacre in Alexandria on June 11th. There are not enough sailors and marines to occupy all the streets. Some field pieces were landed by the Marines at the Ras El Tin port.

A PLUCKY DEED.

It is said a lighted shell having fallen upon the main deck of the Alexandria, a gunner picked it up and immersed the burning fuse in a bucket of water. This is described as more gallant than anything of the sort ever before chronicled. The gunner will be recommended for the Victoria Cross.

ATTACK ON THE KHEDIVE.

The Khedive's private secretary informed the correspondent that the morning after the bombardment Arabi Pasha ordered a detachment of soldiers to surround the Ramleh palace where the Khedive and Dervish Pasha were awaiting the issue of events. Arabi first declared the soldiers were only meant for the protection of the Khedive, but the soldiers hearing the English approaching, deserted their posts everywhere.

ARABI'S PLANS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13.—It is reported that Arabi's plan of action, decided upon before the arrival of the British fleet, involved the evacuation and destruction of Alexandria within 24 hours after the commencement of the bombardment. Arabi was then to proceed with his forces to Cairo, destroying the railroad as he proceeded. Cairo had been surrounded with fortifications behind which he could successfully resist any force until an army of two hundred thousand men would be at his command. It is stated that Arabi is in perfect accord with the false prophet, who is fast moving northward from the Soudan with an immense army of soldiers and religious enthsiasts. El Mehdi is to march in the direction of Cairo and join Arabi, and the combined armies will be enabled to protract the struggle indefinitely.

THE HOUSEHOLD CAVALRY.

LONDON, July 14.—Four hundred and fifty of the Household Cavalry leave England to-morrow week. Their destination is unknown.

MUST BE PUT DOWN.

LONDON, July 14.—The Times says:—By this last outrage Arabi has put himself beyond the pale of humanity. He must be followed and his army dispersed. It is satisfactory to know that the British preparations are complete and that we are ready to carry out the will of Europe, if no other nation can be found to do the work.'

ACTIVITY AT THE FRENCH ARSENALS.

MARSEILLES, July 14.—Despite the fact that it is the national fete day, work is carried on at the town arsenal.

THE SULTANS RIGHTS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 14.—The Turkish ambassador at London has telegraphed that Earl Granville informed him that England is compelled to proceed vigorously against the Egyptian rebels, but that the sovereign rights of the Sultan will be in no way prejudiced.

THE MASSACRE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—The number of persons massacred by the mob is estimated at two thousand.

THE KHEDIVE SAFE.

LONDON, July 14.—Admiral Seymour telegraphs:—"I occupied the Ras El Tin palace with Marines and spiked the guns in six batteries. The city is still burning, but I am clearing the streets. The Khedive is safe in the palace, which is garrisoned by seven hundred marines."

SCENES OF CARNAGE.

A correspondent on the Invincible telegraphs that the survivors of the massacre say from the part of the city they were defending they could hear shrieks and cries, and reports of pistols and guns. Scores of fugitives were cut down or beaten to death in their sight. All the public buildings were destroyed, and nothing European seems to have escaped the rage of the fanatics. Several shells were fired in the portion of the city where the conflagration broke out in hopes of scaring the pillagers, but that many of the pillagers remain is evident by the fact that several fresh fires have broken out. An officer just returned from the Chiltern reports that the scenes of the carnage on shore are appalling. The town for some hours after the troops left was a veritable pandemonium. Aboukir is yet untouched. One thousand men are known to be entrenched there. No reconnaissances have yet been made of the Rosetta and Damietta forts. The fugitives say the losses of the Egyptian artillerymen during the first days of the bombardment were very serious. The infantry did not suffer.

ARABI'S WHEREABOUTS.

Another correspondent says Arabi Pasha has gone to Kefuldewar, an hour's journey from Alexandria, where he is reported to be entrenching. The troops have blown up the railway between himself and Alexandria.

SUEZ CANAL.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13.—The troops of Arabi who have gone to Rosetta could have but one object, the destruction of the Suez Canal, which is but a short distance away. It is feared there will be a recurrence of the Alexandria scenes at Cairo. It is said the nationalists will make no effort to destroy the Suez Canal, leaving that to the Bedouins, while they will cut the Nile canals and flood the country.

BLUEJACKETS AND MARINES LANDED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 13.—Admiral Seymour today laded four hundred and fifty Marines and one hundred and fifty sailors. It is suspected that the town and forts are mined. The English church in Alexandria is said to have been destroyed by shell during the bombardment.

ADMIRAL SEYMOUR'S INSTRUCTIONS.

LONDON, July 13.—In the House of Commons to-day he Financial Secretary of War read the instructions to Admiral Seymour, which were that as the opposition of the forts had ceased he should not dismantle them or disable the guns; he should open friendly communications with the Khedive, and in the absence of the native authorities from Alexandria, land seamen or marines for police purposes, and he should inform the foreign commanders of these measures. The Admiral was instructed to invite the Khedive to assert his authority in restoring order. The landing of a British force for police purposes was to be in concert with the Khedive or any native authority in Alexandria, and any of the European men-of-war were to be invited to co-operate.

IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

LONDON, July 13.—In the House of Lords this evening Earl Granville stated that if the fleet at Alexandria required the assistance of troops they would be sent. There was no reason to believe that any of the great powers regarded the bombarding of Alexandria as other than an act of self-defence.

GENERAL WOLSELEY TO COMMAND.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—General Sir Garnet Wolseley is expected at port on Sunday. If Arabi makes a stand at Rosetta or Dananhour, Sir Garnet will have to proceed to Alexandria. The marines who spiked the guns found fifteen Armstrong guns of the newest pattern. Some were disabled. Beneath one were seven dead bodies. One thousand five hundred marines hold the arsenal. At the Custom House gate there are 190 marines with Gatling guns who will remain all night. The marines killed many looters. A crowd with a green flag rushed down the prineipal street in the Arab quarter shouting 'The Governor tells the people not to leave,' but being panic-stricken they did not heed him. It is reported that six persons were massacred at the French Consulate.

SHOOTING THE RIOTERS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—It is stated that Arabi Pasha's troops are very much disorganized. Two hundred marines have been ordered to march through the town and shoot all persons rioting. The report that the steamer Glenlyon was ashore at the Suez Canal and was being looted is unbounded. There are no signs of an attempt to block the canal.

DROWNED.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 13.—Captain William Maser was drowned last night while attempting to reach a fishing smack.

GUITEAU'S BODY.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—It is asserted that Guiteau's body, contrary to the general belief, still rests in the grave at the jail, and has not been exhumed.

DISEASED CATTLE.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The commissioners of agriculture has reported back the bill establishing a bureau of animal industry, and to prevent the exportation of diseased cattle, and the spread of infectious and contagious diseases among domestic animals.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

TEXARKANA, Ark., July 13.—The remains of Mayfield, one of the proprietors of the saloon crushed by a falling building last evening, has been taken out from the ruins, and also the bodies of two employees. Three men have been taken out alive. The fire is supposed to be under control. The loss of property will amount to $20,000, and the loss of life will reach twenty. There is great excitement over the disaster.

FISHERY EXHIBITION.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—A joint resolution has been passed to appropriate fifty thousand dollars, to enable the fifty United States to participate in the international fishery exhibition at London in 1883.

HORSE RACES.

SARATOGA, July 13.—The second race for the Alabama stakes, for three year old, ($800), one mile and a furlong, was won by Belle Runnimede. 1st, Bonnella, 2nd, and Olivia, 3rd. Time 2.08¾. In the third race, free handicap, $600, a mile and five hundred yards, Belle Hightland was 1st, Oak-Leaf, 2nd, and Mamie Fields, 3rd. Time 2.25½. The Fourth race, free handicap, steeple chase, $600, Turfman won.

AN ELOPEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Pa., July 14.—A sensation was caused here by the elopement and marriage of Miss Venie Clokey, (white), 35 years of age, who was connected with the best families and and owns considerable property, with John Miller, aged 21, a colored waiter, who formerly worked for the woman's family. The woman was once in an insane asylum, and will be taken back to-day by her friends.

A BANK FAILED.

PARKER CITY, Pa., July 14.—The Parker Saving Bank has failed. Liabilities, $100,000; assets, $50,000. Hundreds of depositers lose all their savings. The Glass Company is crippled. Parker the president of the bank, has been extensively engaged in oil business. It is said he was embarrassed by the the shrinkage in oil, due to the big strike in the Warren field. He founded the town of Parker.

HUNTING DESPERADOES.

TOMBSTONE, July 14.—Three desperadoes, who participated in the killing of three men, were killed in Sonora by the pursuers.

BEATING THE RECORDS.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Frank Fork's team Dick Swiveller and Edward yesterday, at Fleetwood Park, trotted a mile in a road waggon in 2.16¾, beating the best previous record by several seconds. P. Bush, of Buffalo, was one of the judges.

On Trial for Kissing.

BRAMPTON, July 13.—The Willoughby-Graham church trial continues to be the all absorbing topic here, particularly in Methodist circles. Several witnesses testified to-day that the Rev. Mr. Willoughby was not in Mr. Graham's house at all when the alleged kissing occurred. The commission will probably conclude their labours to-night, and to-morrow sum up and deliver their verdict.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1882.

WHAT IS HE GOING TO DO ABOUT IT?

A QUESTION of no little interest in the Canadian political world at the present time is: What is Mr. Mowat going to do about our Western and Northern Boundaries?

Previous to the election, we are all aware, Mr. Mowat's policy was the award and nothing but the award, while that of the Dominion Government was and is a reference of the whole question to the highest legal tribunal in the country—the Imperial Privy Council. Well, the elections have come and gone, and notwithstanding that the people were told by Mr. Mowat and his friends that if they wanted the award sustained, they must vote for Mr. Blake and his friends, yet a very respectable majority of the constituencies of Ontario have said no to Mr. Mowat's appeal, while the policy of Sir John Macdonald has been sustained by a sweeping majority of the electors of the Dominion. Such being the result of the late elections, people of ordinary common sense will be inclined to think that Mr. Mowat's only, as well as common sense course is to accept the verdict which has been rendered with the best grace he can, and at once accept the proposed reference to the Privy Council. No doubt the adoption of such a course will be a bitter pill for Mr. Mowat and his master, the Globe, to swallow, but even greater people than they, have, now and then, to take even more unpleasant medicine than this. The sooner, however, that they make up their minds to swallow it, and pursue the only sensible course open to them, the better for themselves and the worse for their political opponents. We say the worse for their political opponents, because the more they struggle against the acceptance of a policy which a majority of the people of their own Province have endorsed, and against a policy as to which there is clearly and justly, no popular indignation, the worse it will be for them. Whatever may be the views of Mr. Mowat and his colleagues upon this question, it is obvious that the people of Ontario do not look upon an appeal to the Privy Council with anything like the alarm which these gentlemen profess to feel. Evidently the people of this Province have confidence in the ability and justice of the court to which they are asked to go, and having that and desiring only justice between themselves as a Province and themselves as a Dominion, they are not alarmed at the comparatively trifling expense involved, much less feel disposed to suffer incomparably greater loss by keeping up the agitation for another five years in the vain hope that the next general election for the Dominion may reverse the decision just given, and still less will they consent to follow the mad suggestions indulged in by General Hay, Mowat & Co., during the last session of the Ontario Legislature, to the effect that we should go in and take possession by force. Such propositions may sound well enough in the columns of the Globe, but any attempt to put them into operation, will bring their political house about their ears in a manner which will prove rather astonishing to Mr. Mowat and entirely satisfactory to ourselves, seeing that we believe the sooner he is relieved of the cares of office, the better for the Province of Ontario.

SOME ELECTION STATISTICS.

Now that the returning officers have prepared their returns, some interesting information regarding the elections is obtainable. One striking feature in looking over the vote is that from many counties, notwithstanding that Reformers as well as Conservatives are returned, the Conservatives have a majority of the total vote.

Durham, for instance, returns one Reformer and one Conservative. The Conservative majority in the County is 262, the vote in the two ridings having been:—Grit, 2,755; Conservative 3,017.

Grey elects two Reformers and one Conservative. But the vote for the three ridings stood as follows:—Grit, 4,640, Conservative, 4,929. The Conservatives of the county are thus in a majority of 289. Yet the 4,929 Conservatives have but one representative, while the 4,640 Grits have two representatives.

Perth sends one Reformer and one Conservative to Parliament. The Grit vote in the county was 3,578, the Conservative vote 3,650, the Conservatives being in a majority of 72.

Simcoe returned two Conservatives and one Reformer. All over the county the Conservative majority was 2,998, or 19 more than the entire Grit vote, which stood at 2,979.

Wellington elects two Grits and one Conservative. The vote in the three ridings of that county gives for the entire county a Conservative majority of 31.

York is similarly situated to Wellington. It returns two Grits and only one Tory, yet it gives in the total vote a Conservative majority of 30.

These six counties give a Grit vote of 24,772, and a Conservative vote of 28,454, but they return 9 Grits, and though the Conservatives have a majority of 3,982 in the aggregate vote, only 7 Conservatives. This is one of the election anomalies for which Grits are thankful.—Mail.

Manufacturing Boom.

The Sarnia Canadian says two of our recently established factories are in full blast. The Hub and spoke factory has two months' orders ahead; the window blind factory is running to its utmost capacity. The roof is on the stove factory; and Mr. Craig is to be here next week to select the site for the Agricultural Implements factory, which is to be built at once. The efforts of our people to draw attention to the advantages of our town as a manufacturing centre, and their faith in voting aid in the shape of bonuses, are evidently on the eve of being repaid by substantial advantages, in which not only the town but the surrounding territory will participate.

The Longest Fence in the World.

The longest line of fence in the world will be the wire fence extending from the Indian Territory west across the Texas Pan-handle and thirty-five miles into New Mexico. Eighty-five miles of this fence is already under contract. Its course will be in the line of the Canadian River, and its purpose is to stop the drift of the Northern cattle. It is a bold enterprise, and it is believed will pay a large percentage on the investment. The fence will be over 200 miles long.

CAUGHT AT LAST

Canada Captures the Sea-Serpent and Ends His Life.

Sea-serpent stories have been giving the go-bye by newspaper paragraphers of late, owing to the incredible yarns of persons who profess to have seen the "rale ould divil himself." Many people are said to have seen these monsters in various parts of the country, but as no one had ever been known to capture one, the public received the tall yarns related cum grano salis. It is but a few years since Mr. Robert Young, one of our most worthy and respected citizens, caught a glimpse of an aquatic monster in Chats lake, which he describes as being of enormous size and proportions. Capt. Brown, of the steamer Alliance, also got a view of one of these monsters in the same waters the summer before last, and various other people claim to have seen large specimens at different times and at divers places. But this week we are in a position to announce the capture of what is probably one of the progeny of the real original old Chats lake serpent, which has often struck terror to the hearts of superstitious river men. While coming down from the Snow Rapids with a tow last Monday morning, and while off Blackwell's I., the crew of the Levi Young noticed a huge serpent swimming ahead of the boat. Mr. John Dungan, chief engineer, and a deck hand named Shaw, jumped into a bun and started in pursuit of the reptile. They succeeded in getting within striking distance of the serpent, when Mr. Dugan struck it a blow over the head with his oar. The beast then turned and made for the occupants of the boat, literally churning the water with his tail in his fury. Another powerful and well-directed blow with an oar on the neck of the serpent laid it out dead, when it was taken in tow and brought aboard the steamer. The crew of the boat stretched it out on the rail, and measured it with a rule. Its total length was eleven feet, while the body was thirteen inches in circumference. Its jaws were pried open and a pair of compasses inserted, which were opened out to a distance of six inches. The description given of this reptile is the same as that given by Mr. Young and Capt. Brown, so that is is possible that the one just killed is a lineal descendant of the old king snake who has sported himself in Chats lake for years past.—Arnprior Chronicle.

AN EGYPTIAN LEGION.

Bellicose Americans Forming an Organization to Fight England.

BUFFALO, July 12.—A correspondent writes to an evening paper as follows:—"Some veterans of the late war, who have not wholly lost their warlike feelings, have notified many veteran artillerymen, infantrymen and naval officers of the service in this country that a secret organization, for which the name of the 'Egyptian Legion' has been selected, will soon be put in working order. A committee has been appointed and correspondence with some power abroad has been carried on. The preparations so far have been kept very quiet, and those who know about the society seem to be under some obligation of secrecy, for they refuse to say anything about it. That it has something to do with England's trouble with Egypt seems very apparent, and as many Irishmen are interested in the legion, it is fair to presume that a military organization is being made, the services of which will be given to any European power which takes up a fight with England."

A TRUANT HUSBAND.

Charles Mann Arrested at Galt for Deserting His Wife.

A fortnight or so ago a young and good looking woman arrived in the city from England, and without loss of time made her way to police headquarters. She gave her name as Mrs. Mann and said she had come to this country in search of her husband, who had deserted her a year ago. The woman was afraid her truant lord had married again, and was very anxious to ascertain his whereabouts and bring him to justice. The police took the case in hand and succeeded in tracing Mann to Galt, where he is in the employ of the Grand Trunk railway. Mrs. Mann immediately procured his arrest, the charge against him being wife-desertion, it having been discovered that he had not taken unto himself a second partner. Mann was arraigned before Squire Speirs at Galt on Tuesday, but no proceedings were taken, the case being adjourned for six weeks in order to obtain evidence from England.—Toronto World.

CAMPBELLFORD.

FROG CAPTURE AND EXPORTATION.—The Herald says there are now three men employed in this vicinity, in the capture of the frog, and the exportation of the meat, viz., Messrs. Christopher Keller, Roderick his son, and John Brady. On Monday morning last, they shipped 115 pounds, and since the first of June, when they first commenced operations, they have shipped between 700 and 800 pounds. They have been catching in the river between Heeley Falls and Hastings, but on Tuesday last, they changed their "fishing" grounds to Rice Lake. The meat is shipped to Fulton market, N.Y., Albany, N.Y., and the Thousand-Island House, Thousand Islands. At each of these places it sells for 30 cents per pound. The frogs are caught at night with the help of a jack light, by which means they are easily approached and captured alive. They are put into a barrel alive, and the catchers do not kill the little creatures until they have a quantity sufficient to make a shipment.

THE PAPER MILL.—Messrs. Keeler and Cornell, proprietors of the paper mill, have dissolved partnership. Mr. Cornell is the retiring member. We learn that Mr. Keeler has more orders than he can possibly fill, and will be compelled to make new additions to his machinery. He will do a thriving business the coming fall.

NORWOOD.

THE CHIEF ENGINEER.—The Register says that Mr. Bray, Chief Engineer for this section of the Ontario & Quebec Railway, has taken up his residence here. Mr. Roxburgh is having a number of offices fitted up for Mr. Bray, and his staff, in his block on Peterborough street. The building has been rented for 18 months.

FITTING UP.—All the vacant houses in town are being rapidly fitted up in consequence of the activity in railroad circles of late.

THE CONTRACTS.—Scarcely a day passes that we do not have some five or six railroad men through our village. Several contractors have passed over this section of the O. & Q., during the past week, with a view to contracting for it.

THERE would be little if any sickness during the hot months of July and August, if every one would take Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, as they prevent and cure all derangements of the Stomach and Bowels. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

BELLEVILLE.

ARRESTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.—John Burrows, the wheelsman of the steamer Alexandra, who accidentally pushed a young man named Scott overboard whilst the boat was lying at Trenton last Sunday, was arrested in Kingston on Monday night, on a charge of manslaughter. He was taken back to Trenton on Tuesday evening by Randall Cronk, Chief Constable of Trenton, and was taken to Belleville on Wednesday afternoon. His counsel, Mr. O'Rourke, and the Coroner also went to Belleville, and had a conference with the Police Magistrate. Burrows was committed for trial.

The Egyptian Army.

If it should come to land fighting in Egypt, the force against which the British would have to compete would not be a formidable one. The regular Egyptian army cantoned in the Delta is composed of six regiments of infantry, 515 officers, and 9,217 rank and file; 2 regiments of cavalry, 66 officers, and 964 troopers, and one regiment of artillery, 42 officers and 964 soldiers. To these troops must be added 1,082 officers and 8,902 soldiers of all arms on duty in the Provinces, in the ports, and on coast gaurd service, among whom are 47 officers and 117 Professers attached to the military school at Abassich. Besides the above are 1,045 officers, "waiting orders," and seven corps of irregulars—Bedouin horsemen—about 28,000 in all, who may be ordered into the field if necessary. All these troops are well organized; the regulars are admirably drilled, and armed with Romingtons; the officers are much better educated in their profession than any in the army of the Sultan, but they seem to lack entirely that courage which distinguishes the Osmanli. They fought wretchedly on the Kara-Sou in 1877, and they were disgracefully beaten by the Abyssinians, so that no serious resistance need be apprehended should the British forces land. Arabi himself has no military experience, and Gen. Stone, by whom Arabi has invented, although not without ability, has lost much of the confidence of those in honor whose triumph he illuminated his house on the expulsion of M. Rivers Wilson from the Ministry of Khedive Ishmail.

CEDAR PAVEMENTS.

Says the Northwestern Lumberman :—Cedar pavements seem to grow in popularity, and are being adopted in many cities where they have been heretofore unused, and yet they are not altogether in favor. The following remarks are made concerning wood pavements in London:

"The character of the wooden pavements may be known by the occupants of carriages in driving over them. Where the blocks are laid upon sand and boards, the vibrating and drumming effects on nerves and ears are most distressing. When laid with open joints the surface becomes rapidly worn and uneven; and when laid upon an imperfectly formed or weak foundation, the surface also becomes uneven, alternating hills and holes, retaining dirt and wet, and so tending more and more to the destruction of the road. Blocks of wood unexceptional in character, form and dimensions of material, laid hard on an exceptionally good cement concrete foundation, close-jointed, but without the felt bedding and jointing, have a disagreeable jarring effect, though in a less degree than the examples previously described. Some of the wood-paving companies must have been very stupid, and also very difficult to teach, or they would have learned, by their failures, sooner than they appear to have done, and we should not then have seen most important main thoroughfares blocked for weeks at a time by the pulling up of the entire wood construction to begin again as from the beginning, and this process more than once over."

In response to a question raised at Toronto, as to the relative value of old and young cedar, for street paving blocks, a lumberman addressed the following to the Globe:

"If you will kindly grant me a little more latitude I would like to make a few observations with respect to your views expressed as to the merits of old cedar vs. young cedar for roadways. If I am right, I take it that you assume that the young cedar is closer grained than the older wood, and therefore calculated to wear longer, and may therefore make the best roadway. If your theory is correct, then those whose duty it was to decide as to the most suitable blocks for our roadway are still wrong, inasmuch as the older cedar would not wear evenly with the saplings, and therefore the pavement would soon present the same aspect as that on King street; namely, full of holes and ruts; and if my theory is correct—that the saplings will decay before the older wood — then they are equally at fault, as the decay will undoubtedly commence at the point where the block comes into contact with the sandin used the construction of the road bed. Any one having had experience with cedar posts knows quite well how quickly destructive sand is to cedar, and it requires but little time to determine that where small cedar, composed of fully one-third sap-wood, is firmly pressed down into sharp sand, and assisted by moisture, the process of decay will soon commence, and then the surface of the roadway, under heavy traffic, will become uneven. I am willing to stake more than my reputation that the larger the block the longer the life of the roadway, and it will amply repay our citizens to look well into this matter before committing themselves to large undertakings in this direction, and at all events, as you remark, experiments can be made which will be ultimately productive of good."

SCHOOL DISCIPLINE.

The natural curiosity and interest which I felt in first entering a class-room of Florentine children was met by a look on the faces of the scholars so clear and unmistakable as to draw from me the exclamation, "How happy these children look!" I turned to the teachers and saw the same gentle unruffled look reflected in their faces. One of them replied, "They are very good children." Suspecting that such general good equanimity could only be purchased by laxity of dicipline in some form or other, I asked, "Do you ever punish them?" Her face became ominously grave as she answered, "Oh yes! sometimes we must." I expected a birch rod at least. "How do you punish them?" "I give them a bad mark?" I looked incredulous. "It is felt to be a great disgrace," she added. "What do you do if a child tells a lie or steal?" "I separate it from its companions, or keep it in for a few minutes, or perhaps I write to the parents." "Do you never beat them?" "Oh never, the child would become perfectly unmanageable, and I should lose all my influence in the school, and discipline would be destroyed." The explanation which I received to this statement was that it was the rule to make punishment moral, and that the disgrace of a bad mark had gained such a hold on the children and their parents that it was found sufficient. I objected that Italians are notoriously high-spirited and fiery. The teacher replied, "Corporal punishment would develope all the bad qualities of a child, and it would become perfectly uncontrollable and wild. It is never done." One teacher boxed a child's ears, and received instant dismissal from the municipality, on the ground that by this act she had forfeited her influence over the other children, and her power of controlling the school. The impression I received in this school was confirmed by every fresh visit I paid to boys' and girls' schools in Florence. It was impossible not to ponder over so significant a fact.—Macmillan's Magazine.

IS THERE WATER ON THE MOON?

In a recent communication, Mr. Helmuth Dueberg, of Berlin, presents a new theory of the moon, and argues the possibility of its being inhabited on the further side.

It is well known that the moon always presents the same face to the earth. Because this side of the moon is an airless and waterless desert, we are not justified, Mr. Dueberg thinks, in assuming that the other side is like it.

Since the moon does not revolve so as to change the side presented to the earth, and since the attraction of the earth for the moon is very great, the heavierside, if there is any, must be turned this way. Supposing the moon to possess air and water, these lighter and more fluent elements of her composition would of necessity lie on the further side.

In the absence of any centrifugal force due to rotation on her own axis, the only centrifugal force acting upon the moon must be that resulting from the moon's motion round the earth. This would tend still more to throw the moon's air and water to the "out" side with respect to the earth. For a practical illustration of this view, Mr. Dueberg suggests a ball swinging in a circle by means of a core. The ball, like the moon, will always turn the same side to the centre of revolution; and if it be dipped in any liquid, the liquid will be rapidly accumulated on the opposite or outer side. Hence the possibility of water, air and life on the moon, around the shores of a central lunar sea, on the side always turned away from us.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,
The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,
Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.
Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.
STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.
Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Price 9 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

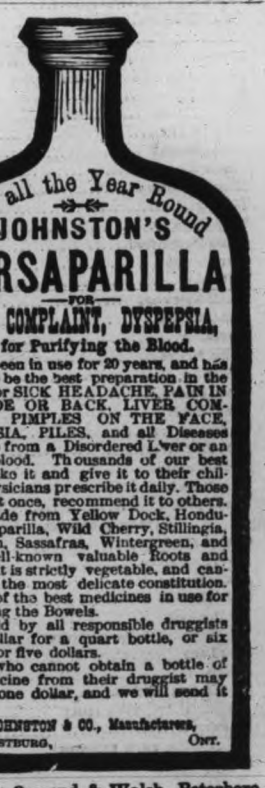
SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.



SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.
DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)
THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

It has been in use for 20 years, and has proved to be the best preparation in the market for SICK HEADACHE, PAIN IN THE SIDE OR BACK, LIVER COMPLAINT, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, DYSPEPSIA, PILES, and all Diseases that arise from a Disordered Liver or an impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once, recommend it to others.
It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for Regulating the Bowels.
It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.
Those who cannot obtain a bottle of this medicine from their druggist may send us one dollar, and we will send it to them.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Draughts.

Mr. Wylie, the "Herd Laddie," whose movements have been watched with interest by many in Peterborough since his visit here, is astonishing the draught players of Syracuse, N.Y.

The Weather.

The weather continues cool and pleasant. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes, light to moderate winds, fair weather, stationary or slightly lower temperature. Saturday fine.

A Trade Organ.

We have received a specimen number of the Merchant and Manufacturer and Millers' Gazette, a new journal published in Toronto and devoted to the interests of the wholesale trade and home industries. It contains much useful information for business men, and should be successful.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway, for the week ending July 8, 1882, was as follows :—Passengers and Mails, $7,090.16 ; Freight, $16,075.67. Total, $23,165.83, as compared with $16,285.64 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $6,880.19 ; and the aggregate traffic to date is $502,804.81, being an increase of $136,154.69 over 1881.

The Belleville Excursion.

The St. Andrew's Church excursion from Belleville to Peterborough takes place on Wednesday next, and there will be a circus in Belleville on the same day. But as the excursion is for the benefit of the church, and under the auspices of the ladies of the church, the circus will probably not interfere very greatly with the patranage extended to the excursion.

Promenade Concert.

The promenade concert to be held in the Drill Shed this evening by the Fire Brigade Band should be borne in mind. The proceeds of the concert are to be used in procuring new instruments for the band, and as the object is such a worthy one, and one in which all the townspeople should feel an interest, there should be a large attendance ; besides those who are present may expect a most enjoyable evening.

Entrance Examination.

There were sixty-three candidates at the examination for entrance to the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, and out of that number thirty-nine were successful, the following being their names and the number of marks obtained :—

Police Court.

The Police Court sittings on Thursday and to-day were blanks, no cases being disposed of on either day.

Dead.

George Haggart, the young man who was run over by a train near Millbrook, on Thursday morning, and had his legs cut off, lingered until this morning and expired at 3 o'clock.

Masonic.

At the session of the Grand Lodge of Canada, A. F. & A. M., at London, on Thursday, R.W. Bro. E. H. D. Hall was elected District Deputy Grand Master for Ontario District.

Pensioners Paid.

Mayor Milligan, staff officer of pensioners, visited Peterborough to-day, and paid the pensioners of this district. There were several additions to his list on this occasion, as several of the newly arrived emmigrants are old soldiers.

Personal.

Mr. George A. Cox, President of the Midland Railway, who is at present in England, has secured passages for himself and family in a steamship which sails from Liverpool on August 10th. Previous to sailing he intends to take a trip on the continent.

Re-Appointed.

The Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, of St. Luke's Church, has again been appointed an examiner in Divinity, at Trinity College School, Port Hope, in company with the Bishop. Being thus re-appointed is a good proof of Mr. Bradshaw's competency and fitness for the position, and that his ability has been recognized.

Removed.

The Town Council allowed the Orangemen ten days to remove the arches, which were erected for the twelfth of July celebration, from the streets, but they acted more promptly than that. On Thursday, the 13th, a gang of men were at work removing them, and that evening they had all disappeared from the streets.

Flying Paper.

From the appearance of the corner of Simcoe and Water streets it would seem as though some person had made a practice of deliberately dumping a waste paper basket on the street at that place. The pile of paper was at first a small one, but it is steadily increasing. It is no wonder that there is waste paper flying on the streets.

Annual Meetings.

The annual meeting of the share holders of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Limited) is being held this afternoon as we go to press. The principal business of the meeting is the reception and consideration of the directors' annual report, and the election of directors for the ensuing year. A report of the proceedings will be given to-morrow.

Sunday School Pic-Nic.

The George Street Methodist Sunday School hold their annual pic-nic to-day in a grove near Hastings. The excursionists went down this morning, leaving the Midland station at seven o'clock. A large number of the teachers, scholars and their friends got on the train at the Peterborough station, and their number was augmented at the Ashburnham station. The train consisted of nine coaches.

Another Railway Accident.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that as the Peterborough excursion train was leaving the Junction last night, on its way to town, a young man named William Fargey stepped between two cars and fell to the ground, between the rails. One car passed over him, but as the train was moving very slowly, he managed to get himself from under the wheels, and he lay alongside the track till the train passed by. He was struck in falling by a brake-beam and was badly injured internally.

Good for Peterborough.

In a long description by the Lindsay Post of the extensive improvements at the sawmills of Messrs. R. C. Smith & Co. at Fenelon Falls, we find the following paragraphs, which will be read with pleasure by the many friends in this town and neighbourhood of the gentlemen who are mentioned with such well deserved appreciation :—

"This season the Yankee and live gangs have been discarded, together with the rose wheels which furnished them with power. Replacing them the owners have put in two stock gangs and a splendid gang circular, a most useful and efficient machine, which does the slabbing for both gangs. All of this plant has been furnished by Mr. William Hamilton, of Peterborough, and is a fine solid sample of milling work."

"The whole of the improvements in connection with the mills and premises have been made since the engagement of Mr. Walter Nesbitt as manager of the business for the firm. Mr. Nesbitt has had experience of a practical nature in connection with Ludgate mills at Harwood, which has been used to advantage in the present case. Brains, energy and reliability are of substantial value in any trade, and particularly so in the lumber interest, and it is gratifying to know that Mr. Nesbitt has been thoroughly appreciated. Mr. John Pinch has had charge of the mill-wrighting and work of putting in the new plant, and his work is most creditably done. Mr. H. G. Boswell has proved an able lieutenant and is a man whom it would be a mistake for the firm to be without."

Those affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

Among the most prevelant fatal and sudden attacks of diseases, are those incident to the Summer and Fall, such as cholera morbus, bilious colic, diarrhœa, dysentry, etc., that often prove fatal in a few hours. That ever reliable remedy Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, should be at hand for use in emergency.

Boys' White Shirts, Men's White and Coloured Shirts, with or without Collar, in all sizes at "Habiliment Hall."

LINDSAY.

Large Flock.—The Warder says that on Thursday Mr. Jack, of this town, brought in a very large flock of sheep. They were fine looking animals and appeared to have been carefully collected. We believe Mr. Jack intends shipping them to England.

Fire.—Early on Wednesday morning the house occupied by Mr. P. O'Lachlin, in the east ward, was discovered to be on fire. O'Lachlin, whose family were out of town, went home some little time before, merely lighting a candle to go to bed, and had no fire any where, but was aroused soon by the smoke and the burning building, and which was already beyond his power to extinguish. The hose on account of there being no hydrant near was useless and the building soon burned down. Mr. O'Lachlin's loss will be about $500; no insurance.

Nearly Drowned.—A nine year old daughter of Mr. John Campbell, of this town, narrowly escaped drowning on Sunday afternoon. It appears the little girl with a companion was walking about the swing bridge on the upper end of Lindsay street and finally crossed to the river, where one of the planks had been pulled up. In attempting to step from one side to the other she missed her foot and was precipitated into the river. An alarm was instantly given by her companion, but she sank for the second time before assistacce arrived. On coming to the surface the third time she stretched out her hand, which was caught by Master J. McCausland, who succeeded in getting her safely to shore. Her escape was almost miraculous.

PORT HOPE.

Trinity College School.—The closing exercises of this school were held on Wednesday last. The Bishop of Tennesee preached at 10.30. The distribution of prises took place at noon. There were a large number of dignitaries and members of the church present, with a number of the parents and friends of the scholors from a distance. We have not yet been favoured with a list of the prize takers.

A Pleasant Gathering.—There was a very pleasant gathering of ladies and a number of gentlemen (official members) at the Methodist parsonage last Wednesday evening, to welcome the Rev. T. W. Jeffery, the new pastor of the church, and wife. Mrs. Jeffery arriyed from Burlington by the Passport on Wednesday evening. A very pleasant time was spent in conversation etc. The members of the Ladies Aid Society have been refitting the minister's residence very nicely at considerable expense. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery were highly gratified at the kindness manifested.

Here are some more of the many hundreds of the leading people in the Dominion of Canada who have been cured of Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung disease by Dr. Souvielle's Spirometer and instrument, which conveys medicinal properties direct to the seat of disease Read and judge for yourself.

Several of my family and friends have been cured of bronchitis, asthma and catarrh by using the Spirometer. John P. Whelan, Manager of Post and True Witness, Montreal. Mr. C. Hill, Montreal, catarrah and bronchitis. Mr. DeBoucherville. of the Indian Deparment, Ottawa, catarrh of many years, now cured ; Mr. Geo. Ager, Ottawa, cattarrh and lung disease ; cured. Mrs. Smith, London, wife of Medical Detective, cured of catarrh. George Maguire, Toronto, 482 Adelaide street West ; daughter cured of asthma. George Willis, Exeter, Ont,, Catarrh and Bronchitis. J. D. Armstrong, 186 Yonge street, Toronto, catarrh and catarrahl deafness. Thomas Telfer, 12 Merinda street, Toronto, asthma ; cured. Mr. Benj. A. Drake, St. Urbain street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured.

Also, the no less surprising cure of Mrs. Benoit, 114 Cathedral street, daughter of Mrs. David Perrault, who suffered from asthma, and bronchitis for over eight years, and who is now perfectly cured.

Mrs. Adamson, of Belleville, cured of bronchitis, and her sister cured of bronchitis and lung disease.

The above is sufficient to convince the public of the merits of the Spirometer. The instrument will be expressed to any address.

Call or write, enclosing stamps for reply, to the International Throat and Lung Institute 75 Yonge street, Toronto, Dr. M. Souvielle and a competent body of English and French physiciann always in attendance. Every information given. Physicians and sufferers can try the Spirometer free.

A London Druggist says :—"during the many years I have been in the drug business, I have never had a medicine that gave such general satisfaction, or for which there was such a large sale, as there is for Mack's Magnetic Medicine, advertised in another column of your paper."

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

SATURDAY, JULY 15, 1882.

Cricket Notes.

The Port Hope and Peterborough Cricket Clubs play a match on the Ashburnham Ground on Tuesday next. As several of the first twelve of the Trinity College School Club play with the home team, a good game may be expected.

Mr. M. Hamilton, of Peterborough, won a beautiful bat by making the highest batting average at Trinity College School, Port Hope. We congratulate him on his success.

The return match between the Peterborough and Lakefield clubs took place at Lakefield. The following team represented Peterborough: Messrs. Hartley, Hatton, Hamilton, Hamilton, Conolly, Burritt, Beck, McGill, Montgomery, Orde and Rogers.

West Riding Agricultural Society.

A meeting of the Directors of this Society was held on Saturday last, when it was decided to have the usual fall exhibition on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 3rd and 4th of October next. The prize list of the last exhibition was gone over and considerable additions thereto were made in the classes for horses, cattle, poultry, etc. It was decided to throw the ladies' work, and fine arts classes open to the competition of those living outside, as well as inside the Riding, and as a consequence, the good people living east of the Otonabee River, will this year be able to compete side by side with those on the west, and should cause the exhibition of 1882 to surpass that of any of its predecessors in these departments. A rule was adopted that members subscriptions must be paid on or before the 15th of September, to enable them to compete without paying an extra fee of 50 cts. Those desiring further information will be able to obtain it from the prize list which will be issued in a few days. A motion was also passed appropriating $50 towards a county ploughing match, in accordance with the grant already made by the County Council, and Messrs. William J. G. Bennett, and A. Scott, were appointed members of the managing committee on behalf of the Society.

Railway Notes.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—The excursion to Peterborough yesterday was probably the largest railway excursion that ever left Belleville. When the immense train, consisting of 21 cars drawn by two engines, arrived in Peterborough there were 2,070 people on board. The excursion did not arrive in Belleville until after 11 o'clock.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"Extensive improvements are being made in the interior of the Midland railway station here. The agent's office is being enlarged, the station is being painted throughout, and other improvements made which will completely change the appearance of the interior of the building."

The Madoc Review says that good progress is being made with the Central Ontario Railway at Eldorado. A large force of men and teams are at work. Between the Central Ontario Toronto and Ottawa, and Ontario and Quebec lines, railway matters are booming in this neighbourhood.

The Orillia Packet says that the Midland Railway is being re-ballasted from Port Hope to Midland. When this work is completed, the run from Toronto to Orillia will occupy an hour less time than at present.

A despatch from London, England, says:—"The Midland Railway Company of Canada invite subscriptions for £610,800 sterling consolidated mortgage bonds, bearing interest at 5 per cent., the principle being repayable in January, 1912. The purpose for which the loan is raised, as set forth, is to redeem the bonded debt of the original companies, and pay for the construction of thirty miles of the Toronto and Ottawa line."

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS AT THE SCENE OF OPERATIONS.

Alexandria Totally Ruined—Cairo Excited—More Soldiers Landing—Greece Ready to Assist—Confidence Reviving to Alexandria—The Khedive Resuming Authority.

A SCENE OF CONFUSION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—The town is totally ruined. The houses from the Great Square to the Custom House have been plundered. In the square itself and other wealthy European quarters there is hardly a building not ruined or still burning. The court house International tribunal has so far escaped; the Anglo-Egyptian Bank is also preserved. The streets are strewn with empty clocks and jewel cases and similar debris, but very few dead bodies have been found. Two-thirds of the troops deserted during the bombardment.

CONSTERNATION AT CAIRO.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—It is reported that consternation prevails at Cairo over the expected arrival of the army of Arabi, and a massacre is apprehended.

A JOINT EUROPEAN POLICE CONTINGENT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—The marines who have been patrolling the town embarked in the Bittern this evening. A large party of British, assisted by men from the neutral men-of-war, remain to keep order in the town to-night. It is again reported that Arabi Pasha is outside the town with a strong force, but nothing absolutely certain is known concerning his movements.

THE KHEDIVE'S COURAGE.

LONDON, July 14.—The News' correspondent at Alexandria says:—The Khedive's coolness and courage never left him during the crisis. The sailors have arrested the further progress of the flames at the Harem palace. Diplomatists are trying to establish with the Khedive a semblance of a Ministry. People cannot understand why the Americans, who can only muster a handful of marines, are invited to land men. An officer on shore has sent word to the ships that a hundred refugees on the Marina are clamouring for food; biscuit is being sent them.

PILLAGERS ARRESTED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—All the Arabs are carrying white handkerchiefs on sticks, and showing great anxiety to be thought friendly. General Stone confirms the report that Arabi Pasha ordered the murder of the Khedive and the sacking of the town. Two Arab soldiers have been seized with plunder, and will be tried for pillaging. Several Arabs were also arrested with a large quantity of loot in their possession.

LOOTING TO BE STOPPED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—A strong body of men from the fleet, joined by detachments from the neutral ships, have gone ashore to stop looting and incendiarism.

COLORS HOISTED AND LOWERED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—The Marine Artillery has occupied Fort Napoleon, commanding the town. The Khedive's yacht has been towed from the dock and is ready to receive him. Fort Marabout to-day hoisted the Egyptian colours, but lowered them on the British squadron assembling around it. The fleet has been ordered to do no further damage unless provoked.

GREECE TO AID IN INTERVENTION.

ATHENS, July 14.—The report that the Government of Greece has expressed its readiness to join, with a corps of seven thousand men, in intervention in Egypt is confirmed.

A FRENCH RUMOUR.

PARIS, July 14.—It is stated that the accord between England and France continues. They are expected to come to a definite understanding in regard to Egypt.

TREATED AS A REBEL.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 14.—The Turkish Prime Minister in a council meeting last evening in Constantinople maintained that Arabi was a rebel, and must be treated as such.

THE CABINET COUNCIL.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 14.—The Council of Ministers broke up without adopting any definite resolution, but it is said a Pasha visited Earl Dufferin, and upon the latter's statements the Porte's course will depend.

AN AMERICAN CONTINGENT FOR THE SHORE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—Admiral Nicholson is now sending, at the request of Admiral Seymour, sixty marines, commanded by Captain Cochrane and Lieutenants Denny and Waller, to maintain order. Stone Pasha has been with the Khedive from first to last. It was erroneous that he had espoused the party of Arabi, and he told Colonel Long so this morning. Colonel Long took the flag ashore. The consulate is burned. Major Tulloch is acting chief of staff. Admiral Seymour says he would like to shake the hands of the men behind the defences of the Mex battery, who made a brave defence. The Quinnebaug and the Nipsic, with Admiral Nicholson, are now entering the port. They were the first to enter.

THE MASSACRES EXAGGERATED.

LONDON, July 15.—The reported massacres in Alexandria were exaggerated at least ten fold.

PRINCE ARTHUR GOING TO EGYPT.

LONDON, July 15.—It is stated that the Duke of Connaught will command a brigade of guards in Egypt. The Household cavalry do not take heavy kits for active service.

THE CONFERENCE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Julo 15.—It is said that all the ambassadors have received instructions that the conference on Saturday recommended the Port to intervene in Egypt. It is reported that a number of Arabian Sheiks have promised support to Arabi.

EGYPTIAN ARTILLERYMEN EXTERMINATED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—The fire is not spreading, and nearly all the looting is stopped. A force of Germans were landed to protect the hospital, and a party of Americans to establish the consulate. The bombardment on Tuesday almost exterminated the Egyptian corps of Artillerymen, the best branch of the army.

ORDER BEING RESTORED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 30.—The marines are patrolling the streets. It is now possible to walk in the streets without an escort. The cafes and shops are re-opening, and confidence is generally reviving. Admiral Seymour is organizing a police force as fast as possible.

REINFORCEMENTS.

LONDON, July 15.—In the House of Commons Sir Charles Dilke being asked whether steps had been taken to intercept Arabi, said that our proceedings relate to Alexandria. The other matter is for the Powers to take action upon. One thousand more marines have been ordered from Malta to Alexandria.

THE KHEDIVE RESUMES AUTHORITY.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—The Khedive's arrival has caused lively satisfaction, for the way is now opened out of the deadlock which before prevailed. Hitherto we were merely in the position we had at first assumed, namely, that we were forced to destroy the forts as an act of self-preservation, but desired in no way to interfere with the city or the people in general. Now something like a regular Government can be established. The Khedive again assumes authority, and although that authority may be solely due to our protection this can be ignored, and he will issue his proclamation and orders as if by proprio motu. It is by his request that now our marines are on shore patrolling the streets and trying to stop the terrible chaos which has existed for three days. Streets upon streets have been burned. Many more Christians in hiding have escaped, and their stories are all of the same kind, murder and robbery.

DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY.

The destruction of property is complete and absolute. In the European quarter every house appears to have been sacked before it was fired; the whole population left loaded with European goods. From friendly natives the Admiral obtained information that the main body of Arabi's army has gone to Damanhour, fifteen miles away, where strong works have erected. A considerable force, however, is stated to be still on the outskirts of the town. At present all reports concerning Arabi must be received with caution. They are most conflicting, and the descriptions when investigated appear to be simply the product of native imagination. Fort Napoleon has been occupied by the marines. It may be said that all the defences of Alexandria are now in our hands.

A CONVICT SHOT.

MONTREAL, July 13.—The following are the facts connected with the shooting of a convict at the provincial penetentiary at St. Vincent de Paul yesterday. Nineteen prisoners were sent under charge of four keepers to the quarries situated about two miles from the walls. All went well until two o'clock in the afternoon. After dinner they were allowed a rest of twenty minutes, when two of the men, named Jean Baptiste Deragon and Alexander Bernard, with four others, reclined in the grass in front of the dining-hall, on the top of which several sentries were placed. After remaining there for a short time the two men named seized a moment when they were not observed by the keeper on duty, slipped round to the other side of the hall, and started for the woods, about a quarter of a mile distant. Couvrette, one of the sentinels on the roof, saw them, and fired three shots at the fugitives; none, however, took effect. Keeper McElwaine then started in pursuit, but both convicts maintained their lead, Bertram being considerably in advance of Deragon. Both finally disappeared in the woods. McElwaine went in after them and searched in every direction without being able to discover any tracks. He accordingly returned to the open field between the wood and the quarry, where he remained on watch, knowing that the men could not leave the wood without his seeing them. About six o'clock he saw Deragon on the outskirts of the wood on the opposite side to the quarry. He immediately gave chase but the runaway being a young active man, rapidly gained on him, and had almost reached the thick bush when McElwaine called out to him to stop, threatening to shoot him if he did not. The result of this was increased speed of the convict. The officer fired into the air, and seeing that the man did not slacken his pace, fired at him without taking aim. The unfortunate fellow dropped to the ground, and when McElwain came up he found him dead. He immediately procured a cart, and conveyed the body to the penitentiary. Dr. Pominville, the surgeon, examined it immediately afterwards, and pronounced the man dead. The dead convict was 21 years of age, and a powerfully built fellow. He bore a bad character. He was sentenced to four years for horse stealing, and commenced his term on the 21st February, 1881. He was a native of Laprairie, near this city. The coroner held an inquest this morning when a verdict of justifiable homicide was returned. The warden feels quite dejected and sorry for the unfortunate convict's death. The deceased's companion is still at large.—Mail.

THE Rev. Charles E. Piper, formerly of Pittfield, N. H., but now of Wakefield, R. I., writes:—"I have used Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in my family for over two years, and as a result have not called a physician in the whole time. My wife had been an invalid for two years, but these bitters have cured her."

PARNELL'S HEALTH AND POLICY.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The Herald's London despatch says that Parnell last night announced his intention to go to the continent for some months and stay among the Swiss mountains, until after the passage of the Arrears Bill, for the benefit of his health. On Thursday he was taken sick in the House and obliged to retire in the middle of a discussion. He suffered considerable mental anxiety since his release, owing to the quarrels and disunion among the minor leaders of his party. He felt keenly the attacks made both in Ireland and America. Before going away he will complete the arrangements for establishing the anti-eviction committee in Dublin to protect tenants from the operations of land lords of the Corporation, which aims to carry out wholesale evictions under the new Coercion Act. Parnell's policy will be to keep Ireland as quiet as possible and deprive the Government of all excuse for using the despotic power conferred by the Crimes Prevention Act until the next general election, and in the meantime to obtain the number of minor reforms to which the Liberal party stands pledged. He calculates having 78 reliable followers in the next Parliament, by whose aid he will be able to exercise sufficient pressure to compel the Ministry to grant a measure of self-government, which will satisfy the aspirations of the Irish people.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

A LONDON DRUGGIST says:—"during the many years I have been in the drug business, I have never had a medicine that gave such general satisfaction, or for which there was such a large sale, as there is for Mack's Magnetic Medicine, advertised in another column of your paper."

C. BRITTON, Lindsay, Ont., writes:—"I have much pleasure in recommending Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in all cases of Jaundice, Biliousness, Sich Headache and Liver Complaint, for they have given universal satisfaction, and I have sold more of them the past season than any other one patent medicine."

BRIGHT'S DISEASE of the Kidneys, Diabetes and other diseases of the Kidneys and Liver, which you are being frightened about, Hop Bitters is the only thing that will surely and permanently prevent and cure. All other pretended cures only relieve for a time and then make many times worse.

ADVICE TO CONSUMPTIVES.—On the appearance of the first symptoms—as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations, followed by night-sweats and cough—prompt measures for relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs, therefore use the anti-scrofula, or blood-purifier and strength-restorer—Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to Cod Liver Oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood, and kindred affections, it has no equal. Sold by druggists the world over. For Dr. Pierce's pamphlet on Consumption, send two stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

We pride ourselves in having the Largest, Richest and most Varied Stock of Gents' Furnishings in town. "Habiliment Hall."

THE EGYPTIAN LEADER.

As there seems to be a disposition in some quarters to represent Arabi Pasha as a popular national leader engaged in patriotic warfare for his country, it may be well briefly to give the facts. Ahmed el Arabi, so-called because he has the wild desert blood in his veins, is a military adventurer of the type so well-known in in Spain and Mexico. An officer in the Egyptian army he ingratiated himself with the soldiery, while himself little inclined to be subordinate. Being imprisoned with other officers for insubordination he was forcibly released by his men, and thus his name first became known in Europe. Twice since then he has increased his power and rank by terrorizing the Khedive by a military demonstration, till he has become a Pasha and Minister of War. He has, as the favorite leader of the insubordinate army, thwarted the Khedive in his efforts to improve the state of the country, and if he did not foment he did nothing to check the outrages on the Christians, which has caused the recent exodus from Egypt. No doubt he has endeavoured to strengthen his position as a revolutionary military leader by exciting the prejudices of the more fanatical of the populace, just as he has called the gaol birds of Alexandria to his assistance in the work of destruction and massacre. To call such an adventurer a patriotic leader is an abuse of terms.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

JUDGE CLARKE'S judgment in the Cobourg election recount is given in full in the Sentinel-Star. It is very full and elaborate, and gives clear and satisfactory reasons for his decision on each point.

* * *

THE Lindsay Post is again indignant at being told the truth by us, and wishes to compare its recent article on the Trent Valley Canal with our own censure of that article. The difference betwen the two articles is this: the Post, without any justification, but to make political capital, falsely accuses the Dominion Ministers of conduct so dishonest that if it were true they should be scouted not only from office, but from any decent man's society. The REVIEW, in condemning this conduct of the Post, used appropriate and therefore necessarily strong language; complimentary words would not do justice to the offence. It is the very fitness of the rebuke that stirs up our contemporary's ire.

AT the nominations for the House of Commons in British Columbia two Conservatives have been elected by acclamation, Mr. Homer for Westminister, and Mr. Reid for Cariboo.

THEY ARE RETURNING.

IN La Minerve, of Montreal, we find the following satisfactory infoemation :—

"The other day the return was announced of 70 French Canadian famalies, from Cahoes, in the United States, who immediately found employment in the cotton factories of St. Henri. Seventy Canadian families returning to their country is not enormous, as one of our contemporaries says, but it affords much reason to hope.

It would be a mistake to believe that the movement of repatriation is limited to seventy families. They may be counted by hundreds. Last spring a detachment of 300 famalies set out to establish themselves on the land in Manitoba. And these families had been proceded by a great number of others from New England as well as from the Western States, who have already formed several fine French parishes in Manitoba.

It has been ascertained at the Customs that more than 8,000 Canadians have returned from the United States, the greatest number of them being of French origin. The employees of the sugar refinery at Fairham are almost all repatriated. The workmen employed by Mr. Rolland in his great paper factory at Saint Jerome will also be Canadians who have gained their special knowledge in the factories of Lowell and other places.

To what do we own the return of these exiles? To that protection which permits us to create a national industry! To that protection which permits our compatriots to find in their own country the work which they went to beg from our neighbours!"

WARSAW.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE TWELFTH.—The Warsaw Orange Lodge and the lodges north joined in celebrating the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne at this village on the 12th of July. They formed in procession and marched through the streets, with their colors floating in the breeze, and each lodge headed by a fife and drum band, and in the afternoon eloquent addresses were delivered by the Rev. Mr. Glassford, the Rev. Thos. Fox, and Messrs. J. J. Crowe and Thos. Campbell. The celebration was one of the most pleasant ever held in this part of the county.

HALIBURTON.

CHEESE FACTORY.—The Bobcaygeon Independent says:—A movement has been set on foot to establish a cheese factory in this village. A large number of shares have been taken. It is proposed that the company shall purchase and keep cows sufficient to maintain a large factory when their milk is added to that supplied by the neighboring farmers. The lake gives an easy mode of communication to a large number of farmers, and there is an enormous area of pasturage immediately surrounding the village. The speciality of the country is its beautiful water. A finer country for such an experiment as that of starting a large cheese factory does not exist on the face of the earth. Let us hope the new movement may prove a success.

BOBCAYGEON.

CHEESE.—The Independent says a large consignment of cheese has been shipped to Lindsay during the past week. The cheese factory is working very well and turning out a large quantity of cheese.

CANAL.—A great rush of traffic is passing through the canal. The locks are in constant operation, and sometimes two and three steamers have to wait their turn.

WATER.—The water in the streams and lakes is falling rapidly, and lumbermen are in a hurry to get their drives through.

SOUTH AFRICA.

DURBAN, NATAL,
South Africa, May 15, 1882.

DEAR FRIEND,—As I have now spent nearly three years in South Africa, I have no doubt you will expect me to give you my opinion of the country and how it compares with Australia or New Zealand. As a good deal of ignorance prevails in other countries respecting this part of the world, I may begin by giving you a slight sketch of the South African Colonies and States. These are the Cape Colony, Natal, the Orange Free State and the Transvaal—the two last being independent Republics, the population of which are chiefly people of Dutch descent. The same may be said of the Cape Colony; Natal being the only one where the English are in the majority. The Cape Colony extends from the extreme southern point of the continent, to about thirty degrees of south latitude, including both the east and west coasts. The population of European descent is nearly 260,000, but there is also a native population (Kaffirs, Hottentots and other tribes,) numbering nearly 400,000. Some portions of the Colony are very productive and fertile and well watered, but other parts are extremely arid and can never become fit for arable purposes. In the interior are vast plains, and in other parts great mountain ranges. Unfortunately there is an entire absence of navigable rivers, and the same may be said of the whole of South Africa, in which there is not a single river navigable for ten miles from its mouth. This peculiar feature of the country, coupled with the want of good ports and harbors, and the great scarcity of timber, has, no doubt, had a great influence in retarding its progress. The climate is mild and resembles that of Victoria, Australia, in many respects. Frosts and snow are almost unknown, except in the extreme south, and in the elevated portions of the interior. It is as healthy a climate, I believe, as any in the world. Farming is not in a very forward state in any part of South Africa, but wool is, next to diamonds, the most valuable export of the Cape Colony. In 1880 wool, to the value of over two millions of pounds, was exported. The vine is also very productive, and a considerable quantity of wine is made yearly. Ostrich farming is a branch of industry which has made wonderful progress during the last ten years. Previous to that, the feathers sent to Europe were chiefly obtained from wild birds, hunted and killed, but now ostrich farming is a thoroughly established industry, and Cape farmers buy and sell ostriches as they do sheep, and they fence their flocks in, herd them, grow crops for them, study their habits and cut their feathers as a simple matter of business. As showing the importance of the ostrich farming industry, I may say that the feathers exported from Cape Colony during the year 1880 weighed over 96,000 lbs., and the declared value £653,756. The best class of feathers fetch from £40 to £55 per lb., and a good pair of ostriches are often sold for over £150. The eggs, of course, are very valuable, and artificial incubation is common and very successful.

Cape Colony is under responsible government with the governor appointed from home, and two houses of legislature, both elective. The upper house is composed of 21 members, a high property qualification being required for a seat therein. The House of Assembly consists of 68 members, and both Council and Assembly are elected by the same voters. The Dutch element is largely represented in both houses, and as showing how strong that element is, I may state that it has lately been established as a rule of Parliament that the English or Dutch language, as a member may choose, may be used in the debates. During the last three or four years the Cape Government has had several little wars with the natives, and the cost incurred by these outbreaks has been between two and three million pounds, a very large amount for such a limited population, and I think, shows the resources of the country must be good to stand such a drain. There are about 800 miles of railway open for traffic. The furthest point reached from Cape Town into the interior is to Beaufort West, 338 miles. It is intended eventually to carry this line right on to the diamond fields, over 700 miles from Cape Town. Nearly all parts of the Colony are connected by the telegraph wire. Cape Town, the capital of South Africa, is a city of nearly 40,000 inhabitants, romantically situated at the foot of the celebrated Table Mountain, 4,000 ft. high. The suburbs (especially Wynburg) are picturesque and interesting, but nothing very favorable can be said of the town itself. Its sanitary arrangements could not well be worse, and probably there is no town, in any part of the British empire, to equal it for dirt, and the state of the city reflects very little credit on the corporation. English people tell you that the Dutch element being so strong in the Municipal Council, is responsible for this state of things. Cape Town has two splendid lines of steamers to England and communication is kept up weekly with as much regularity as the service between England and North America. The city has some good docks from whence numerous steamers frequently depart to the various coast ports. In going north up the east coast the first town of importance we reach on our way to Natal is Port Elizabeth, a flourishing town of about 15 thousand inhabitants. It has many handsome stores, warehouses and public buildings. It carries on a very large trade with the interior, and is the port from which the diamond fields obtain the chief part of their supplies, but lies under the disadvantage of having no safe port or harbour, vessels having to lie off the town in an open roadstead subject to the severe gales which sometimes prevail on this coast. The inhabitants can boast of being the most enterprising and business community of Anglo Saxons on the whole continent. The country in the immediate vicinity of the town is quite bare of vegation thus giving it rather a bare and desolate appearance from the sea view, but its streets are full of life and activity, and remind one in some respects of a go ahead American or Canadian town. It is the terminus of the Midland and North Eastern railway, which extends to Cradock 180 miles inland. Uitenhage is another flourishing town of about 4,000 inhabitants, 18 miles inland, well laid out, and celebrated for its beautiful gardens and fine country around it, but the country on the whole has a bleak bare appearance owing to the absence of any timber, except trees planted by the settlers. The next port of call except one or two places of minor importance is East London, 150 miles by sea from Port Elizabeth, and 700 from Cape Town. It is a thriving town of some seven thousand inhabitants, with a good country at the back, and is connected with the interior by a line of railway to Queenstown and King Williamstown, two rising inland towns, the former about 150 miles from the port. East London has the reputation of being the most unsafe port in South Africa, the anchorage being open and exposed, and wrecks are of frequent occurrence. Extensive harbour works are, however, in progress, which when completed it is hoped will do much for it as a port. About 100 miles farther north we reach St. John's River, famous for its grand scenery. The white population throughout this part is very small but it has a large number of natives, Pondos, Basutos and Griquas in its vicinity. After leaving St. John's we skirt along the Natal Coast until we reach Port Natal, and the country has a very pleasing appearance from the occasional patches of bush land to be seen. On reaching Port Natal we are nearly 1,000 miles by sea from Cape Town. One of the most striking objects to be seen by arriving from sea is the splendid light house erected on a commanding headland called the bluff under which is the entrance to the beautiful bay of Durban. The harbour however is only accessable to vessels drawing not more than 11 feet of water, thus the large ocean steamers have to anchor in the open roadstead, as at Port Elizabeth and East London. About half a mile from the entrance are the wharfs, alongside of which are custom house, bonded stores etc. This is known as "The Point" and it can boast of having the finest hotel (the Alexandra) in South Africa. About two miles higher up the bay we come to Durban, the town proper and ranking in importance as the third town in South Africa. The place is well laid out, and has some very good buildings, it possesses municipal institutions and has a population of about 14,000 inhabitants, of whom, however, more than half are coloured people, the white population are almost wholly English and Scotch, the Dutch element being very sparsely represented. At the back of the town is a range of hills called the Berea where most of the merchants and leading men have some very charming residences. Durban is a place of considerable trade, and is well furnished with banks, insurance offices and other commercial institutions. Almost every Christian denomination is represented by numerous well built churches, the leading sect being the Wesleyans. There is also a Mohomedan Mosque for the use of the natives of India, who are numerous here. Durban is the seat of trade for a large extent of country, being in fact the only port in the whole of Natal. It does a considerable trade with the Orange Free State, and the Transvaal and formerly had a good deal of the Diamond Field commerce, but the latter it has almost lost through the extension of the railways in the Cape Colony. Pieter Maritzburg an inland town about 60 miles from Durban is the capital of the Colony. These two towns are connected by rail, and these are also two short lines from Durban along the north and south coasts. A contract for the extension of the line to Ladysmith, 170 miles beyond Maritzburg, has just been made, and operations on the point of commencing. This line when completed will reach within 50 miles of the Transvaal border, and with the completion of the harbour works now in progress, will no doubt very materially increase the trade and importance of Durban. It will also tap the coal bearing districts of Natal.

The Colony of Natal is in extent about the size of Scotland. It was named by the celebrated Portuguese navigator, Vasco de Gama, who discovered the country, and sighted the headlands on Christmas day, 1497. The Dutch 250 years afterwards had a trading station at the site of the present town of Durban, but it was soon abandoned, and it was not until 1823 that it was again visited by Europeans, but it was not nntil 1843 it was formally declared to be a British colony, and then formed part of the Cape Colony. Previous to this however some Dutch emigrants who came overland from the old Colony established themselves here, and formed a sort of independant Government which they called the Republic of Natalia. They however soon got into difficulties with the English Government, and some fighting took place between the Dutch and English. For a time the former had it all their own way, as the English troops were few and ill provided. Reinforcements were soon sent up from the Cape, and the Dutch rule speedily came to an end, since which time it has remained a British Colony. Most of the Dutch settlers on the occupation of the country by the British left Natal, and treked into the interior to the Free State and the Transvaal.

Here are some more of the many hundreds of the leading people in the Dominion of Canada who have been cured of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung disease by Dr. Souvielle's Spirometer and instrument, which conveys medicinal properties direct to the seat of disease Read and judge for yourself.

Several of my family and friends have been cured of bronchitis, asthma and catarrh by using the Spirometer. John P. Whelan, Manager of Post and True Witness, Montreal. Mr. C. Hill, Montreal, catarrah and bronchitis. Mr. DeBoucherville, of the Indian Deparment, Ottawa, catarrh of many years, now cured; Mr. Geo. Ager, Ottawa, cattarrh and lung disease; cured. Mrs. Smith, London, wife of Medical Detective, cured of catarrh. George Maguire, Toronto, 482 Adelaide street West; daughter cured of asthma. George Willis, Exeter, Ont., Catarrh and Bronchitis. J. D. Armstrong, 186 Yonge street, Toronto, catarrh and catarrahl deafness. Thomas Telfer, 12 Merinda street, Toronto, asthma; cured. Mr. Benj. A. Drake, St. Urbain street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured.

Also, the no less surprising cure of Mrs. Benoit, 114 Cathedral street, daughter of Mrs. David Perrault, who suffered from asthma, and bronchitis for over eight years, and who is now perfectly cured.

Mrs. Adamson, of Belleville, cured of bronchitis, and her sister cured of bronchitis and lung disease.

The above is sufficient to convince the public of the merits of the Spirometer. The instrument will be expressed to any address.

Call or write, enclosing stamps for reply, to the International Throat and Lung Institute 75 Yonge street, Toronto, Dr. M. Souvielle and a competent body of English and French physiciann always in attendance. Every information given. Physicians and sufferers can try the Spirometer free.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

SATURDAY, July 15.—Robert Miller was charged by P. C. McGhee with being drunk on the streets on Friday afternoon, July 14th. The prisoner addressed the bench eloquently in in answer to the charge, stating that he had not been drunk before in four years, that this was the first time here, that he was borne inside the walls of Derry, and that he had taken a little on the twelfth and it had remained in his head still. He begged the Magistrate to be lenient and he would not appear before him again. He was allowed to go with a caution.

USELESS FRIGHT.—To worry about any Liver, or Kidney or Urinary Trouble, especially Bright's Disease or Diabetes, as Hop Bitters never fails of a cure when a cure is possible. We know this.

Wallace Ross Upon Hanlan's Challenge to the World.

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 13.—Wallace Ross, when approached on the subject of Hanlan's last challenge, said:—"Hanlan is afraid to meet me, and if I should take up that challenge you would see how mighty soon he would have a bilious attack, or something else."

"Then you think that Hanlan is afraid to meet you?"

"Of course he is. He has dodged me now four times, hand-running, and now that the Winnipeg match is off, he has got nothing to propose, although he was the man that failed to come to time then. If he is anxious to meet me, why doesn't he make an offer to have that race out somehow, sometime or somewhere? Not much he don't; but if ever he does come out again, I shall meet him certain, and find out who's who and what's what."

Ross further said that he had a notion of writing to Hanlan once more to find out if he meant business.

LAYCOCK TO ROSS.

Laycock writes:—"I beg to state that if Ross likes to pay Australia a visit it will afford me great pleasure to give him a spin over the championship course on the Paramatta river for from £200 to £500 a side. At the same time he can row for the £500 prize given by Mr. Punch, which would be killing two birds with one stone, and if he can win the two the trip ought to pay

WIMBLEDON, July 13.—The shooting in the first stage of the competions for the Queen's prize, the winning of which stamps the fortunate man as the best shot in Great Britain, was completed to-day, many of the competitors making excellent scores. The following Canadian marksmen secured places, and will compete in the second stage:—

Corporal C. N. Mitchell, Tenth Royal Grenadiers, of Toronto	85
Lieutenant Mitchell	83
Lieutenant Huntingdon, Prescott Artillery	83
Capt Belcher	79
Sergeant Coles	79
Corporal Wilson, 35th Battalion	78

A number of others were well up. The shooting, however, of several of the competitors was unsatisfactory at the longer ranges. The weather was good for marksmanship. There is a large attendance at the meeting from all quarters, and the interest is above the average. —Mail.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

BERLIN, July 13.—While a special train, conveying passengers, freight, and horses, to Manitoba, was switching into the Galt branch of the Grand Trunk railway here, this morning it was run into by an east bound freight train. The locomotive of the freight train and two cars of the special laden with horses were thrown off the track, one of the cars being completely over turned. The locomotive and one of the cars are very much shattered, while the other is a complete wreck, the roof having to be cut away to liberate the horses. With the exception of one which is injured beyond recovery all the horses escaped serious injury. The express trains which cross here at 10.30 a.m. exchanged passengers and baggage, and an auxiliary train arrived from Stratford this afternoon, and succeeded in clearing the track.

QUININE TREES.

During the last two or three years a bark containing quinine and quinidine has been imported into England from Columbia in such enormous quantities as to equal or even sometimes exceed the whole of the importations of cinchona bark from all other countries. The botanical source of this bark, which is known in commerce under the name of Cuprea Cinchona, on account of its peculiar coppery tint, has hitherto been a mystery. M. Triana, the well known quinologist, has recently succeeded in tracing it out, and has stated, in the Pharmaceutical Journal for April 22, that it is derived in great measure from two species of the nearly allied genus Remijia, none of the members of which were previously known to contain quinine. Several species of Remijia have leaves resembling those of the true cinchonas, and of these M. Triana has determined that R. purdieana, Wedd., and R. pedunculata, Karsten, certainly yield cuprea bark, the former being the species which contains the alkaloid cinchonamine, recently discovered by M. Arnaud. It appears probable that other species also yield the cuprea cinchona of commerce, but definite information on this point is still wanting. The value of this bark has led, according to M. Triana, to a great devastation of the forests in which the trees grow, and has produced a financial stagnation, business being neglected in order to follow the more profitable occupation of collecting the bark. Fortunately seeds of the tree have been received and are now in cultivation at Malvern House, Sydenham. The tree is likely to prove valuable for cultivation in countries where malarial fever abounds, since it grows at an elevation of 200-1000 meters above the sea, at which even red cinchona bark will not flourish.

FOREST TREES OF CANADA.

Prof. Bell, assistant director of the Geological Survey of Canada, has compiled a neat little work, showing the geographical distribution of the forest trees of Canada. The book is accompanied by a map on which the general northern limits of the principal forest trees are marked. This is the first work of the kind that has been issued in Canada. The tree-lines have been laid down chiefly from observations made by Prof. Bell during the last twenty-five years, extending from Newfoundland nearly to the Rocky Mountains, and from the northern United States to the eastern and western shores of Hudson's Bay. The continent of North America possesses a great variety of forest trees. About 340 different species occur within the United States. All the kinds which we have in Canada, amounting to about 90, including those on the Pacific slope, are also met with in that country. Prof. Bell points out that in the western peninsula of Ontario the forests present a remarkable richness in the number of species to be found growing together. In some localities as many as fifty different kinds may be counted growing together on a single farm lot. A more varied mixture is probably not to be met with in any other part of the continent, or perhaps in the world. One of the principal uses of Prof. Bell's map is to indicate the area within the Dominion throughout which each kind of timber exists. A knowledge of the limits of our different trees is also valuable as indicative of climate. Certain trees cease to exist when they come to regions subject to severe spring or summer frosts, or where early autumn frosts prevent them from maturing their fruits.—Toronto Telegram.

OLD STYLE HIGHWAYMEN.

Two Brockville Men Compel An Innkeeper to Disburse.

BROCKVILLE, July 13.—Yesterday two men named Scott and Murphy hired a horse in Brockville, and drove ont six miles to a hotel kept by Abel Yates. They placed a revolver at Yates' head, and compelled him to give up his money. They then forced him to get on his knees and swear he would not inform on them. They next proceeded to the residence of a wealthy farmer, named Pierce Atcheson, and tried the same game. Atcheson refused to give up his money, when Murphy fired his revolver at Atcheson, the ball grazing the latter's face. During the struggle that ensued Atcheson got into the cellar, and made his escape. He immediately went for assistance, and some neighbors came to the rescue and caught Scott, who is now lying in gaol. Murphy escaped to Ogdensburg, where he was arrested to-day, and will be extradited.—Mail.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Price $per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)

THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 20 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

It has been in use for 20 years, and has proved to be the best preparation in the market for SICK HEADACHE, PAIN IN THE SIDE OR BACK, LIVER COMPLAINT, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, DYSPEPSIA, PILES, and all Diseases that arise from a Disordered Liver or an impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once, recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for Regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Those who cannot obtain a bottle of this medicine from their druggist may send us one dollar, and we will send it to them.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

An Arrest.

A man was run in for being drunk yesterday afternoon. An arrest is now something unusual, this being the first in about two weeks, and it deserves a special notice.

Grocery Stock for Sale.

The stock of groceries, crockery, &c., of the late Robert Patterson will be sold by public auction on Thursday, July 20th, on the premises lately occupied by him, opposite the post office.

St. Paul's Church.

The Rev. D. Tully, D.D., of Oswego, N. Y., but a native of this county, will preach at St. Paul's Church to-morrow, both in the morning and evening, the services being at the usual hour.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, Moderate to fresh southerly winds, fine warmer weather.

Accident.

At the Methodist Sunday School pic-nic, on Friday, while Mr. Joseph Metherall was engaged in playing base ball, he was running towards a base, when his feet slipped, and he sprained his right ancle severely. He will probably be laid up a few days with it.

The Monetary Times.

In commencing its sixteenth yearly volume the Monetary Times and Trade Review appears in an enlarged form, its columns having been lengthened so as to add twenty per cent. to its contents. This oldest and best of our commercial organs is determined still to keep the first place. No business man should be without it.

Weights and Measures.

Mr. Thomas Cahill, Inspector of Weights tnd Measures, seized some illegal weights and measures on the market this forenoon. Those who use these articles should be careful and see that they have been properly tested and stamped, for all false weights and measures will be confiscated, and the law vigourously enforced.

The Market.

There was about an average attendance on the market this morning. There was not much change in prices. New potatoes are now being offered, and 50 cts. a peck is asked for them, while old potatoes are selling as high as $2.00 a bag. Green peas were selling at 20 cts. per peck, and butter, eggs, chickens, gooseberries, etc., remained at about the same prices.

Street Repairs.

Our energetic Street Inspector is making a splendid job boulevarding Rubidge street, which, with its beautiful shade trees, would be one of the most delightful quiet promenades in the town, if the sidewalk were in a better condition. If any of our City Fathers should ramble that way of an evening, they would be forcibly reminded of their pedal infirmities and of the dilapidated condition of the sidewalk.

Strawberry Festival.

A strawberry festival was held on Friday night under the auspices of Carswell Lodge, I. O. G. T., in their hall on Water street, and was a success in every respect, notwithstanding the counter attractions. The programme consisted of a short address by the chairman, Mr. T. Esterbrook, W. C. T., songs by Miss Garlick and Miss Bates, a duet by Mr. Harwood and Miss Jeffrey, recitations by Messrs. Russell and Ailles, and a reading by Mr. Tebb, the proceedings closing with a good dialogue. The refreshments were served in excellent style.

Promenade Concert.

The promenade concert held in the Drill Shed on Friday evening, by the Fire Brigade Band was fairly attended, yet, considering the object of the concert and the high standard of the music provided, the attendance should have been larger. It is needless to say that the music rendered by the band was excellent, because their musical ability is well known by all of our readers, but we may say that the playing of the band was not only as good as usual, but they seemed, if possible, to surpass themselves. The concert was a most enjoyable one, and fairly successful.

THE ANNUAL MEETING

OF THE PETERBOROUGH REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT COMPANY (LIMITED).

The Annual Report of the Directors—A Satisfactory Exhibit—The Business of the Company Improving—Votes of Thanks Passed—The Election of Directors and Officers.

The fourth annual meeting of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (limited) was held in the rooms of the Company, on Water street, on the afternoon of Friday, the 14th July.

The chair was occupied by the President, Major-General F. M. Haultain, and the following gentlemen were also present:—John Walton, Vice-President, Col. Haultain, John Hall, Richard Hall, Jas. Reid, A. P. Poussette and G. M. Roger.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by Mr. G. M. Roger, and were confirmed.

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

The PRESIDENT read the fourth annual report of the Directors, for the year 1881-82, which was as follows:—

FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT of the Directors of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company, (Limited), for the year ending 31st May, 1882.

The Directors beg leave to report that during the year just ended, the Company's business has continued to increase, and the repayments on loans indicate the satisfactory nature of its investments.

The new loans made during the year amount to the sum of $193,526.33 (£39,765.13.9) and the repayments of Principal amount to the sum of $76,755.26 (£15,771.12.7) leaving a net increase of $116,771,05 (£23,994.1.2), as against $51,713.08 (£10,625.19.6) for the previous year. The renewals of previous loans amount to the sum of $7,700 (£1,582.3.10.).

All the loans and renewals have been made at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, and the average rate of interest now borne by the Company's Investments is 7½ per cent.

The profits for the year, after deducting costs of management and managers' salary, have been sufficient to enable the Company to pay two half-yearly dividends at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, and to add a small sum to the amound already standing at the credit of the profit and loss account, but it would be more satisfactory if a larger sum could be appropriated to a Reserve, and there is every probability that from the nature of the earning power of the Company, this will be gradually effected.

Whilst the Directors have kept before them the desirableness of a Reserve fairly proportionate to the paid up capital, they have been so satisfied with the nature and security of the Company's investments, that they have deemed it only reasonable that the shareholders should have the full benefit of this security, and they have consequently not thought it necessary at the present to reduce the dividend for the porpose of creating a Reserve.

The Chief Agents of the Company in Great Britain have continued to supply the Company's demands for money, the Debentures bearing 4½ and 5 per cent. per annum having been readily disposed of at par.

The accounts have been duly audited as usual and the proper statements certified by the auditors, are submitted herewith.

F. M. HAULTAIN,
President.

Peterborough, 31st May, 1882.

To the Directors of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Limited):—

GENTLEMEN,—We have audited the books and accounts of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company, (Limited) for the year ending 31st May, 1882. The above statement of Assets and Liabilities and Profit and Loss account agree with the Ledger, and are certified as correct. We have also inspected the mortgages, and find the agregate thereof agrees with the amount under the head of Mortgage Securities.

EDG. PEARSE,
CHARLES D. MACDONALD, } Auditors.

The reports were on motion received and adopted, and copies of them ordered to be printed and circulated.

THE DIRECTORS ELECTED.

The following gentleman were unanimously elected Directors for the ensuing year.—Gen. F. M. Haultain, John Walton, Esq., Col. Haultain, Rev. V. Clementi, A. C. Dunlop, Esq., H. J. LeFevre, Esq., Richard Hall, Esq., and A. P. Poussette, Esq.

THE DATE OF THE ANNUAL MEETING.

Mr. A. P. POUSSETTE said it had been found very inconvenient to hold the annual meetings at this time of the year, in the season of the holidays, and moved a resolution, seconded by Mr. Hall, amending the By-law and changing the date of the annual meeting to the first Tuesday in October, in each year.—Carried.

THANKS TO THE INVESTMENT COMMITTEE.

Col. HAULTAIN said he often thought of the arduous labors of those members of the Board, who held positions on the Investment Committee, and hoped the time was near when these gentlemen would be remunerated for their valuable services. It was very much to the credit of those who managed the investments of the Company, especially to the managers, Messrs. Poussette and Roger, that in the four years during which the Company had been doing business, not a single loss had been sustained on their investments. The fact that the Company had been able to realize 7 per cent. on all their investments showed what a high standing the company had in the community where they were doing business. There were always fluctuations in the money market, and the value of money had depreciated, but he hoped, through the new fields for investment which were being opened up, in which the surplus capital of the country would be introduced, that the company would be able to return to the rate of 8 per cent. However, if the rate of interest remained at 7 per cent. he would be satisfied. He moved that the thanks of this meeting be cordially tendered to the investment committee for their assiduous attention to the interests of the company, and for the wise and efficient manner in which they have discharged their onerous but unremunerated duties.

Mr. JOHN HALL seconded the motion, which was carried.

The PRESIDENT acknowledgrd the vote on behalf of the investment committee.

THE BOARD OF REFERENCE.

Mr. POUSSETTE thought that some recognition of the services of the Glasgow Board of Reference should be made. Their names had added strength to the company. No similar company had gone into the British money market and met with such success in procuring money on such satisfactory terms. He moved,—"That the thanks of this meeting be tendered to the Glasgow Board of Reference for their attention to the interests of the company in Great Britain." He said that it would be observed that the loans from the company were very large this year, the increase was more than double that of last year, which showed that the Company was in high favour with the people in this community. They were steadily obtaining all the business in loaning money done here, because the farmers preferred to deal with a home company, which had its office here and the officers of which resided here. For all the loans made by the company during the year they were receiving 7 per cent., while other companies were offering money at 6 per cent., which showed the confidence felt in the Company. The security held was good. The payments had been made punctually, and he only remembered two instances in which they were pressing for payment, and the security in these cases was good. On an average they had only to press about one person a year for payment. They had lent $193,000, and renewed mortgages to the amount of $7,700, which brought down the average rate of interest to 7½ per cent. This was one-half per cent over the dividend paid the shareholders. It could reasonably be expected that the profits of the Company next year would be larger than in any previous year, and he hoped, therefore, that they would be able to make a reserve.

Mr. R. HALL seconded the motion, and it was carried.

THANKS TO THE MANAGERS.

It was moved by Gen. F. M. HAULTAIN, seconded by Col. HAULTAIN,—That the thanks of the meeting be tendered to the managers of the Company, Messrs. Poussette and Roger for their continued labour and unflagging interest in the working of the Company, and that the names of the Glasgow agents, Messrs. Finlayson and Auld, be also included in this vote of thanks for the great value of their connection with the Company.

Col. HAULTAIN spoke of the position of the managers as one of great responsibility, and said the company had much reason to be satisfied with their labours during the past year. He also referred to the services of the Glasgow agents.

Mr. POUSSETTE acknowledged the vote of thanks, and said it was pleasant to receive such a recognition of their services from the meeting, more so than any remunerative reward received. The managers had worked for the best interests of the Company, and in doing so had only done their duty.

The meeting of the shareholders then adjourned.

DIRECTORS' MEETING.

Immediately after the adjournment of the meeting of the shareholders, a meeting of the Directors was held, and the following officers were elected:—

PRESIDENT—Gen. F. M. Haultain.

VICE PRESIDENT—Mr. John Walton.

INVESTMENT COMMITTEE—Gen. F. M. Haultain, and Messrs. John Walton and Richard Hall.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.

A Young Scotchwoman Puts an End to Her Existence.

One of the most distressing occurances that we have had to notice for many a month happened last night on St. Joseph street, and cast a gloom over the whole neighborhood.

The following facts in relation to the dreadful tragedy which there occured were given to a representative of the Mail. It appears that last fall Mr. John Barr, land agent, of No. 5 St. Joseph street, went on a trip to the Old Country, and on his return brought his niece, Elizabeth Bannatyne, aged 29, over with him. Shortly after her arrival here it was noticed that she became melancholy and homesick, and on this account arrangements were being made for her return to Scotland, where her mother lives.

After dinner yesterday she agreed to meet Mrs. Barr at the house of a friend in time for tea. Mrs. Barr left at 3.30, and at 4 o'clock Miss Bannatyne had all her work done and was dressed for the afternoon. The only person then in the house beside her was a man-servant, named Brown. She told him that he need not be in a hurry to leave, because she was going away. Nothing further was seen of her till after 6 o'clock, when two members of the family returned, and not finding her in, instituted a search. To their horror they found hanging by a rope around the neck from a rafter in the ceiling of the cook-house. Walter Barr, her cousin, instantly cut the rope and went for Mr. Henry Turnor, druggist, on Young and St. Joseph streets, and then to Dr. King.

Drs. King and Richardson arrived at the same time, and on examination became satisfied that death had occurred under the circumstances before related. Life had apparently fled not more than two hours, as the body was quite warm, and a fire the deceased had attended to was still smouldering. Dr. King made out a certificate of burial, it not being deemed necessary to hold an inquest.

Everything about the house was in perfect order, and nothing in the way of letters were found to indicate that she had for any length of time contemplated the terrible act. The family of the unfortunate young lady was almost frantic with grief at her terrible fate.—Mail.

A Pleasant Pic-nic.

The anniversary pic-nic of the George Street Methodist Sunday School, which was held on Friday in a grove on the banks of the River Trent, near Hastings, was attended by four hundred and fifty persons. This grove is admirably adapted for pic-nic purposes, and as preparations had been made for the entertainment of the excursionists, a very pleasant and enjoyable time was spent. The railway officials were most attentive and painstaking, and the excursion returned at about 6.30 on that evening.

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

A Panic in Alexandria—Massacre of Europeans in Cairo—Arabi Preparing to Fight—France Uniting to Protect the Canal—More Troops for Egypt—Whole Families Missing—Famine and Pestilence Feared.

A PANIC.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—Although last night there was no alarm of an attack by Arabi's army there was something like a panic. Some German sailors who were protecting the German hospital, in which are many sick under the care of the German sisterhood, hurried through the town on a false alarm that the enemy was approaching. When challenged by our pickets they foolishly crouched down and gave no answer. Our men, thinking they were marauders, fired, and the Germans, believing the same of us, replied. For a time the scene was one of wild confusion. The Germans ran through the town; alarm signals were sounded all along the line and everybody turned out thinking that the city was attacked. The only casualty of the night was that Lieut. Aplin, of the Hector, shot himself by an accidental discharge of his revolver.

INCENDIARIES SUMMARILY DEALT WITH.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—The Khedive has authorized the issue of a proclamation that the English Admiral, being charged by permission of the Khedive with the duty of maintaining order in Alexandria, orders that all persons, Europeans or native, caught firing houses shall be shot, and all plunderers arrested in the act shall be punished for the first offence, and shot if caught repeating it.

RIOTS IN CAIRO.

CAIRO, July 15.—Sanguinary rioting prevails here, despite the endeavours of the authorities to maintain order. The German Consul is preparing to leave with his countrymen, and the Italian Consul advises Italians to go to Ismailia.

MASSACRE OF EUROPEANS.

LONDON, July 15.—A special bulletin says it is rumoured a terrible massacre of Europeans has taken place at Cairo.

THE BRITISH FORCE ASHORE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—All the available marines and sailors with Gatling and Nordenfeldt guns are now ashore. They have taken fourteen days' provisions with them. Four hundred men under Lord Beresford act as police.

ARABI'S WHEREABOUTS.

Arabi Pasha is believed to be encamped within twenty miles of Alexandria with a reduced and disaffected army. No Arab soldiers in Alexandria are allowed to carry arms. Four who refused to give them up to-day were shot.

FAMINE AND PESTILENCE.

A famine is apprehended: also an epidemic because of the number of unburied dead.

£25,000 STOLEN BY ARABI.

Arabi appropriated twenty-five thousand pounds from the Custom house before leaving.

WHOLE FAMILIES OF EUROPEANT MISSING.

The fires continue. The aspect of the town is that of Pompeii. Whole families of Europeans have disappeared, and it is believed they were thrown into the flames.

ARABI DISMISSED.

The Khedive has dismissed Arabi Pasha from the Ministry of War.

THE CAIRO RAILWAY CUT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—Arabi Pasha sent an officer to Alexandria to embargo the rolling stock of the Cairo railway and 3,000 tons of coal. The officer was made a prisoner. The British have cut the Cairo railway near lake Mareotis.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST ANOTHER PANIC.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—The Ramadan festival commences to-night. Admiral Seymour has forbidden firing the usual salutes and the daily time guns by the Egyptians; they will be fired from the fleet. Dervish Pasha has issued a proclamation to that effect in order to prevent a panic.

ARABI SUMMONED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—The Khedive has summoned Arabi Pasha to Alexandria, threatened to treat him as a rebel if he refuses to obey The Alexandria grain market has been reopened for the supply of local consumation.

GETTING THE PLACE IN ORDER.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—Admiral Seymour is laying a telegraph line all round the works. The English soldiers are digging a grave in the square for the twelve ruffians to be shot presently. One of them after a little fight was captured and handed to the Americans, who gave him to the English. The English are gradually getting the place in order. There are many people in the town to-day, but the Arabs are still firing in some parts of the city. Sir Auckland Colvin has issued a proclamation to the Bedouins hoping to save Cairo. Arabi has issued a proclamation declaring that the Arabs must pay all taxes to him. All action taken is in the name of the Khedive, who only sanctioned the order for shooting and flogging incendiaries after considerable pressure.

ARABI'S STRENGTH.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—The latest news this afternoon is that Arabi has 6,000 infantry, 36 guns, 400 cavalry, one rocket, and one Gatling battery. He has also a large body of irregulars. Order is very loosely kept, and he was obliged yesterday to shoot 20 Bedouins for robbing his soldiers of plunder they had taken at Alexandria.

GRAIN AND COTTON STORES SAFE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—The English consulate and the quarter containing the great grain and cotton stocks escaped the conflagration. There is no telegraphic communication with any place in the interior.

PILLAGERS AND ASSASSINS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.—1,300 Christian refugees were saved in the Coptic Church during the massacre. The fires in the town were undoubtedly instigated by the principal supporters of Arabi, if not by himself. After the looting commenced the soldiers robbed the original plunderers. According to the accounts of the persons who remained in the city, bands of murderers during and after the bombardment forced their way into almost every house. The plundering and burning began on the 12th, and scarcely any European dwellings were spared. It appears that large stores of petroleum were sent to Alexandria the week before the bombardment specially to fire the town. The incendiaries state that they received instructions to fire the houses.

THE SUEZ CANAL.

SUEZ, July 16.—The commander of the British ship Iris has sent a peremptory message ordering the Egyptian man-of-war not to leave Suez until he has received instructions. It is stated that the Egyptian commander intended to take his vessels through the canal. Captains are no longer being cautioned before entering the canal, but all vessels are thoroughly searched before proceeding.

AMERICAN CONSULATE SAVED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.— The Greek sailors saved the Greek Catholick Church, the European hospital and the Italian consulate. The Americans saved their consulate by blowing up the buildings in its vicinity. They are sending out parties to bury the dead. They have a small gun at the consulate.

By Telegraph to the Review.

ORDERED TO MALTA.

ALDERSHOT, July 17.—A battalion of Munster Fusileers has been ordered to sail for Malta to-day.

PROTECTING THE SUEZ CANAL.

PARIS, July 17.—It is reported that the Cabinet has resolved to accept the invitation to protect the Suez Canal jointly with England.

SUPPLIES.

CALCUTTA, July 17.—The last mail steamer which sailed had fifteen hundred commissariat tents and a large quantity of stores for Seuz.

FRANCE EMBARKING TROOPS.

MARSEILLES, July 17.—Six French transports have been ordered to get ready to embark troops.

ARABI MEANS TO FIGHT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—The Americans did excellent service checking the fire and arresting it altogether at several points. Arabi despatched the Under Secretary of War to Cairo, who brought immediately all the available troops, and he is busily entrenching them at Kafr el Dwar. He evidently means to fight there. It is thought that the offer of rations which admiral Seymour made to the Egyptians soldiers, who would return to the allegiance of the Khedive, will be a considerable inducement to loyalty and increase the staff available for pressing the sanitary operations.

THE OCCUPATION OF EGYPT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 17.—The occupation of Egypt in the case of Turkish intervention is limited to six months, instead of three months, as previously reported. The objects of the occupation will propably be defined as follows:—The termination of anarchy, the re-establishment of the status quo, the re-orginzation of the army, and the development of popular liberties. It is proposed that the Khedive shall supervize the work of the occupying troops.

THE FIRE STILL BURNING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—The first reports of the extent of the devastation here were exaggerated, although long lines of streets are still burning and a heavy smoke envelopes the city. The universal hope is that Arabi will stand firm at Kafer el Dwar, so that a decisive battle may occur. The native population is streaming back into the city. The Khedive last evening sent a horseman to demand a surrender.

DESERTERS INTERCEPTED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—There were several fresh fires last night. Troops from the ship Tamar are disembarking and will raise the total British force ashore to 6,000. The war steamer Helena intercepted two regiments of the Khedive's body guard on the road to Kafir El Dwire last evening, and reconnoitered Arabi's outpost.

A MANIFESTO.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Admiral Seymour has issued a manifesto. He has undertaken, with the consent of the Egyptian government, the restoration of order. Nobody is allowed to leave the town after sunset.

BEDOUINS COLLECTING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Gen. Stone rode on Sunday six miles in the direction of Arabi's camp, but saw nothing of his army. A large number of Bedouins are collected three miles from the railway gate, opposite the weak point of the city's defence.

AN ATTACK FEARED AT PORT SAID.

PORT SAID, July 17.—An immense number of refugees are here and many more children are expected. The Europeans are imperfectly armed with revolvers and sporting guns. They fear they will be attacked by a large force of Bedouins, who, it is stated, are assembling in the desert. There are also 1,500 Arabs at Fort Guelmi, six miles hence, throwing up earth works. There are three British, four French, and two Italian men-of-war and one Spanish war ship in the harbor. The governor is loyal to the Khedive, but the Egyptian colonel, who commands 250 men is suspected of disloyalty.

MURDEROUS ARABS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Last night a strong band of Arabs entered Alexandria and killed a number of loyal Egyptian soldiers. An American sailor was cut down to-day by his officer, Lieut. Graham, for bad behaviour. Refugees continue to be found. Large numbers of dead were buried to-day.

AN ALARM.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—The alarm on Saturday night was caused by 150 Bedouins at the Gubarri Gate. They fled before the attack of a midshipman and twelve sailors.

BRUTAL CONDUCT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—The soldiers fired the house of a timber merchant. The maid servant escaped to the garden, where she remained surrounded by fire, the soldiers laughing at her agony and firing at her, but purposely avoiding fatal injury, preferring to see her burn to death. Finally she rushed through the flames, and, though wounded by bayonet thrusts, succeeded in securing refuge in the ruins, where she was discovered by the marines and handed over to the Americans.

A FATAL QUARREL.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Joseph and Frank Fitzpatrick quarrelled at 103 Greewick street on Saturday night, over the amount of money each gave weekly to their aged mother. Joseph threw a heavy spittoon, which struck and fatally injured the mother.

WHITE AND BLACK,

MUSICK'S FERRY, Mo., July 17.—Henry Francis (white) lived illegally with a negro woman. The colored people here were very indignant. On Saturday night thirty negroes, led by the Rev. Coloumbus Lee and George Morris, went to the house and ordered Francis to come out. Francis fired at the crowd, fatally injuring Lee and Morris. It is reported that the crowd afterwards drowned Francis.

THE POSITION OF THE PRESS.

PRINCE LEPOLD, while presiding at the recent annual dinner of the Newspaper Press Fund, speaking as one of the public, of the gentlemen of the press, said :—

"We recognize that you are not the representatives of mere private aims and private ambitions, but you constitute a body of public functionaries not less important than any of the established departments of the State, being, as it were, the uncovenanted servants of the whole progress and civilization of mankind."

This is the position which journalists hold in Great Britian, and there is no reason why they should not be estimated in the same way in Canada. But many of them must learn better to appreciate their own position, before they can expect the public to recognize it.

OUR INLAND NAVIGATION.

WE republish in another column a letter to the Toronto Globe, under the head of "Ontario's Chance," on account of the great interest which this subject has for our readers. The writer takes a very sanguine view of the great benefits that would follow upon the opening of navigation between the Georgian Bay and the Bay of Quinte by the Trent waters. He seems to be possesed of much information on the subject, but here and there he makes curious slips. It will be observed that he makes no reference to the fact that the construction of this navigable route is now being provided for and carried on by the Dominion Government. His concluding sentence in favor of a canal of a capacity to admit the largest vessel in the lakes is opposed to the opinion of the best authorities, who favor a canal of the dimensions now being undertaken.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Right Hon. John Bright has resigned his position in the Imperial Cabinet, it is said, on account of the decision of his colleagues to bombard Alexandria.

* * *

AT last the Globe has discovered that it is not Mr. Blake who is responsible for the advice given by the Canadian Parliament to Great Britian to grant Home Rule to Ireland. We quite agree with the Globe in this, but why did our contemporary, before the elections, pretend that the credit for the interposing on behalf of Ireland was due to Mr. Blake ?

* * *

THE Times is surprised that we should express pleasure at the Ontario & Quebec Railway coming through Peterborough, and threatens us with the vengeance of the Midland Railway officials. It seems difficult for some of our contemporaries to understand that as journalists we think it our duty to work for the public interests, and carry out that duty to the best of our judgment. Any one who assumes the editorial chair places himself voluntarily in the position of a public servant, and has no more right to abuse his power than a judge has.

THE FUTURE PROSPECTS.

The Merchant and Manufacturer says :—

"Now as the elections are over, and the National Policy is sustained, we may look for better times. Business has gradually improved since the elections of 1878, and thousand of dollars of capital have been waiting for investment in various industrial pursuits, until after the elections, just now over.

One company is now being formed to manufacture steel from Canadian ore, with a capital of two million dollars, and we understand that the stock is nearly all taken up. Cotton factories are forming in several parts of the country, and one thousand and one other manufacturing industries are in contemplation, and as the National Policy is now a fixed fact for another five years, there is no risk now for men of capital in making large invetsments. Farmers are getting better prices for their produce, and the artizan and laboring classes are better paid.

When we had the hard times from 1873 to 1879, many of our large manufactories were working on half time, and men were working for low wages, and glad to get work at any price. Mechanics were glad to get work at laborers wages and many of them not being able to get work at all had to "tramp" it, so that the farmers in many places were perfectly pestered with them.

* * *

Things have made a wonderful change, our factories have doubled their capacity, and are working full time, and many of them working overtime, and yet they cannot meet the demand or fill the orders that are coming in, at the very lowest estimate there are fully four times the quantity of goods of various kinds now manufactured in the same time from 1873 to 1879.

In a paper of this kind, we hope we shall not be understood as speaking in favour of any political party, the only party whose interests we really wish to advocate would be the manufacturer and working classes, and at the end of another five years, we hope to see the whole community come forward to the polls and support the party of progress and home industries no matter who that party may be."

Canadians in the English Army.

Should England have to put an end to the Egyptian troubles by force of arms, Canada will not be unrepresented in the army of the Empire. We observe by our exchanges that the army corps under orders to proceed from India to Aden includes among other distinguished regiments the famed 78th, or as they are now styled in connection with the 72nd, the Seaforth Highlanders. In the former battalion is serving Lieut. Henry Hunt Hogan, a graduate of the Royal Military College, Kingston, and son of our fellow-townsman, Mr. Hogan, of the St. Lawrence hall. In the army corps going from Malta and Gibraltar is the 38th or South Staffordshire regiment, in which we find the names of Lieutenants Freer and Sears, both Canadians, and who, like their comrade, Hogan, passed through the Military College. We are certain if the occasion calls for it they will prove themselves worthy of their country and cloth.—Montreal Herald.

A JOINT STOCK COMPANY has been formed at Montreal with a capital of $60,000 for the purpose of manufacturing paints and fire proof cements etc., to be known as the Spartan Fire Proof Roofing Cement Company.

ONTARIO'S CHANCE.

The following letter appears in the Globe :—

"SIR,—Now that the N.P.'s supposed endorsation by the country is to usher in a commercial millennium and the Government is thereby to have no end of money to throw into ditches, allow us to point out one that will do the country some good. The Bay of Quinte stretches from the "Gap" near Kingston to Trenton, which is twelve miles this side of Belleville. Its head waters are separated from Lake Ontario by a narrow strip of land that is being canaled by the Government. When this canal is completed the Bay will be a land-locked harbor, sixty miles long, with an entrance to the lake at each end. By going through it boats and vessels will escape Long Point—the most dangerous and fatal place on the lakes. This, of course, is a great consideration in stormy weather. Ontario's largest and finest stream enters the Bay at Trenton. The chief sources of this stream are near the Georgian Bay's head waters—a magnificent land-locked harbor thirty miles long, full of beautiful islands and bold headlands, all finely wooded. The river is called the Trent to Peterborough, and from there back the Otonabee. Along it are Rice, Mud, Stony and Round Lakes, and numerous others, equally beautiful, but not so well known sheets of water. Besides the lakes it has long stretches of navigable waters. Between these its descent is very rapid—a succession of rapids with several fine falls. In several places the rapids are continuous for ten miles. The stream is a minature Niagara and St. Lawrence combined. Its rapids and falls furnish an unlimited supply of water power that never fails. Heretofore this has not been utilized to any extent save at Campbellford and Peterborough, where there are railroad facilities. The river's course is right through Ontario's heart, and the natural route for a canal from the Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario.

According to the Government Engineer's reports, one could be constructed for a trifle compared to its value and importance to the country. A glance at the map will show its great importance and its necessity. The present route from Mackinaw and the Sault to Kingston is roundabout, monotonous, and uninteresting, with a great deal of bad and dangerous navigation. The canal in question would make the route almost direct, avoid all the bad and dangerous navigation, and save several hundred miles. Besides this, in bad weather boats could pass inside the belt of forty thousand islands that lines the north shore of the Georgian Bay, and thus be protected from heavy seas, as they would be at the other end of the canal whilst passing through the Bay of Quinte. With the canal the route from Duluth to Montreal would take in Thunder Bay and Nepigon, with their grand sublime scenery ; the Sault, the Georgian Bay, with its beautiful and varied scenery ; the lovely Muskoka lakes ; the Trent Valley's lake and river scenery ; the winding and beautiful Bay of Quinte ; the Thousand Islands and the St. Lawrence—most all that is grand, sublime, and beautiful of our matchless lake and river scenery. This, with a great saving of time and expense, would bring a flood of travel through the very heart of Ontario. Penetanguishene, with the neighbouring islands, would become a great summer resort—there is not a finer place for one in Canada. There would be a stream of travel by rail all summer from Collingwood and Owen Sound to Toronto, and from Midland to Toronto, Port Hope and Belleville. Our inland waters and resorts would swarm with visitors all summer. Supplying these and the boats and vessel's crews would create a home market for farm produce all along the route from the Georgian Bay to Kingston. But all this is nothing to the other considerations and advantages. The great saving in time, distance, and dangers would materially reduce the cost of transport by water, which would immensely increase the freight traffic. This, with the development and settlement of our great North-West and the adjacent States and Territories, would in a short time create a volume of traffic second only to that which passes through the Suez Canal. Being right on the route to the North-West and passing through some of our finest farming country, points along the canal would become choice localities for manufacturing, especially for heavy and bulky articles for the North-West, (we must bear in mind that canal water power is infinitely preferable to that furnished by streams), manufactories and flouring mills would spring up all along the route. Trenton and Midland would soon become important towns, if not cities, Peterborough the Manchester of Canada, and Ontario the New England. The sale and lease of water privileges would no doubt go a long way towards paying interest on the canal's cost. Then, for the Government's consideration, there would be the great increase of taxable property, and the increased consumption of dutiable articles.

There is one more consideration—perhaps not the least. The famous Marmora iron mines are situated on Crow Lake, a fine sheet of water on Crow River, the Trent's chief tributary. The mines are only a few miles from Hastings village, which is on the Trent about midway between Trenton and Peterborough. At it there is any amount of fine water-power. The mines are connected by rail with navigable water near the village. Thus without transhipment coal and iron could be brought together at or near Hastings, and the coal could be brought direct either from Rochester, Buffalo, or the Lower Provinces. Hastings is on the railway from Belleville to Peterborough, and on the line of the Toronto and Ottawa. Being also on the canal it could not be better situated for the manufacture and shipment of iron and heavy and bulky articles to all parts of the country, especially to the North-west. The establishment of smelting works and rolling mills there would be of incalculable value and benefit to Ontario and the country generally. To sum up, the canal would greatly benefit our entire North-west and all the North-western States and Territories. It would divert most all the Erie's traffic to and from that region to the St. Lawrence, and infinitely increase the travel and traffic by water between the east and west, particularly between Chicago, Milwaukee, and Montreal. It would particularly benefit these cities and Canada, especially the province of Ontario and the city of Montreal. In case of war with our neighbours, a contingency we do not contemplate, but one we should be prepared for, it would be of incalculable advantage. But simply as a commercial speculation we see no reason why it could not be made to pay as well, if not better, than the Suez Canal has. Now that the Thunder Bay Railroad is completed, and our great North-West rapidly filling, this work should not be put off any longer. It should be commenced at once and pushed through as rapidly as possible. With the immense travel and traffic ready to flow through it we think it would be penny wise and pound foolish to construct anything but a first-class canal that would accommodate the largest vessels and boats on the lakes.

RECENT DISCOVERIES ABOUT MARS.

Prof. Shearman Makes Canada's First Addition to Astronomy.

The last five years have been called the golden age of Martian physics, for it was in August, 1877, that Prof. Asaph Hall, of the U. S. Naval Observatory, discovered the two satellities or moons of this planet.

These minute objects are the smallest known bodies in the solar system—one of them being about seven miles in diameter and the other only six. So small are they that a good walker might make a journey around them in a few hours.

The excitement following this discovery had nearly subsided when Professor T. S. H. Shearman, the distinguished leader of Canadian astronomy, announced his discovery of the ocean currents of Mars. He detected them through their action on the polar ice regions of the planet. Of course we cannot see these currents, their effects alone being visible. Minute as these effects are, they were enough for Prof. Shearman's purpose, and they revealed the currents to him. As Prof. Shearman remarks, "We cannot see the wind, but when we see a hurricane tearing down buildings and uprooting trees we know there is wind, because we see the effects of it around us."

But a discovery, strange and wonderful, has just been announced by the director of the Milan Observatory, Signor Schiaparelli, the exact nature of which is not yet understood. He reports the existence of dark lines in several regions of the planet, and calls them "canals." Of course we are not in a position to say that they are canals like ours. Astronomers are anxiously waiting for more news, but that cannot be obtained till 1884, as the planet is approaching its conjunction.

Prof. Schiaparelli, the fortunate discoverer of these remarkable objects, is one of the most accurate observers of the age, and is well known through his labors on comets.

Prof. Shearman is well known as the most eminent astronomer in British America, and his discovery is the first addition to astronomical lore made in Canada. To him we look to maintain the credit of the British name in America.

PROVINCIAL OFFICIAL CANVASSERS.

A correspondent of the Lindsay Warder writes as follows :—It may be quite true as stated in the Post that the Ontario Government did not pay the expenses of civil service voters, &c., but this strange coincidence did unquestionably occur, viz : such as wished for holidays during the week on which the election occurred had them granted. I will give a case in point. A certain Mr. Jamison, who votes in North Victoria, is an ardent Grit and always on hand to put down bribery and corruption. Well, this individual is in charge of one of the departments of the Provincial Reformatory at Penetanguishine, and strange to say his health became irregular during the election week and he needed rest and ease for recuperation. He was accordingly granted a few holidays and strange enough he took to recuperate a trip to Eldon, in the north riding, where he had been in business for about twenty years. Will any of our Reform friends assert that this civil servant's income will be one penny less for being granted so many days, and which enabled him to vote for his party and if he had any influence to exercise it. It may indeed be true his expenses from Penetanguishine to Woodville were not paid by the Ontario Government, but will any one deny that he will be paid for the days he spent in Eldon? There are no doubt scores of just such cases throughout the Province. With all the efforts put forth by the Ontario Government in this county to divorce her from loyal allegiances to good sound principles as embodied in a Consevrative Government, she stood firm and true by the colors hoisted in 1878. In the North Riding Mr. Cameron had to contend with all the influence wielded by all of Mr. Mowat's unscrupulous road commissioners, forest rangers and all Grit officials, who became wonderfully active and interested in the wants of the people just when an election was approaching.

WHO'LL GET THE "GLOBE"?

The Toronto World says :—

"Just now there is a big game under way as to the control of the Globe. Gordon Brown is playing a lone hand against the great majority of the reform leaders and some of his fellow directors and shareholders. Strenuous efforts are being made to oust him, and this can only be done by getting control of the stock. One newly-elected and wealthy member of parliament is willing to put $100,000 towards this end. Mr. Nelson of Edinburgh, (the brother of Mrs. George Brown) is master of the situation and not a little cabling to and from him is passing over the wires. But though Mr. Nelson is master of the situation, it is as a trustee : there is a second George Brown growing up and his father probably charged the uncle to keep his interest intact till such time as the son grew up. If this is the case Mr. Nelson will act with much caution, and this is prehaps just wherein Mr. Gordon Brown has his grip. There is a section of the anti-Gordon party who are willing to continue him as managing director if he will fall into line with the reform party, but a still stronger section is bent on his removal. Where can a man be got to take his place? is no unimportant question, and the next one is what will Gordon do if they put him out? One rumour yesterday was that Mr. Goldwin Smith, or Mr. George Sheppard of New York, or Mr. Macdougall would succeed ; there is more likelihood in the story that Mr. Brown would, if ousted, start an opposition paper as he was nearly doing once before when he and his late brother had some difference as to the policy of the Globe. At all events things appear to be rapidly coming to a head, though it does not look as yet that Mr. Brown has the poorest hand in the game."

Burdock BLOOD BITTERS

SOUTH AFRICA.

South Africa, May 15, 1882.

Natal, on the whole is very mountaneous, the country gradually rising from the coast in a series of plateaus or tablelands until the mountain ranges in some parts attain an elevation of nearly 10 thousand feet, so that while on the coast the climate is almost tropical, (frosts being hardly ever seen) in some parts of the interior very cold weather is experienced and snow storms not unknown. The climate on the whole is very salubrious and healthy. The mean annual temperature at Marirztburg (over 2,000 feet above the sea level) is from 64° to 71°, while on the coast the general range is from 50° to 90°. The winter is bright and cool, while the summer heat is tempered by clouded skies and frequent rains, but the moist heat here, is, I think, more trying than the dry heat of Australia. The climate and soil of the coast lands of Natal are more or less favorable to the growth of the sugar cane, coffee, arrowroot, tobbaco and other semi-tropical productions, but except sugar none of these articles are grown sufficiently to figure among the lists of exports. Bananas, pine apples, oranges and lemons can be produced abundantly. Sheep farming is the chief industry followed in the interior, and maize (called here mealies) is grown pretty extensively, but nearly all the flour consumed here comes from Australia, and fresh butter and milk are exceedingly scarce and very dear; butter selling readily at 2s. 6d. and 3s. per pound, and milk, 9d. per quart. The great bulk of these articles consumed here are imported into the country, the canned butter from Denmark and Sweden, and the milk in a condensed form from Switzerland. The beef and mutton of the country are very poor and not to be compared to that of Australia, and even our beef is frequently brought from Madagascar.

Natal is at present a Crown Colony governed from Downing street, the executive being appointed and responsible only to the home government. There is a Legislative Council of members including the members of the executive. An agitation has been going on here for some time to endeavour to obtain responsible government for the Colony, and a few weeks ago we were startled by the publication of a despatch from Lord Kimberley to the effect that the Home Government had come to the decision that full responsible government should be offered to the Colonists, and the Governor, Sir H. Bulwer, was instructed to dissolve the Legislative Council and issue writs for a new House in order to allow the electors to say yea or nay on this important matter. The elections are to take place next week, and the subject is exciting great interest all over the colony. I am inclined to think the offer will be refused, the responsible Government party having lost ground very much lately. The leader of this party is Mr. J. Robinson, a very able man and editor of the Natal Mercury, and among his followers are several of the leading men of the colony. The leader of the opposite side, or the Refusialists, as they are called, is Mr. H. Escombe, the principal lawyer in Durban, a clever man and a popular one. The Refusialists argue that to accept the offer with the conditions attached by the Home Government would place the Colony in a very dangerous position, and while admitting the benefits of self Government and its necessity for colonies like Canada, Australia and New Zealand, they say that Natal's position is exceptional and the movement altogether premature. One of the conditions is that the offer, if accepted, will involve the withdrawal of all the British troops in the colony, and that we shall be expected to defend ourselves. The Refusialists say we are not in a position to do this. The total European population of the colony of Natal is not more than 30,000, but there is a native population of nearly 400,000, most of them in a state of barbarism, and on nearly all sides there are vast numbers of savages in Zululand, the Transvaal and the country to the south, so that in the event of a general outbreak, and no one can say that such will not some day take place, the very existence of the colonists would be in peril of extermination. At present the natives in Natal have very little to complain of, but grievance may arise, and every year they gain a better knowledge of their power. Physically they are a very fine race, of a happy, gay disposition, and very intelligent. They are polygamists, exceedingly superstitious, fond of a free, idle life, the women doing most of the labour. The colonists complain of their disinclination to give their services readily, and continuously to the industries of the country. They are, it is true, to be found in domestic services in the town, on farms, and at the wharfs, but cannot be depended on for any length of time, as after working say three or four months, they take it into their heads to clear out for their ancestral Kraals, where they enjoy themselves after a fashion peculiarly their own for a few weeks, until they feel inclined for a little more work. Owing to the difficulty in obtaining labourers on the plantations, thousands of Coolies have been imported from India, and at present the number of these people here is over 20,000. They are not at all a nice race, being great liars, up to manner of villiany, and filthy in their habits to the extreme. Many of the colonists view their presence here with great dislike and consider a mistake has been made in introducing them in such numbers, and believe that they will be the cause of considerable trouble in the colony at some future time.

WHENCE comes the name of Sozodont? It is derived from two Greek words signifying "to preserve the teeth" and it deserves its title, for there is no preparation which will do this more rapidly, surely and pleasantly. The Consumption of Sozodont is immense.

THE two men O'Flaherty, arrested in county Kerry, Ireland, on suspicion of being concerned in the Phœnix park tragedy, belong to London, Ont., and are brothers. One of them, Mathias, is the proprietor of a London hotel. They left there on the 22nd of May, and so of course are innocent of the crime.

THERE would be little if any sickness during the hot months of July and August, if every one would take Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, as they prevent and cure all derangements of the Stomach and Bowels. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

HARVELL'S CONDITION POWDERS.—Live stock of every description, whether hogs, poultry, sheep, horses or oxen, are improved in weight, quality and health by these celebrated powders. No stable or barn yard can pay fully where they are not used. Just give them a trial. Sold everywhere.

BILIOUSNESS.—A furred tongue, bad taste in the month, nausea vomiting, variable appetite, alternate diarrhœa and costiveness, faintness, weariness, yellow cast of eyes and countenance, indicates serious biliary trouble. Jaundice is a dangerous disease, it is an overflow of bad bile in the circulation, any of these symptoms should be remedied without delay, and Burdock Blood Bitters is the remedy upon which you may surely rely.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20th, 1880. Smith Medicine Co., Gents; I am requested by Miss Sarah Fordham to inform you that your treatment of the Tape Worn has proved a great success. In five hours after she had taken the medicine the worm passed alive with head complete, measuring 22½ feet. The medicine caused no pain or uneasiness. You may rest assured that I will never cease to recommend your treatment whenever an opportunity offers. Yours, J. B. L. Flynn, 20 Chaboillez Square, Montreal.

THOS. GRAHAM, File Manufacturer, Toronto, has removed to his new premises 150 Front Street East. He found that his business was growing too rapidly for his former place, 35 Sherbourne Street. His business commenced in a very small way about eight yeary ago, and now he finds the orders coming in much faster than he can fill them. He hopes with the improved facilities now at his command to be able to fill the bill with entire satisfaction. We are pleased to see industry rewarded.—Merchant and Manufacterer.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,
The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.
From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,
Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.
ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.
Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.
PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.
STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.
Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.
KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.
Price $per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.
DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)
THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

It has been in use for 20 years, and has proved to be the best preparation in the market for SICK HEADACHE, PAIN IN THE SIDE OR BACK, LIVER COMPLAINT, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, DYSPEPSIA, PILES, and all Diseases that arise from a Disordered Liver or an impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once, recommend it to others.
It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for Regulating the Bowels.
It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.
Those who cannot obtain a bottle of this medicine from their druggist may send us one dollar, and we will send it to them.

"The Midland Railway of England is what we are told the Midland of Canada is going to be; one of the best roads going."

The Waterworks.

The waterworks mains have been laid on George street, as far down as the corner of McDounell street. The men are now at work putting in pipes on London street, east from George street.

Cricket.

The Omemee Herald, after referring to the recent cricket match between Lakefield and Peterborough, says:—

"If the Omemee club would only go to work, we'd like to see it meet Peterborough's best."

Old Folks' Concert.

We understand that an "Old Folks" Concert, in aid of St. John's Sunday School, has been in contemplation for some time, and arrangements are being made for holding it as soon as the weather becomes a little cooler.

In Town.

A gang of men are at work on the "Missing Link," near the Protestant Home. They are grading the curve on the side hill between Murray and Brock streets, near where the junction will be made with the main line, and constructing a culvert to carry the water from the hollow into the creek.

Freight Shed.

The increasing traffic on the Midland Railway has necessitated increased facilities at the Midland station here, and work has been commenced on an addition to the freight-shed. The addition will extend 120 feet from the south end of the present freight-shed, and will afford better facilities for shipping, and more room for storing freight.

The Mission School.

The Reverend J. W. R. Beck, rector of St. John's Church, on Sunday announced that they had been successful in securing the Mission Sunday School for a period of three months, for the scholars who live in the south-west part of the town, and in Englishtown. This is a good arrangement, and will save the little children a long walk during the warm weather.

A Warning.

It would be well for all "sportsmen" to remember that the law forbids the killing of birds and any person who shoots or otherwise kills swallows, woodpeckers, snipe, woodlarks and all other species of birds between the first of March and the first of September, is liable to be fined. There is also a penalty for disturbing or injuring the eggs in the nests of these birds.

A Fire.

The sidewalk on George street, between Murray and McDonnell streets, on the side next the Agricultural Grounds, was by some means, supposed to be cigar stumps, ignited yesterday afternoon. The boards in the sidewalk had to be torn up for a distance of fifteen or twenty feet, and a liberal application of water, carried in pails, extinguished the flames. The board fence enclosing the grounds was scorched, and if the fire had not been noticed at once, there might have been a disastrous fire, as the fence and buildings are very dry and inflammable

Immigration.

The Reverend A. Styleman Herring, vicar of Clerkenwell, London, England, and Mr. John James Jones, also of London, arrived in Toronto on Friday. Mr. Herring proposes to visit Manitoba, and on his return he will hold public meetings in this town, and in Toronto, London and Hamilton, for the discussion of immigration matters. He will then visit Muskoka district. Both gentlemen have interested themselves a great deal in promoting immigration to Canada; Mr. Herring having altogether added directly to the population of Canada about 4,000 persons. On this occasion he brought out with him, by the Parisian, about 200 immigrants, while Mr. Jones has brought out nearly 300.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

MONDAY, July 17.—William Breakenridge was charged by P. C. McGhee with being drunk on the street on Saturday, the 15th inst. He had a sum of money in his pocket, and was helplessly intoxicated when found. He acknowledged the offence, but this being his first appearance in court, His Worship, the Mayor, who presided, allowed him to go with a caution.

OBSTRUCTING THE STREET.

William Chamberlain was charged by P. C. McGhee with obstructing the street, by leaving goods on the sidewalk and having a sign on the telegraph pole, in front of his saloon, on the 12th of July. He pleaded guilty and judgment was deferred.

Lacrosse.

The Lacrosse Club will not practice to night, owing to the Cricket Club wanting the ground, and to-morrow night will be subsitituted.

Cricket Match.

A cricket match will be played for the Association Cup, on the Ashburnham ground to-morrow, between the Port Hope eleven (champions of Ontario), and the Peterborough eleven. The wickets will be pitched at 10.30 a.m.

Excursion from Belleville.

We learn that the excursion of St, Andrew's Church, Belleville, to this town, which we announced last week was to take place on Wednesday, has been unavoidably postponed until Tuesday, August 1st.

A Canoeing Party.

Last week a party consisting of Messrs. R. J. Kidd, J. Moffat, J. H. Stevenson, W. H. Hill, A. Salter and J. Miller left Peterborough in three canoes, and sailed down the Otonabee River, Rice Lake, Trent River and Bay of Quinte to Kingston, where they arrived on Friday night. They carry all necessary apparatus for camping out with them, and intend to continue their excursion this morning down the St. Lawrence River and among the Thousand Islands. They report having had a splendid trip as far as Kingston.

Blockade on the Otonabee.

The prevailing south wind for the last ten days has prevented the large drive of logs belonging to Messrs. Rathbun & Son, and Messrs. Ullyot & Saddler from being sorted at the mouth of the Otonabee River. The logs have accumulated and have completely blocked the river for three miles and a half, stopping all travel. The Golden-Eye is laying at the mouth waiting for the logs to get clear. She has often struggled through a half mile jam, but three miles and a half is too much for her to tackle. There is no blame attached to the foremen for the jam. It is a thing that has never happened before, and that might never occur again. The river, from the Locks to Rice Lake, is usually driven in from four to five days, but this drive has lasted two weeks, entailing a great expense upon the owners.

Railway Notes.

The Belleville Ontario says:—

"The freight traffic on the Grand Trunk is brisk at present. One day this week no less than forty-two cars of freight arrived here for Belleville merchants and other parties along the Grand Junction."

The Monetary Times says:—"The remark has been made with truth that the Ontario and Quebec road will change the position of Toronto with respect to its railway accommodation. This is the first line to run north of the city all the others being on the south. The effect is to give the city a dual front. What has hitherto been the rear will henceforth become a front to divide traffic with the old front along the lake. The most distant points in the city from railways will soon be among the nearest. The old centre of population is not likely to be disturbed, but a new centre will be created; and the effect cannot but be very marked, in more ways than one."

The Return Cricket Match.

The return match was played at Lakefield on Saturday last between the Lakefield and Peterborough elevens, resulting in favor of the latter by an innings and 13 runs. The game commenced shortly after three. The home team losing the toss were sent in to bat, but were disposed of in a short time. Mr. Hartley bowled in excellent form, opening the engagement by taking two wickets in the first over before a run had been made. In batting Mat Hamilton, 21, not out, and T. Montgomery 14, handled the willow in a very graceful style, and in the second innings for Lakefield J. Watson, 31, and T. Watson, 13, did likewise. After the game the elevens were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Strickland, and at about 9 o'clock started on their homeward journey, reaching home about 11 p.m.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes,—Moderate to fresh southerly to westerly winds, fair and warm with a few local showers.

OMEMEE.

ACCIDENT.—The Herald says that on Friday last, while Mr. George McWilliams was working around a band saw, in Mr. Kincaid's mill, he met with a painful accident by his right hand coming in contact with the saw while in motion, cutting across the second joint in an angular shape, making an ugly wound.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last Mr. Robert Ford, of Emily, had the thumb of his right hand severely cut while working around a mower. The wound was of such a nature that it was found necessary to have several stitches put in.

ANCLE SPRAINED.—One day last week, as Mrs. Henry English, who lives on the North Road, was coming out of Mr. Ivory's store, in this village, she received a bad sprain of one of her ancles. She was taken into Mr. Ivory's, where she remained since the accident.

Rules for Home Education.

The following rules are worthy of being printed in letters of gold, and placed in a conspicuous place in every household:

1. From your children's earliest infancy inculcate the necessity of instant obedience.
2. Unite firmness with gentleness. Let your children always understand that you mean what you say.
3. Never promise them anything unless you are quite sure you can give them what you say.
4. If you tell a little child to do something, show him how to do it, and see that it is done.
5. Always punish your children for wilfully disobeying you, and never punish them in anger.
6. Never let them perceive that they vex you, or make you lose your self-command.
7. If they give way to petulance or ill-temper wait till they are calm, and then gently reason with them on the impropriety of their conduct.
8. Remember that a little present punishment when the occasion arises, is much more effectual than the threatening of a greater punishment should the fault be renewed.
9. Never give your children anything because they cry for it.
10. On no account allow them to do at one time what they have forbidden, under the same circumstances, at another.
11. Accustom them to make their little recitals with perfect truth.
12. Teach them self-denial, not self-indulgence, of any angry and resentful spirit.

Bush Fires.

The Campbellford Herald says every municipality ought to adopt the action of the Brock township council, the members of which recently passed a by-law for regulating the burning of brush, stumps, etc. The enactment provides that no stump, wood, logs, brush, straw, shavings, or refuse, shall be set on fire by any person or persons in the open air within the municipality in or during the months of July and August in any year; nor at any other time or times during the year until after eight days' notice has been given to the owner or occupant of the adjoining property. Any person contravening the provisions of this by-law shall, in addition to any damage which may occur, be liable to a fine of not less than $2 or more than $50 upon conviction before a Justice of the Peace.

AN honest medicine is the noblest work of man, and we can assure our readers that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only reliable, but is almost infallable to cure Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Canker of the Stomach and bowels, and the various Summer complaints, whose attacks are often sudden and fatal.

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

A Holy War Proclaimed — The Egyptians Flocking to Arabi's Army—Anarchy in the Provinces — Further Massacres of Europeans — British Sentries Shot by Arabs—A Motion Censuring the Government—To be Moved.

MINISTERIAL STATEMENT.

LONDON, July 17.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir C. Dilke said he found he had gone too far in stating that Germany expressed approval of the bombardment of Alexandria. This declaration was made in consequence of a semi-official contradiction of his previous statement.

RECONNOITERING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Four sailors and two of the Khedive's body-guard rode to Kafr-el-dwar last evening and reconnoitred Arabi's outposts. They penetrated within three hundred yards of Arabi't lines, rnd found all quiet. The reports of the proximity of large bodies of Bedouins are untrue.

CHARTERING TROOP-SHIPS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 17.—The Turkish Government is endeavouring to charter troopships, and has offered as high as twenty shillings a ton. Ship-owners are very cautious.

READY TO MOVE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Plenty of mules have been landed for the field batteries, which have also been landed, so that the English force is ready to move at a moment's notice, and large numbers of people are returning ashore.

ARABI'S POSITION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—A correspondent hears that Arabi's troops are fifteen miles from Port Said, and that there are some troops near Suez.

TRUE TO THE KHEDIVE.

CAIRO, July 17.—The Prefect of police declines to permit Arabi Pasha to enter the city. Three Bedouin chiefs came in and swore allegiance to the Khedive.

A WHOLY WAR.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Refugees from Cairo report that a holy war is being proclaimed, and that the Europeans are being massacreed in Tantah, Mansurah, and Zagagig. A consul has been killed at Zagagig.

THE KHEDIVE TEMPORIZING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Ragheb Pasha, President of the Ministry has written a letter to Admiral Seymour, stating that the preparations Arabi Pasha is making are against the will of the Khedive and the Government; that Arabi has been ordered to suspend them; that the Khedive has decided to dismiss him, but that the danger of a repetition at Cairo and elsewhere of the fatal disorders, which occurred at Alexandria has induced the Khedive temporarily to defer the publication of his decision.

GETTING INTO SHAPE AGAIN.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.— The international tribune and post-office has been reinstated and one hotel re-opened. Victuals are arriving from the country. The streets from the Custom House to the Grand Square have been cleared of ruins and made passable for carriages; the dangerous houses have been demolished.

BRITISH SENTRIES SHOT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—It is reported that two British sentries were shot last night by Arabs with Remington rifles. Arabi's troops were entrenching yesterday, but seemed to lack proper implements.

A BOLD VENTURE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—The Khedive has found an officer willing to carry the decree for Arabi's dismissal to his camp. Arabi has cut the telegraph which connected him with the palace, and by which the Ministry constantly communicated with him. The British outposts stopped the officer bearing the Khedive's dismissal of Arabi, which has therefore not reached him. It is believed Arabi would behead any officer bearing his dismissal.

THE FRENCH NAVY.

MARSEILLES, July 18.—The marines retired from the service, who have not served fifty-one months, have been ordered to return to the navy.

NAVAL MOVEMENTS.

MALTA, July 18.—The United States steamer Salena has returned from Alexandria. The British troop ship, Malabar has arrived from Gibraltar.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND AGREED.

PARIS, July 18.—The idea of the renewal of the close co-operation of France with England has now forced itself upon the French Government. The Cabinet has adopted a resolution to this effect, conditional on Turkey's reply to the identical note of the Powers inviting the Porte to send troops to Egypt. It is stated that the two Governments are now entirely agreed in regard to the terms upon which their forces undertake to restore order in Egypt.

PREPARING FOR A STRUGGLE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—The people of Egypt appear to be preparing for a great war. All strong men are leaving their families, and the old men, children, and women are moving towards the borders. The Arabs are flocking to the ranks of the fighters, great numbers have joined Arabi's forces at Damietta. At Damietta of the forces Arabi seem to be well disciplined and provided for fighting, the troops are regularly marshalled, and may be seen drilling frequently. Strong earthworks are being erected, and great preparations being made for a military movement of some kind. It is believed the movement will be offensive. It is stated that a council of British officers decided that the situation was more serious that ever before.

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE SULTAN.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 17.—Earl Dufferin has had a very cordial interview with the Sultan. The Sultan appeared willing to send troops to Egypt, but stated that certain difficulties appeared in the conditions. It is believed the Sultan is on the whole, in favour of the project of sending Turkish troops to Egypt, but is still undecided. The Sultan will give an audience to General Wallace, the United States Minister, to-morrow.

ANARCHY AND MASSACRES.

CAIRO July 17.—Seven hundred and fifty Europeans, mostly Italians, with the Italian Consul and an escort of forty soldiers, left on Saturday. The German Consul left on Friday. Both parties have arrived safely at Ismailia. Anarchy prevails in the provinces, and it is reported eighty Europeans were massacred at Mantah.

FRENCH TROOPS FOR EGYPT.

PARIS, July 17.—Eight thousand French troops and transports have concentrated at Toulon for Egypt should the Porte decline intervention.

AN OFFICIAL PLUNDERER.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—It is stated that Toulma Pasha, military commander of Alexandria, was personally engaged in looting and arson.

TROOPS SENT FOR.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Dervish Pasha states he has sent fifteen telegrams to Constantinople for troops, which are all unanswered.

KILLED BY MISTAKE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Three of the Khedive's grooms were killed by the English guard at the Ras-el-Tin palace by mistake.

ONLY TO MAINTAIN ORDER.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—It is stated that orders have been received from home enjoining the British to content themselves with maintaining order.

PILLAGING CONTINUES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—An Arab soldier was tied to a tree to-day in the square, and shot before the Arabs and Europeans. Despite these example pillaging continues.

THE WHITE FLAG AGAIN.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—The ironclads Minotaur, Sultan, and Temeraire have arrived off Aboukir to prevent Arabi Pasha cutting the dykes. The white flag was hoisted directly as the ships appeared.

A LETTER FROM ARABI.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Arabi Pasha's army is strongly posted. All the Bedouin's have disappeared. Arabi has written a long letter in reply to the Khedive's demands, and which the Khedive declares unsatisfactory. Arabi says he did not intend to make war, but as the powers are determined to force attack, he considers it better to fight at once. He expresses willingness to come to Alexandria if the Khedive induces the English fleet and troops to withdraw. If the Khedive cannot do this, Arabi recommends him to send a Minister to the camp to discuss the situation.

ARABI'S CAMP.

ALEXANDRIA, July 18. — A correspondent opened communication with the camp of Arabi, which an informant says consists of a little over six thousand men, intensely discontented and surrounded by starving women and children. Recruits of the lowest class are still being enticed by Arabi with promises of unlimited plunder. The force is held together by the assertion that English will kill all those returning to the city. Arabi and Taulba have utterly lost prestige by grass cowardice during the bombardment. The artillery men were kept at the guns on the 11th July by the infantry posted under cover.

FURTHER MASSACRES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 18.—The Khedive states that two hundred and five Europeans have been killed at Kafr-el-Dwar. Graves were made yesterday for the plunderer's bodies. The graves are now filled with Arabs, guilty of plundering and arson. The utmost descretion is practiced in dealing with the accused.

UNFAVOURABLE COMMENTS.

LONDON, July 18.—The numerous executions at Alexandria, excite some comment among the Liberal party in the press and in Parliament.

A MOTION OF CENSURE.

LONDON, July 18.—It is understood that the Opposition leaders have decided to introduce a motion condemning certain points in the Government's Egyptian policy. The motion will probably be made by Mr. Robert Bourke.

THE CITY QUIET.

ALEXANDRIA, July 18.—The night was quiet. The lines are now very strongly guarded. The fires are nearly all extinguished. The police arrangements are very effective.

A REWARD—Of one dozen TEABERRY to any one sending the best four line rhyme on TEABERRY, the remarkable little gem for the Teeth and Breath. Ask your druggist for address.

THE ARREARS BILL.

LONDON, July 17.—The Arrears bill passed through committee in the House of Commons to-night.

AN ARREST.

DUBLIN, July 17.—The first arrest under the Repression Act occurred in county Kerry on Saturday,

A REVOLUTION.

PANAMA, July 17.—The revolution in Ecuador continues. At Faro the revolutionary leader threatens to shoot all officers of Vientemille, the actual President, whom he may capture, on the ground that in sustaining the dictatorship they are traitors to the country. The revolutionists have captured Ambabo, a large city.

AMERICAN.

THE TOY PISTOL.

CINCINNATI, July 17.—Six boys who were wounded slightly on the Fourth by toy pistols have died here and at Covington of lock-jaw.

CROP FAILURE.

DUBLIN, July 18.—It is feared that another crisis is approaching. The weather threatens utter destruction to what promised to be one of the finest harvests for a long time. If the weather improves there will be some hopes.

MR. BRIGHT'S SUCCESSOR.

LONDON, July 18.—It is probable that the appointment of a successor to Mr. Bright will be made an occasion for a considerable re-construction of the ministry.

CHILI AND PERU.

PANAMA, July 18.—All hope for foreign intervention seems to have died out in Peru; the Chilians openly assist and promote all conference tending to bring about peace, but little has occurred pointing to a speedy settlement. Tarapaca is undoubtedly lost to Peru. Minister Partridge declares that no future action will be taken by the United States, unless she be officially requested by all the parties to use her kind offices. Scattered Chilian detachments continue to commit outrages in the interior.

AN UNFORTUNATE CREW.

LONDON, July 18.—The Hillsdale crew have been refused at all the races. The English association is enquiring in America for the amateur standing of the crew before deciding to accept their challenge.

AMERICAN.

SHOT HIS BROTHER.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 18.—Two brothers named ed Brunter, while out on a shooting excursion in Ochley County yesterday, quarrelled about the provisions. One shot and killed the other and fled.

AN EXPLOSION.

SCHENECTADY, N. J., July 18.—There was an explosion in a building at the Corraline Works, which were burned last night. Two boys, named Ferry and Ketchem, were buried in the ruins. Ferry's body has been recovered.

A PANIC.

MILWAUKEE, July 18.—Yesterday was one of the most excited panicky days known on the Change for many months. There were no important failures.

OIL DISCOVERIES.

PITTSBURG, July 18.—It is rumoured that oil has been found on the Tionesta Oil Company's tract in Forest county, seven miles in advance of the Cherry Grove developement. The well is boarded up, and the owners and drillers have taken an oath of secrecy. They are the same parties who guarded the mystery of the well in the new Cherry Grove tract, which company have charge of the new well. Hubbard township, Ohio, on the Pennsylvania line, is also excited over alleged oil strikes.

CUSTOMS SEIZURE.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Millinery goods valued at several thousand dollars, imported by Seeimer & Geldstein, Broadway, have been seized by the Customs officers to make good the duties of which it is asserted the firm defrauded the Government.

PRICE OF BREADSTUFFS.

NEW YORK, July 18.—A sharp decline in breadstuffs on the Produce Exchange yesterday, was due partly to the failure of Wheeles & Co., of Chicago, but principally to favorable reports of the growing crops.

EXPELLED.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Wm. C. Mainland, flour merchant, was unanimously expelled from the membership of the Produce Exchange yesterday. It was charged that Mainland took 250 barrels of flour from the ware-house, and delivered an inferior grade, with re-headed barrels, and falsified the side brands of the inspectors.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

THE Lord Mayor of London gave a banquet at the Mansion House, on June 17th, to the Mayors of England and Ireland and the Provosts of Scotland. From the account given of this banquet by the London Graphic we [illegible] the following very suggestive extract :—

"The Lord Mayor, in proposing the Mayors and Provosts of the United Kingdom, remarked that the source of Great Britain's greatness, in the future, would be her free municipal institutions, and expressed the hope that they would so encourage and conduct their municipalities that the centralizing power might never find it necessary to interfere with them, but, on the contrary, would increase their powers."

This dictum of the head of the chief municipality of the Three Kingdoms will meet with very general acceptance. Wherever civilization and freedom have gone hand in hand, great value has been placed upon the maintenance of local and municipal administration, whereby the people of each locality could, as far as possible, manage their own affairs. Among the English and kindred races, with their capacity for self-government, the municipalities have always been looked upon as most important units —they have been strengthened and encouraged in their work of local administration, and any tendency to undue centralization has been vigorously repudiated.

In Canada especially has this instinct, as we may almost call it, of our ancestors and their descendants, been fully recognized and thoroughly developed. To our cities, towns and villages, to our counties and townships, large powers of self-government have been entrusted, and with the most beneficial results. To local bodies representing the people especially interested, have been confided the management of our schools, the construction and maintenance of our roads and bridges, the enforcement of law and order, the regulation of the liquor traffic, of sanitary precautions, &c., and of the raising of funds for these and other local purposes. The people, by this means, have been encouraged to transact their own business, to rely upon their own resources, and have not been taught to look helplessly to a central government to do what they could better do themselves.

This has been the rule, and a very salutary one it has been found to be, but the people of Ontario will have to make a struggle if they wish to adhere to the good old practice of local government. Already serious inroads have been made upon this system, and unless a vigorous stand is made, it would be hard to say where these invasions may stop. Mr. Mowat apparently has little regard for municipal management, or the control of local matters by the local authorities. Constantly and steadily he has stript our local bodies of their old powers, and has grasped at them himself. As the leader of the local legislature—as the head of the provincial administration he has persistently and insidiously aimed at centralization. Again and again he has usurped the powers and privileges of our municipalities and local bodies, doing so, indeed, by form of law, but in opposition to the very spirit of our time honored constitution. It is because these inroads upon our old powers of self-government and local management have been effected by legal means, that we think it would be a good thing for the country to remove Mr. Mowat and his colleagues from a position which has been thus abused.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Montreal Gazette says :—

"Mr. Gagne has been elected for Chicoutimi by a majority of 1,100, and thereupon the Globe claims comfort by saying that Mr. Gagne is an Independent Liberal, who, although beaten by 300 in 1878, is now elected by the large majority we have mentioned. There is not much comfort for the Opposition in this election. Mr. Gagne ran as an Independent Liberal in 1878 against Mr. Cimon and was beaten. In the election that has just taken place, he ran as a Ministerialist, with the full support of Mr. Cimon, the late member, and of Sir Hector Langevin, having the confidence of both gentlemen, and he has, in that character, swept the county. Mr. Gagne is like some fifty thousand other Liberals in Canada, who approve of the National Policy, and are prepared to support the Government which originated it."

* * *

ACCORDING to the (Reform) Port Hope Guide the editor of the (Reform) Cobourg World is a "blatant ass," "a pompous pigmy," "an egotistical, self-sufficient, self-important popinjay," "an inflated wind-bag," &c., &c.

* * *

THE Ottawa Free Press is abusing Judge Clarke and Judge Botsford, because on recounts they did not seat the Reform candidates, bnt of course there is not a word ot blame for the County Judge of Lunenberg, who rejected 150 Conservative votes, and gave the seat to the Opposition candidate. The Free Press also blames the law, but forgets to say that it was passed by its friends, that is if the Reformers were its friends in those days, for we are not sure that we have kept track of all the charges of our versatile contemporary.

THE BOUNDARY QUESTION.

IT is reported that the question of our boundary line will be brought before an Ontario law court, whence it can be appealed till it reaches the Supreme Court of Canada. Thence it will come before the Judical Committee of the Privy Council, the highest court of the British Empire. By this roundabout way, the course will be adopted which was proposed by Sir John Macdonald more than ten years ago. By this time the matter might have been settled amicably and conclusively, had not Mr. Mowat preferred to obstruct a settlement, in the vain hope of making political capital for his friends at Ottawa.

IN the St. John Sun advertising columns will be found the advertisement of J. L. Harris, Esq., President of the Moncton Cotton Manufacturing Co., calling for tenders for the brick work of the cotton mill buildings at Moncton. These are very large buildings, and the contract will be a heavy one.

THE CROPS OF ONTARIO.

The July Report of the Bureau of Industries gives a summary of the condition of grain, hay, and fruit crops in Ontario, together with statistics of acreage of grain crops and estimates of produce, and of the year's clip of fine and coarse wools.

The condition of the crops is compiled from the reports of five hundred correspondents, made on the 1st of July, and covering nearly every township in the Province. The statistics of acreage and estimates of [illegible] of produce were collected with the assistance of Public and Separate School Teachers on the 31st of May,—schedules having been distributed to farmers through the schools, and when filled and tabulated, returned to the Bureau. It is not claimed that the figures are strictly accurate, but it is believed that if they err at all it is not on the side of excess. The estimates of produce are, of course, good only for the time at which they were made by farmers; they are not too great or too small in the proportion that the crops have since been modified by conditions. It is intended to verify them when the threshing season begins.

It will be noticed in the summary of acreages given below, the area under fall wheat is nearly double the area under spring wheat. This is a great relative change since 1870, when the crops were of nearly equal area. In that year the total area under wheat was 1,365,872 acres, and the product 14,233,389 bushels. This year the total area is 1,763,876 acres, and the estimated produce 30,783,683 bushels. The increase and the change have taken place chiefly in the West Midland, Georgian Bay and Lake Huron counties.

The fall wheat is reported very good throughout the western half of the Province. It has recovered admirably from the effects of spring frosts, and if the weather continues favourable until the harvesting, the yield will be better than an average. In the eastern half the reports are favourable. In the St. Lawrence and Ottawa counties it will be not more than half a crop. It must be remarked, however, that eastward of York county a much greater area of spring wheat is grown than of fall wheat, and the condition of spring wheat is reported excellent. The indications are, indeed, that the estimated produce of the returns for wheat will be exceeded. But assuming that it is fairly realized and that the crop is safely harvested, Ontario will have a surplus for outside markets of fully 20,000,000 bushels.

Oats promise to be an excellent crop in all sections of the Province, and barley and peas fairly good. The heavy rains of May and June, while favourable to the former grain, were somewhat injurious to the latter; but the warm days of the last two weeks of June caused all the crops to thrive wonderfully. It is a season of slow maturity for cereals, and harvest time will be fully two weeks later than usual. Corn seems destined to be a failure; the temperature has been too low for it.

The clover crop will be short in consequence of the plant having been heaved by spring frosts. Timothy meadows had a late start as the result of a cold May, but they picked up finely throughout June, and the crop will not be far short of an average.

The fruit crop has suffered severely throughout the western counties, the cold weather and east winds which followed the blossoming season having blighted it. In the eastern counties the trees came later into bloom, and apples especially promise to be a large crop. There will be a scarcity of peaches and plums, but small fruit is abundant.

The following table gives the returns of acreage and estimate of produce for the whole Province, and for the county of Peterborough.

FATE OF REFORM LEADERS.

The result of the recount in Vercheres is the election of Hon. Mr. Geoffrion, ex-Grit Minister of Inland Revenue by a majority of 19 votes! The record of the Grit leaders elected now stands as follows :—

Name	Majority
Ex-Minister Geoffrion	19
Hon. M. C. Cameron	28
Hon. L. H. Davies	28
Hon. G. W. Ross	54
Mighty Master Blake	83
Ex-Premier Mackenzie	108
Six Grit leaders aggregate majority	320

Ex-Minister Mills	16
Ex-Minister Jones	65
Ex-Whip Fiset	106
Ex-Minister Huntingdon	135
Ex-Minister Cartwright	161
Ex-Minister Macdonald	250
Ex-Minister Laflamme	262
Ex-Lieutenant Carmichael	300
Ex-Leader Killam	300
Ex-Leader Borden	350
Ex-Minister Smith	442
Ex-Minister Laird	450
Ex-Lieutenant Snowball (say)	500
Ex-Leader Sam MacDonnell	850
Ex-Speaker Turcotte	900
Ex-Speaker Anglin	1231
Sixteen Grit leaders DEFEATED by an aggregate majority of	6318

We would be glad for our Grit contemporaries to compare the above with the majorities polled by the Liberal-Conservative leaders.—Halifax Herald.

THE BOTHWELL ELECTION

The Independant Toronto Telegram says :—Mr. Mills having objected to a recount of the ballots by the County Judge appears to have thrown the advantages of the struggle for the seat into the hands of of Mr. Hawkins. It is claimed on the side of Mr. Hawkins that the law empowers the judge to make a recount of the ballots, but not simply to add the returns from omitted polling divisions, and the returning officer is obliged to abide by the judge's decision. But it is claimed to be the case that the returning officer in the Bothwell election complied with the law as laid down. It looks as if Mr. Hawkins will take the seat, and that the only chance Mr. Mills will have of dispossessing him of it, will be by pursuing the returning officer with a mandamus or dragging Mr. Hawkins into Court

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our own Correspondent.

FASTEST SAW LOG DRIVE.—Mr. Frank Braban, foreman for Mr. Irwin, of the Nassau Mills, drove down 15,000 saw logs from Burleigh to Nassau Mills, in eight days. Frank worked well and had a willing gang of men.

FIRST PRIZE BULL.—Mr. Geo. Chalmers has lately purchased a splendid bull from a farmer in the township of Cavan. He is a splendid looking animal. This [illegible] section of Smith has been badly in [illegible] want of a first class bull, therefore there is no doubt that the farmers around this neighbourhood, who wish to raise first-class stock, will avail themselves of this opportunity of doing so.

THE STEAMER CRUISER.—It is a pity this fine little steamer does not run more regularly than she does, it being the source of very great disappointment, both in regard to passengers and those expecting freight. The causes of the want of regularity are the low water or the logs in the way. Surely all these things can be rectified by making complaints in the proper quarter. Let this be done, so as to put an end to this annoyance.

OFF FOR THE OLD SOD.—Mrs. J. Stewart and her sister are leaving New York for Scotland and England, on Thursday next. After getting some caller air and a few dips in the German ocean, Mrs. Stewart will return about the end of September, no doubt, thoroughly recruited in health.

SAW LOG DRIVE.—F. Braban, foreman for Mr. Irwin, passed here on Saturday last with drive No. 2, consisting of 25,000 logs en route for Nassau Mills.

WARNING TO LIVERY STABLE KEEPERS.—The Livery Stable keepers in Peterborough and Lakefield, should be guarded in giving their horses and rigs out to young fellows, more especially those that drive to the Point. Very frequently there are three in the buggy, with one horse, and when they get this length the horse and rig are on the go all the time, with a passenger or two, and it is a question whether the horses ever get hay and oats, until they return to the owner's stable. A stop should be put to this sort of traffic; your correspondent for one, will do all in his power to assist in doing so, along with the Livery owners.

SHINGLE MILL.—Since the shingle mill started the demand for shingles which are A. 1. has been unprecedented.

GRIST MILL.—Mr. McLean has been purchasing a large quantity of wheat lately from the farmers in this section and is working up a very large trade in the back townships, and with the lumbermen—his motto is "onward."

HAYING.—The hay crop is turning out very fair in this section. Most of our farmers are now busy mowing and trust that good prices will reward them.

FRESH MEAT.—Mr. Waldron of Lakefield, has made up his mind to visit the Point once a week, on Saturdays, to supply the villagers with fresh butcher's meat. A very great boon indeed, and we trust it will be a paying business.

TRADE NOTES.

MESSRS. SAURMANN & HALTER, of Paris, Ont., are pushing forward their enterprise with energy, and expect to be engaged in the manufacture of buttons before the hot August days (which it is prophesied will be cold) are upon us. Already several of their hands have arrived in Paris, and for two or three weeks will be engaged in the manufacture of tools that will be used in the manufactory. A real difficulty was experienced in finding houses for the new families. In fact all could not be supplied.

MESSRS. COWAN & Co., of the Galt foundry, have been given a large order for a full assortment of wood-working machinery by the Chatham Manufacturing Co. The object of the company is to engage exclusively in the manufacture of waggons, etc., for the North-West, and as there is a large demand for such vehicles, and as the works will be erected at Chatham, a most favorable point for securing the different woods that enter into the manufacture of waggons, etc., we should think that the company have a prosperous future before them.

THE Montreal Gazette says :—"We are glad to learn from what is considered good authority that Messrs. H. Diston & Sons, the celebrated saw manufacturers of Philadelphia, are about to erect extensive works in Canada, now that the policy of protection for Canadian industries has been practically settled as the policy of the country. This firm, probably the largest in the world in their special line, employ about 900 men in their works in Philadelphia. In starting an establishment in Canada, they contemplate not only supplying the Canadian market, but supplying as well a large part of their foreign trade from this point. This is another of the indications which go to show how wise, from a patriotic standpoint, was the decision of the people of Canada at the recent elections."

THE Brant Review says that on Saturday, June 17th, the first webs of carpet were taken from the looms at the Paris carpet factory, the proprietors of which (Messrs. Baird, Campbellford & Co.,) celebrated the occasion by inviting the editors of the town papers and a number of their friends to an excellent lunch. There are at present six looms running in the factory, capable of turning out from 80 to 100 yards each week. These will shortly be increased to ten or twelve, as soon as men can be procured and the looms made. The wages earned by the weavers will average $10 a week. The carpets manufactured by the firm are principally what are known as unions, although two-ply wool will also be turned out. An examination of the webs already finished showed them to be of very handsome design, and good colors, a class of goods that should sell readily at their retail price of 60 or 65 cents. Altogether there will be about 50 patterns. There promises to be ready sale for all that can be manufactured.

C. BRITTON, Lindsay, Ont., writes :—"I have much pleasure in recommending Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in all cases of Jaundice, Biliousness, Sich Headache and Liver Complaint, for they have given universal satisfaction, and I have sold more of them the past season than any other one patent medicine."

A SORROWFUL HONEYMOON.

Suicide of a Bridegroom of Only two Weeks —Fatal Effects of Laudanum.

About seven o'clock on Saturday evening a newly-married man named Samuel Beasaw committed suicide by taking laudanum at the residence of his brother-in-law, Geo. Anderson, Tait street. It seems that the deceased, who is aged about twenty-two years, had only been married two weeks ago, was on a visit with his wife at Mr. Anderson's, and had not been very well for a few days. He was a painter by trade, and had been in the employ of the Midland railway company at Uxbridge. He was offered work at good wages in this city, but declined the offer on pretence that his feet were sore, and that he had better take a rest for a few days longer. Beasaw returned to Mr. Anderson's house, after a walk, about two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, and lay down upon the bed for the purpose of resting himself. His wife remarked to him that he had been taking laudanum, and and ask why he had done so. He replied that he had not, but that he rubbed some upon his feet. Beasaw said that he would be all right after having a little sleep, whereupon his wife left the room. She occasionally looked in at him, and a little before seven o'clock, thinking it nearly time for her husband to get up for tea, she went to his bed, and found him still sleeping heavily. Becoming somewhat alarmed she felt his pulse, which to her mind seemed regular enough, but a second afterwards it stopped, then flickered, and the next moment her husband opened his eyes and breathed his last. She alarmed the household, and Dr. Ball was sent for, but when he reached the place he pronounced the man dead. The doctor was under the impression that the deceased had been troubled with heart disease, because, in his opinion, if he had not been, he would not have died from the effects of the quantity of laudanum which he had probably taken.

The case was reported to Constable Brady, who was on duty on King street east, and having gone to the house and viewed the body he notified Dr. Riddel. The coroner, however, did not consider it necessary to hold an inquest on the remains, which will be conveyed to Uxbridge for burial this afternoon.

AN EGYPTIAN PRISON.

We were in a sort of ill-paved, ill-looking, ill-smelling square, on each side of which was a large door, now thrown open, displaying an inner door of cross-barred, wooden grating, and behind row upon row of miserable, hopeless faces. Already the old folk and children who had followed us had begun to pilfer from the bread panniers, and as soon as the prisoners caught sight of the food the horrid clanking of chains grated on my ears, loud cries and howls came from the gratings, and the faces at the apertures multiplied threefold. I could see the poor wretches struggling with one another for a place in front, the weakest, of course, going to the wall, the greediest and strongest crushing forward. And such faces! Most of them were revolting enough in themselves, and could well have spare the loathsome environment that made them worse. On some, indeed, the scourge of the East, leprosy, had left its mark; some were merely ill and hungry looking; the better favoured seemed to stay within their chains behind, for shame, perhaps. All the foremost cried out for the bread they saw, and scrambled and fought like wild beasts for such of the round cakes as escaped through the bars without being torn piece-meal in their passage. One or two of the officials volunteered to help us to distribute our doles; and, of course, inviolable Eastern custom demanded that a little of the sorry stuff should disappear by the way into their own capacious pockets. I tried to get one of the fellows—Jusef, as I had heard some of the prisoners call him—to deal out the bread in something like order, but order seemed impossible; official authority stopped short outside the bars of the prison house, I could see some sturdy ruffians dealing blows to their fellows with rude whips and sticks, and even with their chains, driving them from the raised step that led to the door, cursing loudly. And while this din was in our ears, and we were feeding the wreches inside the bars, the unfortunates outside, who had followed us closely to this very holy of holies, were pilfering as fast as hands, big or little, could help them. Yes, big or little. One tiny child about five years old, stole three cakes before my eyes, was cuffed, hustled away, and returned in a minute to steal a fourth from my left hand, while her mother was snatching from my right. The cigarettes produced almost equal excitement, and were hugged by the happy possessors almost as eagerly as the bread.

And now that my stock of provisions was exhausted I thought I had seen enough for once, and proceeded to make my way out of the vile den. As I was moving off, one of the officials blandly asked for backshish, in reply to which I used all the few Arabic indignant expletives I knew, and failing that, French, and when that also came too slowly for my indignation, I found relief in native English. I heard subsequently that "the Khedive"—i. e., I suppose the Government—sends daily supplies to the prison to the extent of three of those small round cakes for each person in confinement. But they only get one, and some who had tasted the sweets of this same prison-house assured me that they often get none. Where do the rest go? What man who knows Egypt knows not this, too?—Macmillan's Magazine.

Ocean Steamers.

It is said that the tendency in modern shipbuilding in favor of very long and narrow ocean steamers is to receive a check. The new vessel, the City of Rome, is the extreme of this class, being 600 feet in length, with only 52 feet breadth of beam, and 37 feet depth of hold. Such vessels attain great speed, but are very uncomfortable in rough weather, and not as safe as is desirable. A reaction against this model has set in, and among ocean steamers recently built is the Moor, which is 365 feet long, 45½ feet wide, and 32½ feet deep. This very considerable breadth in proportion to the length has not been attained at a single jump. The company to which this vessel belongs, for some time past have been building steamers in which the breadth of beam has been gradually increased. They are all built by William Denny & Bro., Dumbarton, Scotland, a firm well known as holding advanced ideas in regard to marine engineering. One of the leading arguments in favour of boats of this character, aside from the comfort of the passengers, seems to have been the promise of the Admiralty to use such vessels as cruisers in case of war with foreign nations.

My wife had been an invalid for two years, but these bitters have cured her."

MONTREAL, Dec. 20th, 1880. Smith Medicine Co., Gents;—I am requested by Miss Sarah Fordham to inform you that your treatment of the Tape Worn has proved a great success. In five hours after she had taken the medicine the worm passed alive with head complete, measuring 22½ feet. The medicine caused no pain or uneasiness. You may rest assured that I will never cease to recommend your treatment whenever an opportunity offers. Yours, J. B. L. Flynn, 20 Chaboillez Square, Montreal.

THE most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany or at least originate there. The most recent preparation paloed upon the market in this country, is the Great German Invigorator, which has never been known to fail in curing a single case of impotency, spermatorrhœa, weakness and all diseases resulting from self-abuse, as nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, languor, lassitude, depression of spirits and functional derangement of the nervous system. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

A Year's Tree Planting.

Those who regard with dismay the cutting down of trees, and believe that the area of woodland in Britain is gradually disappearing, may take comfort from some of the figures stated in the return as to the prices for British timber realized during the season 1881-82. From those figures it will be seen that throughout England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales, there were planted on various estates, during the period under review, no less than 8,156,826 trees! Of these, 2,175,826 were planted in Scotland, 646,200 in England, 294,800 in Ireland, and 40,000 in Wales. It is, of course, not easy to get absolutely complete returns, but those we give are well within the mark, and prove that there is at least some set off against tree felling and the gradual increase of bricks and mortar in these islands.

Advice to Would-be Compositors.

Then you wish to be a compositor, do you? A slinger of types and an exponent of the inventive genius of the age. We should advise you to study up the labels on tea chests, the tracks in a hen yard, and the wiggles of angle worms in the sand after a rain, to familiarize yourself with manuscript and get the bearings of ideas represented therein. Then learn the case, all about "pick ups," etc., and hire yourself out for a first-class comp. You will be sure to succeed. No matter what an editor writes you will be equal to the situation. You may astonish him and the readers at the same time, but you will have fulfilled the grand mission of the compositor, to simplify and extend the English language and put words and thoughts into type that are original only with yourself.

We are constantly improving our stock with the Newest Designs and Patterns, so that Man or Boy shall not ask for anything in the Gents' Furnishing Line but what we can offer him. "Habiliment Hall."

WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

It acts directly upon the Stomach, Liver, and Kidneys. Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

N. H. DOWNS' ELIXIR

N. H. DOWNS'

Vegetable Balsamic

ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation when the cough is more observable, but rather dry—then becomes feverish and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiates or astringent articles, which are also drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. "Made in London, Eng.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere, The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

It has been in use for 20 years, and has proved to be the best preparation in the market for SICK HEADACHE, PAIN IN THE SIDE OR BACK, LIVER COMPLAINT, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, DYSPEPSIA, PILES, and all Diseases that arise from a Disordered Liver or an impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once, recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for Regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Those who cannot obtain a bottle of this medicine from their druggist may send us one dollar, and we will send it to them.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, JULY 18, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Arrived.

The Port Hope Cricket Club arrived in town this forenoon on the 8.45 Midland train.

Fire Company Drill.

The Electric Hose Company, of the Fire Brigade, will turn out for practice to-night. The engine will be used in the drill.

On Water Street.

The waterworks pipes have been laid on London street as far as Water street, and are now being put in on the latter street. The trench has been dug on Water street nearly as far down as St. Paul's church.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes, —Moderate, mostly south and south-west. Fair warm weather, local showers.

A New Company.

The Canada Gazette states that letters patent have been issued incorporating Valancey E. Fuller, J. Proctor and R. J. Kennedy, of Hamilton, G. A. Cox, of Peterborough, and Robert Jaffray, of Toronto, as the "Hamilton Land Company."

The Civic Holiday.

The cities of Belleville, Toronto and Montreal are going to have their civic holidays on Wednesday, the 16th of August, and the Whig says that Kingston will probably set apart the same day for the same purpose. It is not time that some move was made towards appointing a day as a town holiday for the citizens of Peterborough to enjoy themselves?

Religious Meetings.

Religious meetings are held every Sunday afternoon, under the direction of the Young Men's Christian Association, by members of the Association, at the chief camps on the line of the "Missing Link." The young men receive encouragement from the men working on the road to continue the meetings, as they appear to appreciate the services.

Personal.

The Winnipeg Times of July 12th has the following in reference to a former resident of Peterborough :—

"John Kennedy, son of Lt.-Col. Kennedy, received information from the military authorities yesterday that he had passed the examination held recently at Fort Osborne, for admission to the Military College Kingston, and was now eligible for a cadets hip. The examination was a very strict one, but young John passed it very creditably."

Among those who registered their names in London during the past week, at the Canadian office, we notice the names of Mr. George A. Cox, Mrs. and Miss Cox, and F. and A. Cox, of Peterborough.

Business Change.

Mr. Melville Miller, as will be seen from his advertisement, is now conducting the hardware business on George street, which he recently purchased from Mr. John Bertram. From his former experience in business here, he is well acquainted with the local requirements, and no doubt will so provide for them as to secure a large share of the patronage of the public in this line. He has earned the reputation in Peterborough of being an excellent business man, and of being unfailing in his attention to the wants of his customers, and in civility and courtesy in his dealings with them. We may therefore safely prophecy that he will be successful.

American Canoe Association.

In the July number of the American Canoeist, which is as usual full of interesting reading, we find the following paragraph :—

"Vice Commodore Edwards writes: I have just come from a meeting of our Boating Club ; at which the following resolution, moved by myself, seconded by Mr. N D. Beck, was carried unanimously :—'That the Club boat-house of the Peterborough Boating Club be free to all members of the American Canoe Association who may visit Peterborough.' I need hardly add that a hearty welcome from the members will be ready to supplement the formal resolution. This resolution, which is not limited to this season only, will, I think, so far as our Club is concerned, meet the point suggested by Com. Allen in a recent letter to the Canoeist."

Commodore Allen had suggested that the constitution of the American Canoe Association should provide for branch clubs.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

TUESDAY, July 18.—John McDonald, aged 35, a "Linker," was charged by P. C. McGee with being drunk on the street on Monday night. He put in the usual plea of the first offence, and said that if he was let off this time he would "go to work like a man."

The Magistrate remarked that being lenient seemed to have little good effect, and imposed a fine of $1, which was paid at once.

BREACH OF THE PEACE.

David Lacey was charged by P. C. McGhee with committing a breach of the peace on Monday evening. At the request of the compiainant he was remanded until Friday.

SABBATH BREAKING.

The Police Magistrate rendered judgment in the case of the Midland Railway employees, charged with desecrating the Sabbath by running a train from Belleville to Peterborough on Sunday, the 25th of June.

The Magistrate in giving judgment, said that the information charges that the defendants, being servants or employees of the Midland Railway of Canada, did on Sunday, the twenty-fifth day of June, 1882, at the Town of Peterborough exercise their ordinary calling, contrary to the statute in that behalf. He reviewed the evidence given in the case, (which was reported at the time in the REVIEW,) and proceeded to say that cases were cited by Mr. Dumble for complainant, and Mr. Hall for the defendants, but he could not find that any of them met the circumstances as set forth in this case. The defendants were the hands in charge of the train referred to. Their ordinary calling was to run that train on week days, from Belleville to Peterborough and return. They were not pursuing their ordinary calling in running an empty train to meet a special emergency, as this was shown to have been. He did not think it was such a case as was intended by the defendants to be a desecration of the Sabbath, or that they thought they were doing anything but a work of necessity in conveying or running the train as they did. The necessities of life, society and business, now require that broader views should be taken of what is not a work of necessity, than were required when the statute under which this complaint was laid was passed, and he thought it would be a wise provision if some such amendment as that existing in England were added to the present statute. By the English act, Chap. 87 of 34-35 Vic., no prosecution shall take place under the statute 29, Chas. II, Chap. 7, unless the information is laid by the chief officer of police of the police district in which it is committed, or unless the consent in writing of two justices of the peace, or a stipendary magistrate having jurisdiction in the place where the offence is committed, is obtained. This provision, or one somewhat similar, would prevent the laying of information by irresponsible persons. He did not by these remarks desire to convey the impression that the complaindid anything but his duty in laying the information in this case, but he could easily see where malicious persons might put persons and companies to losses and serious annoyances as the statute now is, whereas were some such provision as he had suggested, incorporated in the Act, the person really setting on foot the prosecution might be made responsible for the consequences. Having these views, and keeping before him the very full judgment of his Lordship the C. J. C. P. Div., recently delivered, he found the defendants not guilty, and in so doing he desired it to be understood that he only did so in this case because he believed Mr. Ferguson that the work was an actual work of necessity, but the repetition of such acts would probably lead him to take a very different view of subsequent cases. As the information was laid by an officer in discharge of his duty, he did not think it would be right for him to be compelled to pay costs, and therefore the case was dismissed without costs.

The Flume.

The masons have commenced work on the flume for the water-works at Hilliard's dam, where the pumps for the works will be placed.

Railway Notes.

The Midland trains arriving at Belleville have not yet taken advantage of the connection made with the G. T. R. line several weeks ago. It is not considered probable that the connection will be used.

Lacrosse Excursion.

We understand that the Peterborough Lacrosse Club have chartered the Golden-Eye for an excursion down the river to Idyl Wild on Thursday, the 3rd of August. Preparations are being made, for making this excursion one of the best of the season. Two Palace Scows will be fitted up for dancers and other amusements, and a good orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

A Row.

On Monday evening, at about half past six o'clock, some men who had been drinking rather freely, engaged in a fight near the corner of Water and Hunter streets. There was quite an excitement for a time, and one man, a navvy, was knocked down and kicked severely on the head, and laid for some time on the sidewalk insensible. He was taken into an hotel, and afterwards taken in charge by P. C. McGhee. The affair will probably be ventilated in the Police Court, as David Lacey, who was this forenoon remanded until Friday, was one of those engaged in the disturbance.

A Beautiful Cane.

The cane which is to be presented to Mr. Geo. Hilliard, M. P., as the result of the voting at the Ennismore pic-nic, held in the first week in June last, is now on exhibition in the window of Mr. C. B. Routley's store. The cane which was first procured for this purpose did not meet the views of the committee, and this one was in consequence ordered from Mr. Routley. It is a beautiful cane of black ebony, with a handsomely and artistically ornamented gold head, and is not only a useful and exceedingly handsome present, but a very valuable one as well. It is well worth seeing.

PORT HOPE.

GOT HIS FOOT CRUSHED.—The Guide says that Michael Curran, a sailor working on the schooner Maria Annette, on Friday, unloading stone for the new pier, had all the toes on his right foot smashed by a large stone falling on it. The big toe was completely flattened. Curran will be laid up for weeks on account of his accident.

BELLEVILLE.

SAD ACCIDENT.—The Intelligencer says that Mr. Thomas Campbell, of the 6th concession of Thurlow, met with a very severe accident on Monday morning, while reaping on his farm. He fell from the reaper and one of his feet caught in the knives if the machine and was horribly lacerated. Drs. Farley and Tracy were summoned from the city, and on arriving found it necessary to amputate the leg below the knee.

Cricket Match.

A cricket match is in progress this afternoon on the Ashburnham cricket ground, between the Peterborough Club and the Port Hope Club, the champions of Ontario. In the first innings the home club scored fifteen, and at three o'clock the visitors had scored seventy-three on their first innings with one player to go out.

Personal ! To Men Only !

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

THE new kid leather factory of Messrs. Pion & Co., near the foot of St. Ours-street, Quebec, is fast approaching completion. It is an immense structure, built of red brick trimmed with white, four storeys high, and is just receiving its roof.

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposed to say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us.

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

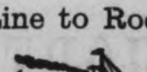
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.



Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

The Note of the Powers Unanswered—More Troops for Egypt—The Italian Consul Killed—Whole Villages in a State of Starvation—Debate in the House of Commons—Fears of an Outbreak at Cairo Increasing—The Behaviour of the American Navy—The False Prophet.

AMERICAN COURAGE.

LONDON, July 18.—The Morning Post, commenting on the Herald's remarks on the Uncle Sam's sixty marines at Alexandria, declares the behaviour of the American admiral and his men beyond all praise. "When the European allies were getting out of range, the American admiral, with a cool glance at the threatening Egyptian cannon, calculated he would stay where he was, and if any of them fired at him he would fire back. When the bombardment was over an American ship alone sailed around each of our ships and gave them a lusty cheer. When Admiral Seymour asked for aid to protect life and property in Alexandria, sixty American marines landed promptly, in a way which quadrupled their value. Last and best of all, when there was a rumour of Arabi returning with 8,000 men, and the European marines hastened back to their men-of-war, and while French and Italians were sailing in safety in the open sea, the Americans preferred to stick by the Englishmen and take their chances." The Post ends as follows:—"There are times when jealousy and ill-feeling run high betwen us and bad words are bandied accross the Atlantic, but thank Heaven there are also times of national grief and occasionally of great moment, when blood is found thicker than water, and Americans and Britishers will be found standing side by side. May it be so always."

THE AMERICANS AT ALEXANDRIA.

LONDON, July 18.—The Post says: The behaviour of the American admiral and his men at Alexandria is beyond all praise. And the diplomatic protests of the European representatives and conferences and a naval demonstration of imbicility, it is refreshing to find a commander able and willing on his own account to say what he thinks and do what he says. Sixty marines, physically speaking, could not do much, but there is a way of giving support which quadruples its value. The conduct of the Americans during the night alarm that Arabi was coming, contrasts remarkably with that of the French and Italians.

MORE SOLDIERS FOR EGYPT.

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 18.—The troop ship Euphrates, has been ordered to be in readiness within twelve hours. She will probably take two thousand men to Alexandria.

POLICE ORGANIZATION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 18.—The idea of occupying Rumleh, has been abandoned. Two hundred marines will occupy seven different centres, which is expected to place the whole town under efficient surveillance. A native police is being organized to act under the military police, a detective force has also been instituted.

THE FALSE PROPHET.

ALEXANDRIA, July 18.—El Mehdi, the prophet, supposed to be at least one thousand miles south of Alexandria, in accordance with an understanding with Arabi, is moving in the direction of Cairo. El Mehdi continues to swell his ranks by thousands. The whole population along his course will flock to his standard. It is thought that Arabi's object is to delay operations till his ally arrives.

ARABI EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 18.—It is reported that Arabi Pasha is retreating on Cairo. He has written to the Porte maintaining that the bombardment of Alexandria was hostile to the right of the Sultan, and that he holds himself justified for his course by law as well as by the decision of the Couhcil of Ministers. His reply to the fire of the vessels of the British fleet he considers to have been his sacred right and his duty under international as well as sacred law, and he contends he merely acted in defence of his country. He boldly asserts that the Khedive, in accepting an English guard, showed he considered the Egyptians his enemies.

ARABI'S RETREAT.

CAIRO, July 18.—The natives state that during the retreat of Arabi a shell burst in the midst of his soldiers, killing 200.

ARABI'S FORCE INCREASING.

ALEXANDRIA, Suly 18.—Arabi's force is said to be increasing. The hesitation in attacking him at once is regarded as a fatal mistake by all the authorities here. Wounded natives have been paraded in Cairo for the purpose of exciting animosity.

ASSISTING THE RESIDENTS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 18.—At the request of several residents, the American consular authorities here have ordered that a French shop in the same building with the American consulate be opened, and that respectable residents be allowed to help themselves to articles they require on signing a declaration showing what they have taken.

GEN. GRANT SIDES WITH ENGLAND.

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—The Record will publish General Grant's views on the Eastern question to-morrow. He sides with England and says the people of Egypt are ten times worse off than the negroes were in the South. He believes an English protectorate would help to develop the resources of the country and improve the condition of the people.

AN ANGLO-FRENCH CONVENTION.

PARIS, July 18.—It is stated that M. de Freycinet has informed the Cabinet that France and England had agreed upon the necessity of an occupation of the canal three months ago, but this convention would not be carried out until the conference decides thereon.

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

LONDON, July 18.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir Charles Dilke said the identical note addressed by the powers of the Porte was still unanswered. Mr. Bannerman said the Government entirely approved of the conduct of Admiral Seymour. Sir H. Drummond Wolff moved the adjournment, and dwelt on the misleading character of the Government's replies. He believed Admiral Seymour did not land marines on July 11th because ordered not to, and that the Government remained inactive to allow Arabi to gather strength. Mr. Gladstone said he took the full responsibility for Admiral Seymour's action. The instructions to land a force at Alexandria were conditional, and it did not appear to him necessary to do so. Sir Stafford Northcote thought the question of Sir Drummond Wolff relative to Admiral Seymour's authority to land troops very natural in view of the grave events at Alexandria. Mr. Gladstone said no instructions had been given to Admiral Seymour bearing on the point raised subsequent to May 15th.

PROTECTING THE CANAL.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 18.—The British and French Ambassador have been instructed to submit to the conference the question of the protection of the Suez canal, and to propose that the execution of its decisions be entrusted to certain powers.

DERVISH PASHA SUMMONED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 18.—Dervish Pasha has been summoned from Alexandria to give his views on the situation.

ATTEMPTED ARSON,

ALEXANDRIA, July 18.—An attempt was was made last evening to fire St. Mark's buildings, the headquarters of the Americans here.

ANXIETY AT CAIRO.

CAIRO, July 18.—Arabi Pasha is still issuing orders and appointments in the Khedive's name. Arabi's forces on the canal are estimated at 10,000, including the Bedouins who gave adhesion to Arabi four days ago. The wounded Arabs from Alexandria were sent to Cairo. The sight of the plunder which is being sold in the bazaar has stimulated the Cairenes to imitate the Alexandrians. An Englishman who arrived at Suez from Cairo describes the people as wild and threatening. He thinks the European portion of the city will be burned. The ulemas are preaching war to Arabi Pasha. The latter said when the first shot of the bombardment was fired that all the principal traitors to his cause must be put away; there were only about forty, and ten minutes would suffice. The loyal Ministers feel anxious. Arabi threatens to cut the Mahmoudieh canal, which supplies the town water. He prevents provisions entering, and as a number of Europeans are returning, there is likely to be a famine. An unsuccessful attempt has been made to fire Cairo. An attempt to seize an Englishman's house has been frustrated by the loyal governor.

FEARS FOR CAIRO.

CAIRO, July 19.—The Europeans continue alarmed at the uncertainty of the situation; fears of a native outbreak are increasing. The active warlike preparations of the Egyptian soldiery have convinced the people of Cairo that the city will be sacked and burned, and its foreign population massacred.

THE NAVAL RESERVE.

LONDON, July 19.—The ships of the reserve squadron, have been ordered to return to their several stations. This is regarded as an indication of the emergency of war as regards the demand upon the navy.

EUROPEANS LEAVING CAIRO.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—A telegraph from the Port for Dervish Pasha arrived here shortly after he left here for Constantinople. Admiral Seymour sent after him and he is now returning. No Europeans remain in Cairo, except twenty Germans who refuse to leave. The consul killed at Zapahig was the Italian consul.

ENGLAND WILL BE SUPPORTED.

BERLIN, July 18.—The Cologne Gazette and Berlin Narth German Gazette print articles regarded as directly inspired and representing the policy of Germany and the other powers except England and France. The articles state that the Egyptian question will only be ripe for Germany after the western powers come to a mutual understanding, to apply for the assent of the European powers. In view of the general need of peace, England may rely upon support on all sides in her endeavor to bring about a settlement of the question, and particularly if she strictly adheres to the role of defender of her just interests.

DOUBTFUL VISITORS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—The conduct of the Khedive causes much surprise. He has for a few days allowed several persons to be in the palace, who are well known to be intimately connected with Arabi. The Khedive mistrusts them, but it may be that he is endeavouring to get them thoroughly in his power.

THE POWERS' NOTE UNANSWERED.

LONDON, July 19.—Precautions have been taken to protect Port Said, Imalia and Suez. The identical note of the Powers to the Porte, regarding the despatch of Turkish troops to Egypt is unanswered.

PEOPLE STARVING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—A correspondent drove yesterday nine miles along the line of Arabi's retreat, and passed several villages where the people were starving. The soldiers robbed them of everything. The entire route is lined with dead horses and carriages. It is reported that the Bedouins harrased the soldiers during the retreat, killing 200.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, JULY 19, 1882.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

THE appointed time has now expired for the production of the plans and specifications of the works on the Trent navigation, for which an appropriation of $290,000 was voted at the last session of the Canadian Parliament, and yet there is no appearance in Peterborough of these data for contractors. We are, therefore, again under the necessity of calling attention to this neglect, and of urging immediate attention to this very important matter.

Possibly these documents are ready for inspection at Ottawa, but this is not sufficient. We hope that some of our local contractors will tender for these works at Burleigh, Buckhorn and Fenelon Falls, which they should be in an advantageous position to undertake, and it is only fair to them that they should have the opportunity, as advertised, of obtaining the necessary information on the spot.

It may be said that there was a difficulty in getting these documents prepared in time, but this is the very thing of which we complain. Such arrangements should be made as to enable the work to be done when required. Already there has been one postponement, a thing so common as not to call for very serious remark, but when the second date was fixed it certainly ought to have been adhered to. We believe that if the matter had been left in the hands of the resident engineer, or if Mr. Starke, C. E., who has made himself so thoroughly well acquainted with all the details of the undertaking, had been sent down here specially to manage it, there would have been none of this delay, and no cause for complaint. We have no intention and no desire to blame any individual, but it must be obvious that to send down here a gentleman on the staff of the department, who has all the information to acquire and to call upon him simultaneously to direct other important works, is not doing justice either to this undertaking or to himself, and under such circumstances, it is not surprising that he should be unable to give sufficient attention to this matter or to avoid the disappointment of which we now have to complain. The matter is of sufficient consequence to call for all the time and energies of a thoroughly competent engineer.

We have full confidence in the good faith and zeal of the Minister of Railways and Canals and his colleagues, but we must admit that we have some doubt whether the permanent heads of the department are equally well disposed towards this project. They may be so much in love with the big locks, by means of which they are opening, at a vast expenditure of public money, the navigation of the St. Lawrence, as much for the benefit of the United States as of Canada, that they may be disposed to begrudge any sums devoted to less gigantic, but more advantageous works. If they have this feeling, we may well imagine what a dead weight their inertia would be for a Minister to overcome. Of course we cannot assert that such is the case, but there have been several circumstances that point to such a position of affairs so plainly as to warrant our suspicion.

Whatever may be the cause of the delay, we trust that such arrangements will be made as to avoid it in future, and to enable the work to be pushed forward with all proper despatch. From one end of the Trent Valley to the other this is expected, and nothing less will satisfy the people of the district.

A DELIBERATE FALSEHOOD.

THE Globe of July 17, in an article headed "The Trade destroying policy again," says:—

"Perhaps if some lake captain were to take Mr. Bowell by the horns, as did a Peterborough miller in the matter of grinding-in-bond, the difficulty might be solved. The miller aforesaid, being indebted to the Government in respect of the tax on wheat imported to be ground in bond and knowing that the Government was permitting other millers to evade payment of the duty, plumply refused to pay a cent, and defied the Government to collect the tax. The Government quietly dropped the case."

This is simply a wicked falsehood—there is not one word of truth in it. No Peterborough miller has tried to evade payment of the duty on wheat imported in bond, has refused to pay it or has defied the Government to collect it, and consequently the Government has not quietly dropped the case. The whole story is an invention.

This is a specimen of the disgraceful tactics which the Globe constantly employs. It publishes utter falsehoods, with the hope of rendering the party some service or damaging its opponents, confident that many of its readers in other localities will not see the denial, which it takes care not to make public, and therefore will believe its calumnies. When its falsehood is pointed out, it never retracts. It is not surprising that such a journal is being censured by many of its own party.

AGRICULTURAL RETURNS.

WE extract from the Agricultural returns for July of the Ontario Bureau of industries the following information in relation to the East Midland counties:—

"This group, which includes the counties of Victoria, Peterborough, Haliburton and Hastings, is situated, for the most part, in a comparatively newly settled section of the Province. The undulating character of the country, a rich loamy soil, and an abundance of good water, combine to render it well adapted for grazing and stock raising as well as for the production of cereals. Fall wheat is grown to a considerable extent in many sections of this district, and the reports, with a few exceptions, speak in most encouraging terms of the prospect of a good yield. Only in a few of the older and more exposed localities has it been injured by winter-killing; the moderate snowfall and the greater facilities for shelter which are always found in new districts having generally afforded sufficient protection. In several sections of the Counties of Hastings and Haliburton very little fall wheat is sown, and what there is is reported as below the average. The crop is everywhere in this district much later in heading out and approaching maturity than usual.

Spring wheat is uniformly good and promises a heavy crop if present appearances continue. One correspondent in Hastings says of this crop "It never looked better; plenty of plants on the ground, with a good healthy color," and replies of a similar nature ran through all the reports. Spring wheat is now pretty well out in head, and the earnest hope is expressed by farmers that no midge or other injurious influence may appear to affect the prospect of a good harvest.

Other grains, on the whole, give extra promise of an abundant yield throughout these counties. One correspondent, who has recently travelled through a considerable portion of the County of Hastings, writes "I never saw a better prospect for an excellent crop of oats, peas, barley and all spring grains." Peas and oats generally never looked better, and barley, which in some localities was retarded by the late frosts and the excessive moisture, promises to be at least an average crop. In some sections, too, barley is longer in the straw than usual, and everywhere it is well advanced, and appears well in head. Rye, where sown, is not more than half a crop.

No serious injury has resulted in any section from late frosts, beyond a temporary check to the growth of the young plants in the few localities visited. For a time it was feared that the continuous heavy rains which fell during the early part of June would drown out much of the young crop, but this only occured to a limited extent in a few low-lying sections. The warm weather which followed the season of rain promoted an exceedingly rapid growth; so much so that in some places it is feared the rankness of straw may cause the crop to fall down before it matures. Insect enemies have not made their appearance.

The reports as to the condition of meadows invariably say that clover has been more or less killed by winter frosts, and that there will be a large falling off in the hay crop from this cause. Old meadows in particular are seriously affected. Timothy and mixed grasses are, as a rule, light, and the yield per acre, in the most favoured localities, will be below the average with few exceptions. Pasture is abundant.

Vegetation has made rapid progress of late, but at the best harvest will be from one to two weeks behind the usual time. Fruit trees have not been planted very generally yet, especially in the newer townships, but where they have reached bearing there is a good prospect for an abundant apple crop. Plums and other fruit are almost a total failure."

ALEXANDRIA.

A Glance at the History of the Burning City and Surroundings.

Alexandria is not now enduring the first appalling vicissitudes in its career since its foundation by Alexandria the Great. A History, says the New York Post, reaching from the Macedonian phalanx to Admiral Seymour's eighty-ton guns, touches, in its course through twenty-two centuries of glory and vicissitude, many contrasts scarcely less sharp and striking than that of its extremes. It is indeed difficult dwelling upon the dramatic picture of our fleet's withdrawal to the music of "God save the Queen," with answering strains of "Hail, Columbia," from the bands of the British ships, to realize that the self-same scene has been occupied by so many august but yet familiar figures, in ages when the less and the greater Britain were alike unknown. But, in truth, the multitude which has appeared upon the stage now set anew for another act, includes a striking number of the very foremost actors in all history—Alexander the Great, the Ptolemies, Julius Cæsar, Antony and Cleopatra, Diocletian, Cyril, Athanasius, Clement, Origen, St. George of Cappadocia, whose cross now floats where once he bore episcopal rule, Hypatia, Chosroes, the conquering Amrou, Napoleon—these are but a few of the strangely mingled names.

The history of Alexandria is, in fact, older than its name, for the island of Pharos was from a very early period the refuge of Greek and Phœnician sea-rovers; while upon the mainland the rude village of Rhacotis existed long before the beginning of the city, to a quarter of which it subsequently gave its name. But it was not until the advent of Alexander, who discerned with strategic eye the fitness of its location for trade, that the Alexandria of History was founded, in the year 332 B. C. The modern Alexandria stands partly on what was the island of Pharos, now a peninsula, but mostly on the isthmus extending to the mainland, which formerly was an artificial dyke between the island and land, and has attained its present dimensions through constant accumulation of soil and ruins. Ancient Alexandria was upon the mainland adjacent to the modern town, twelve miles west of the Rosetta or Western Nile, and between the Lake Mereotis on the south and the Mediterranean on the north. The divination of Alexander's genius was shown in the immediate and rapid growth of the city, which soon became the ruler and queen of Eastern commerce. Its development in other directions was greatly aided by the enlightened liberality of the earlier Ptolemies, who had possessed themselves of the kingdom of Egypt after the death of Alexander. Under their rule the population increased to at least a half a million, and the city was made glorious with monuments, palaces and other public buildings, among them the Pharos, the "wonder of the world," the Museum, and the Serapeum, or temple of Serapis, the god who after introduction by the first Ptolmy had dethroned the ancient Osiris. Under the latter Ptolemies the city suffered some decline, but it was yet at a high pitch of splendor when the last of that line bequeathed it to the Romans. The cival convulsions of Italy prevented the peaceable passing of this bequest, and Julius Cæsar besieged and took the city in the year 48 B. C. Then followed the episode of the seven months' detention of Cæsar with Cleopatra, after Pharsalia, succeeded by the joint reign of Antony and Cleopatra, and it was not until the world had been lost and won at Actium that Alexandria finally submitted to the Roman power, under Augustus, in the year 30 B. C.

He made it an Imperial city, under a prefect appointment by the Emperor, and for two centuries and a half its old prosperity was revived. The municipality was restored by Severus in the year 196 A. D. But in the year 215 Caracalla, visiting the city, was incited to one of his insane butcheries which amounted to a general massacre. Tumults occuring under the rule of Gallienus caused a considerable loss of life and a subsequent famine is believed to have carried off one-half the population. A revolt under Aurelian, in the year 273, resulted in the complete destruction of the royal or Greek quarter, and the library of the Museum, which having suffered under Cæsar, had been thoroughly restored, now entirely perished. A revolt against Diocletian, in the year 296, caused an eight months' siege and capture and a general slaughter of the inhabitants. In the year 365 a terrible earthquake injured the city, and is reported to have destroyed 50,000 persons. Contention between the pagan and Christian citizens culminated about the year 400 in the destruction of the Serapeum by Theophilus, the patriarch, who either pillaged or destroyed the remaining great library therein contained. For two centuries more, with the decreasing power of the Cæsars, their hold upon the city weakened, and its own internal commotions and dissentions constantly diminished its importance. It yielded, in 616, to Chosroes, King of Persia, and finally, in December, 641, the Arabs, under Amrou, General of the Caliph Omar, captured it after a siege of fourteen months, during which Heraclius sent not a single ship or soldier to its aid. Even in such decadence Amrou could report his prize to Omar as containing 400 palaces, 400 theatres, 4,000 public baths, 12,000 gardens and 40,000 tributary Jews. The report of the great destruction of a library by the Arabs, under Omar's order, has caused centuries of regret, but the fact seems very doubtful. It is upon the whole unlikely that very much remained to be destroyed, and the terse saying attributed to Omar, that if the books agreed with the Koran they were useless, and if not were hurtful, has the air of a deliberate invention. At any rate, historians writing nearest to the fact, both in time and place, and amply describing the conquest of the city, make no mention of literary ravage, belief in which must rest upon the solitary report of a stranger living remote from the scene and writing 600 years after the date of the alleged occurence.

Under Arab dominion and in face of the rising importance of Constantinople, the population and trade of Alexandria rapidly diminished. In 875 the walls were demolished, and rebuilt upon a much smaller scale. The building of Cairo in 969, and especially the discovery in 1497 of the Eastern route by the Cape of Good Hope, nearly ruined its commerce. A visitor in 1777 reported the population as only 6,000.

Canadians at Wimbledon.

LONDON, July 17.—The Canadian team has done some very good steady shooting during the first week of the Wimbledon meeting, and obtained a fair share of prize money. The most interesting contest this week for Colonials will be that for the Imperial Kolapore Challenge Cup, presented by the late Rajah of Kolapore. This contest, which is open to teams from any British Colony and one team from the Mother Country, commences on Wednesday. Some of the Jersey team have been making good scores, and an exciting contest is promised.

Sun Spots and Great Storms.

Professor Couch, of Des Moines, Iowa, advises those living in exposed places to provide cellars or caves of refuge for shelter when the sky looks threatening in the southwest. He says that 1882 is the maximum year of the 11·1 years sun spot period, and also the maximum year of two other period—a long and very long period; and the same degree of energy that gives the maximum sun spot period also gives the American continent maximum rainfall and a marked degree of force in the effects of its storms; and the end is not yet.

AN honest medicine is the noblest work of man, and we can assure our readers that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only reliable, but is almost infallable to cure Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Canker of the Stomach and bowels, and the various Summer complaints, whose attacks are often sudden and fatal.

BILIOUSNESS.—A furred tongue, bad taste in the month, nauses vomiting, variable appetite, alternate diarrhœa and costiveness, faintness, weariness, yellow cast of eyes and countenance, indicates serious biliary trouble. Jaundice is a dangerous disease, it is an overflow of bad bile in the circulation, any of these symptoms should be remedied without delay, and Burdock Blood Bitters is the remedy upon which you may surely rely.

We are constantly improving our stock with the Newest Designs and Patterns, so that Man or Boy shall not ask for anything in the Gents' Furnishing Line but what we can offer him. "Habiliment Hall."

DEATH DEALING TORNADO.

The Frightful Prairie Monster—A Nice Country to Live in.

Short of the frightful storms which are said to sweep over the sun itself, there does not seem to be any force in nature quite equal in energy and terror to the tornadoes that so often swoop down upon the prairies of Kansas, Missouri and Iowa. These whirlwinds, now deemed almost wholly electrical—perhaps because electricity is the prevailing fashion in dynamics just now—have the qualities and traits of the elephant's trunk. They can overthrow a house or pick up a sixpence; tear a full grown and massive tree up by the roots, or strip the bark from the smallest twig, and without injuring the wood, as clean as the boy peels a willow rod. Up into the funnel formed by the tremendous pressure and whirl of the air currents, buildings, locomotives, cattle, and children are drawn as readily as gravitation pulls them into an opening in the earth. Residences and barns, large structures and small, are seized and ground into indistinguishable dust, while fragile glassware and tender infants have been borne aloft and set down upon the ground again without the slightest harm.

The latest and most destructive tornado in Iowa, which last week nearly wiped out the enterprising town of Grinnell, containing 1,100 inhabitants, differed little except in the amount of its destruction, from its many predecessors and contemporaries. A roar, a flash of fire balls, a crash, a rush, and the frightful monster had passed on. In less time than it takes to tell it, the ruin is wrought. For a few hundred feet in width, expanding sometimes to a quarter of a mile, and even a mile, and for a hundred miles in length, wherever there are obstacles and objects, other than forests, not a structure remains. Occasionally, however, it seems to have touched the earth and bounded up again, leaving extensive tracts of land untouched.

The work of this demon in Iowa was peculiar in its horrible mutilation of the bodies of its victims. A fierce battle with cannonading and shells could not have inflicted such wounds or mangled the human anatomy in so singularly frightful a fashion. In some cases the clothing was torn off and the shreds left clinging to the body had to be cut away from the flesh. Dirt, sand, plaster and cinders were ground into the flesh, and could not be washed or scraped away, as if the body had been mashed and rolled about under tremendous pressure in ashes. The bodies were beaten into shapeless masses; spines were driven into skulls and through the top of the head; backs were broken; eyes torn out of the sockets and left hanging down the cheeks; the entrails and organs of the body were scooped out of the body's cavities, and limbs pulled asunder. The head of one beautiful girl was so crushed down into her body, that it had to be cut out. Even hens and prairie chickens were plucked as clean of their feathers, as if they had been made ready for market. Mud, dirt, and gravel were not simply splashed on to the sides of buildings, but driven into the fibre, as if discharged from a cannon. In one case a stable was lifted, carried over the tops of the highest trees and deposited on a hill six or seven hundred feet away, the three horses in it being unharmed. Indeed, the catalogue of the ruin wrought by the tornado, and miraculous escapes from its violence, fatigue credulity and defy the imagination. Almost without an exception, however, those who were warned by the ominous rush and crash of the storm, long enough to rush to the cellars, escaped death, and with few exceptions all injuries also.

A FISH STORY.

How a Departed Trout Assists in the Capture of a Brother Fish.

Last week the circumstances for a fish story which is almost incredible occurred. On Friday afternoon Mr. Thomas Moore, Principal Acton Public School, was fly-fishing in Christie and Henderson's pond, in this village, and received a bite from a large trout, which took away two flies and part of the caster. Mr. Moore at once bid adieu to his big trout as well as his flies. On Saturday Mr. James Matthews, postmaster, accompanied by Mr. Moore, went out to have some sport, and in rowing over the pond noticed a peculiar object passing the boat. Determined upon discovering what the creature was they pursued it, and after considerable chase captured it, and it to be a large, live trout, attached to one of the flies lost the day before by Mr. M., piloting a dead trout fastened upon the other fly. The only solution of the strange occurrence is that the trout which took the fly on Friday evening after dying floated upon the water, and the other fly floating at liberty deceived the other trout a short time before being discovered. The first fish measured between ten and twelve inches in length, and the other a little over a foot. The above is a fish story of a remarkable character, but we are prepared to vouch for its authenticity.—Acton Free Press.

Insects on the Surface of Oranges.

When a dish of oranges is seen on the table for desert, the fact is hardily realized that in all probability their surface is the habitat of an insect of the Coccus family. This tiny creature is found on the orange skin in every stage of transformation, from the egg to the perfect insect, during the winter months instead of remaining dormant in the cold weather, as is the case with some of the insect tribe. It would hardly be possible to find a St. Micheal's or Tangerine orange that had not hundreds of these little creatures in various stages of development on on their surface. Lemons, too, are frequently covered. Upon inspection, the skin of an orange will be found to be dotted over with brownish scarlet spots of various sizes. These specks can be easily removed by a needle; and when placed under a microscope, an interesting scene is presented, consisting of a large number of eggs, which are oval white bodies, standing on end, like little bags of flour, some of the inhabitants of which may very probably be seen in process of emerging from the opened end of the egg. The female insect upon leaving the egg has six legs, two long hair-like appendages, and no wings; it thrusts a sucker into the orange in order to obtain nourishment, and never moves again, passing through the various stages of developement until it lays its eggs and dies. In the case of the male insect, the chrysalis after a short period opens and the insect flies off. The male is supplied with wings twice the length of its body, and each of the legs has a hook-like projection. It has four eyes and two antennæ, and is so tiny that it cannot be seen when flying.

From some parts of Spain, oranges come to us having their rind covered with coccus of quite a different type. The surface of oranges, indeed, affords the possessor of a microscope an infinite amount of interest and amusement.—Chamber's Journal.

ADVICE TO CONSUMPTIVES.—On the appearance of the first symptoms—as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations, followed by night-sweats and cough—prompt measures for relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs, therefore use the anti-scrofula, or blood-purifier and strength-restorer—Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to Cod Liver Oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood, and kindred affections, it has no equal. Sold by druggists the world over. For Dr. Pierce's pamphlet on Consumption, send two stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Medicinal Value of Vegetables.

A celebrated cook discusses the medicinal value of vegetables as follows:

"Asparagus is a strong diuretic, and forms part of the cure for rheumatic patients at such health resorts as Aix-les-Bains. Sorrel is cooling, and forms the staple of that soupe aux herbes which a French lady will order for herself after a long and tiring journey. Carrots, as containing a large quantity of sugar, are avoided by some people, while others complain of them as indigestible. With regard to the latter accusation, it may be remarked, in passing, that it is the yellow core of the carrot that is difficult of digestion—the outer, or red layer, is tender enough. In Savoy, the peasants have recourse to an infusion of carrots as a specific for jaundice.

"The large, sweet onion is very rich in those alkalines elements which counteract the poison of rheumatic gout. If slowly stewed in weak broth, and eaten with a little Nepaul pepper, it will be found to be an admirable article of diet for patients of studious and sedentary habits. The stalks of cauliflowers have the same sort of value, only too often the stalk of a cauliflower is so ill-boiled and unpalatable that few persons would thank you for proposing to them to make part of their meal consist of so uninviting an article. Turnips, in the same way, are often thought to be indigestible, and better suited for cows and sheep than for delicate people; but here the fault lies with the cook quite as much as with the root. The cook boils the turnip badly, and then pours some butter over it. Try a better way. What shall be said about our lettuces? The plant has a slight narcotic action, of which a French old woman, like a French doctor, well knows the value, and when properly cooked it is really very easy of digestion."—Medical Record.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, MASS., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere, The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, JULY 19, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Acknowledgment.

We have to thank Mr. E. C. Hill for his kindness in sending us papers from Philadelphia, where he is at present.

Two Full Moons.

It has been noticed that this month will witness the phenomenon of two full moons in one month. The moon was full on the first of July and will be so again on the 30th.

Small Attendance.

Gentlemen from Peterborough who were at the circus in Port Hope on Tuesday, say that the attendance in the afternoon was very small. One gentleman said he could have counted all who were there.

Personal.

Mr. Henry Denne and Mr. Wm. Chamberlain left this morning for Winnipeg.

Mr. R. J. Menzies, an old Peterborough boy, but now living in Rochester, is here on a visit to his friends.

Repairing the Sidewalk.

A force of men are at work repairing the sidewalk on George street, between Hunter and Simcoe streets, a work which was much needed. The crossing on the corner of Hunter street was relaid on Tuesday.

Fire Protection.

We are informed by one of the leading insurance agents in town that some of the principal Fire Insurance Companies, doing business here are contemplating raising their rates for Peterborough unless some more efficient means are adopted for protection against fire.

Firemen's Drill.

The Electric Hose Company of the Fire Brigade, turned out in uniform on Tuesday evening for practice. The engine was placed on Charlotte street, and the dust on the Market Square was thoroughly laid by the stream of water. The drill was continued for nearly two hours.

Pleasure Excursions.

Two or three different parties from the town and one from North Monaghan went north on the Lakefield train this morning, taking with them tents, camping furniture, canoes, etc., intending to spend a short time on the northern waters, where they will, no doubt, pass a few pleasant days in fishing and other sports and pastimes.

The Market.

The attendance of sellers was not very large on the market this forenoon, and the prices of produce were maintained at about the same figures as on Saturday, new potatoes remaining at 50 cts. per peck, butter 20 cts. per pound, chickens 40 to 50 cts., and currants 12 cents a quart. Very few eggs were offered. Vegetables are coming on in very small quantities.

Moses Oates Again.

Moses Oates, the weather prophet, denies that he predicted snow for the twelfth of July. His probabilities for the remainder of the year are that the rest of July will be warm, August slightly colder than usual, September decidedly cold, October wet and a little warmer than average, November very variable but closing cold, December extremely cold.

A Challenge.

We notice in an exchange that the Stirling Cricket Club challenge to a friendly game of cricket, on the Stirling ground, any club in the Counties of Northumberland, Hastings and Peterborough. If the Sterling Club would come to Peterborough, we think they would be accommodated with a game, and a return match could be arranged for later on in the season.

The Weather.

The weather is somewhat cooler after the rain, although still sufficiently warm for all purposes. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 8 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes, —Moderate, westerly to north-westerly winds, fair weather with a few local showers. Stationery or slightly lower temperature.

Boys' White Shirts, Men's White and Coloured Shirts, with or without Collar, in all sizes at "Habilitment Hall."

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK

WEDNESDAY, July 19.—F. Wilson, a navvy, was charged by P. C. McGee with being found drunk on the street on Tuesday. He acknowledged that he was guilty, and pleaded for leniency on the ground that it was his first offence, but the constable said he had given him a chance the night before, and a fine of $1 was imposed or in default of payment ten days in gaol.

Wm. Cosick came in very unwillingly to answer to the charge of being found drunk on Tuesday. He acted very stupid and seemed delirious, and was remanded until Monday.

BREACH OF THE PEACE.

Louis Drake was charged by P. C. McGhee with committing a breach of the peace on Monday. Drake was one of those engaged in the fight on the corner of Hunter and Water streets on Monday evening. He pleaded guilty to the charge, and was remanded until Friday for sentence, with the privilege of giving bail if he could procure two good sureties for his appearance on Friday.

Railway Notes.

The London Free Press says that Mr. William Gooderham, of Toronto, has purchased the Yorkville Loop Line Railway.

The Belleville Excursion.

In announcing the postponement of the excursion which was arranged to take place from Belleville to this town, the Ontario says :—

"A deputation was sent out to Peterborough on Monday to arrange with the railway authorities, and though the postponement of the excursion will result in some inconvenience to the railway officials, they kindly acceded to the wishes of the church, and agreed to the postponement."

Cricket Match.

The cricket match between the Peterborough club and the Port Hope club, the champions of Ontario, played on the Ashburnham cricket ground on Tuesday, resulting in the defeat of the home team. Some of the players belonging to the home clnb, who were expected to play in the match were unavoidably absent from town, and this consideration will mitigate somewhat the severity of the defeat. In their first innings the Peterborough team scored 15 and in the second innings 61 making a total score of 76. The Port Hope team scored 89 in their first innings, thus winning the match by one innings and 13 runs.

Benefits of Forestry.

It will be remembered that the late Mr. David Carlisle died on June 28th. Being a member of Court Peterborough of the Canadian Order of Foresters, a certificate of his death was sent to the High Court on July 5th. A cheque for $1000 was drawn in favor of his widow on July 13th, or just eight days later. The following letter has been received by the Secretary of the Court from Mrs. Carlisle :—

PETERBOROUGH, July 19, 1882.

To the Chief Ranger, Officers and Members of Court Peterborough, No. 29, Canadian Order of Foresters :

GENTLEMEN,—Please accept my sincerest thanks for the very prompt payment, through you, to me, of the sum of one thousand dollars, endowment benefit of my late husband, from the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters, and also for the sum of thirty dollars funeral benefit from Court Peterborough.

Yours sincerely,

MRS. SOPHIA CARLISLE.

The Fall of Rain.

In the report of the Agricultural returns of the Ontario Bureau of Industries for July, a summary of the fall of rain during the months of May and June, 1882, with the number of days in which rain fell and the number of days on which the rain exceeded one-tenth of an inch, is given. In Peterborough, as reported by Mr. J. Dixon, M.A., of the Collegiate Institute, the depth of the rain fall in May was 3.18 in., the number of days on which it rained were eight, and the days on which the rain exceeded 0.10 in. numbered six; in June the rain fall was 3.22 in., the number of days eleven, and on eight days it exceeded 0.10. In Lakefield (reported by Mr. J. H. LeFevre), the rain fall in May was 3.07 in., the number of days on which it rained were eight, and on five days it exceeded 0.10 in.; in June the rain fall was 2.60, number of days eleven, and on six days it exceeded 0.10 in. In Norwood (reported by Rev. J. McLeary) the rain fall in May was 3.10 in., the number of days on which it rained were nine, and it exceeded 0.10 in. on eight days; in June the rain fall was 1.90 in., the number of days eight, and on eight days it exceeded 0.10 in. In Ennismore (reported by Mr. Telford) the rain fall in May was 3.50 in., the number of days on which it rained were thirteen, and on seven days it exceeded 0.10 in.; in June the rain fall was 3.44 in., the number of days seventeen, and on eight it exceeded 0.10 in.

Peculiar Arrangements.

The Winnipeg Sun says :—Election returns in Manitoba are most peculiar arrangements. Not only were hundreds of votes polled by people who had no votes, but many who had votes were not afforded an opportunity of voting. Mr. Sutherland's majority in Selkirk of 423, was much swollen in this way. At the far western end of the constituency the qualification of voters was a myth, there being no voters's lists at Plum Creek the returns were not legally made, and at Dobbyn City no poll at all was held. It is quite plain that, while these facts may or may not have affected the actual result, they must invalidate the election, if anybody should go the trouble of protesting.

The Chinese Fashion of Small Feet.

This is given as an explanation of the Chinese custom of stopping the growth of women's feet : In the twelfth century there reigned in China an Emperor called Tchou-Koung. He was a great tyrant, and he had a wife, Ja-Cya, who was still more despotic and severe than her husband. She was beautiful, but she had crippled feet; in order to hide that defect, she wrapped them in all sorts of bandages, and put on little shoes. The ladies of her court followed her example, and the strange custom has been handed down until now.

DAVY & CLARK, Druggists, Renfew, write us June 3rd. "We have sold Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for a number of years, and find nothing equal to it, for the purpose for which it is designed." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures all forms of Bowel complaints, incident to Summer and Fall.

OTTAWA.

Special to the Review, July 18.

A YOUNG MAN named Wilson, a native of Cumberland, last evening attempted suicide by taking ammonia. A short time ago he reached his majority and fell in for about $100,000, since which time he has been dissipating to a considerable extent; when last heard from he was still alive.

CANADA PACIFIC PROGRESS.

The Winnipeg Times of July 14 says :—

The C. P. R. main line will be completed as far as Broadview, some 125 miles west of Brandon, on Monday night. Langdon, Shepard & Co. have sent a large number of graders via Fort Benton Montana to C. P. R. crossing of the South Saskatchewan to complete the heavy grading in that vicinity on the main line in order that tracklaying may not be delayed. The piles for the temporary bridge over the same stream are now being hauled from the Cypress Hills. At this end the graders are now at work as far west as the Moose Jaw; and within two weeks it is expected the heavy work in the vicinity of Old Wives Lakes will be covered by a heavy force of men. A number of engineering parties are now at work on the final location from Old Wives Lakes to the South Saskatchewan.

A large number of men are now at work on the southwestern branch of the C. P. R., and fully expect to have the hundred miles, as required by the Winnipeg bonus by-law, completed in time to take of the crop of this year. It is just possible that a short extension of time may be asked owing to the floods preventing the company getting to work as early as they expected. It has finally been decided to run the line through Morris, which wil be good news to the people of that town.

KINGSTON.

The Whig contains particulars of a terrible affliction that has fallen upon a man named Glen, living on Amherst island. Early this month the family were attacked with diphtheria, no doubt produced by the use of impure water. The heat had caused the germ of disease to locate in the throats of the large family, numbering ten, most of whom were soon reduced to a critical condition. At first little apprehension was felt, but the disease developed into a most malignant form and four of the children quickly followed each other into the grave. Those who died were aged 3, 6, 9 and 14 years respectively. Now one older has departed. The neighbours, perceiving the terrible character of the disease, could not be induced to approach the house, and the care of the poor sufferers devolved almost entirely upon the father, mother and doctor. The remaining three children are convalescent.

A Tribute to Longfellow.

The project has been conceived of erecting a memorial to the poet Longfellow, the nature of which will be shown by the following extracts from a circular published by the Longfellow Memorial Association :—From his early manhood Mr. Longfellow lived in Cambridge, Mass., in a house already famous as for a time the home of Washington. This venerable house stands facing the Charles river, the poet's favourite view. The association hopes to raise onough money to secure that part of Mr. Longfellow's grounds which lies between the house and the river; there to erect an enduring memorial to Mr. Longfellow, and to keep the spot so doubly rich in associations forever open to the public. It is also intended to provide for the permanent preservation of the house, shoul1 it ever pass out of the possessions of the Longfellow family. The president of the association is James Russel Lowell, and the vice-presidents are Oliver Wendell Holmes, Charles W. Elliot, John G. Whittier, Charles Dean, W. D. Howells. The proposal is to raise the fund by subscriptions of one dollar, which entitles the subscriber to a certificate of honorary membership in the association. A subscription list has been opened in Toronto, at the store of N. Ure & Company, and has been headed by the name of the American consul here, Mr. Howell.—Mail.

An Embezzler Captured.

A Montreal despatch says that some three or four days ago Mr. Joseph, the Belgian Consul, received instructions from the Belgian Government to look out for a man, who it was believed had escaped to Canada, after embezzling the sum of 1,500,000 francs from a firm in Brussels. Mr. Joseph at once placed himself in communication with the Montreal police. Detective Murphy was detailed to search the city for the alleged criminal, and after a day's hard work, he located a man in Beauchemen & Valois' book store, where he was working under the name of Duchesne. Decective Murphy after thoroughly working up the case, arrested him on Saturday afternoon at his place of employment. The fellow's name is Duchesne, and there is no doubt of his identity with the embezzler. This morning Duchesne was brought before the Police Magistrate and remanded for a week to wait extradition. Duchesne is a man about 45 years of age, evidently well educated, and of commanding presence. He confessed to the fact of being guilty, but accounts for the disappearance of the stolen money in the fact that he lost it in speculating. When he was arrested not more than $77 was found on his person. The Belgian Consul-General has taken the initiatory steps to procure his extradition. The prisoner claims that he cannot be taken to Belgium,

Hanlan and Ross.

Wallace Ross has accepted Hanlan's challenge to row the latter five races during as many consecutive days for $1,000 each. Hanlan says he cannot entertain the matter until he ascertains how many will accept his challenge to row five races with forty-eight hours intervening between each and with five crack oarsmen. Ross is willing to let him (Hanlan) name the time, but wants the race on the Red River, Winnipeg.

I. F. SMITH, Druggist of Dunville, under date of June 1st, writes of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry: "It sells immensely in fact has the largest sale during the summer of any patent medicine in stock," and adds that he can recommend it to the public. The above named remedy is nature's grand cure for Cholera, Dysentery and all summer complaints.

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposed to say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, every body who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us,

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for the Welland Canal," will be received at this Office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western Mails on FRIDAY, the 1st day of SEPTEMBER next, for the deepening and completion of that part of the Welland Canal, between Ramey's Bend and Port Colborne, known as Section 34, embracing the greater part of what is called "Rock Cut."

Plans showing the position of the work, and specifications for what remains to be done, can be seen at this Office, and at the Resident Engineer's Office, Welland, on and after FRIDAY, the 18th day of AUGUST next, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and, in the case of firms, except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum of four thousand dollars must accompany the respective tenders, which sum shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque or money thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
A. P. BRADLEY,
Secretary.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

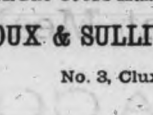
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.



Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

THURSDAY, JULY 20, 1882.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS AT THE SCENE OF OPERATIONS.

Steps to be Taken for Immediate Military Action—An Early British Advance—Dervish Pasha Suspected.

A RECONNOISSANCE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—General Alison made a reconnoissance in the direction of Arabi's camp to select better ground for a front. Arabi has steam launches on the Mahmoudieh canal bringing him provisions. This explains why he has not cut the canal. Arabi shot some Egyptians sent out by the English to get horses.

ANOTHER COMPLICATION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—It is stated that the foreign consuls intend to demand compensation for the damage done their property by the Arabs firing houses, alleging that had troops been landed soon after the bombardment no houses would have been burned. Telegrams show that Dervish Pasha was in communication with Arabi up to the moment of his departure.

AN EARLY MOVE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—All the available railway employees have been collected, and everything betokens an early initiative on the part of the British. It is reported that General Roberts has landed at Suez.

PILLAGERS EXECUTED.

CAIRO, July 19.—Arabi has sent soldiers to pillage the capital, but the commander there executed them.

ARABI PASHA'S ADVANCE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—Arabi Pasha talks of advancing upon Alexandria on Thursday. This is improbable, but it is possible he will enter Ramleh.

ARTILLERY FOR EGYPT.

LONDON, July 19.—A whole army corps has been mobilized at Aldershot, and arrangements made to embark troops at Southampton and Liverpool. Two additional batteries have been warned to prepare for active service, making 8 batteries detailed for Egypt.

ARABI'S POSITION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—Arabi Bey remains at Kâfr-el-Dwat. His men are recovering their moral. He threatens Ramleh, and has sent emissaries to Tripoli, Tunis, and Syria to preach a holly war.

SUEZ CANAL.

LONDON, July 19.—Efficient precautions have been taken to protect Port Said, Ismailia, and Suez.

DEPARTURE OF DERVISH PASHA.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—There is great satisfaction at the palace at the departure of Dervish. The officials ascribe much of the present evil to his intrigues.

THE FRENCH WAR CREDIT.

PARIS, July 19.—M. Gambetta, in the Chamber of Deputies last night, said he thought it beneath the dignity of a great nation to accept mere police mission. France should intervene in the Egyptian question as far as required by her own interests in favour of the Anglo-French policy as opposed to European action. M. Talmeneau (Radical) replied to M. Gambetta, contending that the national party in Egypt must be taken into account. The credit for naval preparations was voted.

NEAR THE CITY

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—Arabi's patrols now penetrate within five miles of the city.

MORE INCENDIARISM.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—Two large fires broke out to-day in opposite quarters of the town, evidently started by incendiaries. The manager of the water works has ordered the old Roman wells throughout the towns to be emptied, cleansed, and refilled with water, the water supply being completely at Arabi's mercy. Labourers are scarce, and the work will take three weeks.

By Telegraph to the Review.

SPAIN'S INTENTIONS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20.—The Spanish ambassador has informed his colleagues that Spain intended to station three gun boats at each end of the Suez Canal, in order to escort the Spanish Manilla mail steamer through the canal, and will also send four ironclads to Alexandria.

IMMEDIATE MILITARY ACTION.

LONDON, July 20.—The Times says:—"The hesitation of the Porte at the moment when hesitation is fatal has forced the British Government to a conclusion. The invitation of the conference has been virtually declined, and nothing remains for it but to carry out by its own efforts the measures necessary to restore order in Egypt. There will be accordingly no further delay in carrying out the preparations for military action in Egypt. Definite orders will be issued to-day for the despatch of a force to do the work the Porte is held to have declined to undertake.

THE PORTE'S REPLY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20.—The Porte has replied to the identical note of the powers regarding the despatch of Turkish troops to Egypt. The Porte proposes the assembly of a fresh conference.

THE PORTE AND ARABI.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20.—The porte will send imperative orders to Arabi not to make a movement. Arabi is trying to establish relations with Arabs in Tripolia and South Tunis.

THE REPLY OF THE PORTE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20.—The text of the Porte's reply to the identical note of the powers says that if the Porte has not hitherto decided on its own initiative to send troops to Egypt, it was because it was convinced that vigorous measures were avoidable. It has been observed with satisfaction that the powers have formally and repeatedly recorded their deference to the incontested and unquestioned rights of the soveregnty of the Sultan in Egypt, and the undersigned, by the Sultan's order, informs the ambassadors that the Porte consents to participate in the conference. The conference meets to-day to discuss the reply to this communication. It is thought a fresh invitation to join the conference will be addressed to the Porte.

THE CONFERENCE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20.—The Conference yesterday considered temporary measures for the security of the Suez Canal. The idea which found the most favour was that the protection of the canal be entrusted to England and France in conjunction with a third power. No decision was arrived at for want of instructions from the Governments of the representatives.

IRISH VOLUNTEERS.

LONDON, July 20.—Colonel Blackenbury resigned the directorship of the Irish Criminal Involuntary Department, in order to offer his services for the campaign in Egypt. Several regiments of the Irish militia have volunteered for service. The War Office is considering the question of utilizing them for garrison duty at Malta and Gibraltar.

ARABI'S FORCE INCREASING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 20.—It is learned that Arabi's force is increasing and he is regaining influence because of the delay of the British.

A BREACH OF NEUTRALITY.

ALEXANDRIA, July 20.—It is understood that DeLessps informed Admiral Seymour that the passage of men-of-war through the Suez canal, constitutes a breach of its neutrality.

TRANSPORTATION OF TROOPS.

CALCUTTA, July 20.—Ship owners of Calcutta have been invited to offer tenders for the transportation to Egypt of of five thousand men and six hundred mules.

MILLIONS OF CARTRIDGES.

WOOLWICH, July 20.—Six trains laden with horses have arrived. Pressing orders have been received for some millions of cartridges.

A SIGNIFICANT INTERVIEW.

LONDON, July 20.—The Secretary of War is having an interview with the Quarter Master General to-day.

SHARP PRACTICE.

LONDON, July 20.—Deputy Speaker Playfair, of the House of Commons, yesterday went out to lunch, but returned almost immediately, and in the absence of the Conservative members the House rejected their amendments, and completed the committee stage of the Arrears bill in two minutes. The victims are much annoyed at this sharp practice. There is a strong belief that the Lords will emasculate or reject the Arrears bill. The balance of opinion, however, is that the Government will stand fast in refusing any serious changes, and that the Lords after some bluster will surrender. Should the Government suffer a serious check in foreign affairs, it is thought that the Lords would throw out the measure and force the Government to resign.

AMERICAN.

AN AMENDMENT.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Herald's Washington despatch says that Senator Beck intends to propose as an amendment to the Revenue Bill, the Morrison Bill with the addition of sugar. This would reduce the revenue to the extent of $15,062,000.

MINISTER LOGAN.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The World's Washington despatch says that a good deal of comment is excited by the fact that Logan, United States minister to Chili, instead of going to his post, awaited the arrival of President Barrois, of Guatamala, with whom he was in close conference for several days. Logan, as minister to Central America last year, opened negotiations on behalf of Barrois, with the object of inducing the United States to take part with Guatemala against Mexico in the boundary question.

A VANDERBILT'S WILL.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Mrs. Berger, who contested the will of her brother Cornelius J. Vanderbilt, has withdrawn her objection, and the will has been addmitted.

REDUCING THE REVENUE.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Times' Washington despatch says that a prominent Republican Senator admitted last evening that he did not expect that this Congress would do more than get the Revenue Reduction Bill ready to be taken up next winter.

AN ACCIDENT.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The Speaker of the House yesterday, in endeavoring to restore order, knocked over an inkstand and scattered ink over a pile of enrolled bills awaiting his signature.

LOST IN THE WOODS.

MARQUETTE, Mich., July 20.—Mrs. Wilson, her son, aged 9, and her daughter, aged 7, who were going to visit a neighbor on June 16th, lost their way in the woods. On Tuesday the mother and son were found dead and the daughter barely alive. The boy had been dead five days and the woman only two hours. All the food they had was green cranberries.

RESCUED.

HOBOKEN, July 20.—Thomas Neusam and a friend, the occupants of a boat, found capsized near Milton, N.Y., and supposed to be drowned, were rescued by the men in a canal boat.

AGRARIAN OUTRAGES.

DUBLIN, July 19.—During the last three months 455 agrarian outrages have been committed in Ireland, not including cases of sending threatening letters. Thirteen persons have been convicted.

PENALTY OF LENIENCY.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 19.—Col. Philiponon, late commander of St. Peter and St Paul fortress, who was accused of treating Nihilists with undue leniency, has been sentenced to degradation and exile in Siberia.

CROP FAILURE.

DUBLIN, July 19.—It is feared that another crisis is approaching. The weather threatens utter destruction to what promised to be one of the finest harvests for a long time. If the weather improves there will be some hopes.

MR. BRIGHT'S SUCCESSOR.

LONDON, July 19.—It is probable that the appointment of a successor to Mr. Bright will be made an occasion for a considerable re-constuction of the ministry.

A CRISIS IN FRANCE.

LONDON, July 19.—The News' Paris despatch states that M. de Freycinet has placed the resignation of himself and his colleagues in the hands of the President. The latter urgently asked them to withdraw their resignations. There is not the slightest possibility that M. Gambetta will be summoned to form a Ministry.

A SQUABBLE.

DUBLIN, July 19.—Col. Brackenbury, Director of the Criminal Investigation Department of Ireland, has resigned on account of a difference with the Lord-Lieutenant, who did not agree with him in allowing the police to join secret societies in order to turn informers. Some new rules also promulgated by Blackenbury offended the resident magistrates, several of whom have lateiy retired.

PERUVIAN AFFAIRS

PANAMA, June 21.—Lima advices, state that Rosas, Minister of Peru in Paris, appointed by Calderon, has been officially received by the French Government. The intelligence, if true is of great importance to Peru. It is stated that DeFreycinet has expressed to the Chilian Minister in Paris the disapproval of France of the Chilian decree offering for sale one million tons of guano belonging to the foreign creditors of Peru.

AMERICAN.

TRYING IT AGAIN.

NEW YORK, July 19.—George Canavan, who served two years in the State prison, and on his release made serious charges of cruelty and mismanagement against the prison authorities, was yesterday sentenced to four years in Sing Sing for robbing a store.

A STEAMER SNAGGED.

NEW ORLEANS, July 19.—The steamer John Wilson, plying between here and Atchafalaga River, struck a snag on Sunday night and sank. Six lives were lost. The steamer drifted down to the Railroad crossing, ten miles below, where she now lies wrecked.

FAMILY ROMANCE.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 19.—On Sunday, William Walkins, a policeman aged twenty-four, eloped with and married Catherine Fowler aged fifteen. Catherine's father met the couple on the street after the marriage, and tried to take his daughter home with him. Walkins arrested him for disorderly conduct. Fowler was soon released, but in the meantime, Walkins and his wife got away. Fowler and his wife eloped sixteen years ago and were married under much the same circumstances and in the same parsonage as Walkins and their daughter.

ARMS STOLEN.

WATERFORD, July 19.—A railway van containing a large number of military rifles and a quantity of ammunition was broken into here and the rifles and cartridges stolen.

A Hopeful Outlook.

From Mr. F.T. Bradley, Collector of Customs of the port of Emerson, Manitoba, who arrived here yesterday morning, we learn that the outlook in the Prairie Provinces is most encouraging. The crops upon the small area of lands which were submerged are almost as far advanced as those upon the higher districts, and in many parts of the province the crops will be harvested earlier than those in Minnesota, Michigan and Illinois, where the cold weather which has pervaded the continent has been severe. Farmers look for the most abundent grain crop they have yet had. Immigrants are daily returning from Dakota, and the Syndicate management have been compelled to double thair passenger rolling stock in order to meet the requirements.—Ottawa Citizen.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

It is a very serious matter to which we have referred in our local columns as to the prospect of some of the principal insurance companies raising their rates in Peterborough, unless more efficient means of fire protection are adopted. This not only means that a large additional expense would be incurred by the inhabitants of Peterborough for insurance, but it has even a more important aspect. These shrewd and experienced men of business are likely to be very good judges in such respects, and that they should pronounce our means of fighting fire to be defective, is tolerably conclusive evidence that they are insufficient. This is tantamount to saying that we are recklessly and by false economy running the risk of a heavy loss, not by any means limited to the increased rate paid, for even a full insurance will never completely compensate for the property destroyed, for the loss of time, the interruption of business, &c.

It must be remembered, too, that we are foolishly running this risk without any justification for it would be difficult to find any town where nature has done so much to facilitate means for fire protection.

Even now that by the energy and enterprize of some of our townspeople we have efficient water works under construction, we seem really to be little nearer obtaining the protection to be desired. What with the apathy of the owners of real and personal property, who seem to think that somebody else should look after their interests for them—what with the strange lethargy of the Town Council, which seems afraid to attend to the duties entrusted to it, alike by the law of the country and the people they represent, for fear of offending some big ratepayer who is disappointed at not securing his own personal ends, or some small ratepayer who is afraid his taxes may be raised ten cents—there appears to be no effort made to utilize the means at our very doors.

Some critics may say that they are unwilling to put money into the pockets of the waterworks shareholders, but we cannot believe that there are many men in town so foolish as to run a heavy risk and refuse a great benefit for the mere pleasure of thwarting the success of men who have shown that they have more enterprize than their neighbors, We would gladly ourselves see any profits from waterworks going into the town treasury, and we long and earnestly supported their construction as a public work of the Corporation. The ratepayers, however, decided against this, and although we still regret their decision, we bow to it, feeling thankful that we have individuals among us who have the courage to undertake a venture upon which the town as a body was afraid to embark.

We hope that the property owners, large and small, whether landlords or tenants, will shake off their present indifference and bestir themselves, and that the Town Council will show that it has back bone enough to perform one of its chief duties, the protection of our property, even though it may expose itself thereby to some adverse criticism. It is a disgrace to our town that it should have means of protection from fire inferior to those of less flourishing neighbouring towns.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We are often told by the opposition journals and politicians that the land regulations in the United States are far better than ours in the North-West. As a commentory upon this, we learn that the officials in the Duluth land office have been removed on the ground of assisting in frauds, and that suspected fraudulent practices in other land offices are to be investigated. The plan by which these frauds have been carried on, is that of allowing squatters and pre-emptors to repeat their operations time and again so as to defraud the government for the benefit of lumbermen and others. Yet this is the very system that some of the opposition critics desire to see introduced into Canada. It is simply inviting fraud.

* * *

The questions by means of which Mr. Blake and his close ally Mr. Mowat endeavour to excite this Province against the Dominion Government were the Boundary Award and the disallowance of the Streams Act. Algoma, which is most especially interested in the Boundary Question, has now pronounced most emphatically in favour of the Macdonald administration, and the Lanarks, where the Streams Act was meant to take effect, and where the facts are well known, returned a similar verdict. Would it not be well for the opposition to drop these two grievances which do no aggrieve the Province or even the localities more particularly interested?

DEATH OF MRS. LINCOLN.

A Long Sickness Terminated by a Fatal Stroke of Paralysis.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 16.—Mrs. Lincoln, widow of the late President Lincoln, died in this city at 8.15 o'clock to-night. She had been ill for a long time, and a few days ago grew worse. Last evening she suffered a shock of paralysis, and since that time lay in a comatose state until she died. Her son, Robert Lincoln, Secretary of War, left Washington to-night, and will be here on Tuesday morning.

SPRINGFIELD, July 17.—It is stated that Mrs. Lincoln's estate, not reckoning apparel and personal effects, is $74,000, all in United States bonds. Her wedding ring, found to-day, will be placed on her finger. It is inscribed "A. L. to Mary, Nov. 4, 1842. Love is eternal." Arrangements for the funeral are very elaborate. Business will probably be suspended during the service.

Mrs. Lincoln was a daughter of Dr. Todd, and was born near Louisville, Ky. She was a woman of extreme good nature, a devoted wife, and an effectionate mother. She was known by close friends in early life as ambitious, but it is probable that she never dreamed of occupying the White House until events made that result a possibility. Not a cultivated woman and not fitted by nature to fill a commanding social position, she drew upon herself while in Washington the savage criticism of political and other enemies, being in that respect the most unfortunate of all the ladies of the White House. It is generally believed by her friends that her mind was seriously affected by the assassination of her husband. She had always been of a nervous temperament and the terrible shock consequent upon her husband's untimely end certainly developed in her strongly marked symptoms of insanity. She was literally weighed down with woe, and the burden was greatly increased by the death of her youngest son, Thaddeus, or "Tad," as he was usually called. She became possessed of some very peculiar whims. Among others was the idea that she would eventually come to want, and she could not be shaken in this belief, despite the fact that she had about $60,000 and was entirely free from debt. Another queer fancy she had was for accumulating window curtains. While she was staying at a hotel in Chicago some years ago, without any idea of ever again living in a house of her own, she piled up about her room over sixty pairs of curtains. She would go out in the morning and order carloads of dry goods to be sent to her, and the delivery of the merchandise occasioned the hotel managers and her friends great annoyance. When it was found that she persisted in her hallucinations, some of her relatives had her taken very quietly to an asylum where she was kept for a long time before inquiring friends learned of her whereabouts. One day a newspaper reporter obtained an interview with her, and the mournful story which she told produced something of a sensation. Judge and Mrs. Bradwell, of Chicago, interested themselves in her behalf, and in the course of time secured her release. Since her husband's death she has travelled a great deal in this country and in the old world. She has been to Europe twice, but apparently without benefit to herself. Her life of late has been almost an aimless one, and her frequent journeys, although undertaken for divertisement, have not for a moment dispelled the great shadow which seemed to hang over her. She returned from Europe the last time on the same steamer that brought Mlle. Bernhardt to America, and it is related by a gentleman on board that Mrs. Lincoln was much affected, on their arrival in New York harbor, by the attention paid to the French actress, while she, the widow of the martyr President, was neglected by all save a very few old and intimate friends. After resting in New York a short time she went to Springfield, Ill., and there, at the residence of Mr. Ninian W. Edwards, whose wife is her sister, she passed away.

THE DEBATEABLE LAND.

The Wilderness Through Which the Thunder Bay Branch Runs.

A correspondent of the Winnipeg Times, who crossed from Winnipeg to Prince Arthur's Landing on the Thunder Bay branch, thus describes the disputed territory through which the branch runs:—

"The country is throughout its entire extent a wilderness in the fullest meaning of the word; but a grand and mighty wilderness it is, grand in its mountains that kiss the sky; grand in its rushing rivers, in its misty gorges, in its limitless and lovely lakes; grand even in its solitude and all its rugged beauty. Settlers there are none. Here is the no home for the husbandman. The student of nature may learn many a lesson here; the artist, the angler, and the sportsman may each reap pleasure and enjoyment here; those great hills may have vast stores of wealth buried away beneath their iron-bound breasts; and even those far-off forests may some day reward the labour of man. But the plough would be a useless implement on those hillsides. You couldn't put a crop in the crevices with a shotgun. In some of the valleys small patches of potatoes and oats may be grown, but the labour would be wasted after all. It may safely be said that there is not one acre of arable or pasture land for hundreds of miles. Mr. Mowat says that should Ontario lose this disputed territory, she will be robbed of millions of dollars worth of timber and minerals. So far as the latter is concerned, nobody knows anything about it. As for the timber, there may be forests worth the cutting in remote districts, though of this there is no substantial evidence. Certainly near the line there is not an average of one good-sized tree to every hundred acres. The contractors may have removed all the large ones; yet the general appearance of the country presents no indications of those vast pineries we have heard so much about.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Four Persons Drowned at Little Rideau—The Bodies Recovered.

A terrible drowning accident, by which three lives were lost, and one of Montreal's most respected families plunged in grief, occurred yesterday afternoon at a place called Little Rideau, close by Hawkesbury. The facts had very meagerly reached Montreal up to going to press, but from the statement of the family of Mrs. Evans, residing at No. 15 Windsor street, whose little daughter is one of the victims, the latter with her mother and three brothers went up to Hawkesbury a week ago on a visit to a relative, Mr. Huge Evans, formerly of Montreal. Yesterday the deceased, Agnes Thompson Evans, aged 12 years, and a son of Mr. Huge Evans, aged 8, and a hired boy named Robert Michel went to Little Rideau, which is a small hamlet on a river of that name, it is supposed to fish, but the telegrams up to this evening did not say really for what purpose. Suffice it to say that at seven o'clock last evening, just as the little party were expected to return to Hawkesbury, word was brought to Mr. Evans that all three had been drowned in the river. The bare fact of the drowning was at once telegraphed to the family here and this morning one of Mrs. Evans' sons set out for Hawkesbury to learn all the dread particulars.

LATER NEWS—MRS. EVANS DROWNED.

A telegram just received by the family gives more correct information. The persons drowned are Mrs. Huge Evans of Hawkesbury, and her son aged eight, and Agnes Thompson Evans, daughter of Mrs. Evans, of No. 15 Windsor street.

Mrs. Evans of this city, was present, and witnessed the terrible scene from the bank of the river. The boy and girl had gone into the water to bathe. The boy getting beyond his depth, the little girl rushed forward to save him but was soon beyond her depth.

Mrs. Huge Evans who was sitting with Mrs. Evans of this city, ran into the water and was pushing the boy towards shore when she got beyond her depth and all three were drowned. The bodies have been recovered. The servant boy was not drowned.—Witness, July 18.

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

Fighting Trouble.

No man need hope to dodge it or rid himself of it altogether; whatever his position, birth or circumstances, there it is lying in wait somewhere for him in his path. To one man it comes in heart-rending grief, the death perhaps of the man or woman dearer to him than his own soul—it is the flaming sword of Apollyon, who stands across his patch and cleaves him to the narrow. To another it takes the shape of innumerable petty trials, dyspepsia, smoky chimneys, a cloud of unclean, bat-like disasters that flap about his way unceasingly and shut out the sunshine into one perpetual twilight. This man fights poverty all through his life; that, with money which he does not value, is disgraced by an ill-doing son, or racked by a neuralgic jaw, or vainly tortured by a gnawing ambition to push his way into some social clique. Neither is there any use in comparing or weighing these troubles one against another, as we are apt to do, boasting how easily we should shoulder our neighbor's burden. It is the effect on the man, not the actual sharpness of the pain that counts. If a troublesome stomach in one weak fellow ruins his temper, racks his nerves and clouds his senses of God's goodness, it is as heavy a weight for him to carry as the death of his son is to a stronger man, the amount of hurt to mind and body being the same.

The thing being inevitable, the wisest course at the outset would be for each one to make up his mind to meet it, and in the surest practicable way to strangle and kill it. But how? Nature, that agent of God, whose work is never neglected or undone, has fitted each one with some especial kind of armour against trouble, belonging to his character, just as she provided every animal, from the lion to the grub, with peculiar claws, poison, color or wings, as a defence against foes.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry—then becomes loose—fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiates or astringent articles, which are so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

LANGUAGE OF THE FACE.

Physiognomy and its Indices to Traits of Character.

Round-eyed persons see much, live much in the senses, but think less. Narrow-eyed persons, on the other hand, see less, but think more and feel more intensely. It will be observed that the eyes of children are open and round. Their whole life is to receive impressions. It is only when childhood is maturing toward manhood or womanhood that thought comes, if it come at all. But what is it that most leads to reflection? Experience. Our errors, our shortcomings, our failures—these teach us to think before we act, to consider each step, to weigh every motive. When, therefore, the upper eyelid—for it is that which has the greatest amount of mobility—droops over the eye, it indicates not merely reflection but something painful to reflect about. Hence the length or drooping of the upper eyelid betokens confession and penitence.

The drooping of half of the eyelids from the outer angle to the centre indicates the disposition to confess one's faults to parents or seniors, to a "father confessor," or to the Supreme Being. The drooping of half of the eyelids from the inner angle to the centre betokens the disposition to repent, and to do "works meet for repentance." Closely allied to these sights are those of prayerfulness and humility. The former is indicated by the muscle which turns the eye directly downward, as represented in the picture of Madonna. Prayerfulness is usually large in connection with that of penitence; the reason of which is, that between the faculties of penitence and humility there is the same close connection as between confession and prayer. One who has more prayer than humility has the eye turned somewhat upward, so that the upper part of the iris is a little covered by the upper eyelid, and so as to leave a slight space between the iris and the lower lid. The reverse is true of one who has more humility than prayer.

The faculty of truth—that is the love of it—is indicated by the muscle which surrounds the eye, causing folds and wrinkles. Justice is indicated by the muscle which causes perpendicular wrinkles between the eyebrows. Fullness and wrinkles under the eye, for which some persons are remarkable, indicate the love of mathematical accuracy; and wrinkles curving upward from the outer angle of the eye and eyebrow, indicate probity of personal truthfulness. There are three degrees of the faculty of justice. The first is a kind of exactness or strict honesty in small money matters, which some pople would call closeness, and is indicated by a singular perpendicular wrinkle or line between the eyebrows. The second is the disposition to require justice in others, and is indicated by two perpendicular lines or wrinkles, one on each side of the centre—a very common sign. The third degree is conscientiousness, or the disposition to apply the rule of justice to one's self, and is indicated by three or more wrinkles or lines, especially noticeable, extending above the eyebrow when the muscle is in action. The love of command is indicated by one or more short transverse wrinkles across the foot of the nose, exactly between the eyes. It may be seen in great military commanders, in masters and teachers, and in those generally who are fond of exercising authority. In those who are wanting in the power to command, and have no desire for responsibility, this sign is also absent. The faculty of command frequently acts with that part of justice which reprimands, or requires others to do right, and both together produce that frowning and lowering brow which is so terrible to evil-doers, or to those who love to be approved rather than condemned.—Phrenological Magazine.

THE CITY OF CAIRO.

Cairo is the capital of Egypt, the most populous city in Africa, and contains 380,000 people. Three-fourths of these are Mahommedans, 60,000 Copts, and the rest chiefly native Jews and Greeks, Armenians and Europeans. The city lies mostly on the level plain of the Nile valley, and occupies a site about seven miles in circumference. From without its aspect is most enchanting, but within it is far from attractive—the houses are mostly built of mud or sun-baked brick, one story high. Those of the rich, however, are from two to three stories high, and built of wood, brick, or soft stone. The streets are dusty and neglected, and very little rain falls. A great rain is deemed a calamity, as it moistens the garbage, which quickly sends forth pestiferous exhalations. The water, which during the overflow of the Nile is conveyed into the city by a canal, becomes stagnant in May and June, and is another prolific source of disease. The different races who inhabit Cairo live in distinct quarters, of which there are many, as the Jews' quarter, the Frank quarter, the Coptic quarter, etc. The streets leading to each quarter are closed by gates at night. The city is surrounded by walls. It is the central station of the overland route to India, and its commerce is considerable. One of the most lucrative trades is that in precious stones and jewelery. It is connected by rail with Alexandria and Suez, and caravans annually arrive from Darfoor, Sennaer and Moorzook. Each year an immense caravan assembles at Cairo to make the pilgrimage to Mecca, and this is the source of a great traffic.

A HINT ABOUT WEEDS.

In harvesting Indian corn and wheat, we cut them long before the grain—the seed, is ripe. When the grain in either is fully formed, the stalks are cut; experience has shown that the ripening process goes on; the stalk contains sufficient nutriment to perfect the grains, and it does this after the plant is cut away from the root. Indeed, the grain thus treated often comes to greater perfection than if the plant were left until the seed is fully ripe. What takes place with these crop plants also occurs with weeds. Many weeds, if cut up while in flower, still have nutriment enough in the stems and leaves to perfect and ripen a crop of seeds. It therefore happens that the mere cutting up of weeds, and leaving them to dry upon the ground, does little towards their extermination. The common purslane or "pussley" for example has remarkable vitality, its very succulent stems will remain alive for weeks, and even continue to grow after they have been deprived of the root. It is one thing to cut up weeds with the hoe, it is equally important and it should always be done in gardens, to gather up the weeds by the use of a rake, and carry them to a brush heap where they will ultimately be burned.—American Agriculturist.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20th, 1880. Smith Medicine Co., Gents; I am requested by Miss Sarah Fordham to inform you that your treatment of the Tape Worn has proved a great success. Woman Officials.

The appointment of a lady as Registrar of Birth and Deaths for West Leicester, which has just been confirmed by the Registrar-General, is the thin end of what may ultimately prove a very thick wedge. The plea ad misericordiam may have had some weight in this particular case, as the board of guardians laid special stress on the circumstances that the lady was a widow with a large family to maintain. But the general fact remains that the duties of the office had for some time been de facto discharged by a woman, with complete efficiency, and that the Registrar-General has now sanctioned her tenure of the office de jure. This particular appointment, at any rate, has been due, not to any artificial demand for woman's rights, but to something very like a process of natural selection.—Pall Mall Budget.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)

Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere, The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Pic-Nic.

The members of the Peterborough Baptist Church hold a pic-nic to-morrow at the Summit. The train leaves here at ten o'clock a. m.

Repairs.

Mr. W. D. Mathews, of Toronto, has leased Mr. Stevenson's storehouse, and it is undergoing repairs and improvements with a view to the fall grain trade.

Cheese Market.

At the cheese market on Wednesday, the 19th July, 1,417 boxes were offered for sale. Ten and a quarter was bid, but the cheese was held at eleven cents, and there were no sales.

A Shower.

A shower of rain passed over here on Wednesday afternoon between four and five o'clock, accompanied by a heavy discharge of the artillery of the sky. The rain fell heavily, and was welcomed by the thirsty earth.

Cleaning the Street.

The Street Inspector has his men engaged in scraping Charlotte street. If any arangement were made to have the streeet watered before the dust begins to fly again, it would be gratifying to those who make use of the thoroughfare.

Railway Notes.

A siding is being put in at Keene, on the Grand Junction Railway, where a neat station building has been erected.

A Sunday School excursion took place on the Grand Junction this morning from Compbellford to Hastings.

For the Mills.

Mr. Macdonald, of the Waubaushene mill has engaged a large number of men to pile lumber. He appears to be very lucky in securing good men, but the fact that he is paying higher wages than ever before may have something to do with his success. He is still here and wants many more.

The Weather.

The weather continues cool with strong winds. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 8 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes, —Moderate, mostly westerly to north-westerly winds. Fine stationary or slightly lower temperature.

The Toronto and Ottawa.

Work on this end of the Toronto & Ottawa Railway was commenced this morning. Mr. Beemer, the contractor, has placed a gang of men at work between the Midland Station and the Grand Junction branch. The line will run from the station across the river, and conneet with the Grand Junction in Ashburnham. The work will be vigorously pushed forward.

Accident.

Yesterday afternoon a serious accident occurred to an employee in William Hamilton's foundry. Mr. Robert McMahon was working at a lathe with a file, when a piece of a shaft flew out and struck him a severe blow in the mouth, knocking him backwards against a lathe behind. His head struck the lathe, which made a cut about an inch long on the back of his head, and his shoulder and back were also injured by the fall. He was picked up insensible, but soon recovered consciousness, and expects soon to be able to resume work. Three teeth in the upper jaw were dislodged by the blow from the shaft.

The Grip-sack.

Grip is not content with supplying us week by week with comic reading and illustrations and at the new year with its amusing almanack, but now we have from the same office a new comic holiday annual "The Grip-sack." The work is got up in good style, is full of amusing reading and teems with mirth provoking illustrations in Bengough's well known style. Especially worthy of note are two pictures printed in colours "John A. and his friends," and the Ontario election chorus. This annual should have a large sale.

Boys' White Shirts, Men's White and Coloured Shirts, with or without Collar, in all sizes at "Habiliment Hall."

POLICE COURT.

VAGRANCY.

THURSDAY, July 20.—John Sullivan, an old offender, was charged by P. C. McGhee with being a vagrant. He was found guilty and sentenced to three months in the common gaol at hard labour.

DRUNK.

John Sullivan was also charged by the police constable with being found drunk on the street. He pleaded guilty and was fined $1, to be paid at the expiration of his sentence for vagrancy, or in default he will have to remain ten days longer in durance vile.

The Date.

The Belleville papers state that the date of St. Andrew's Church excursion to this town will take place on August the 3rd, and not August the 1st, as previously announced.

Open Air Concert.

Weather permitting, the Fire Brigade Band will hold forth to-morrow night on their stand, coroner of Water and Charlotte streets. We will publish the programme to-morrow.

A Serious Loss.

Mr. Samuel Staple, of the township of Cavan, met with a serious loss on Sunday last by the death of his stallion, "Hobby Noble." Mr. Staple valued the horse at $1,000, and had been offered $900 for it.

Rev. Mr. Willoughby Acquitted.

The Rev. N. R. Willoughby has been acquitted on the charge of kissing Miss Georgie Graham, now the wife of the Rev. J. E. Starr. The Conference committee is said to have been unanimous in their acquittal of Mr. Willoughby.

Busy Mechanics.

The majority of the foundries are now working every night. This is an omen of good times, and also another proof of the direct benefit the mechanics and the employers of labor are daily deriving from that much abused National Policy. May it ever be thus.

Photography.

It will be seen that Mr. Joseph McClelland has re-opened the photographic gallery on Simcoe street over Flavelle's store; the well-known gallery having been remodelled for him. By a new method he take four tintypes at the same time.

Obituary.

On Wednesday the remains of one of the oldest and most respected residents of the township of Smith were interred in the Little Lake Cemetery. Mr. Edward Fitzgerald, who died on Monday, July 17th, had resided in that township over fifty years, and was the father of Mr. J. E. Fitzgerald, Deputy Reeve of Smith, and of Mr. Tobias Fitzgerald, who has an extensive business in carriage building in this town. Another son, William, also resides in Peterborough, and John is a farmer in Smith He has also a daughter, Mrs. M. Sanderson, in Lindsay, and three of his sons are living in the United States. Mr. Fitzgerald was born in the County of Limerick, Ireland, on the 7th of February, 1807, and was therefore 75 years of age. He came to Canada in 1825 and settled in the township of Smith, where he resided until the time of his death. He was married in 1831 to Miss Jane Switzer, of Emily, Victoria County.

Presbytery of Peterborough.

This Presbytery met in Cobourg on the 5th instant. There were nine ministers and five elders present. The business of most interest was the induction of tha Rev. D. S. McCrae, late of the Presbytery of Glengarry, into the pastoral charge of the congregation, Cobourg. The induction was in the usual form—the Rev. E. F. Torrance presiding, Mr. Ross preaching, Mr. Cleland addressing the minister, and Mr. Bennet the people. The Rev. A. Carmichael, of Columbus and the Rev. D. H. McLennan, being present, were invited to sit with the Presbytery. Papers were read from the Clerk of the Assembly in connection with the retirement of Mr. Windell, the reception of Mr. Fleming, and in connection with the appeal of the Rev. Alexander Bell and the session of St. Andrews' Church Peterborough. Leave was granted to the congregation of Warsaw to moderate in a call to a pastor. Delegates were appointed to visit the supplementary congregations and mission stations, in accordance with the instructions of the Assembly. The next meeting of Presbytery was appointed to be held in the First Church, Port Hope, on the third Tuesday of September, at ten o'clock a. m.

BELLEVILLE.

FIRE.—The Ontario says that at midnight on Tuesday night a barn owned by James Currie, front of Thurlow, caught fire and was burned with the contents before any assistance could be rendered. The contents consisted of a horse, new waggon, and other articles. The cause of fire is unknown.

ADMITTED TO BAIL.—Mr. T. A. O'Rourke, counsel for the young man Burrows, incarcerated in jail here on a charge of manslaughter, made application to Judge Lazier this morning for bail. The Judge gave his consent, and issued an order admitting Burrows to bail until fall on his furnishing $2,000 bonds—himself in $1,000 and two securities of $500 each.

HASTINGS.

POST OFFICE BUILDING.—The Star says that Mr. H. Fowlds has commenced the excavation of a building for a post office, a little north of the Lock House.

ACCIDENT.—Bristow Johnston, a son of Mr. William Johnston, of this village, had several fingers lacerated by a small circular in the saw mill.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.—Work on the new hotels is progressing. Mr. Zach Hill has the contract for the foundation of Messrs. Fowld's block; Mr. Scantlebury, of Belleville, is engaged to superintend the entire work which will be done by days' work.

TAKEN HOME.—Mr. Thomas Bonner, who was injured at the accident at the tannery a few weeks ago, left for home on Monday morning by the regular G. J. R. train. His injuries are of a very serious nature, and it is doubtful whether he will ever be fully restored to health. Dr. Wilson, of Belleville, is in attendance on him.

HANLAN V. ROSS.

Hanlan Declines to Entertain the So-called Acceptance of His Challenge by Ross.

A reporter of the Telegram went over to the Island on Tuesday and saw Ned Hanlan with reference to Ross' challenge to row him five races during as many consecutive day for $1,000 each. A representative of the Sporting Times was also there with a despatch to the same effect, stating that the races are to be for three or four miles, and to be rowed at Winnipeg. Hanlan said that he could not entertain it until he ascertained how many would accept his challenge to row five races with forty-eight hours intervening between each, and with five crack oaramen. Half a dozen so-called acceptances, such as that of Ross might be sent him, and he could not be expected to fulfil them all. He did not seem to like the Winnipeg feature of the Ross challenge. As the ferry steamer remained but five minutes at the wharf, the interview was necessarily brief. Hanlan said he would make the deposit of $1,000 with the Mayor.—Telegram.

Canada at Wimbledon.

WIMBLEDON, July 18.—Since the failure of members of the team to get a place in the shooting for the Queen's prize, interest in individual shooting has somewhat abated, but confidence is felt in the ability of the team to take the Kolapore cup. The weather continues favourable for good shooting, but practice was abandoned this afternoon for good reason. The Prince and Princess of Wales visited the quarters, and were received by Col. Gzowski, Major Tilton, and Capt. McNachten. After formalities, Lieut. Mitchell, of Port Elgin, the winner of the Prince of Wales' prize of £100, was presented to their Royal Highness, and was warmly congratulated. The Prince withdrew after a prolonged visit and talk with members of the team. The Canadians are favoured by royalty this year, as on the occasion of the inspection of the team by the Duke of Cambridge on Thursday, the Duke (Prince Arthur) and Duchess of Connaught, the Duke (Prince Leopold) and Duchess of Albany have announced their intention to be present. All members of the team are well.—Mail.

The Grapevine in August.

Most of the active work of the vineyard is over, still the vines will need some care. The laterals may still need pinching, and late shoots push where they are not wanted, and must be broken off. Most of the troublesome insects of this season are large, and readily noticed, so that the only remedy, whether for the large grapevine caterpillars, or the beetles mentioned on other pages, hand-picking can be applied. The chief trouble of the grape-growers this month, are the Leaf-hopper, incorrectly called Thrips, and Mildew. The little insect, which in some places rises in clouds as one passes among the vines, and eppears of a general dingy-white color as it flies, is, when caught and examined, found to be handsomely marked with scarlet. It remains attached to the leaves, sucking the juices, in its early life, and it is only when it gets wings, that its presence is usually noticed. The only remedy that has been suggested for this Leaf-hopper in its winged state, is to carry lighted torches among the vines at night. Mildew appears in the not dry days. Pale spots are seen on the leaves, and if the underside of these be examined, there will be found the gray patches of the minute fungus, which causes the trouble. Sulphur is the remedy. This upon the first appeaaance of the Mildew, should be freely and thoroughly dusted upon the foliage of the vines. Bellow for the purpose are sold at the seed and implement stores. The bellows are like an old-fashioned kitchen bellows, and have a wide tube about an inch across. The valve hole is stopped by a cork, and a quantity of Flowers of Sulphur being placed in the body of the bellows, through its opening, it is blown, when the bellows is worked, like a fine cloud of dust, which settles on the foliage, and soon puts an end to the mildew. The dusting should be done on a hot still day, and two, or at most three applications, will save the foliage, which otherwise would soon become useless.—American Agriculturist.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

THE most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany or at least originate there. The most recent preparation palced upon the market in this country, is the Great German Invigorator, which has never been known to fail in curing a single case of impotency, spermatorrhœa, weakness and all diseases resulting from self-abuse, as nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, languor, lassitude, depression of spirits and functional derangement of the nervous system. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposed to say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us.

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

Operations at Alexandria at a Standstill—More European Massacres in the Provinces—The Porte's Answer Unsatisfactory—Soldiers Going to Egypt under Gen. Wolseley—An Inundation Feared.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE CABINET.

LONDON, July 20.—A hurriedly convened meeting of the Cabinet was held this afternoon to consider, it is stated, a telegram from the ambassador at Constantinople, and arrangements for military operhtions.

AN EGYPTIAN WAR CREDIT.

LONDON, July 20.—In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Gladstone gave notice that he would on Monday ask a credit for strengthening the forces in Egypt.

AN UNSATISFACTORY ANSWER.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20.—The English Government has instructed Lord Dufferin, British ambassador, to inform the other members of the conference that the Porte's answer to the identical note regarding Egyptian affairs is unsatisfactory, and in the event of that Government's failing to intervene by promptly sending a strong Turkish military force to restore order in Egypt English forces would be sent.

THE BRITISH FORCE.

LONDON, July 20.—The Cabinet has decided that the English expedition to Egypt shall number twenty thousand, and be commanded by Sir Garnet Wolseley.

THINGS AT A STANDSTILL.

ALEXANDRIA, July 20.—Everything is at a standstill; nothing is doing and nothing is known. There is no chance of a resumption of business here for at least three months.

ARABI'S LATEST THREAT.

CAIRO, July 20.—It is reported that Arabi is preparing to cut the Nile dykes, and that the greates floods ever witnessed will take place about August 7th, inundating the entire country.

THE SUEZ CANAL IN DANGER.

ALEXANDRIA, July 20.—The Suez canal and Port Said are considered most insecure; there is only a small gunboat in the canal, and there are 12,000 Europeans in Port Said with 7,000 Arabs. Several hundred soldiers with field guns under Mahmoud Sanry are at Fort Ouemiel, six miles off. The town is at the mercy of the soldiers and people. Two British corvettes have gone to Port Said. Arabi is calling in all the Bedouins in the neighborhood of Ramleh.

THE SITUATION AT CAIRO.

ALEXANDRIA, July 20.—Omar Pasha Lufti, Governor of Alexandria, has returned from Cairo via Port Said. He makes the following report to the Khedive:—"On the way to Cairo I saw Europeans being massacred and their houses pillaged at Damenhour, Fautauh, and Moihalla, where the Alexandria rabble had arrived. They cut off the hands of the Berberins because they served the Christians. Arabi Pasha had called a meeting at Cairo of all the Pashas, Ulemas and Notables, and asked them whether it was right to obey the Khedive, seeing he had sold Egypt to the English and ordered the military bakehouses to make fifteen hundred loaves daily for the British, without providing for his own troops, and sent telegrams in their name. The Minister of the Interior presided at the meeting. Mahmoud Pasha Baroudi practically directed the discussion. Sheik Hassan recommended the declaration of a holy war, but at the instance of the Coptic patriarch moderation prevailed. The meeting appointed a committee to go to Alexandria in order to verify the accusations against the Khedive. It was arranged that a committee of seven should start on the 18th July, going from Cairo to Ismailia. The three Mudiers missed from their posts, are imprisoned in Cairo for obeying the Khedive. A Council of war was held daily, Mahmoud Baroudi presiding.

CHARGES AGAINST ENGLISH SOLDIERS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 20.—Respectable inhabitants complain that English soldiers have robbed and pillaged their houses.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

ALEXANDRIA July 20.—At 7.30 this morning water is still flowing in the fresh water canal. The exit from the canal into the sea is being blocked by the Marines, so that the water below point where Arabi cut may be retained.

SURRENDERING THE PLUNDER.

ALEXANDRIA, July 20.—Admiral Seymour has issued a proclamation declaring that persons who fail to return plundered property before Sunday evening will be punished when such property is found in their possession. Some Arabs have already surrendered what they had. Over 100 of Arabi's soldiers deserted on Wednesday and came here.

A WATER FAMINE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 20.—Water famine is now imminent. The wells and cisterns cannot be filled for weeks to come, and the ships in the harbour can only condense sufficient for the use of the crew and troops. Nothing remains for the present populace but to flee to the Suez valley.

EXCITEMENT AT CAIRO.

CAIRO, July 20.—The excitement is increasing. A council of war has just been held.

BRITISH TROOPS TO ADVANCE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 20.—It will not be surprising if Arabi's measures in regard to the water supply of Alexandria lead to the immediate advance of the British troops. General Allison has telegraghed home for instructions. An Arab spy states that the damning of the Mahamodih canal has flooded the country. The water in some places is knee deep. The ground is too soft for the movement of the guns. A native has just been shot while attempting to fire a house in the centre of the city.

ARABI'S POSITION STRONG.

ALEXANDRIA, July 20.—A reconnoissance by order of Admiral Seymour has been made. The officer in charge of the reconnoiting expeditien found that Arabi holds a strong position. Arabi's army has already diverted the water of the Mahoumdieh canal into Lake Mareotis. The canal supplied Alexandria with water, and the citizens are forced to depend solely on wells and cisterns, a great many of which were destroyed or rendered inaccessible during the bombardment.

By Telegraph to the Review.

MORE BUTCHERY.

CAIRO, July 21.—The Chief Magistrates of Gardria, Menoofia and Gatoubia, three of the seven provinces of Lower Egypt, have been dismissed and have been replaced by men of Arabi's party. In the village all the Europeans are being brutally murdered. Even the natives who acted as thier servants have been butchered.

A NOTABLE THREATENED.

CAIRO, July 21.—At a meeting of Notables here Acush Pacha declared that he did not believe the statements against Khedive. A great clamor arose and several officers threatened Acush with violence.

MORE INTRIGUE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—The men surrounding the Khedive are regarded with the greatest suspicion, and it may eventually be necessary to arrest several of them for treasonable communications with Arabi Pasha. It is feared that the news of the coming of a mission from Cairo will open the door again to fresh talk, diplomacy, intrigue and procrastination.

MARKETS OPENING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—All the French ships have left here and the United States flag ship has gone to Alexandria. The markets have reopened.

FRENCH TROOPS FOR EGYPT.

MARSEILLES, July 21.—Orders have been received at the naval arsenal at Toulon to take measures for receiving in the barracks next week the different batallions which are to form the corps for Egypt.

EUROPEANS MASSACRED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—A refugee from Cairo reports numerous massacres of Europeans on Monday on the outskirts of the city.

CANAL TO BE CLEARED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—General Allison leaves to-morrow with troops to blow up the obstruction in the Mohomondik canal.

STEAM TRANSPORTS.

WOOLWICH, July 21.—Several steam transports arrived during the night.

THE POSITION CRITICAL.

PORT SAID, July 21.—Arabi, after the bombardment of Alexandria, spread the report that the English were defeated. The conduct of the natives was consequently very insolent. The position is critical.

EARL GRANVILLE'S EXPLANATIONS.

LONDON, July 21.—A despatch from Earl Granville to the English ambassador at Constantinople, dated July 11th, after justifying the bombardment of Alexandria, states that the government now see no alternative, but a recourse to force to end the state of affairs in Egypt It would be in accordance with the principles of international law, for there should be the authority of the soverign power. If this is impracticable, on account of the unwillingness of the Sultan to act, it will become necessary to devise other measures. The Government continues to held the view that any intervention should represent the united action of Europe. England has no interests or objects in regard to Egypt inconsistent with those of the rest of Europe or the Egyptian people. The desire is that the navigation of the canal be unrestrained, that Egypt be well and quietly governed, free from the predomination and influence of any single power, that the international law be observed, and that the British commercial and industrial interest so largely developed in Egypt shall receive due protection from outrage. Their policy has been consistent. They loyally kept their engagements with France and have been anxious that the other powers be informed and consulted on all matters materially affecting the position of the country. The action which their admiral has been compelled to resort to has not altered their views.

FRENCH CRISIS ENDED.

PARIS, July 20.—In the Chamber of Deputies after a brief discussion, in which several orders of the day were proposed to meet the views of the Government, and otherwise to conciliate the difficulties raised by yesterday's vote, M. Gatineau said that the order of the day to be adopted should make no allusion to the question raised yesterday lest it should revive the misunderstanding; accordingly he proposed the following:—"The Chamber, confiding in the Government, passes to the order of the day." This was put to a vote and carried by a majority of 288 against 105 in a House of 393. The crisis may therefore be now considered at an end; but it served to show what little reliance is to be placed on the cohesion of the majority, even when the interests of the country may be imperilled.

The loss is estimated at $50,000. Benjiman Gicquel, Chief of the Fifth Batallion firemen, fell from the third story and was seriously injured.

A JUSTICE AND PRIZE FIGHTER.

TIKEN, Minn., July 21.—W. Hoffman, Justice of the Peace and Wm. Devlin had a dispute at a dance, and fought next day for $50 a side with hard gloves. After several rounds the deputy sheriff arrested the contestants. At the solicitation of prominent citizens they were released. They then went beyond the city limits, formed a new ring and fought again. At the eighteenth round the principles were exhausted and the fight was called a draw. Afterwards Devlin gave out a general challenge which was accepted by a Swede, who knocked him out in the first round.

THE CAR WORKS.—The Sentinel-Star says that Mr. Crossen is turning out a large number of superior passenger cars. He has just completed one for the Canada Pacific Railway, which is a model. It is most tastefully finished up inside in wood work, while the seats are cushioned with the best of plush. The head linings of the car, instead of the usual canvas, are done in oak veneer, with beautiful designs painted thereon. Between each seat is a beautiful foot mat, made at the matting factory here, and the aisle is also covered with a piece of matting, made at the same place. Mr. Crossen is also finishing up a pay car, with safe, desks, etc. It is a most complete affair. A director's car is also under way. Men are clearing the way for some more new buildings that are going up. The brick office, which is nearly completed, is a commodious one. A trip hammer is on its way for the blacksmith shop.

THE ORGANIZED HYPOCRISY.

THERE is an old adage that when rogues fall out honest men get their own, and in the same way it is equally true that when politicians fall out the public get a peep behind the scenes, which is generally neither edifying nor calculated to elevate the character of those actively engaged in our political battles. If it may be putting it rather strongly to say that there has been a falling out among the followers of Mr. Blake with regard to the causes which led to their late defeat, it is not too much to say that sufficient of the discontent, which it cannot be denied does exist, has found vent to place the leaders of the party and especially the general press of the party in a light which fully justifies their having been characterized as the "organized hypocrisy."

For instance, it would appear by the post-election utterances of the Lindsay Post, which, by the way, is in the habit of bearding the Globe lion in its den, only when no party interested is likely to suffer thereby, that it and many of its political friends have foreseen the result of the late contest as the consequence of the Globe's ill-judged and unwise attacks upon the National Policy. So far as this latter statement is concerned we are inclined to agree with the Post to the extent of admitting that the course pursued by the Globe was of material assistance in closing up the ranks of those who believe in the N. P., and of also rendering Mr. Blake's attempt to swap horses on this question while crossing the stream unsuccessful, but we are not prepared to admit that this was the only question upon which the recent elections were decided. True, it was upon this question that the Dominiod Government specially appealed to the country, but Mr. Blake, the Globe and the Post, all raised other issues and did their best to give them precedence over the National Policy. No doubt as the conduct of the Mowat Government in the matter of the Boundary and the Streams bill still remain to be discussed at the Ontario Elections, the Post and its friends are loth now to allow that these matters exercised any influence in the Dominion elections, and would be as ready to denounce the Globe's course with regard to them as the National Policy, were it not that such utterances might prove "injudicious" in the interest of the coming campaign. But our object in the present article is, not to discuss the merits of those questions, but to call attention to the hypocrisy of those who followed the lead of the Globe, and vied with it in their denunciations of the N. P. prior to, and during the contest, and who now turn upon that journal and hold it responsible for their present position.

In the estimation of these "barkers who dare not bite," if they have any honest convictions on the subject, the National Policy must have been and must be either a good or bad thing for the country. If it were generally or even partially in the interests of the country, in their opinion, they should, as honest journals, have said so when the issue was before their readers, and not belied their own convictions by obeying, as they now admit they did obey, the Legree lash of the Globe If on the other hand, they were honest in their anti-election utterances, then, surely, they are not acting either honestly or honorably in changing their opinions with the passing breeze, and still less in finding fault with the captain in whose boat they sailed, and in whose crew they were proud to perform a middy's part, only a few weeks ago. If since the 20th June these malcontents have seen the error of their way, and are prepared to give an honest support to the National Policy, none will rejoice more at it than ourselves, and as soon as we are convinced that the conversion is an honest one, and not one in the interest of power and pelf, we shal be pleased to give them credit for it, and grant that the good old saying that "wise men change fools never" is applicable to them long before they shall have served a ten years' faithful apprenticeship in the National Policy fold.

For the present, however, in view of the past, and in view of the wisdom after the event, upon which their mutterings against the Globe are based, we can come to no other conclusion than that their present course is only another substantial evidence of the looseness with which anything like principle is held by the gentry to whom we are referring. The mere fact that they regret the Globe's course, not in the interest of the country, but in the interest of the party with which they are allied, is the best possible proof that they have but one common bond of union, and that, that bond is "power and pelf." That so long as they are led to victory they are equally ready to advocate or to denounce the National Policy, or we may fairly assume any other policy, is the only legitimate deduction to be drawn from both the open and subdued utterances of a very considerable number of Mr. Blake's faithful followers at the present time, and therefore fully justifies the nom-de-plume under which the more active spirits of the party are known—the "organized hypocrisy."

Nor is it surprising, much as it is to be regretted, that such has been the result of Mr. Blake's leadership. Under him politics have been reduced to a trade, governed by the single guiding star of the chief seat for himself and office for his followers. Besides this, too many of the writers for the press, act upon the principle of arguing the brief which promises the highest reward, and have educated themselves to take either side and even change sides on a question with a facility which has hitherto only been supposed to belong to the profession of which Mr. Blake is such a shining example, and are thereby lowering too many of our papers from the high position which they should occupy to that of special pleaders at the bar of public opinion for particular clients.

FIVE ALLEGED KISSES!

THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE DECIDE IN THE NEGATIVE.

The Testimony of the Rev. Mr. Starr and his Wife—The Defence—Threats Said to have been Tried and Failed—Rev. Mr. Willoughby's Testimony—An Alibi Proved—What did the Telegram Say?

On Wednesday, July 19, the committee appointed to try the charges against the Rev. Mr. Willoughby, Methodist minister, of Brampton, gave judgement, declaring that the charge had not been sustained.

The following are some additional particulars of the evidence given at the trial:—

The specific charge laid against Mr. Willoughby was that he had been guilty of improper conduct towards Miss Georgie Graham by kissing her on several occasions against her will. The chief witnesses for the prosecution were Mrs. Starr, formerly Miss Georgie Graham, and her husband, the Rev. J. E. Starr, of Winnipeg.

THE COMPLAINANT'S CASE.

Mrs. Starr testified that Mr. Willoughby was staying in her father's house on Sunday, the 11th of July, 1880, and that in the afternoon he took her by the wrists and kissed her forcibly against her will, whereupon she fled from the room and would not see him until the next day.

On the following afternoon, when they were in the room together, he repeated the offence. The next day she telegraphed for Mr. Starr, who arrived on the following day. That night, after Mr. Willoughby had retired, she told Mr. Starr what he had done. Mr. Starr was very angry, and but for her entreaties would have put him out of the house. On the following evening, while Mr. Starr was closing the shutters, he looked round and saw Mr. Willoughby again kiss the young lady. But he (Mr. Starr) was so disgusted that he said nothing about it, but allowed Mr. Willoughby to go upstairs, which he did quickly. She also testified that the offence was repeated on two occasions afterwards.

Mr. Starr's testimony was to the like effect. He said that Mr. Willoughby left the room so quickly on the occasion when he was present that he did not speak to him, and nothing was said between Mr. Willoughby and Mr. Starr about the occurrence to this day.

THE DEFENCE.

Evidence was given to show that one member of the congregation who, it was said, was taking an active part in the prosecution, was prompted by animus against Mr. Willoughby. It was alleged that when the minister first went to Brampton George Graham was his friend. He and his family pressed Mr. Willoughby to remain at their home, while he would have preferred staying elswhere. After a few months the member of the congreation referred to gained Mr. Graham over to his side, and at the closing quarterly meeting of the year they both treated the minister very unkindly. At the commencement of the second year that gentleman told different people that he knew of something wrong in the minister's conduct, but would not tell them what it was just now, but would tell them by-and-bye. This the defendant believed to have been held back to the close of the year, to be then used as a force to send the minister from the circuit. In March last Mr. Graham sent Mr. Willoughby a letter accusing him of improper conduct while staying in the writer's house a year and eight months before, and calling upon him to leave the circuit or he would expose him. The minister refused to leave the circuit under those circumstances, challenged Mr. Graham to an investigation, and told him the means by which an investigation could be had. The people, learning that such an attempt was being made to remove him from the circuit, circulated a petition for his retention, which was signed by almost the entire congregation, although they generally knew the charges that Mr. Graham had made against him. Mr. Graham, it was affirmed by the defence, during the conference used these charges as a threat, and endeavoured to get Mr. Willoughby to remove. The latter, however, said he would not remove and that he would prefer to have the charges investigated and his character cleared in the place where the accusations had been made.

Another point pressed by the defence was, Mrs. Starr's continued intimacy with Mr. Willoughby after the time when the offence was said to have been committed. It was shown that on Saturday and the Sabbath subsequent to the time when these offences were said to have been committed she was in the parsonage, and treated Mr. Willoughby as her most intimate friend. It was shown by a young minister, who was an inmate of the parsonage for six weeks soon after the occurrence, that Miss Graham visited the parsonage between 20 and 50 times in those six weeks, that subsequently, in Mrs. Willoughby's absence, Miss Graham visited the parsonage at least nine times in less than a month. This was sought to be substantiated by records in the diary of one of the inmates. In special services subsequently held in the church Miss Graham was one of the minister's most earnest helpers, and showed entire confidence in him. She continued a member of his class. In the house of a friend of Mr. Willoughby she declared that there never had been a minister in Brampton whom she esteemed as she did Mr. Willoughby, both as a man and a minister. Much more testimony was given in the same direction. Another part of the defence was directed to showing that the young lady's word was unreliable.

Evidence was given to prove an albili. Mrs. Starr stated that the first offence was committed on Sabbath, the 11th July, 1880. By many witnesses the minister's whereabouts was shown from half-past ten in the morning until half-past ten at night on that day, and the only opportunity for such an offence to have been committed was between half-past five and half-past six in the evening, part of which time he was said to have been in the parsonage, and another part he was occupied in going from the parsonage to the church. It was also stated that on that evening he took no tea, and therefore did not require to be in Mr. Graham's house. The service commenced at 6.30, and at its close Miss Graham was declared to have been waiting for the minister at the door of the church to accompany him home, and to the witnesses she was said to have testified her regret that he had gone home with another family instead of with her. This evidence was adduced to show that he could not have given her any grievous insult on the afternoon of that day. The second offence was placed by the complainant as on Monday afternoon, 12th July. Testimony was brought forward to show that the minister was in the company of Mr. Sutliffe or members of his family from eleven in the morning until eight in the evening of that day; before which time the Rev. Mr. Starr had come to visit the lady, and was in her company during the evening. This testimony was strengthened by correspondence which was found previous to the trial, showing Mr. Willoughby's whereabouts during the hours of that entire day, and showing that Mr. Sutliffe was introducing him to members of his congregation during that day. For the prosecution, Mr. Starr testified that on Wednesday evening, 14th July, 1880, he and Miss Graham and Mr. Willoughby were in the room together; that he went to close the shutters and looking over his shoulder he saw Mr. Willoughby kiss Miss Graham and then quickly run up stairs to retire for the night.

Mrs. Willoughby testified that either on Wednesday or Thursday evening she was in company with these three persons in a room in Mr. Graham's house. Mr. Starr was closing the shutters, and Mr. Willoughby and Miss Graham were engaged in some act of familiarity in her presence, but not kissing. Mr. Starr turned round and said, jocularly, "take your hands off that lady," or something to that effect; and the conversation continued as free and pleasant as before. It was further stated by Mrs. Willoughby and members of her family that Mr. Willoughby did not go upstairs in Mr. Graham's house at all that evening, and did not remain in the house, but that Mrs. Willoughby and her daughter slept together there, and Mr. Willoughby slept in the parsonage with his son.

Another witness testified on the Saturday previous to Miss Graham's marriage she told the witness that Mr. Starr never saw Mr. Willoughby kiss her; but that he did see some act of familiarity which led him to make use of such words as those stated by Mrs. Willoughby. The defence also laid stress upon discrepancies in the complainant's testimony. Three witnesses testified that she had told them the offence was committed only once, whereas in her testimony she charged Mr. Willoughby with having committed it five times. Three witnesses testified that she had told them that no one ever saw Mr. Willoughby kiss her. One witness testified that more than a year ago Mrs. Starr told her of the occurrence, and said that she had at the time told her father, who took Mr. Willoughby severely to task for it, but witness affirmed that her father never had heard of the occurrence till a few weeks before the trial; about the time he sent Mr. Willoughby the letter before mentioned. The complainant stated to two witnesses before the trial that when the first offence was given she had telegraphed to Peterborough for Starr to come and protect her. It was proved that this telegram was sent previous to the Sabbath on which the first offence was said to have been committed.

Mr. Willoughby challenged the complainant to bring forward the telegraph books, saying they would substantiate his statement. It was declared by the defendant that the telegram was as follows:—

"Pa and Ma are away; come quickly, we will have a heavenly time."

The defence argued that this showed that the lady's desire was to have Mr. Starr's company. In describing the time when Starr was said to have seen the occurrence, Mrs. Starr said that she was lounging on a sofa, and Mr. Starr was at the window, and Mr. Willoughby rose from a chair and came and kissed her quickly. On the other hand Mr. Starr said that Mr. Willoughby was on the sofa, and Miss Graham in a rocking chair, and that Mr. Willoughby rose from the sofa and went to the rocking chair and kissed her. The discrepancy was pointed out for the defence. There had been a couple of slight alienations between Miss Graham and Mr. Willoughby; one in December, 1880, the other in March, 1881. These alienations the complainant attributed entirely to the acts stated in the charge. For the defendant witnesses were called who were conversant with the causes of these alienations, and by those to whom she had previously related the facts, to show that this charge had nothing whatever to do with the alienations.

It was alleged that she had told at least two persons previous to the trial that Mr. Willoughby had never kissed her at all.

This closed the defence, and the case was then considered by the committee, with the result that Mr. Willoughby was acquitted on the charges.—Mail

THE KOLAPORE CUP LOST.

Defeat of the Canadian Team by the English Volunteers.

WIMBLEDON, July 19.—The shooting for the Kolapore Cup took place to-day. The contest as will be remembered, is for the "Rajah of Kolapore's Imperial Challange Cup," the National Rifle Association's prize, and $400 in money, and is restricted to teams of active volunteeers. The conditions are 7 shots for each man at each range of 200, 500 and 600 yards. The highest possible score is 840 marks. The match is open to teams of eight from any British colony, or from India, and to one team of volunteers from the Mother Country. To-day four teams were entered, namely, Canadianf British, Jersey, and Guernsey, the two latter islands being reckoned as colonies. The shooting was close, but the same ill-fortune attended the Canadian team shooting as had done their individual attempts. The following was the result :—

English	536
Canadians	520
Jersey	488
Guernsey	448

The English thus won by 16 points by their score of 536 out of a possible 840. There have now been twelve annual competitions for the cut. The Canadians have won it only thrice in 1872, 1875, and 1881.—Mail.

NORWOOD.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—The Register says that as Mr. and Mrs. Thistlethwaite were driving to church last Sunday morning, the latter sustained probably fatal injuries. It appears that while driving along, the tongue of the carriage by some means became detached from the harness, and that Mr. T. turned the team into the fence to prevent them from running away; but before reaching the fence the tongue dropped, which brought the vehicle to such a sudden standstill that the occupants were thrown out. Mrs. Thistlethwaite had her shoulder dislocated and collar bone broken. She is in a very precarious condition.

THE NORWOOD WOOLLEN MILLS.—Under the management of Mr. Askey, who has had a practical experience of 18 years in the woollen manufacturing, the Norwood Woollen Mills are rapidly taking the lead of all others in this section of the country. The variety and fine quality of the goods turned out at these mills is becoming proverbial. Last spirng the mills received a complete and thorough overhauling. Very nearly all the old machines were discarded and replaced by ones of the most approved patterns. With these increased facilities work will not only be done better, but also with more promptness. You can bring your wool in in the fleece and have it oiled, colored, carded or spun, or wove, into flannels, blankets, full cloths or tweeds; and what is better still, have satisfaction guarnteed. Mr. Askey is also engaged in the manufacture of the leading pumps, of all classes and styles, and of only first-class timber, under the management of a practcal man.

CAMPBELLFORD.

DIPHTHERIA.—The Herald says that dreaded complaint, diphtheria, seems to be finding its way into this neighborhood and locality, several cases having been reported to us during the week.

NEW BANK BUILDING.—It is the intention of the Standard Bank to erect a new brick building, for the branch here, at an early day. A site has been elected for this purpose, and the contract will be given in a short time.

THE PAPER MILL.—Mr. Keeler received a "straw-beating" machine for his paper mill, last week. It came by rail. By the use of this machine, the capacity of the mill is doubled. Formerly one ton and a half of straw board was manufactured per day; now three tons are turned out daily.

THE CHURCHES.—Work upon the two new churches now building is going on satisfactorily. The brickwork on the Presbyterian church will be nearly completed by the close of this week. The basement of the Methodist church is finished, and the workmen commenced a few days ago to lay the brick.

KICKED BY A COLT.—Mr. Joseph Nevin, who resides in Percy township, near Seymour, was kicked in the ribs by a colt on Wednesday of last week and had two of them broken. The animal, which had hitherto been very gentle, dealt Mr. Nevin the heavy blow with both hind legs, just as he was approaching to put the harness on its back.

DESERONTO.

A BIG BLOW.—The Kingston Whig says that the blowers in Messrs. Rathburn & Sons' sash and door factory, Deseronto, blew out one side of the shaving room on Tuesday. The wall which is nine inches thick, built of brick, fell on the roof of the door factory and forced its way through, taking with it about twenty feet square of the roof. Two men narrowly escaped being crushed.

London Emigrants to Canada.

Recently, says an English exchange, a large number of emigrants started from St. Pancras terminus of the Midland Railway for Liverpool en route for Canada. At Liverpool they will be joined by a large contingent, so that the whole number of emigrants to sail to-day by the Allen Line mail packet Parisian will exceed 250. For the most part the emigrants consist of female domestic servants, agriculturists, labourers, carpenters, masons, bricklayers, and humble artisans, whose passage has been paid and other expenses materially defrayed by the London Samaritan Society, the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, and other philanthropic persons. They go out in charge of Mr. John James Jones, one of the principal supporters of the Samaritan Society, who has within the last twelve months made five voyages of a kindred kind across the Atlantic. This gentleman appears to be in constant communication as well with ministers of religion throughout England, who forward to him the names of individuals and families desirous of emigrating, as with the Government agents in various parts of the Dominion, who advise him as to the class of emigrants for whom employment can be found. Thus the voyagers who are expected to land at Quebec on or about Saturday week, will find employment open to them at Montreal, Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Hamilton and other districts: and none, we are assured, will be lost sight of by the agent in charge until they are settled in situations. The sight at the station yesterday as the train started was a touching one. There were relatives and friends to whom the parting was a sad one—a parting, perhaps, for life; and there were sobs and tears, as well as the exchange of kind wishes and loving words. It was expected that the Baroness Burdett-Coutts would have been present on the occasion, but prior engagements prevented her, and she was represented by her agent, Mr. McLaren.

REV. J. G. STEARNS writes: "I consider Perry Davis' Pain-Killer the best remedy I ever knew for Dyspepsia."

FROM ALL OVER.

BELLEVILLE is to have two new manufacturing establishments, an agricultural implement manufactory and an edge tool factory.

THE English National Gallery cleverly secured at the Hamilton sale a Tintoretto of extraordinary merit for $750, said to be worth at least twelve times as much. It was very dirty, and passed almost unnoticed.

SIR GRENVILLE SMITH, a rich eccentric baronet, has given twenty-one acres, worth quite $25,000 an acre, as a park for Bristol, and Lord Holmesdald will for the next three months open his beautiful park two days a week.

WHENCE comes the name of Sozodont? It is derived from two Greek words signifying "to preserve the teeth" and it deserves its title, for there is no preparation which will do this more rapidly, surely and pleasantly. The Consumption of Sozodont is immense.

SEARCHES for arms in Ireland are generally fruitless. The weapons, well greased, are wrapped in what may be called waterproof paper, and buried in a tilled field, the owner alone knowing the precious spot, as a crop is grown upon it.

THE Southern Farmer and Planter of Richmond Va., in a recent presentation to its readers of the wondrous efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil, as spoken of by those who have used it, closes by saying: "To all we comment the example and the use of St. Jacobs Oil."

HOLYWELL STREET, paralled with the Strand, a London thoroughfare, notorious up to the date of the Act against immoral literature known as "Lord Campbell's Act," is doomed. Of late years it has abounded with second-hand booksellers.

THERE would be little if any sickness during the hot months of July and August, if every one would take Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, as they prevent and cure all derangements of the Stomach and Bowels. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

WALTER BOURKE, who was murdered in Galway last month, was the son of a former Crown Iolicitor for Mayo. With money made at the Indian bar he bought Rahassan park, an old stone mansion, begirt by wild, neglected grounds, in Galway.

HARVELL'S CONDITION POWDERS.—Live stock of every description, whether hogs, poultry, sheep, horses or oxen, are improved in weight, quality and health by these celebrated powders. No stable or barn yard can pay fully where they are not used. Just give them a trial. Sold everywhere.

Two Michigan girls went bathing in Lake Huron, and had fun riding on a log at first; but a wind blew them several miles from the shore, and for thirty-six hours they were burned by day, chilled by night, and tortured by hunger, before a boat picked them up.

A LONDON DRUGGIST says:—"during the many years I have been in the drug business, I have never had a medicine that gave such general satisfaction, or for which there was such a large sale, as there is for Mack's Magnetic Medicine, advertised in another column of your paper."

DR. NICHOLAS N. DE MENIL was one of the oldest and most successful medical men in St. Louis. Yet, when taken seriously ill, he said that he would die on July 10th, as he was convinced that he would not survive a change of the moon. The Physicians in attendance wondered at his superstition, and wondered again when he died on the 10th.

I. F. SMITH, Druggist of Dunville, under date of June 1st, writes of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry: "It sells immensely in fact has the largest sale during the summer of any patent medicine in stock," and adds that he can recommend it to the public. The above named remedy is nature's grand cure for Cholera, Dysentery and all summer complaints.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20th, 1880. Smith Medicine Co., Gents; I am requested by Miss Sarah Fordham to inform you that your treatment of the Tape Worn has proved a great success. In five hours after she had taken the medicine the worm passed alive with head complete, measuring 22½ feet. The medicine caused no pain or uneasiness. You may rest assured that I will never cease to recommend your treatment whenever an opportunity offers. Yours, J. B. L. Flynn, 20 Chaboillez Square, Montreal.

Cleaning Wood Work.

It often happens that the wood work on doors, particularly near the handles, will become quite dirty and badly stained by the frequent running back and forth of careless children. In these cases it is sometimes found impossible to remove the marks with cold water, or without the use of soap however undesireable. If this occurs throw two tablespoonfuls of pulverized borax into a pail of hot water and wash the paint with it. Do not use a brush; but if found impossible to remove the marks in this way, then soap must be resorted to. Rub the soap on the cloth, and then sprinkle over the soap dry borax and rub the spots faithfully, rinsing with plenty of water. By washing woodwork in this way the paint will not be injured, and the borax will keep the hands soft and white. Borax is not half as freely used in domestic labor as it would be if all its usefullness were better known. Its help in increasing the cleansing properties of soap, and at the same time correcting its corrosive tendancy, is one of its most valuable properties.

Here are some more of the many hundreds of the leading people in the Dominion of Canada who have been cured of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung disease by Dr. Souvielle's Spirometer and instrument, which conveys medicinal properties direct to the seat of disease Read and judge for yourself.

Several of my family and friends have been cured of bronchitis, asthma and catarrh by using the Spirometer. John P. Whelan, Manager of Post and True Witness, Montreal. Mr. C. Hill, Montreal, catarrah and bronchitis. Mr. DeBoucherville. of the Indian Deparment, Ottawa, catarrh of many years, now cured; Mr. Geo. Ager, Ottawa, cattarrh and lung disease; cured. Mrs. Smith, London, wife of Medical Detective, cured of catarrh. George Maguire, Toronto, 482 Adelaide street West; daughter cured of asthma. George Willis, Exeter, Ont., Catarrh and Bronchitis. J. D. Armstrong, 186 Yonge street, Toronto, catarrh and catarrahl deafness. Thomas Telfer, 12 Merinda street, Toronto, asthma; cured. Mr. Benj. A. Drake, St. Urbain street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured.

Also, the no less surprising cure of Mrs. Benoit, 114 Cathedral street, daughter of Mrs. David Perrault, who suffered from asthma, and bronchitis for over eight years, and who is now perfectly cured.

Mrs. Adamson, of Belleville, cured of bronchitis, and her sister cured of bronchitis and lung disease.

The above is sufficient to convince the public of the merits of the Spirometer. The instrument will be expressed to any address.

Call or write, enclosing stamps for reply, to the International Throat and Lung Institute 75 Yonge street, Toronto, Dr. M. Souvielle and a competent body of English and French physiciann always in attendance. Every information given. Physicians and sufferers can try the Spirometer free.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.
DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)
THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever of febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for Regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Those who cannot obtain a bottle of this medicine from their druggist may send us one dollar, and we will send it to them.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, JULY 21, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Large Shipments.

The Auburn Woollen Mills are making large shipments daily.

Another Accident.

An employee in William Hamilton's foundry had a finger cut off by being caught in the machinery on Thursday.

Brightening Up.

The front the Fire Hall has been improved by the use of the paint brush. This makes the place have a much better appearance.

The Oriental.

Improvements are being in the Oriental Hotel. The wall is being taken out of the front and a pleasant verandah will be formed under the projection of the building. This will make a great improvement in this popular hotel.

The Aldine.

A volume of the Aldine, containing art illustrations of the Philadelphia Central Exhibition, which has been bound at this office, has been delivered to the wrong party, by mistake. Please return it to us.

The Probabilities.

An exchange has noticed that of the predictions issues by the weather office at Toronto for the lower lake region during June, 101 were fully verified, 9 partly verified, and 10 not verified.

Baptist Excursion.

The excursion of the members of the Peterborough Baptist Church on the Midland Railway to-day, was largely attended. The excursionists go to the Summit, where they will be joined by other church pic-nic parties from Bailieboro, Port Hope and other places.

Rain Shower.

The "probs" were a little astray to-day. They predicted fair weather for the twenty-four hours between one o'clock this morning and the same hour to-morrow morning. The shower which came at noon must have been overlooked. It was welcome, neverless.

The Golden-Eye.

The logs will be out of the Otonabee River on Saturday, sufficiently to allow to allow the boat to commence her regular trips. She will leave for Harwood on Monday morning at 8 o'clock, and return the same day. Thursday she will run her regular excursion to Idyl-Wild, calling at Gore's Landing and Harwood. Time table next week.

Horse Education.

Prof. G. McPherson, the unrivalled Canadian Horse Educator, has formed a class here, and will give instructions, in the Drill Shed this evening at half-past six o'clock sharp, also to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock. All horsemen would do well to attend and see his check of checks. Prof. McPherson can be found at the Stewart House (Cavanagh's) during the day.

To-Night.

As announced yesterday, the Fire Brigade Band will give an open-air concert on their stand on the Market square this evening, at 7.30 o'clock. We have been unable to get the programme, but are informed that it will consist of the usual number of operatic selections, quick-step, valses, galops, etc. If the night is fine, no doubt a large number will take advantage of the free rehearsal.

Incorrect.

The Campbellford Herald says that a pork-packing establishment is to be built in Ashburnham. This is incorrect, as the reference is, no doubt, meant for Mr. Matthews 'establishment, which is to be on George street, in Peterboro'. Our Campbellford contemporary was mislead by a local paper which appropriates its news, and in the mangling it does to hide the plagiarism, often gets things mixed.

The Weather.

The weather keeps cool and pleasant, being a delightful change from the hot, sultry days of the past week, and if "probs" are correct we are to be favored with a continuance of it for at least another twenty-four hours. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 8 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, Moderate, north-westerly to westerly winds, fair weather, stationary temperature.

POLICE COURT.

STREET OBSTRUCTION.

FRIDAY, July 21.—The decision was given in the case against William Chamberlain for obstructing the street. He was fined $1 and $2.25 costs.

BREACH OF THE PEACE.

John Sullivan, Louis Drake, Michael J. Cardiff and David Lacey were charged with committing a breach of the peace on the evening of Monday, the 17th July. The case against Sullivan was allowed to stand, and three witnesses were examined in the other cases. The evidence went to show that on the evening in question there was a number of men in the bar-room of the Stewart House, who were making considerable noise, and they were ordered out by the bar tender. As they were going out, Sullivan declared that he could "lick" anyone in the house. Drake followed Sullivan out, and a fight ensued. Lacey went to aid Sullivan and struck Drake, whereupon Cardiff struck Lacey a blow, knocked him down and kicked him on the head. The party then dispersed, leaving Lacey lying on the street insensible. He was carried into the stable and afterwards taken in charge by P. C. McGhee.

The Magistrate said that if the charge had been for riotous conduct, the prisoners might have been sent to the Central Prison for a term. He warned them of the dangerous character of such conduct, and mulcted each of them as follows:—M. J. Cardiff $5 and $11.50 costs or sixty days in gaol; Louis Drake $5 and $5 costs or thirty days in gaol, and David Lacey $5 and $3.75 costs. Cardiff and Drake paid the money.

The "Examiner" Examined.

"The Peterborough Examiner of last week contain the following paragraph:—"The Register has a new map. It says that work has begun on the O. & Q. R. R. on Monday, at Carlton near Toronto. "For the benefit of the Examiner we say that Carlton is a small village about two miles out of Toronto, and that we were correct in saying that work was begun on the O. & Q. R. R. at Carlton near Toronto. The writer was probably thinking of Carlton county, or Carlton Place So, Examiner, whenever you feel funny be careful not to have the laugh fall on your own shoulders, as in this case."

Railway Notes.

The Norwood Register says that surveyors have been engaged, during this and the past week in re-surveying the line of the Toronto & Quebec through this village.

Two car loads of carts, etc., have arrived at the Midland station for use on the construction of the Quebec & Ontario Railway.

The Intelligencer says that it is informed that Midland trains do take advantage, to a certain extent, of the connection which was recently made with the G. T. R. line at the G. T. R. station at Belleville, and that it is the intention to run the regular passenger trains into the G. T. R. station, as an experiment. If this can be done without any serious inconvenience, the arrangement will be permanent.

The Lindsay Post says that the Midland Railway Company are putting up a new telegraph wire along the line of the road from Port Hope to Midland. The general business of the road have grown to such dimensions that one wire does not give anything like the accommodation demanded. The new line will be used for business, and the old one altogether for train despatching and matters connected with the motive power and mechanical departments. The wire is now up as far north as Cambray station. The crossing at the river at Lindsay is made by a cable underneath the water.

A large gang of men have commenced construction on the Toronto and Ottawa railway near the village of Orden. The wages paid are from $1.25 to $1.40 per day.

Manufacture at Home.

Much has been said and written on the folly of exporting raw material from this country to England, and then purchasing back the manufactured articles, thereby giving England's manufacturing industries the benefit of the accumulated between the cost of the raw material and the articles produced. Nothing better illustrates this folly than the exportation of raw cotton and the purchase of cotgoods after the cotton has been enhanced in value by the process of manufacture. A New Orleans paper wants to know "what sense is there in exporting raw cotton? If, instead of exporting $250,000,000 worth of raw cotton, we would manufacture it in the cotton belt, the product would be worth $540,000,000, and we would sell every dollars worth of the goods for cash." The solution of the query of our southern friend lies with the people of that section of the country in a great measure. Apropos, the value of all materials used in wool manufacture of the United States is $164,114,799, and the value of the products is $267,899,504. This gain of $100,000,000 to the country is the result of manufacturing wool instead of sending the wool to England and buy from England the goods.—Lumberman's Gazette.

A Relic of Burns.

We are informed at first hand of a most interesting discovery in the Highlands of Scotland. In making some alterations in an old cottage on the estate of Gairioch, the seat of Sir Kenneth Mackenzie, baronet, formerly occupied for some time by the poet Burns, there were found between the ceiling and the thatch some original MSS. in the handwriting of the illustrious bard, and which had not been included in any of his works. Possibly the most interesting may be the verse meant as a preface to "Scots wha' hae," of which our informant has favoured us with a copy:

At Bannockburn proud Edward lay,
The Scots they were not far away,
But waiting for the break o' day
To show them wha' were best.

The sun peeped o'er yon purple heath
To usher in the dawn of death,
As Bruce with soul-inspiring breath
His followers thus addressed—

The measure of the fourth and eighth lines was afterwards altered in the rest of the poem? The occasion of Burns' sojourn in the Highlands was a desire for literary seclusion under the patronage of the Duchess of Athole and other noble persons.

LINDSAY.

BIG LOAD.—The Warder says that the carrying capacity of the new palace scow, recently built by Captain Bottom to run between Lindsay and Bobcaygeon was fully tested on Wednesday, the 12th, by bringing the large number of 425 passengers thereon.

NEW ROAD.—The Post hears that a survey has been made south of Lindsay for the new piece of road and bridge for the Midland. It crosses the river some distance below the convent and where a part of the original embankment can be seen on the east side of the river. It is expected that the bridge will be a high-level one, and that no draw in it, to allow of steamers passing, will be required. The line is staked out along Durham street to Lindsay street, running again south of Durham street, and up to join the Whitby road. An arrangement of track will be laid down to allow of the Toronto express from Peterborough running down the Whitby line and by the link at Manilla to the Nipissing line. Also, that the traffic of the main line will pass down Victoria avenue from the Junction over the Victoria rails. It is hoped that a new and handsome station will be the outcome of the new plans when put into operation.

A CANOEING PARTY.—A party of young fellows from Port Hope passed through town Thursday afternoon. They go by canoe through the chain of lakes down to Lakefield, serving an apprenticeship to the paddle on the placid Scugog of the first twelve miles. The certainty of a pleasant trip is before them.

EXPORT OF SHEEP.—A large flock of sheep, consisting of over two hundred was brought into town on Saturday by Mr. O'Halloran to be shipped to Mr. Morgan, of Oshawa, who intends sending them to England. Mr. O'Halloran has bought up an immense number of cattle and sheep in this section for outside parties this summer, as well as a large number for his own business here.

THE Wild Strawberry plant posseses rare virtue as a cleansing, cooling, astringent, antiseptic, and healing medicine, and when combined with other valuable vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, it is an unfailing remedy in all Bowel complaints.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposedto say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us.

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to you address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

Arabi Pasha Poisoned—Horrible Massacre of Europeans in the Provinces—War Declared by the Egyptian Notables—More Troops for Egypt.

ARABI PASHA POISONED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—There is great excitement prevalent within the lines owing to intelligence which has just been obtained of the daring murder of Arabi Pasha by Khaled Omru, supposed to be an emissary of the Khedive. The death of the insurgent leader was accomplished by poison. Khaled Omru is said to be one of the very men who lately received an audience from the Khedive, and like the rest was credited with being a secret agent of Arabi. Tewfik's conduct at the time excited grave suspicions as to the hostility he evinced to Arabi. The admiral is taking action to ascertain the truth of the romour; meanwhile later developments are anxiously awaited.

MASSACRES AND CRUELTIES.

LONDON, July 21.—In the second edition of the Evening News is published alarming news from Port Said, which is said to be full of refugees. Yesterday a large number of persons were brought from Ismailia by a German war steamer, being chiefly German refugees from Cairo, Tantah and other towns in the interior. They bring alarming reports of the doings of the natives of Tantan. Many Europeans were brutally murdered by them. One respectable man describes a scene in which he saw a Softa sitting on the ground cutting the throat of a European, while others were holding the victim's head and knees. The European population at Port Said are badly armed, and unaccustomed to the use of fire-arms. The town is swarming with women and children. In the event of an attack by the Arabs or Bedouins the loss of life would be fearful, for although the guns of the English fleet command the peninsula, the European population ashore number 11,000 or 12,000, including refugees. Hundreds would be killed by the guns or massacred by the Arabs. Many are leaving by every steamer, but others arrive from the interior. Thus there is no sensible decrease in the number.

ANXIETY FOR THE SUEZ CANAL.

PORT SAID, July 21.—Another cause of anxiety is the insecurity of the Suez canal. Although the men-of-war are at either end, there are none along the 99 miles of the canal. The officers, crew, and passengers of the Peninsular and Oriental steamers are armed. Up to this time no vessels have been stopped, but at any moment the canal could be blocked. Some of the steamers in the transit are unarmed, and might be easily pillaged by the Bedouins from either side of the canal and the crews murdered.

M. DE LESSEPS IN A FLUTTER.

LONDON, July 21.—M. de Lesseps telegraphs from Alexandria that immediate action is necessary, especially to protect the Suez canal, and awaiting the result of the conference is ridiculous.

ITALIAN IRONCLADS FOR EGYPT.

ROME, July 21.—A permanent squadron, composed of four ironclads, has been ordered to proceed to Alexandria.

MASSACRES OF EUROPEANS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—The killed at Tantah include two English engineers named Crowther and McAlar. The Sheik and the governor tried to save them, but were unable. All the employees of the cadastral survey at Tantah have been killed.

MORE MASSACRES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—The soldiers and Bedouins in Zagaziz have been joined by others from Cairo, and no doubt a general massacre has begun.

TROOPS FOR EGYPT.

BOMBAY, July 21.—Two transports sailed from here with a battalion of foot, a company Madras sappers, and 218 Highlanders for Egypt. They will pick up a battalion of Highlanders at Aden.

THE PORTE MAKES UP ITS MIND.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 21.—It is stated that the Porte has decided to notify the conference of its intention to despatch troops to Egypt, but it will request a modification of the conditions proposed in the identical note of the powers.

FURTHER DAMAGE TO THE CANALS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—The British videttes now extend seven miles beyond the walls. Arabi's troops are still further damaging the canal at Baiadih.

THE KHEDIVE DENOUNCED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—Arabi has issued another proclamation denouncing the Khedive as a traitor to Egypt and to the religion of Mohammed, and accusing him of having deserted to the Christians for the purpose of securing for them the permanent occupation in Egypt. It calls on the natives to renounce the Khedive, to join the army of the faithful, and to fight until every foreigner is expelled.

ACCOUNT OF THE BOMBARDMENT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—An official native of the bombardment of Alexandria said eight ironclads were sunk, two burned, and four captured, and that the latter will be brought to Cairo.

BRITISH TROOPS OUTSIDE THE CITY.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—A rifle regiment has occupied a fort four hundred yards outside the Rosetta gate; these are the only British troops outside the walls.

THE TURKISH REPRESENTATIVE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 21.—Assyma Pasha, formerly Minister of foreign Affairs, has been appointed sole delegate to the conference.

THE VOTE OF CREDIT.

LONDON, July 21.—In the House of Commons the Secretary of War stated that the amount proposed in the vote of credit for the Egyptian expedition will be £2,300,000. He will also ask a supplementary vote for ten thousand men for the army. Sir Charles Dilke denied that a convention will be added with France, relative to the Suez canal.

By Telegraph to the Review.

AN ENGAGEMENT EXPECTND.

ALEXANDRIA, July 22.—General Alison movmoving with two regiments of infantry and a mounted squadron in the direction of Arabi's entrenchment. This movement will probably lead to an engagement.

ITALY TO PARTICIPATE.

LONDON, July 22.—A communication has been received by Earl Granville from M. de Freycinet proposing to invite Italy to join the expedition.

THE BRITISH FORCE IN EGYPT.

LONDON, July 22.—It is said that the British force at Egypt will soon number 14,000 available men. The Duke of Connaught and Generals Allison and Wood will command the brigade.

ANARCHY INCREASING.

CAIRO, July 22.—Anarchy in the surrounding country is increasing. The natives to-day are assailing all the foreigners and attacking the railways.

EARTHWORKS BEING THROWN UP.

PORT SAID, July 22.—Fresh earthworks have been thrown up by the Egyptians at Fort Guernial, six miles from here. The Arabs at Ismalia are murdering the captains. Every European has now left Cairo.

A RECONNOISANCE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 22.—Reconnoissances are being made to-day in the direction of Ramleh and Milaha. Several dead bodies were found at Mahadonnie.

TURKISH DELEGATES APPOINTED.

CONSTANTINOPE, July 22.—Said Pasha, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has been appointed delegate to the Conference of the powers.

AT WIMBLEDON.

LONDON, July 20.—Col. Gzowski's "At Home" at the Canadian camp at Wimbledon to-day was attended by a large and fashionable audience, including H. R. H. the Duke of Cambridge, Field Marshall and Commander-in-Chief; the Duke and Duchess of Cannaught, Duke and Duchess of Albany, Earl and Countess of Brownlow, Marquis of Hartfort, Mr. and the Baroness Burdett-Coutts; Honorable D. L. Macpherson, Speaker of the Canadian Senate; Mr. Morris, Hon. J. B. Robinson, Lt.-Gov. of Ontario, Major-General Luard, Chief Justice Hagarty, Sir Richard Temple, Lord and Lady George Campbell, Earl Waldgrave the Lady Mayoress of London. The Duke of Cambridge inspected the team and congratulated them, and particularly Lieut. Mitchell of the 32nd Batallion on their success. His Royal Highness expressed the hope that the Kolapore Cup would return to the Dominion next year. The Duke of Cannaught warmly welcomed the team. He said that he had always entertained great affection for Canada, and was especially pleased to see some representatives of the Canadian army present.

Mr. Gillespie, on behalf of the Canadian Club presented Lieut. Mitchell with a handsome silver loving cup, he having obtained the highest aggregate score in the Wimbledon competions. Major Tilton of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, ably and appropriately thanked Mr. Gillespie on behalf of the team.—Globe.

CANOEING.

Ladies in Canoe Racing in England.—An Exciting Race.

At the annual regatta of the Royal Canoe Club the executive this year instituted a race in double canoes, the canoeists to consist of a lady and gentleman. That the idea was good was proved by the fact that seven boats entered, but only four came to the post, the others not being able to get their craft up in time to take part in the race. It was an excellent competition, and caused great excitement amongst the numerous spectators both afloat and ashore. Unfortunately, however, the result was not satisfactory, for as the race was ended the Hampton Court steamer stopped right opposite the winning-post and prevented the judge from seeing the actual finish. As both the leading crews were nearly level within a few yards of the finish, that officials declared a dead heat. The ladies in the leading canoes paddled in the most approved style, and ably supported their partners, the boats being constituted as follow:—Irene: P. Nisbet and Miss Nisbet, R. C. C.; Pinafore: T. F. Knowles and Miss Farrer; Mr. Farrer and Mrs Farrer, Mr. Harrison and Mrs. Harrison.—Bell's Life.

BRADLAUGH ARRESTED.

LONDON, July 21.—Mr. Bradlaugh and three others connected with the publication of the Freethinker were to-day committed for trial on a charge of publishing blasphemous libels. Mr. Bradlaugh was subsequently bailed.

THE ARREARS BILL.

LONDON, July 21.—At a meeting of one hundred Conservative peers it was decided to allow the Irish Arrears bill to pass its second reading in the House of Lords, but to introduce amendments in committee. The amendments will not touch the question of a loan or gift, but deal decisively with other portions of the bill. The Arrears bill has passed its third reading in the House of Commons.

A DELUGE IN BOHEMIA.

VIENNA, July 21.—A deluge of rain has occurred in Bohemia. The destruction of property and crops is incalculable. The bodies of forty-seven persons who were drowned have been recovered. A large part of the harvest will be wholly destroyed.

MODERATE COUNCILS.

LONDON, July 21.—At a meeting of the Conservative Peers yesterday, Lord Salisbury stated that in consequence of the gravity of foreign affairs he could not recommend the Peers to bring about a crisis on a domestic question, by rejecting the Arrears bill.

THE MARSEILLES SUIT.

MARSEILLES, July 21.—The municipal council has authorized the Mayor of Marseilles to apply for a new trial in the case of the corporation against the ex-Empress Eugenie to compel her to relinquish possession of the Imperial chateau presented under the empire to the late Emperor as a residence by the municipality.

AMERICAN.

TO THE OCEAN.

DETROIT, July 21.—Buffalonians are beginning to be alarmed at the large volume of wheat shipments from Chicago going to Montreal. The steady increase of orders in that direction incline them to believe that should ocean freights continue low, and should grain drop in price, the traffic that way must become unpleasantly extensive.

ALIVE WITH TRICHINA.

MILLWAUKEE July 22.—A man named Mills recently bought a deceased hog. He was warned not to use the meat; he, however, fattened the animal, killed it, and with his wife and three children ate the meat. Both the adults are now dying, and the children can hardly recover. The flesh of all the victims is literally alive with trichina.

UNCLAIMED MONEY ORDERS.

NEW YORK July 22.—The Tribune's Washington despatch says that the total amount of unclaimed money orders at the end of June was $2,000,000. The Post Office Auditor, estimates that $1, 250,000 will never be claimed.

THROUGH A BRIDGE.

PUCHLA, July 22.—Yesterday the Denver & Rio Grande accomodation train broke through a bridge 35 miles south of here. Fireman McNally was killed and engineer Myers was fatally injured.

THE IRON TRADE STRIKES.

PITTSBURG, July 22.—President Jarrett stated that 18 western iron mills, employing 4100 men, have thus far signed the scale, eight mills employing 4300 men, are running under the Cincinnatti agreement. Almost all the men belong to the amalgamated association. Five other mills employ 3000 members of the association. There are 10,000 eastern iron workers belonging to the association. It is estimated that 30,000 men are now idle on account of the strike, of whom 16,000 are members of the association. Jarrett is confident that the strikers will ultimately succeed. Several strikers who took work from laborers and mechanics, by working for lower wages, have been expelled from the Union.

DAMAGES FOR DELAY.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Johnson, whose truck was detained at St. John's, Park Depot, for two days before being unloaded in consequence of the freight handler's strike, yesterday obtained a verdict for $40 against the Central & Hudson River Railway. The case will be appealed to the general term. If the verdict is sustained 150 similar suits will be brought.

AN APPOINTMENT.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Walker Blaine, son of the ex-Secretary, has been appointed Associate Counsel for the United States before the Alabama Claims Commission.

Saving Vegetable Seeds.

Dr. Geo. Thurber gives, in the American Agriculturist for August, the following valuable facts concerning the "mixing" of plants and its effect upon seeds:—

If there are many varieties of the same vegetable in a garden, it is impossible to save the seeds of some in an unmixed state. Sweet corn, and all of the squash family, are quite sure to mix. On the other hand, peas and beans rarely cross. If one saves seeds of any vegetable, let it be of the best. Instead of leaving the last peas on the vines for seed, set apart a portion of a row for seed, and let none be picked from it. By proper care, the quality of a vegetable may be improved. In saving Lima Beans, we have for several years selected only those with four beans in the pod; as a consequence, the greater number of pods in the whole crop now have four beans. The selection of the first ripened and best formed tomatoes for seed will have a marked effect upon future crops, and this is the case with all other vegetables. If one has a choice melon he would preserve in its purity, the surest method is to fertilize a few female flowers. Take a male flower of the same kind that is shedding its pollen, remove the corolla, to expose the stamens. Select a female flower that is just ready to open, but has not been visited by insects; open it, and apply the stamens to the pistil of that flower. Cover the flowers thus operated upon by a bit of muslin until the fruit begins to grow.

DISTRICT INTELLIGENCE

BELLEVILLE.

OUTRAGE.—A woman named Barney, who was drunk, was badly outraged on Wednesday night by several roughs. The police are looking into the matter.

OMEMEE.

ACCIDENT.—The Herald says that on Wednesday last Mr. W. Redmond had one of his fingers badly bruised and had a narrow escape of having his arm broken while working around some machinery in Mr. Evans' foundry.

AN OMEMEE BAND BOY ABROAD.—Mr. H. W. Sherwood, long and favourably known here for his good musical abilities on the cornet is at present one of the performers on that instrument in the celebrated Gilmour's Band of New York city, the best on the continent.

EMILY.

DASTARDLY ACTS.—The Herald says that on the 11th of July Mr. John Wilkinson who lives on the 8th concession had a span of horses taken from his place and locked up in a barn where they remained till the following Saturday without anything to eat or drink, and on the morning of the 12th July he found three of his sheep dead in a field. The perpetrators of this dastardly crime is deserving of an introduction to a "cat o' nine tales." We hope the guilty ones will be discovered and severely punished.

SAD COINCIDENCE.—A remarkable incidence took place at the Emily cemetary last week in the meeting of the bodies of Mr. Robert Kennedy af Lindsay and Mrs. Kellaby of North Verulam, they being brother and sister, Mr. Kennedy being the eldest son and Mrs. Killaby the eldest daughter of the same family. Each died of a lingering disease within nine hours of each other and their remains met and were buried together.

PORT HOPE.

WELCOME ARREARS.—The News says that Mr. Charles Rathburn, of Centreville, received $900 arrears of pension from the United States Government on Monday. He is to receive $1,000 more within two months, and has also been placed on the regular list. He was wounded at "Bulls-Run."

NARROW ESCAPE.—A child, six months old, fell into a closet last Sunday afternoon, Englishtown, and was only saved from death by its head being kept out of the filth, with a long-handled hoe, until assistance could be secured to take the closet in pieces, so that some one could go down for the little sufferer.

KILLED ON THE TRACK.—On Monday, nine of Mr. S. Haskill's horses made an opening through his fence on the Lake Shore road, from whence they wandered to the G. T. R. track, where two were killed by a passing locomotive. The others were driven along the track by the train until they reached the bog near Port Britain, where they stuck fast and had to be dug out by the neighbors.

THE PARTY OF PURITY.

The London Free Press says:—Since 1874—in the short space of eight years—there have been no less than 34 Grits unseated, and unseated and disqualified, for gross bribery and corruption, as follows:—

Story of Child Desertion.

Last night a man named Norris, popularly known as Bendigo, informed Detective Sullivan that while his daughter was returning from the cotton mill she was met on the corner on Montreal and John streets by a woman who carried a babe. The stranger stopped Miss Norris and asked her to take the child for a moment while she looked for her husband. She did not return, and Miss Norris had to take the baby home. The detective and policemen were given instructions to keep a sharp look out for the unkind mother, and several times it was thought clues to her whereabouts had been obtained, but for a time no light was thrown upon the affair.

This morning Detective Sullivan cleverly solved the case. Some time ago a woman entered the lying-in-hospital and gave birth to a child. She was a friend of the Norris girls, and, yesterday at the Hospital an arrangement was entered into by which the latter was to take the child and make up the story as narrated by Bendigo. It was thought that the city would take charge of the infant, and the mother be relieved of the burden of caring for and supporting it. The scheme did not work, however. This morning the Norris girl returned to the child to its mother in the Hospital. What the police will do is a question for further consideration.—Kingston Whig, July 19.

THE Rev. Charles E. Piper, formerly of Pittfield, N. H., but now of Wakefield, R. I., writes:—"I have used Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in my family for over two years, and as a result have not called a physician in the whole time. My wife had been an invalid for two years, but these bitters have cured her."

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, JULY 22, 1882.

OUR COTTON FACTORIES.

A "MANUFACTURER" writes to the Globe to show that we are not overdoing our cotton factories. He states that we have about 400,000 spindles, which the United States have 22,000,000, and that assuming the proportion of consumption to be similar in the two countries, Canada can employ 2,000,000 spindles.

After expressing his opinion that the cotton factories at present are making too high profits, owing to insufficient internal competition, the writer goes on to say:—

"There are no cotton goods made in the United States that cannot be made in Canada, and there are very few lines of cotton goods that can be made here that the demand is not equal to at least the production of one or more mills. When in Manchester last spring a firm of calico printers authorized me to say if they could make a contract with one or more mills for the supply of print cloths for a number of years at a reasonable price per lb. they would erect print works in Canada and print annually the production of not less than about 100,000 spindles. From my knowledge of the cotton industry and the trade of the Dominion I give it as an impartial opinion that Canada ought within the next five years build mills enough to supply her home trade. If we can do that at the present prices of machinery, and get a good start under our present protective policy, Canada will be an immense gainer; and in the event of the duties being reduced we will be in a position to bid defiance to foreign competition."

There could not well be a more favourable prognostication of the success of our cotton industry, nor a stronger testimony to the benefit derived from our protective policy. Whether it would be advisable to follow the example of Great Britain, and after building up the industry by protection to venture then upon free trade, is a question which may well be left for dicision till that era arrives.

In an editorial the Globe refers to this letter in terms of general approval, but after giving a few reasons why the calculations in it should be modified, it utters the deliberate falsehood that "cottons are outrageously dear compared with American and English goods of similar quality," though the nearest dry goods dealers would testify that they were cheaper rather than dearer. In conclusion it says:—"this condition bids fair to prevail until there is a change of government." Under the Cartwright tariff or a similar one, we would have goods rather dearer than cheaper, as we have already experienced, but there would be this great difference, that the capitalists, the operatives and the agriculturalists of the United States would have the profits of this industry, if Mr. Blake and his friends were in power, while the Canadian capitalists, operatives and the farmers supplying them have the profits under the government of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues. The country has decided which policy it prefers to sustain, but, the Globe despises popular opinion, and still opposes the policy of the country, and as it confesses, looks with hope for the maintenance of Mr. Mowat in power at the next general election, as the first symptom of a reaction in favor of free trade.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Government has officially announced a further postponement in regard to the works advertised for the Trent Navigation. Tenders are to be received until August 24th, and the plan and specifications are to be ready by August 10th. We may plainly state that if such arrangements are not made as to obviate the necessity for a third postponement, there will be a general feeling of indignation throughout this district.

* * *

PROCEEDINGS have been begun to unseat Mr. James Trow, the newly elected member for South Perth, on the ground of bribery in person and by agents, and also on the ground of undue influence by the Ontario Government, its officials and agents. It is well that this interference of the Mowat Administration should come under the cognizance of a court of law.

* * *

THE Lindsay Post is still slandering the Ministry and abusing the REVIEW about the Trent Valley Canal. It complains of our language condemning its villification of the chosen leaders of the people, and yet this fastidious critic describes our willingness to censure the Government, if they do not go on with the work, as "all rot." Of course the Peterborough Examiner joins with its Lindsay confrere in crying down the Trent Valley Canal, and in abusing the Government of Canada and their supporters the people of Canada. They must work for their party rather than their country, even if they have to thwart a project of great local as well as general benefit.

* * *

THE more violent and unscrupulous of the Reform journals are still slandering the judges and returning officers who have declared Reformers not elected on account of irregularities in the ballot papers or returns, but this does not prevent them from uttering shouts of joy whenever a Conservative with a majority of votes loses his seat on account of similar informalities. The Election Court will do justice to both sides.

* * *

THE Nova Scotia Provincial Ministry has resigned, and for some reason Mr. Gayton, a former Minister, but not the leader of the Opposition, has been called on to form an administration.

THE Northwestern Lumberman says:—The "Lumber Line" of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway is assuming vast proportions. The efficient manager of the line, Mr. R. T. Flournoy, of St. Paul, forwards to the Lumberman a detailed statement of the lumber that will be shipped the present season, and it foots up in the aggregate 397,500,000 feet. Last year the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road hauled 358,500,000 feet out of Chicago, and it is generally supposed that no other road carried as much, but evidently it will be obliged to hand over the biscuit to its contemporary.

SOUTH AFRICA.

DURBAN, Natal,
South Africa, May 25.

I have made this letter much longer than I intended doing, but must not close my sketch of South Africa without some reference to the two neighbouring Republics, the Orange Free State, and the Transvaal. The former contains an area of over 70 thousand square miles and is situated on Natal's western boundary. It is occupied almost wholly by the Dutch, who left the Cape Colony as they were dissatisfied with English rule there. They treked across the Orange River in large bodies in 1837, and finally settled down on the broad plains to the north of the river, where they formed themselves into an independent Republic, and laid the foundation of the present Free State. They had some difficulties at first with the English Government, and some fighting took place, but their independence was finally acknowledged by England in 1854, since which time it has gone slowly but steadily onward. The population at present is about 50 thousand, the majority being of Dutch descent, and there are several thousand natives. The country is governed by a President, elected every four years, and a Legislature called the Volkraad. President Brant, a very able man, a native of the Cape Colony of Dutch descent, has filled the Presidential chair for some years past, with great credit to himself and to the benefit of the Republic. This gentleman has become known beyond the borders of his state, through the late Boer war. He was chosen by the British Government as one of the commissioners to arrange the terms of peace after the battle of Mount Majuba, and for his services at that time he has recently been decorated by the Queen. The greater part of the Free State is a high table land from 4,000 to 5,000 feet above the sea level and the climate is said to be the finest in South Africa, the air being remarkable for its purity and dryness. It has no sea board, its nearest point to the ocean being 150 miles distant. It is almost surrounded by rivers but none navigable. It is a fertile country, but almost entirely destitute of timber. Wool and and hides are the chief articles of export. Its revenue is about £12,000, and I suppose there are few other communities in the world where such equality prevails, and where there is so little poverty as in the Free State.

Previous to the late war I suppose the majority of people, outside of South Africa, if asked where the Transvaal was could not have said whether it was in Asia or Africa, but its late history and the events of the war have made it well known thoughout the British Empire. I think I have not written to you since the Transvaal war, but I sent you papers pretty regularly, and you would see how much excitement it caused here in Natal. All the troops were landed at Durban, and Natal being such a close neighbour, and so intimately connected in every way with the Transvaal, we were to a certain extent participators in the struggle. Of course you are well aware how differently the conclusion of the war is viewed by the two great political parties in England. The Conservatives denounced the concessions made as being disgraceful and pusillanimous, while the Liberal party say it was simply an act of justice in giving up the country to its rightful owners, and redounds more to the credit than to the disgrace of Great Britain. For my part reviewing the matter dispassionately and knowing the whole history of the annexation, I must say that to a great extent I agree with the view held of it by the Liberals, but I think when the true history comes to be written of the annexation and its results, it will be found to reflect very little credit on British statesmen or British soldiers. In the first place the annexation was a great mistake, or perhaps it would be more just to call it by a harsher name. It was the act of Lord Beaconsfield's government, carried out and persisted in, in spite of the earnest protest of the people of the country. The Boers afterwards sent two deputations to England in reference thereto, but they were treated almost with contempt by the Conservative ministry, and they returned to South Africa disappointed but not having given up hope. When the Beaconsfield ministry were driven from office, and Mr. Gladstone assumed the reins of government, they were hopeful that the country might be given up to them again, but the Liberal ministry, paying too much heed to the views held by Sir Bartle Frere, Sir Owen Langon, and others in South Africa, gave them plainly to understand that the annexation could not be revoked, and they were told by Sir Garnet Wolseley that so long as the sun shone, or the water ran down their rivers so long would the Transvaal remain a part of the British Empire. They knew then that there was no hope save in their own right arms, and they heroically resolved upon entering into a struggle that to every one but themselves looked hopeless. They suffered greatly, and underwent many privations while the war lasted, and while not being by any means an admirer of the Boers, one cannot help acknowledging they showed many noble qualities, great pluck and indomitable perseverance in fighting against such odds and finally winning back the independence of their country. Had England chosen to have gone on with the conflict she would of course have gained the day in the end, as at the time the fight at Mt. Maguba took place there were over twelve thousand British soldiers in Natal, but what was she to gain by carrying fire and sword throughout the Transvaal, and exterminating half the inhabitants, which she could have done even with the troops then in Natal? Such work might have become Russia, but not a christian, constitutional government like England, so I think she wisely and justly resolved to give up the country, and allow the Boers to govern themselves after their own primitive ways.

There is no doubt that had the war gone on after Majuba, it would have extended over a great part of South Africa, as all the Boers of the Free State were quite ready and willing to come to the aid of their brethren of the Transvaal, and also the majority of the Dutch in the Cape Colony would have thrown their lot in with them, and thus the war have lasted probably for some considerable time, to end which would have cost England much blood and treasure.

The withdrawal of English rule from the Transvaal has had a very injurious effect on every interest and industry in the country. The majority of the English colonists have left the country and moved into Natal or gone to other countries, and it will take some considerable time for the Republic to recover itself. No President has yet been elected, the Government being carried on by the Triumvirate, but they are not managing affairs very well, and it is expected that on the meeting of the Volkraad, (the Legislature) soon to assemble, steps will be be taken to elect a President. The country is a fine fertile one with great resources not yet developed, and with a good President at the head of affairs, and an executive with broad liberal views to carry on the Government, there is no reason why the young republic should not progress and hold its own with the other rising states of South Africa. There are gold fields in the northern portion of the Transvaal which yielded well for a short time a few years ago, but they are limited in extent, and no new discoveries have been made for some time. The present Government too appears desirous of retarding the development of the auriferous resources of the country, as they have lately leased the gold fields and granted a monopoly to one or two capitalists from Cape Town, thus driving the individual miner out of the country. The climate of the Transvaal is similar to that of the Free State, and it has millions of acres now used only for pastoral purposes capable of growing splendid crops of wheat, equal to any in the world. The area of the Transvaal Republic is estimated to be 120,000 square miles, the white population to be about 50,000, and natives of various tribes number nearly 800,000. Like the Free State the Transvaal is entirely inland territory. Its nearest point to the sea is about 100 miles distant. At present Natal is the outlet and port for the Transvaal but nature seems to have formed Delagoa Bay (a port about 200 milles north of this) for that purpose. The region about Delagoa Bay is owned by Portugal, unfortunately, and everything there is in a state of stagnation. I say unfortunately, as were it under English or American rule something would be done towards utilizing the fine harbor it possesses, the best on the whole eastern coast of the African continent. A railway is talked about, and will some day, no doubt, be built from Delagoa Bay into the Transvaal, and this important work, when carried out, will give an impetus to the Republic that will, in a few years, make it one of the most flourishing states of South Africa. The Boers of the Transvaal are, as a rule, very illiterate and ignorant of the world outside their own state. They are exceedingly conservative and without any progressive ideas whatever—content to jog along in the old, primitive style of their forefathers. What is required to make the country go ahead is a considerable influx of English emigrants, but this is just what the Boers do not want, judging from their present policy, which tends to drive every Englishman out of the Republic.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

The following letter appears in the World:—

SIR,—The travellers you refer to are rather unfortunate in the reasons they give for opposing the Trent Valley canal. It is quite true that in several places the Trent river's descent is very precipitous, but in this respect no part of it can compare with the Welland canal at Thorold. The precipitous descent of the rapids leaves long stretches of navigable water between the rapids and therefore is one thing in favor of the canal. As to the enormous cost, that does not agree with the government engineer's report, which is certainly more reliable than the opinion of people who no doubt know nothing of engineering and canal construction. Most of the Trent's descent is between Hasting's village and the Percy boom. A cut across the country between these places would shorten the route about as much in proportion as the canal itself would the present water route between the upper and lower lakes, and reduce the cost proportionately to what it would be if it followed the river. No doubt the travellers don't know that the cut in question is the canal's proposed route. If the government engineer's estimates are near the mark the canal could be constructed for a trifle compared to the value and importance it would undoubtly be to Ontario alone. I would refer your readers to a letter on this subject on Saturday's Globe. The railroads cannot and never will do for the country what the canal would. Even was the proposed "H. & O." practicable its great cost would prevent its ever being constructed when one can be constructed by a better route in most every respect, for a trifle in comparison, therefore as Toronto, with the province and country generally, would benefit by the Trent valley's connection, it is more than folly for Toronto to oppose the latter. Had it been constructed there would have been no necessity for enlarging the Welland canal, which I understand if not a failure is very likely to prove one before long. The Welland probably benefits the States as much if not more than Canada, and in case of war with our neighbors it would be of little if any use to us. The Trent valley, on the contrary, would benefit Canada chiefly, especially the province of Ontario and the city of Montreal, and in the case of war it would give us an incalculable advantage. Only for Toronto's foolish jealousy it no doubt would have been constructed instead of enlarging the Welland. It is bound to be constructed sooner or later. When it is the money spent enlarging the Welland will have been thrown away, even though the latter don't prove a failure. Besides this there is all the traffic the Erie will get in the meantime that otherwise would have gone through Ontario, with all the accruing benefit, which is incalculable. So much for Toronto's foolish jealousy. Let us have no more of it.

Persistence of Images in the Eye.

According to La France Medicale, Dr. Gorini relates that one night, having fallen asleep while reading a book, he presently awakened—when, on looking at the wall opposite his bed, which was illuminated by a lamp near him, he observed it covered with printed characters of large size, forming words regularly disposed and separated by lines like those in the book which he had been reading; not only could he see the text, but he could distinguish the annotations in smaller characters, and though the whole appearance was vague and indistinct, there could be no doubt that the image seen on the wall was that of the pages he had been reading when he fell asleep. This strange apparation continued some twenty seconds, and in this space of time was reproduced each time at which, after closing, he again opened his eyes. The incident is regarded as an interesting illustration of persistent image in the retina, of which so much has been said of late.

N. H. DOWNS' ELIXIR
Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!
This Valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:
and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs, then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.
CONSUMPTION
IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES
and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiates or astringent articles, which are also drying & nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

VICTORIA PARK—SCARBORO' HEIGHTS.

The waves are beating on the shore,
Not sullen waves, but low and sweet,
As though 'twere joy to come once more,
And yet again, with tranquil beat,
Cool summer waves, whose breath is rife
With moisture from the depths beyond,
Bringing to sun-burnt shores fresh life!
And hues to wabing grass and froud
Of feathery fern;—beneath the trees,
Whose spreading boughs afford recess
To lowly lichens, where at ease,
The worker blesses idleness,
And thinks, 'tis well to earn with toil
The boon of rest, such hours can give,
When nature charms, nought else can foil,
'Tis happiness enough to live!

WILLIAM LONG'S DEATH.

Opening of an Inquest on the Body Last Evening—His Assailants Identified.

An inquest was opened on Wednesday evening at Toronto on the body of William Long, the young man whose death from injuries inflicted on the night of the 12th July last, occurred on that day, before Coroner Riddel. Mr. Fullerton watched the case on behalf of Thomas Crozier, the man arrested on suspicion of being one of the assailants of the dead man. Crozier was brought from the gaol and was in attendance, in charge of a turnkey. The first witness examined was James C. Long, brother of the deceased, who stated that his brother was a sober man. He had seen deceased after he had received the beating. Deceased mentioned Ferguson as having assaulted him. Dr. Carroll was summoned the next day, and the police were notified of the occurrence. John Banks, sworn, said he was in the company of deceased on the 12th of July at 7 p. m. About 10.30 he and deceased called at his brother's hotel, and met Geo. Brown, Thos. Crozier and Jas. Ferguson. At midnight they started for home, and when past Monson's house, Ferguson came up to them, and catching deceased by the coat collar wanted to fight. When deceased spoke to him the latter struck him on the face and the others jumped on him. He (witness) did not see Crozier strike a blow, although he was one of the crowd. He afterwards met deceased who told him that four fellows had caught him and licked him. The coroner at this stage adjourned the inquest till this evening. A post mortem examination by Dr. Carroll showed that death had resulted from inflammation of the membranes of the brain, caused by external injuries.

TWO CHILDREN MISSING.

Lost in the Woods—The Neighbors Searching—Ugly Rumours.

The disappearance of two children fron St. Julie near St. Lin last Sunday has caused a good deal of excitement there. A habitant named Byrille Belanger had gone into the woods to look for his cows which had strayed from his house some arpents. A few moments after his departure, his two children, a boy of five years and a little girl of nearly three years of age, came up and expressed a desire to follow him. He says that he ordered them to go home at once as the clouds were lowering and there was every prospect of immediate rain. The children, he says obeyed and started off in the direction of the house. He watched them for some time, and then entered the woods to look for his cows, scattered here and there.

It was about three-quarters of an hour after that he returned home and learned from his wife that the children had not returned home. They did not come all Sunday and the searches of the father were without result. A party of about fifty of the residents joined in the search and went through the woods in all directions. For three days they continued the search but without any fruit.

Whether correct or not there are many bad rumors afloat in the neighborhood, some speaking of the probability that jealousy had something to do with the disappearance.

LATER.—The two children of Cyrille Belanger have not yet been found. Several hundred people are still continuing the search in the woods, which are very extensive. Their house is situated quite closely to them. No one has the least idea that they are anywhere but in the woods. There is a small stretch of water close by, which has been dragged. There is no suspicion of foul play.—Witness.

THE EXHIBITIONS.

The Secretary of the Dominion and Provincial Exhibition to be held this year at Kingston has been busy during the present week sending out prize lists. Entries have already commenced, and there is every prospect of a first-rate exhibition. There is reason to believe that the number of entries this year will be largely in excessof the previous years. Mr Acton Burrows, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Manitoba, has kindly consented to take charge of and collect an exhibit from that Province, towards which the Government has granted $1,000. The secretary has also been in communication with Mr. J. L. Inches, Secretary of the Department of Agriculture of the Province of New Brunswick, with Mr. George Lawson, Secretary of the Central Board of Agriculture of Halifax and Nova Scotia, and with Mr. A. McNeil, Secretary of the Provincial Agricultural and Industrial Exhibtion of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, as to the exhibits from the Maritime Provinces, to each of which the Dominion Government has granted $500 for transportation of animals and articles. The various secretaries are sanguine of being able to procure a very handsome exhibit from each province. The favourable appearance of the crops this season will no doubt greatly influence farmers in exhibiting and attending the coming exhibition. Favourable rates have been arranged by the Folger Bros., of Kingston, with the various railways in the State of New York; and monster excursions are expected, and being arranged for, every day during the Exhibition to enable our American brethren to see what Canada can do in natural and industrial productions.

This exhibition will be unusually interesting on account of the numerous importations of live stock, consisting of Shorthorns, Jerseys, Polled Angus, and Galloways; heavy draught and other breeds of horses, and sheep, many of which will be on exhibition competing for the handsome prizes and Dominion gold and silver medal offered this year. The Kingston local directors are doing everything in their power to have the buildings and stabling in readiness by the time appointed, and the hotel-keepers and citizens are laying plants to entertain all visitors, and no one need be deprived of the pleasure of seeing the exhibition from fear of not finding accommodation and hospitality.

The Industrial Exhibition prize list this year affords a place for exhibits of handwork by children under fourteen years of age, entries to be free. Although this department existed last year it was not generally known and was consequently small.—Globe.

THE FARM AND GARDEN.

Winter Lettuce.

Too many people plant only a first light crop of lettuce. It may be sown in August, and is still one of the most useful of vegetables. The winter varieties may be sown as late as September.

Potatoes in Wet Soil.

There is no plan equal to planting potatoes on the surface and covering the sets with soil obtained from between the rows, which, in this case, should be three and a half or four feet apart. It is surprising what fine crops are obtained by the method of culture in cold, wet soils.

Root Crops.

Turnips may be sown as late as the middle of August, but the land should be in good heart, and good tilth. Swedish turnips (Rutabagas) sowed as late as the first of August, will usually make a crop delicious for the table, and, though small, bring a good price. Thus they are often used to follow early potatoes by market gardeners, though by them usually regarded as a farm crop.—American Agriculturist.

Jerusalem Artichokes.

Jerusalem artichokes have long been known as a most valuable addition to the rations of hogs, but the fact that they are even more valuable as an addition to the diet of cattle seems to be less generally recognized. They are hardly, yield fair crops on poor, and very large ones on rich soil; are more nutritious than the potato, and once planted there will be no need for replanting, as they are not easily got out of a piece of land after they have become established.

Saving Manure.

A correspondent of the Farmer's Review says: "Save manure by making a cover over it. Mine is made after an idea that I got from the awnings in villages. I used fourteen foot boards, matched ond painted them; have braces from the plate to the side of the barn, and rods over the roof to the posts or plate of the barn, instead of posts, which would be in the way of hauling out the manure. About one-half of the farmers throw the manure under the drip of the eaves, and from one-fourth to one-half the value of it goes into the nearest stream."

Making Lawns.

Sowed lawns are usually failures because the seeding is too thin. Two examples have come under our notice the present season. In the one case, ten pounds of blue grass seed were thinly scatted over an acre of land, the result being nil. In the other case, a bushel was put on a quarter of an acre. The resuld is, in five weeks, a beautiful green carpet. Charles Downing says, "If you would walk on velvet, sow from four to six bushels of seed to the acre." At this rate, the cost is about one-tenth of what that of sodding would be.—Rural Canadian.

Exterminating Canada Thistles.

There has been found but one reliable method of extirpation, which is to plough thoroughly early in the spring, and as often thereafter during the growing season as is necessary to prevent the appearance of a single shoot above the ground, say about every two weeks. If the shoots are thus smothered for one season (they cannot breathe without leaves) they will rot and be converted into plant food, leaving numerous small drains through the subsoil greatly to the benefit of the land. Though this method is laborious, who can doubt that it will prove profitable, considering the long years of loss and annoyance that must otherwise follow.

Sod as a Fertilizer.

An old farmer, writing to an exchange, says: "There is no way manure can be furnished so cheaply as in sod. Sod not only enriches the land, but improves in mechanically, the decay of the roots in the sod making the soil, and that too of the best quality. Sod manure is always adapted to the soil, and no testing is necessary to know whether it will benefit the crop or not, as with commercial fertilizers. With the sod manure it is all gain, both in mechanical and fertilizing effects. To get best results the rotation of crops should be quick, and the land got into clover and grass sod as quick as the fourth crop, so that the organic elements of the soil are not too heavily drawn upon."

To Exterminate Hen Lice.

If in a house that is close, get an iron pot, in which put a pound of brimstone. Heat a piece of iron three or sour inches in diameter red hot, and put on the brimstone; then shut the house closely, and let the fumes have possession for two or three hours. Then, after sweeping and dusting the house clean, give it a thorough painting with strong lye, afterward another with kerosene. If the house is not close enough to be fumigated (and the fumes will usually do some good, even if the house is quite open), do not omit the washing. Get dust baths for the fowls, in which put sulphur, and line the nests with tansy.—Rural Canadian.

The Queen and the Salvation Army.

At Alexandria Palace on Monday last the Salvation Army held a monster gathering of members from all parts of the country as a general thanksgiving on the seventeenth anniversary of their establishment. Over 20,000 persons were present. General Booth delivered an address, in which he said they had obtained over £2,000 towards the purchase of the Eagle and Grecian Theatre. The Archbishop of Canterbury subscribed £5 to this fund to mark his approbation of the scheme. During the day knots of the army, indulging in the usual extravagance, paraded the grounds, and at night a grand march-past of the Army, including the Indian and Australian corps, took place. A letter from the Queen was read, in which Her Majesty expressed great satisfaction at the work of the army. The field state showed a large increase of number on last year.—League Journal, July 8.

Omens.

Recorders of Omens, forget to tabulate the terrible storms that swept over the sea at Caprera while Garibaldi was being buried. Such a storm raged in England on the day that Oliver died. Such another storm rooting up tree and hurling huge masses of rock down the valleys, desolated St. Helena while the unquist spirit of Napoleon the Great was passing away; and Tacitus relates that the insurrection of the Britons under Boadica against the Romans was presaged by an awful tempest. "Strange noises were heard in the Houses of Assembly, and loud howling in the theatre. In the estuary of the Thames there was an appearance like that of a sunken town. The sea assumed the color of blood and human forms appeared to be left on the shore by the ebbing tide." The other day, it is stated, the superstitious people of La Maddalena attributed the storm to the anger of the Eternals at the disobedience of the family of Garbaldi to his last wishes.—Illustrated London News.

Mrs. Smith, London, wife of Medical Detective, cured of catarrh. George Maguire, Toronto, 482 Adelaide street West; daughter cured of asthma. George Willis, Exeter, Ont., Catarrh and Bronchitis. J. D. Armstrong, 186 Yonge street, Toronto, catarrh and catarrahl deafness. Thomas Telfer, 12 Merinda street, Toronto, asthma; cured. Mr. Benj. A. Drake, St. Urbain street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured.

Also, the no less surprising cure of Mrs. Benoit, 114 Cathedral street, daughter of Mrs. David Perrault, who suffered from asthma, and bronchitis for over eight years, and who is now perfectly cured.

Mrs. Adamson, of Belleville, cured of bronchitis, and her sister cured of bronchitis and lung disease.

The above is sufficient to convince the public of the merits of the Spirometer. The instrument will be expressed to any address.

Call or write, enclosing stamps for reply, to the International Throat and Lung Institute 75 Yonge street, Toronto, Dr. M. Souvielle and a competent body of English and French physiciann always in attendance. Every information given. Physicians and sufferers can try the Spirometer free.

Mothers! Mothers!!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

We are constantly improving our stock with the Newest Designs and Patterns, so that Man or Boy shall not ask for anything in the Gents' Furnishing Line but what we can offer him. "Habiliment Hall."

A LONDON DRUGGIST says:—"during the many years I have been in the drug business, I have never had a medicine that gave such general satisfaction, or for which there was such a large sale, as there is for Mack's Magnetic Medicine, advertised in another column of your paper."

I. F. SMITH, Druggist of Dunville, under date of June 1st, writes of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry: "It is selling immensely in fact has the largest sale during the summer of any patent medicine in stock," and adds that he can recommend it to the public. The above named remedy is nature's grand cure for Cholera, Dysentery and all summer complaints.

WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

It acts directly upon the Stomach, Liver, and Kidneys. Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)
THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laborstory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, billiousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, JULY 22, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

St. Andrews Church.

The Rev. D. Tully, D. D., will preach in St. Andrew's Church to-morrow morning.

St. Paul's Church.

The tenders invited for making extensive alterations in St. Paul's Church, were opened on Thursday, but the contract has not yet been awarded.

Boiler Shipment.

Two large boilers were shipped to-day from Mr. William Hamilton's foundry to Winnipeg, each of which weigh about four and a half tons. We say about that weight, as an attempt was made to weigh them, but the scales were not equal to the task. They were manufactured for Mr. Craig, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, for whom a set of machinery for a large mill is being made at the same foundry.

The Weather.

The weather is warmer to-day, but still remains quite cool enough to be pleasant. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 8 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, Upper St. Lawrence, light to moderate, variable winds; fair weather and higher temperature.

The Market.

There was a large attendance of both buyers and sellers on the market this forenoon, but not much change took place in prices. Butter was selling at from 19 cts. to 20 cts., eggs 17 cts., new potatoes 35 to 40 cts. per peck, chickens 40 cts. to 50 cts., gooseberries 10 cts. and currants 9 to 12 cents per quart. Some vegetables were offered for sale in small quantities and at high prices.

The Baptist Excursion.

The excursion of the members of the Baptist Church to the Summit on Friday was a success, both as to the number that attended, and the enjoyment of the occasion. A shower of rain fell shortly after noon, but it was of short duration and not very heavy, so that it did not interfere a great deal with the sports, and a most pleasant time was spent at the Summit. The train returned shortly after six o'clock in the evening.

Musical.

The band turned out in full numbers last night, and gave the public an open air concert on their stand at the corner of Water and Charlotte streets. The programme was quite lengthy, and embraced some very fine selections. We noticed several new pieces were on the programme, which took well with the audience. It is to be regretted that the gas lamp that was to have been erected in the middle of the stand has not yet been put in working order. However, we have no doubt, the gentlemen who were energetic in placing the stand where it now is, will not let their labors remain unfinished, and will go to work at once to remedy this grievance. It is understood, that before the band go into camp, they are to have several new instruments that are badly needed, and when they are successful in getting them, they will be able to muster a band of about thirty in number. Private subscription lists are to be put in circulation at once, and we have no doubt that they will get plenty to respond to their calls.

The Waterworks.

The construction of the works in connection with the waterworks continues with unabated energy. The masons are engaged on the stonework for the wheel house at Hilliard's mill, the foundation for which has been built. The work of trench digging and pipe-laying on the streets is progressing rapidly. The mains have now been laid from the head of the works at Hilliard's mill down to Murray street, at the Agricultural Grounds, on George street, and pipes have also been laid on London street from the corner of George street to Water street. On Water street they have been put in from London street down to St. Paul's Presbyterian church, at the corner of Murray street, the length of two blocks, and the men are now engaged in digging the trench from Brock street southward on George street, and have progressed as far as Hunter street. At the corner of Smith street a check has been put for shutting off or turning on the water, and it is guarded by a timber pyramid which can be opened at the top when necessary, and access gained to the faucets.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

SATURDAY, July 22.—Wm. Hoosack, was brought up on remand, charged with being found drunk on the 18th of July. He acknowledged that he had been "a little the worse" on that day, and was fined $1, which he paid and departed.

The "Link."

The gang of men who are grading the road for the "Missing Link" in the town, have entered Mr. Peter Connal's garden. The junction with the main line will be made at the corner of Brock street.

Brakeman Injured.

The Ontario says that a brakeman named George Chambers, while coupling cars in the Grand Junction yard at Belleville on Thursday afternoon, was caught just above the hips and badly injured. It is feared some of his ribs are broken.

Lusus Naturæ.

Mrs. David Cooley has left at this office a strange curiosity. It is the body of a chicken with four legs and wings, and two spines. In fact it is two chickens, though closely united up to the skull, for this double bird has only one head.

Kicked by a Horse.

This afternoon at about half-past two o'clock Mr. Daniel Roseberry received a severe kick from a horse at the stables of Morgan's hotel. The horse's foot struck him in the stomach, and he sustained serious injuries, but they are not thought to be of such a nature as to unperil his life. He is being attended by Dr. Kincaid.

Horse Education.

Prof. J. G. McPherson gave instructions to a class he has formed here, yesterday afternoon and evening in the Drill shed, as how to train and educate horses. Prof. McPherson is spoken of by those who attended as one who well understands his business. He will remain here during next week.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway, for the week ending July 15, 1882, was as follows:—Passengers and Mails, $8,910.73; Freight, $13,214.84. Total, $22,116.57, as compared with $17,732.39 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $4,384.18; and the aggregate traffic to date is $524,921.38, being an increase of $140,538.87 over 1881.

Ran Away.

A horse belonging to Mr. Denoon, butcher, ran away at noon to-day. It ran a long distance, leaving the box of the waggon lying near McDonnell street, while it sped on its way down the railway. It was stopped at Sherbrooke street by the waggon colliding with a lamp post. The lamp was shattered by the shock, and the waggon was damaged considerably, but the horse appeared to be unhurt.

Should be Decided.

The waterworks mains are now being laid on George street, and the Town Council should decided at once how many hydrants they will have placed on this street. After the laying of the pipes is completed, it will add greatly to the expense if the pipes have to be cut in order to put in the hydrants, and this extra expenditure can be avoided by the Council taking action in the matter.

Co-operative Society.

It is currently reported that a co-operative society is about being formed in town to open a butcher's shop, to embrace other staples for domestic use hereafter. The high price of meat has led some men of experience to figure on the matter, and the conclusion they have come to is that they can pay expenses, make 8 per cent. profit, and have their beef and mutton 20 per cent. cheaper. Toronto markets are down 2 cents a pound this week, but no there is change in Peterborough prices.

Railway Notes.

The Omemee Herald says that on Tuesday last the distance between Lindsay and Omemee was run, on the Midland Railway, in 14 minutes. We believe this is the fastest time yet made on this piece of the line.

Improvements have been made in the interior of the Midland station here. An ornamental partition has been built forming another apartment.

The Madoc Review says that some much needed and beneficial work is being done to the Midland railway over Lake Moria.

The Mail's Ottawa correspondent says that on Friday morning the Railway Committee of the Privy Council, consisting of Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Hector Langevin, Hon. J. H. Pope, and Hon. J. A. Mousseau, received a deputation representing the Ontario and Quebec railway in reference to the crossings of that line over the Grand Trunk railway at Carlton, and over the Toronto and Nipissing division of the Midland railway near Agincourt station. The counsel for the Ontario and Quebec were Messrs. Hector Cameron, Q.C., M.P., and G. T. Blackstock, of Toronto; and Messrs. Jas. Ross, consulting engineer, and H. D. Lumsden, chief engineer of the road, also formed part of the deputation. The Midland and Grand Trunk were represented by Mr. E. P. Hannaford, chief engineer, G.T.R., Mr. Biggar, of Belleville, and Mr. J. C. Bailey, chief engineer Midland railway system. The Railway Committee, after hearing the arguments, granted both crossings. The crossing at Carleton will be level, and that at Agincourt by a bridge.

The Mail says that a locomotive of the Midland railway jumped the track at Scarboro' junction on Friday, causing the G. T. R. train from the east to be delayed one hour.

Jack Dormer in Luck.

President Arthur has nominated and the United States senate has confirmed an old-time Lindsayite, John S. Dormer, to the head of the United States mint at Denver, Colorado. Jack has been, for the last five years, a well known journalist and republican politician of Colorado. Concerning his lift the St. Louis Globe Democrat has the following: "Through the efforts of Congressman Belford, Hon. John Dormer, of Colorado, was to-day appointed melter of the mint in Colorado, in that state. Jack Dormer is well known to most Missourians, especially members of the legislature of years ago. He was known in St. Louis as one of the most brilliant writers and entertaining conversationalists that was ever identified with the local press of that city. He was educated and had served in every capacity, from proof-reader on a newspaper to manager of a nigger show. It was five years ago when Jack was detailed as reporter to accompany the Conductors' Association of the United States, from St. Louis to Denver, on their annual excursion. His funds were limited to $10 and a railway pass. Jack never returned and it was learned that he had been left by the returning train. He was a wanderer upon the streets of Denver, a stranger in a strange land, and naught but adversity for a time stared him in the face, but he had a will, plenty of pluck and energy, and a year later he was editor of a first-class paper at Central City, superintendent of public instruction, and Deputy United States collector. Belford loved and assisted Jack by reason of his acquirements and natural gifts, and to-day he stands at the head of the Denver mint." The appointment will not interfere with his journalistic work, as he will still remain at the editorial helm of the Register-Call, of which journal he is the editorial father." "Jack's" many friends in Lindsay and Ontario will be glad to hear of his appointment. The office is worth some $3,000 a year. The title is significant.—Post.

THE most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany or at least originate there. The most recent preparation palced upon the market in this country, is the Great German Invigorator, which has never been known to fail in curing a single case of impotency, spermatorrhœa, weakness and all diseases resulting from self-abuse, as nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, languor, lassitude, depression of spirits and functional derangement of the nervous system. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

C. BRITTON, Lindsay, Ont., writes:—"I have much pleasure in recommending Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in all cases of Jaundice, Biliousness, Sich Headache and Liver Complaint, for they have given universal satisfaction, and I have sold more of them the past season than any other one patent medicine."

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

W are not disposedto say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us,

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

WELLAND, Ont., March 23, 1882.

My little daughter was troubled with Catarrh for two years, and was very much benefitted by the use of "Hall's Catarrh Cure." She is now about cured.

W. T. HOUSE.

WELLAND, Ont., March 20, 1882.

I have used "Hall's Catarrh Cure," and judging from the good results I derived from one bottle, believe it will cure the most stubborn case of Catarrh if its use be continued for a reasonable length of time.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there, I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

Welland Canal Enlargement.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for the Welland Canal," will be received at this Office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western Mails on FRIDAY, the 1st day of SEPTEMBER next, for the deepening and completion of that part of the Welland Canal, between Ramey's Bend and Port Colborne, known as Section 34, embracing the greater part of what is called "Rock Cut."

Plans showing the position of the work, and specifications for what remains to be done, can be seen at this Office, and at the Resident Engineer's Office, Welland, on and after FRIDAY, the 18th day of AUGUST next, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and, in the case of firms, except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum of four thousand dollars must accompany the respective tenders, which sum shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque or money thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
A. P. BRADLEY,
Secretary.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

MONDAY, JULY 24, 1882.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS AT THE SCENE OF OPERATIONS.

Fighting Between the British and Egyptians Begun on Land—The First Skirmish.—Arabi Pasha Dismissed by the Khedive—Murders and Cruelties—A Treat to Depose the Khedive.

THE PORTE'S EVASIVE REPLY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 22.—On Wednesday an ultimatum was sent to the Sultan asking him to state within twelve hours whether he was willing to send troops to Egypt. It was upon receipt of an evasive reply that the Government decided that the time for further delay had passed. The Queen has expressed a wish that the Duke of Connaught should participate in the Egyptian expedition.

A BRUSH WITH THE ENEMY.

AYEXANDRIA, July 22.—To-day 250 rifles under an aide-de-camp of Gen. Alison pushed beyond Mahalla, six miles hence, to blow up the railway. They met some of Arabi's cavalry and several shots were exchanged. The Egyptians fled, leaving two dead and several wounded. The rifles finished their work and withdrew. British troops occupy Aeoukir, and will occupy Ramleh to-morrow.

ARABI'S REPLY.

ALEXANDRIA, Jnly 22.—It is considered certain that Arabi will destroy Cairo unless defeated and captured. In reply to the Khedive's proclamation Arabi appointed a ministry of his own at Cairo. Preparations have been made to attack Aboukir. Arabi is moving portions of his forces in that direction.

AMERICANS IN CAIRO.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The acting consuls general in Egypt telegraphs that his records and personal effects at Cairo are lost. All the American citizens are saved. General Stone's family insisted on remaining in Cairo, and their fate is unknown.

MORE ATROCITIES.

CAIRO, July 22.—Two Germans of Tulkah who were sheltered by the station master until a train was ready to start, were caught entering the train, their heads held over the carriage door, and their throats cut. Another Christian was placed on the rails and the engine run to and fro over him.

STARVING AND HOMELESS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 22.—According to the latest news from Cairo, 8,000 starving and homeless persons are camping in the Esbeh gardens. There is great mortality among them.

A NEW DYNASTY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 22.—It is believed here that Arabi has threatened to depose the house of Osman and proclaim a Jesad ruler in its place.

THE WATER FAMINE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 22.—The Mahmoudieh Canal continues to fall rapidly. No water has been supplied to the public since noon yesterday Admiral Seymour has ordered the machinery of all the cotton presses to be used in condensing water.

PARTICULARS OF THE SKIRMISH.

LONDON, July 23.—The Alexandria correspondent gives the following account of General Alison's reconnoissance in the direction of Arabi's entrenchments:—A company of engineers started first in the train with gun cotton and mining tools, with the object of blowing up the railway and the isthmus between Arabi's centre and Alexandria, thus preventing him from attacking in any other way than straight between the Rosetta gate, where we were very strong. Six companies of infantry, twenty-four mounted infantry and a company of rifles followed. As soon as ever we replied to the Egyptian fire the Arabs took to shelter. In an hour we got the signal that a mine was dug all round, when a column of smoke arose, followed by a loud report. The isthmus was divided, the rails were severed and the work was done. The troops then returned to Alexandria. Afterwards Arabi advanced on the Alexandria waterworks just outside the lines, and sent word that he intended to blow down the place, but having altered his mind, retired. His men sacked part of Ramleh during the retreat. We lost nobody during the skirmish. The enemy's loss is unknown. Scouts report that Arabi has three lines entrenched and strongly armed with artillery.

NATIVES JOINING ARABI IN CROWDS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 23.—Arabi Pasha has no intention of advancing on Alexandria. The natives are leaving the city in crowds in obedience to his summons.

ARABI DISMISSED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 23.—The Khedive has signed the dismissal of Arabi Pasha, declaring him a rebel. He will issue a general order forbidding the Egyptian army to obey orders, and forbidding the people to pay him taxes.

A STEAMER SEIZED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 23.—The mail steamer from Constantinople which arrived this morning has been embargoed, and the captain arrested on suspicion. She was conveying letters to Arabi Pasha. The steamer is guarded by four steam launches from the British fleet. The British have chartered two vessels to convey three hundred mules from Cyprus. They start for Cyprus to-day.

ARABI WELL PROVIDED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 23.—Arabi has levied a war tax upon land to the nominal amount of 50,000 pounds. The Khedive learns that Arabi is will supplied with provision and ammunition but that his forces are not increasing.

PROCLAMATION FROM THE KHEDIVE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 23.—The Khedive has issued a proclamation asking the people to assist the English, who are promoting the interests of Egypt.

INCENDIARIES STILL LOOSE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 23.—Miscreants are still caught with balls in their possession saturated with petroleum.

HORRIBLE SIGHTS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 22.—A reconnoissance is being made to-day in the direction of Ramieh and Mahalla. Several dead bodies have been found in the Mahmoudieh canal.

All the houses we passed were pillaged. On the road we saw several dead bodies of men and horses rotting in the sun and being devoured by dogs.

ARABI'S BEDOUINS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 22.—Arabi shot eleven Bedouins to-day for showing signs of dissatisfaction. Sir Archibald Allison is negotiating to detach the Bedouins from Arabi and secure them as allies of the Khedive.

PREPARING TO FLOOD THE COUNTRY.

ALEXANDRIA, July 22.—The English forces is so weak that no forward movement can take place before two weeks. Meanwhile Arabi is working on the Nile and the canals to flood the country between Alexandria and Mahalla. This he can accomplish when the Nile rises sufficiently, say in three weeks.

THE MASSACRE AT TANTAH.

ALEXANDRIA, July 23.—An eye-witness who arrived to-day from Tantah gives appalling details of the massacres. Eighty-four Europeans, native Christians, and Jews, including the English telegraphers, were tortured, disembowelled, and torn in pieces. The women were violated before being tortured. Most of them were dragged into the principal squares and murdered in the presence of the governor. Soldiers as well as the mob took part in the atrocity. Arabi's new Government has issued a proclamation that every native molesting Christions will be shot. It is believed that it is a mere form to cover themselves should they hereafter fall into the hands of the British.

TRYING THE PLUNDERERS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—It is thought that had men been landed after the bombardment, the burning and looting would have been prevented. A new notice of the Tribunal, has been passed. It issued capital sentences to-day for the first Ottoman Empire, on Mussulmen upon Christian evidence. The sentence will be carried out by Egyptians.

WILL FIGHT TILL THEY DIE.

LONDON, July 24.—Arabi Pasha wrote the following letter to Gladstone a few days before the bombardment, but Gladstone did not recsive it until after the bombardment:—"The Koran commands us to fight if war is urged against us, hence England may rest assured that the first gun she fires at the defences will absolve the Egyptians from all treaties, and control will cease and the property of the Europeans will be confiscated. The canals will be destroyed and the Dapan will be preached in Syria and India. The first blow with which Egypt is struck will cause blood to flow through the bredth of Asia and Africa, and the responsibility for which will be on the head of England. Egypt is still ready to be the fast friends of England and to keep her road to India, but she must keep within the limits of her jurisdiction. Finally, England may rest assured that we are determined to die for our country."

EGYPTIANS PREPARING TO FIGHT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—Yesterday five thousand Egyptians with eight guns marched to Abourkir, under Abdallak Pasha, and began to construct earth works. Arabi now has two guns mounted in the earthworks between Mohalla and Kafre El Divar. Stone Pasha thinks that unless England acts with at least 40,000 troops she will meet a Bull Run.

TURKISH INTERVENTION.

LONDON, July 24.—The question of Turkish intervention is practically decided. Troops cannot be sent without depriving the Arslant Provinces of troops, and even reducing the garrison at Constantinople.

MORE FIGHTING ON LAND.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—The Sixtieth Rifles marched to occupy Ramleh this morning. Some skirmishing is now proceeding. The 35th Infantry has been ordered to support the 60th. The bulk of Arabi's infantry is reported concentrated at Rdalmial. Inspector Chdusiral, of the cavalry has arrived from the interior and reports that the total force of the rebels is nearly a hundred thousand. He says a volunteer and cavalry regiment is forming an attack on Alexandria. Arabi's front fell back last evening to the other side of Camleh, thus forcing the above mentioned operation on the British.

THE EGYPTIAN RETREAT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—The Rifle and mounted infantry occupied Ramleh early this morning. The stationed one field gun at the bridge of the canal. The enemy's cavalry appeared, but fled upon a volley being fired. After a short time they reappeared with two guns, with which they opened fire ineffectually upon the British. By nine o'clock the firing ceased, but the enemy was expected to reappear with reinforcements. Crowther, one of the two English engineers reported massacred at Tantah, has arrived here. The commander of the fort at Abonkir, who has hoisted a flag of truce, refused to allow any Englishmen to enter the fort. He is probably holding an interview in the interest of Arabi.

ARABI AGAIN ADVANCING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—Arabi occupies an extended line from Mareotis to Aboukir. His force is estimated at 700. The first skirmish lasted about an hour. One or two English and several Egyptians were seen to fall. Arabi is again advancing.

OBSTRUCTION TACTICS.

DUBLIN, July 22.—Mr. Dillon, speaking at Mallow, said if sixty honest members were returned to Parliament to support Mr. Parnell, they would render the Repression bill inoperative. For every man arrested under the bill they would waste two days in the House of Commons. When they were enabled to understand the working of the land corporations, they would organize machinery to defeat it.

TROUBLED RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 22.—After having been ten times countermanded and and as many times resumed the preparations for the coronation of the Czar are being actively pushed forward. The ceremony will positively take place at the end of August. The sovereigns will only be represented by envoys extraordinary, not by their relatives, who according to custom should be the heirs to thrones. The Emperor of Russia has been influenced in fixing positively the date of the coronation for August by certain proceedings of the party of the Grand Duke Constantine which are beginning to develop themselves, and the phrase of "the deposition of an uncrowned sovereign" is frequently to be heard. Placed in the alternative of either losing his life or his crown, the Czar prefers to expose the first to save both. Anyway we may soon expect for Russia grave events, as well at home as abroad, for at the sound of the first revolutionary cannon that is fired, Germany, without any preliminary form whatever, will occupy the Baltic provinces and then annex them.

PITTSBURG, July 24.—President Jarrett stated that 18 western iron mills, employing 4,100 men, have thus far signed the scale, eight mills employing 4,300 men, are running under the Cincinnatti agreement. Almost all the men belong to the amalgamated association. Five other mills employ 3,000 members of the association. There are 10,000 eastern iron workers belonging to the association. It is estimated that 30,000 men are now idle on account of the strike, of whom 16,000 are members of the association. Jarrett is confident that the strikers will ultimately succeed. Several strikers who took work from laborers and mechanics, by working for lower wages, have been expelled from the Union.

THE indications of the approaching season seem to threaten an unusual ammount of the various forms of bowel complaints. Our readers would do well to supply themselves with some reliable remedy like Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as a safeguard against sudden attacks of Cholera, Morbus, Colic, Dysentery, &c., that unless preperly treated are often suddenly fatal.

THE Rev. Charles E. Piper, formerly of Pittfield, N. H., but now of Wakefield, R. I., writes:—"I have used Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in my family for over two years, and as a result have not called a physician in the whole time. My wife had been an invalid for two years, but these bitters have cured her."

W. H. CROOKER, Druggist, of Waterdown, under date of June 1st, writes that "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cannot be surpassed, when all other remedies fail then it comes to the rescue, and I find the sales large and increasing." Wild Strawberry positively cures all Bowel complaints.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

MR. GEORGE HILLIARD, M. P. for West Peterborough, Mr. Hector Cameron, M. P. for North Victoria, Mr. J. R. Dundas, M. P. for South Victoria, and Mr. H. H. Smith, Mayor of Peterborough, have returned from Ottawa, where they had an interview, on Thursday, by appointment, with Sir Charles Tupper, in regard to the works on the Trent Valley Canal. The Minister assured them that the delay had been caused in preparing the specifications which had to be revised by the officers of the department, and owing to the pressure of work upon the staff there had been some unavoidable delay. He regretted this, and assured the deputation that he had given instructions to have the plans and specifications pushed forward as rapidly as possible, and he renewed these instructions to the Secretary of the department in the presence of the deputation. He also said that as soon as these papers were prepared, Mr. Rubidge would proceed to complete the surveys of other portions of the line, and that the works for which tenders are now invited, would be carried on under the supervision of an officer of the department, appointed for that purpose, under Mr. Rubidge's directions, and would be pushed forward without delay.

Certainly the Minister of Canals showed no want of interest in the project.

SLANDERING ITS BETTERS.

THE Globe accused a Peterborough miller of being indebted to the Government in respect to the tax on wheat imported to be ground in bond and yet of plumply refusing to pay a cent, and defying the Government to collect the tax. We promptly repudiated the slander, and the Globe, in a characteristic manner, tries to wriggle out of its calumny. It says now:—

"The REVIEW denies that there was imported in bond at Peterborough any wheat, the duty on which the importer refused to pay the Government. The REVIEW is informed that the Government return brought down last session was authority for our statement."

What the REVIEW denied was the false assertion of the Globe that any tax due was refused to be paid. Some wheat was imported for manufacture and consumption, and the duty on it was promptly paid. Other wheat was imported for manufacture and exportation, and the bonds given were duly fulfilled. The Globe is informed that a government return was not its authority for its calumnious statements, for the return does not make them, but it maliciously fabricated the slander. Yet an honest man, who is respected and esteemed by all who know him, is to be villified, because the Globe wishes to make a point against its political opponents. Is this fair or reputable journalism?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE veracious correspondent of the Globe at Ottawa, writing on July 21st, says:—

"The time for the reception of tenders for the Trent Valley canal works has been extended to the 24th of August. This is the second extension, and the supporters of the scheme are greatly indignant with the Government. This is another electioneering chicken returning home. It is stated to-night that the Government has determined to go on with the portions of the Trent Valley Works advertised."

It is seldom that even the Ottawa correspondent of the Globe publishes at the same time two falsehoods contradicting each other like the last two sentences. The Government has never hesitated about going on with the works, and now that their attention has been called to the delays caused by some of their officials, we feel confident that they will not occur again.

* * *

THE Ottawa Free Press, after indulging in some of its characteristic coarse language, says that the election law, as passed by the Liberal government, was a good one, but Sir John Macdonald destroyed one of its best features by repealing the section relative to Returning Officers. It adds:—"All the scandalous mistakes of the late countings are owing entirely to that one atrocity." How came it, pray, if the law is so good, and returning officers are such corrupt partizans of the Conservatives, that Conservatives have been counted out through irregularities as well as Reformers, though the Conservative majorities to be overcome where far larger?

* * *

SOME of the Reformer journals are claiming Mr. Gagne, the newly-elected member for Chicontini in the Province of Quebec, as a supporter of the Opposition. Mr. Gagne himself says he is a Ministerialist, and he ought to know.

* * *

OUR facetious friend Grip has a cartoon representing Sir John Macdonald and Mr. Costigan as slinking away from the censure of John Bull for putting their fingers in the "Irish Pie," while Mr. Blake is caught with his "speech" in his hand. In the letter press Grip says that some of the Conservative organs are repudiating the responsibility of the Government, and are trying to shift the "blame" on to the shoulders of the Opposition and Mr. Blake. We would like our contemporary to inform us what Conservative journal has done this, for with a large exchange list we have noticed no such case. We have indeed seen an assertion to the same effect in a "Reform" journal, but in one that has the reputation of always telling a falsehood if it will serve its purpose better than the truth.

* * *

AND now the Belleville Ontario is having its little fling at the Trent Valley Canal and the Government. Its accusation against the REVIEW of insincerity is of little consequence—as it evidently judges others by itself. As Belleville will benefit greatly by the canal, a journalist of that city might be expected to support the project instead of thwarting and abusing its supporters, but with the Ontario it is party first, at any cost.

SOUTH AFRICA.

DURBAN, Natal,
South Africa, May 25.

Matters in Zululand are in a very unsettled and unsatisfactory state. After the war and capture of Cetewayo the King, Sir Garnet Wolseley divided the country in 13 provinces, 12 of them under native chiefs to be governed by their own laws and customs, the other province was given to a white man who has lived nearly all his life in the country and was formerly the king's favorite and chief councillor. This is the celebrated John Dunn, whose name newspaper readers came across so frequently in reading of the progress of the Zulu war. This settlement of the country has, however, not proved satisfactory, and a general feeling of discontent seems to prevail all over Zululand. The people themselves are all anxious to have their king back again; at present he is a prisoner at Cape Town. It is expected he will be allowed to visit England shortly, and then probably be sent back to Zululand, but not restored to his former power and influence. The colonists almost to a man are opposed to his return, which they say would be dangerous to the peace and safety of Natal. His friends, and among them are Bishop Colenso and Lady Florence Dixie, say that nothing in his previous career warrants this view of the matter. Lady Dixie, who spent a considerable time in South Africa, champions the deposed king's cause with much enthusiasm, and has written many articles to prove that the Zulu war was unjust and a disgrace to England. It is clear that the Zulus never at any time made any attempt to molest or trouble the colonists of Natal, and even after the fearful slaughter of Isandhlawana, when the British army which had invaded Zululand was almost exterminated, and this Colony was quite defenceless and lay at Cetewayo's mercy, he kept his victorious army within his own boundaries, and acted strictly on the defensive. A very large body of Zulus, numbering several hundreds of men (unarmed) from the various tribes lately came to Maritzburg, with the object of interviewing the Governor to protest against the present state of things in Zululand, and to ask that the king may be sent back, but Sir Henry Bulwer refused to receive them, so they have returned to Zululand probably more discontented than ever. The friends of Cetewayo say that the only way to restore peace and allay discontent in the country is to send the king back to govern his people with limited power and under British protection.

During the last six months a great exodus of British troops has taken place from Natal. During that time nearly 8,000 have left for England, India and Malta, and at present there are only about 3,000 soldiers in the colony. If the Colonists, during the coming elections, should return a House pledged for self government, we shall probably in the course of a couple of years see the last of the British red coats, but I do not think this at all probable. The friends of responsible government being against their opponents the accusation that they (the Refusalists) are opposed to self government for the selfish reason that they are anxious to keep the troops here simply for the sake of the expenditure entailed thereby on the British government. The presence of so many thousands of soldiers in the Colony during the past four years has of course necessitated the expenditure of enormous sums of money in the country, many of the Colonists have reaped largely thereby, Durban and Maritzburg have grown and prospered during the Zulu and Transvaal wars, but still these wars stopped progress in many ways and inflicted serious injury on the country. What South Africa wants is a long period of profound peace, and a steady influx of European settlers.

A sketch of South Africa would not be complete without some reference to the diamond fields. I cannot give you any information respecting them from my own personal knowledge, but the following few particulars may be interesting. They are in a province called Griqualand west, now annexed to Cape Colony, but formerly belonging to the Free State which relinquished its claim to the province for a money consideration of £90,000. In size it is about 150 miles from east to west and 100 from north to south. It is entirely inland, and several hundreds of miles from the sea, being over 700 miles from Cape Town, and nearly 500 from Durban. It is on the verge of an ared district called the Kalahari desert, and previous to 1868 when the mines were discovered, was but little known, except to a few Boers in the neighbourhood and travellers to the far interior. Since then, however, it has made wonderful progress, and Kimberley the chief town, is a thriving place of over 30,000 souls. Wonderful success attended the labours of the diggers for some years, and it was no unusual thing for men who arrived there almost penniless, to leave after a few months work with fortunes of £20,000 up to £40,00. The mines, however, are now chiefly in the hands of large companies and the palmy days of the individual digger are nearly over. Mayny of the companies are paying well, and the yield of diamonds last year was valued at nearly three millions sterling, and the value of produce and merchandize brought to the Province and chiefly sold at Kimberly is believed to be £2,500,000 a year. The surroundings of the diamond fields are arid and desolate in the extreme, all the necessaries of life are exceedingly dear, but the climate is very fine, except for a few months in summer, when the heat is intense. The principle mine is like a huge crater, and is now worked to a depth of nearly 300 feet. Thousands of native laborers are employed in it, and accidents frequently occur through the sides giving way. There are also diamond fields in the Free State and along the Vaal River, where the gravels and drifts are washed in a similar way to river workings on a gold field.

The foregoing sketch of this part of the world will, I trust, prove interesting to you and your friends, and from it you will see that all over South Africa the foundations of what will probably be some day a great and powerful nation, are being laid by English and Dutch settlers, and although these Colonies are in many respects very far behind Australia and New Zealand in the race of progress, yet, when the country gets opened up by the railways, and the vast regions about the great lakes of the interior are settled by Europeans and brought into communication with the rest of the world, and its great resources properly developed there can be little doubt that a great future awaits the budding states of South Africa.

R. N. W.

P. S.—With this I send you several Natal newspapers. The colony has four daily papers, all very ably conducted. They will compare favourably I think with the press of many older, and more important communities and are a decided credit to the country.

A REVOLUTIONARY TIDE.

Prince Bismarck Declares He will Use the Power of Germany to Stem it.

The Paris Journal has received from "an illustrious Austrian statesman" an account of a curious convention alleged to have been recently held with the German Chancellor, according to which we are given to understand that the great aim of the Prince's present policy is to do away with the Republican form of Government in France, which he regards as unfavourable to the interests of Germany, and that the main object of the Austro-German alliance is to drive back the revolutionary tide threatening to sweep over Europe.

The Prince thinks it will not be long before the French will have had enough of their present regime; but if the process of Republican decay should prove too tedious he will find the means of accelerating it. The colloquy was thus closed:—"I do not wish that the closing days of my venerable sovereign should be clouded by war. But do not imagine that I shall prolong my loyal avoidance of it just as long as it shall please politicians at Paris. Either the Republic will have to perceive that France is weary of it, and disappear, or we shall have to take measures to secure such guarantees as we may think fit."—London Standard.

A LITTLE ROMANCE.

The History of a Wedding Recently Celebrated in St. James' Cathedral.

A wedding which formed a chapter in a pleasant little romance was celebrated in St. James' cathedral last Tuesday. The parties were F. M. Reade, son of the late W. B. Reade, of Ipsden house, Oxfordshire, and a nephew of Charles Reade, the celebrated novelist, and Miss Cecilia Colman, daughter of Lieut-Colonel George Colman, of Kensington, London, England. They had been engaged for two or three years. Mr. Reade had come out to Canada and settled on a farm in Manitoba, while the young lady remained in England. From time to time she received letters from him in which he gave glowing accounts of the great North-West, told her of the cares and pleasures of his farm life, and hoped for the time when she would be able to join him in his prairie home. So great, however, were the demands of the work upon him, that he found it impossible to go to England and bring out the young lady as his bride. So he proposed that she should come out to Canada and meet him at Toronto, where the marriage could take place. After consulting with her friends, she resolved to go, and a few weeks ago sailed by the Parisian, accompanied by her father and a relative of the family, Mr. Hugh Drummond, a grandson of the eight Viscount Strathallan (an old Perthshire family). The Drummonds and Reades have held high positions in India for many years. The party arrived in Toronto, where the marriage took place after which the couple left for their new home in the Turtle Mountain district.—Mail.

THE PUNSTER GOES BUGGY RIDING.

"Suppose," said he, in accents soft,
"A fellow just like me
Should axle little girl to wed—
What would the answer be?"

The maiden droped her liquid eyes—
Her smiles with blushes mingle—
"Why seek the bridal halter when
You may live on, sur, cingle?"

And then he spoke: "Oh, be my bride,
I ask you once again;
You are the empress of my heart,
And there shall ever reign!"

"I'll never tire of gentle deeds
To win your gentle heart,
And saddle be the shaft that rends
Our happy lives apart!"

Upon her cheeks the maiden felt
The mantling blushes glow—
She took him for her faithful hub,
To share his wheel or whoa!

BABES IN THE WOODS.

The Children in the Woods at St. Lin are Found—Both Living.

ST. LIN, July 21.—At about half-past ten o'clock about eighty women and one hundred men assembled, among the latter Rev. Father Lemarche and Dufault. A solemn service was conducted by Rev. Father Dufault, and it was a touching sight to see the rough, hardy farmers kneeling with their wives and daughters under the forest trees, asking that their efforts to restore two little stray waifs to their parents might be blessed with success.

Upon the conclusion of the service Mr. Joseph Dallairo assumed command. He divided those present into two bands, women and men, and the search was commenced, it being understood that all were to re-assemble at three o'clock in the afternoon.

Messrs. Bertrand, of St. Julienne, and Ethier, of St. Esprit, started together, and as the time for their re-assembling approached, found themselves about four miles and a half from the starting place. The men were about returning when something lying under a large tree attracted their attention. Hurrying forward both children were found, almost insensible, but to their finders' joy, alive. Some wine the men had was at once administered, and the little ones carried home. The four miles and a half home were travelled in quick time and the enthusiasm which prevailed when the clearings were reached was perfectly indescribable; the parents were wild with delight, the large crowd cheered itself hoarse, and an ancient fowling piece brought by one of the farmers, was loaded and fired until its crazy old lock threatened to fly from its socket. The children fell into their mother's arms, the little girl declaring, amidst sobs, that she had never left her little brother once. She is only five years old, and her brother three; both were given such nourishment as they could take, and put to bed.—Star.

HALIBURTON.

THE LAND COMPANY'S ASSESSMENT. — The Bobcaygeon Independent says:—On Wednesday last, His Honour, Judge Whiteside, held a Court to hear the appeal of the Canadian Land Company against the decision of the council in the matter of the Company's assessment. The Company were represented by Mr. Cattanach, of Toronto, and by Major Evans, the Company's commissioner in Canada. The council were represented by Mr. Barron, of Lindsay. The hour appointed for hearing the appeal was three o'clock, but it was nearly five before the court opened, the time being occupied by an ineffectual attempt to make an arrangement. Major Evans made a representation to the council showing that the company was assessed greatly in excess of the real value of the land. His representations were so obviously true that some of the ratepayers present became greatly interested, and the suggestion was made that the existing opportunity should be made available to bring about a permanent settlement of affairs. It was pointed out that it was most desirable that the Ontario government, which already had a large sum in the railway, should adopt the railway liability of the county, and if the Company should be assessed at only the actual value of their land, there would instantly arise an inability to meet the railway liabilities, and the government could be properly asked to intervene. It was urged that the county, when the railway bonus was first discussed, had raised its assessment enormously in excess of its true value to enable it to give the bonus. It was raised so high as to perilously approach fraud, this fraud had been endorsed by the government which assented formally to the bonus given. It was therefore right that the Government should assume such a portion of the railway bonus as was granted fraudelently. These views were urged on the council, which replied that the first effect of reducing the Company's taxation would be to increase the taxation of the settler. Those who favored a compromise suggested that the Company should indemnify the settlers against any increase of taxation, and to this suggestion Major Evans at once consented, offering to give the required guarantee that the settlers should have to pay an extra taxation in consequence of the Company's reduced assessment. The council then met in the private ment, but to go on with the case before the Court. room, and decided not to make any arrange- Mr. Barron at once addressed his Honour, and took exception to the notice on the ground of informality. The notice of appeal should contain a statement of the reason of appeal. This had been neglected, and Mr. Barron urged that the informality vitiated all the proceedings. Mr. Cattanach replied, but the Court held that the objection was fatal, and declined to proceed. Mr. Cattanach asked for an adjournment, but His Honour pointed out that if on full consideration Mr. Cattanach wished another notice to be issued, he could make an application. Mr. Cattanach said he should probably ask for a mandamus, for a case of such importance, and which inflicted such wrong and injustice, would not be allowed to be defeated by a technicality founded on an informality in Mr. Blomfield's notice. The court then rose.

A Reform Movement.

A large and influential meeting was recently held in England in behalf of the Church of England Funeral and Mourning Reform Association presided over by the Duke of Westminster. At this meeting resolutions affirming the desirableness of promoting a better appreciation of the idea of Christian burial and of discouraging ostentatious expensive arrangements at funerals, such as feasting and treating and the use of crape, plumes, and other marks of mourning, as well as the provision of flowers in such profusion as almost always characterizes these occasion, were passed. There is great need of just such an organization in this country.

HARVELL'S CONDITION POWDERS.—Live stock of every description, whether hogs, poultry, sheep, horses or oxen, are improved in weight, quality and health by these celebrated powders. No stable or barn yard can pay fully where they are not used. Just give them a trial. Sold everywhere.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, billiousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

St. Andrew's Church.

The Rev. D. Tully, D.D., of Oswego, N.Y., delivered an excellent discourse to a large congregation in St. Andrew's church on Sunday morning.

The First Shot.

On Saturday, Mr. Frank Smith cut on the farm of Mr. James Ferguson, near the quarry, the first fall wheat of the season. It was a splendid sample.

Smashed.

The gas lamp on the corner of Bethune and Sherbrooke streets, which was broken to pieces by the runaway on Saturday, should be replaced at once, as it is in a dangerous place, being so close to the railway track.

The Trenches.

While pushing forward the work of trench digging on George street for the waterworks, care is taken not to interfere with the traffic on the streets. The corner at Hunter street is passed over, and the crossings are not impaired.

The Ontario and Quebec.

Messrs. McDermid and Hendrie, the contractors, commenced work on the Ontario and Quebec Railway to-day at the Indian river and in Cavan township near Bethany. They have put on a force of 150 men, who are divided into three clearing and six grading gangs, and this number will be doubled in the beginning of next week. They intend to commence the work on the road near the town shortly.

Toronto and Ottawa Railway.

The Globe says that the contractors for this road are now making rapid progress with the work, but it is considered that some eighteen months will elapse before the line is in full operation. The directors have decided that connection shall be made with the Canada Atlantic Railway at Ottawa, and the junction will be made at a point farther down, as was at one time talked of. Work on the line between Perth and Ottawa will be commenced this fall.

The Insurance Rates.

Our statement, that some of the principal insurance companies are thinking of raising their rates in Peterborough, unless we adopt better means of protection against fire, has been rashly contradicted. We made the statement on the authority of leading agents, and we have a strong confirmation of their words. The Monetary Times and Insurance Chronicle, an undoubted authority on such subjects, in an editorial on fire insurance, in its issue of Saturday says :—

"In Peterborough and other places the rates are so utterly inadequate to the risk of loss, as to excite astonishment in the minds of the agents and alarm in the councils of the companies."

There may be companies that are willing to take risks at lower rates, but we would be very sorry to run the risk of relying upon the policies of such companies.

Y. M. C. A.

Although the Young Men's Christian Association has not created much excitement as yet in town, its members are doing an excellent work in the townships and on the railway between here and Omemee. At the Nassau Mills a meeting is held on every Sunday evening, under the auspices of the Association, with good success. On the railway line the camps are visited every Sunday afternoon, and services are held in the principal camps, which are usually attended by a large number of the men working on the road, and much good is being done by the addresses given by the young men, by the reading they distribute at the camps, and by private conversation and exhortations. A very successful meeting is held each Sunday evening in a school house in Smith, on the same road, which has been continued for over a year. At this meeting the house is always filled, and often extra seating capacity has to be supplied to accommodate the large numbers who attend. A Sunday School is also held in this place in the afternoon. There is much interest among the people in these meetings, and the young men report several conversions. Thus the Association, while eschewing all denominationalism, is an able auxiliary of the church. It is their intention to secure some of the best Canadian talent for lectures during the lecture season this winter, and with this view the Rev. Dr. Wild has been communicated with and has consented to come.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

MONDAY, July 24.—James Bird was charged by P. C. McGhee with being drunk on Saturday. He admitted the charge and pleaded that it was the first time in seven years, and that he was not disorderly. He was fined $1 or in default ten days in gaol.

FIGHTING.

Daniel Cushing, who was charged with fighting with John Wilson on March 2nd, 1881, and whose case had been twice enlarged, appeared at the court to see what was to be done in the case. His appearance was noted, and he was told to appear again when called for.

The T. V. C.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Globe says that Mr. Hilliard, M. P., who was in the city a few days ago, is said to have obtained a promise that there would be no further delay in the Trent navigation works.

New Post Office.

The Canada Gazette of Saturday contains the announcement that a new post office has been opened at Clanricarde, Anstruther township, in the East Riding of Peterborough. Mr. Alexander Graham has been appointed postmaster.

Recovering.

George Hampshaw, the lad who was so seriously injured by a dump car falling off the track with him four weeks ago on the "link," and whose life was despaired of, is recovering under Dr. Kincaid's treatment.

The Weather.

The weather continues warm, with a pleasant breeze. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes, Upper St. Lawrence—Moderate to fresh, southwesterly to southerly winds. Fine weather.

Dredging the Little Lake.

While in Ottawa our member, Mr. G. Hilliard, and our Mayor, Mr. H. H. Smith, called upon Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, in reference to the money voted last session for dredging the Little Lake. Sir Hector gave directions to have the work proceeded with at once. As soon as the apparatus now in use in some locality in the front, is at liberty, it will be removed here. We understand that work will be commenced in three or four weeks.

American Canoe Association.

We learn that the party which is now being organized will start for Lake George about Wednesday, the 2nd of August, and will be away about two weeks. Last year's experience proved this to be one of the cheapest and best trips that can be taken. Mr. White, of the Midland Railway, is again making arrangements for through tickets at reduced rates. It is desirable that a large party should go from Peterborough, the home of canoeing, and we trust they will be successful in having next year's camp in some of our own lakes. Mr. E. B. Edwards will be happy to furnish information to any canoeists who may be thinking of making the trip.

The Camp.

A rumour from Kingston says that this military district will go into camp at that city on the 11th of September. No orders, however, have yet been received here by the officers of the 57th Battalion, but September being a convenient month and the one usually chosen, it is certain that the militia will go into camp in that month. The day is not certain, but will in all probability be on some Monday in September, as that would be a convenient day on which to commence drill, in order that the volunteers would return home on Saturday night, and only lose one Sunday in the camp. The place of the encampment has not been decided definitely, so far as is known here, but will be either in Cobourg or Kingston.

Railway Notes.

More heavy carts for use on the construction of the new railways have arrived at the Midland station.

The Intelligencer says that it does not seem possible that the proposed railway elevator at Belleville can now be erected this year. The material is nearly all ready, but the site has not yet been chosen.

The Globe says that Mr. Lumsden, Chief Engineer of the Quebec and Ontario railway, and Mr. James Ross, Consulting Engineer, went to Perth on Saturday for the purpose of inspecting the work in progress there. On this line there are some thirty-eight sections of five miles each most of which are now under contract. From Perth to the Kingston & Pembroke crossing the work is being done by the company. Messrs. Hugh and Patrick Ryan have the four succeeding sections of twenty miles. Mr. Carroll follows with three sections, or fifteen miles. On this last contract work was commenced on Monday last, and some thirty or forty men are now at work. Mr. Carroll is at present in Ottawa for the purpose of engaging more men. Among the contractors for the other section are Messrs. Gibson & Dickson, Booth & Cosgrove, and J. David and Angus McDonald. The first named firm are building in Pickering, and the second the sections east of Yorkville. Sections 21, 22 and 23 are likely to be awarded to Mr. McMahon, of St. Catharines. First-class contractors have been secured for all the sections.

The Globe says that in connection with work on the Toronto & Ottawa (now the Midland) it might be stated that 400 men are now at work between Peterborough and Omemee, and about 450 men between Bridgewater and Perth. The piece between Madoc and Bridgewater has just been completed. The contractors are Messrs. Parr & Wood, of Brockville. The section between Wick and Manilla, which is under contract to Mr. George Wheeler, M.P., is just being completed. Mr. Beemer has twelve months to finish his contract between Bridgewater and Perth, and if he can obtain all the labour he requires he will be able to complete it within that time.

WARKWORTH.

A SAD ACCIDENT.—A very sad accident occured in this vicinity on Friday. A farmer named Foster Vanblaricom, while drawing in hay was knocked from the load while going into the barn. A scaffold, which was erected for the purpose of storing hay, gave way at the same time falling upon the unfortunate man, crushing in his head. Up to a late hour last night Vanblaricom was alive, but the reports of Dr. Mallory, who is attending him, are that he will not recover.

COBOURG.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—A despatch from Cobourg, dated July 21st, says that about eight o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the dust room in the north-west wing of Alexander Poe's large flour mill, and in a very few minutes the whole mill, which was frame, was totally destroyed, together with the contents. The brigade worked on the gates of the dam, which they saved. Had those gates been burnt, a great loss of property would have occurred, as it would flood all the west part of the town. The cause of the fire is unknown. Loss $25,000. The building was insured for $8,000 as follows: The English Royal, $6,000; the Lancashire, $2,000. The stock was insured for $5,000 as follows:—Commercial Union, $2,000; Western, $2,000; Millers' Mutual, of Hamilton, $1,000.

SICK OF FREE TRADE.

The Sentinel of Stafford, England, says :—

"When we look back and consider the immense strides that the American potteries have made in a very few years under their system of protection—strides far more rapid than we in Staffordshire have during the same time proportionately made—strides, too, which the American potters could not possibly have made if they had copied our one-sided sham Free Trade system,—we must admit, however unwillingly, that, so far, protection has befriended American potters. Every manufacturer and well-informed workman also knows that the chief reason of low prices and reduced wages at this moment is, not because of local competition, but because of the new, and till now, increasing competition of American and other foreign potteries. Nay more, we find here the very cause of our checking, if needed we are in Staffordshire now checking, this new outside competition, lies in the fact that so low have we reduced our selling prices that we are by this means, and this only, overcoming the heavy duties which foreign nations have raised against the labour of this and other English trades."

Tennyson's Home in Surrey.

Some twelve years ago Tennyson built a house on the northern slope of Blackdown, a lordly hill two miles to the north-east of our village, and just opposite Hindhead, these being the two eminences which guard the valley east and west. The house is a large imposing stone structure, built in a free treatment of domestic gothic of the Tudor period, the entrance being a large porch with five pointed arches. The laureate can be as solitary here as the most confirmed anchorite, since his is the only residence on the hill. A carriage road winds up Blackdown on the western side as far as Tennyson's, enabling too many persons to come near the house for the poet's pleasure. Very many distinguished men are slowly drawn up the hill, on flying visits to the laureate—the Duke of Argyle and his Scotch gillie being on the ascent when we were last that way. Tennyson naturally dislikes to find persons creeping around his grounds and plucking leaves from his plants as momentos, as they constantly do at Freshwater. Once seeing a face peering at him while eating his dinner, the exasperated poet left the table, exclaiming that he could lno onger take his meals in comfomfort without being watched,

C. BRITTON, Lindsay, Ont., writes :—"I have much pleasure in recommending Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in all cases of Jaundice, Biliousness, Sick Headache and Liver Complaint, for they have given universal satisfaction, and I have sold more of them the past season than any other one patent medicine."

THE firm of J. & S. McEachen, Douglas, writes us June 1st, saying "There is not another preparation we can recommend with so much confidence as Burdock Blood Bitters, as it invariably gives the best of satisfaction." Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of Blood, Liver and Kidneys.

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposedto say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us,

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents :—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents :—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there, I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

TUESDAY, JULY 25, 1882.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS AT THE SCENE OF OPERATIONS.

Arabi and his Forces Driven Back—The British Loss Slight—Statements in the House of Commons—Rumoured Massacre at Symrna—An Account of Cruelties by an Eye-Witness.

THE INDIAN REVENUES TO BE UTILIZED.

LONDON, July 24.—In the House of Commons the Marquis of Hartington announced that at the earliest opportunity he will move the House's consent to the application of the Indian revenues to defray the cost of the expedition from India to Egypt.

THE STRENGTH OF THE ENGLISH EXPEDITION.

LONDON, July 24.—Mr. Gladstone stated in the House of Commons that the expedition would consist of 2,400 cavalry, 13,400 infantry, 1,700 artillery, and 3,700 garrison artillery. A commissariat reserve of 3,100 men would sail later. He described the state of Egypt, the lawlessness of the military, and the riot and violence of the people. He said the recent conduct of the Egyptian military leaders was opposed to the first impulse of humanity, and there was not the smallest shred of evidence to support the contention that the military party was popular. The Government had no desire to interfere with legitimate authority. The Government has obtained the moral assent of Europe to the policy they were pursuing, and there was a universal recognition that a case had arisen wherein, in the interests of humanity, force should be exployed to suppress Arabi's dictatorship. France was ready to act with England to guarantee the freedom of the Suez canal, but the government had no reason to suppose she would go further.

ARABI DRIVEN FROM RAMLEH.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—The fighting is finished. The casualties are insignificant. The British troops remain in occupation of Ramleh. Two of the deputation appointed by the Notables have arrived. They report that Arabi, learning of the despatch of troops from India to Egypt, has sent a reinforcement of 9,000 to Cairo.

RUMOURED MASSACRE IN SMYRNA.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—It is reported that a large number of Christians have been massacred in Smyrna.

ENGLAND'S RECOGNITION OF THE KHEDIVE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—The British consul has informed the Khedive that England has recognized his present Ministry, and urged him to appoint a successor to Arabi. There is no doubt that two of the present Ministers daily communicate with Arabi.

EGYPTIAN MARKSMANSHIP.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—The Egyptian projectiles burst too high to do damage during the skirmish to-day. In consequence of this the British escaped heavy loss. The Egyptians advanced boldly but without judgment, as they might easily have caught all the mounted infantry.

GOVERNMENT CHARTERING MORE VESSELS.

LONDON, July 24.—The steamship City of Paris has been chartered as a transport; the Catplonia has been substituted for the Parthia and the Montreal for the Quebec. The Government has also chartered the steamship Recovery. She will proceed to Suez. She possesses enormous lifting power, and can be used to raise obstructions in the canal.

APPOINTMENTS SANCTIONED BY THE QUEEN.

LONDON, July 24.—The Queen has sanctioned the appointment of Lieut-General Willis and Major-General Hawley to command the first and second divisions, the Duke of Connaught to command the brigade of Guards and General Graham, Major-General Alison, and Major-General Evelyn Wood to command the second, third, and fourth brigades respectively. Drury Lowe will command the cavalry.

LORD DUFFERIN'S PROPOSAL.

LONDON, July 24.—Lord Dufferin, the British ambassador at Constantinople, has proposed that the conference demand that the Sultan proclaim Arabi Bey a rebel.

AN OPPORTUNITY LOST.

LONDON, July 24.—It is now believed that any European force will reach Alexandria under a fortnight. Sir Garnet Wolseley's friends say he accepts the command of the Egyptian expedition with some reluctance, desiring to reserve himself for European warfare. He considers that the most favourable moment for crushing Arabi was lost from the troops not being ready after the bombardment.

CALLING OUT THE IRISH RESERVES.

CORK, July 24.—A proclamation was posted in this city to-night calling the first class army reserves to assemble before the 2nd of August.

ASTOUNDING BLUNDERS.

LONDON, July 24.—The continued delay in despatching troopships arises not from any want of men, but of stores. Such astounding blunders as shipping marines without ammunition, and artillery without horses, exasperate the public, which begins to dread repetitions of the Crimean blunders. The smallness of the proposed vote of credit surprised the House. The soldiers say that the War Office certainly under-rates the work to be done.

INCOME TAX INCREASE.

LONDON, July 24.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Gladstone moved to a vote of credit for strengthening the forces in Egypt. He proposed that threepence be added to the income tax for the latter half of the year.

FRIGHTFUL ATROCITIES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—An Italian refugee saw 85 European bodies lying in the streets of Tantah. Their intestines were being flung at windows and about the streets. A Greek's throat was hacked with a penknife, and two English women jumped from a window in an endeavoury to escape the massacre, and were killed. Arabi Pasha put on a train to carry away the christian survivors, and one hundred persons boarded it. A determined attempt was then made to murder them, and it was only frustrated by some friendly natives causing the train to start One of the members of the deputation representing the Notables brought a copy of a proclamation secretly circulated by Ragheb Pasha, stating that England has declared war against all Egyptians. The Khedive has consequently been strongly advised to dismiss Ragheb and place him under arrest. It is to be hoped that as the Ministers are mere creatures of Arabi the Khedive will dismiss them all, and form a new Ministry under Cherif Pasha.

VOTE OF CREDIT.

PARIS, July 24.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day the Minister of Marine moved a credit of 9,500,000 francs for the protection of the Suez canal. De Lesseps telegraphs that Arabi has declared his intention to respect the neutrality of the Suez canal.

SPANISH PROTECTION FOR THE CANAL.

MADRID, July 24.—The Government has decided to send three additional frigates to Egypt for the protection of the Suez canal.

THE CONFERENCE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 24.—The conference of the powers is threatened with dissolution, England and France both opposing the proposals of a Turkish occupation of Egypt, which the Porte is persistently pressing.

CHERIF PASHA SENT FOR.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—The Khedive has dispatched a vessel to Port Said to bring Cherif Pasha here.

HORRIBLE CRUELTIES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—The Inspector of Codastre at Tantah says:—"I saw women there, carrying, tied to bludgeons, the dismembered arms and legs of massacred Europeans, soldiers and rabble, and fought for loot. A Bedouin Sheikh with 20 Bedouins saved the inhabitants of the Jewish quarters and took them to the village. Another Sheikh saved myself and party. A mob from Alexandria murdered three employees of the Cadastre and their families and burnt their bodies with petroleum. A mob killed 12 Greeks. They tied Visceria, one of the victims, to the tail of a dog and covered him with petroleum, which was fired amid cries of joy from the women and children. The mob was repulsed eight times, and finally two Sheiks dispersed it."

AN OFFICIAL PAPER.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—The Monitour Egyptian has re-appeared here with the heading: "The official journal of the Government of the Khedive." It contains a proclamation dismissing Arabi from the ministry.

ARABI TO BE ATTACKED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—The military authorities are of the opinion that Arabi will not attack the British. He is, however, strengthening his position hourly. At daybreak this morning his men, many without uniform and driven like slaves, were seen working on the entrenchments. Directly a sufficient number of heavy guns are placed in position, an attempt will be made to displace Arabi, without exposing the troops. The guns from the fleet are going to the front.

MESSAGE FROM THE QUEEN.

LONDON, July 25.—In the House of Commons, the speaker read a message from the Queen, announcing the calling out of the reserves in consequence of the troubles in Egypt. Mr. Gladstone moved that the message be considered to-morrow. A number of men in the reserves left London this morning to join regiments ordered to Egypt.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

THE BRITISH CABINET.

LONDON, July 24.—It is understood that the Earl of Kinberley, Colonial Secretary, has accepted the Chancellorship of the Duchy of Lancaster, resigned by Mr. Bright,

AMERICAN PUBLIC OPINIONS.

LONDON, July 24.—The Times says the license the American criminal law allows to dynamite projects is a scandal and a shame to American legislation. A more enormous scandal is the attitude public opinion in America assumes towards them. Never was there a body with national opinion so inquisitive and keen which could have shown itself more feeble and inert in the defence of public morality than the opinion of American since the dynamite school became notorious.

AMERICAN.

DEVASTATED BY FIRE.

PRESNO, Cal., July 24.—Fifty houses were burned here last night, including five hotels, a livery stable, the Farmers' Bank, Metropolitan Hall, stores, shops, saloons, etc. The loss is probably $200,000, of which much is uninsured.

A MINISTER ARRESTED.

ERIE, Pa., July 24.—To-night Rev. Mr. Dolman, of Greene township, this county, was brought here and lodged in gaol, charged with attempting to kill his wife and family by poison and steel.

PRESIDENT ELECTED.

SUICIDE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—Francis Potts, a prominent publisher, committed suicide yesterday. The cause is unknown.

STEAMER SUNK.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The steamer Cygnus was last evening sunk by the tug R. J. Conver on North river. The boiler of the latter exploded under the water.

FIRE.

TRENTON, N. J., July 25.—Ott & Brewer's pottery was yesterday damaged by fire to the extent of $10,000. Congressman Brewer, while fighting the flames, had his face badly scratched. Walter Lennox, a fireman, became unconscious from the heat and also the Chief Engineer Fuhrman. Emory Nelson fell from the roof of a four story building and was, it is feared, fatally hurt. A six year old son of Pliny Fisk, of the American Crockery Company, was drowned in the canal during the fire.

GIVING AID.

DUBLIN, July 24.—It is stated that John Parnell has applied to the Orangemen to reap his crops, and that they complied with the request. The Land League agent appeared, and was ordered off the premises.

ONTARIO GOLD.

New Discoveries of the Precious Metal in Northern Townships.

Last week a small paragraph appeared in these columns in reference to the sale of a half interest in a mineral property in this region, by one William Sheppard, for $25,000. Tuesday evening it was learned that Mr. Sheppard was in town, and a Review representative promptly interviewed him on the subject, the following particulars being obtained. In October last Mr. Sheppard was exploring the northern townships of this county in quest of timber. One day while crossing a small stream in the township of Herschel, his attention was attracted by a glittering substance on the edge of the water, and picking it up it was found to be a piece of quartz with an extraordinary rich show of free gold. Being an old prospector and mineralist of considerable experience in Nevada, Mr. Sheppard made such an examination of that immediate vicinity that convinced him there was a valuable deposit of the precious metal, and he immediately set about securing the property, in which he soon was successful. Early this spring he took a professional Californian expert to the place, and on the strength of the latter's report, and various other assays of the ore that have been made, a strong company has been formed at Ottawa to develop the mine, having first purchased a half interest from Mr. Sheppard, as stated last week, for $25,000 cash. The conditions of the sale and purchase are that the company must commence work developing the property inside of three months.

Mr. Sheppard is now on his way to Ottawa, and he informs us he intends returning about the first of August with the leading capitalists interested, who will make such preparations for commencing the work as are necessary, and also to examine some other gold properties in this neighbourhood. Mr. Sheppard is very enthusiastic in regard to these northern townships as a mineral region, and he is confident when his company once get started there will be a surprising revival in the mining industry in these parts. We can only at present express the hope that such may be the case.

Mr. Sheppard showed us a small sample of quartz from the Herschell mine, about the size of a penny, more than half of which appeared to be free gold, and which assayers had told him contained nearly $17.—Madoc Review.

THE most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany or at least originate there. The most recent preparation palced upon the market in this country, is the Great German Invigorator, which has never been known to fail in curing a single case of impotency, spermatorrhœa, weakness and all diseases resulting from self-abuse, as nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, languor, lassitude, depression of spirits and functional derangement of the nervous system. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

THE Rev. Charles E. Piper, formerly of Pittfield, N. H., but now of Wakefield, R. I., writes:—"I have used Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in my family for over two years, and as a result have not called a physician in the whole time. My wife had been an invalid for two years, but these bitters have cured her."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE last Ontario Gazette contains a string of appointments as bailiffs. These appointments used to be made locally, but Mr. Mowat has seized upon them, in pursuance of his system of centralizing all patronage, for, of course, the faithful must be rewarded. We wonder he does not claim the power of appointing our police constables, nuisance inspectors, pound keepers, &c. Then there are such officers as Town and County Solicitors, Physicians and Engineers—have Mr. Mowat and his colleagues no friends who would care for the emoluments of these positions?

* * *

MR. PETER VANKLEEK has been brought out in North Hastings as an "Independent" candidate for the local legislature. This trick is now worn out, and will not deceive the most unwary. The so-called Reformers have contracted the habit, in any constituency where they find it impossible to oppose the Government in a straightforward manner, of putting up one of their friends as an "Independent" in the hope of gaining a few Conservative votes as well as their own, which are cast solidly. If they succeed in deluding the voters, the "Independent" at once becomes a "good Reformer," and the mean trick is trumpeted as a glorious victory—a condemnation of the Government.

STEPS have just been taken to take the evidence in Great Britain in the libel suit brought by Mr. L. S. Huntington against the Montreal Gazette for its disclosures of his proceedings in regard to certain sales of mines. This is not the first libel suit as to the Canada Copper Pyrites Company, which Mr. Huntington has allowed to drop; and as to which he seems strangely unwilling to allow any investigation, having successfully demurred to any allusion to the subject in the present suit. This second suit has reference to the Huntington Copper and Sulphur Company. The company entered an action in Scotland to recover money which they alleged to have been fraudently obtained by Mr. Huntington, but he paid a large sum of money, and the suit was withdrawn.

"At the Cabinet meeting held yesterday afternoon, the Murray Canal contract came up for consideration. It was decided to let the work on the Presqu' Isle route, the contention being that it could be constructed more cheaply than the other routes proposed. On this point many contractors hold a different view, however, and the engineer's estimate proves not to have been very far out of the way. The contract was awarded to Messrs. Vandusen & Co., of Syracuse, the lowest tenderers. The tender was in the name of Silcox & Co., Silcox acting for Vandusen & Co. Their price is said to be about $750,000."

SHORT SIGHTED ECONOMY.

THE Moniteur du Commerce, the admirable commercial journal published in French at Montreal, has an article on the neglect of the means of protection against fire, and as it will be both interesting and instructive to our readers, we translate it as follows:—

"The numerous disasters caused by fires in the country, and of which every day the journals record some new examples, call attention to the means of protection which in this country would be at the disposal of each municipality, but of which the carelessness and apathy of the municipal councils makes no use.

"If there is any country in which water courses are numerous and in proximity to every village, it is Canada, nevertheless how few municipalities, outside the larger towns, utilize the neighbouring water-courses, so as to make of them reservoirs, where in cases of fire they would immediately find a valuable resource, sufficient to avert all danger.

"Have we not had a new example of this carelessness in the last few days? A village close to Montreal and actually situated on the river, being invaded by fire, asked aid from Longueuile in default of having the apparatus necessary for arresting a fire at its commencement. Other villages would only have to make a trench to construct an aqueduct for some acres and all danger from fire would disappear for ever: the harvest, the cattle, and the granaries, would thus become an assured fortune that the destructive element could not annihilate, and nevertheless they do nothing; they forget, in the absence of a disastrous precedent, that the danger is so much the greater because so far they have escaped it.

"One can understand, to a certain point, how in the scattered villages, of which agriculture is the only industry, they slumber in the monotony of their labours and do not always keep in mind the importance of the means of protection against fire. But what can we say of a town that already possesses one of the most important cotton factories in the country, which has a trade great enough for 70 merchants to have establishments there, which comprises 688 dwelling houses, at least 600 of which are wood, which has property in real estate and stocks amounting to more than $1,500,000, and which hesitates about the construction of an aqueduct bringing to its centre the most complete security against all danger from fire? It is thus that the municipality of Valleyfield understands the interest of the town; it is thus that house property, the cotton industry and trade of every kind, remains exposed to the risk of a conflagration which would sweep away in an instant the fortunes of the whole population, because the apathy of some of the municipal councillors is sufficient to paralyse the intelligent and enlightened opinion of the other members of the council. Already industries in search af a suitable locality, which they hoped to find at Valleyfield, have recoiled from the danger which they would have run there, and we cannot blame them. An industry which lives by progress and activity cannot live in contact with torpid apathy which repulses all improvement."

This is written of Valleyfield, but who can say that it does not apply to a town in which we all feel a deeper interest?

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Liability of Members of Mutual Insurance Companies.

Recently the Hon. Mr. Justice Mathieu rendered a very important decision concerning the right of Mutual Insurance Companies to claim contributions or assessments from the insured. Formerly it has frequently been held, in fact it was not contradicted, that it was sufficient for the Company to fyle a copy of the resolution of the Board of Directors in order to establish the right of the Company to levy assessments. In two cases of the Joliette Mutual Insurance Co., against Mr. Robidoux, of Farnham, and Mrs. A. Dupras, of Hochelaga, the question was raised by the defence, that it was incumbent on the Company to prove that losses had been sustained, for which the defendant was liable, and that he had been assessed for his fair proportion of the losses only. This defence has been maintained by the hon. judge who explained that the Company had been placed into voluntary liquidation in February, 1881, and that all policies had been cancelled by the Directors on the 28th February, 1882. On the 6th April following, the Directors and liquidators made a first assessment of $24,000, and a second one in December last for $29,000, which included the balance of all premium notes yet existing. These suits were brought for the balance of the defendents' premium notes. The defendents pleaded that these assessments were unnecessary and unjustified; that there existed no claim against the Company for losses for which they were liable; that the Company was in the hands of speculators who considered it their own property, and who have brought the assets of the Company and believe themselves entitled to recover them in full. From the proof made, it appeared that the liquidators sold the balance of the assessments, coming to $29,000, for $3,000 to a certain party who is the partner of Mr. J. J. Webster, the Secretary of the Company, and its only witness. It was under this transfer that suits were taken right and left in the name of the Company. Now apart from the proof made, can the Company recover, on the fyling of a copy of the resolution of Directors, without proving the existence of the losses, and the proportion due by the defendants? asked His Honor. He thought not. Mutual insurance companies are peculiar. The insured are also insurers; they expect no profit, but agree to pay a share of certain losses, namely, those that may happen while their policies last. They are assessable for certain specified losses only, which must be proved to exist. No evidence of this nature had been made here by the plaintiff, and the two suits were therefore dismissed with costs. Messrs. Pagnuelo and St. Jean were counsel for the defendents; Mr. Maclaren, in one case, and Mr. Wotherspoon, in the other, for the plaintiff.—Montreal Star.

MECHANICS' SONS.

The following article from the Berlin News points out one of Mr. Mowat's flagrant injustices. Such class legislation is very objectionable. While the farmers' sons are well qualified to exercise the franchise their contemporaries in the town are no less so:—

"The measures which gives votes to the sons of farmers and denies them to the sons of mechanics, merchants and others living in towns and cities, is a gross injustice and should be remedied without any delay. We do not really object to the privilege enjoyed by our rural friends, but that they should enjoy the exclusive right to this privilege is what we deem to be unfair and unjust. There is not the slightest ground for such a class privilege. Farmers' sons are, as a general thing, not more intelligent or better informed on public measures than the sons of merchants and other people living in the towns and cities, nor do they or their fathers pay anything like the amount of municipal taxes that are paid by the latter. There is and can be no other possible plea or excuse in favour of this so-called "right" than the fact that it was a pure Grit "Gerrymander" to legislate Tory members out of Parliament, for it is generally admitted—for reasons which we could never really understand—that the voting strength of the Grit party is in the rural sections. Why the voting power of these rural sections should have been increased by an Act of Parliament, without giving franchise to others just as much entitled to it, is explained by no other earthly reason than that it is one of Mr. Blake's (?) clever lawyer's tricks to help the cause of Gritism. Now what our friends should see done at once is to have this anomaly and injustice removed from the statute books of our land, and we hope it will be attended to without any reasonable delay. Our Grit friends have made a great howl about the Gerrymander, but this was a far more unjust and iniquitous measure."

ARABI'S POSITION.

Kafir-el-Dwar, where Arabi Pasha is entrenched, is on a narrow split of land between Lake Mareotis and another smaller lake. It skirts both the railway and the Mahmoudieh Canal. The position is between twenty and twenty-five miles to the south-east of Alexandria. Its rear threatens Ramleh, a small post between Alexandria and the town of Aboukir, which is reached by the railway from Alexandria, whose depot is close to the Ramleh Palace, where the Khedive took refuge during the bombardment. The guns of Arabi's camp are also turned towards the road to Aboukir, whose situation is on the western arm of the famous bay of the same name, with Rosetta on the corresponding eastern arm, each being to the north-east of Alexandria and went to the western arm of delta of the nile. The railway thus commanded by Arabi leads directly to Damanhour, which, likewise, he threatens, Kafir Zajat, and Tantah, the scene of the recent massacres. It then bends south-eastward to Benhah, whence it branches off to Cairo the south and Ismailia on the east, via Zagazig, where also have been massacres. From Ismailia, as from Cairo, there is a branch to Suez. From Tantah, also, is a branch northwards to Mansourah, from which place access is gained to Damietta at the eastern mouth of the Delta. From Mansourah also Cairo is reached by rail, so that Arabi's position is one which gives him nearly unlimited means of exit to any of the chief points of importance in the Delta of the Nile, including the Suez Canal. From it, also, he can escape, using the railway, canal, and road facilities afforded him. Directly south to the desert, or south-west to Tripoli, at which point he can look for reinforcements, either those of the False Prophet from Soudan, or of the Mussulmans from Tripoli and Tunis, supposing these should join in a Holy War. This, of course, pre-supposes as well inaction on the part of the protecting or intervening Powers as the possession an the part of Arabi of a large force and the assurance of allies from these distant parts. It may be added that the position at Kafir-el-Dwar is unassailable from the rear by water, as the bar is of such a nature as to prevent transports of even the lightest draught approaching it from the Mediterranean Sea.

Saw-Dust.

This material is used for bedding in the stables of all our cities, and has quite taken the place of straw, which is reserved for feeding and other purposes in the arts. The refuse from our mills, planing machines and turning shops is eagerly sought and purchased for stable use, nor does there seem to be any prejudice against these materials. The waste of such matter in the streams is very injurious to the fish, and should be forbidden by statute.—J. A. Warder.

Kind to the Trees.

Before the removal of the old town of Cullen, a good many trees were planted in the peoples' gardens. This was sometimes resented, but not openly. One day, the forester called around to see how they were all thriving. The trees all looked well except the one man's garden. He was asked how his trees were not thriving like the rest. He replied: "I canna understan' it, for I have been very kind to them, and ta'en them in every nicht."

AN ESSEX SENSATION.

Mysterous Disappearance of an Aged Coloured Couple.

DETROIT, July 22.—The whole coloured population of Essex county and not a few of the white people of that quiet locality are excited over the recent mysterious disappearance and the burning down of the house of two inoffensive coloured people named Archibald and Annie Mann, who lived in Sandwich East about ten miles south-east of Windsor. In the spring of the present year the few coloured families, most of whom belong to the Baptist Church, concluded they were well enough off to partly support a minister of their own denomination and colour. It was known to some members that a minister who was also a carpenter might be engaged, and this arrangement was made. The minister was Archibald Mann, who brought with him his wife, Annie Mann. They were provided with a small log shanty roofed with bark as their parsonage, and with a small piece of stumpy ground on which to make a garden. Mr. Mann obtained work as a carpenter. He was a quiet old man of 60, his wife Annie being considerably his junior. After a while Mr. and Mrs. Mann asserted to the people of their own race that their lives had been threatened openly and by letter by some of the neighbours. On the 14th of June, Mr. Mann, about noon, threw down the tool he was working with and said to his fellow-workers that he had a presentiment that something awful was going to happen to him and his wife, and that he could not work. After a while he was persuaded to keep on with his work, that it was silly to let his imagination run away with him. After working a short time he declared that it was no use for him to go on, as he felt it in him that something was wrong with his wife or was going to happen to himself and his wife; he said he would go home, and if he got over his feeling he would return to work. He left his tools and everything where he was working and went towards home. That was the last time he was seen. His house stood apparently deserted for a few days, and when the neighbourhood woke up on Monday morning, June 19th, the last of the logs of the old shanty were smouldering. On that morning, say the coloured people who live there, and also some of the whites, bones were found in the ashes, but as quick as found they were stolen, and now no traces of them are left. The white people say they may have been beef bones, but the coloured people declare they were human ones. For some time afterwards the coloured people thought it possible that the missing couple would turn up, but now they are becoming thoroughly excited, especially as others of their number have received threatening letters. No one can give a reason for their leaving, if they have left, and no one tries to explain the mystery except the whole coloured population, who, with hardly an exception, say the pair were murdered.

SHOT DEAD BY A CONSTABLE.

Andrew Young Killed at High Park on Sunday Morning—How it Occurred.

John Albert distinguished his official career as constable of High park yesterday morning by shooting dead a boy named Andrew Young, aged 16 years. There are several versions of the affair, but the one that is so far the clearest was told to a World reporter by one who was near the spot at the time. Young and three companions were out in a boat on Grenadier pond, which is the property of Mr. Ellis, J. P. This gentleman warned them off several times, but the boys chaffed him and made demonstrations with their hands. Constable Albert was sent for and he also warned them off. He added force to his warning by firing a shot from his revolver over the heads of the boys. The latter then speedily landed on the west side of the pond and Albert ran around to where they were. There is an ice-house where the boys came ashore, and some of the lads went into it. Albert approached Young in an angry manner and is said to have seized him by the back of the neck and exclaimed, "D——n you, I will shoot you now," or something to that effect. His six shooter was close to the boy's head and one of the chambers was suddenly discharged, the ball entered above the lett eye and passing out at the back of the head. It was said by some that the pistol went of accidentally. The unfortunate lad only lived half an hour after he was shot. Albert picked him up and set him against a fence, in which position he died. The remains were removed to the residence of the boy's father, who is a milk dealer and lives on Roncesvalles avenue, the dividing line between Parkdale and the county.

High Constable Jones was appraised of the affair and yesterday afternoon he went out to High park. Albert surrendered himself to the constable and was taken to the county gaol. Albert was formerly a constable of High park. He is a man about 47 years of age, is a German, and is said to be of eccentric habits.

The dead boy Young made himself famous about a year ago in police circles by stabbing another boy named Cole on Young street. The case hung fire in the police court for a number of weeks and was finally disposed of by Young being fined $50 and costs. Parkdale and High Park are much agitated over the shooting.—Toronto World.

A MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

A Drunken Husband Beats His Wife Almost to Death.

Information was brought to the police office on Friday that a man named Alexis Lamarche dit Bariteau, living on Bishop Lane, had on Thursday evening beaten and kicked his wife in a most shocking manner, injuring her so seriously that her life was despaired of. The facts of the case, according to the statement of the wife, are as follows: She was feeling very unwell on Thursday evening when the assault was committed, and was in bed when her husband came home in a state of intoxication. Upon her refusal to comply with some demand of his he dragged her out of bed on to the floor and then beat and kicked her about the body in a most brutal manner until she lost consciousness. When she recovered her senses she found herself in bed and her husband in the room. Being very weak and feverish she asked him to give her a drink of water. Instead of doing so he handed her in an excess of brutality a glass of whiskey, and when she very naturally refused to drink it. She says he again assaulted her in the most violent manner kicking her about the body with his heavy working boots. She was in such a low state this morning that the Police Magistrate, Mr. Desnoyers, went to her residence and took her ante mortem desposition. Lamarche is still at large.—Witness.

A PARTY of Americans and Austrians in their rambles at Ningpo assaulted a Cantoese, who it is thought will die. The natives are greatly excited, and should the victim die fears are entertained for the safety of Europeans.

THERE would be little if any sickness during the hot months of July and August, if every one would take Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, as they prevent and cure all derangements of the Stomach and Bowels. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

THE agitation for the extension of municipal liberties in Paris is assuming considerable proportions. The measure asked for, it is declared by the President, amounts to a claim for autonomy, which the Government declines to grant.

WHENCE comes the name of Sozodont? It is derived from two Greek words signifying "to preserve the teeth" and it deserves its title, for there is no preparation which will do this more rapidly, surely and pleasantly. The Consumption of Sozodont is immense.

ON Saturday night a Westminister farmer named Wm. Nicholls, while driving home, fell out of his waggon near Lambeth, and, falling upon his head, sustained such injuries that he died almost instantly. He was aged over fifty, and leaves a family of ten.

AT Stornoway on the 25th June, the sea was seen to rush into the inner harbor with great impetuosity and back again like a river, whilst on the surface it was quite calm, and not a bleath of wind blowing. Fishing boats which were moored at the quays in the inner harbor were carried away from their fastenings. The mooring ropes snapped as if they were packthread.

THE trades demonstration in Toronto on Saturday, was an unqualified success, about 4,000 workingmen having taken part in the procession. Thousands of spectators lined the streets along the route, and at the Exhibition grounds there could not have been less than 12,000 people present. Stirring speeches were delivered by prominent union men, and altogether it was a red-letter day for unionism.

TALL WHEAT.

A gentleman now in this city, seeing the paragraph in the Whig referring to tall wheat, told us of some tall wheat he had seen in the North west. He happened to be on a large farm of 4,000 acres where a contest was going on between thirteen reapers and binders, and being a stranger to the place, he was selected as judge of the contest. The field in which the contest was held contained 1,900 acres of wheat, which averaged over eight feet in height. Of this about 30 acres was covered with wheat fully ten feet high. All the machines worked well until they got into this patch, when several of them clogged. The wheat was bound as it was cut and carried away to a large steam thresher, which was on the field, and after threshing the straw was piled up and burnt. A large quantity, however, was kept and afterwards treaded down as solid as it could be. This was afterwards piled up and made into a winter stable for the cattle—passages being cut out of it with hay knives. Our informant says that these stables are very warm and handy, being burnt down again in the spring when the weather gets warm.—Kingston News.

The Soft Maple.

In a recent number of your paper is a notice of seed of this species, Acer dary carpung, being sent from Hamilton, Ont., to Manitoba, and calculations are based thereon as to a future grove in that far-off land. Well, the tree is hardy enough, but the seed is one of the most impatient; it must not become dry or it will not vegetate, hence the difficulty in transportation. The seeds of this species, like those of the Red Maple, are almost sprouting plants when they part from the mother tree, and need to be planted at once. The close relationship or analogy between the seed and the bud, pointed out by Dr. Harvey, is no where better shown, and it is worthy of observation.—J. A. Warder.

Canada Pacific Smash-up.

WINNIPEG July 23.—A serious railway accident took place yesterday on the Canada Pacific Railway east, between Monmouth and Shelly, where a construction train jumped the track. The caboose with a number of passengers in it, turned over, killing a man named John Massy and injuring others. The remains were brought to the city. The coroner's inquest returned a verdict of accidental death. Deceased was an Irishman about 45 years of age. He has no friends here, but a savings bank book shows him to have $200 to his credit in the Toronto branch. He was a brakeman on the train at the time of the accident.

WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

It acts directly upon the Stomach, Liver, and Kidneys. Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world. Prepared by Jas. Rorke, London. Specially valuable Pills for residents abroad and travellers.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Civic Holiday.

The date of Peterborough's civic holiday has been determined upon, and our citizens will be called upon to celebrate Monday, the 14th day of August, in honour of the town.

Mining.

Mr. Rothwell, mining engineer and editor of the New York Mining Journal, passed through town the other day, having been engaged to report upon an iron mine in the north part of this county for Mr. Pusey.

Appointment.

The Ontario Gazette of Saturday contains the following appointment:—

"Roswell Chapins, of Lakefield, in the County of Peterborough, to be Bailiff of the Fourth Division Court of the said County of Peterborough, in the room and stead of J. H. Davis, resigned.

Down George Street.

The steady work of the pick and the unceasing swing of the shovel is bringing the waterworks trench along rapidly on George street. The trench diggers have now reached Simcoe street, and those laying the mains are not far behind them.

Horsemen.

Don't fail to see Prof. J. G. McPherson's "Check of all Checks,"—it will stop all tricks. He will be at the Drill Shed, Peterborough, every night this week at 6.30 o'clock p.m., and will teach the class his wonderful theory of handling a horse without abuse or injury to the mouth.

The Weather.

The weather has now become excessively warm, and the slight breeze blowing is hardly cool enough to mitigate the severity of the heat. The promise of showers to-morrow will be welcome. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, moderate to fresh south-westerly to southerly winds, fine hot weather, and local showers on Wednesday.

Excursions.

The picnic season is now upon us in full force, and if the weather continues as warm as it is at present, each opportunity to escape from the town to some cooler atmosphere will no doubt be eagerly taken advantage of by many of our citizens. And opportunities will be afforded, as there are now three excursions to Idyl Wild announced. The members of the Bible Christain Church run an excursion on the Golden Eye to that place on the 1st of August, the Lacrosse Club on the 3rd, and the True Blues on the 14th.

Grand Moonlight Excursion.

The first moonlight excursion of the season will take place on Wednesday evening, August 2, under the auspices of the Fire Brigade and 57th Battalion Peterborough Rangers Band. The proceeds of this enjoyable event are to be devoted to the purchase of new instruments, and nothing will be left undone to make all enjoy themselves. Mr. Calcutt, with his usual philanthropic benevolence, has given the Golden Eye for the occasion gratis, and a large palace scow will be attached for the lovers of the terpsichorean art. The boat will leave the wharf at 8 o'clock sharp, and will proceed down the Otonabee for a distance of eight or ten miles, returning at 11.30 o'clock. A first-clas quadrille band will be on board. Tickets and programmes will be issued giving full particulars.

Dangerous.

We would call the attention of the authorities to a very dangerous place on the bridge on Hunter street, which connects the town with Ashburnham. On the north side of the bridge a portion of the railing has been broken off, and has disappeared, leaving an unguarded spot which is not safe even in daylight, and is doubly dangerous on a dark night, as the most sober pedestrian would be liable by a misstep to fall over into the river. This should be attended to before any accident happens. We learn that the railing on this spot has not been firm for some time, and several persons in trusting to the seeming security of the railing, have narrowely escaped being thrown into the river by its treachery, and on last night it would seem that some person or persons wantonly tore off the railing and carried it away or secreted it. The perpetrators of this act need looking after as well as the bridge.

THE ENNISMORE CANE.

This afternoon the Rev. Father Keilty presented Mr. Geo. Hilliard, M.P., with the cane which was voted to him at the Ennismore picnic, and addressed him as follows:—

"DEAR SIR,—Allow me to present you with this cane.

I think it an honor to be commissioned to present a cane to a gentleman of your sterling worth and ability.

Up to the eighties it will be something ornamental—afterwards, and into the nineties it will be something useful.

At all events the wish of everybody in the community is, I feel assured, that you may live long to carry it."

Mr. Hilliard made a suitable acknowledgement of this handsome gift voted to him by his friends in Ennismore. The cane is a very handsome one of polished ebony with a richly chased gold head. We unite with Father Keilty and our readers in wishing that Mr. Hilliard may live long to bear this token of his well deserved popularity.

No Business.

There was a blank at the Police Court this morning, no cases coming up for disposal.

Salmon Fishing.

The Montreal Gazette, in an account of the salmon fishing, says that on one of the Labrador rivers 47 fish were killed in four days' fishing by Mr. Dennistoun, of Montreal.

A Notary Public.

The Ontario Gazette of Saturday contains the announcement that E. B. Edwards, Esq., Barrister, of Peterborough, has been appointed a Notary Public in and for the Province of Ontario.

That Cane.

The cane just presented to Mr. Hilliard is much admired and does credit to the good taste of Mr. Routley, who supplied it for the subscribers. It is evident that Mr. Routley is a good man to apply to when a nice article is required for such purposes.

St. Paul's Church.

The tenders received for the contemplated alterations in St. Paul's Church exceed the amount estimated, and the committee have thought it advisable to consult the members before proceeding. A congregational meeting is therefore called for Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

A Brakeman Killed.

A despatch from Midland says that an accident occurred there on Monday, causing the death of a young man named Gott, a brakeman in the employ of the Midland Railway. It appears chat some cars were being shunted on the track, and while in the discharge of his duty, Gott fell between the cars and both of his legs were run over. Although the best medical attendance was procured he only survived a few hours.

Horse Education.

Those who have undertaken to train young horses to drive in the harness, or to break horses of baulky or vicious habits, have often found their task a very difficult one. Yet it is a fact that the horse is an animal capable of being thoroughly educated and trained, not only to obey the call of the reins and the command of the voice, but to understand and obey orders given by motion of the whip. The most important time in the life of a horse is when it is first being trained or "broken in," and if a horse is trained aright, it is not probable that much trouble will be experienced with it afterwards. It is, therefore, of importance for all persons who have much to do with these animals to unstand fully their nature and the best means of training and controlling them. During the past few days Prof. J. G. McPherson, of Oregon, Ill., has been giving lessons to a class here on horse education, and his system, while simple and easy on the horse, is very effective. The main points in the Professor's theory are "kindness and patience." He never loses his temper or gets of patience with a horse, and by kindness and firmness is sure to succeed. In training a horse Prof. McPherson does not use a harsh bit, nor any severe measures, his patent check obiating the use of any severe bit or any jirking and sawing that would injure the mouth of the animal. The bit as usually used is liable to press against the upper jaw of the animal, and press against the nerves which descend from the head to the teeth and lips, thus irritating the nerves and torturing the horse with a perpetual toothache, but this patent check holds the bit in its proper place and preserves the mouth and the animal from injury. Not only this, but the check gives the driver perfect control of the horse, and is ornamental as well. The value of Professor McPherson's method of training a colt consists in its being very easy on the animal, while it prevents the trainer from receiving any injury, and in the short time in which the porpose can be effected by this method. The Professor's mode of curing vicious animals is also highly spoken of, both by members of his class here and those in other places from whom he has recommends, and we believe that those who are interested in horses would do well to attend his class.

A PARK.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I observed an article taken from the Bobcaygeon Independent, under the title "a Park," in which it has said that some enterprising citizens thereof had volunteered to find us all necessary assistance in clearing out the woods between the residence of Mr. J. H. Thompson of that village, and the lake. Now the question arises, "when is Peterborough going to take a similar step?" Some time ago Mr. H. H. Smith, our present Mayor, brought the matter up before our City Fathers and spoke very favourably as to the propriety of converting that portion of land on the west side of Park street into a public park, but nothing has since been done in this respect. Our citizens require some place for amusement in the evenings after their assiduous labours in the heat of the day. Now, dear Editor, I trust that some step will shortly be taken by some of our enterprising citizens towards this end.

AUDACIOUS ROBBERY

A remarkably cool and audacious robbery was perpetrated this morning, under the full glare of the midday sun, in one of our most public thoroughfares. The highwaymen were evidently from the other side of the lines, mingling with the tourists that throng the city at the present time. The very boldness of the act ensured its success. Mr. Charles Bonacina, Deputy Prothonotary, had been doing the banking for the department, and had just drawn from the Bank of Montreal $303, in Bank of Montreal notes, which he intended to deposit in the Banque du Peuple. He received the money in bills of various denominations, and having laid them between the leaves of his bank-book, placed the whole in his pocket, the ends of the bank-notes protruding from his pocket, but Mr. Bonacina says he kept his hand on them. As he was descending the flight of stone steps that leads from the bank into the Place d'Armes Square he saw three men, but did not take much notice of them. To his surprise, one of them approached and struck him a slight blow on the shoulder. Mr. Bonacina exclaimed "You are very polite," but still keeping his hand on the money. Upon this the stranger squared off at him, saying "Don't give me any of your d—d chat," or words to that effect. Mr Bonacina instinctively put up his hands to protect himself, when another of the party came behind him and with professional dexterity abstracted the precious package. Mr. Bonacina says he felt the money going, but was so surprised that by the time he had actually ascertained that he had been robbed the thieves had vanished. Information was at once given to the police, and Detectives Naegele and Robinson instructed to catch the robbers if possible. The bills were of the following denominations:—One fifty, fifteen tens, twenty fives, one two, and a dollar bill.—Montreal Star.

HALL'S Catarrah Cure is taken internally. It acts directly upon the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

C. BRITTON, Lindsay, Ont., writes:—"I have much pleasure in recommending Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in all cases of Jaundice, Biliousness, Sich Headache and Liver Complaint, for they have given universal satisfaction, and I have sold more of them the past season than any other one patent medicine."

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposedto say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us.

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

and every specie of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry—then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiates or astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURN is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS AT THE SCENE OF OPERATIONS.

Debate in the House of Commons on the Credit Vote—Mobilization of the Indian Contingent—The Rebels Making Formidable Preparations—A Court Established at Alexandria—Turkish Troops to be sent Conditionally to Egypt.

THE DEBATE IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, July 25.—The debate was resumed on the motion for the vote of credit for the Egyptian force. Sir Charles Dilke said the Khedive had the support of the most respectable part of the native population. The Government desired after relieving the people of Arabi's tyranny to leave them to manage their own affairs. The highest military authorities thought a three months' vote would be sufficient. Sir Wilfrid Lawson violently condemned the vote.

IN THE LORDS.

LONDON, July 25.—In the House of Lords the motion to charge the expense of sending 6,000 Indian troops to Egypt on the Indian revenue was agreed to.

THE INDIAN CONTINGENT.

LONDON, July 25.—The Indian contingent of 5,500 men is mobilizing.

ITALY WILLING TO AID ENGLAND.

LONDON, July 25.—It is reported that Italy is willing to join in protecting the Suez canal. Austria recommends the English Government to accept the co-operation of the Porte.

BRAVE DEFENCE OF THE VICTIMS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—The employees of Cadastre who were murdered at Tantah defended themselves bravely, killing many of their assailants. The mob broke in at the back of a house and despatched them.

THE NEW MINISTER OF WAR.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—The Khedive has appointed Omar Lufti, formerly Governor of Alexandria, Minister of War.

FORMIDABLE PREPARATIONS BY THE REBELS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—A marine officer who deserted from Arabi reports that the rebels, under the protection of a flag of truce, are pushing forward fortifications two miles from Aboukir. Formidable preparations are being made around Rosetta by the rebels.

BEDOUIN LOSSES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—Eighty Bedouins were killed during the skirmish at Kafr-el-Dwar. Two Arabs have been shot by native soldiers by order of the native tribunal, one for shooting an English marine, and the other for arson.

ARABI'S OUTPOSTS RETIRING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—The outposts of Arabi have retired 1,000 yards, and the British advance 500 yards. There appears to be some disturbance inside Arabi's entrenchment.

PARDONING THE REBELS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—The Khedive is preparing a proclamation granting immunity to ordinary rebels, and permitting civil and military officials who shall tender their allegiance to him within a stated period to retain their rank and privileges, Arabi, the ringleader of his army, and the members of the rebel Government excepted.

PROPOSAL FROM THE PORTE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 25.—Said Pasha, the Turkish Prime Minister, has prepared a report modifying the conditions upon which Turkish troops are to be despatched to Egypt. It will be submitted to the conference to-morrow, Lord Dufferin, the British Ambassador, having instructions to insist upon the identical note being carried out.

THE PORTE AND THE CONFERENCE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 25.—The conditions of the despatch of Turkish troops to Egypt will be discussed by the conference on Wednesday. The Porte hopes to obtain favorable terms which may lead to a prompt and peaceful solution of the Egyptian question.

THANKS TO THE QUEEN.

LONDON, July 26.—In the House of Commons an address thanking the Queen for calling out the reserves, was approved without a division.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES.

RAMLEH, July 26.—The British mail railway embankment is used as a precaution against a night attack.

JUSTICE CLAIMS HER RIGHTS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—The Native Tribunal has got into working order and is measuring out even-handed justice. To-day two Arabs were shot by the Khedive's soldiers by order of the Court, one for shooting an English marine, another for arson. Other executions are expected. Several arrested criminals have been sentenced to long terms of imprisonment and are already at work under guards clearing away the ruins.

ANOTHER FLAG OF TRUCE ABUSED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—A marine officer who has returned to his allegiance to the Khedive and has deserted from Arabi's camp reports another abuse of a flag of truce, which, doubtless under the orders of Arabi, the commandant at Rossetta hoisted on occupying that fort. No Europeans, however, were allowed to enter the town or to come near it. The object of this is now clear. The troops have all rebelled against the Khedive, and coalesced with Arabi's forces. The are now under cover of the flag of truce erecting formidable earthworks and entrenching themselves between Aboubir and Rosetta, in a very inaccessible portion so far as any attack from the land side is concerned. Rosetta is now put in a state of thorough defence, and may yet cause us some trouble. Still the long range guns of the fleet can always operate from the sea front.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

THE IRISH SUSPECTS.

LONDON, July 25.—In the Commons to-day Mr. Trevelyan in replying to Mr. Biggar stated that O'Mahoney, the suspect, had been offered liberty on condition he would go to America. If he refuses these terms he will be expelled under the Alien Act.

DYNAMITE ASSASSINS IN SPAIN.

MADRID, July 25.—A small box sent from Granada for Sagasta, Prime Minister, on being cautiously opened was found to contain nitroglycerine. Several persons have been arrested on suspicion.

THE JEANETTE SURVIVORS.

TOMSK, Siberia, July 25.—The steamer starts for St. Petersburgh to-morrow with Melville and two sailors of the Jeanette. Lieut. Berry Gilder and another officer of the steamer Rodgers return from Irkutsk to the Lena Delta, in order to follow during the winter the coast as far as the frontier of European Russia, thereby completing Melville's search to Olensk.

TREASON PUNISHED.

BERLIN, July 25.—Meiling, who sold the plans of the coast defences to Russia, has been sentenced to six years hard labor.

RIFLE COMPETITION.

LONDON, July 25.—The final competition for a team to go to America occurred to-day. The authorities decline to publish the scores, but continue highly satisfied with the results.

CONFLICT IN AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, July 25.—A conflict occurred on a railroad between peasants and labourers at Drombera. Fourteen persons were killed.

THE PHŒNIX PARK MURDER.

LONDON, July 25.—The Foreign Office confirms the report of the arrest of one of the assassins of Cavendish and Burke in Venezuela.

AMERICAN.

GARFIELD HONORED.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The distinctive feature of the new $5 note will be the portrait of Garfield, which is deemed appropriate, because the first vote he cast in Congress was for the National Bank Act of 1864, and he always was an earnest friend of the national banking system.

THE WIMBLEDON TEAM

The London Daily News, of July 10th, has the following reference to the Canadian Wimbledon team and their quarters:—"The Canadians whose quarters are always an attraction for visitors, found everything in readiness for their reception on Saturday, even to the floral decorations of the mess-tent and its surrounding "gardens." The team consists of Major Tilton, of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, commandant; Captain Macnachten, Cobourg Garrison Artillery, adjutant; Staff-Sergeant Wilson, 33rd Battalion, Seaforth; Sergeant Walker, Queen's Own Rifles; Lieutenant Crowe, 1st Brigade Field Artillery; Private N. Marks, 6th Fusiliers; Corporal C. N. Mitchell, Royal Grenadiers; Captain H. W. Beecher, 3rd V.R.C.; Captain W. H. Moore, 25th Battalion St. Thomas; Sergeant B. Smith, 5th Fusiliers; Lieutenant H. C. Chamberlin, 43rd Battalion; Lieutenant W. Mitchell, 32nd Battalion; Colour Sergeant E. A. Smith, 71st Battalion; Lieutenant W. H. Orchard, 4th Cavalry; Lieutenant J. S. Huntingdon, Preston Garrison Artillery; Lieutenant M'Donald, 1st Brigade Field Artillery; Sergeant Waters, 6th Fusiliers; Private N. Morrison, Governor-General's Foot Guards; Sergeant R. P. Doyle, 53rd Battalion; Corporal R. Wilson, 5th Fusiliers. Colour-Sergeant J. Wynne, 5th Fusiliers; Sapper J. Dover, Prince Edward Island Engineers. They bring with them the Kolapore Cup, and have been making such good shooting lately that they are not without hope of taking it across the Atlantic again, although there will be more rivals to compete with them this year than they have ever met at Wimbledon before. Among the regimental camps theirs is distinguished for "beauty and bloom."

HIGH PARK SHOOTING AFFAIR.

A Verdict of Wilful Murder Against Constable Albert.

TORONTO, July 24.—The inquest on the body of Andrew Young, jr., shot at High Park by Constable John Albert last Sunday, was held at Parkdale to-day. The evidence showed clearly that Albert had fired the fatal shot, and also that there was no justification for the act, the only doubt being on the question of intention to shoot. Young and others were in a boat on a portion of the Grenadier pond, over which a Mr. Ellis claims an exclusive right, and refused to leave, whereupon Ellis asked Albert to arrest them, and it was in arresting Young that he was shot. The jury returned a verdict of wilful murder. Threats of lynching in case any other verdict was brought in were freely made. Albert showed little emotion, but his wife seemed in great distress.

As a remedy for Sea sickness, for any irritation of the stomach and bowels, for canker of the stomach and mouth, for piles and hemorrage and for all varities of bowel complaints, Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is nature's true specific.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

THE SUSPECTED ASSASSIN.

LONDON, July 26.—A detective of the Irish constabulary will be immediately sent to Caracas to receive the man held at Puerto Cabello, on suspicion of being one of the murderers of Lord F. Cavendish and Mr. Burke.

RESIGNED.

DUBLIN, July 26.—Francis Fitzgerald, Baron of the Exchequer of Ireland, has resigned, owing to his objection to the duties imposed under the Repression Bill.

A FAVOURABLE CHANGE.

DUBLIN, July 26.—The weather in Ireland has improved considerably during the past few days. Though the potato blight has appeared in badly drained ground, there is a splendid crop in most parts of the country.

MR. BRIGHT'S SUCCESSOR.

LONDON, July 26.—It is said that the appointment of Lord Kimberly to the Chancelorship of the Duchy of Lancaster is temporary.

AMERICAN.

CAVENDISH'S ASSASSIN.

ST. THOMAS, July 26.—The assassin of Lord Frederick Cavendish and Mr. Burke, arrested at Puerto Cabello, gives his name as William Westgate. He was arrested on the 16th July on his own confession. He shipped on the 8th of May under the name of O'Bryan on the British bark Gladstone, from Swansea to Tucacas. He says that he left Dublin on the night of the 6th of May by steamer to Swansea. The names of his three accomplices and other details of the murder were taken by a deposition taken by the British consul. He says he was employed by O'Connor and other influential persons. Parties who have seen the man credit the confession. The man is tall and slender. He says the price of the deed was two hundred pounds to each of the assassins. He states that twenty pounds was better to an Irishman than an Englishman's life. It is believed that the Venezuela Government will surrender him, although there is no extradition treaty.

MORMONISM.

OGDEN, Utah, July 26.—A wholesale persecution of Gentiles has been inaugurated. Arrangements have been made for testing the constitutionality of Edmund's Bill in the Supreme Court of the United States. If the decision is adverse the Mormons have determined not to submit at any cost. The polygamists from the President of the monogomists to the apostles, bishops and elders in the most extreme part of their dominion have separated from their wives and are living openly with one only. All polygamists have under orders resigned from all municipal offices, and men as strong as the deposed in the faith have been commissioned to their places.

THE RAILWAY KING.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Tribune's Saratoga despatch states that Vanderbilt says:—"The Advisory Commission has settled the question of differential rates, and I agreed to stand by their decision. If the arguments of business men before the Commission were not good enough to save New York from discriminating rates they are to blame for it. I have been fighting New York's battles long enough and I am through with it. It cost the Central over a million during this railway war, and I am not going to spend any more." Vanderbilt blames the merchants of New York for the aid they have given the freight handlers in the strike.

A LARGE DEFICIT.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Herald gives figures showing an apparent deficit in the New Jersey Central Railway, during the five years of receivership, amounting to nearly eight million dollars.

RUSSIAN REFUGEES.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Four hundred lazy, unmanageable Russian refugees were yesterday expelled from Castle Garden, where they have been sheltered six weeks. Two hundred of them are chiefly women and children, who were taken towards the island.

EXCESSIVE HEAT.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The thermometer registered 97° yesterday. There were 169 deaths, of which nearly fifty were due to the heat.

THE FREIGHT HANDLERS.

HASTINGS.

EXCURSION.—The Star says that the Cambellford Methodist Sabbath School held their annual pic-nic in Johnsons grove, here on Thursday last. They numbered over 400 and came up by the morning train.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.—The steamer Dora brought down on Monday last a party of distinguished visitors consisting of Mrs. General Sherman and daughter, Col. Montgomery and lady, Washington, D.C., Mr. Hunt, London, England; Mrs. Wilson and a number of pupils from Mr. Baron's private school, Gore's Landing.

THE following advertisement appears among the "Religious Notices" in the Brooklyn Eagle:—"Divine service at every post last Lord's Day was largely attended by the promiscuous multitudes. At 2 P. M., an immense crowd greeted Rev. Dr. Fulton, who deeply impressed them on salvation lines, and unanimously invited him to come again. The good doctor was red hot, and dispensed hot shell: some were wounded, others killed right out. But Satan always gets his deserts at Roosevelt st. Ferry."

Mothers! Mothers!!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

THE LOCAL LEGISLATURE.

THE notice that some of the Reform journals are beginning to discuss the claims of their localities to additional representation in the Local Legislature, and that they seem to assume, as a matter of course, that Mr. Mowat will increase the number of members in the Ontario Assembly if he has another session. Now we beg to protest emphatically against this assumption, for neither the law nor the public benefit calls for any such increase.

According to our constitution it is necessary that after every census the number of members for the House of Commons has to be adjusted so as to bear the same proportion to those from Quebec, as do the respective populations, and as Ontario increases faster than Quebec, this brings about the necessity for our contingent of representatives to the Commons of Canada being augmented every ten years. But this rule does not in any way apply to the provincial leaislature; there is no legal necessity for the number of Ontario members in the Legislative Assembly being the same as that of the Ontario members in the House of Commons.

On the other hand there are very good reasons why the number of our local legislators should not be increased. As it is, our expenses for legislation are being steadily augumented, and enlarging the House would make the cost still more oppressive. In the first place the indemnity paid to the members would manifestly be increased, and what is even more important, with each additional member there would be a tendency to longer debates, to more extened sessions and to an increase of the various incidental expenses, all of which would add largely to the cost of legislation. And to offset this increased expenditure, the province would literally have no additional advantage whatever, however well it might suit Mr. Mowat and his colleagues to have another chance of carving up the map of Ontario.

It might have been urged that it would be better to retain the same number of Ontario members in both Houses, because this would allow of the convenient system of retaining the same constituencies for both bodies.

This reasoning would, no doubt, have had considerable, though not conclusive weight, ten years ago. But since then Mr. Mowat has completely upset any such argument by the gratuitous and arbitrary charges he made in 1874, when he gerrymandered over thirty constituencies, altering their boundaries from those of the House of Commons constituencies, and carrying out these changes to the extent even of subdividing townships when it suited his purpose. It must be remembered, too, that he did this through no legal compulsion, for there was none, and through no desire to equalize the population of the electoral divisions, for he made no attempt to do so, but he was actuated solely by the motive of securing a party advantage wherever it was possible. If he again increases the representation, it will evidently be with the intention of securing a further unfair advantage, if he still thinks he has left himself anything to do in that way.

Instead of an increase of the membership we would rather advocate a diminution. With fewer members, with better prepared measures, with less talk for the sake of giving aid and encouragement to Dominion allies, and with better organized committee work, the expenses of our provincial legislation might be materially curtailed, and that without any loss of efficiency. We must confess, however, that we have little hope of seeing such sensible improvements so long as Mr. Mowat and his colleagues remain in power. They, like their Dominion allies, are "Reformers with nothing to reform."

A CANAL TO MANITOBA.

WE have constant proof that the idea of those who, having only a superficial acquaintance with the requirements of this age, say that canals are played out, as they express it, is altogether erroneous. The importance of canals is indeed being more and more completely recognized, and as an instance of this we give the following circular which has been addressed by the Duluth Chamber of Commerce to similar institutions.

"Forty miles of canal with slight improvement of existing waterways will connect the Red River of the north with Lake Superior by canal and slack water navigation.

The lift will be less than that of either the Erie and Welland canals and the total cost but a fraction of the cost of either of those works.

The Red River of the north and its connecting waterways furnish four thousand miles of navigable waters, on which are already employed more than thirty steamers, most of which carry freight and passengers. The region tributary is one of the most fertile on the globe; if furnished with cheap transportation it is destined to become the granery of the world and to furnish a market for immense quantities of merchandise.

More than sixty years ago broad minded, far seeing men recognized and proclaimed the feasibility and importance of such a connection of the great Northern waterways.

The rapid settlement of the whole new North West, United States and Canada, the enlargement of the Sault canal, the deepening of St. Mary's river, the construction and enlargement of the Erie and Welland canals, the rapid increase of business along all these water lines, the great improvements in methods of water transportation, reducing the cost far below any other means of transportation admonish that the time has come when active, vigorous measures ought to be inaugurated for putting such a canal in process of construction. The demand for it is already pressing. Long before it can be completed the need of it will be sorely felt.

Recognizing these facts, and in compliance with numerous requests the Chamber of Commerce of Duluth, invite all associations for the promotion of trade and commerce to send delegates to a convention to be held at Duluth on the 15th day of August next, for the collection and dissemination of knowledge with reference to this enterprise, for the mutual interchange of views, and for the inauguration of such measures as may be deemed advisable.

Your honorable body is cordially invited to send delegates to this convention and we respectfully request that such delegates bring with them statements showing the amount of your lake, river, railway, manufacturing and commercial business, and that they be prepared to state the probable effect the construction of such a waterway as proposed would have in increasing or diminishing it. Such information we desire to collect and publish to the world, believing such an aggregate of commercial, manufacturing and agricultural interests will be shown in connection with this canal as will command attention and insure the success of the enterprise."

This circular does not define the line of the proposed canal. There is one route in this direction which is substantially what is known to us as the Dawson Road from Thunder Bay, which we have long believed would eventually be canalized. The rapid settlement of the North-West with the consequent demand for cheap transportation for its produce will, no doubt, hasten the day for the prosecution of this work. As in the case of our Trent Valley Canal, there is a broken chain of navigable waters, which, by comparative small and inexpensive artificial means to supply the missing links would afford a continuous and very favourable route for navigation.

OUR FORESTS.

The N. Y. Shipping List truly remarks that "the question of timber preservation and timber culture, not only on the public, but on the private lands of the United States, is one of the most difficult, and also one of the most interesting problems that are attracting attention." If, says the Globe, it is this to the States, it is all that and a good deal more to Canada, from the fact that timber is our great stample export, whereby we pay for the most of our imports, and that a great part of the land off which it has in time past been raised is not likely ever to yield a better crop. Yet we probably find destruction going on here quite as fast as there, though to us it is doubly pernicious. Everything that our contemporary says in regard to the States applies much more strongly to Canada, and in the hope that the troubles already experinced across the line may operate as a warning on this side of it, we go on to copy its article as follows:—

"The evils of past destruction have been a great increase in the cost of fuel, in the price of lumber and timber, hindering the erection of dwellings, and rendering furniture very expensive, and the high rates of fares and freight charges on our lines of travel and transportation from the increased cost of building and equipping steamboats and railroads. Cheap bread, cheap houses, cheap fuel, and cheap transportation of passengers and freight are fundamental to the material growth and prosperity of a nation. All these are hindered by the havoc now making in our forests. The consumption by building railroads, for railroad fuel, the general consumption of wood for fuel in the country, the consumption by mechanical industry, the destruction by war, by improvident waste, and the destruction by farmers, who, when wood commands a high price, cut down the choicest trees, are among the causes which threaten the noble forest growth of America with extinction. Woodland brings in, without ploughing or sowing or fertilizing, that of which the average owner never has too much—ready money. The tree economists, therefore, have a powerful and wide-spread influence to contend against, and can hardly hope to arrest the tree slaughter on private lands. If they can awaken any enthusiasm for tree culture among the agricultural classes it will be about as much as we can expect them to accomplish. No private efforts can meet the emergency. Congress and the State Legislatures should afford every facility for the proper understanding of the subject, and for the adoption of the most thorough means to prevent what threatens to become eventually a national calamity.

The present commisioner of the general land office, who appears to have a just appreciation of the subject, has taken such measures as he has authority to take to more fully preserve our public timber lands in the North-west, which have been so ruthlessly destroyed in the past. The commissioner has acted upon the assumption that most of the timber depredations have been committed by ignorant and illeterate settlers, who not unnaturally imagined that settlement under homestead or pre-emption laws gave them the right to cut and sell timber at pleasure, and in many instances they have been induced by speculators to enter land for the very purpose of selling the timber from it. The blanks furnished to settlers to be filled up hitherto have had no warning covering this point, but the commissioner has now supplied the omission in these emphatic terms:—"Timber land embraced in a homestead or other entry—not consummated—may be cleared in order to cultivate the land and improve the premises, but for no other purposes." It is thought that this precaution will lessen timber depredations on the public lands about one-third, which, if not an over-estimate, will be a marked and gratifying reduction of the evil, while at the same time it will give the prosecutions that may take place, the prestige of better understood law than they have before enjoyed. But something more than this is needed.

Europe, in its forest laws, is far ahead of the United States, and is in less danger, at this moment, of becoming a desert than is the United States, unless something prompt and effective shall be done to arrest the wholesale destruction of timber which is still going on in all parts of the country. It has been truly said that growth is slow and restorations tedious, while destruction is rapid and injury instantaneous. Palestine and Syria, Egypt and Italy, France and Spain have seen some of their most fertile lands turned into deserts by the destruction of the forests. There are parts of Asia Minor, of Northern Africa, of Greece, and even of Alpine Europe, once covered with luxuriant woods, verdant pastures and fertile meadows, which have now become so completely desolate as to be rendered an unfit abode for man. We are really in danger here of such a result in some sections of the country, unless intelligent and immediate measures of remedy are adopted.

KINGSTON.

IRON MINING.—The Whig says that evidently the iron mines opened by the K. & P. R. R., are proving unusually attractive to the American ironmongers. Last week no less than five gentlemen came from the other side and went out by the K. & P. R.R. to inspect the ore beds. The mining business is but in its infancy. Undoubtedly many new mines will soon be opened or old ones further developed.

THE MAHMOUDIEH CANAL.

The Mahmoudieh Canal owes its origin to Mehemet Ali, who caused it to be dug by enforced fellahen labor. There are now only two principal navigable channels in the delta of the Nile, namely, the Damietta and Rosetta mouths. The Mahmoudieh Canal was connected with the Nile some distance below Rosetta, and its waters were conveyed into Alexandria by an aqueduct which entered the city near the present Rosetta Gate, and had to be cut through the walls and basements of ancient buildings at its junction with Alexandria, almost due east and west, for several miles, and then takes an upward bend towards the Nile, but before it leaves the city it is tapped at various spots for the supply of substantially built reservoirs, which are now in danger of going dry, owing to Arabi's strategy. The canal was commenced by Mehemet Ali in 1819 and opened in the beginning of 1820, receiving its present name in honor of the then Sultan. It cost 7,500,000 francs (about $1,600,000) and the men employed upon it numbered 250,000 continuously under the direction of the Aga Hagee Osman, who was assisted by several Italian engineers. The banks of the canal are curiously interesting. It presents the appearance of a dead level of silent flowing sluggish stream, between embankments, which sometimes are considerably higher than the surface of the water, and sometimes not much above its level. The villages which exist along its banks at rare intervals are small bamboo and palm leaf sheds, surrounded by cactus bushes that find a footing in the inhospitable sand. Near Alexandria it is adorned by villas and farms, which flourish because of the plenteousness of water. At intervals along its banks an irregularity in the desert betrays the existence of some ancient city now in ruins, and half buried. The total length of the canal is 49 miles. It is capable of being breached at several parts of its existence; it is everywhere capable of being obstructed, and in the gardens adjoining Alexandria it is even capable of being defended by a force advancing from Alexandria, the court yards of the strong old-fashioned buildings affording good cover for infantry.

Tree Plantations.

Mr. F. P. Beck, Bethany, N. Y., afforded an example of what can be done in forest culture. He began a plantation of trees on rather poor soil, which consists of a clay loam resting on shelf-rock near the surface. He grew European larches and Scotch pines. At two years from the seed, these young larch and pine trees were transplanted to places where they are to remain four feet apart each way, an acre thus containing 2,640. Those that have been set six years are now ten or twelve feet high, vigorous in growth and branching so extensively as to make it difficult for one to pass through the woods. These are from two to three inches in diameter at the ground. Those set eight years ago are from eighteen to twenty-four feet high and from four to six inches through. The pines are planted out sixteen feet each way. In a year or two Mr. Peck will begin to thin out the larches, using them for poles and small fence posts. The land is thought to pay as well in these trees as if planted to ordinary farm crops, while the advantages they afford in protection to other crops and to the farm buildings is inestimable. Mr. Peck believes if 20 per cent. of our older and rough cleared land was planted to forest trees, it would render the remaining 80 per cent. more productive and valuable than the whole now is.

A TRUE ROMANCE.

A most touching and beautiful story has to be told of two young people in our far west. It is a story full of faithful and unselfish love, and so wild and romantic withal, as to form the ground work for a rattling good novel. Early in the spring a young man named Walter B. McBride went west as far as the end of the line to open a store, beginning first in patent medicines, and putting all the money he saved in dry goods. At Brandon he became acquainted with an English girl, a young and pretty creature, who had just arrived from the old country with her mother and step-father. The two fell desperately in love with one another, and determined to get married. The old folks, however, made objection to this, but love laughs at difficulties, and the consequence was that the girl left her parents at Rapid City, and started to join her lover at Brandon. She was overtaken and brought back again in triumph, but this only increased the determination of the pair to carry out their little scheme. McBride went further up the line some hundred miles, and as fate would have it, the girl, with her parents, settled within eight miles of him. He watched his opportunity, and one night he rode over, watched for the appearance of his sweetheart, called to her, and the pair rode triumphantly away on the same horse. But still the marriage was not to be. While McBride was away making preparations for the wedding, the parents returned, recaptured the girl, and carried her back. When McBride learned this his blood got hot, and he determined to obtain his love at any cost, of blood if necessary. He procured a revolver and struck across the country, full of determination and indignant love. As he entered the door of his wouldn't be father-in-law's cabin the old man grabbed a shot-gun and pointing it at McBride's heart threatened to kill him dead if he did not leave the house. McBride pulled his revolver and the two men, taking deadly aim, would most certainly have fired had not the girl sprung into her lover's arms with the cry, "If you kill him, you kill me." Here was a fine situation and what was to be done? McBride was the first to speak. He told the step-father that he would have his sweetheart and take her away or would remain where he was a dead man. The step-father now saw that he was beaten, and like a skilful general determined to surrender while the option of the honors of war was left him. He put up his shot gun, and said "Bless you my children," or words to that effect. That settled it, and the quarrel ended. —Winnipeg Sun.

YOUNGS POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE WEATHER.—The heat that we have had for the last few days has been almost unbearable, but it is ripening the grain, therefore the farmers have lots of work to look forward to for the next two months. Farm laborers' wages are very high this season, being from $65 to $85 for two months.

THE CRUISER AND BURLEIGH FALLS HOTEL.—This fine little steamer has been quite busy since the extreme warm weather came, taking tourists up to Mr. Holmes' Burleigh Falls Hotel. This hotel is seemingly going to be well patronized this season, which is a good thing, as Mr. Holmes has gone to considerable expense in furnishing it in good style for the comfort of his guests. Mr. Holmes has also purchased a piano which will be a great boon to the lady guests. There have been about 40 or 50 staying at the hotel for the last ten days. We wish Mr. Holmes every success.

CAMPING OUT.—A great many parties have gone up the back lakes this week for the purpose of camping out.

BLACKSMITHING.—Mr. Richard Heard, our village blacksmith, has made some much required improvements in the interior of his smithy. The alterations made will give room for 2 or 3 span more of horses than formerly. His business is steadily increasing, which he deserves, as he is always at his post.

CEDAR LUMBER.—A gentleman from New York State has been here for the last week trying to get from Mr. Geo. Chalmers a car load of cedar plank, free from knots for boat building. He has succeeded in getting his quality, the price paid was $40 per thousand. This is his second purchase from Mr. Chalmers and I presume it won't be the last.

SAWLOG DRIVES.—Mr. Bell, foreman for Messrs. Ullyot & Saddler, passed through here on Saturday last with a large drive of very fine sawlogs, en route for their mills at Harwood. Several more drives will follow in the course of a few days.

BELLEVILLE.

ATTEMPTED ARSON.—An attempt was made on Monday night to fire the stables of the Queen's hotel. A quantity of straw was saturated with coal oil and set fire to, and the adjoining wood work was also sprinkled with coal oil. Fortunately the fire was discovered and put out before much damage was done.

THE EVIL WEED.—The Intelligencer says that at 2.30 o'clock on Monday morning, policeman Hayes discovered a man, with nothing on but a shirt, lying in a pool of blood on the sidewalk, in front of Fitzpatrick's hotel. He at first appeared to be unconscious, but when the officer spoke to him he replied in a low voice, addressing him by name. The man proved to be Patrick McDonald, hostler at Fitzpatrick's hotel. The only explanation he could give of his condition was that he must have fallen out of the window of his bedroom, which overlooks the street, but he could not remember anything about it. He could not rise without the officer's assistance, and it was with considerable difficulty that he was taken into the house and conveyed to his room. The room is in the 3rd story of the building and the window must be fully 30 feet from the ground. McDonald has been in the habit of sitting on the window-sill and smoking during the night, and it is probable that last night he got out of bed, half asleep, for the purpose of having a smoke, and falling into a doze on the window sill tumbled out. He was sleeping in the same bed with Mr. Fitzpatrick's son, who did not know anything about the affair until he was awakened by those who brought McDonald back to the room. Mr. Fitzpatrick says that McDonald has not drunk anything for some time past, so that the accident cannot be attributed to liquor. A fall of thirty feet, with a hard wooden sidewalk at the end of it cannot be sustained without some injury, and it is wonderful how McDonald escaped with so little injury as he did. As it was, he had one of the bones of his left fore-arm fractured, his face very badly bruised, and one of his legs bruised. Dr. Wilson is in attendance on him, and expresses confidence in his speedy recovery.

THE indications of the approaching season seem to threaten an unusual ammount of the various forms of bowel complaints. Our readers would do well to supply themselves with some reliable remedy like Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as a safeguard against sudden attacks of Cholera, Morbus, Colic, Dysentery, &c., that unless preperly treated are often suddenly fatal.

SCROFULA is a depraved condition of the system often hereditary, and characterized by indolent tumours, glandular affections, bad blood and a low condition of vitality that tends towards consumption, which is really Scrofulo of the lungs. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Scrofulous diseases from a pimple to an abscess, by purifying the blood, correcting the secretions and giving a healthy tone to each organ.

BRUTAL DESERTION.

An Immigrant Casts Adrift His Wife and Child.

The day before yesterday, as heartless a piece of brutality as ever occured was witnessed at the Union Station. Among the large number of immigrants who arrived here the day before were a man, his wife and their child. He evidently belonged to the rough class found in the slums of English towns, and did not succeed in obtaining work in this vicinity. He concluded to go to Toronto, and accompanied by his wife and child proceeded to the Union Station to do so. Here he purchased one ticket, and as the train was starting, hurriedly boarded it, telling the partner of his bosom, that he had enough to do to provide for himself, and she and her baby could do the best they could to get a living. The poor woman earnestly entreated her husband not to cast her adrift, and was only answered by imprecations, and the brute would have struck her had it not been for the interference of bystanders. The tears of the deserted wife, a stranger among strangers, as the train left the station, were pitiful to witness, and a good hearted farmer from Aylmer, who was standing by, was moved to compassion. He offered the poor woman employment and a home for herself and child, which, it is needless to say, were gladly accepted. The wretch who committed such a base action is unworthy of the name of man, and is deserving of a just retribution for his unfeeling and inhuman conduct.—Ottawa Free Press.

Trade with Australia.

The Montreal correspondent of the Mail writing on July 24th says:—Mr. G. W. Sharp, of Sharp & Sons, Lumber Merchants, Melburne, Australia, is in town. Hitherto they have imported from the United States and from Canada indirectly, inasmuch as New England lumber merchants purchase Canadian lumber to resell in the Australian markets. They were not satisfied, and the object of Mr. Sharp's visit is to establish a direct trade if possible. The Hon. Mr. Skead has shown all that is to be seen in his locality, and Messrs Gilmour, Eddy, and other lumber kings of the Ottawa have done likewise. Mr. Sharp states he was greaty pleased with all he saw, and he was most unfavourably impressed with what he saw of the United States trade. He has already made arrangements for direct business being done in lumber, as also in other staples, particularly in dried fish and petroleum, which are now almost entirely supplied by the United States in very large quantities. Petroleum could be very profitably shipped to a very large extent.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)

THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 2¢ hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, July 25.—An evening session of the Court was held to-day, His Worship Mayor Smith presiding.

VAGRANCY.

Jas. Smith and Wm. Welsh were charged with vagrancy, and were fined $3 and $2 respectively, the costs in each case amounting to $2.75. They were committed to gaol.

A Good Sample.

Mr. John Rahally, of Otonabee, left at this office a sample of wheat which was cut on Tuesday, the 25th July. It is indeed a very fine sample of wheat, the grain being large, clear and plump.

Horsemen.

Don't fail to see Prof. J. G. McPherson's "Check of all Checks,"—it will stop all tricks. He will be at the Drill Shed, Peterborough, every night this week at 6.30 o'clock p.m., and will teach the class his wonderful theory of handling a horse without abuse or injury to the mouth.

To Hear Appeals.

His Honor, the Judge of the County Court, will hold a court in the Council Chamber on Saturday next, the 29th of July, at the hour of 11 o'clock a.m., to hear and determine all appeals from the Court of Revision on the assessment roll of 1882. There will probably not be much business before the Court.

Accident.

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Thomas Pratt, while framing the south pier for the foundation of the Paper Mill at Dickson's dam, fell between the cross pieces and struck on some timber beneath and dislocated his left shoulder. Dr. Kincaid, who was sent for, arrived in a few minutes and put it into place again.

Still Another Addition.

Only a short time ago we chronicled the fact that Mr. W. Hamilton had made a large addition to his moulding shop, and now we are able to state that on account of the rapidity with which his trade is increasing, he had found it necessary to also enlarge his blacksmith shop, and operations to that end are to be commenced at once.

The Market.

The attendance on the market this forenoon was not very large, and prices were very little changed if changed at all. For butter 20 cts. per lb. was asked, eggs 17 cts. per doz., black currants 12 cts., and red currants 8 cts., per quart, and new potatoes 40 cts. per peck. The vegetables offered were in small quantities and at high prices.

A Large Casting.

Preparations are at present being made at Mr. William Hamilton's foundry to cast one of the heaviest prices of machinery ever cast in this section of the country. It is a fly wheel for a Winnipeg saw mill, measuring twelve feet in diameter, and it will require between four and five tons of metal to complete the work. It will be cast on Friday afternoon.

They Look well.

Some months ago a Toronto man measured all the conductors on the Midland for new uniforms, and after a long time of waiting many of them have arrived, and now the Midland conductors for neatness of appearance, can vie with those of any other road in Canada. Conductors Riley and Moris fill theirs to perfection and always draw towards themselves admiring eyes. The uniform consists of a dark blue suit with brass buttons, and the regulation railway cap, with the office of the wearer inscribed thereon in gold letters.

The Weather.

The weather continues very warm, the hot sun in the day time beaming warmly upon the earth and raising the temperature to a high degree, and last night was not a great deal cooler. The probs. predict a few local showers, and perhaps this locality will be favoured. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, and Upper St. Lawrence, moderate, fresh southwesterly to southery winds, hot weather, and a few local showers.

THE LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY.

We have had handed to us for publication the following interesting remarks and suggestions, as to the Little Lake Cemetery, written by the Rev. D. Tully, D. D., of Oswego, and formerly of this county.

Nothing indicates more clearly the state of civilization and culture of a community, than the city of their dead. Few towns are more highly favoured than Peterborough in this respect. The Little Lake Cemetery is located at a convenient distance for friends, either to bury or visit the last resting place of their beloved dead. The situation is very unique and extremely beautiful. The soil is the best in quality for burial purposes I have ever seen, the plots are handsomely laid out, in all its appointments this city of the dead is nearly perfect. The Chapel, drives, receiving vaults, and the arrangement of ornamental trees, display good judgement and cultured taste on the part of the gentlemen having this sacred spot in charge. They are exceedingly fortunate also in the selection of Mr. John Kelly as the keeper of this very picturesque cemetery. It has been my privilege to visit most of the fine cemeteries on this continent, and I have seldom found a person of more advanced and correct views, as to what is required to render a cemetery a thing of beauty and a place of consolation to the bereaved, than I found in Mr. Kelly. Where there is so much to praise and admire, criticism is out of place. Yet a friend of all concerned may be permitted to offer a few suggestions in order to improvement of this sacred place, so dear to my heart, because of the loved one sleeping there. 1st. I would most respectfully suggest the filling up of all the walks between the lots. 2nd. The marking of the divisions of lots by corner posts sunk to the level of the ground, marked on the top by the number of the lot, and the initials of the owners. 3rd. That no hedge or railing be placed around the family lots. 4th. That no tree of large character be planted on the lots, shrubs or flowers only should be there. 5th. Level the mounds over the graves. In brief our rural cemeteries ought to be extensive lawns, beautified to the utmost according to the rules of landscape gardening, which is a fineart and requires careful study.

DAVID TULLY.

Excursion Party.

A pleasure party, at the invitation of Mr. A. White, departed this morning on the Midland on an excursion to Bobcaygeon. They will doubtless experience all the enjoyments of a pleasant excursion.

Steel Rails for the G. J. R.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that two barges with 672 tons of steel rails arrived here on Monday. The rails are to be laid on the G. J. R. lines between Belleville and Stirling. About 1,000 tons more will be laid on this line.

Watching Them.

Numbers of people have all day surrounded the waterworks trench watching the process of laying the pipes. By the interest manifested by some of the onlookers, one would almost think they were Egyptian trenches being constructed by Arabi Pasha to battle with the English. The trench digging has now reached Charlotte street, and the work on the business part of George street will soon be completed.

Canada Thistles.

Wherever these pests, Canada thistles, are seen to be growing, they should be cut down at once, before they go to seed and perpetuate the evil. There is a law to compel occupants of land to cut down these thistles, the first section of which is as follows:—"It shall be the duty of every occupant of land to cut or cause to be cut down all the Canada thistles growing thereon, so often in each and every year as is sufficient to prevent them going to seed, or if any owner, possessor or occupant of land knowingly suffer any Canada thistles to grow thereon, and the same to ripen so as to cause or endanger the spreading thereof, he shall upon conviction be liable to a fine of not less than two and not more than ten dollars for each and every such offence."

THE CENTRAL PRISON.

The Ins and Outs of the Provincial Prison at Toronto.

Mr. Walter Smith, Inspector of Prisons and Public Institutions of the province of Quebec, was some time ago instructed to visit similar institutions in the province of Ontario and report upon the same. From his report, which is now published, the following information is gleaned:—

THE CENTRAL PRISON.

The report deals at considerable length with this institution, which is described in detail from its conception up to the date of Mr. Smith's visit, when there were 302 prisoners therein. In the various industrial departments there were employed:—In the corn-broom shop, 100; in the tailor shop, 15; in the shoemaking shop, 15; in the carpenter and furniture shop, 50 to 75, whose labour was let out by the Government at 40 cents a day; in the blacksmith shop, 4 to 6; in the brickyard 60 to 70 in summer, and fewer in winter, at which season the clay is prepared for spring operations. Two million bricks were made for the Mercer building in these yards, for which the market price was paid; and no difficulty is experienced in selling all that the prisoners make. A slaughter house to employ five or six, was also projected. The domestic labor is all conducted by the prisoners, who are constantly kept moving during the hours of work—7 to 6 o'clock in summer and 7 to 4.30 o'clock in the winter—whether at labor or simply exercising, the impression being that constant occupation is conducive to good health and good behaviour. The prisoners eat their meals in the cells in solitude, a plan adopted as a precautionary one after a mutiny that took place, and which started when the convicts were altogether at the dinner table. The punishments, regulated by a by-law, were not considered too severe. Corporal punishments are seldom resorted to. The by-law authorizes it for attempting to escape, for inciting to mutiny, for gross insubordination, or for striking or threatening any of the officers. Solitary confinement on bread and water, and deprivation of all privileges, such as light at night, and books, &c., &c., and—when the offences are serious—in the dark cells, are the punishments generally resorted to.

The inspector expresses his approbation of the general management and organization of the Central prison; he also found the establishment clean and tidy, and temperature and atmosphere pleasant. The opinion is expressed that the staff of employes, as follows, is large and costly, their annual salaries being:—The warden, $2,000; deputy warden, $1,300; physician, $1,000; bursar, $1,200; steward, $750; engineer, $740; 22 guards, $8,600; foreman of brickyard, $720; foreman of tailors' shop, $600; foreman of shoe shop, $550; foreman of carpenters' shop, $500; accountant, $1,000. Total, $18,860. The cost of the prison to the province for the fiscal year 1880, was $67,914.

DASTARDLY OUTRAGE.

The Perpetrator is Arrested and Escapes, but is Pursued.

LONDON, July 24.—The state of mortality in the vicinity of the little village of Wallaceburg must be of a shockingly lax character. It is asserted that a number of young bloods have become possessed of the idea that the young Indian girls living on Walpole Island are their lawful prey, and that they employ every effort to seduce and ruin these simple creatures, succeeding only too often in their vile purpose, and sometimes growing so reckless as to seize the girls upon the street and by force accomplished the outrage. A few days ago a young Indian maiden was followed on Walpole Island by a ruffian who seized her, threw her down, and despite her piteous pleading, attempted to assault her. He had only partially completed his diabolical crime when some of the girl's friends were attracted by her shrieks, and the scoundrel fled. John Menton, postmaster and merchant at Baby's point, was arrested for the offence, and on examination before J. B. McDonald, reeve of Sombra township, and Squire Morrit, of Port Lambton, he was fully committed for trial. He succeeded in escaping from the constables, and crossed the river in Michigan, but will probably be recaptured, as several officers and Indians are upon his track. The people of the neighborhood, especially the Indians, are highly incensed at the dastardly outrage, and threats of lynching the perpetrator are freely hinted at if he is brought back to Wallaceburg.—Mail.

Aping Napoleon.

Arabi Pasha, in Egypt, has been recently alternately aping Napoleon I. and a Mahommedan prophet. He gave orders to have the life of the former translated into Arabic, and said to his friends:—"Napoleon is my model—I will do what he did—nay, I will do more, I will do more, I will found an Arabian empire." A month ago while on his way to the mosque, he suddenly stopped, staring wildly in the air, as if seeing a vision, then stamped on the ground and cried out that a gun was buried underneath. On examination one was found, but probably without a vision, Arabi could tell it came to be there.

Boys' White Shirts, Men's White and Coloured Shirts, with or without Collar, in all sizes at "Habiliment Hall."

THE firm of J. & S. McEachen, Douglas, writes us June 1st, saying "There is not another preparation we can recommend with so much confidence as Burdock Blood Bitters, as it invariably gives the best of satisfaction." Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of Blood, Liver and Kidneys.

W. H. CROOKER, Druggist, of Waterdown, under date of June 1st, writes that "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cannot be surpassed, when all other remedies fail then it comes to the rescue, and I find the sales large and increasing." Wild Strawberry positively cures all Bowel complaints.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposed to say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us.

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work. And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS AT THE SCENE OF OPERATIONS.

Arabi's Forces Advancing on the British in Great Numbers—Fire Opened on the English Lines—The English Press on the Position of the Porte—Bismarck Approves of England's Policy.

MINING A RAILWAY EMBANKMENT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26.—At Ramleh the British have mined the railway embankment as a precaution against a night attack.

ENGLAND AND THE PORTE.

LONDON, July 26.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Onslow (Conservative) asked if the Government would not now refuse the co-operation of the Turkish troops. Mr. Gladstone said he was not aware the conference had received a definitive communication from the Porte. He was not in a position to say the Government would recede from anything they did in regard to the request that Turkish troops might be sent to Egypt. He intimated they would not consent to the British forces occupying a secondary position.

THE "TIMES" ON THE SITUATION.

LONDON, July 26.—The Times says:—"Neither as sovereign, suzerain, nor under any other title will there be room for the influence of the Sultan in Egypt after the responsibilities of the sovereignty have been cynically thrown aside in the hour of trial. The Sultan may amuse himself by forming new alliances, and complimenting new allies with decorations, but it remains to be seen what help these sympathisers will give the Porte. England, by acting alone, will acquire and assert her right of controlling in future the country she saved. We must plainly show the Sultan and powers we intend to work thoroughly to retain control. When that is done Gladstone and his colleagues must yield to the compulsion of events."

MISAPPLICATION OF THE INDIAN REVENUES.

LONDON, July 26.—The Pall Mall Gazett says there is no excuse for charging a penny of the expense of the Egyptian expedition upon the finances of India, except temporarily. If the Government is weak enough to yield to the temptation it will break up. All its members cannot be expected to swallow their words, and believe the whole spirit of their previous utterances about the only legitimate application of the Indian taxes.

THE PLUNDERERS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26.—It has been proved that the Bedouin's and the Khedive's servants really did the looting at Ramleh.

ARABI DISPOSED TO SURRENDER.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26.—Arabi is gradually withdrawing his troops and retiring to Kafr-el-Dwar. It is rumoured he is disposed to negotiate with the British for the surrender of his forces if the Khedive can be prevailed upon to guarantee him immunity, and withdraw the decree dismissing him from the Ministry. The Khedive refuses to entertain the proposition to extend the amnesty tothe principal rebel officers with the view to induce them to abandon their allegiance to Arabi.

AN EGYPTIAN ATTACK REPULSED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26.—Last evening a decided attempt was made to surprise the British outposts. Six hundred men approached the British line, when the 38th Regiment opened fire. The enemy retreated precipitately. During the remainder of the night the Egyptians continued moving about just beyond range. The reports that Arabi was attempting to treat for surrender were probably circulated to lull the vigilance of the British. The Rifles and native police to-day surrounded the village of Carmuss beyond Pompey's pillar, where there is a regular market for loot. A few cart loads were seized.

THE ENGLISH AT PORT SAID.

PORT-SAID, July 26.—A force from the English men-of-war has landed.

THE TURKISH EXPEDITION.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—It is stated that the first detachment of Turkish troops to be sent to Egypt will number 16 battalions. Arrangements are making to send 64 battalions if necessary. The Governor of Damascus has ordered the arrest of several sheiks who arrived from Egypt. The Porte denies rioting at Smyrna.

THE FRENCH VOTE OF CREDIT.

PARIS, July 26.—The Committee of the Chamber of Deputies has rejected the proposal for the second credit of 9,500,000 francs for protective measures in Egypt. DeFreycinet will challenge a vote of confidence. If the Ministry is overthrown a dissolution is inevitable.

A LOYAL GARRISON.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26.—An Egyptian vessel left this morning to take aboard the garrison at Aboukir, numbering 2,000 men, which declared loyalty to the Khedive. The steamer has not yet returned.

THE MAHMOUDIEH CANAL.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26.—The water in the Mahmoudieh canal has not fallen to any considerable extent during the last six thirty-six hours It is concluded that the dam has burst, or that a large amount of water infiltrates through it.

DERVISH'S CHARGES AGAINST THE ENGLISH.

LONDON, July 26.—Intelligence has been received that Dervish Pasha, on arrival at Constantinople, stated that after the bombardment of Alexandria the English engaged in various acts of violence against the inhabitants, and pillaged and burned the town.

FALSE REPORTS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26.—Strict enquiry proves that the reports that the British soldiers looted Ramleh palace are false. It is believed Arabi Pasha receives daily from London accurate accounts of the measures organized to oppose him.

ARABI'S PREPOSTEROUS PROPOSAL.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26. Ismail Pasha has just returned from Arabi's camp. The latter's proposals are preposterous. He seeks to have his offences condoned, and on this condition consents to disarm a portion of the rebels. Gen. Alison will not listen to the demand, and is drawing closer to Arabi's position.

ITALY'S ATTITUDE.

ROME, July 26.—Italy declines to join in the protection of the Suez canal until she learns the decision of the conference.

A TURKISH VIEW.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—The Turks believe that if Arabi Pasha is defeated he will destroy Cairo, join the insurgents in Soudan, and proclaim the independance of Upper Egypt.

THE CONFERANCE.

CONSTANTINOPE, July 26.—At the meeting of the conference on Monday the Turkish delegates accepted ad referendum a proposal of the British ambassador that the Sultan should declare Arabi Pasha a rebel.

GERMANS AT PORT SAID.

PORT SAID, July 26.—Twenty-five Germans have landed to guard the German consulate.

A COLLECTIVE SETTLEMENT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—It is reported that Bismarck has instructed the German representatives here to declare that Germany regards England's intervention in Egypt as the only means of avoiding a European conflict, and believes when Egypt is pacified the powers will demand a collective settlement of the Egyptian question.

By Telegraph to the Review.

TELEGRAM FROM ARABI'S GOVERNMENT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—An official telegram from the rebel government, dated Cairo, July 26th, says:—"Armaments continue on an extensive scale. Volunteers are arriving from Upper and Lower Egypt. Some chiefs of the Bedouins, who prior to the bombardment were known as partizans of the Khedive, have promised fidelity, and all the best class mussulmans, including princes and princesses of the Khedive's family now in Cairo, are adherents of our government. The ladies have formed a committee for the preparation of lint. The British have been beaten in two engagements, leaving forty killed."

DERVISH PASHA COLDLY RECEIVED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 27.—It is stated that the Sultan has decided to denounce Arabi as a traitor. The Sultan received Dervish Pasha very coldly, and complained that he did not persuade Admiral Seymour to delay the bombardment.

ANOTHER LARGE CONFLAGRATION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—A tremendous conflagration broke out in Alexandria at two o'clock this morning. As seen from the harbor, the fires seems to be larger than any since the bombardment.

OCCUPYING THE FORTS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—Emissaries from Arabi have been preaching in the mosques at Nucebe almost daily. It has been therefore decided to occupy the fort and also the fort which commands the road to Lake Mareotis, near which the patrol of the enemy is distinctly seen. A scouting party last evening traversed the hitherto unexamined country two miles beyond Ramleh, meeting nobody.

ACTIVITY IN ARABI'S LINES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27, 1 p. m.—The threatening activity within Arabi's lines is increasing.

ARABI ATTACKING THE BRITISH.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—Arabi's forces are now advancing upon the British lines in great numbers and well arrayed. The native troops have approached within range of the English between Ramleh and Aboukir and have opened fire.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

MINISTER MARSH.

LONDON, July 26.—The body of the late United States Minister March will be brought to Rome. It is not known whether it will be subsequently taken elsewhere.

AMERICAN.

MURDER.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Wm. Clark and John Prindell, an imbecile, were confined in the same cell in Bridewell last night. Prindell unbuckled Clarke's wooden leg during the night and beat him to death. Prindell was not considered dangerous.

ROASTED ALIVE.

CLIFTON, N. M., July 26.—A large party of Indians attacked a waggon train three miles away yesterday, killing two men. Seven teamsters fought the Indians for two hours, mortally wounding one. The teamsters in the face of a heavy fire, rushed out and dragged the wounded Indian into the camp, and when the fight was over scalped him and roasted him alive.

LYNCHED.

CHARLESTOWN, S.C. July 26.—Martin Beckett, who outraged a white girl aged 12 at Hampton court-house on Saturday, was taken from gaol last night and lynched. A placard was found on the body with the words, "Our women must be protected."

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

EMBALMING A MINISTER.

ROME, July 27.—The Government has authorized the embalming of the remains of minister Marsh, which will lie in state at the Foresters' Institute at Valombrosa.

PRICE OF CHEESE.

LIVERPOOL, July 27.—Cheese is quoted at 56 shillings and 6 pence.

AMERICAN.

A MISSING MAN.

BROOKLIN, July 27.—Gardner Child, manager of the Hydraulic Iron Works, has been missing since Monday. On Monday he drew $10,000 for the pay roll.

MAILING DYNAMITE.

NEW YORK, July 27.—A package containing dynamite cartridges was dropped into the mail at the post office here yesterday.

STRIKERS INTIMIDATING.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The striking freight handlers have begun intimidating the Italians and others, who have taken their places, to such an extent that the police are on the keen look out for serious trouble.

THE JERSEY CENTRAL DEFICIT.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The Receiver of the Jersey Central Railway, pronounces the Herald's statement regarding the alleged large deficit as grossly inaccurate.

PREVENTING A GLOVE FIGHT.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Henry Bergh requested the Mayor to prevent the contemplated glove fight between Sullivan and Nelson.

BOLD THIEVES.

HEREFORDVILLE, Pa., July 27.—Some thieves attempted to enter the house of Menno Clemmer, a rich farmer, on Monday night. Clemmer aroused his neighbors by his sharp firing, and the thieves fled. Next night they renewed the attempt. Clemmer and several neighbors who were on guard in the house, rushed out and fired a volley. The marauders retired, but returned the fire. Several volleys were fired at 20 yards. Two farmers were wounded, and it is believed that several robbers were hurt. The thieves finally left.

THE FREIGHT HANDLERS.

JERSEY CITY, July 27.—The Erie railway has offered to grant to the freight handlers the 20 cent per hour, for which they struck, if they would renounce the union. The strikers refused the offer.

WIPING OUT INDIANS.

TUCSON, July 27.—A secret organization in New Mexico and Arizona, is being formed to wipe out the Apaches. New Mexico has already over 600 members and Arizona will furnish more than this. Globe City and Gila Valley already have over three hundred. Other sections are organizing rapidly.

A BOILER EXPLOSION.

BROOKLYN, July 27.—The boiler of a hoisting scow burst yesterday. It rose 80 feet in the air and fell upon the the deck of a schooner 100 ft. away. One man was injured and several narrowly escaped. A thousand bales of cotton on a barge near by caught fire. The total damage is estimated at $25,000.

INDIANS THREATEN SETTLERS.

FORT TOTTEN, Dak., July 27.—There is intense excitement in the Turtle Mountain country. The Indians have warned the white settlers to leave the region, or they will forcibly eject them.

RUSSIAN REFUGEES.

CINCINNATI, July 27.—Twenty-two Russian refugees yesterday declared their intention to become citizens of the United States.

FOREST FIRES.

EAST TAWAS, Mich., July 27.—Forest fires are raging fearfully, extending from Glendam to within a miles of Tawas City. The farmers are driven to the shore, and are sending their children to town. Several farms have been burned over and three dwellings destroyed. The loss is heavy. Travel is cut off in many directions. Strenuous efforts are being made to save Glendam.

Egypt's Deadly Climate.

"Egypt is as deadly in August as India in June," say old travellers; and this sinister reputation is only too well deserved. The same distempers which almost destroyed the army of Louis IX. of France at Damietta in the thirteenth century, decimated the troops of Bonaparte and those of his successors, Kleber and Menou, at Alexandria in the end of the eighteenth. Indeed, those who have been in Lower Egypt during the unhealthy season may well wonder, not that so many should succumb to the climate, but that any one should escape. The dreadful "khamsin," or hot wind, which the strongest man cannot face, without instantly feeling his muscles unstrung, his skin parched and feverish, and his whole body limp and nerveless as a wet rag, is of itself a sufficient agent of evil. The fevers engendered by the malaria of the Nile delta are as virulent as even those of European Turkey, while the devastating visits of the plague itself are neither few nor far between. A less fatal, but equally formidable, enemy to an invading army is the terrible "Egyptian ophthalmia," which, although often brought on by the unclean habits of the natives is at times generated in another and a very singular fashion. A small green fly persistently settles upon the sores of the diseased eyelid, and when driven off carries the infection along with it wherever it alights. So common is this disease among the Arabs that Mehemet Ali is said to have formed two batallions of one-eyed men, the one wanting the right eye and the other the left. In 1789 this complaint made great ravages in the army of Bonaparte, one of whose best officers, becoming blind in the desert, was forced to cling to the tail of a comrade's horse in order to make his way back to the camp. It is a common saying in Alexandria that "an Egyptian Arab with two eyes is as rare as a snowball in June."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE elections in British Columbia show that the Pacific Province, like all the other Provinces of the Dominion, with the solitary and doubtful exception of little Prince Edward Island, will send members to Ottawa who will support the Macdonald Government. Such a wide-spread testimony of popular approval is unprecedented in our history.

* * *

The Ottawa Free Press says:—

"Ottawa has two representatives in the House of Commons and ought to have two in the Ontario Assembly. We trust Mr. Mowat will give this suggestion attention, and, should he agree with us, let there be two divisions, east and west, with the Rideau canal as the dividing line."

Of course the Free Press does not mention that Sir John Macdonald's Government gave Ottawa the additional representative in the House of Commons in 1872, and that he was blamed by the Reformers for doing so. Nor does it mention that when Mr. Mowat, quite gratuitously and solely for the benefit of his party, increased the number of representatives in the Local Legislature by his gerrymandering Bill of 1874 he left Ottawa out in the cold as he did Toronto and Hamilton.

THE Globe of Wednesday contains the following paragraph:—

"Members of the Canada Pacific Syndicate on being interviewed declared that the rumours of the probable abandonment of work on the Canada Pacific Railroad around the north shore of Lake Superior was all bosh."

Of course the rumours were "all bosh," though that does not prevent the Globe from publishing a column editorial in the same issue attacking both the Company and the Government on the strength of these false rumours. The Company is carrying out its contract with the country in good faith, and with unhoped-for rapidity.

* * *

THE Dominion Review, a new publication by Drysdale & Co., Montreal, aspires to be a weekly critical journal, but at first it is only to be published monthly. In its announcements to the public it professes to belong to no party, and we notice that some rather carelessly conducted Conservative journals have been deluded by this profession, and describe it as an "Independent" periodical. To show how little foundation there is for this claim of independence, we may mention that there are twenty editorial articles or notes, of which not less than thirteen contain more or less bitter attacks upon Conservatives and their measures, more especially the National Policy. Of the seven that remain there is not one that contains a word of censure of Reformers. As the subjects of these seven neutral editorials are in four cases science and literature, the remaining three dealing with statistics of co-operation, the execution of Guiteau and the war in Egypt, there was not much room for betraying partisan proclivities. We could even welcome a periodical that would temperately criticise the opinions and actions of the party with which we are in sympathy, but we can have nothing but condemnation for dishonest journalists who systematically attack them under the guise of independence and political neutrality. The Dominion Review instead of acting like a pirate, should hoist its true colors and should avow itself to be an organ of freetraders. It might then win respect instead of contempt.

FORESTRY CONGRESS.

WE beg to call the especial attention of our readers to the invitations issued for a meeting of the American Forestry Congress, to be held in Montreal on August 21st and 22nd. It will be remembered that a meeting of the National Forestry Congress was held this year in Cincinnati, but a number of gentlemen from Canada who are interested in Forestry having attended, the title of the association was changed to the "American Forestry Association," so as to include the whole continent, and steps were taken to elect officers to represent the various provinces of the Dominion. Mr. William Little, of Montreal, was appointed Vice-President for the Province of Quebec, and it is by him that the invitations for the present meeting are being issued, it having been determined to hold it in Montreal.

To show the standing of the society we may mention that the Hon. Geo. B. Loring, Commissioner of Agriculture, Washington, is the President, the other officers are gentlemen of high position and repute, and the present meeting is under the patronage of his Honor Lieutenant Governor Robitaille.

It is expected that interesting and instructive papers will be read, and that there will be discussion of subjects connected with the objects of the Congress, which are chiefly the conservation and perpetuation of existing forests, the replacing by new plantations those that have been and are being destroyed, and the clothing of our prairie regions with a due proportion of trees.

Though the lumbermen from the very nature of their business are great destroyers of our forests, there is perhaps no class that is more impressed with the necessity for steps being taken to remedy the rapid destruction that is now taking place, or is more anxious to see improvements made in our present regulations in regard to our wild lands. The general public too is being aroused to the necessity of a change in this respect, as is evidenced by the greater attention paid to it by the press of both countries.

We hope that the Congress at Montreal will be well attended, and that its deliberations will be productive of much good.

THE Rev. Charles E. Piper, formerly of Pittsfield, N. H., but now of Wakefield, R. I., writes:—"I have used Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in my family for over two years, and as a result have not called a physician in the whole time. My wife had been an invalid for two years, but these bitters have cured her."

THE CAT 'O NINE TAILS.

A Shoemaker Flogged For a Dastardly Outrage at the Central Prison.

On the 25th day of April of the present year Joseph Sayers, a shoemaker by trade, aged 29 years, and was sentenced by the County Judge's Assize Court held in Whitby to six months imprisonment at hard labour in the central prison, and to receive at the expiration of the first three months of his time 25 lashes "with an instrument called the cat," for an outrage on a girl aged 9 years.

The latter portion of the sentence was carried out on Tuesday morning at half-past nine, in the presence of the Warden of the Central Prison, Dr. Wagner, acting physician to the establishment in the absence of Dr. Aikins, at present in England, a group of corridor-cleaners, and the representatives of the press.

It appears that for the last fortnight Sayers has been in great distress at the anticipation of the impending punishment, and has repeatedly appealed to the Warden with the purpose of having his flogging remitted. It is the Warden's experience that prisoners who are to be whipped actually endure more torture from the time they are sentenced until the dreaded time comes than during the time itself, when the demands of the law are being complied with. Be that as it may, Sayers did not exhibit any signs of faltering as he was led from the shoemakers workshop to the end of a corridor in the prison basement. He looked sullen and unconcerned, as he was bound ankle and wrist to the triangle, after having previously stripped himself to the waist; a collar made of stiff canvas protected his neck.

All being in readiness, the Warden read out the sentence by virtue of which the castigation was to be administered, and as the Deputy-Warden uttered the word "one," the "cat," wielded by one of the guards, circled itself up snakewise in the air, then shot out straight with a hissing sound and descended upon the right shoulder-blade of the wretch, left as a mark of its passage eighty-one roseate spots, obliquely dotting the back to the waist. By the third stroke the skin has become uniformly a deep crimson, as if blistered, and after the sixth the flesh commenced to quiver and undulate under each stroke. Every lash caused the colour to deepen until it turned to a sombre shade of purple; at the eleventh stroke Sayers sunk slightly, this being the only evidence that he was feeling pain; he braced himself up during the twelfth stroke, but numbers thirteen, fourteen and fifteen again caused him to sink; at the sixteenth stroke the nine-times-knotted nine whips lashes flew from the stock, and a fresh cat was substituted. Blood now began to spurt out at intervals, and by the time the 25th and last lash was applied the prisoner bore evidence of the instrument's cruel effects, his back being a mass of almost blackened flesh dotted with glistening drops of blood.

The prisoner, who is a short, thick-set, powerful and muscular young man, has what is tritely called a "hard face." "That man would do anything," remarked one whose long experience with the criminal clases enables him to speak with authority, the "anything" doubtless means any crime of violence. Not a groan, not a cry, not a sound of any kind escaped from Joseph Sayers whilst he was undergoing torture. On being untied after it was over, he quietly undressed himself, and walked back to his workshop, apparently quite unmoved. His face bore the same sullen expression it did when he found himself face to face with the triangle. Throughout he exhibited a good deal of brute courage.—Globe.

IN THE NICK OF TIME.

A Young Heiress Elopes with a Man Old Enough to be Her Father.

John Grinigan, a man about forty-five years of age and a farm labourer, had a narrow escape from becoming a rich man a few days ago, and had not a detective stepped in upon the scene, and spoiled his little game, he might now have been rolling in wealth. He hired out to a wealthy farmer near Stayner, whose name is suppressed for prudential reasons, and immediately afterwards made love to the daughter of the house, a girl about 17 years of age. She fell into the snare and agreed to elope with him. Under the pretence of visiting some relations in Toronto she left home, having been preceded by Grinigan, who met her at the station and took her to a boarding house until he could arrange for the marriage ceremony. The suspicion of the father was aroused, and upon finding that the girl had not gone to her relations he communicated with Detective Bluett, who took the case in hand. He located Grinigan at a house on Frederick-street; finding him suffering from a broken arm and without sufficient money to secure the licenses. The detective then traced the girl, who gave the name of Smith, to the Woman's Christian Association, then to the boarding house on Church-street, afterwards to the house of Mr. Lumbers, wholesale grocer, where she was engaged as a servant, and finally on to a boarding house Berkeley-street, from which place she was ejected at ten o'clock at night, because she could not pay for her board in advance. When Grinigan was questioned as to the whereabouts of the girl he denied all knowledge of her, but shortly afterwards the detective, having "shadowed" him, found him with the girl, the couple being on their way to the house of a minister, where they were to have been married. The girl's father, who was with Bluett, was restrained from horse-whipping Grinigan and left for home with his daughter last Saturday morning with the comfort that she had not been led astray beyond redemption by the wiles of a worthless villain.—Telegram.

Rapid Building.

The rapid increase of population in Manitoba has stimulated the inventive geniuses of the Dominion to contrive houses that may be portable and quickly put up. L. Forest, of Belleville, Ont., has planned one that is in three foot sections, and dovetails together. A house, for a hotel or boarding establishment, has been put up at Winnipeg, over 100 feet long, two stories high, and devided into apartments sufficient to accommodate 250 guests. The foundation was laid on Tuesday and the house was completed Thursday afternoon following. A modern Rome could thus be built in a day, with lumber and hands enough. A company has been formed at Belleville to manufacture the sections for these ready-made houses.

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tally, druggist.

North-West Lands.

A London special to the Globe, dated July 25th, says that the prospectus has been issued of the Canada North-West Land Company, formed by the Duke of Manchester's Syndicate which has acquired 5,000,000 acres of land in the North-West from the Canada Pacific Railway Company. The Company offers £2,000,000 stock for subscription at London. It is stated that the Canada Pacific Syndicate has undertaken not to sell any more large lots of lands. Future sales will be confined to individual purchasers of small holdings.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!
This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:
and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes coal fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid Excitations and Inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,
CONSUMPTION
IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES
and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate or astringent articles, which are often during a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

FOR DEAR LIBERTY

Three Prisoners Unsuccessfully Attempt to Escape From Prison.

Shortly before nine o'clock yesterday morning, while the prisoners at the gaol were filing into the van to be brought to the Police Court for trial, one of them named Robert G. Hatton, awaiting his trial for cattle stealing, rushed passed Orderly Worth and dashed east along Gerrard street and down Mill road at a rattling pace. Worth called upon his assistant, Constable Brady to look after the prisoners, and promptly started in pursuit. Meantime the prisoner, who is a noted runner, had turned on to Fee's road and attempted to take refuge in a private residence, but the screams of the housewife evidently showed him that concealment in that quarter was out of the question, and he again took to his heels. Worth, recognizing the fact that the prisoner had too great a start upon him, jumped into a passing waggon and drove rapidly along the road. When the prisoner perceived this, he jumped over the fence and struck across the country, Worth immediately following suit. A regular stern chase ensued, and the issue would have been rendered doubtful but for the opportune appearance on the scene of Constable Brady, who, after handing over the other prisoners to the custody of the gaol authorities, secured the services of a butcher's waggon, and struck down a side line of the Mill road, and parallel with the flight of the prisoner. By this means he got as near the fugitive as possible, and then trusted to the length and speed of his legs. When Brady got within a few yards of the fugitive the latter fell, thoroughly exhausted, and he was at once secured and taken back to the gaol. The long race had evidently irritated one of the officers, as undue violence was used against the prisoner on being re-captured. An eye-witness of this action of the officer intends to lodge a complaint with the Police Magistrate or Major Draper.

ANOTHER EXCITING CHASE.

About three o'clock yesterday afternoon, while the prisoners were at work in the brickyard at the Central Prison, two of their number, Moorehead and Holmes, made a bold run for liberty. They made westward along the Toronto, Grey and Bruce line, closely pursued by the guards, and at the Credit Valley station, Parkdale, Moorehead was overtaken and secured. Holmes was almost immediately afterwards captured at the toll-gate on King street, about a mile and a half from the prison. Holmes came from London and Moorehead from Hamilton. The latter is a notorious character, and it has been ascertained that he had formed a ring with five or six others to break from the prison. His chances of doing so have been considerably lessened by his unsuccessful attempt.—Mail.

BEAR STORIES.

Adventures with Bruin in Different Parts of the Country.

Rev. Father de Cafnfel, of Mont Carmel, Quebec, shot a bear on Tuesday, 18th instant. The animal showed fight and was about to close with the rev. gentleman when a ball from his gun laid it low.

SUPPOSED BEAR HUNT.

It was recently reported that bears had been killing sheep in the township of Marston, near Lake Megantic, and a trapper named Ayer set a trap and baited it with a part of sheep's carcass which had been left by the marauders and awaited the denoument, one Roderick McIver watching the trap. In the morning the trap was gone and signs of it being dragged into the bush were apparent. He gave the alarm and Colin McLeod got out his shooting iron and cautiously approached the expected lair of bruin and seeing a large black object took good aim and fired, but on a closer examination it turned out to be the trapper's own large black dog.—Sherbrooke Examiner.

A GOOD CATCH OF BEARS.

Mr. Braithwaite succeeded in capturing six bears within three days at Bright Hill Brook, last week. This place is a sort of rendezvous for bears on account of it being the depot for the supply camps of Bevan & Co. and William Richards. Mr. Braithwaite killed two by a right and left shot. One was in the trap and about to escape when he immediately discharged one barrel of the gun at him. Hearing a noise behind him he turned and saw another huge animal going into the bushes. He at once discharged the other barrel at him, killing him almost instantly. This is about as good a bear catch as has been made for some time.—Fredericton, N. B. Capital.

DESPERATE BEAR FIGHT.

A large bear was killed at A.M. Holter's saw mill, near the Missouri River, M.T., last Thursday, after a desperate fight by a score of determined men armed with guns, hayforks, axes, rocks, etc. Bruin, after much resistance, throwing bowlders, growling and many vain attempts to escape, succumbed to the many wounds received. While the battle was raging the commander, for better convenience to direct his forces, established himself in the branches of a neighboring tree, into which he climbed with unheard of speed, shouting "go for him, boys," and only descending when victory was the cry and the dead body of bruin—into which several shots had been fired to make sure—had been declared safe to view.

SMALL CHANGE IN MEXICO.

Soap as a Legal Tender for Purchases in the Sunny South.

In one of the small towns I bought some limes and gave the girl $1 in payment. By way of change she returned me forty-nine pieces of soap the size of a water cracker. I looked at her in astonishment, and she returned my look with equal surprise, when a police officer who witnessed the incident hastened to inform me that soap was the legal tender in many portions of the country for small sums. I examined my change and found that each cake was stamped with the name of a town and of a manufacture authorized by the government. The cakes of soap were worth 1½ cents each.

Afterwards in my travels I frequently received similar change. Many of the cakes showed signs of having been in the wash tub; but that, as I soon discovered, was not at all uncommon. Provided the stamp was not obliterated, the soap did not lose any value as currency. Occasionally a man would borrow a cake from a friend, wash his hands, and return it with thanks. I made use of mine more than once in my bath, and subsequently spent them.—Philadelphia Press.

A painting lately uncovered in Pompeii seemed identical in subject with the Judgment of Solomon. In the centre there is a bench with three judges; kneeling at their feet is a woman in an attitude of prayer; further forward towards the foreground is a butcher's table, and upon it is a naked babe, which a man is preparing to kill with a large knife, while beside him stands a second woman with an indifferent air. Soldiers and people close the scene.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

The most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany or at least originate there. The most recent preparation palced upon the market in this country, is the Great German Invigorator, which has never been known to fail in curing a single case of impotency, spermatorrhœa, weakness and all diseases resulting from self-abuse, as nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, languor, lassitude, depression of spirits and functional derangement of the nervous system. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

C. Britton, Lindsay, Ont., writes:—"I have much pleasure in recommending Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in all cases of Jaundice, Biliousness, Sich Headache and Liver Complaint, for they have given universal satisfaction, and I have sold more of them the past season than any other one patent medicine."

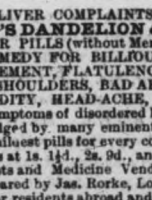
WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.



It acts directly upon the Stomach, Liver, and Kidneys. Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)

THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort witain 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, JULY 27, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Professor McPherson.

Professor McPherson has just received a consignment of his celebrated checks, which he will dispose of at most reasonable rates. Parties wishing to attend the class the remainder of this half can do so at reduced rates.

Returned.

The party of young men who paid a visit to the famous Thousand Islands, going all the way in canoes, arrived home again last evening. They report having had a splendid trip and an enjoyable time.

A Nuisance.

Some boys have made a habit of bathing in the creek under the bridge which crosses on Bethune street, entering the water at all hours of the day, and it has become a nuisance of no small magnitude. They are cunning enough to have pickets posted to watch for the constables, but this annoyance must be ended.

Close Enough.

The "Missing Link" runs very close to the Protestant Home. The cutting on the side of the hill has laid bare one of the verandah posts of the Home, where it was sunk under the ground, but a stone wall is being built to prevent the embankment from falling, which will make things secure.

A Cool Trick.

A man employed on the waterworks, this morning laid a pair of fine boots on the sidewalk close to where he was working, along with his coat. About an hour afterwards he missed the boots, and on instituting a search, he found them in a saloon. A man in passing spied the pedal coverings, and being thirsty, appropriated them and walked into the saloon where he had two drinks and left the boots, saying he would be back in a few minutes. For barefaced audacity it would be difficult to find a parallel to this trick, as the owner of the boots was working only a few feet from where they were lying.

Calcutt's Brewery.

Mr. Calcutt, to enable him to supply the increased demand for his celebrated Nor'-West Cream Ale, is laying down a system of waterworks from a spring on the hill at his residence. This he will be enabled to use for fire purposes as well as for brewing and malting. There is sufficient head to carry the water several feet over the top of the brewery. He is also putting in new tubs of double the former capacity, a new steam boiler and gas fittings on the malt floors and in the cellars. This will make it one of the most complete breweries in Canada, having a capacity of fifteen thousand barrels a year.

A Dangerous Practice.

On Wednesday evening while a party were out on the Little Lake in a boat, they heard the report of a revolver from the Ashburnham shore. Soon after there was another report and still another, the two last bullets passing uncomfortably close to them, one passing on one side of the boat and the other on the other side. One of the bullets flew past within three feet of the occupants of the boat and struck the water just beyond. If they had been struck they were so far out from the shore that much harm might not have been done, but other boats may have been closer, and those firing the shots were guilty of criminal carelessness in thus discharging their revolver over the lake, not knowing what harm they might do.

Railway Notes.

The Intelligencer says that there are at present 100,000 feet of timber at Hastings, and 30,000 at Wauhashene, awaiting shipment over the G. J. R.

The Toronto World says that R. A. Simms, of Ottawa, who executed two contracts on the C. & A. railway, on Tuesday obtained one off the Ontario & Quebec for $75,000, to be commenced immediately.

Mr. W. Hamilton shipped another car of heavy machinery to Winnipeg to-day.

The Intelligencer says that the work of surveying and locating the whole line of the Central Ontario Railway will probably be finished in two months. The preliminary survey is already pushed some fifty-six miles north of Trenton.

A lot of large iron shovels or scoops, consigned to Messrs. McDermid & Hendrie, for use on the construction of the Ontario and Quebec Railway arrived at the Midland station this morning.

Personal.

Mr. Thomas Paxton, Sheriff of South Ontario, is at the Caisse House.

Street Pay List.

The Street Inspector's pay list for work done on the streets from July 4th, to July 17th amounts to $363.

Replaced.

The piece of iron railing which was torn off the Ashburnham bridge on Monday night by some miscreants, has been replaced, and the bridge is again rendered safe.

Thunder Shower.

The temperature, which had been standing at a high degree all morning, was brought down again this afternoon by a very heavy shower of rain, which visited us at about two o'clock, accompanied by thunder and lightning.

A Purchase.

Mr. D. Billeghem has purchased a team of horses from Mr. George Berube, of Lakefield to be used in drawing his hearse, for which he paid $400. They are a fine team of spirited black horses.

The Weather.

The excessive heat continues, and the weather is very warm and close. The probs. do not encourage the hope of more moderate weather. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, and Upper St. Lawrence, moderate to fresh south-westerly to southerly winds, fair hot weather, and local showers or thunder storms.

Rowdyism.

A man entered the train which was carrying Mr. White's excursion party on Wednesday, and began to make so free and to act in such a manner that he was ejected from the car at Reaborough. He was intoxicated at the time and became so enraged because he was put off that he commenced a fusilade of stones at the car, smashing the windows and striking one gentleman on the head. Informations have been made out against him and he will probably have to answer for his conduct.

Lacrosse.

The committee appointed by the Amateur Lacrosse Association to arrange the district-championships, have, we learn from the Mail, completed their labors as far as Ontario is concerned. The South Ontario championship is the only one that has not yet been competed for, and the medals for the other districts will be ready as soon as there are in each district a sufficient number of clubs belonging to the association to make a healthy competition. The district of Central Ontario is composed of the Counties of Simcoe, Ontario, Durham, Victoria, Peterborough, Northumberland and York, excluding the city of Toronto and suburbs.

China Hall.

Mr. Macfarlane Wilson has secured the lease of the very commodious premises formerly occupied by Mr. Garvey as a grocery, in the Market Block, at the corner of George and Simcoe streets, with the view of opening them as a repository for china, glassware and crockery of all kinds. His preparations are now nearly complete, and combined with the natural advantages of the building for this purpose, will render "China Hall" a place to visit for its beautiful and artistic display, but we warn the visitors a very dangerous place, if they wish to leave with their purses as full as when they entered, for they will certainly be tempted to secure some of the beautiful objects displayed. Mr. Wilson has had experience in this line of business at St. Thomas, that will enable him to cater judiciously for the public taste.

Ontario and Quebec Railway.

The cause of the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company v. the Hon. William McMaster, was, we learn from the Globe, concluded on Wednesday morning before Judge Mackenzie. Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., and Mr. Blackstock appeared for the Railway Company, and Mr. J. Rose, Q.C., and Mr. Thompson represented Senator McMaster. The application is made by the Railway for immediate possession of almost two acres of land through which the Railway is to pass at Yorkville. After argument by the counsel, His Honour said he was of the opinion that all had been done that really needed to be done, and that the only question was the amount of money to be deposited in the bank. Evidence of the value of the land was given by Mr. McMaster, Mr. J. P. Clarke, and Mr. Whitney. They put the worth of the ground and damage at $25,175. Mr. Whitney on behalf of the railway Board, only valued the land at $3,750. He considered that $4,200 was too much. His Honour decided to grant the application for immediate possession and ordered that the Railway Board should deposit $12,500 with the Canadian Bank of Commerce to await the decision of the arbitrators.

THE KINGSTON-ROAD TRAGEDY.

Two More Arrests—The Prisoner Attempts to Stab the Detective.

On Tuesday Detectives Reid and Brown proceeded down the Kingston-road, in search of the parties who are supposed to be the principals who kicked William Long to death, and after a wearisome search they tracked Hugh Kelly, who lives on McGee street, to a butcher shop, where he was hiding behind a block. When Reid attempted to take him Kelly jumped to one side and catching up a butcher's knife made a vigorous lunge at the officer. The latter, however, quickly disarmed and brought him to the Central Police Station. A despatch from Stouffville this afternoon, states that a third man, Ferguson, also supposed to be a principal in the kicking, was arrested this morning in that village by a county constable. —Telegram.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

EXTENDING THE FRANCHISE.

The Independent-Reform Toronto World says:—"At present the franchise is very arbitrarily distributed. In dominion elections, heretofore, the franchise as existent in the provinces has been accepted; but as the qualifications are different in each province men are found voting in one province who, similarly situated in another, would have no voice in the government of the country. Practically, manhood suffrage obtains in Prince Edward Island; it does not in Ontario; but in this latter province farmers' sons vote, while the young men of the cities are disfranchised. A host of such anomalies prevail over the different provinces, preventing anything like uniformity in qualification. In consequence of this arbitrary distribution of votes, the Brampton Conservator calls on Sir John Macdonald to pass a law establishing a universal manhood suffrage for the dominion. Mr. Mowat should have done this when he enfranchised the farmers' sons; if he does not look out Sir John will take the wind out of his sails."

REPORTED MIRACLES.

Several miracles are reported to have taken place at St. Anne de Beaupre, within the past few days. The Gazette records the following:—A man named Renaud, who accompanied the paity from St. James' parish on Saturday, and who for three years has dad one side of his body completely paralyzed, was able on Sunday to walk out of church leaning on the arm of his brother. A farmer named Moulin, from Laprairie, who has been deaf for five years, fell on the floor apparently senseless, just as the officiating priest was pronouncing the benediction. He declared that when the priest raised his hands he could feel a touch upon his ears, and, at the same moment, hearing the low tones of the Holy Father, fainted away from excess of joy. He is said to have been in perfect possession of his sense of hearing on his return home. Another man who had lost his sight through an attack of typhoid fever a year and a half ago, states that immediately after crossing himself with the holy water, he was well able to see what was going on. His name is Bruneau, and he is a Lavaltrie farmer.

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposed to say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us.

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work. And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours. P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS AT THE SCENE OF OPERATIONS.

Arabi Threatens to Fight the Turkish Troops — The Bombardment of the Aboukir Forts Postponed — An Important Letter from Admiral Seymour — The Water at Alexandria Failing.

GREAT BRITAIN'S INTENTIONS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—Admiral Seymour has addressed a letter to the Khedive, stating that the English Government has no intention of conquering Egypt for itself, nor of interfering in any way with the liberties or religion of the Egyptians; that their only object is to protect the Khedive and the people of Egypt against the rebels. This letter produced an excellent effect at the palace, where it is hoped it will greatly strengthen the Khedive's position in the country. The letter will be published in the Moniteur Egyptian to-morrow.

THE INDEPENDENCE OF EGYPT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—Among the English there is doubt as to the advisability of the Government committing themselves to the independence of Egypt at the beginning of a struggle whose extent and magnitude there is no foreseeing at present.

THE WATER SUPPLY FAILING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—The water of the canal continues to fall. At this rate the city troops in six days will be entirely dependent upon the wells, cisterns, and condensers.

AN IMPORTANT SEIZURE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—An important seizure was made to-day. It consists of the secret correspondence which passed prior to the bombardment between the milltary party and the French officials. It was carried on through the agency of M. Minet, a Swiss gentleman, and a strong supporter of Arabi, at whose camp at Kafr-el-Dwar he is now believed to be. The correspondence is said to be very important. When published it will produce a very strong sensation. It is said to prove incontestibly all the suspicions entertained as to the military party being secretly supported by the French.

THE VOTE OF CREDIT.

LONDON, July 27.—In the House of Commons the debate was resumed on the motion for a vote of credit for the Egyptian expedition. Mr. Childers, Secretary of War, said the arrangements for the expedition were exceptionally complete. He defended the Government's estimate, saying he was sure Parliament would be indulgent if more money was needed. Before the vote Sir Stafford Northcote accused the Government of vacillation, hesitation, and neglect alike of the interests of the Khedive and the Porte. If the Government had dealt with Arabi earlier recent events might have been avoided. The Government delayed action until the last moment, and in the meantime had done all it could to irritate and offend the Sultan. Mr. Gladstone said the landing of troops could not have prevented the fugitive army from firing the town. Nothing could be more complete than the concord between Great Britain and France. He appealed to the House to support the Government's honest endeavour to promote the welfare of Egypt and establish peace and order. The motion for the vote of credit was carried by 275 to 19.

THE FRENCH VOTE OF CREDIT.

PARIS, July 27.—It is reported that the French Cabinet intends to withdraw the vote of credit to-morrow on the ground that the Turkish intervention renders a French expedition unnecessary.

AFFAIRS AT PORT SAID.

PORT SAID, July 27.—Arabi having sent for the assistant Governor, the latter applied to Admiral Hoskins for protection, and took refuge on a steamer. When Arabi learned this he ordered the commander of the troops to take the assistant Governor's place. Thereupon the Governor became alarmed and also took refuge on the steamer. The commander of the troops is known to have stated after the bombardment of Alexandria that he was awaiting orders to fire Port Said. The attitude of the natives toward Europeans continues most insulting. The soldiers make threats. The night before last the inhabitants of an Arab village, led by fanatical priests, attempted to enter the European portion of the town, but were repulsed by the military. The following day the French Consul applied to admiral Conrad for protection for French subjects. Admiral Conrad subsequently asked Admiral Hoskins to make a joint occupation to avoid trouble. This was arranged for.

ABOUKIR TO BE BOMBARDED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—The garrison at Aboukir having refused to surrender the forts will probably be bombarded on Friday. It is rumoured that Arabi has withdrawn with the bulk of his army to Damintour, leaving outposts at Kafr-el-Dwar.

ARABI'S NOTE TO THE SULTAN.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 27.—Arabi Pasha has written to the Sultan:—"I trust it is false what the enemies of Islam assert, that Ottoman troops are coming to Egypt, as I should have to oppose them by force." It is doubtful whether Cherif Pasha will consent to form a Ministry for the Khedive.

SOLDIERS BEING LANDED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—Eight hundred soldiers are being landed from the troopship Orontes.

ACTIVITY AMONG THE REBELS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.—There is great activity in the enemies lines, Egyptian soldiers disguised as Bedouins carried off ten cases of gunpowder from Fort Mukbebe near Meks.

TURKISH TROOPS FOR EGYPT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 27.—At the Conference yesterday the Turkish delegates declared the readiness of Turkey to dispatch troops to Egypt immediately under the conditions of the identical note. The first detachment will leave for Egypt in a few days.

A FALSE REPORT.

LONDON, July 27.—No confirmation has been received from Alexandria as to the defeat of the British, which was probably a rumor circulated in Cairo by Arabi's party.

ARABI'S THREATENINGS.

CAIRO, July 27.—Arabi writes to the Official Journal warning the Egyptians against the Khedive's proclamations, and declaring he is either a prisoner, or that he accepts the English protectorate, and that the army will do its duty in defending the country to the last extremity. The country is now identified with the army in conformity with the national will. If the commercial interest and political judgement of the great powers do not put a stop to the English invasion, which is supported by Tewfic, a terrible struggle must ensue.

A VAIN PROTEST.

PORT SAID, July 27.—Reinforcement are arriving every night from Fort Guemil. The governor considers the delay in occupying the town fatal. The British corvette Orion has arrived, bringing instructions which completely modify the situation here. De Lesseps protested against her entering the canal, but she entered without paying dues.

INCREASING THE ARMY.

LONDON, July 28.—The House of Commons has agreed to the supplementary vote for 10,000 men for the army.

THE EGYPTIAN CROPS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—It is believed that half the cotton crop of Egypt will be lost and also the greater part of the wheat crop of Lower Egypt, in consequence of neglect.

NO FRENCH TROOPS TO LAND.

ISMAILIA, July 28.—The British admiral has declared he will not land troops unless in company with the French. DeLesseps hearing this declared on oath to the Notables that as long as he remained no French troops would be landed.

PROPOSAL FROM ARABI.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—Arabi offers to retire to the Mussulman monastery of Syria. Among his colleagues, for whom he asks the same terms, are Toulba Pasha, Alifehoy Affutlah and Mahomoud Carny. An armed messenger was despatched by the British to Ruof Pasha to discuss this proposal.

TURKISH INTERVENTION IN EGYPT.

LONDON, July 28.—The Egyptians Unified stocks has risen four points since last evening. There are reports on the stock Exchange that Arabi declared he will not resist the Turkish troops, if they operate without a European auxiliary, and Austria and Germany have also reverted to the plan of exclusive Turkish intervention.

PROPOSALS OF PEACE.

LONDON, July 28.—It is reported that Arabi proposed terms of peace on the condition of being a voluntary exile, and the retention of his rank and pay as Colonel, for himself and nine colleagues. It is stated that the Khedive submitted the proposals to Gen. Alison. It is believed that this step has been taken at the instigation of the Sultan. The report has caused a rise in Egyptian stocks.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

THE PHŒNIX PARK MURDER.

DUBLIN, July 27.—A Dublin despatch says that it appears that Westgate, or O'Brien, arrested at Venezuela on confession he was concerned in the Phœnix Park murders, is a scotchman. On the day of the tragedy he sailed from Northwall for Swansea at 7 p. m., ten minutes before the tragedy occurred, consequently he could not have been one of the assassins. His friends were with him at Northwall an hour before the vessel sailed. The authorities are confident that Westgate is innocent, though detectives will probably be sent to bring him to Ireland to satisfy public feeling.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

DUBLIN, July 27.—A desperate but unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate the Recorder of Dublin at the Green street court house. A tutor named Fitzpatrick, who was nonsuited as plaintiff on a civil bill process, fired at the Recorder with a revolver in open court. He was seized by the defendant and a policeman.

PORT HOPE.

FINISHED.—The Guide says that the raising of the new cross on St. Mary's Church, which has been in progress for the past two or three weeks, is completed and all the scaffolding removed. It is a great improvement to the church. The work was attended with much difficulty and danger, but, we are happy to say, not the least accident of any kind occurred to the workmen engaged on the job. Mr. Alex. Jenkins was the contractor.

We pride ourselves in having the Largest, Richest and most Varied Stock of Gents' Furnishings in town. "Habiliment Hall."

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

HEAVY FIRING AT ABOUKIR

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—The sound of heavy firing is heard in the direction of Aboukir fort. Arabi sent a train to the Junction, and an armed engine and tender were sent out to meet it, and a few shots were exchanged.

BOMBARDMENT POSTPONED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—Lord Charles Beresford states that without the assistance of the American marines, he would have been unable to discharge the numerous duties of suppressing the fires, preventing looting, burying the dead and clearing the streets. The bombardment of Aboukir has been postponed.

AMERICAN.

MORMON CONVERTS.

NEW YORK, July 28.—A Mormon bishop with nine female converts started for the west yesterday. The Bishop said that he intended to marry them all as soon as they reached Salt Lake.

A DENIAL.

JERSEY CITY, July 28.—The report that the Erie Railway offered the strickers twenty cents per hour if they would renounce the Union, is officially denied.

ABSCONDED.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 28.—T. G. Williams, manager of the Colena House, has absconded. It is believed that he has embezzled ten thousand dollars.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—It is said that if Senator Morrill again calls up the Internal Tax bill, he will withdraw the Senate's amendment and move the adoption of the bill as it came from the House. It is believed that this will secure the support of several Republicans, who opposed it because of the tariff amendments.

A FAMILY QUARREL.

ST. LOUIS, July 28.—James Sullivan last night beat his wife. The latter's brother, Tom Shortelle, interfered. The two men fought like tigers, breaking all the furniture, and Shortelle snatched up a table knife and inflicted a wound eleven inches long on Sullivan's abdomen, letting out his intestines and flooding the place with blood. Sullivan's condition is critical. Shortelle was arrested.

HEAVY SUIT.

LOUISVILLE, July 28.—Ben. Holton, colored, brought a suit in the United States court here against John and Alexander Duncan, of Oldham County, for fifty thousand dollars damages. The Dancans, who are wealthy distillers, suspected Holton of burning their barn and hanged him till nearly dead, in order to make him confess. Holton persistently denied the crime.

HORRIBLE MURDER.

POMEROY, W. I., July 28.—E. H. Cumming, the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company's Agent, was found murdered in his house yesterday. His skull was split with an axe, and his money drawer and purse rifled. Two Chinamen are suspected.

HOP REPORTS.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The Sun says that hops sold at seven and eight cents per pound in 1879. They are now selling at forty and fifty, with the prospect of still higher prices. The principal cause is the failure of the English crops. Late advices represent the yield of English hops at 10,000,000 pounds, the requirement will be 68,720,000 pounds. There has been large speculative purchases in hops. There is as yet no reports of dificiency in the American crops, but there will not be more than enough of it to meet the home demand.

RAILWAY COLLISION.

MCGREGOR, Iowa, July 27.—Freight trains collided near here last night on the Milwaukee and St. Paul road. A fireman named Hibbard and two tramps were killed and several other persons injured. Most of the cars plunged over a high trestle.

A STEAMBOAT DISASTER.

NEW ORLEANS, July 27.—The steamboat Fanchon for Atchafalaga River blew out her forward flies after leaving the wharf this evening. The clerk was scalded and blown overboard, but rescued. David Hockins, second clerk, was scalded fatally, the first mate scalded and blown overboard, rescued; second mate scalded, a coloured fireman killed, and fifteen coloured deck-hands injured. Many of them jumped into the river. Some were picked up, but it is believed five or six were drowned. No passengers were hurt.

TORONTO.

Special to the Review, July 28.

A PETITION has been filed at Osgoode Hall by Gavin Henderson against the return of Lachlin McCollum, the Conservative candidate for Monk. Corrupt practices under the Act are alleged.

A QUESTION OF INTEREST to the legal profession was raised in the police court to-day. Mr. Jones was committed for trial on a charge of assaulting the police, the Magistrate granting bail. Bail not being forthcoming at the time, the prisoner was remanded to gaol; afterwards bail was offered, but the Sheriff's officer refused to accept it after the committal. The Police Magistrate is of the opinion that the Sheriff's officer was correct, as after the prisoner had been committed he was out of his hands. The matter will be tested.

AN ANGLICAN CHURCH SISTER-HOOD is to be organized here, over $12,000 being promised towards a sustenation fund.

ANOTHER COFFEE HOUSE is to be started here, the first having proved very successful.

As a remedy for Sea sickness, for any irrratation of the stomach and bowels, for canker of the stomach and mouth, for piles and hemorrage and for all varities of bowel complaints, Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is nature's true specific.

Mothers! Mothers!!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM.

THERE seems to be a growing impression that the plan of placing our Provincial educational system under a Minister has not been very successful, and that it would be well to revert to the old plan of having a permanent superintendent unconnected with the political parties. It is possible that comparative failure of the working of the present system has been the fault not of the system itself, but of the man. However, that may be, it is certain that since Mr. Crooks has been Minister of Education, there have constantly been very unsatisfactory results.

The Mowat administration has been so regularly in the habit of using its patronage for party advantage, that it is not strange that it should be supposed that the Educational department shares in this practice. Even if it did not, the very power of so doing, and the fear that it might be used, are in themselves necessarily detrimental to this very important branch of our public service,

There is too a constant tinkering with educational laws and regulations that are themselves far from salutary, and at the same time various abuses, instead of being checked, seem to acquire greater prominence.

One thing alone is amply sufficient to make Mr. Crooks an objectionable Minister of Education, and that is his determination to uphold in Upper Canada College, a High School for the benefit of Toronto, at the expense of the whole Province. It seems that we cannot get rid of this incubus without at the same time dispensing with the services of Mr. Crooks, which we feel sure would cause no very general regret.

MISS FANNY PARNELL.

Funeral of the Sister of the Great Irish Land Leaguer.

The funeral of Miss Fanny Parnell took place on Monday morning from Ironsides, near Bordentown, N. J., the residence of the late Commodore Charles Stewart. The procession was swelled by delegates, male and female, from the various branches of the Land League in New York and Philadelphia, about 200 of these being present. When these dismounted from the train, the ladies headed the procession to the house, which they entered at the rear door, and proceeded to the library, where the remains of Miss Parnell were placed. The body rested in a white oak casket, having gold mountings, and bearing on the top a gold plate with the inscription:—"Fanny Parnell, died July 20th, 1882, aged 28 years." The body was dressed in white satin embroidered dress and white kid slippers, and the head, which was slightly turned on the side as in sleep, rested on a white satin pillow, on which was arranged a bunch of shamrocks from the Vale of Avoca. Worked in silk on one corner were the words:—"Fanny Parnell with her native shamrock sleepeth.—Mrs. M. J. Burne." The coffin was in a bower of flowers, under which the delegation passed while looking on the face of Ireland's dead friend. The flowers taken by the delegation were unusually handsome. The funeral services began by Mlle. Rosa D'Erina singing "Angels ever bright and fair." The Rev. Nathaniel Pettit, Rector of Christ Episcopal Church at Bordentown, read the service for the dead to the words, "I am the ressurrection and the life," when Mlle. D'Erina sang "Ave Maria" and the ceremony was closed to be resumed in Riverview Cemetery, near Trenton, where the remains were taken by train upwards of 400 people accompanying them. At Trenton the coffin was put in the hearse and followed by Mrs. Parnell and her son in a carriage, and the rest forming a line of nearly 700 wended their way to Riverview Cemetery. There the funeral service was concluded, and the remains were placed in the receiving vault for disposition. It is now almost certain that they will besent to Ireland as it was said yesterday that an offer was made Messrs. Williams & Guin to take the casket over free of expense has been accepted.

SIR ARCHIBALD ALISON.

Sir Archibald Alison, Bart., K. C. B., who is now practically in charge of the British land forces in Egypt, is one of the heroes of Lucknow, the former Mogul capital of the Kingdom of Oudh, the last native ruler of which is a Government of India pensioner, living in magnificent Oriental state in his palace at Gerden Reach, near Calcutta. During that remarkable siege, the result of which, combined with the capture of Delhi, broke the back of the formidable Indian mutiny of 1854, Alison, then a Brevet Major, was Sir Colin Campbell's right hand man. Between him and Sir Colin there existed the greatest friendship, which originally became warm in the trenches of the Crimea, when Alison, performed yoeman's service on behalf of his chief. The friendship between the two soldiers was a notorioue fact in England, and when the Indian mutiny had made such headway that the Government determined upon enlisting the services of Sir Colin Campbell, one of the most famous caricaturists in the country depicted the old warrior shaving and answering to the representative of the public, standing at his bedroom door, that he was ready to start, but that he would rather not go unless he had Alison appointed on his staff. Alison accordingly went to India as Lord Clyde's military secretary, and in the records of the relief of Lucknow his services were frequently mentioned in terms of the most generous and enthusiastic approbation. Like General Sir Sam Brown, the great friend of the Prince of Wales, Sir Archibald is minus an arm, which he left in Lucknow. He has a long record of service. Born in Edinburgh, where his uncle was a celebrated physician, in 1826, he took his commission as a captain in the famous 72nd Highlanders in 1853. He was present at the siege and fall of Sebastapool. When the Ashantee war broke out he was appointed next in command to Sir Garnet Wolseley, and in 1873-4 led his brigade into action at the battle of Amooful, the capture of Bequah, the action of Ordashu, and fall of Coomassie, the barbaric capital of Ashantee. Sir Archibald is a son of the celebrated historian of "Europe from the commencement of the French Revolution to the Restoration of the Bourbons." He himself has dabbled in literature, but, like the thoroughgoing soldier he is, his principal effusions have been treatises on army matters. He succeeded as second baronet in 1867.

INCENDIARISM AT MARKDALE.

Two Elevators and their Grain Contents Destroyed.

MARKDALE, July 25.—A terrible fire took place here this morning, resulting in the total loss of two elevators and other valuable property. The flames originated in the elevator of Mr. J. McFarland near the railroad station. It soon became evident however, that it would be impossible to save the place, so all attention was directed to saving the elevator of Messrs. Hill Bros., which stands on the opposite side of the road. The efforts, were, however, unavailing, and it was not long before this building also was a mass of flames. The fire spread also to a quantity of cordwood near at hand. The railway station was frequently threatened with destruction, but by unwearied exertions, the people, led by Mr. J. Cæsar, station master, prevented this further catastrophe. The great current of air, caused by the fire, caused the embers to rise high above the burning buildings, and the breeze catching them they were driven in burning showers all over the village. In this way many houses were greatly endangered, and no doubt had the people been less active in guarding their own and their neighbor's property, the conflagration would have been much more serious than it was.

The great cry all along was for more water, not a drop being within several hundred yards of the depot or elevators. The railway siding was thrown altogether out of shape by the expansion of the rails. The main line rails were opened by Section Foreman Arnold, and their straightness preserved. One after another the buildings fell with a great crash, and the grain burst through the floor and sides of the elevators. A quantity of lumber (altogether some 80,000 feet) had been piled to the north of the elevators, and it was a long time before the boards were out of danger. The early train came in during the progress of the fire. The telegraph wires had melted with the heat and were useless north of the depot. The train waited for some time while some men made the cattle guards strong enough for the passage over of the train. This work was difficult, inasmuch as all around the guard were piles of burning wood and fences. Water was fetched and the fire in the guards put out, then ties were piled up in them to support the beams and rails which cross the guards, and soon the train was enabled to pass over in safety. There seems to be no doubt that the fire is entirely the work of an incendiary, and many and loud were the vows registered against the unknown perpetrators of the malicious act.

Mr. McFarland's loss is about $15,000, apart from his great loss in trade. The elevator contained over 6,000 bushels of fall wheat, $1,000 worth of timothy seed and a quantity of oats, barley, peas, etc. This is covered by insurance to a great extent,

Messrs. Hills' loss is much greater, nearly 10,000 bushels of fall wheat being in their elevator, which is only partially insured.—Globe.

TRADE NOTES.

THE whole product of the Kingston cotton mill, for several months in advance, has been sold, and the mill is to be so enlarged as to employ 25 more hands.

THE Kingston Car Works Company made their first contract for cars with the Kingston and Pembroke railway on July 14th. Other contracts are being negotiated.

THE new asbestors factory is to be established in the village of Luzon, P. Que., and the town council of the municipality has passed a by-law granting them a bonus of $5,000.

WE are pleased to learn that Messrs. Robert W. King & Co., of Georgetown, Ont., have just completed, and had tested their first Thompkins Circular Knitter (double machine). The test gave every satisfaction and the machine has been sold to Messrs. Leadley, Barber & Co., of Toronto. This is, we believe, the first machine of its kind that has been built in Canada, and trust it is only the forerunner of many more to be manufactured by the same firm.

THE Ottawa Citizen says one of the most extensive business concerns between Toronto and Montreal is the Messrs. S. & H. Borbridge's harness and trunk factory, in the magnificent new building on the corner of Rideau and Mosgrove streets. The Messrs. Borbridge's increasing business, which has now reached enormous proportions, has necessitated the opening by them of a branch store on Sparks street, in the premises formerly occupied by T. Shore and Co.

MR. FRANCIS SMITH, of Thorold, manufacturer of all kinds of plain and fancy knitted goods, has recently added six more of the latest improved English knitting machines to his establishment, which increases the number to fifteen. His principal lines of manufacture are first-class gloves and mitts for men and boys, also Cardigan jackets, ladies' amd children's fancy jackets, and many other special lines which he is introducing to the trade, to take the place of imported goods, and we understand with much success, as orders are well ahead.

THE Galt Reformer says some time ago we mentioned that Messrs. Cant, Gourlay & Co. purposed engaging in the manufacture of looms. The first machine was finished last week to the order of Messrs. Ellis & Godfrey, of this town. It has been tested by Mr. Godfrey and other practical men, and pronounced perfect in every respect, and fully equal to the machines which have heretofore been imported from Britain and the United States. We trust that the enterprise displayed by Messrs. Cant, Goulay & C. in embarking in this new industry will receive that encouragement which it so richly merits.

THE Sarnia Canadian says two of our recencently established factories are in full blast. The hub and spoke factory has two months' orders ahead; the window blind factory is running to its utmost capacity. The roof is on the stove factory; and Mr. Craig is to be here next week to select a site for the Agricultural Implement factory, which is to be built at once. The efforts of our people to draw attention to the advantages of our town as a manufacturing centre, and their faith in voting aid in the shape of bonuses, are evidently on the eve of being repaid by substantial advantages, in which not only the town but the surrounding territory will participate.

A NUMBER of enterprising citizens of St. Thomas, says the Journal, are making arrangements to establish manufacturing interests in that city. Messrs. Pollock and Baird, in conjunction with a gentleman from Pittsburg, Penn., have arrangements nearly completed to start a stove foundry with a capital of $100,000. Mr. Jos. Still is reviving his project of establishing a large waggon shop, with good chances of success. Messrs. Disher and Tait will ask the council shortly to exempt from taxes the bolt factory, now carried on by Messrs. Joseph Brent and James Sherman, for a period of ten years, and in the event of their request being granted they will put $10,000 additional capital into the dusiness.

We are constantly improving our stock with the Newest Designs and Patterns, so that Man or Boy shall not ask for anything in the Gents' Furnishing Line but what we can offer him.

A Canadian Regiment for Egypt.

During the Ashantee war Sir Garnet Wolseley is said to have expressed his regret that he had not with him a regiment of Canadians—men such as those who were led by him to Fort Garry. The General, it appears, had a lively recollection of the soldier-like conduct and the endurance of Canadian militia men. If Sir Garnet retains his admiration for the Dominion volunteers, he will receive with satisfaction the announcement that a body of Canadians anxiously awaits orders to proceed to Egypt to help there in fighting the battles of the Mother Country. That the assistance of a Canadian regiment will be accepted there can be little doubt. When the Canadian regiment, subsequently known as the 100th, volunteered, on an occasion when men were greatly needed, the circumstance was pointed to as an evidence of Canada's loyalty to the Empire of which she forms a part. The offer of another regiment at this juncture cannot but be considered as a renewal of the attachment of the Dominion to the Crown, and has an evidence that Canadians, though divided from the United Kingdom by three thousand miles of water, feel themselves as intimately concerned in the preservation of the honor and the supremacy of Great Britain as if they were the residents of some English country.—Toronto Mail.

Guiteau's People.

Mrs. Romaine, of St. Louis, and her family are in the city. She is a sister of Guiteau's father, and therefore his (Guiteau's) aunt. During his trial she wrote several letters to the newspapers, many of which were copied into the Canadian press. Her opinion of him was that he was insane and that he was not a responsible person. She thinks it was very wrong to hang him. Mrs. Romaine is a very clear and vigorous old lady. At one time she resided at Cape Vincent, when she was well known by many in Kingston. Two handsome daughters and one son accompanied her. She conversed freely about her unfortunate nephew.—Kingston News.

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

CAPT. BOYTON.

Novel Exhibition Given at Hanlan's Point on Wednesday.

A crowd, estimated to number 4,000, gathered at Hanlan's Point on Wednesday afternoon to witness Capt. Paul Boyton's performances in the water in his rubber suit. The exhibition may be termed, in a word, one of the most novel and interesting spectacles ever seen in connection with aquatic performances. The swimmer, having inflated his dress in the presence of the crowd, boldly took the water, and began propelling himself with a double-bladed paddle, head foremost or feet foremost, just as it suited his fancy. After displaying his speed, and demonstrating the control he possessed over his motions, he proceeded to hoist flags of various nations in succession, and with each one flying from the peak of his shoe scudded about in all directions. His next performance was to release four carrier-pigeons which he had confined in Baby Mine—the little boat he carries with him to hold his provisions and other accoutrements and accompaniments—illustrating thereby the value of his invention in transmitting the results of a reconnoitre. The captain next constructed a raft from logs, which he towed to the middle of the basin in which he swam, and upon the structure blew a horn, let off rockets, and then proceeded to light a fire, which done he engaged in fishing, soon had a bite, and presently a capture, in the shape of a specimen of the finny tribe never before seen in these waters. He laid his table, cooked his fish, and enjoyed his meal, much to the amusement of the onlookers. Smoking, reading, sailing, and gunning were then indulged in, after which he got his little boat in tow—or more properly on toe—and showed how he started out on a long trip. The swimmer's subsequent feats consisted in signalling, carrying a line from shore, paddling with a boy on top of him, and destroying a miniature ship by means of a torpedo. Everybody relished the unique exhibition, and went away fully impressed with the belief that Captain Boyton, clad in his rubber raiment, was, if not altogeter amphibious, the very next thing to it.—Mail.

KINGSTON.

PHOSPHATE MINE OPENED.—The Whig says that after the murder of John Richardson, his farm in Loughboro, was sold by relatives. It was purchased by Mr. Mackintosh, a phosphate dealer at Buckingham. He has been exploring the property, and we learn that an excellent mine of phosphate has been found upon it. The mine is now being developed.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.—This afternoon a lad named George Flett went with some companions to Cataraqui Bridge for a swim. The boys undressed and jumped in. Flett went down not to rise again. The unfortunate accident occurred at 8.30 o'clock. His body was recovered by his distressed father, who lives at 74 Colborne street, and is employed at Dunbar's clothing establishment. The little boy was aged about 12 years.

DROWNED AT NEWBORO.—A girl named Minnie Wallace, 13 years of age, was drowned while bathing in the lake at Newboro to-day. She went out bathing with two girls named Morahan, ventured too far, and was drowned. The body was recovered shortly after.

CAMPBELLFORD.

THE T. V. WOOLLEN MILLS.—The Herald says that an additional quantity of machinery has arrived for the Trent Valley Woollen Mills. The proprietors of this industry are beginning to do all that was expected of them. Entrance to the grounds will be made through an ornamental and expensive gateway, which the carpenters are now building.

REVOLVER ACCIDENT.—A little son of Mr. Geo. Mitchell, residing on the gravel road, Campbellford, was shot in the hand by the accidental discharge of a revolver, early one morning recently. The weapon was placed in the drawer of a bureau where a lot of other articles found a place of deposit also. The lad was in the act of "rummaging" through the drawer in quest of something, and either discharged the revolver while trifling with it, or caused its discharge by bringing the hammer in contact with a string. The ball passed through the palm of the boy's hand and came out at the back. The wound was dressed by a physician.

HASTINGS.

A BRISK TRADE.—The Campbellford Herald says that Mr. John Peters is doing a brisk little trade in his woollen mill at Hastings. He has five looms in operation—machines of superior make—and the supervision of the premises is given to Mr. S. Mirfield, formerly of Campbellford. A very good and saleable article in shirting and flannel is manufactured. Mr. Peters is not satisfied with the present dimensions of his manufactory, and he has decided at some further time to make an addition to his premises and to his means of manufacture.

MILLBROOK.

FOR MANITOBA.—The Messenger says that on Tuesday morning, W.H. Sowden, Esq., and his son, Master Fredrick, left for Souris, Manitoba, and took with them Mr. James Earle, brickmaker, and his son George, together with a complete set of brick-making apparatuses, with the intention of making bricks for the Souris Mill.

The Money Value of a Man's Life.

Col. J. L. Greene, President of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, contributes an interesting article on Life Insurance to the International Review. In the course of the article occurs this illustration of the money value of a man's life: "Take a man 35 years of age, in sound health, earning $1,000 a year. If money is worth 4 per cent interest the present value of his earnings for his probable after lifetime, by the American table, is $17,500. That is the cash value of his life to his family; that is the actual money equivalent lost by them if he dies; that is what they are in constant danger of losing; that is what he is imperatively bound to protect them against losing; that is the value of the substitute he must have always ready for that contingency. How many Americans, earning that sum, or two or three times that sum, with dependent families, have that substitute or any considerably part of it ready and really available? The loss goes on at a rate few appreciate. Take 100,000 men aged 35, in good health, earning $1,000 a year each; the present money value of their lives to their families is $1,750,000,000; and during that year there will be lost about $15,655,500; ten years later the loss is at the rate of $17,021,000; twenty years later it is at the rate of nearly $23,000,000; the only question as to the community is upon what famalies will it strike; as to the family, the only question is, when will it strike; as to the whole number, so many lives will go; as to the total value of all, so much value will be lost."

IT is remarkable that misers generally are long lived. Many years ago, Samuel Bailey, a farmer in the Isle of Wight, subjected himself and family to incredible privations. In order to save feed for horses they even did the ploughing and harrowing themselves, and would eat the flesh of animals which had died a natural death. Yet he lived to be 92.

THE male inhabitants of New South Wales appear to be in a sad condition. A great number of them find it to be physically impossible to procure wives. The other Australians colonies require about the same number in proportion to their population.

Drake, St. Urbain street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured.

Also, the no less surprising cure of Mrs. Benoit, 114 Cathedral street, daughter of Mrs. David Perrault, who suffered from asthma, and bronchitis for over eight years, and who is now perfectly cured.

Mrs. Adamson, of Belleville, cured of bronchitis, and her sister cured of bronchitis and lung disease.

The above is sufficient to convince the public of the merits of the Spirometer. The instrument will be expressed to any address.

Call or write, enclosing stamps for reply, to the International Throat and Lung Institute 75 Yonge street, Toronto, Dr. M. Souvielle and a competent body of English and French physiciann always in attendance. Every information given. Physicians and sufferers can try the Spirometer free.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)

THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

FRIDAY, JULY 28, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Driven In.

A driver last Thursday night drove one of his horses into the waterworks trench, but it was not very deep at the place where it went in, and it was got out again without doing it any injury.

Court of Appeal.

His Honor the Judge of the County Court, will hold a court in the Council Chamber to-morrow at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of hearing appeals from the Court of Revision.

Professor McPherson.

Professor McPherson has just received a consignment of his celebrated checks, which he will dispose of at most reasonable rates. Parties wishing to attend the class the remainder of this half can do so at reduced rates.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway, for the week ending July 22, 1882, was as follows:—Passengers and Mails, $5,581.08; Freight, $16,787.21. Total, $22,368.29, as compared with $18,617.96 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $3,750.38; and the aggregate traffic to date is $547,289.67, being an increase of $144,289.20 over 1881.

Woollen Mills.

Not only is Mr. Brodie, through the removal of McKee Brothers to their new premises, making use of the whole building formerly occupied by both firms, but he is also erecting a detached addition a few feet to the south of the large mill, for a dye house and other purposes. This building will be 60 x 40 feet. Mr. Brodie has been placing the machinery in the woollen mill as rapidly as possible, and expects to commence running next week, although all the new machinery will not be here for some time yet.

Something New.

Try our really delicious Water Ices, two flavours. Our Ice Cream has been pronounced the best in town, without doubt. A nice variety of Cakes and Pastry always on hand. Our Confectionery is also very choice. Chocolate and Coconut Creams and Cream Almonds a specialty. Everything manufactured on the premises can be safely guaranteed as good. Give us a call and be convinced that we are not making empty boasts. Don't forget the place: one door north of Bailey Bros., Humphreys & Carton.

Doing Well.

Bandmaster Millar, who is always striving to maintain the not unenviable reputation he has gained for his band, is now going the rounds of the town, soliciting subscriptions for the purpose of buying the new instruments for the band. He says that he is doing splendidly, the people responding to his calls, almost without an exception, in a way that shows the interest they all take in the band. The members will turn out this evening and give their weekly open-air rehearsal on the stand, corner of Water and Charlotte streets, weather permitting, when a splendid programme will be rendered.

Toronto Universility.

The result of the junior matriculation examination in Toronto University has been made known, and among the list of matriculants we find the names of A. F. Chamberlain, Miss C. Fair, J. A. Fife, J. D. Graham, F. Sanderson and E. Milburn from the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, and in the list of matriculants in medicine we notice the name of C. S. Haultain, (son of General Haultain) from Mr. Barron's school at Gore's Landing. In the honor list of junior matriculants Mr. Chamberlain's name appears in the first place in Class I for Latin. Mr. Graham was seventh in first class honors in Mathematics, and Mr. Sanderson also took honors in Mathematics. Mr. Chamberlain was first in Class I honors in English, and Messrs. Graham, Sanderson and Milburn also took honors in English. Messrs. Chamberlain, Milburn and Sanderson took honors in History and Geography. Mr. Chamberlain took first class honors, and Messrs. Milburn and Sanderson also took honors in French, and in German Mr. Chamberlain took first class honors, and Miss Fair and Mr. Sanderson also took honors in the same study. In the medical matriculation Mr. Haultain took 2nd in Class II in English and 2nd in Class I in French.

POLICE COURT.

VAGRANCY.

FRIDAY, July 28.—John O'Brien was charged by P. C. McGhee with having no visible means of support. O'Brien was found by the constable in a shed near Dickson street, on Thursday, lying with his head on a block of wood for a pillow, and an old pipe on one side of him and a bottle on the other. He was arrested and taken to the cells. He became so thirsty that he took off his socks with the intention of selling them for liquor, and in the Court this morning pleaded with the Magistrate and constables to get him one glass before he went up. He was sentenced to six months in the gaol at hard labor.

Run Over.

A dog was run over by a Grand Junction engine on Thursday night on Bethune street, and killed.

Blown Down.

A landmark—a large and very old willow tree—which stood north of Mr. W. Hamilton's foundry, was blown down during the storm on Thursday afternoon.

Journalistic.

The Lindsay Warder appears in an enlarged and improved form. We are glad to see this proof of the prosperity of our contemporary, and hope that it will become even a more effectual supporter of Conservative principles.

Lacrosse.

The first twelve of the celebrated Toronto Lacrosse Club, the ex-champions of the world, have challenged the Peterborough Club to play a match here, early next month. It is probable that the challenge will be accepted, when one of the finest games ever seen may be anticipated. The club meets to-night at Crevier's hotel to consider the matter, when it is to be hoped that all the members will be present.

The Weather.

The rain of yesterday and last night has cooled the temperature a great deal, and according to the probs we will have continued cool weather. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, and Upper St. Lawrence, moderate to fresh winds shifting to the west and north; fair, cooler weather, preceded by local showers.

Sudden Death.

On Tuesday Mr. John N. Watson of Bridgenorth died suddenly. Though he had arrived at the age of 82, he was working at his business as a plumber on the morning of his death till noon. After his dinner he went on business to the blacksmith's, where he sat down on a keg, but before he had been there three minutes he dropped to the ground and expired immediately. His loss will be much felt in the neighbourhood, as he was greatly respected by all who knew him. He was a widower and only leaves one son, Mr. H. W. Watson of this town.

Railway Notes.

The two front wheels of an engine jumped the track at the Midland Station on Thursday evening. It was drawn on by another engine.

The Toronto World notices that the conductors on the Midland look quite swell in their new uniforms.

The Stirling News-Argus says that the Ontario and Quebec is starting a gang of men near Mr. M. Presley's farm, a junction of the two railways occurring there.

The same paper says that work is progressing on the Ontario Central all along the line. Mr. M. Connors has obtained a contract for three miles of the road in the neighborhood of Wolfe's bridge, Marmora.

O. & Q. Railway Suit.

The Globe says that Mr. Gordon, solicitor for the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company, appeared on Thursday before Judge Mackenzie and produced the form of orders agreed on by both sides in the McMaster, Clarke, and Cooper & Royse cases. This order calls for the payment of sums into the bank, and warrants for possession will be made out when the Court is satisfied that the money has been paid. In the case of Clarke $600 per acre will have to be paid into the bank, and in Royse's case, $650 per acre. The Ontario and Quebec Railway Company v. the Rev. Alexander Hardie was taken up. Mr. J. Rose, Q. C., contended on behalf of the respondent that the notice was not a legal one. The notice was served on Mrs. Hardie, the Rev. A. Hardie being in the Lower Provinces. His Honour held that the service was not sufficient.

Personal.

We regret to learn from the Canada Presbyterian, that the health of Mrs. Fotheringham, formerly of Norwood, still causes anxiety, the trip to the Southern States not appearing to have been of much benefit to her. The Presbyterian says:—

"The Rev. T. F. Fotheringham, M.A., who left Norwood several months ago for California on account of his wife's ill health, has returned to Canada and is now residing at 10 Hayter street in this city. We regret to learn that Mrs. Fotheringham has not received any permanent benefit from her visit to the Pacific coast, and that the state of her health at the present moment is such as to cause much anxiety to her friends."

Mr. A. G. Scott, of the Stirling House, Stirling, is very ill at the Oriental. He had been north on a fishing excursion, and on Wednesday morning, while on his way home, was taken suddenly ill, and for a time fears were entertained of his recovery. He is now much better. Drs. O'Shea and Halliday are in attendance.

BELLEVILLE.

A CAPSIZE.—At a Baptist Sunday School picnic at Massassaga Point on Wednesday afternoon a boat containing nine persons, among whom was the Rev. A. Turnbull, pastor of the Baptist Church, of this city, capsized about a quarter of a mile from shore. Several of the party narrowly escaped drowning, but all managed to cling to the drifting boat until taken off by persons who went to the rescue in boats from the shore.

THE European, American, and Asiatic Cable Company proposes to lay two new cables between this continent and England.

LINDSAY.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.—The Warder says that about midnight on Sunday some one endeavoured to effect an entrance into the house of Mr. Geo. A. Fox in the South-ward. Fortunately the would-be burglar was heard as soon as he had got into the cellar through the window, and before he had time to take anything or make his way into any other part of the house, he had to hastily decamp to avoid being roughly handeled. This should serve as a warning for others to keep the windows of the lower part of their houses closed during the night, as it otherwise is an easy matter for any enterprising burglar to get into the house and help himself without making the slightest noise.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Wm. Begley, son of Mr John Begley, cabinetmaker, of this town, met with a serious accident on Tuesday afternoon by the knife of a planing mill. While fixing the belt of the planer the boy thoughtlessly placed his left hand on the machine which closed down upon him, cutting all the fingers of the left hand off at the joint. Dr. Poole was called in to attend the sufferer and amputated the remaining stumps of the fingers and dressed the wound. The young man bore the ordeal bravely, although painful in the extreme.

THE WRESTLING MATCH—The wrestling match which came off on Monday evening between Mulcahy, of Emily, and Harrison of the Midland Railway, was largely attended and we are informed considerable money was bet upon it. The match took place in the town hall and at the appointed hour it was filled with young men from various parts of the country. Mr. Simpson acted as judge for Mr. Harrison and a gentleman from Emily performed the same for Mulcahy. Harrison the first time threw Mulcahy, then Mulcahy threw Harrison. The third throw was given to Harrison by the judges and referee, but upon reconsideration the referee, Mr. Cody, decided it should be put down as a foul and that there must be another throw. This of course made some feeling and the referee admitted he did not know exactly what constituted a throw according to the exact working of the rules and after some discussion the contestants wrestled again, Mulcahy throwing Harriston this time. From what we can learn the match is not looked upon as a fair game nor conducted in a fair manner by the several parties interested, hence there is naturally considerable demurring about paying over the bets by losing men on the ground that the referee first gave a verdict one way and immediately after another. There was considerable money bet on the match but whether it will all be paid over under the existing understanding is doubtful.

Boys' White Shirts, Men's White and Coloured Shirts, with or without Collar, in all sizes at "Habiliment Hall."

THE indications of the approaching season seem to threaten an unusual ammount of the various forms of bowel complaints. Our readers would do well to supply themselves with some reliable remedy like Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as a safeguard against sudden attacks of Cholera, Morbus, Colic, Dysentery, &c., that unless preperly treated are often suddenly fatal.

THE firm of J. & S. McEachen, Douglas, writes us June 1st, saying "There is not another preparation we can recommend with so much confidence as Burdock Blood Bitters, as it invariably gives the best of satisfaction." Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of Blood, Liver and Kidneys.

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposed to say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us.

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work. And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

SATURDAY, JULY 29, 1882.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS AT THE SCENE OF OPERATIONS.

The Aboukir Fort to be Bombarded on Monday—Explanation in the Commons—British Artillery in Position at Ramleh—Obstinacy of the Sultan—An Assassin and Plunderer Executed.

MINISTERIAL EXPLANATIONS.

LONDON, July 28.—In the House of Commons Sir Charles Dilke stated that a telegram had been received from the Consul-General in Alexandria alluding to indirect communications by Arabi, with a view of surrendering the military party, but there been no direct communication from Arabi. Mr. Gladstone read, amidst cheers the instructions forwarded to the British Ambassador at Constantinople yesterday, saying England was glad of the co-operation of any power, but calling upon the Sultan to state dates for the despatch of troops, and before their despatch to issue a proclamation upholding the Khedive and denouncing Arabi as a rebel. Mr. Gladstone said a communication from the Turkish Ambassador in London announced that the Sultan would send troops immediately.

AN UNLIKELY RUMOUR.

LONDON, July 28.—It is reported in the House of Commons this evening that the Sultan had made overtures to Great Britain looking to the lattter's acquirement of Egypt on the same terms as those on which Cyprus changed hands.

CANNOT BE DUPLICATED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—The following is the verdict of Admiral Nicholson on the bombardment:—"We don't mind admitting, sir, we could not duplicate that lot."

BRINGING UP THE GUNS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—The British have now 24 guns in position at Ramleh. There will be no cessation of military preparations. It is thought that Arabi's offer may be only meant to gain time.

BOGUS BRITISH CAPTIVES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—A loyal native from Cairo states that a number of natives dressed in European clothes and wearing helmets have been paraded through the streets as captured British.

BOMBARDMENT POSTPONED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—Admiral Seymour having written to the Khedive, asking what measures he would suggest regarding the Abouair forts, which were a standing danger to the British position at Ramleh, the Khedive replied he had sent asking the garrison to return to their loyalty. In the event of a refusal he would leave the after measures to Admiral Seymour's discretion. If the garrison does not surrender, it is believed it will be bombarded on Monday.

A CHARGE AGAINST DE LESSEPS.

PORT SAID, July 28.—The French and other residents of Port Said have sent a memorial to Freycinet, the French Prime Minister, accusing De Lesseps of intriguing with Arabi Pasha to the detriment of European interests.

REBEL PREPARATIONS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—Arabi Pasha continues active in preparations to defend the road to Cairo.

A DEPUTATION FROM ARABI.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—A deputation from Kafr-el-Dwar arrived to-day, and will be given immediate audience.

AN EXPEDITION.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—A strong expedition starts this evening te seize and occupy a position on the railroad two miles from Arabi's camp.

MURDERERS AND LOOTERS PUNISHED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 28.—The criminal yesterday sentenced to death by the native tribunal was executed to-day. He was chained between two men who were sentenced to be flogged for looting, and was conducted through the town by natives selected to do the shooting. The procession was headed by a crier, who announced that the condemned man had been convicted of murdering Europeans. He was shot outside the gate in presence of the British delegates. The native orator who aided in inciting the massacres, and who has hitherto been hiding in town, was arrested to-day.

THE CONFERENCE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 28.—At the conference yesterday the Porte while consenting to send troops to Egypt expressed the hope that England would withdraw her forces. The rumour that Arabi declared he would resist the Turkish forces is untrue. He rendered an assurance of fidelity to the Sultan. At the conference yesterday the British Ambassador renewed his proposal for the issue of a proclamation declaring Arabi a rebel. The Turkish Prime Minister thought such a proclamation should not be issued until the Turkish troops had landed in Egypt.

THE SULTAN OBSTINATE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 29.—The Sultan told the British Ambassador that the demand for the issue of the proclamation against Arabi cannot be made by England alone, but should proceed from the Conference of the powers, in which case it would receive due consideration. The Russian Charge D'Affaires has been ordered by his Government not to attend the meetings of the Conference until he receives detailed instructions. The German representative has been instructed to recommend the Sultan to issue the proclamation.

A FORT DESTROYED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 29.—The fort at Sabari was destoryed this morning.

SPAIN WANTS TO PARTICIPATE.

LONDON, July 29.—It is reported that Spain applied for admission to the discussion of the eastern question, and is supported by Germany.

MAGAZINE BLOWN UP.

ALEXANDRIA, July 29.—The large powder magazines at Mekeherom, from which it was said that Arabi had recently taken stores, has just been blown up by the British.

THE ABOUKIR FORTS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 29.—Admiral Seymour will reconnoitre the Aboukir forts to-morrow. There is some doubt as to whether the bombardment of the forts will take place, because it is supposed that the prisoners held by the Egyptians are confined therein.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

NIHILISTIC ARREST.

LONDON, July 28.—A son of one of the Russian consuls at Roumania has been arrested on a charge of supplying dynamite to the Nihilists.

ILLNESS OF MISS PARNELL.

DUBLIN, July 28.—Miss Anna Parnell is dangerously ill of brain fever, brought on by the news of the sudden death of her sister. She does not recognize anyone. The doctors entertain slight hopes of her recovery. Charles S. Parnell has been telegraphed for.

AMERICAN.

FUNERAL OF MINISTER MARSH.

FLORENCE July 28.—The body of Minister Marsh arrived at the railway station this morning, and was received by the Mayor and principal inhabitants. The United States Charge d'Affaires thanked the spectators for their touching reception of the remains. The whole American Colony was present. The coffin, covered by the American flag, was deposited in the mortuary chapel, pending the burial of the remains in the cemetery in September. No addresses were made. Marsh's widow will continue to reside in Italy.

AN ABSCONDER.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The superintendent of the House document rooms, John Pollham, Virginia, readjuster, is an absconder. He is accused of having forged the name of Judge Hughes to a $2,000 cheque.

NO CONVICT LABOUR.

BENTON, Ark., July 28.—Last night a number of men forced a gang of convicts working on the railroad here to return to Little Rock, threatening them with death if they came back. Their buildings were then destroyed. It is believed that serious trouble will follow if the convicts are brought back. The excitement is intense.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE.

LONDON, July 29.—It is stated that Austria, having determined to grant a subsidy to a new line of steamships between Triesle and New York city, will also form and subsidize a line between Leghorn, New York and Baltimore.

AMERICAN.

THE CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—It is not thought that the House will enter upon any further business of importance this session. One reason for the speedy adjournment yesterday was that it was almost impossible to secure a quorum.

BRADSTREET'S WEEKLY REPORT.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Telegraphic advices to Bradstreet's Journal from principal trade centres shew activity in distribution of mercandise increasing from north-west, south and west. The weather reports are favorable for the crops. The business outlook at Boston and Chicago is especially promising. There were 122 failures in the United States reported to Bradstreet's Journal during the past week, nine less than last week, and 44 more than in the last week of July, 1881. The Eastern States had 21, an increase of eight; Middle 20, decrease two; Western 36, decrease four; Southern 30, decrease three; California and territories 25, increase 11; Canada reports eight, decrease three.

DIED OF GRIEF.

HAGERSTOWN, M. D., July 29.—The other night somebody entered the rooms where Jennie Boggs, aged 16, was sleeping and cut all the hair from her head. Her tresses were magnificent, reaching nearly to her feet. Yesterday Jennie died, it is alleged from cholera morbus, but the general opinion is that she died from grief at the loss of her hair.

A DENIAL.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 29.—F. G. Williams, ex-Manager of the Coleman House, denies that he has embezzled $10,000.

DEFECTIVE WATER-WORKS.

PITTSBURG, July 29.—Although an immense sum has been spent for the city water-works, there is a debt thereon of five million, the engines are practically useless from repeated breaks, and the city has to rely on the pumps belonging to the large iron manufacturers.

ACCIDENT TO MAYOR BEAUDRY.

Thrown from his Carriage and Painfully Bruised by a Collision.

Montreal's Chief Magistrate was a victim of an accident on Wednesday afternoon. His Worship, about five o'clock p.m., attended by his coachman, was driving down St. James street, and when near Messrs. Morgan's establishment, it began to rain heavily. Fearing a wetting, the Mayor hastened the speed of his horse, driving with one hand and holding an umbrella with the other; the result was a collision with a cab going in the opposite direction. His Worship's conveyance was upset, and himself dragged through the mud for a considerable distance, sustaining painful bruises. Two gentlemen who were passing stopped the horse, and thus prevented the affair from assuming a more serious aspect. The Mayor was driven home, and this morning is confined to his bed with severe pains in his limbs and side, which have necessitated the application of poultices. He does not anticipate getting about again for some days.—Star.

THE HORRIBLE RITES OF THE AISSONIA.

The hall has been evidently decked and garnished; the lamps burned brightly in the cupola amid the golden balls and ostrich eggs; the Sheikh was clothed in a rich silk robe of office and an awe-inspiring green turban, and a row of rush seated cain chairs was waiting to receive the expected visitors. In ten minutes six or seven hundred Arabs filled every inch of available space. The Sheikh Hamuda took his seat in the centre surrounded by the musicians, and an old blind Aissaouia, guided by a little girl, came in gently from a side door and sat down beside him. The Aissaouia themselves occupied the whole space covered by the cupola. The aisles contained the Moslem spectators of the first religious rite ever witnessed by Christian eyes in the holy city of Kairwan. Among the Aissaouia I noticed grey-bearded and decrepid old men, many sedate-looking shop-keepers I had previously seen in the bazaars, half a score of the Bey's soldiers, and a dozen children under 12 years of age, the sheikh struck a note on a drum; the musicians began to play a peculiar and menotonous tone gradually increasing in intensity. After a pause several of the Aissaouia rose, and swaying backward and forward shoulder to shoulder, shrieked a chorus to the sound of the drums. The music quickened and so did the chorus. Then one of the most wild looking of the singers began to throw off his clothes, and passed down the line to urge the others to shout with renewed energy. Then one of the Tunisian soldiers (he wore the Bey's brass badge on his red cap) seized a sword and began to lacerate his stomach. The blood flowed freely, and he intimated all the time the cries and movements of the camel. We soon had a wolf, a bear, a hyena, a jackal, a leopard and a lion. One man knelt down before the Sheikh, and holding two long prongs to his side, insisted on their being driven into his flesh with blows of a malet; this was done. A mere lad did the same thing. A burly Arab passed an iron skewer through the upper part of his nose and transfixed the skin of his face below the eyes. He rushed apparently toward us. Two or three powerful men knocked him down, and held him till the Sheikh laid his hands on him and whispered some mysterious formula in his ear. Another man in quick succession swallowed more than 20 large iron nails, there being no mistake whatever as to his really doing so. A large bottle was broken up and eagerly devoured. The frenzy then became general. While one Aissaouia plunged a knife through his cheek, another transfixed his shoulder-blade with a prong, and a third pierced his hand. A brazier of cinders was speedily emptied. Twenty different tortures were going on in twenty different parts of the hall. Three large bushes of the thorny Indian fig or prickly-pear were eaten up in almost as many minutes; and at last, before we had time to prevent it, a living sheep was thrown into the midst of the maddened Aissaouia; it was in a trice torn into shreds by eager hands, and still more eager mouths, and its still quivering and bleeding flesh gnawed to the bones with apparent relish.—Black's Magazine.

New Steel Smelting Works.

The steel association of Ontario have bought the old steel works at Niagara and are about to put up one furnace or perhaps two. They will employ 200 men. They have made a contract with a Toronto firm for $100,000 worth of steel horse shoes. A New Jersey firm have offered to take all the steel they can produce at a rate sufficient to pay the association 100 per cent. profit. Ther will work the Madoc Canadian ore which will be shipped from Belleville by water. The coal will be carried to Niagara by rail which is the nearest point to the Pennsylvania coal regions. T. T. Green, the mechanical manager of the association, has purchased all the necessary machinery to complete the works for carrying out the process.—World.

THE WATERWORKS.

Our contemporary the Examiner has a letter in its issue of this week signed "One of the small ratepayers," anent the water works company. The writer very nearly guaged himself correctly when he adopted the foregoing nom de plume. He would have hit it more correctly, however, had he adopted the title of "The smallest kind of ratepayer," viz., the man who would have his property protected without paying for it. The man who interferes with his neighbors' business in which he has no interest or liability, who charges repectable men, having the interests of the town at heart, and willing to spend their own money to do what they believe is best for the town, with the intention of misleading and taking advantage of the people, truly he is small enough. This small ratepayer charges the REVIEW with urging the Councillors to place the council and the ratepayers at the mercy of this needy company, and insinuates that what we said about the insurance companies signifying their intention of increasing the rates, beyond those heretofore charged, was not correct. All we have to say in this connection is that the REVIEW has not, any more than our contemporaries, urged the council to make some arrangement by which the town would have an efficient fire protection. We believe every man in town admits the present inefficient state of our fire protection. We are not aware that the company is a needy one, nor are we aware that the company has done more than a public meeting of the ratepayers held last year about this time, unanimously expressed a desire should be done, if it could be accomplished, that is, obtain some arrangement by which adequate fire protection might be placed within the reach of those who wished to obtain it on fair terms of payment. This is what we understand to be the position taken by the company, and the REVIEW has urged nothing more than that the council should make the best arrangements it can with the company to obtain such protection. Our contemporaries as well as ourselves have urged this on the council, and it now rests with the council to make such an arrangement, or allow matters to drift on as heretofore.

We are inclined to think this small ratepayer has not profited by the advice he says the late Judge Hall gave him "that while he was able to give good advice to others, he was unable to give it to himself."

PARTY EXIGENCIES.

THE Dominion Review, a self-styled "independent" periodical, but in fact a zealous advocate of free trade is very hard upon Mr. Blake. It says:—

"Any hesitancy on the part of a professedly Liberal politician to assert the right of every man to freedom in buying and selling, indicates either a want of clearness in apprehending the principles of true liberalism, or a want of courage in their defence. It is to be regretted that even the leader of the Opposition should, in his electioneering address, have spoken as if there might be some conciliation between the restrictive commercial policy of the Government and a thoroughly liberal legislation in regard to trade. From numerous public utterances Mr. Blake has made it evident that he accepts the teachings of National Economy in all their uncompromising hostility to restrictions on the freedom of trading either at home or abroad; but it appears as if the exigencies of party warfare had obliged him to tone down his electioneering utterances to chime in with the overpowering popular clamor for Protection. It is little less than startling to be told by him that Free Trade is an impossibility, that even a liberal trade policy allows protection to some industries, and that the protection which a liberal policy offers is distinguished from that of the present Government merely by being moderate."

THE Mail says:—"Regarding the object of Mr. Meredith's visit to Ottawa a variety of conjectures have been made by our esteemed Reform friends. It turns out that the leader of the Local Opposition had not, as was alleged, a political object in view. He has been at the capital on what may be termed a mission of mercy and justice. That he succeeded in his mission was announced yesterday, the O'Flaherty brothers, of London, who were arrested on the unfounded charge of complicity in the Phœnix Park murders, having been, in consequence of cable messages sent at his request through the Government to the Home authorities, set at liberty. The Messrs. O'Flaherty were Canadians and Ontarians, and it was kind of Mr. Meredith, as a leading man in the Province from which they hailed, to interest himself on their behalf."

THE Lindsay Post and Peterborough Examiner abuse the REVIEW, and then republish each others abuse. If either of our contemporaries could point out one instance in which we have falsified a fact or a figure, it would be more to the purpose; but they cannot. In matters of opinion we may agree to differ.

LINDSAY.

A CANADIAN OPERATIC AUTHOR.—The Post says that Mr. W. McDonnell, of Lindsay, the Canadian author, has written and composed an opera in three acts, entitled "The Fisherman's Daughter," which will be ready for the stage before long. "Experienced critics," says the Globe, "have pronounced a very favorable judgement upon the production. A desire has been expressed that the opera should have its first performance in this city with one of the local opera companies supplying the chorus. As British Grenadiers appear in two of the acts the services of the Tenth Royal Grenadiers will be requested from the commanding officers. Mr. McDonnell has also written another novel, which is now in the press."

STRAY ANIMALS.—The Mayor has issued his manifesto giving notice that all pigs running at large will be pounded—that is when caught. People are not expected to devote time and skill to the catching business for nothing, so a reward of 25 cents per porker will be paid. The same rule should be applied to the cows that infest the streets, destroying everything not hung out of reach on the telegraph poles. It is a question which is the most aggressive, the vagrant bovine or a neighbor's cow. Private experience decides that to have your landlord's cow lurking around to ruth in and lay waste a garden plot every time you neglect to throw a cable chain over the gate is worse than either. When shall we have a cattle officer who will make people who have cows keep them in their own yards?

NEW COMPANY.—The last Canada Gazette contains the usual notice that letters patent have been issued incorporating the "Lindsay Paper Mills Company (Limited)," which is composed of the following:—Col. A. A. Stevenson, W.D. O'Brien, Richard Jellyman, Richard White of the Gazette, A. A. Brown, Senator A.W. O'Gilvie, Henry Dobell, Peter A. Peterson, Henry J. Tiffin, A. H. Plimsoll. A. H. Sims, Charles R. Hosmer, Robert Campbell, George W. Craig, Miss Emily C. S. Bogg and Charles T. Gibbs, all of Montreal, and S. A. McMurty, banker, Lindsay. The notice states that the company is formed for the purpose of manufacturing and dealing in rice grass and other materials, used in connection with the manufacture of paper or paper stock or combination of paper and other materials. The capital is $60,000 in six hundred shares of $100.

NORWOOD.

HIGH WAGES.—The Register says that good men are being offered from $2.00 to $2.50 per day to work in the harvest field. One man, residing near this village, offered $3.00 per day.

TRAMPS.—Since the construction of the Ontario and Quebec Railway has became a surety, tramps of all kinds abound. They generally come in on the Peterborough road. Our villagers would do well to keep their back-yards and out-buildings locked.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. J. S. Patterson, while adjusting a belt on a circular saw in the Hub and Spoke Factory on Tuesday last, had the misfortune to have one of his hands badly fractured. We are pleased to learn, however, that in a few days he will be fit to resume work again.

RENTED.—That large building on Belmont street, known as "Buck's store," has been rented by Mr. McDonald, contractor on this section of the O. and Q. R., who intends using it as a store house.

CHANGED HANDS.—Mr. S. Brown has purchased Mr. Eddy's steam saw mill. He intends, we believe, overhauling and refitting the mill.

BELLEVILLE.

DROWNED IN A CISTERN.—The Intelligencer says that a son of Mr. Wilson Sills, who lives near the village of Tweed, was playing around the house on Wednesday when he was missed. A search being made for him, the trap to the cistern was found open and the little fellow, who was only nine years of age, was found in the cistern. Life was extinct.

WHENCE comes the name of Sozodont? It is derived from two Greek words signifying "to preserve the teeth" and it deserves its title, for there is no preparation which will do this more rapidly, surely and pleasantly. The Consumption of Sozodont is immense.

A LONDON DRUGGIST says:—"during the many years I have been in the drug business, I have never had a medicine that gave such general satisfaction, or for which there was such a large sale, as there is for Mack's Magnetic Medicine, advertised in another column of your paper."

THOSE affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

We are constantly improving our stock with the Newest Designs and Patterns, so that Man or Boy shall not ask for anything in the Gents' Furnishing Line but what we can offer him. "Habiliment Hall."

AUSTIN'S OLD STAND.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

Welland Canal Enlargement.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for the Welland Canal," will be received at this Office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western Mails on FRIDAY, the 1st day of SEPTEMBER next, for the deepening and completion of that part of the Welland Canal, between Ramey's Bend and Port Colborne, known as Section 34, embracing the greater part of what is called "Rock Cut."

Plans showing the position of the work, and specifications for what remains to be done, can be seen at this Office, and at the Resident Engineer's Office, Welland, on and after FRIDAY, the 18th day of AUGUST next, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and, in the case of firms, except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum of four thousand dollars must accompany the respective tenders, which sum shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque or money thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

Vegetable Balsamic

ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid Irritations and Inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiates or astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

THE FALSE PROPHET.

Mohammed Achmet, the False Prophet of the Soudon, was born in the region of Dongola, on the western bank of the Nile, where it makes its great bend. He was a poor man, a carpendea and boat-builder by trade. He first came into notoriety on the large island of Abbas, situated about 200 miles south of Khartoum. Here, after the fashion of the fakirs and holy men, he withdrew from society, and devoted himself to prayer and meditation. He soon had a following, and proclaimed himself the expected prophet and deliverer of the people. He wrote letters all over the country announcing himself and his mission. He was recognized at once as a leader, while many of the more intelligent Moslems repudiated him, others, moved both by religious and political motives, and who, above all, hoped that he would show them some way to escape the payment of their taxes, flocked around his standard. He was secretly encouraged and abetted by enemies of the Government residing at Khartoum. His presence in so commanding a position on the Nile soon became obnoxious to the authorities at Khartoum, and an expedition was organized to dislodge him. A detachment of 120 men of the regular army was sent against him on the island. These men were badly managed, and, although they were armed with the best make of Remington rifles, while Mohammed Achmet and his band had only their spears, they were killed one after the other as fast as they landed, till not one of the 120 was left. Not a shot was fired. It was a slaughter like the sticking of so many pigs. The steamer with its crew and one or two officers escaped back to Khartoum with the sad news. Of course, after this exploit, Mahommet Achmet knew that it would not do for him with his present forces to remain where he was. He therefore gathered all his following—men, women, and children, cattle and provisions—crossed the Nile to the west bank, and fled to a wild mountain called Gebel Gedir, 200 miles south-west of the Island of Abbas, and about ninety miles north-west of the penal colony and military station of Fashoda. Here, in an easily defended and almost inaccessible mountain, he took up his abode. The Baggara Arabs, the former slave-hunters of the White Nile, now began to flock to his standard in great numbers. This large tribe is noted for its restless, lawless, unruly spirit. It was the policy of the Government to let the rebels alone, now that they had left the river, thinking that they would soon lose their zeal and disperse for want of provisions. But a new Governor of Fashoda had been appointed, who considered it his duty to signalize his loyalty by organizing another expedition against the rebels. Contrary to orders from Khartoum, he gathered the military forces from Kaka, Fashoda, and the station at the mouth of the Sobat; in all, 600 soldiers of the regular army. With these he joined 200 men of the large native tribe of the Shillooks, under the King of the Shillooks—800 men all told. With these he marched six days across the desert by forced marches. On the seventh day, when the men were all tired out from the long march and utterly unfit for action, they met the enemy. Mohammed Achmet was again victorious. The fight was turned into a slaughter. Sixty men were taken prisoners by the rebels; only seventy escaped by running for it; and all the rest were slain. The Governor of Fashoda and the King of the Shillooks were both killed.

ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE.

Thomas Crawford Tired of Life, Starves Himself to Death.

On Thursday a horrifying spectacle met the gaze of a couple of young men, Fred. Verbe and J. Armstrong, who went to hide their fishing apparatus in a shed near the Kingston road bridge, on the bank of the Don. On entering the building they found a dead body in one corner. The police were at once notified, and, repairing to the place, took charge of the remains, which proved to be those of a man of advanced years, and were in a state of decomposition. A description of the dead man is briefly as follows:—He was of medium height, had small features, and gray hair, was slightly bald, and his face was covered with a short beard. He was dressed in a pair of dark pants, a gingham shirt, and one boot. In a barrel close to the corpse a pass-book was found, in which were the following entries:—

"July 11, 1882.

"My name is T. Crawford. Born in Douglas Upper Ward, Lanarkshire, Scotland.

"Anybody finds this write to my brother, A. Crawford, Breehead, Douglas, Lanarkshire, Scotland."

The next entry and the last, is as follows:—

"Wednesday, 12 o'clock.

"I have just one hour to live.

"T.C."

It was evident from this that the poor old fellow had dragged himself into the building, and, being without means of sustenance, had died of starvation. The deceased was known to the police as a vagrant. Coroner Riddell, on learning the facts of the case, decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The body was removed to the morgue and will be interred to-day, unless claimed by friends of the unfortunate man.—Mail.

Sad Drowning Accident.

About 11 o'clock on Thursday morning two boys named William and John Colman, aged respectively 12 and 10 years, and who reside with their parents on Shannon street, Griffintown, were playing together on a platform at Kilgallin's bath, when William, the eldest boy, accidentally fell into the river, and the current being very swift at this point, was soon swept away and drowned. His young brother at once bravely jumped in and endeavoured to save him, but was unable to do so, in such a strong stream and in fact would have been also drowned, had not two of Kilgallin's boatmen rescued him. The body has not yet been recovered.—Montreal Post.

All the People of the Dominion of Canada are Concerned.

Here are some more of the many hundreds of the leading people in the Dominion of Canada who have been cured of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung disease by Dr. Souvielle's Spirometer and instrument, which conveys medicinal properties direct to the seat of disease Read and judge for yourself.

Several of my family and friends have been cured of bronchitis, asthma and catarrh by using the Spirometer. John P. Whelan, Manager of Post and True Witness, Montreal. Mr. C. Hill, Montreal, catarrah and bronchitis. Mr. DeBoucherville, of the Indian Deparment, Ottawa, catarrh of many years, now cured; Mr. Geo. Ager, Ottawa, cattarrh and lung disease; cured. Mrs. Smith, London, wife of Medical Detective, cured of catarrh. George Maguire, Toronto, 482 Adelaide street West; daughter cured of asthma. George Willis, Exeter, Ont., Catarrh and Bronchitis. J. D. Armstrong, 186 Yonge street, Toronto, catarrh and catarrahl deafness. Thomas Telfer, 12 Merinda street, Toronto, asthma; cured. Mr. Benj. A. Drake, St. Urbain street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured.

Also, the no less surprising cure of Mrs. Benoit, 114 Cathedral street, daughter of Mrs. David Perrault, who suffered from asthma, and bronchitis for over eight years, and who is now perfectly cured.

Mrs. Adamson, of Belleville, cured of bronchitis, and her sister cured of bronchitis and lung disease.

The above is sufficient to convince the public of the merits of the Spirometer. The instrument will be expressed to any address.

Call or write, enclosing stamps for reply, to the International Throat and Lung Institute 75 Yonge street, Toronto, Dr. M. Souvielle and a competent body of English and French physicians always in attendance. Every information given. Physicians and sufferers can try the Spirometer free.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

THE most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany or at least originate there. The most recent preparation palced upon the market in this country, is the Great German Invigorator, which has never been known to fail in curing a single case of impotency, spermatorrhœa, weakness and all diseases resulting from self-abuse, as nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, languor, lassitude, depression of spirits and functional derangement of the nervous system. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

THE Rev. Charles E. Piper, formerly of Pittfield, N. H., but now of Wakefield, R. I., writes:—"I have used Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in my family for over two years, and as a result have not called a physician in the whole time. My wife had been an invalid for two years, but these bitters have cured her."

WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LIVER COMPLAINTS.

DR. KING'S DANDELION & QUININE LIVER PILLS (without Mercury.)

THE BEST REMEDY FOR BILLIOUSNESS, STOMACH DERANGEMENT, FLATULENCE, PAINS BETWEEN THE SHOULDERS, BAD APPETITE, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, HEAD-ACHE, HEARTBURN, and all other symptoms of disordered liver and dyspepsia. Acknowledged by many eminent surgeons to be the safest and mildest pills for every constitution.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere, The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, JULY 29, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Personal.

Dr. Brereton, M. P. P., for East Durham, was in town yesterday.

Run Off.

As a farmer's team were turning on to the Market Square this forenoon, one of the front wheels run off, letting the axle fall to the ground. The horses were held, and a jar and a delay were the only results.

Railway Work.

Mr. T. Cavanagh has just returned from Montreal, with one hundred and three good, strong men, for the Midland Railway Company. All the men are now at work between Midland and Orillia, fencing and ballasting the main line of the road.

Masonic.

Mr. W. Bro. Daniel Spry, of Barrie, the newly elected Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Canada, has appointed V. W. Bro. Samuel White, of Peterborough, and V. W. Bro. John Hull, of Lakefield, as Grand Stewards. R. W. Bro. E. H. D. Hall, of Peterborough, whose appointment as District Deputy Grand Master, of the Ontario District, we have already chronicled, has been placed upon the Sub-Committee on jurisprudence of the Board of General purposes.

The Weather.

The weather last night was decidely cool, and to-day the temperature is low, the sun not being very warm and the north-west breezes cool. The probs. predict a continuation of this weather. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes, and Upper St. Lawrence, moderate to fresh north-westerly to northerly winds, fair cool weather.

Strong Wind.

The wind during the storm on Thursday afternoon must have been very powerful. The destruction of trees, etc., which it caused was great. Shade trees were blown down in different parts of the town, among them a large maple on King street, near the Methodist Church on Charlotte street. A large pine tree outside the town, near Mr. Walton's, which was strong enough to assist in drawing the steam excavator used on the "Link" up a hill, by means of a rope, succumbed to the force of the wind and prostrated itself on the earth.

Something New.

Try our really delicious Water Ices, two flavours. Our Ice Cream has been pronounced the best in town, without doubt. A nice variety of Cakes and Pastry always on hand. Our Confectionery is also very choice. Chocolate and Coconut Creams and Cream Almonds a specialty. Everything manufactured on the premises can be safely guaranteed as good. Give us a call and be convinced that we are not making empty boasts. Don't forget the place, one door north of Bailey Bros., Humphreys & Carton.

New Music Store.

It always affords us pleasure to see young men succeed well when they enter the arena of business, and in going up and down George street, we certainly cannot help but feel a sense of pride that our young men are taking so prominent a place in mercantile life. Among those whom success has crowned (in more ways than one) we may mention Mr. A. L. Davis, who has established a first class business, and seems determined to keep the wheel of progress moving, and to that end has purchased the business lately carried on by Mr. J. I. Davidson. It is his intention to put in it a first class stock of books and stationery, and as the goods will be supplied from his stock and store, purchasers can rely on finding good assortments and reasonable prices. It is also his intention to make music a specialty. Full stocks of all the cheap lines of music will be kept on hand, at all times. We understand arrangements are being made to receive new publications of the highest class of music as it comes out. This will, no doubt, please a large portion of our community, and we wish Mr. Davis' new venture every success.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

SATURDAY, July 29.—Daniel Cushing was charged by P. C. McGhee with being drunk and disorderly on the street on Friday night. The prisoner was found lying on the street, and when arrested, resisted being taken to the cell.

The MAGISTRATE said that being lenient with the prisoner appeared to have no effect, as he would not heed a warning, and fined him $10 or in default of payment sixty days in gaol.

D. AND D. AND PROFANITY.

James Devine, whose actions on Friday night strongly contradicted his name, was charged by P. C. McGhee with being drunk and disorderly and with using profane and blasphemous language in a public place. The prisoner, who was a young man, appeared to have used most profane language without being in any way provoked, but just for the pleasure of doing it, and when arrested he gave the constable some trouble.

He was found guilty on both charges, and on the first was fined $5 or in default sixty days in gaol, and on the second $3 or thirty days in gaol, so that if the fines are not paid he will have to work for his country for three months to pay for one evening's bad behavior.

Council Meeting.

A regular meeting of the Town Council will be held in the Council Chamber on Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Board of Education.

The Board of Education will hold a regular meeting in the Collegiate Institute Building on Thursday evening at 7.45 o'clock.

The Market.

There was a fair attendance at the market this morning, and the prices of produce were maintained at a high figure. New potatoes are becoming more plentiful and are selling at 30 cts per peck. For butter 20 to 22 cents were asked, eggs 17 cts. per doz., chickens 35 to 50 cts. per pair, and currants 9 to 12½ per quart. A pail of raspberries were offered at $1.50. Vegetables are still coming on the market in small quantities and at large prices.

Open Air Concert.

The Fire Brigade Band, as was announced, gave an open air concert on the Market Square on Friday evening. Their music was enjoyed by a very large number of our citizens, who, enticed by the beautifully cool weather and the announcement that the band would play on the Square, came out in large numbers to enjoy an evening's quiet recreation. The band played in their usual excellent style, and rendered several very fine selections of music.

Lacrosse.

A meeting of the Lacrosse Club took place at Creveer's hotel on Friday night. The attendance was very large. The challenge of the Toronto Club was accepted, and the Civic Holiday, August 14th, was suggested as the day for the match. The excursion committee handed in a report, showing that everything was ready for the grand excursion, under the auspices of the club, to Idyl-Wild on Thursday next, and as the members of the club have been very successful in upholding the prestige of the town, and in endeavoring to show our citizens the playing of the best clubs in Canada, we expect that an enormous crowd will be present, for whose comfort extensive preparations have been made.

Trent Valley Canal.

OTTAWA, July 20, 1882.

My Dear Mr. Logan:

Knowing the interest which you, as well as my constituents generally, take in the Trent navigation, I write a line to say that Mr. Hilliard, M.P., Mr. Dundas, M.P., Mr. Harry Smith, of Peterborough, and myself, had an interview with Sir Charles Tupper today on the subject in order to press the work being prosecuted without delay. Sir Charles explained the causes of the delay in giving out the contract, from the utter inability of the engineers to get the plans and specifications ready, and promised to use every exertion to press on the work this season. We insisted on other engineers being called in if the present staff was insufficient, and I feel satisfied that the locks at Fenelon Falls at least will be put under contract within a very short time.

Yours very truly,

Rev. W. Logan, HECTOR CAMERON.
Fenelon Falls.

Railway Notes.

A despatch from Winnipeg to the Globe says that President Stephen says the Syndicate never for a moment entertained the idea of abandoning the Lake Superior section, which will assuredly be built soon after August 1st.

The Intelligencer says that Mr. Jas. Nosworthy has since last January, supplied the Kingston & Pembroke Railway with 30,000 ties, the Toronto & Ottawa with 20,000, and the Grand Junction with 20,000.

The Ontario and Quebec Railway are removing the carts, which have been stored in the Midland station yard, to the places where the construction of the road is in progress.

The Lindsay Post says that during the week a number of the new excursion cars put on the road by the Midland have been in use over the line, from Toronto north. They are comfortable roomy cars, covered and well-seated. An additional convenience is that the passengers can get off and on by the entrance at the sides of the cars, no small consideration when the hasty way in which excursionists clamber on to trains is considered. The cars will enable the road to meet the heavy demand for train service in this direction.

The same paper says that Mr. B. Gibson, of Whitby, who built the extension of the Whitby railway to Lindsay, has secured the contract for the section of the O. Q. railway extending from the Whitby and Darlington townline east, a distance of seventeen miles. He has commenced work with a full force, and will make a first-class job of it.

Boys' White Shirts, Men's White and Coloured Shirts, with or without Collar, in all sizes at "Habiliment Hall."

The Waterworks.

The rapid progress made in constructing the trench and laying the mains down George street for the waterworks has caused not a little comment. The workers have now passed Charlotte street, and the pipes are laid and the trench covered through the main business part of the town.

St. Andrew's Churches.

The Belleville St. Andrew's Church excursion comes here on Thursday, August 3rd. On the same day the Peterborough St. Andrew's Church Sunday School Pic-nic will be held on the grounds of J.J. Lundy, Esq., Ashburnham, and the band will be present during the evening.

A New Bus.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that a splendid omnibus is being manufactured at St. Charles for the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough. The ornamental painting on the panels is superexcellent. Besides scroll-work, &c., there are several beautiful landscapes, "all done out of the artist's brain." The bus will be completed next week.

Court of Appeal.

His Honor, the Judge of the County Court, held a court in the Council Chamber to-day to hear appeals from the Court of Revision. The only appeal was that of Mr. T. Bradburn against his assessment on personal property. After hearing the evidence the Court adjourned, the decision of the Judge to be given on Monday.

Lacrosse District Championship.

The Toronto Globe says that Peterborough is anxious to secure the district championship medal for Centre Ontario, and with this object in view the lacrosse players of that town have written to Mr. McNaughton asking that he should arrange a match for them with another club in the same district. It is very likely that their wish as far as the match is concerned, will be gratified, and then the question of the championship will remain with themselves. However, Peterborough has shown a commendable spirit and it would be well if its course in this respect was followed by other towns throughout the Province. With the emblem of championship for Centre Ontario in the possession of the club entitled to it there will be two medals in the field, and as there will be still two remaining the clubs in Western and Eastern Ontario should be heard from immediately. If the proper spirit is shown by the lacrosse organizations in the two districts last mentioned the four medals and accompanying championships should be competed for and won before the season closes.

C. BRITTON, Lindsay, Ont., writes :—"I have much pleasure in recommending Baxter's Mandrake Bitters in all cases of Jaundice, Biliousness, Sick Headache and Liver Complaint, for they have given universal satisfaction, and I have sold more of them the past season than any other one patent medicine."

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposed to say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us.

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work. And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $ per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

GREAT BRITAIN AT WAR.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS AT THE SCENE OF OPERATIONS.

The French Ministry are Defeated and Resign—The Sultan's Obstinacy and the Porte's Duplicity—Illness of General Wolseley—De Lesseps' Intrigues—Murders Constantly Occurring.

CHERIF PASHA VISITS THE KHEDIVE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 29.—Cherif Pasha visited the Khedive this evening and then proceeded to his residence on the Mahomoudieh canal. The condition of affairs at Port Said is very critical.

DE FREYCINET ON FRENCH INTERVENTION.

PARIS, July 29.—M. De Freycinet, in proposing the vote of credit to the Chambers, said, "The Government make a direct appeal to the confidence of the Chamber, and in this Ministers are unanimous." After the vote the Ministers tendered their resignations to President Grevy, who requested them to continue to transact the business of their offices pending the appointment of their successors.

DE LESSEPS ROUGHLY HANDLED.

LONDON, July 29.—The conduct of De Lesseps is severely criticised. It is reported he is in daily communication with Arabi Pasha.

ILLNESS OF GENERAL WOLSELEY.

LONDON, July 29.—It is stated that General Sir Garnet Wolseley, who was designated to take the command of the British forces in Egypt, is rather seriously indisposed.

THE POLITICAL CRISIS IN FRANCE.

PARIS, July 29.—The President to-day had a conference with the Presidents of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies. The newspapers consider the vote against the Government more clearly shows a coalition of enemies of the Cabinet than any precise indication of opinion of the Chamber or foreign politics. The Gambettist journals advise Grevy to summon Brisson, President of the Chamber of Deputies, to form a new Cabinet. It is doubtful whether Brisson will accept. The crisis is likely to last some days.

DEPARTURE OF THE SCOTS' GUARDS FOR EGYPT.

LONDON, July 29.—The Scots Guards, seven hundred and fifty strong, left their barracks this morning and embarked on a transport for Egypt.—There was a great crowd outside the barracks, and the enthusiasm was tremendous. Some of the guards were lifted off their feet. The Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, the Duke of Cambridge, commander-in-chief, and Secretary of War Childers were present.

COURTING STRIFE.

CAIRO, July 29.—It is the design of the Ulemas to force a religious war, and their supremacy carried the day in Cairo. Their convictions have been forced upon the Sultan, and they have gone so far as to urge that all the available Turkish troops be despatched to Egypt and placed under the command of Arabi Bey, and common war waged against England. It is not improbable, under the present serious complications, that the Turkish troops sent to Egypt will be arrayed against the British forces. A feeling of general alarm and insecurity prevails among all classes, except the Mussulman fanatics who are courting strife.

RUSSIA AND THE CONFERENCE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 29.—The various Governments asked their representatives here for explanations regarding the absence of the Russian delegate from Thursday's sitting of the conference, but representatives profess themselves unable to explain the cause. They state an arrangement would have been reached on Thursday between the Porte and the conference but for the absence of Onou, the Russian delegate. An adjournment at such a moment was regarded as seriously endangering the success of the conference. The English, French, and Italian Ambassadors had received important instructions from their Governments which they were unable to communicate to the conference.

DESTROYING THE CANNON.

ALEXANDRIA, July 29. — Explosions were heard here throughout the day. They were caused by the British destroying the cannon and powder magazines in the forts. Two armed parties started to-night from Alexandria passenger station and Gabari goods depot to repair the railways cut by the rebels on Alexandria side of Mahalla junction.

THE PLOT TO MURDER ARABI.

ALEXANDRIA, July 29.—Osman Pasha, Kifki, and twenty-six Circassian officers implicated in the recent plot to assassinate Arabi arrived here to-day from Constantinople, having been summoned by telegraph by the Khedive. They were received with great ceremony.

THE "TIMES" ON THE FRENCH POLICY.

LONDON, July 29.—The Times says it appears that France adheres to the policy of abstention from intervention in Egypt, and if she takes action at all it will be confined to providing for the security of the canal. It is, however, clear that M. de Freycinet's timorous policy does not command universal assent in France, and even if the Ministry should weather the storm it is likely to undergo important modifications through the defection of M. Say, Minister of Finance, and possibly of M. Jules Ferry, Minister of Public Instruction.

AN EXPLANATION WANTED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 29.—The Porte has requested Lord Dufferin to explain the extraordinary severity of the British at Alexandria.

FRENCH MILITARY MOVEMENTS.

PARIS, July 29.—In consequence of the rejection of the motion for a vote of credit all movements of the troops and fleet have been stopped. The commander of the French fleet in Egyptian waters has been ordered to maintain a strict neutrality.

CHARGES AGAINST DELESSEPS.

PARIS, July 29.—Admiral Conrad has telegraphed the French Government accusing M. de Lesseps with inciting the natives to unwonted excitement at Port Said, and says de Lesseps has gone to Ismailia to oppose the landing of English troops. De Lesseps threatens to envoke the aid of the Bedouins.

STRAINED RELATIONS WITH THE PORTE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 29.—So delicate have relations become between the Porte and England that the withdrawal of Lord Dufferin from the conference is predicted. The Porte firmly holds that England alone is not empowered to demand the issuance of a proclamation against Arabi citing him as a traitor.

THE BOMBARDMENT STILL UNSETTLED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 29.—The Helicon with Admiral Seymour returned from Aboukir, where she went to reconnoitre. The Admiral found operations actively progressing at the forts, which were well armed.

MORE ARAB LOOTING.

ALEXANDRIA, July 29.—A hundred Bedouins looted houses at Ramleh last night. The English dragoman house was completely emptied.

TURKISH TROOPS FOR EGYPT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 29.—The Porte denies that it has received any telegram announcing the submission of Arabi Pasha. 15,000 troops have been ordered to proceed to Egypt next week. The military commission is of opinion that the expedition to Egypt should consist of an advance guard and three divisions of 12,000 men each.

ARABI'S FAMILY.

ALEXANDRIA, July 31.—Arabi's whole family is located at a village a few miles from Pmalia.

SUCCESSFUL EXPEDITIONS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 30.— Plundering houses just outside the British lines at Ramleh continues. A culprit was caught last evening and killed by the patrols. Two expeditions, which left last night to repair the railroads cut by rebels on the Alexandria side of Mahalla junction were completely successful. The expedition consisted of British sappers, sailors and marines and Egyptian railroad workmen. Both lines of the road were repaired and a considerable number of railway waggons brought to Alexandria. The British portion of the expeditions returned without encountering the enemy. The rebels are making every effort to fortify the vicinity of Port Said.

THE SULTAN STILL OBSTINATE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 30.—The British Ambassador again sent Mr. Sandeson, secretary of the legation, to ask the Sultan to issue a proclamation denouncing Arabi Pasha a rebel. Sandeson gave the Sultan conciliatory explanations, stating that England did not aim at a protectorate over Egypt. He asked for particulars concerning the composition of the Turkish expedition to Egypt. The Sultan gave no satistactory answer. It is stated he is irritated at England's action, and has sent verbal messages through Sandeson that he would do nothing for England, but would only yield to the wishes of Europe.

FALSE STATEMENT BY ARABI.

ALEXANDRIA, July 31.—It is reported that the garrison of Aboukir has surrendered to the British. A traveller in Sion reports that Arabi has issued a manifesto declaring that the Khedive has sold Egypt to the British and has retired to England. Arabi and fifty Europeans from Upper Egypt still remain at Sion. The French directors at the Feh and Cairo water works are retained at their post. Murders are constantly occurring in the railway trains. The mob search every train for Christians. The Governor of the town of Muneha, 136 miles south-west of Cairo, endeavored to resist an attempt of Arabi to interrupt railway communication, but was taken to Cairo and imprisoned

TURKISH DUPLICITY.

LONDON, July 31.—The Times says: Apart altogether from the evidence of the double dealing of the Porte already furnished during the last two months, we have reason to believe that the expedition it has determined to send to Egypt is for no other object than to thwart and oppose the efforts now being made to restore order there.

IRELAND.

THE crops in the North-west of Ireland are reported to be in a frightful condition, owing to the prolonged wet weather.

IT is reported in Dublin that a conspiracy to assassinate Cardinal McCabe has just been frustrated by the devotion of his own flock, not by the vigilance of the police.

A PROJECT is suggested for connecting Scotland with Ireland by asubmarine tunnel between Wigtownshire and Antrim, running from Portpatrick to Donaghadeed. M. Lessips is to visit the locality, and to report upon the plans.

Mothers! Mothers!!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

PEARLS.—Get your mouth full by using TEABERRY, the new wonder for the teeth and breath. Brush vigorously. See directions. 5 cent samples.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

AMERICAN.

A SUSPICIOUS DEATH.

SALEM, Mass., July 31.—The funeral of Geo. Proctor, a prominent citizen, whose death of paralysis was reported on Thursday, was stopped yesterday by a medical examiner, who found a bullet wound on the back of his head, which the physicians say could not have been self-inflicted. Proctor was found in the cellar of his residence and his wife was holding his head. A new revolver was found with an empty chamber under the stairs. His own revolver was found undischarged at the store. It is said that Proctor's domestic affairs for some time were unpleasant.

A NEGRO LYNCHED.

TRENTON, Mo., July 31.—Early yesterday morning 100 masked men forced the door of the jail and took out a negro named Henry Caldwell, charged with criminally assaulting Mrs. Peck, aged 60. The negro begged piteously for life. He was marched to the railroad bridge, and one end of the rope was fastened to the hand rail and the other to his neck and then pushed off. The corpse was found yesterday still dangling there.

AN EMIGRATION TAX.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Some doubt is expressed whether the bill regulating emigration will receive the approval of the President, in consequence of the difficulty of construing it so as to affect only emigrants as they are ordinarily known. The bill declares that there shall be paid a duty fifty cents for every passenger not a citizen of the United States, who comes from a foreign port to any port in the United States. The question is now raised whether this would not compel the payment of fifty cents for each person, whether an emigrant or visitor, or whether coming to the United States for pleasure, for a temporary visit or a stay permanently. It is argued that passengers by ferry boats from Canada to the United States will be liable to the imposition of this tax for every visit, even if made twice a day. It is suggested by those who examined the bill that power is accorded to the Secretary of the Treasury to make rules and regulations which may mitigate the apparent severity of the Act.

A HEROINE DEAD.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Mrs. Margaret Henderson, who made the flag for Fort McHenry, which inspired Key to write the "Star Spangled Banner," died here on Saturday, aged 85.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The value of imports to this port during last week exceeded the exports by $3,112,000. The excess of imports during the same week last year was $826,000.

BOAT CAPSIZED.

NEW BRIGHTON, S. I., July 31.—A boat with three persons attending a pic-nic, capsized on Silver Lake on Saturday night. Mr. Porschel, of Hoboken, was drowned. The others clung to the boat and were rescued.

FIRE.

SILVERCLIFFE, Col., July 29. — Stacey & Knight's smelting works have been burned. Loss, $50,000.

PENNSYLVANIA FORESTS.

The State board of agriculture, which recently met at Harrisburg, took steps to ascertain what proportion the timber land of the state bears to the entire acreage. Since then statistics which have been obtained indicate that about one-fourth of the acreage is woodland, and that its tendency is toward a marked decrease in quantity. The chairman of the committee on forests and forestry, Wm. S. Roland, of York, forsees impaired health and discomfort of the people, and deleterious effects upon the business relations of the state, if the destruction of Pennsylvania forests is allowed to go on without something being done in the way of repair. "Trees are the dominating members of the vegetable kingdom. They are the necessary factors in the sum total of those influences which constitute the environment of animal life. Trees by absorbing carbonic gas and emitting oxygen, act as agents in rendering the atmosphere life-sustaining. By interposing their foliage between the sun and the earth, they serve a useful purpose in sheltering the soil from the heat, and, as conductors of heat, in equalizing the temperature of the earth and air. The forest, too, guards the soil against abrasion and the displacement from torrents and overflows, and thus again exerts its conservative influence for man's good. We need trees for the delight they afford, as at once the most majestic, imposing and beautiful of nature's vegetable forms. The state cannot afford and should not much longer withhold, or refuse to give the subject of our forests its most serious attention." Mr. Roland notes the encouragement which tree planting is receiving in other states, and thinks these examples should be imitated in Pennsylvania. He suggests intelligent legislation, the organization of local agricultural societies, and the support of the state board of agriculture. In this way much good could be accomplished, in his judgment, toward creating public sentiment with regard to the question, and starting a general movement for the repair of the wastes which have been made in the forests of Pennsylvania.—Williamsport Gazette.

W. H. CROOKER, Druggist, of Waterdown, under date of June 1st, writes that "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cannot be surpassed, when all other remedies fail then it comes to the rescue, and I find the sales large and increasing." Wild Strawberry positively cures all Bowel complaints.

HARVELL'S CONDITION POWDERS.—Live stock of every description, whether hogs, poultry, sheep, horses or oxen, are improved in weight, quality and health by these celebrated powders. No stable or barn yard can pay fully where they are not used. Just give them a trial. Sold everywhere.

THROUGH the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, for by their use the Digestive Organs are invigorated, the Bowels kept regular and the Blood rendered pure and cool. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully, druggist.

THE CANADIAN NORTH-WEST.

When we find that many of our own people are unpatriotically belittling our great North-West territories and provinces, the Railway Company which is connecting them and developing their resources, and the government which is so rapidly promoting their settlement, it is interesting to note what our neighbours think of those matters. In the August number of Harper's Monthly Magazine there appears an article on the "Canadian Pacific Railway and the new North-West," by Mr. T. E. Prendergast, containing the observations of an impartial eye-witness, and illustrated by a carefully prepared map. Information from such an unprejudiced source is well worthy of attention.

The writer has no sympathy with those unworthy Canadians who would fain have us believe that these regions are but a second Siberia. Though he does not conceal that there are some drawbacks, he gives a very favourable description of the country, its capabilities and the future in store for it. He describes it for instance as "a land where wheat and many other grains and root crops attain their fullest perfection, and well fitted to be the home of a vigorous and healthy race." Of the North-West coast he gives a glowing account, adding that "the greatest riches of coal and iron, so far as known, lie within the British possessions."

This foreign and unbiassed observer also has no sympathy for the false assertions that either the land or the land regulation are less favourable for settlement than in the United States. He says that "it is evident that the growth of this region will be rapid, probably more rapid indeed, than that of our own Western States that lie beyond the lakes." Comparing the regions traversed by the Northern Pacific and Canada Pacific Railways, he says: "The two railways are not far apart, and the Canadians have quite as good, if not better lands to offer." It is evident that the writer does not believe that it is necessary, either for Canadians or immigrants from Europe to go to Kansas or Texas, or even to Minnesota or Dakotah, to find suitable lands on which to settle.

As to the land regulations, the testimony of this important witness is no less satisfactory. He says:—"In the new North-west we see a land that has remained isolated from the rest of the world, untrodden except by the Indian or the trapper, suddenly thrown open for settlement, and on terms as liberal as those offered by our Government or land-grant railroads." We find here no untrue statement of Canadian regulations that impede settlement, nor of United States regulations that are so far more favourable. He leaves such misrepresentations to renegade Canadians.

One of the principal objects of our author is to describe our great railway, which he does very thoroughly. He does justice, like all impartial observers, to the energy and rapidity with which they are carrying on their operations, and are even exceeding their contract. Nor does he seem to think that the Syndicate was so greatly overpaid for its services. He says:—"As to future of the Canadian Pacific Railway it is hard to predict. That it will serve the purpose for which it was built, namely to settle up the country and link the colonies in a closer union is certain, that it will be profitable to operate is less so."

Does not this ensure that to avoid loss the company must continue its effort to promote the settlement of the country? As our writer puts it: "No doubt the Government hoped, by intrusting the enterprise to private hands, to hasten both the completion of the railroad and the settlement of the country, as it was manifestly to the interest of the Syndicate that their lands should be sold and settled as rapidly as possible, which could hardly be done except as the road was built."

A perusal of this interesting article will strengthen the existing conviction that the Conservative policy in regard to our great national railway and to our lands in the North-West was well devised, and that though long impeded by the party manœuvres of the Opposition, it is now being successfully carried out with the happiest results.

The Guelph Herald makes the following very explicit charge against Mr. Mowat's administration, which it certainly should not do unless it has the proofs it mentions:—

"We distinctly charge that the Ontario Government did by its recognized and authorized agents endeavour to corrupt voters in the Dominion elections by threatening tavern keepers with a withdrawal of their license unless they voted for the Blake candidate. We challenge the Globe, as the organ of the Local Government, to deny this, for if is does, we have names and dates which we are at liberty to use, showing the corrupt interference of the Mowat Administration."

A PAUPER'S CRIME.

He Visited His Wife, and Because She Refused Him Money, Stabbed Her to Death.

Grand Rapids, July 26.—The most horrible murder ever perpetrated in this city occurred here to-day. Daniel Goggins, nearly or quite 65 years old, attacked his wife with a large pocket knife, and stabbed her 22 times in the face, neck, breast, back and other portions of the body, three or four of the wounds being necessarily fatal. Goggins, who has lived here 25 or 30 years, has been a drinking, rough, ugly man, frequently arrested by the police for his evil ways, and some two years ago Mrs. Goggins ceased to live with him. Since then she has supported herself part of the time, and part of the time has been a boarder at St. Mark's Home and Hospital, one of the private religious charities of the city. Goggins, who is partly blind, has lived at the country poor house for some months. On Monday last Mrs. Goggins sold a piece of property she owned in her own right for $1,200. He heard of it, went to the home, and wanted money, acting very ugly about it. He got $1 last night. After much cursing and bad temper he got half a dollar more. But she sent word to him that she could give him no more. She had begun negotiations for buying a permanent home for him for the balance of his life with part of the cash, in the Catholic Hospital at Big Rapids. He called at the home again this forenoon for more money, but when refused stabbed her, as above. She died within fifteen minutes. Fortunately her screams attracted others in the building. He was captured and overpowered before he could kill anyone else, as he evidently intended to do, and taken to gaol. Mrs. Goggins was an industrious, respected and respectable woman, who had the esteem of all her acquaintances. They had three sons, two living here and one in Little Rock, Ark. He manifests no compunction for his awful crime, and after he was handcuffed, expressed his regret that he was not able to "finish" Miss Davis, the matron of the home, who held on to him until help arrived to arrest him.

POISONED.

A Stepmother in Pennsylvania Put out of the Way by Her two Stepdaughters.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 26.—A family named Stearns resides at Waynesburg, consisting of husband, wife, and two daughters. The woman is Stearns' second wife. For a long time the girls have been on bad terms with their stepmother, and in this they were sustained by their father. A few days ago Mrs. Stearns disappeared suddenly, and after a day or two her absence began to be remarked by the neighbours. When questioned, the Stearns girls manifested a great deal of uneasiness, and at last a definite suspicion that they knew more than they wished to tell permeated the neighbourhood. The girls were made aware of this very soon, and finally one of them admitted to one of her acquaintances that she and her sister had poisoned their step-mother with arsenic, and that, after death, they had secreted the body. This horrible story was at once told to the authorities, but before an officer arrived the girl who had not confessed the crime became alarmed and left the house. Her sister was arrested and lodged in gaol at Waynesburg yesterday. Officers are in pursuit of the other girl, and she too, will be arrested. Another version of the tragedy reached this city this evening. It is asserted with the greatest positiveness that, the girls becoming dissatisfied with the comparatively slow action of the poison and fearing discovery before their unnatural crime was completed, one of them held the writhing form of the poisoned woman while the other drove a large nail through her breast, and thus hastened her death. Neither of the girls is over eighteen years of age, and had, up to the commission of this crime, stood well in society. There is great excitement at Waynesburg, and nothing but her sex prevents the prisoner from being lynched. The crime is unprecedented in the annals of the country, and there will be no rest for the authorities until the fullest investigation has been made and the guilty ones put in a fair way of punishment.

MURDER WILL OUT.

A Crime Half a Century Old—A Human Skeleton Found.

A few days since Mr. Geo. Herndon, who lives on lot 8 in the 9th concession of the township of Brighton, was digging for the foundation of a new barn, and came across the decayed bones of a man. Old residents remember when a man named Utter very suddenly disappeared from the neighbourhood, no one knowing what became of him. A short time previous to this it appears that a barn belonging to a man named Dingman had been burned and rumor had it that Utter did the deed, and paid the penalty with his life. Be this as it may, a tolerably well preserved human skeleton was ploughed up by the aforesaid farmer from a depth of not over one foot from the surface, in a piece of timberland which had just been cleared, and had never before been disturbed with a plow. It is probably too long since to investigate the case and bring the guilty party or parties to justice, although the "old men" remember the occasion well, and profess to have a good idea of who was the supposed culprit of half a century ago. Whether those who were thought to be implicated in the affair are now alive or not we have not learned. The bones of the supposed murdered man are, we believe, still in the possession of the finder, Mr. George Herndon.—Brighton Ensign.

Whence comes the name of Sozodont? It is derived from two Greek words signifying "to preserve the teeth" and it deserves its title, for there is no preparation which will do this more rapidly, surely and pleasantly. The Consumption of Sozodont is immense.

A London Druggist says:—"during the many years I have been in the drug business, I have never had a medicine that gave such general satisfaction, or for which there was such a large sale, as there is for Mack's Magnetic Medicine, advertised in another column of your paper."

Those affected with weak lungs, sluggish liver or Derangements of the Kidneys, should procure a package of Dr. Carson's Liver and Lung Compound. Each 50 cent package makes three pints of syrup. It is a valuable collection of roots, herbs and barks, and its results are wonderful. For sale by J. D. Tully, druggist.

Caution—Prudence—Care.—Beware of the medicine represented as just the same, or fully as good, as Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy by dealers who sell the article that pays best, regardless of merit. Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy is being endorsed by all as a pleasant, safe, reliable and prompt remedy for the removal of stomach and seat or pin worms from child or adult. It is easy to take, never fails, absolutely harmless, and requires no after physic. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cts.

A Horse Sunstruck.—The Whig says that on Thursday a mare belonging to Mr. James Eaves, cabman, was sunstruck while standing at the Grand Trunk R. R. station about 1.30 o'clock. The animal fell down and partily recovered itself, but immediately fell again. Veterinary Surgeon Massie was telephoned for and was on hand in good time. The animal had so far recovered as to be able to walk to the city last night.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by a large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

Burdock BLOOD BITTERS

THE SECRET OF DEATH.

"She is dead!" they said to him. "Come away!"
Kiss her and leave her—thy love is clay.

They smoothed her tresses of dark brown hair—
On her forehead of stone they laid it fair;

Over her eyes that gazed too much,
They drew the lids with a gentle touch;

With a tender touch they closed up well
The sweet, thin lips that had secrets to tell:

About her brows and beautiful face
They tied her veil and marriage lace;

And drew on her white feet her white silk shoes
Which were the whitest no one could choose;

And over her bosom they crossed her hands,
"Come away!" they said—"God understands."

And there was silence and nothing there
But silence and scents of eglantere,

And jasmine, and roses, and rosemary;
And they said: "As a lady should lie, lies she."

And they held their breath as they left the room,
With a shudder, to glance at its stillness and gloom.

But he who loved her too well to dread
The sweet, the stately, the beautiful dead,

He lit his lamp and took the key
And turned it—alone again, he and she.

He and she; but she would not smile,
Though he called her the name she loved erewhile.

He and she; still she did not move
To any one passionate whisper of love.

Then he said: "Cold lips and breasts without breath,
Is there no voice, no language of death—

"Dumb to the ear and still to the sense,
But to heart and to soul distinct, intense?

"See now! I will listen with soul, not ear;
What was the secret of dying, dear?

"Was it the infinite wonder of all
That you could ever let life's flower fall?

"Or was it a greater marvel to feel
The perfect calm o'er the agony steal?

"Was the miracle greater to find how deep
Beyond all dreams sank downward that sleep.

"Did life roll back the records, dear,
And show, as they say it does, past things clear?

"And was it the innermost heart of the bliss
To find out so what a wisdom love is?

"There must be a pleasure in dying, sweet,
To make you so placid from head to feet.

"I would tell you, darling, if I were dead,
And 'twere your hot tears upon my brow shed—

"I would say, though an angel of death had laid
His sword on my lips to keep it unsaid.

"You should not ask vainly with streaming eyes,
Which of all deaths was the chiefest surprise—

"The very strangest and suddenest thing
Of all the surprises that dying must bring."

A foolish world! O most kind dead!
Though he told me, who will believe it was said?

Who will believe that he heard her say,
With sweet, soft voice, in the dear old way;

"The utmost wonder is this—I hear
And see you, and love you, and kiss you dear,

"And am your angel, who was your bride,
And know that though dead I have never died."

—Edwin Arnold.

BLOOD-PURIFIERS.

This is the season of the year when the numerous decoctions and medical remedies known as blood purifiers come into active demand. People have passed the long winter months shut up in their houses, fresh air and sunshine rigidly excluded because the one is cold and the other fades the carpet; they have eaten to repletion of rich and various unwholesome foods; they have kept all sorts of hours except regular ones, they have left off with a shiver the frequent bathings of their bodies that summer time induced; they have abused and overtaxed and neglected their systems in every possible way until at last a condition of poisoned stagnation is brought about, and then they cry aloud for some "magic cure" which shall cleanse the polluted pool of their life fluid, and quicken the inert system, and doctors are appealed to in doleful tones for means to purify their blood, when in reality it is not their blood but their habits which need purifying.

Now the best blood purifier known to the medical profession is the following:—First, plenty of cold water ablutions; that is, every morning of the year take a cool water sponge bath over the whole body followed by vigorous rubbing with a coarse towel, using quick brisk action, the whole process not taking more than 3 minutes' time. In dressing wear flannel next the skin throughout the year. Second, eat plenty of plain nourishing food, plenty of rare beef and mutton, partaking freely of fruits, fresh and stewed, and of vegetables, particularly the summer vegetables as being more digestible, ignore artificial sweets of all kinds, pies, hot puddings, pastries, heavy preserves, etc. Third, plenty of outdoor exercise every day, take good long walk not to over-fatigue, however, plenty of fresh air and sunshine, plenty of ventilation to your house and rooms at all times, day and night; let the fresh air into your sleeping room at night in winter as well as summer, and see to it in every way that you breathe pure oxygen every hour out of the twenty-four, instead of carbonic acid gas poison; take plenty of sleep and at regular hours, and strictly avoid alcoholic drinks and tobacco in every form.

These four—daily cold water bathing, good food, fresh air and exercise—form together the only specific blood purifier known. Medicine, drugs and herbs will not alone purify the blood, the most they can do is sometimes to aid and assist nature in making a start on the right road. —Christian Union.

The Noble Yankee Marine.

If Admiral Nicholson is not careful, the part which his marines played at Alexandria will be embalmed in heroic verse by the English poet laureate, possibly after the fashion in which the "Charge of the Light Brigade" was handled, but, we trust, not in the manner in which the "Charge of the Heavy Brigade" was commemorated. It would be very thrilling to read in Tennysonian verse how, like lickety switchety, went the sixty down the Ras-el-Teen, not Russian or Spanish, French or Danish, but the daring Yankee marine. It would be almost the thing, too, to chronicle that into the burning town, 'mid crash of powder and plunge, aye into the very furnace of hell, the sixty went down, the gallant sixty, the noble sixty, with such a martial, fearless mien, that everyone knew it must be true that they were the famous Yankee marine. A stanza embodying this sentiment would not be strictly true, but something must be allowed for poetic license. However, Tennyson would be clearly within bounds if he sung that at the consulate door pacing the floor, with a step that was neat, and guns not to be beat, the Yankee marine in all his glory, so famed in story, was there to be seen. He could add that houses to the right of them, houses to the left them, crumbled and tumbled, but none thought to quail, much less to turn tail, for they were there "just for greens," were these Yankee marines. But it will not do to anticipate more completely the inspiring strains with which the poet laureate, when the spirit moves him, will hold the world spellbound. It is enough for the present to know that the deeds of the sixty were not born to die, and that they have received the plaudits of the British press. —Detroit Free Press.

SCROFULA is a depraved condition of the system often hereditary, and characterized by indolent tumours, glandular affections, bad blood and a low condition of vitality that tends towards consumption, which is really Scrofulo of the lungs. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Scrofulous diseases from a pimple to an abscess, by purifying the blood, correcting the secretions and giving a healthy tone to each organ.

THE indications of the approaching season seem to threaten an unusual ammount of the various forms of bowel complaints. Our readers would do well to supply themselves with some reliable remedy like Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as a safeguard against sudden attacks of Cholera, Morbus, Colic, Dysentery, &c., that unless preperly treated are often suddenly fatal.

ACCORDING to some of the English papers, Arabi Pasha has been figuring on the London Stock Exchange as a "bear." He has been speculating in Egyptian stocks, and, judging by some of the commissions he has paid, has turned a pretty penny by his combination of finance and rebellion.

IT is said that Meissonier, the celebrated French artist, has presented a portrait of himself, executed in water colours, to the physician who took care of him during his late illness. The picture is full length and of small size. The artist has chosen to represent himself in his sick room apparel, enveloped—that is to say—in a long red dressing gown. The work is thought to be worth at least 50,000f. Meissonier is more grateful than most men are to the invaluable doctor.

Mrs. Lincoln's Prediction.

The story of Mrs. Lincoln writing, when a young girl, a letter in which she expressed a determination to become the wife of a president is confirmed by the production of the document now in the possession of Gen. Preston of Lexington, Ky. It was addressed to a daughter of Gov. Wickliffe and contained a playful description of the gawky young Lincoln, to whom she was betrothed. She said: "But I mean to make him president of the United States all the same. You will see that, as I always told you, I will yet be the president's wife."

We are constantly improving our stock with the Newest Designs and Patterns, so that Man or Boy shall not ask for anything in the Gents' Furnishing Line but what we can offer him. "Habiliment Hall."

FOR THE INVALID.

One of the best drinks for the sick is oatmeal gruel. Take a tumbler, fill it two-thirds full with coarse oatmeal, and fill it with cold water, mix will and pour off the water into a saucepan; fill the tumbler again with cold water, and after shaking well, pour the water off into the saucepan; do this again, making three times in all. Boil this liquor for 20 minutes, then add milk and a little salt, and serve hot.

When you give a patient drinks, have them in pretty glasses or dishes. A bit of old-fashioned china is much more attractive than common earthen ware, and don't give a large quantity at a time. It is much more tempting to a sick person's capricious appetite to see dainty affairs, both in serving and quantity.

Cornmeal gruel is made by wetting two tablespoonfuls of cornmeal and one of flour in a little cold water, stir into a quart of boiling water, add a teaspoonful of salt and boil slowly for an hour. This is a gruel which is apt to be hurried and not made properly. It should cook at least an hour, and is much better to boil longer. If the patient can bear it, cream is a great improvement, but in fevers it must be omitted. A handful of raisins boiled with the gruel is liked by many, also grated nutmeg and a bit of butter; sugar also, but sick people do not usually crave sweets. An egg well beaten, and hot gruel poured upon it, stirring thoroughly, makes a more nutritious drink.

Barley gruel is another variety, and a sick person needs more of a change than well ones do. Boil an ounce of water in barley for five minutes, pour off the water, then add a quart of clear cold water and half a teaspoonful of salt, and simmer for an hour, or till reduced one-half, then strain and serve.

Eggs taken raw are very strengthening. Break a fresh one in a glass, add a little sugar and beat to a stiff froth, then add a little ice water if liked.

Dry, toasted bread, very brown and very dry, makes a refreshing drink for an invalid, by pouring boiling water on it, and letting it stand until quite cool. Jellies can be utilized by taking a spoonful and pouring on boiling water to dissolve it, then adding cold water till of the proper strength.

Sherbets are easily made if you have access to a freezer. For lemon sherbets, soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatine in a little cold water, then add nearly a cupful of boiling water, and thoroughly disolve the gelatine. Mix together a pint of sugar, a quart of water, gelatine, and juice of six lemons. Turn into the can and freeze. Sherbets and ice creams are better to stand an hour or two in the freezer before serving. Orange sherbet is made in the same manner only take double the number of oranges, as they are not as sour as lemons, and the juice of one lemon may be added. If currants, raspberries or such fruit is used, a pint of juice will be needed.—Household.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendences, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, head-ache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort witnin 24 hours. It is the safest medicine Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6. Sold by all Chemists. Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, JULY 31, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Council Meeting.

A regular meeting of the Town Council will be held this evening in the Council Chamber at 7.30 o'clock.

B. C. Pic-Nic.

The Bible Christian Sunday School excursion takes place to-morrow on the steamer Golden-Eye to Idyl-Wild.

Board of Education.

The Board of Education will hold a regular meeting to-morrow evening in the Collegiate Institute building at 7.45 o'clock.

Street Repairs.

The Street Inspector is giving his attention to the sidewalk on Antrim street—not before it was necessary, as the street is in need of repairs. It will bear a good deal of attention and work.

Large Casting.

The large wheel, mentioned last week, was successfully cast on Saturday at Mr. W. Hamilton's foundry. It is for Mr. Craig's mill, at Winnipeg, Man., and is the largest casting ever made here.

From Belleville.

The Intelligencer says that the chief local event of this week is the excursion to Peterborough under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's Church, on Thursday, the 3rd of August. The success of this event may be taken as assured. The Oddfellows' Band has been engaged for the day.

Lacrosse Excursion.

Those desiring to enjoy a pleasant day, free from the business and heat of the town, would do well to attend the excursion to Idyl-Wild on Thursday next, under the auspices of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club. The Golden-Eye will leave her wharf at 7.30 a.m. A large palace scow will be attached, and music will be provided on the boat and on the island for those who desire to, as the poet Milton saith, "trip the light fantastic toe." The price of the tickets is placed at 50 cents; children under twelve half price.

Something New.

Try our really delicious Water Ices, two flavours. Our Ice Cream in four flavours has been pronounced the best in town, without doubt. A nice variety of Cakes and Pastry always on hand. Our Confectionery is also very choice. Chocolate and Coconut Creams and Cream Almonds a specialty. Every thing manufactured on the premises can be safely guaranteed as good. Give us a call and be convinced that we are not making empty boasts. Don't forget the place, one door north of Bailey Bros., Humphreys & Carton.

The Weather.

Last night was all that could be desired—the weather was moderately cool, the moon shone clear and bright, and a few light clouds floated across the sky, seeming to add to the charm of the scene. In fact, it was a night calculated to stir the heart of every one, and to make the bosom of a young Byron or a Romeo swell with poetry or with love. To-day is warm. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, —Moderate to fresh winds, mostly easterly; fair, cloudy weather, with local rains, more particularly in the south-west portion.

Railway Notes.

No. 3 G. J. R. locomotive has sprung a leak, which will incapacitate it for work until fixed at the car shops.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that Mr. F. M. Upton, of Toronto, is temporarily fulfilling the duties of station agent of the Midland Railway in Belleville. Mr. Healy, the former agent, has been transferred to Lindsay.

The Intelligencer says that the young man Wm. Fargery, who was injured by falling between two cars at the Junction on the 12th of July, is fully recovered from the injuries he received on that occasion.

The Madoc Review says that the rails for the Toronto and Ottawa between Madoc and Bridgewater have been delivered, and are now lying at the junction near the Marmora road.

Grand Black Chapter.

At the annual meeting of the Grand Black Chapter of B. A., Royal Black Knights of Ireland, held in Orangeville on July 26th and 27th. Sir Knight D. A. McFarlane of Keene, was elected one of the Associate Deputy Grand Masters, Sir Knight John Smith, of Peterborough, a Deputy Grand Censor, and Sir Knight Robert Dunlop, of Peterborough, was placed on the Grand Committee. The next annual meeting will be held at St. Catherines.

Court of Appeal.

His Honor the Judge of the County Court, who held a court on Saturday in the Council Chamber to hear appeals from the Court of Revision, gave judgment to-day on the only appeal that came before him—that of Mr. Bradburn's. Mr. Bradburn was assessed for $16,000 personal property and $2,000 income, and this assessment he appealed against. The Court reduced the assessment on personal property to $4,030, and on income to $1,623. Mr. Bradburn was assessed fer the stock in the "Golden Lion" store, but he stated in his evidence that he sold this stock to T. Evans Bradburn in February, and took his note for the amount, which was cashed in a bank in Winnipeg and invested in Manitoba. This caused the above reduction in the assessment.

TIRED OF LIFE.

A Man's Deliberate Attempt at Suicide—He is Dragged from the Water almost Dead.

One of the most determined attempts at suicide that has occured for a length of time, took place at 10 o'clock on Friday at the Island Wharf. For about an hour previous a man was observed to promenade the Wharf in an apparently eccentric mood, or, as a carter who saw him expressed it "completely wrong-headed condition." His walk was steady which dispelled any suspicion that he was laboring under intoxication. Two of the water police seeing his movements kept an eye on him, but while the latter were at an opposite side of the wharf the mysterous stranger was seen to run to the west end where Joe Vincent's boats and some yachts were moored, and pausing for a moment as if to make sure work, threw himself head first into the river. Quick almost as thought the police seized a boat, and a grappling hook being thrown at the same moment from an adjacent steamer, they were soon engaged in a struggle to save the man. He had sunk twice but was evidently able to swim, for he remained on the surface long enough for the police to throw out the hook for him to catch. He deliberately refused to do so and again sank. He appeared on the surface a third time and luckily within reach of the grabbling iron which the police promptly threw at him fastening it partially into his clothes and the flesh of his shoulders by which means he was dragged into the boat. When first rescued he appeared to be dead, but on the way to the Water Police Station he regained consciousness but his language was so incoherent that little could be ascertained through it further than that he "wished to end his life, being tired of the world," and he had rather they had not interfered with his purpose. He refused to give his name. It was evident that the man had been drinking, as a bottle partly filled with whiskey was found on his person; but it was also evident that derangement of mind from means other than that of drink was working upon the unfortunate man, and had led him to make the rash attempt upon his life. He at present lies in the Water Police Station and will probably be dealt with by the authorities anon.

Just before going to press the man, who had come to himself fully, gave his name as Valentin Rangan, aged 26, living in Vallee street.—Witness.

FENELON FALLS.

Broke His Leg.—The Gazette says that on Friday morning Mr. Cornelius McAuliffe, a resident of the village, fell on the sidewalk at Ingram's hotel and broke his left leg just above the knee. Dr. Lowe is in attendance. The patient is over 70 years of age, and this is the fourth time he has had a leg broken.

Accident.—On Wednesday afternoon as Mr. Thomas Roberts, of this village, was leaving his house his wife spoke to him, and, turning to answer her, his feet slipped and he fell on the doorsteps, breaking one of the bones of his right arm a short distance above the wrist.

HONOUR THE SCISSORS.

Some people, ignorant of what good editing is, imagine the getting up of selected matter to be the easiest matter in the world to do, whereas it is the nicest work done on a newspaper. If they see the editor with the scissors in his hand, they are sure to say: "Eh, that's the way you are getting up original matter, eh?" accompanying their new and witty questions with an idiotic wink or smile. The facts are that the interest, the variety of the newspaper depend, in no small degree, upon the selected matter, and few men are capable for the position who could not themselves be able to write many of the articles they select. A sensible editor desires considerable selected matter; because he knows that one mind cannot make so good a paper as five or six. —Yonker's Gazette.

The C. P. R.

The independent Toronto Telegram says:—"There is really no ground for the statements being made as to the intention of the Canada Pacific Railway Syndicate to abandon a portion of the line which they agreed with the Government to construct. It is idle talk to suggest such a thing. The men who hold the contract intend to carry it out. They are all men of good commercial standing, and have gone into the construction and operation of the railway as a life work. We have the utmost confidence that every mile of the work contracted for will be built, and built within the time agreed upon. The fact that they have a profitable contract, as they certainly have, is not a sufficient reason for holding the contractors up to the world as robbers and rascals."

Remarkable Drowning Accident.

A gentlemen returning from Flat Krick is responsible for the following story: A man named Henry Simpson, of Flat Krick, got full on Kirck whiskey and went to bed in a tent hotel. This was the night after the last big ram. In the morning he was missed out of his bed, and on looking under it he was found to be drowned in six inches of water which was on the floor. He had tumbled out during the night while intoxicated, and thus met his fate. This probably the most remarkable drowning accident on record.—Winnipeg Sun.

Wealth of the Bible.

How much is your Bible worth? Scientific men are trying to show us, through the newspapers and through philosophic papers, that our race is decended from the monkey. Get out of my way with your abominable Darwinian theories! Scientific men can not understand the origin of this world. We open our bibles, and we feel like the Christian Arab, who said to a sceptic when asked by him why he believed there is a God: "How do I know it was not a man instead of a camel that went past my tent last night? Why I know him by his tracks.' Then, looking over at the setting sun, the Arab said to the sceptic: "Look there! that is not the work of man. That is the track of God." We have all these things revealed in God's work. Dear old book! My father loved it. It trembled in my mothers's hand when she was nigh four score years old; it has been under the pillow of three of my brothers when they died. It is a very different book from the book it once was to me. I used to take it as a splendid poem, and read it as I read John Milton. I took it up sometimes as a treatise on law, and read it as I did Blackstone. I took it as a fine history, and read it as I did Josephus. Ah! now it is not the poem; it is not the treatise on law; it is not the history. It is simply a family album that I open, and see right before me the face of God my Father; of Christ, my Saviour; of heaven, my eternal home.

How precious is the Book Divine,
By inspiration given;
Bright as a lamp its doctrines shine,
To guide our souls to heaven.

As I take up my family Bible to-night, bright with promises and redolent with boyhood memories, and mighty with principles that are to regenerate the world, I ask you, ye men who are descended from those who fought until they died in their tracks, for the defence of this book: ye sons of the Covenanters, who were hounded among the Highlands of Scotland, ye sons of men who went on ladders of fire from English soil to heaven for this grand, glorious triumph and God-given book, "How much owest thou to my Lord?"—Talmage.

A Curious Story of Abraham Lincoln.

In an obituary of Mrs. Lincoln we find the following curious story. Mrs Lincoln had, before her marriage, prophesied that Lincoln would be President of the United States. Just after his election a singular circumstances occurred which once more brought out the gift of prophecy which Mrs. Lincoln possesed. Mr. Lincoln described it in the following language: "It was after my election, when the news had been coming in thick and fast and there had been a great "hurrah boys!" so that I was well tired out and went home to rest, throwing myself upon a lounge in my chamber. Opposite to where I lay was a bureau with a swinging glass upon it, and looking in that glass I saw myself reflected nearly at full length, but my face, I noticed, had two separate and distinct images, the tip of the nose of one being about three inches from the tip of the other. I was a little bothered, perhaps startled. I got up and looked in the glass, but the illusion vanished. On lying down again I saw it a second time plainer if possible than before; and then I noticed that one of the faces was paler than the other. I got up and the thing melted away, and I went off, and in the excitement of the hour forgot all about it—nearly, but not quite—for the thing would once in a while come up and give me a little pang as though something uncomfortable had happened. When I came home I told my wife about it, and a few days after I tried the experiment again, when, sure enough the thing came back again; but I never succeeded in bringing the ghost back after that, though I once tried very indurtriously to show it to my wife, who was worried about it somewhat. She thought it was a sign that I was to be elected to a second term of office, and that the paleness of one of the faces was an omen that I should not live through the second term." Mr. Lincoln regarded the vision as an optical delusion caused by nervousness. His wife's prophetic interpretation of the circumstance viewed in the light of subsequent events, seems certainly most extraordinary.

A Good System.

The census office at Washington has just issued a bulletin, giving some interesting figures showing the estimated amount of merchantable pine and spruce standing in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, May 31, 1880. The statistics for Maine show that 475,000,000 feet of pine and 5,000,000,000 feet of spruce, board measure, were standing in the census year, and that 138,825,000 feet of pine and 301,020,000 feet of spruce were cut that year, including 6,000,000 feet of pine and 49,000,000 feet of spruce cut on St. John River, but sawed in New Brunswick. Considerable areas in Southern Maine are covered with second growth pine not included in the above estimate, furnishing a large proportion of the pine sawed in the state. Pine has been cut in every township, and the largest spruce has been removed from the state, except from the inaccessible region about the head waters of the Allagash River. The system of cutting only the large trees and carefully protecting the remainder prevails in Maine and allows the forest to be profitably worked at stated periods, varying from fifteen to twenty-five years. Their permanence is thus insured.

ENGLAND.

The fiftieth year of Mr. Gladstone's political life is to be celebrated at the Crystal Palace, London.

Mr. Gladstone has of late been very closely guarded, even at church being attended by two policemen.

Rowland Hill's famous "Surrey Chapel," built just a hundred years ago, is to be converted into a manufactory.

Mr. Lorillard has been scratching again. His "Aranza" and "Gerald" were scratched from all their engagements at the Goodwood meeting, which commenced on Tuesday.

Lord George Campbell has entered the firm of Boyle, Campbell & Co. (late Boyle Bro), a financial house doing business in London and Winnipeg.

Fife house, London, is now a public office. Formerly it was the residence of Lord Fife; anxious to live on Scottish soil, and in a Scottish house, he imported all the materials from Scotland.

According to Sir Edmund Henderson, London expends £10,000 a day in cab hire. Other authorities maintain that this estimate is too low, and that the daily earnings of the metropolitan cabs fluctuate between £10,000 and £15,000. Either of these sums seems tremendous.

There will be open in London, on October 4, a "School of Dramatic Art," to enable those wishing to adopt the stage as a profession to get a complete dramatic training at a moderate cost. The general Committee includes several noblemen and gentlemen of high standing, among them Sir C. Lindsay, and Messrs. Matthew Arnold, Alfred Tennyson, Henry Irving, Frederick Locher, and many ladies and actresses of the highest stamp.

By a Hair's Breadth.

About three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon the train on the Waterloo and Magog Railway line was coming at a good speed towards Waterloo. When near Frost Village the engineer "Patsy" Daley, noticed a little child standing on the track. He whistled "down breaks" at once and reversed his engine, but there was no hope of stopping in time and there seemed to be but a few seconds between the child and a dreadful death. Quick as thought Daley leaped through the engine window and scrambled along the side of the boiler down onto the cow catcher. The speed had scarcely begun to slacken when the poor little child was reached. Daley nerved himself and steadied himself as well as possible and when he reached the child very dexteriously threw the little one off the track with his foot, and the train dashed on quite a distance. The child was found to be the son of Mr. McGown who lives in Frost village, and is but three and a half years' old. The engineer deserves great credit for his courage and skill in preventing a horrible accident.—Witness.

A Poisoned Thread.

A dress-maker admitted into the Leeds Dispensary was found to have a distinct blue line on her gums, with simultaneous symptoms, such as a furred tongue, inflammation of the lips, and general debility—all signs pointing to the probability of poisoning by lead. The doctor in attendance on her for some time failed to discover the source, and was beginning to think the blue line had been caused in some other way, when he accidently learned from a merchant that silken thread, being sold by weight, and not by length, is sometimes adulterated with sugar of lead. He then questioned the patient, and she informed him that it had been a common practice with her, when at work, to hold silk, as well as other kind of thread, in her mouth, and that she had done this the more readily with silk, inasmuch as it often had a sweet taste. This characteristic is a sure indication of the presence of lead, and all thread possessing it should either be rejected or used with caution. It will be found that the silk thread of the best makers is tasteless, whereas some inferior threads are sweet.—Household World.

As a remedy for Sea sickness, for any irrratation of the stomach and bowels, for canker of the stomach and mouth, for piles and hemorrage and for all varities of bowel complaints, Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is nature's true specific.

The firm of J. & S. McEachen, Douglas, writes us June 1st, saying "There is not another preparation we can recommend with so much confidence as Burdock Blood Bitters, as it invariably gives the best of satisfaction." Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of Blood, Liver and Kidneys.

THE BUSY END

Of our store is found in every part of it—in every department, and on all sides of it.

We are not disposed to say as much about it as are our customers, who remark the activity in every direction of what they compliment a well-ordered business.

All details of our trade have responsible supervision, and everything connected with each department is being, if possible, more carefully looked after than heretofore.

IN THE EXISTING

Circumstances of the increased cost of living, everybody who wishes to be economical should ask themselves where and how they can spend their money to the best advantage?

A great many people have the habit of dealing in certain stores and buying large quantities of goods, and paying for them too, without ever asking themselves, "Could I have done any better elsewhere?"

If they would only take a little trouble and look around and call on us, they would be generally surprised in a six months how much to their advantage it is to trade with us.

EQUALLY SO

In all particulars is it with the stranger or transient visitor, whether great or small, whose custom is as much a matter of consideration to us as those of longer standing.

Hence as far as our business obligations can go, all are on the same basis, and equally recipient of our best work. And everything we have shall equal the expectation of those who pay their money for it.
